Section 1.785 specifies the procedures to be followed where multiple applications are filed for extension of the same patent or of different patents for the same regulatory review period for a product. Pub. L. 98-417 and § 1.785 provide that only one patent may be extended for a regulatory review period for any product. Under § 1.785, if more than one application for extension of the same patent is filed, the certificate of extension of the term of the patent, if appropriate, would be issued based upon the first filed application for extension of patent term. If applications are filed by a single applicant for extensions of the terms of different patents based upon the same regulatory review period for a product, the certificate of extension will be issued on the application for extension of the patent having the earliest date of issuance of those for which extension is sought unless all but a single application for the extension of one patent term is voluntarily withdrawn by applicant.

If applications are filed by different applicants for extension of the terms of different patents based upon the same regulatory review period for a product, the certificate of extension will be issued on the application of the holder of the regulatory approval granted with respect to the regulatory review period. If the holder of the regulatory approval granted with respect to the regulatory review period is not an applicant, the certificate of extension will issue to the applicant for extension which holds express and exclusive authorization from the holder of the regulatory approval to rely upon the regulatory review period as the basis for the application for extension. If the holder of the regulatory approval is not an applicant and has not given a prior express and exclusive authorization to seek extension based on the regulatory review period, the certificate of extension will be issued on the application for extension of the patent having the earliest date of issuance of those for which extension is sought.

An application for extension will be considered complete and formal whether it contains the identification of the holder of the regulatory approval granted with respect to the regulatory review period or express and exclusive authorization from the holder of the regulatory approval to rely on the regulatory review period for extension. A request may be made of any applicant to supply such information regarding the authorization on which applicant relies from the holder of the regulatory approval on which the application for extension is based. The failure to provide such information within the period for response shall be regarded as conclusively establishing that the applicant is not the holder of the regulatory approval and is not authorized by the holder of the regulatory approval to seek the extension being sought.

Environmental, energy, and other considerations: The rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or conservation of energy resources.

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce certified to the Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities because patented drugs are generally not commercialized by small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354).

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The information collection requirement contained in this proposed rule has been submitted by OMB for review under section 3504(h) of the Paperwork Reduction Act.

4. A new Subpart F—Extension of Patent Term, consisting of §§ 1.710 through 1.785 is added to read as follows:

Subpart F—Extension of Patent Term

Sec.

1.710 Patents subject to extension of the patent term.
1.720 Conditions for extension of patent term.
1.730 Applicant for extension of patent term.
1.740 Application for extension of patent term.
1.741 Filing date of application.
1.750 Determination of eligibility for extension of patent term.
1.760 Interim extension of patent term.
1.765 Duty of disclosure in patent term extension proceed ings.
1.770 Express withdrawal of application for extension of patent term.
1.775 Calculation of patent term extension for a human drug product.
1.776 Calculation of patent term extension for a food additive or color additive.
1.777 Calculation of patent term extension for a medical device.
1.780 Certificate of extension of patent term.
1.785 Multiple applications for extension of term of the same patent or of different patents for the same regulatory review period for a product.

(a) A patent is eligible for extension of the patent term if the patent claims a product as defined in paragraph (b) of this section, or a method of using such a product, or a method of manufacturing such a product, and meets all other conditions and requirements of this subpart.

(b) The term "product" referred to in paragraph (a) of this section means—

(1) A human drug product which means the active ingredient of a new drug, antibiotic drug, or human biological product (as those terms are used in the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and the Public Health Service Act) including any salt or ester of the active ingredient, as a single entity or in combination with another active ingredient; or

(2) Any medical device, food additive, or color additive subject to regulation under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

The term of a patent may be extended if:

(a) The patent claims a product or a method of using or manufacturing a product as defined in § 1.710;

(b) The term of the patent has never been previously extended except for any interim extension issued pursuant to § 1.760;

(c) An application for extension is submitted in compliance with § 1.740;

(d) The product has been subject to a regulatory review period as defined in 35 U.S.C. 156(g) before its commercial marketing or use;

(e) The product has received permission for commercial marketing or use and

(i) The permission for the commercial marketing or use of the product is the first received permission for commercial marketing or use under the provision of law under which the applicable regulatory review occurred, or

(ii) In the case of a patent claiming a method of manufacturing the product which primarily uses recombinant DNA technology in the manufacture of the product, the permission for the commercial marketing or use is the first received permission for the commercial marketing or use of a product manufactured under the process claimed in the patent;

(f) The application is submitted within the sixty day period beginning on the date the product first received permission for commercial marketing or use under the provisions of law under which the applicable regulatory review period occurred, or in the case of a patent claiming a method of manufacturing the product which primarily uses recombinant DNA technology in the manufacture of the product, the application for extension is submitted within the sixty day period beginning on the date of the first permitted commercial marketing or use of a product manufactured under the process claimed in the patent;

(g) The term of the patent has not expired before the submission of an application in compliance with § 1.741; and

(h) No other patent term has been extended for the same regulatory review period for the product.

Any application for extension of a patent term must be submitted by the owner of record of the patent or its agent and must comply with the requirements of § 1.740.

(a) An application for extension of patent term must be made in writing to the Commissioner of Patents andTrademarks. A formal application for the extension of patent term shall include:

(1) A complete identification of the approved product as by appropriate chemical and generic name, physical structure or characteristics;

(2) A complete identification of the Federal statute including the applicable provision of law under which the regulatory review occurred;

(3) An identification of the date on which the product received permission for commercial marketing or use under the provision of law under which the applicable regulatory review period occurred;

(4) In the case of a human drug product, an identification of each active ingredient in the product and as to each active ingredient, a statement that it has not been previously approved for commercial marketing or use under the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, or a statement of when the active ingredient was approved for commercial marketing or use (either alone or in combination with other active ingredients) and the provision of law under which it was approved.

(5) A statement that the application is being submitted within the sixty day period permitted for submission pursuant to § 1.720(f) and an identification of the date of the last day on which the application could be submitted;

(6) A complete identification of the patent for which an extension is being sought by the name of the inventor, the patent number, the date of issue, and the date of expiration;

(7) A copy of the patent for which an extension is being sought, including the entire specification (including claims) and drawings;

(8) A copy of any disclaimer, certificate of correction, receipt of maintenance fee payment, or reexamination certificate issued in the patent;

(9) A statement beginning on a new page that the patent claims the approved product or a method of using or manufacturing the approved product, and a showing which lists each applicable patent claim and demonstrates the manner in which each applicable patent claim reads on the approved product or a method of using or manufacturing the approved product;

(10) A statement beginning on a new page of the relevant dates and information pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 156(g) in order to enable the Secretary of Health and Human Services to determine the applicable regulatory review period as follows:

(i) For a patent that claims a human drug product, the effective date of the investigational new drug (IND) application and the IND number, the date on which a new drug application (NDA) was initially submitted and the NDA number, and the date on which the NDA was approved;

(ii) For a patent that claims a food or color additive, the date a major health or environmental effects test on the additive was initiated and any available substantiation of that date; the date on which a petition for product approval under the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act was initially submitted and the petition number; and the date on which the FDA published a Federal Register notice listing the additive for use;

(iii) For a patent that claims a medical device, the effective date of the investigational device exemption (IDE) and the IDE number, if applicable, or the date on which the applicant began the first clinical investigation involving the device if no IDE was submitted and any available substantiation of that date; the date on which an application for product approval under section 515 of the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act was initially submitted and the number of the application; and the date on which the application was approved.

(11) A brief description beginning on a new page of the significant activities undertaken by the marketing applicant during the applicable regulatory review period with respect to the approved product and the significant dates applicable to such activities;

(12) A statement beginning on a new page that in the opinion of the applicant the patent is eligible for the extension and a statement as to the length of extension claimed, including how the length of extension was determined;

(13) A statement that applicant acknowledges a duty to disclose to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks and the Secretary of Health and Human Services any information which is material to the determination of entitlement to the extension sought (see § 1.765);

(14) The prescribed fee for receiving and acting upon the application for extension (see § 1.20(n));

(15) The name, address, and telephone number of the person to whom inquiries and correspondence relating to the application for patent term extension are to be directed;

(16) A duplicate of the application papers, certified as such; and

(17) An oath or declaration as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Any oath or declaration submitted in compliance with paragraph (a) of this section must be signed by the owner of record of the patent or its agent, specifically identify the papers and the patent for which an extension is sought and aver that the person signing the oath or declaration:

(1) Is the owner, an official of a corporate owner authorized to obligate the corporation, or a patent attorney or agent authorized to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office and who has general authority from the owner to act on behalf of the owner in patent matters.

(2) Has reviewed and understands the contents of the application being submitted pursuant to this section;

(3) Believes the patent is subject to extension pursuant to § 1.710;

(4) Believes an extension of the length claimed is justified under 35 U.S.C. 156 and the applicable regulations; and

(5) Believes the patent for which the extension is being sought meets the conditions for extension of the term of a patent as set forth in § 1.720.

(c) If any application for extension of patent term submitted pursuant to this section is held to be informal, applicant may seek to have that holding reviewed by filing a petition with the required fee, as necessary, pursuant to § 1.181, § 1,182 or § 1.183, as appropriate, within such time as may be set in the notice that the application has been held to be informal, or if no time is set, within one month of the date on which the application was held informal. The time periods set forth herein are subject to the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136.

§ 1.741 Filing date of application

(a) The filing date of an application for extension of patent term is the date on which a complete appiication is received in the Patent and Trademark Office or filed pursuant to the "Certificate of Mailing" provisions of 37 CFR 1.8 or "Express Mail" provisions of 37 CFR 1.10.

A complete application shall include:

(1) An identification of the approved product;

(2) An identification of the Federal statute under which regulatory review occurred;

(3) An identification of the patent for which an extension is being sought;

(4) An identification of each claim of the patent which claims the approved product or a method of using or manufacturing the approved product;

(5) Sufficient information to enable the Commissioner to determine under 35 U.S.C. 156 subsections (a) and (b) the eligibility of a patent for extension and the rights that will be derived from the extension and information to enable the Commissioner and the Secretary of Health and Human Services to determine the period of the extension; and

(6) A brief description of the activities undertaken by the marketing applicant during the applicable regulatory review period with respect to the approved product and the significant dates applicable to such activities.

(b) If any application submitted pursuant to this section is held to be incomplete, applicant may seek to have this holding reviewed under § 1.181.

§ 1.750 Determination of eligibility for extension of patent term

A determination as to whether a patent is eligible for extension may be made by the Commissioner solely on the basis of the representations contained in the application for extension filed in compliance with § 1.740. This determination may be delegated to appropriate Patent and Trademark Office officials and may be made at any time before the certificate of extension is issued. The Commissioner or other appropriate officials may require from applicant further information or make such independent inquiries as desired before a final determination is made on whether a patent is eligible for extension. A notice will be mailed to applicant containing the determination as to the eligibility of the patent for extension and the period of time of the extension, if any. This notice shall constitute the final determination as to the eligibility and any period of extension of the patent. A single request for reconsideration of a final determination may be made iffiled by the applicant within such time as may be set in the notice of final determination or, if no time is set, within one month from the date of the final determination. The time periods set forth herein are subject to the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136.

§ 1.760 Interim extension of patent term

An applicant who has filed a formal application for extension in compliance with § 1.740 may request one or more interim extensions for periods of up to one year each pending a final determination on the application pursuant to § 1.750. Any such request should be filed at least three months prior to the expiration date of the patent. The Commissioner may issue interim extensions, without a request by the applicant, for periods of up to one year each until a final determination is made. The patent owner or agent will be notified when an interim extension is granted and notice of the extension will be published in the Official Gazette of the Patent and Trademark Office. The notice will be recorded in the official file of the patent and will be considered as part of the original patent. In no event will the interim extensions granted under this section be longer than the maximum period of extension to which the applicant would be eligible.

(a) A duty of candor and good faith toward the Patent and Trademark Office and the Secretary of Health and Human Services rests on the patent owner or its agent, on each attorney or agent who represents the patent owner and on every other individual who is substantively involved on behalf of the patent owner in a patent term extension proceeding. All such individuals who are aware, or become aware, of material information adverse to a determination of entitlement to the extension sought, which has not been previously made of record in the patent term extension proceeding must bring such information to the attention of the Office or the Secretary, as appropriate, in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, as soon as it is practical to do so after the individual becomes aware of the information. Information is material where there is a substantial likelihood that the Office or the Secretary would consider it important in determinations to be made in the patent term extension proceeding.

(b) Disclosures pursuant to this section must be accompanied by a copy of each written document which is being disclosed. The disclosure must be made to the Office or the Secretary, as appropriate, unless the disclosure is material to determinations to be made by both the Office and the Secretary, in which case duplicate copies, certified as such, must be filed in the Office and with the Secretary. Disclosures pursuant to this section may be made to the Office or the Secretary, as appropriate, through an attorney or agent having responsibility on behalf of the patent owner or its agent for the patent term extension proceeding or through a patent owner acting on his or her own behalf. Disclosure to such an attorney, agent or patent owner shall satisfy the duty of any other individual. Such an attorney, agent or patent owner has no duty to transmit information which is not material to the determination of entitlement to the extension sought.

(c) No patent will be determined eligible for extension and no extension will be issued if it is determined that fraud on the Office or the Secretary was practiced or attempted or the duty of disclosure was violated through bad faith or gross negligence in connection with the patent term extension proceeding. If it is established by clear and convincing evidence that any fraud was practiced or attempted on the Office or the Secretary in connection with the patent term extension proceeding or that there was any violation of the duty of disclosure through bad faith or gross negligence in connection with the patent term extension proceeding, a final determination will be made pursuant to § 1.750 that the patent is not eligible for extension.

(d) The duty of disclosure pursuant to this section rests on the individuals identified in paragraph (a) of this section and no submission on behalf of third parties, in the form of protests or otherwise, will be considered by the Office. Any such submissions by third parties to the Office will be returned to the party making the submission, or otherwise disposed of, without consideration by the Office.

An application for extension of patent term may be expressly withdrawn before a determination is made pursuant to § 1.750 by filing in the Office, in duplicate, a written declaration of withdrawal signed by the owner of record of the patent or its agent. An application may not be expressly withdrawn after the date permitted for response to the final determination on the application. An express withdrawal pursuant to this section is effective when acknowledged in writing by the Office. The filing of an express withdrawal pursuant to this section and its acceptance by the Office does not entitle applicant to a refund of the filing fee (§ 1.20(n)) or any portion thereof.

(a) If a determination is made pursuant to § 1.750 that a patent for a human drug product is eligible for extension, the term shall be extended by the time as calculated in days in the manner indicated by this section. The patent term extension will run from the original expiration date of the patent or any earlier date set by terminal disclaimer (§ 1.321).

(b) The term of the patent for a human drug product will be extended by the length of the regulatory review period for the product as determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, reduced as appropriate pursuant to paragraphs (d)(1) through (d)(6) of this section.

(c) The length of the regulatory review period for a human drug product will be determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services. Under 35 U.S.C. 156(g)(1)(B), it is the sum of-

(1) The number of days in the period beginning on the date an exemption under subsection (i) of section 505 or subsection (d) of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act became effective for the approved human drug product and ending on the date an application was initially submitted for such drug product under those sections or under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act; and

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JAN 1 1991 UMI

(2) The number of days in the period beginning on the date the application was initially submitted for the approved human drug product under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act, subsection (b) of section 505 or section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and ending on the date such application was approved under such section.

(d) The term of the patent as extended for a human drug product will be determined by—

(1) Subtracting from the number of days determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services to be in the regulatory review period:

(i) The number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section which were on and before the date on which the patent issued;
(ii) The number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section during which it is determined under 35 U.S.C. 156(d)(2)(B) by the Secretary of Health and Human Services that applicant did not act with due diligence;
(iii) One-half the number of days remaining in the period defined by paragraph (c)(1) of this section after that period is reduced in accordance with paragraphs (d)(1)(i) and (ii) of this section; half days will be ignored for purposes of subtraction;

(2) By adding the number of days determined in paragraph (d)(1) of this section to the original term of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer;
(3) By adding 14 years to the date of approval of the application under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act, or subsection (b) of section 505 or section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act;
(4) By comparing the dates for the ends of the periods obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(2) and (d)(3) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date;
(5) If the original patent was issued after Sept. 24, 1984,

(i) By adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or any earlier date set by terminal disclaimer; and
(ii) By comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(5)(i) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(6) If the original patent was issued before Sept. 24, 1984, and

(i) If no request was submitted for an exemption under subsection (i) of section 505 or subsection (d) of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act before Sept. 24, 1984, by-

(A) Adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer; and
(B) By comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(i)(A) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date; or

(ii) If a request was submitted for an exemption under subsection (i) of section 505 or subsection (d) of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act before Sept. 24, 1984 and the commercial marketing or use of the product was not approved before Sept. 24, 1984, by-

(A) Adding 2 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer, and
(B) By comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(ii)(A) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date.

(a) If a determination is made pursuant to § 1.750 that a patent for a food additive or color additive is eligible for extension, the term shall be extended by the time as calculated in days in the manner indicated by this section. The patent term extension will run from the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer (§ 1.321).

(b) The term of the patent for a food additive or color additive will be extended by the length of the regulatory review period for the product as determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, reduced as appropriate pursuant to paragraphs (d)(1) through (d)(6) of this section.
(c) The length of the regulatory review period for a food additive or color additive will be determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services. Under 35 U.S.C. 156(g)(2)(B), it is the sum of-

(1) The number of days in the period beginning on the date a major health or environmental effects test on the additive was initiated and ending on the date a petition was initially submitted with respect to the approved product under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act requesting the issuance of a regulation for use of the product; and
(2) The number of days in the period beginning on the date a petition was initially submitted with respect to the approved product under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act requesting the issuance of a regulation for use of the product, and ending on the date such regulation became effective or, if objections were filed to such regulation, ending on the date such objections were resolved and commercial marketing was permitted or, if commercial marketing was permitted and later revoked pending further proceedings as a result of such objections, ending on the date such proceedings were finally resolved and commercial marketing was permitted.

(d) The term of the patent as extended for a food additive or color additive will be determined by

(1) Subtracting from the number of days determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services to be in the regulatory review period:

(i) The number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section which were on and before the date on which the patent issued;
(ii) The number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section during which it is determined under 35 U.S.C. 156(d)(2)(B) by the Secretary of Health and Human Services that applicant did not act with due diligence;
(iii) The number of days equal to one-half the number of days remaining in the period defined by paragraph (c)(1) of this section after that period is reduced in accordance with paragraphs (d)(1)(i) and (ii) of this section; half days will be ignored for purposes of subtraction;

(2) By adding the number of days determined in paragraph (d)(1) of this section to the original term of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer;
(3) By adding 14 years to the date a regulation for use of the product became effective or, if objections were filed to such regulation, to the date such objections were resolved and commercial marketing was permitted or, if commercial marketing was permitted and later revoked pending further proceedings as a result of such objections, to the date such proceedings were finally resolved and commercial marketing was permitted;
(4) By comparing the dates for the ends of the periods obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(2) and (d)(3) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date;
(5) If the original patent was issued after Sept. 24, 1984,

(i) By adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer; and
(ii) By comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(5)(i) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(6) If the original patent was issued before Sept. 24, 1984, and

(i) If no major health or environmental effects test was initiated and no petition for a regulation or application for registration was submitted before Sept. 24, 1984, by

(A) Adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer, and

(B) By comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(i)(A) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date; or

(ii) If a major health or environmental effects test was initiated or a petition for a regulation or application for registration was submitted by Sept. 24, 1984, and the commercial marketing or use of the product was not approved before Sept. 24, 1984, by

(A) Adding 2 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer, and
(B) By comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(ii)(A) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date.

(a) If a determination is made pursuant to § 1.750 that a patent for a medical device is eligible for extension, the term shall be extended by the time as calculated in days in the manner indicated by this section. The patent term extension will run from the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date as set by terminal disclaimer (§ 1.321).
(b) The term of the patent for a medical device will be extended by the length of the regulatory review period for the product as determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, reduced as appropriate pursuant to paragraphs (d)(1) through (d)(6) of this section.
(c) The length of the regulatory review period for a medical device will be determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services. Under 35 U.S.C. 156(g) (3)(B), it is the sum of

(1) The number of days in the period beginning on the date a clinical investigation on humans involving the device was begun and ending on the date an application was initially submitted with respect to the device under section 515 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; and
(2) The number of days in the period beginning on the date the application was initially submitted with respect to the device under section 515 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, and ending on the date such application was approved under such Act or the period beginning on the date a notice of completion of a product development protocol was initially submitted under section 515(f)(5) of the Act and ending on the date the protocol was declared completed under section 515(f{sf,1)(6) of the Act.

(d) The term of the patent as extended for a medical device will be determined by—

(1) Subtracting from the number of days determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services to be in the regulatory review period pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section:

(i) The number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section which were on and before the date on which the patent issued;
(ii) The number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section during which it is determined under 35 U.S.C. 156(d)(2)(B) by the Secretary of Health and Human Services that applicant did not act with due diligence;
(iii) One-half the number of days remaining in the period defined by paragraph (c)(1) of this section after that period is reduced in accordance with paragraphs (d)(1)(i) and (ii) of this section; half days will be ignored for purposes of subtraction;

(2) By adding the number of days determined in paragraph (d)(1) of this section to the original term of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer;
(3) By adding 14 years to the date of approval of the application under section 515 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act or the date a product development protocol was declared completed under section 515(f)(6) of the Act;
(4) By comparing the dates for the ends of the periods obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(2) and (d)(3) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date;
(5) If the original patent was issued after Sept. 24, 1984, (i) By adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer; and

(ii) By comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(5)(i) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(6) If the original patent was issued before Sept. 24, 1984, and

(i) If no clinical investigation on humans involving the device was begun or no product development protocol was submitted under section 515(f)(5) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act before Sept. 24, 1984, by
(A) Adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer and
(B) By comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(i)(A) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date; or

(ii) If a clinical investigation on humans involving the device was begun or a product development protocol was submitted under section 515(f)(5) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act before Sept. 24, 1984 and the commercial marketing or use of the product was not approved before Sept. 24, 1984, by

(A) Adding 2 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer, and
(B) By comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(ii)(A) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date.

If a determination is made pursuant to § 1.750 that a patent is eligible for extension and that the term of the patent is to be extended, a certificate of extension, under seal, will be issued to the applicant for the extension of the patent term. Such certificate will be recorded in the official file of the patent and will be considered as part of the original patent. Notification of the issuance of the certificate of extension will be published in the Official Gazette of the Patent and Trademark Office. No certificate of extensio will be issued if the term of the patent cannot be extended, even though the patent is otherwise determined to be eligible for extension. In such situations the final determination made pursuant to § 1.750 will indicate that no certificate will issue.

§ 1.785 Multiple applications for extension of term of the same patent or of different patents for the same regulatory review period for a product.

(a) Only one patent may be extended for a regulatory review period for any product (§ 1.720(g)). If more than one application for extension of the same patent is filed, the certificate of extension of patent term, if appropriate, will be issued based upon the first filed application for extension.
(b) If more than one application for extension is filed by a single applicant which seeks the extension of the term of two or more patents based upon the same regulatory review period, and the applications are otherwise eligible for extension pursuant to the requirement of this subpart, the certificate of extension of patent term, if appropriate, will be issued upon the application for extension of the patent having the earliest date of issuance of those patents for which extension is sought.
(c) If an application for extension is filed which seeks the extension of the term of a patent based upon the same regulatory review period as that relied upon in one or more applications for extension pursuant to the requirements of this subpart, the certificate of extension of patent term will be issued on the application only if-

(1) The applicant for extension is the holder of the regulatory approval granted with respect to the regulatory review period, or

(2) The holder of the regulatory approval granted with respect to the regulatory review period is not an applicant and the applicant for extension holds express and exclusive authorization from the holder of the regulatory approval to rely upon the

regulatory review period as the basis for the application for extension, or

(3) The holder of the regulatory approval granted with respect to the regulatory review period is not an applicant and no applicant for extension holds an express and exclusive authorization from the holder of the regulatory approval to rely upon the regulatory review period as the basis for the application for extension and the application is for extension of the patent having the earliest date of issuance of those patents for which extension is sought based upon the same regulatory review period.

(d) An application for extension shall be considered complete and formal regardless of whether it contains the identification of the holder of the regulatory approval granted with respect to the regulatory review period or express and exclusive authorization from the holder of the regulatory approval to rely on the regulatory review period for extension. When an application contains such information, or is amended to contain such information, it will be considered in determining whether an application is eligible for an extension under this section. A request may be made of any applicant to supply such information within a non-extendable period of not less than one (1) month whenever multiple applications for extension of more than one patent are received and rely upon the same regulatory review period. Failure to provide such information within the period for response set shall be regarded as conclusively establishing that the applicant is not the holder of the regulatory approval and is not expressly and exclusively authorized by the holder of the regulatory approval to seek the extension being sought.

(e) Determinations made under this section shall be included in the notice of final determination of eligibility for extension of the patent term pursuant to § 1.750 and shall be regarded as part of that determination.

(137) Guidelines for Extension of Patent Term for New Animal Drugs or Veterinary Biological Products Under 35 U.S.C. 156 as Amended

This notice establishes initial guidelines for patent owners seeking extensions of patent terms for new animal drugs or veterinary biological products pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 156 as amended. See Pub. L. No. 100-670 enacted Nov. 16, 1988. These guidelines are effective until further notice. This notice does not affect the procedures in place for extensions of patent terms for human drug products, food additives, color additives, or medical devices as described in 52 Federal Register 9386 (Mar. 24, 1987) and 1079 Official Gazette 52 (June 23, 1987); this notice relates solely to procedures for extensions of patent terms for new animal drugs and veterinary biological products. In time, the pertinent regulations (37 C.F.R. Part 1, Subpart F) will be changed to encompass all items for which patent term extension is authorized.

A patent owner or its agent should use the guidelines in the various sections below in determining whether a patent is subject to, and meets the conditions for, extension of its term for a new animal drug or a veterinary biological product. If so, the patent owner or its agent should also use the guidelines below in preparing and filing an application for extension of the patent term. If any application for extension of the term of a patent for a new animal drug or a veterinary biological product is filed in accordance with 35 U.S.C. § 156 as amended before the date on which this notice is published in the Official Gazette and the application is not in compliance with the requirements of this notice, applicant will be notified of the deficiencies in the application and will be given a period of time within which to correct those deficiencies.

Guidelines

§ A. Patents subject to extension of the patent term

(a) Any patent that claims a product as defined in paragraph (b) of this section, or a method of using such a product, or a method of manufacturing such a product, is now subject to being extended under 35 U.S.C. § 156 as amended.

(b) The term "product" referred to in paragraph (a) of this section means a new animal drug or veterinary biological product (as those terms are used in the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act and the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act) that is not primarily manufactured using recombinant DNA, recombinant RNA, hybridoma technology, or other processes involving site specific genetic manipulation techniques, including any salt or ester of the active ingredient, as a single entity or in combination with another active ingredient.

§ B. Conditions for extension of a term of a patent

The term of a patent may be extended if:

(a) the patent claims a product or a method of using or manufacturing a product as defined in § A of this notice;
(b) the term of the patent has never been previously extended;
(c) an application for extension is submitted pursuant to § D of this notice;
(d) the product has been subject to a regulatory review period as defined in 35 U.S.C. § 1.56(g) and by the Secretary of Health and Human Services or the Secretary of Agriculture, as appropriate, before its commerical marketing or use;
(e) the product has received permission for commerical marketing or use and the application is submitted within the sixty day period beginning on the date the product first received permission for commerical marketing or use under the provision of law under which the applicable regulatory review period occurred;
(f) the term of the patent has not expired before the submission of the application pursuant to § D of this notice; and
(g) no other patent has been extended for the same regulatory review period for the product.

§ C. Applicant for extension of patent term

Any application for extension of a patent term must be submitted by the owner of record of the patent or its agent as defined in 37 C.F.R. § 1.740(b)(1) and must comply with the requirements of § D of this notice.

§ D. Application for extension of the term of a patent

(a) An application for extension of the term of a patent must be made in writing to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks. The filing date of an application for an extension of the term of a patent is the date on which the complete application for extension and a duplicate of the papers, certified as such, are received in the Patent and Trademark Office or filed pursuant to the provisions of 37 C.F.R. §§ 1.8 or 1.10.

(b) A complete application for the extension of the term of a patent comprises:

(1) a complete identification of the product as by appropriate chemical and generic name, physical structure or characteristics;
(2) a complete identification of the Federal statute including the applicable provision of law under which the regulatory review occurred;
(3) an identification of the date on which the product received permission for commerical marketing or use under the provision of law under which the applicable regulatory review period occurred;
(4) an identification of each active ingredient in the product and as to each active ingredient, a statement that it has not been previously approved for commerical marketing or use under the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, the Public Health Services Act, or a statement of when the active ingredient was approved for commerical marketing or use (either alone or in combination with other active ingredients), the use for which it was approved, and the provision of law under which it was approved;
(5) a statement that the application is being submitted within the sixty day period permitted for submission pursuant to 37 C.F.R. § 1.720(f) and an identification of the last day on which the application may be submitted;
(6) a complete identification of the patent for which an extension is being sought by the name of the inventor(s), the patent number, the date of issue, and the date of expiration;
(7) a copy of the patent for which an extension is being sought, including the entire specification (including claims) and drawings;
(8) a copy of any disclaimer, certificate of correction, receipt of maintenance fee payment, or reexamination certificate issued in the patent;
(9) a statement beginning on a new page that the patent claims the product or a method of using or manufacturing the product, and a showing that lists each applicable patent claim and demonstrates the manner in which each applicable patent claim reads on the product or a method of using or manufacturing the product;
(10) a statement beginning on a new page of the relevant dates and information pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 156(g) to enable the Secretary of Health and Human Services or the Secretary of Agriculture, as appropriate, to determine the applicable regulatory review period as follows:

(i) for a patent claiming an animal drug product, (a) the date a major health or environmental effects test on the drug was initiated and any available substantiation of that date or the date of an exemption under subsection (j) of section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act became effective for such animal drug product, (b) the date on which a new drug application was initially submitted, (c) the number of the application, and (d) the date on which the application was approved; and
(ii) for a patent claiming a veterinary biological product, (a) the date the authority to prepare an experimental biological product under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act became effective, (b) the date an application for a license was submitted under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act, and (c) the date the license issued;

(11) a brief description beginning on a new page of the significant activities undertaken by the marketing applicant during the applicable regulatory review period with respect to the product and the significant dates applicable to such activities;
(12) a statement beginning on a new page that in the opinion of the applicant the patent is eligible for the extension and a statement as to the length of the extension claimed, including how the length of the extension was determined;
(13) a statement that applicant acknowledges a duty to disclose to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks and the Secretary of Health and Human Services or the Secretary of Agriculture, as appropriate, any information that is material to the determination of entitlement to the extension sought;
(14) the prescribed fee for receiving and acting upon the application for extension (see § F of this notice) and an oath or declaration as set forth in paragraph (c) of this section; and
(15) the name, address, and telephone number of the person to whom inquiries and correspondence relating to the application for patent term extension are to be directed.

(c) Any application for extension of the term of a patent submitted pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section must include an oath or declaration signed by the owner of record of the patent or its agent that specifically identifies the application papers and the patent for which an extension is sought and avers that the person signing the oath or declaration:

(1) is the owner, an official of a corporate owner authorized to obligate the corporation, or a patent attorney or agent authorized to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office and who has general authority from the owner to act on behalf of the owner in patent matters;
(2) has reviewed and understands the contents of the application being submitted pursuant to this section;
(3) believes the patent is subject to extension pursuant to § A of this notice;
(4) believes an extension of the length claimed is justified under 35 U.S.C. § 156 as amended; and
(5) believes the patent for which the extension is being sought meets the conditions for extension of the term of a patent as set forth in § B of this notice.

(d) If any application for extension of term of the patent submitted pursuant to this section is held to be incomplete, applicant may seek to have that holding reviewed by filing a petition pursuant to 37 C.F.R. § 1.182 within such time as may be set, or if no time is set, within one month of the date on which the application was held incomplete. Compliance with the provisions of these guidelines that are not required by statute may be waived in appropriate circumstances. 37 C.F.R. § 1.183.

§ E. Interim extension of the term of a patent

An applicant who has filed an application for extension pursuant to § D of this notice may request one or more interim extensions for periods of up to one year pending a final determination on the application. Any such request should be filed at least three months prior to the expiration date of the patent. The Commissioner may issue interim extensions for periods up to one year until a final determination is made without a request by the applicant. In no event will the interim extensions granted under this section be longer than the maximum period of extension to which the applicant would be eligible.

§ F. Fee for receiving and acting on an application for extension of the term of a patent

Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 156(h), the Commissioner has determined that a fee as set forth in 37 C.F.R. § 1.20(n) (presently $550.00) is appropriate to cover the costs to the Patent and Trademark Office of receiving and acting upon the applications for extension of the term of a patent filed pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 156 as amended. The fee should accompany the application when filed. If a fee in a different amount is adopted in Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations, applicant will be refunded any excess of the fee or will be required to submit any deficiency in the fee.

§ G. Address for application for extension of the term of a patent and communications relating thereto

All applications for extension of the term of a patent and any communications relating thereto intended for the Patent and Trademark Office should be addressed to Box Patent Ext., Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Charles E. Van Horn by telephone at (703) 557-4035 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Summary

The initial guidelines set forth above are considered to be appropriate and authorized by 35 U.S.C. {g49 156 as amended. They will provide appropriate guidance to patent owners and

Patent Term Extension for Animal Drug Products

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule

Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is amending the rules of practice in patent cases directed to the extension of patent term. These amendments implement the patent term restoration provisions of Pub. L. No. 100-670, 102 Stat. 3971 (November 16, 1988) which permits owners of patents relating to new animal drugs or veterinary biological products that are not biotechnology-generated to apply for extension of the terms of such patents in the same manner as owners of patents relating to human drugs, medical devices, food additives, or color additives are permitted to do under 35 U.S.C. 156.

Effective Date: August 22, 1989

For Further Information Contact: Charles E. Van Horn by telephone at [703] 557-4035 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Supplementary Information: Pub. L. No. 100-670 has made it possible for owners of patents directed to new animal drugs and to veterinary biological products that are not biotechnology-generated to apply for extension of the term of such patents in a manner similar to the owners of patents directed to human drugs, food additives, color additives, and medical devices. A new animal drug or veterinary biological product is biotechnology-generated if it is primarily manufactured using recombinant DNA, recombinant RNA, hybridoma technology, or other processes including site specific genetic manipulation techniques. The primary purpose of this rule change is to revise the present regulations contained in 37 CFR Part 1, Subpart F, to include the two additional categories of subject matter that can now form the basis of patent term extension. These regulations set forth procedures that govern the content and submission of applications for the extension of a patent term to the PTO, and procedures governing the extension determination and issuance of patent term extension certificates by the PTO.

Initial guidelines directed to the preparation and filing of applications for patent term extension as authorized by Pub. L. No. 100-670 were published as "Guidelines For Extension of Patent Term For New Animal Drugs or Veterinary Biological Products Under 35 U.S.C. 156 as Amended" in the Official Gazette. 1097 Official Gazette 63 (December 27, 1988). A notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register on March 7, 1989, at 54 FR 9507 and in the Official Gazette. 1100 Official Gazette 128 (March 28, 1989). No oral hearing was conducted on these proposed rules. One written comment was received.

The only written comment received was directed to the proposed amendment to § 1.710(a). The proposed amendment indicated that a patent is eligible for extension of the patent term if the patent claims a product either alone or in combination with other ingredients that read on a composition that received permission for commercial marketing or use. The proposed modification was objected to because of the implication that patent term extension would not be available for composition patents where the claimed compositions do not read on the composition (new drug) approved by the FDA. Such an interpretation, it was argued, would unfairly and narrowly interpret the statute. The comment noted that where a marketing applicant seeks approval for multiple dosage forms or compositions of a new drug, the right to obtain patent term extension is triggered at the time the first new drug application is approved. In a typical situation, an injectable dosage form to be used for acute indications will require a lesser development time and be approved more rapidly than the oral dosage form of the same active ingredient intended for chronic administration. It was represented in the comment that justification for the drug development program might hinge on the expectation of an extension of an oral composition patent. If there were patents on both the injectable dosage form and the oral administration form containing the same active ingredient, which were mutually exclusive for the purposes of this illustration, the new drug holder, it is argued, should have a choice of which patent term to extend based on the first approval of a new chemical entity (NCE) drug. Finally, the comment suggested that the proposed amendment to § 1.710(a) with respect to composition patents stands in marked contrast to the situation which applies in the case of method of use patents. It is alleged, in the comment, that the rule in effect allows an extension of a method of use patent whenever the claimed method of use embraces the use of the active ingredient. According to the comment, where an NCE drug is first approved for the treatment of arthritis, a patent limited to an analgesic use of the NCE drug may be extended. (Note the requirement in § 1.740(a)(4) to identify the use for which the product was approved.)

These remarks made in this comment raise a substantive issue relating to the eligibility of patents for patent term extension under 35 U.S.C. 156 that is not addressed in the rules. The exercise of the Commissioner's rulemaking authority under 35 U.S.C. 6 and 156 can neither enlarge nor reduce the scope of eligibility of a patent for patent term extension under 35 U.S.C. 156. Secondly, the proposed amendment to § 1.710(a) is clearly couched in terms which are permissive without either explicitly or implicitly excluding other possibilities. The proposed amendment was made in response to many inquiries received over the years since enactment of 35 USC 156 as to whether a formulation or composition claim in a patent could form a basis for eligibility for patent term extension. Finally, the PTO has a long-standing policy of not addressing an issue in advance of receiving an application presenting the issue for determination. The issue of whether a patent is eligible for patent term extension that could not be enforced in either the original or extended term against the approved formulation or use that allegedly would give rise to eligibility has not been addressed yet by the PTO.

PTO experience to date did involve consideration of two applications that were filed based on approval of the human drug product OCUFEN Ophthalmic Solution, which contains the active ingredient Flurbiprofen [2-(2-fluoro-4-biphenylyl) propionic acid]. Relevant claims from the two patents that were the subject of the applications for patent term extension were as follows:

I. Patent 3,755,427 (issued August 28, 1973)
Claim 2. 2-(2-fluoro-4-biphenylyl) propionic acid.

II. Patent 3,793,457 (issued February 19, 1974)
Claim 1. A therapeutic composition useful in the treatment of pain, inflammation, and pyretic conditions which comprises a compound selected from the group consisting of 2-(2-fluoro-4-biphenylyl) propionic acid, 2-(2'-fluoro-4-biphenylyl) propionic acid, and 2-(2,2'-difluoro-4-biphenylyl) propionic acid in association with a pharmaceutically acceptable excipent the amount of said compound present in said composition being an amount effective against at least one of said conditions.

Claim 2 of the earlier issued patent is directed to the active ingredient per se, whereas claim 1 of Patent No. 3,793,457 is directed to a formulation which can contain Flurbiprofen in an amount which was effective in the treatment of pain, inflammation, and pyretic conditions.

However, since the approved indication for Ocufen was for the inhibition of intraoperative miosis, it was not immediately apparent to the PTO whether the '457 patent claimed the product within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 156. Our view was that the 1984 Act was intended to restore to those patent owners a portion of the enforceable term of an appropriate patent of their choice which was lost due to Government required regulatory review for the product covered by the patent prior to the commercial marketing of the claimed product or the use thereof. If the patent could not be enforced against an infringer who was making, using, or selling an ophthalmic solution containing Flurbiprofen for the treatment of intraoperative miosis, it was questioned how the restoration of the lost patent term due to the regulatory process for the approved product is appropriate under the statute.

In this case, the applicant for patent term extension submitted evidence that Flurbiprofen, in an amount of 0.0004% to 0.1%, has anti-inflammatory activity in the eye when topically administered. The approved label showed that Ocufen contained 0.03% of the active ingredient and stated that the product is "a topical nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory product for ophthalmic use." The specification of the '457 patent indicated that useful compositions preferably contain 0.1-90% by weight of a compound of the invention. Thus, the dosage of the active ingredient for the indicated use clearly overlapped the effective dosages specified in the functional language of claim 1 of the '457 patent. On the basis of this evidence, the PTO concluded that the later issued patent claimed the product. As both patents were determined to be eligible for patent term extension, applicant was permitted to choose the single patent term to be extended. 35 U.S.C. 156(c)(4).

Discussion of Specific Rules

Section 1.710(a) specifically sets forth the existing policy and practice relating to eligibility of patents claiming a composition or formulation that includes the active ingredient. A patent is considered to claim the product at least in those situations where the patent claims the active ingredient per se, or claims a composition or formulation which contains the active ingredient(s) and reads on the composition or formulation approved for commercial marketing or use.

Section 1.710(b) revises the definition of human drug product in paragraph (b)(1) to make the definition conform to Pub. L. No. 100-670. A new paragraph (b)(2) is added to expand the definition of "product" in § 1.710(a) to include a new animal drug and a veterinary biological product, but not one that is primarily manufactured using recombinant DNA, recombinant RNA, hybridoma technology, or other processes including site specific genetic manipulation techniques. Present paragraph (b)(2) is redesignated as paragraph (b)(3). It should be understood that the discussion here of new animal drugs and veterinary biological products is limited to the animal drugs and products defined in Pub. L. No. 100-670.

Paragraph (e)(2) of section 1.720 is revised to indicate that the conditions given therein concern a patent for a product other than one recited in section 1.710(b)(2), due to the exclusion of biotechnology-generated new animal drugs and veterinary biological products in Pub. L. No. 100-670. A new paragraph (e)(3) is added to Section 1.720 directed to the provision in 35 U.S.C. 156(a)(5)(C), which permits the term of a patent directed to a new animal drug or veterinary biological product to be extended based on a second or subsequent approval of the active ingredient provided all the following conditions exist: (a) the patent claims the drug or product, (b) the drug or product is not covered by the claims in any other patent that has been extended ("covered by the claims" means that the drug or product would infringe a claim in the other patent), (c) the patent term was not extended on the basis of the regulatory review period for use in non-food-producing animals, and (d) the second or subsequent approval was the first permitted commercial marketing or use of the drug or product for administration to a food-producing animal. A new pertion is added to paragraph(f) directed to the case where eligibility is to be based on 35 U.S.C. 156 (a)(5)(C). In this latter case, the application must be filed within 60 days of the first approval for administration to a food-producing animal.

Paragraph (a)(4) of § 1.740(a) is amended to (1) eliminate "human" as a modifier for "product," (2) add the Public Health Service Act and the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act to the list of appropriate statutes, and (3) add a requirement to indicate the use for which the product was approved. The first two amendments are necessary to comply with terms of 35 U.S.C. 156 as amended, and the third amendment is necessary to a determination of eligibility where, for example, the application is based on a second or subsequent approval of an active ingredient, but the first approval for administration to a food-producing animal. Paragraph (a)(9) is amended to eliminate the requirement to set forth the statement, beginning on a new page, that the patent for which patent term extension is sought claims the approved product or a method of using or making same, and the required showing listing each applicable claim of the patent and demonstrating the manner in which each applicable claim reads on the approved product or a method of using or making same. This change is made because the information required by this paragraph is within the province of PTO review and there is no need to have such information recited in a readily segregable section of the application. Paragraph (a)(10) is amended to indicate that, as appropriate, the Secretary of Health and Human Services or the Secretary of Agriculture will determine the applicable regulatory review period. Paragraph (a)(10)(i) is amended to recite that a Product License Application is a type of application that may be recited in an application for term extension of a patent claiming a human biological product. New paragraphs (a)(10)(ii) and (a)(10)(iii) are added to set forth the type of tests or applications that are to be considered for determination of the applicable regulatory review period for patents claiming a new animal drug or a veterinary biological product. Present paragraphs (a)(10)(ii) and (a)(10)(iii) are redesignated as paragraphs (a)(10)(iv) and (a)(10)(v), respectively. Paragraph (a)(10)(v) has been amended to reflect that approval of a medical device could be made through the use of a product development protocol. Paragraph (a)(13) is amended to indicate that the duty to disclose any information material to the determination of entitlement to the extension sought applies also to the Secretary of Agriculture where the regulatory review was conducted by the USDA.

Section 1.741(a)(2) is amended to acknowledge that regulatory review may take place under more than one Federal statute and that each appropriate statute should be listed. This amendment is intended to apply to a situation where a human biological product is tested under an investigational new drug (IND) application pursuant to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, but is approved under the Public Health Service Act. The amendment is not intended to include a situation where approval is sought for use of a particular medical device with a specific drug product which may require approval under more than a single provision of law. The product that forms the basis of an application for patent term extension must be either a medical device or a drug product; it cannot be a combination of those separate products. See the file history of U.S. Patent No. 4,428,744 for an example of the application of this principle.

Section 1.741(a)(5) is amended to recognize that the Secretary of Agriculture may determine the length of the regulatory review period where the regulatory review of the product takes place at the USDA. The section is further modified to point out that a determination of the length of the regulatory review period is made under 35 U.S.C. 156(g), and not the length of the patent term extension that is made by the PTO under 35 U.S.C. 156(c).

Section 1.765(a) is amended to recite that a duty of candor and good faith is owed to the Secretary of Agriculture in patent term extension proceedings wherein the USDA is involved.

The title of § 1.775 is amended to reflect that the section is directed to calculating patent term extension for human drug, antibiotic drug, and human biological products. Paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) are amended to indicate that the determinations are being made for any of a human drug, an antibiotic drug, or a human biological product. Sections (c)(1) and (c)(2) are amended to refer merely to a "product" rather than to a "human drug product" or a "drug product" in order to make the sections clearer.

Section 1.778 is added to set forth the manner of calculation of the patent term extension for an animal drug product.

Paragraph (a) specifies that the extension will run from the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer.

Paragraph (b) of § 1.778 provides that the patent term will be extended by the regulatory review period for the product but reduced, where appropriate, by the time periods provided in paragraph (d).

Paragraph (c) defines how the regulatory review period is to be calculated. The period is determined by counting

(1) the number of days in the period beginning on the earlier of the dates a major health or environmental effects test was initiated on the drug or an exemption under subsection (j) of section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act became effective for the drug and ending on the date an application was initially submitted for the drug under section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; and

(2) the number of days in the period beginning on the date the application was initially submitted for the approved drug under subsection (b) of section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and ending on the date the application was approved under the section.

The added total of the days determined in subparagraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) constitutes the regulatory review period, which is then reduced, where appropriate, by the time periods described in paragraph (d).

Paragraph (d) of § 1.778 modifies the term of the patent extension by indicating that

(1) the time period determined from paragraph (c) would be reduced, where appropriate, by—

(i) the number of days in the period of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of section 1.778 that were before the date on which the patent issued;

(ii) the number of days in paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of section 1.778 during which it is determined under 35 U.S.C. 156(d)(2)(B) that applicant did not act with due diligence; and

(iii) the number of days equal to one-half the number of days remaining in paragraph (c)(1) after the paragraph (c)(1) determination has been reduced in accordance with parapraphs (d)(1)(i) and (d)(1)(ii) of section 1.778 (half days to be ignored for subtraction purposes);

(2) adding the number of days determined in paragraph (d)(1) to the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer;

(3) adding 14 years to the date of approval of the application under section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act;

(4) comparing the dates obtained from paragraphs (d)(2) and (d)(3) with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(5) if the original patent issued after November 16, 1988, by—

(i) adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer; and

(ii) comparing the dates obtained from paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(5)(i) with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(6) if the original patent issued before November 16, 1988, and

(i) if no major health or environmental effects test on the drug was initiated and no request was submitted for an exemption under subsection (j) of section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act before November 16, 1988, by—

(A) adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer; and

(B) comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(i)(A) with each other and selecting the earlier date; or

(ii) if a major health or environmental effects test was initiated or a request for an exemption under subsection (j) of section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act was submitted before November 16, 1988, and the application for commercial marketing or use of the drug was not approved before November 16, 1988, by—

(A) adding 3 years to the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer; and

(B) comparing the dates obtained from paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(ii)(A) with each other and selecting the earlier date.

Section 1.779 is added to set forth the manner of calculation of the patent term extension for a veterinary biological product.

Paragraph (a) specifies that the extension runs from the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer.

Paragraph (b) of § 1.779 provides that the patent term would be extended by the regulatory review period for the product but reduced, where appropriate, by the time periods provided in paragraph (d).

Paragraph (c) defines how the regulatory review period is to be calculated. The period is determined by counting

(1) the number of days in the period beginning on the date the authority to prepare an experimental biological product under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act became effective and ending on the date an application for a license was submitted under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act; and

(2) the number of days in the period beginning on the date an application for a license was initially submitted under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act and ending on the date a license was issued.

The added total of the days determined in paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) constitutes the regulatory review period, which is then reduced, where appropriate, by the time periods described in paragraph (d).

Paragraph (d) of § 1.779 defines the term of the patent extension by indicating that

(1) the time period determined from paragraph (c) would be reduced, where appropriate, by—

(i) the number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) that were on and before the date on which the patent issued;

(ii) the number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) during which it is determined under 35 U.S.C. 156(d)(2)(B) that the applicant did not act with due diligence; and

(iii) one-half the number of days remaining in the period defined by paragraph (c)(1) after that period is reduced in accordance with paragraphs (d)(1)(i) and (d)(1)(ii) (half days being ignored for purposes of subtraction);

(2) adding the number of days determined in paragraph (d)(1) to the original term of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer;

(3) adding 14 years to the date of the issuance of a license under the Virus-Serum-Toxim Act;

(4) comparing the dates for the ends of the periods obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(2) and (d)(3) and selecting the earlier date;

(5) if the patent was issued after November 16, 1988, by—

(i) adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer; and

(ii) comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(5)(i) with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(6) if the original patent issued before November 16, 1988, and

(i) if no request for the authority to prepare an experimental biological product under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act was submitted before November 16, 1988, by—

(A) adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer; and

(B) comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(i)(A) with each other and selecting the earlier date; or

(ii) if a request for the authority to prepare an experimental biological product under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act was submitted before November 16, 1988, and the commercial marketing or use of the product was not approved before November 16, 1988, by—

(A) adding 3 years to the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer; and

(B) comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(ii)(A) and selecting the earlier date.

Section 1.785(b) is amended to indicate that, in those instances where an applicant is seeking patent term extension for two or more patents based upon the same regulatory review period, the applicant will have the right to elect which patent is to have its term extended. In the absence of an election by applicant, the Commissioner will extend that patent having the earliest date of issuance.

Other Considerations

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. No. 96-354), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities [Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354]. The rule change setting forth procedures allowing owners of patents directed to new animal drugs and veterinary biological products to apply for extension of patent term would not be expected to result in any adverse economic impact on small entities because patented drugs are generally not commercialized by small entities.

The PTO has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect to the economy will be less that $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the abilbity of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The PTO has also determined that this notice has no federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The rule change contains a collection of information subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. which has been approved by the Office of Management and Budget under control number 0651-0020. Preparation of an application for patent term extension is estimated to take approximately sixty hours, including time for reviewing instructions, gathering and maintaining data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden to the Office of Management and Organization, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231, and to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, Washington D.C. 20503. (Paperwork Reduction Project 0651-0020) No comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information were received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Part 1. Subpart F

Administrative practice and procedure, Authority delegations (Government agencies), Conflict of interest, Courts, Inventions and patents, Lawyers.

For the reasons given in the preamble and pursuant to the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6 and 156, the PTO is amending Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations as set forth below.

Subpart F—Extension of Patent Term

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1, Subpart F, continues to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6 and 156.

2. Section 1.710 is revised to read as follows:

(a) A patent is eligible for extension of the patent term if the patent claims a product as defined in paragraph (b) of this section, either alone or in combination with other ingredients that read on a composition that received permission for commercial marketing or use, or a method of using such a product, or a method of manufacturing such a product, and meets all other conditions and requirements of this subpart.

(b) The term "product" referred to in paragraph (a) of this section means—

(1) The active ingredient of a new human drug, antibiotic drug, or human biological product (as those terms are used in the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and the Public Health Service Act) including any salt or ester of the active ingredient, as a single entity or in combination with another active ingredient; or

(2) The active ingredient of a new animal drug or veterinary biological product (as those terms are used in the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act) that is not primarily manufactured using recombinant DNA, recombinant RNA, hybridoma technology, or other processes including site specific genetic manipulation techniques, including any salt or ester of the active ingredient, as a single entity or in combination with another active ingredient; or

(3) Any medical device, food additive, or color additive subject to regulation under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

3. Section 1.720 is amended by revising paragraphs (e)(2) and (f) and adding paragraph (e)(3) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(e) The product has received permission for commercial marketing or use and—

(2) In the case of a patent other than one directed to subject matter within § 1.710(b)(2) claiming a method of manufacturing the product that primarily uses recombinant DNA technology in the manufacture of the product, the permission for the commercial marketing or use is the first received permission for the commercial marketing or use of a product manufactured under the process claimed in the patent, or

(3) In the case of a patent claiming a new animal drug or a veterinary biological product that is not covered by the claims in any other patent that has been extended, and has received permission for the commercial marketing or use in non-food-producing animals and in food-producing animals, and was not extended on the basis of the regulatory review period for use in non-food-producing animals, the permission for the commercial marketing or use of the drug or product after the regulatory review period for use in food-producing animals is the first permitted commercial marketing or use of the drug or product for administration to a food-producing animal.

(f) The application is submitted within the sixty-day period beginning on the date the product first received permission for commercial marketing or use under the provisions of law under which the applicable regulatory review period occurred; or in the case of a patent claiming a method of manufacturing the product which primarily uses recombinant DNA technology in the manufacture of the product, the application for extension is submitted within the sixty-day period beginning on the date of the first permitted commercial marketing or use of a product manufactured under the process claimed in the patent; or in the case of a patent that claims a new animal drug or a veterinary biological product that is not covered by the claims in any other patent that has been extended, and said drug or product has received permission for the commercial marketing or use in non-food-producing animals, the application for extension is submitted within the sixty-day period beginning on the date of the first permitted commercial marketing or use of the drug or product for administration to a food-producing animal;

4. Section 1.740 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)(4), (a)(9), (a)(10)(i) and (a)(13), adding paragraphs (a)(10)(ii) and (a)(10)(iii), and redesignating present paragraphs (a)(10)(ii) and (a)(10)(iii) as (a)(10)(iv) and (a)(10)(v), respectively, to read as follows:

(a) An application for extension of patent term must be made in writing to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks. A formal application for the extension of patent term shall include:

* * * * *

(4) In the case of a drug product, an identification of each active ingredient in the product and as to each active ingredient, a statement that it has not been previously approved for commercial marketing or use under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, the Public Health Service Act, or the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act, or a statement of when the active ingredient was approved for commercial marketing or use (either alone or in combination with other active ingredients), the use for which it was approved, and the provision of law under which it was approved.

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

* * * * *

(9) A statement that the patent claims the approved product or a method of using or manufacturing the approved product, and a showing which lists each applicable patent claim and demonstrates the manner in which each applicable patent claim reads on the approved product or method of using or manufacturing the approved product;

(10) A statement, beginning on a new page, of the relevant dates and information pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 156(g) in order to enable the Secretary of Health and Human Services or the Secretary of Agriculture, as appropriate, to determine the applicable regulatory review period as follows:

(i) For a patent claiming a human drug, antibiotic, or human biological product, the effective date of the investigational new drug (IND) application and the IND number; the date on which a new drug application (NDA) or a Product License Application (PLA) was initially submitted and the NDA or PLA number and the date on which the NDA was approved or the Product License issued;

(ii) For a patent claiming a new animal drug, the date a major health or environmental effects test on the drug was initiated and any available substantiation of the date or the date of an exemption under subsection (j) of section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act became effective for such animal drug; the date on which a new animal drug application (NADA) was initially submitted and the NADA number; and the date on which the NADA was approved;

(iii) For a patent claiming a veterinary biological product, the date the authority to prepare an experimental biological product under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act became effective; the date an application for a license was submitted under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act; and the date the license issued;

(iv) For a patent claiming a food or color additive, the date a major health or environmental effects test on the additive was initiated and any available substantiation of that date; the date on which a petition for product approval under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act was initially submitted and the petition number; and the date on which the FDA published the Federal Register notice listing the additive for use;

(v) For a patent claiming a medical device, the effective date of the investigational device exemption (IDE) and the IDE number, if applicable, or the date on which the applicant began the first clinical investigation involving the device if no IDE was submitted and any available substantiation of that date; the date on which the application for product approval or notice of completion of a product development protocol under section 515 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act was initially submitted and the number of the application or protocol; and the date on which the application was approved or the protocol declared to be completed.

* * * * *

(13) A statement that applicant acknowledges a duty to disclose to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks and the Secretary of Health and Human Services or the Secretary of Agriculture any information which is material to the determination of entitlement to the extension sought (see § 1.765);

* * * * *

5. Section 1.741 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)(2) and (a)(5) to read as follows:

(a) * * *

* * * * *

(5) Sufficient information to enable the Commissioner to determine under 35 U.S.C. 156 subsections (a) and (b) the eligibility of a patent for extension and the rights that will be derived from the extension and information to enable the Commissioner and the Secretary of Health and Human Services or the Secretary of Agriculture to determine the length of the regulatory review period; and

* * * * *

6. Section 1.765 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

(a) A duty of candor and good faith toward the Patent and Trademark Office and the Secretary of Health and Human Services or the Secretary of Agriculture rests on the patent owner or its agent, on each attorney or agent who represents the patent owner and on every other individual who is substantively involved on behalf of the patent owner in a patent term extension proceeding. All such individuals who are aware, or become aware, of material information adverse to a determination of entitlement to the extension sought, which has not been previously made of record in the patent term extension proceeding must bring such information to the attention of the Office or the Secretary, as appropriate, in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, as soon as it is practical to do so after the individual becomes aware of the information. Information is material where there is a substantial likelihood that the Office or the Secretary would consider it important in determinations to be made in the patent term extension proceeding.

7. Section 1.775 is amended by revising the title and paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) introductory text to read as follows:

§ 1.775 Calculation of patent term extension for a human drug, antibiotic drug or human biological product.

(a) If a determination is made pursuant to § 1.750 that a patent for a human drug, antibiotic drug or human biological product is eligible for extension, the term shall be extended by the time as calculated in days in the manner indicated by this section. The patent term extension will run from the original expiration date of the patent or any earlier date set by terminal disclaimer (§ 1.321).

(b) The term of the patent for a human drug, antibiotic drug or human biological product will be extended by the length of the regulatory review period for the product as determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, reduced as appropriate pursuant to paragraphs (d)(1) through (d)(6) of this section.

(c) The length of the regulatory review period for a human drug, antibiotic drug or human biological product will be determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services. Under 35 U.S.C. 156(g)(1)(B), it is the sum of—

(1) The number of days in the period beginning on the date an exemption under subsection (i) of section 505 or subsection (d) of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act became effective for the approved product and ending on the date the application was initially submitted for such product under those sections or under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act; and

(2) The number of days in the period beginning on the date the application was initially submitted for the approved product under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act, subsection (b) of section 505 or section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and ending on the date such application was approved under such section.

(d) The term of the patent as extended for a human drug, antibiotic drug or human biological product will be determined by—

* * * * *

8. Section 1.778 is added to read as follows:

(a) If a determination is made pursuant to § 1.750 that a patent for an animal drug is eligible for extension, the term shall be extended by the time as calculated in days in the manner indicated by this section. The patent term extension will run from the original expiration date of the patent or any earlier date set by terminal disclaimer (§ 1.321).

(b) The term of the patent for an animal drug will be extended by the length of the regulatory review period for the drug as determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, reduced as appropriate pursuant to paragraphs (d)(1) through (d)(6) of this section.

(c) The length of the regulatory review period for an animal drug will be determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services. Under 35 U.S.C. 156(g)(4)(B), it is the sum of—

(1) The number of days in the period beginning on the earlier of the date a major health or environmental effects test on the drug was initiated or the date an exemption under subsection (j) of section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act became effective for the approved animal drug and ending on the date an application was initially submitted for such animal drug under section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; and

(2) The number of days in the period beginning on the date the application was initially submitted for the approved animal drug under subsection (b) of section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and ending on the date such application was approved under such section.

(d) The term of the patent as extended for an animal drug will be determined by—

(1) Subtracting from the number of days determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services to be in the regulatory review period:

(i) The number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section that were on and before the date on which the patent issued;

(ii) The number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section during which it is determined under 35 U.S.C. 156(d)(2)(B) by the Secretary of Health and Human Services that applicant did not act with due diligence;

(iii) One-half the number of days remaining in the period defined by paragraph (c)(1) of this section after that period is reduced in accordance with paragraphs (d)(1)(i) and (ii) of this section; half days will be ignored for purposes of subtraction;

(2) By adding the number of days determined in paragraph (d)(1) of this section to the original term of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer;

(3) By adding 14 years to the date of approval of the application under section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act;

(4) By comparing the dates for the ends of the periods obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(2) and (d)(3) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(5) If the original patent was issued after November 16, 1988, by—

(i) Adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or any earlier date set by terminal disclaimer; and

(ii) Comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(5)(i) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(6) If the original patent was issued before November 16, 1988, and

(i) If no major health or environmental effects test on the drug was initiated and no request was submitted for an exemption under subsection (j) of section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act before November 16, 1988, by—

(A) Adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer; and

(B) Comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(i)(A) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date; or

(ii) If a major health or environmental effects test was initiated or a request for an exemption under subsection (j) of section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act was submitted before November 16, 1988, and the application for commercial marketing or use of the animal drug was not approved before November 16, 1988, by—

(A) Adding 3 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer, and

(B) Comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(ii)(A) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date.

9. Section 1.779 is added to read as follows:

(a) If a determination is made pursuant to § 1.750 that a patent for a veterinary biological product is eligible for extension, the term shall be extended by the time as calculated in days in the manner indicated by this section. The patent term extension will run from the original expiration date of the patent or any earlier date set by terminal disclaimer (§ 1.321).

(b) The term of the patent for a veterinary biological product will be extended by the length of the regulatory review period for the product as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture, reduced as appropriate pursuant to paragraphs (d)(1) through (d)(6) of this section.

(c) The length of the regulatory review period for a veterinary biological product will be determined by the Secretary of Agriculture. Under 35 U.S.C. 156(g)(5)(B), it is the sum of—

(1) The number of days in the period beginning on the date the authority to prepare an experimental biological product under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act became effective and ending on the date an application for a license was submitted under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act; and

(2) The number of days in the period beginning on the date an application for a license was initially submitted for approval under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act and ending on the date such license was issued.

(d) The term of the patent as extended for a veterinary biological product will be determined by—

(1) Subtracting from the number of days determined by the Secretary of Agriculture to be in the regulatory review period:

(i) The number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section that were on and before the date on which the patent issued;

(ii) The number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section during which it is determined under 35 U.S.C. 156(d)(2)(B) by the Secretary of Agriculture that applicant did not act with due diligence;

(iii) One-half the number of days remaining in the period defined by paragraph (c)(1) of this section after that period is reduced in accordance with paragraphs (d)(1)(i) and (ii) of this section; half days will be ignored for purposes of subtraction;

(2) By adding the number of days determined in paragraph (d)(1) of this section to the original term of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer;

(3) By adding 14 years to the date of the issuance of a license under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act;

(4) By comparing the dates for the ends of the periods obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(2) and (d)(3) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(5) If the original patent was issued after November 16, 1988, by—

(i) Adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or any earlier date set by terminal disclaimer; and

(ii) Comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(5)(i) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(6) If the original patent was issued before November 16, 1988, and

(i) If no request for the authority to prepare an experimental biological product under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act was submitted before November 16, 1988, by—

(A) Adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer; and

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

(B) Comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(i)(A) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date; or

(ii) If a request for the authority to prepare an experimental biological product under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act was submitted before Novemver 16, 1988, and the commercial marketing or use of the product was not approved before November 16, 1988, by—

(A) Adding 3 years to the original expiration date of the patent or earlier date set by terminal disclaimer; and

(B) Comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(ii)(A) of this section with each other and selecting the earlier date.

10. Section 1.785 is amended to revise paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.785 Multiple applications for extension of terms of the same patent or of different patents for the same regulatory review period for a product.

* * * * *

(b) If more than one application for extension is filed by a single applicant which seeks the extension of the term of two or more patents based upon the same regulatory review period, and the applications are otherwise eligible for extension pursuant to the requirement of this subpart, in the absence of an election by applicant, the certificate of extension of patent term, if appropriate, will be issued upon the application for extension of the patent term having the earliest date of issuance of those patents for which extension is sought.

Requests for Presidential Proclamations Under the Semiconductor Chip Protection Act of 1984, 17 U.S.C. 902(a)(2)

Agency:Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule
Summary:The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is adding a new Subchapter C, Part 150 to its rules to implement the Presidential proclamation provisions of the Semiconductor Chip Protection Act of 1984, 17 U.S.C. 902(a)(2). The rules establish procedures for the evaluation of requests by foreign governments for the issuance of Presidential proclamations granting protection in the United States to mask works of foreign origin. The rules also permit the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks independently to initiate an evaluation. The effect of the rules will be to establish a regime of protection for foreign mask works in the United States, provided mask works of U.S. origin are adequately protected in the country requesting a Presidential proclamation.
Effective Date: August 1, 1988
For Further Information Contact: Michael K. Kirk, Assistant Commissioner for External Affairs, by telephone at (703)557-3065, or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box 4, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: The Semiconductor Chip Protection Act of 1984 (SCPA) established a new form of intellectual property protection for mask works that are fixed in semiconductor chips. Mask works are defined as a "series of related images, however fixed or encoded," that represent the three-dimensional pattern in the layers of a semiconductor chip. Thus, the subject matter of protection under the SCPA are the layout designs of semiconductor chips, known in some countries as "integrated circuit layout designs" or as "semiconductor topographies." The SCPA provides a ten-year term of protection for original mask works measured from their date of registration or first commercial exploitation anywhere in the world. To maintain protection, mask works must be registered in the United States Copyright Office within two years of first commercial exploitation.

Protection for foreign mask works may be granted under both section 902 and section 914 of the SCPA. Section 902 sets out three different ways that foreign mask works may become eligible for protection in the United States. First, on the date the work is registered or is first commercially exploited anywhere in the world, the mask work is protectible if its owner is a national, domiciliary or sovereign authority of a foreign nation that is a party to a treaty that provides protection of mask works and to which the United States is also a party, or if a stateless person, wherever domiciled. Second, foreign mask works may be protected when they are first commercially exploited in the United States. The third way, set forth in section 902(a)(2), is where the foreign mask work comes within the scope of a Presidential proclamation. The President may issue a proclamation upon finding that a foreign nation extends to mask works of owners who are U.S. nationals or domiciliaries, protection (1) on substantially the same basis as that on which the foreign nation extends protection to mask works of its own nationals and domiciliaries and mask works first commercially exploited in that nation, or (2) on substantially the same basis as provided in the SCPA. Pursuant to Executive Order 12504, 50 FR 4849 (Feb. 4, 1985), requests for issuance of Presidential proclamations are to be presented to the President by the Secretary of Commerce.

Section 914 was included in the SCPA as a transitional provision, intended by Congress to encourage other countries to pass laws extending protection to this new form of intellectual property. Once laws were in place, it was reasoned, permanent protection for foreign mask works could be conferred under section 902 or through a multilateral treaty that extended coverage to mask works. Section 914 gives the Secretary of Commerce authority to issue orders extending interim protection to foreign mask work owners upon the satisfaction of certain conditions. First, the Secretary must find that the foreign nation is making good faith efforts and reasonable progress toward entering into a treaty with the United States, or toward enacting legislation that will protect U.S. mask works on the same basis as domestic mask works, or at a level similar to that provided under the SCPA. Second, the Secretary must determine that nationals, domiciliaries and sovereign authorities of the foreign nation are not engaged in the misappropriation, unauthorized distribution, or unauthorized commercial exploitation of mask works. Finally, the Secretary must determine that issuance of an interim order would promote the purposes of the SCPA and international comity with respect to the protection of mask works.

By Amendment 1 to Department Organization Order 10-14, issued Dec. 3, 1984, the Secretary of Commerce delegated to the Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks the authority under section 914 to make pertinent findings and to issue orders for the interim protection of foreign mask works. Amendment 2 to Department Organization Order 10-14, issued Sept. 28, 1987, expanded the earlier delegation to include responsibility for prescribing regulations for the presentation to the President of requests for issuance of proclamations under section 902.

The Commissioner has issued orders granting interim protection under section 914 for mask works produced in Australia, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, Finland, France, the Federal Republic of Germany, Greece, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom. All of the interim protection orders were recently extended until May 31, 1989. See Extension of Previously-Granted Interim Orders Under the Semiconductor Chip Protection Act of 1984, 53 FR 16308 (May 6, 1988).

This proceeding was initiated by a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking published at 53 FR 5588-90 (Feb. 25, 1988). The notice set forth proposed regulations for the submission and evaluation of requests that the Secretary of Commerce recommend the issuance or revocation of a Presidential proclamation granting U.S. protection to foreign mask works under section 902(a)(2) of the SCPA. Comments on the proposed rules were received from the Commission of the European Communities and the U.S. Semiconductor Industry Association.

Discussion of Specific Rules

Section 150.1 of the new rules sets forth relevant definitions. Section 150.2 specifies the conditions under which an evaluation of recommending the issuance, revision, suspension or revocation of a section 902 proclamation will be initiated by the Commissioner. Section 150.2(a) provides that the Commissioner must initiate an evaluation of the propriety of recommending the issuance of a section 902 proclamation upon receipt of a request from a foreign government. Section 150.2(b) gives the Secretary the discretion to initiate independently an evaluation concerning issuance, revision, suspension or revocation of a proclamation, or as directed by the Secretary of Commerce. Section 150.3(a) states that requests for the issuance of a section 902 Presidential proclamation shall be made by "foreign governments." The definition of "foreign government" in section 150.1 of the rules makes clear that international intergovernmental organizations may request Presidential proclamations on behalf of their member states.

Section 150.3(b) lists the documentation that must accompany requests for issuance of a proclamation. The laws, legal rulings, regulations, and administrative orders submitted must be in unedited, full-text form. Where possible, the materials submitted should be reproduced from the original document, e.g., from court reports or statutory instruments. Abstracts, summaries and commentaries are not acceptable. If the documents are not in English, a certified English translation must accompany them.

Section 150.4 sets out the procedure the Commissioner will follow after a request for issuance of a proclamation has been submitted, or following a decision independently to initiate an evaluation. If a foreign government requests a section 902 proclamation before a section 914 proceeding has taken place, under section 150.4(a) the Commissioner may initiate such a proceeding to compile a record of necessary information and, where appropriate, to provide interim protection in the United States while the section 902 request is pending. Section 150.4(b) provides that the information obtained during a section 914 proceeding, if one has been held, will be considered by the Commissioner in determining whether to recommend the issuance of a Presidential proclamation.

Section 150.4(c) provides that requests for Presidential proclamations, and notices of the Commissioner's determination independently to initiate section 902 evaluations, will be published in the Federal Register. Written comments will be requested. Section 150.4(d) requires the Commissioner to notify the Register of Copyrights and the Committees on the Judiciary of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the initiation of an evaluation. Under section 150.4(e), a hearing may be scheduled if the written comments raise issues that cannot be resolved through informal contacts Section 150.4(f) provides that the record to be considered by the Commissioner in determining whether to recommend a Presidential proclamation will be the request from a foreign government, if any, written comments received, the record of any section 914 proceedings, and the information obtained in a hearing, if one is held.

Sections 150.4(g) and (h) provide that the Commissioner will forward the draft recommendation to the Secretary, who will then forward a recommendation regarding issuance of a proclamation to the President. Section 150.5(a) makes clear that the recommendation for issuance of a proclamation may include terms and conditions regarding the duration of the proclamation. Section 150.5(b) provides that interested parties may request the revision, suspension or revocation of Presidential proclamations.

Comments on the Proposed Rules

Comments on the proposed rules were submitted by the Commission of the European Communities and the U.S. Semiconductor Industry Association (SIA). The Commission of the European Communities noted that any request for a proclamation in favor of mask works produced in the Member States will be made by the Commission. The Commission requested a clarification that the term "foreign governments" as used in section 150.3(a) includes international intergovernmental organizations which have been empowered by their member states to request Presidential proclamations granting U.S. protection to mask works produced in such states.

The PTO adopts the Commission's suggestion. The rules are not intended to preclude foreign governments from having requests for Presidential proclamations presented on their behalf by an international or regional intergovernmental organization. Accordingly, a definition of "foreign government" is added as section 150.1(b) of the rules, making clear that international intergovernmental organizations may request Presidential proclamations on behalf of their member states.

In its comments, the SIA requested that section 150.4(c) be amended to require that the Commissioner hold a public hearing when requested by any interested party after an evaluation has begun. As proposed, section 150.4(e)(2)(ii) gives the Commissioner discretion to hold a hearing to gather additional information if material issues raised in written comments cannot be resolved less formally. SIA also requested that section 150.4(f) be amended to include information obtained in public hearings in the list of materials to be evaluated by the Commissioner. SIA suggested that section 150.4(c) specify a time period of thirty (30) days after publication of a request for comments in the Federal Register during which written comments and requests for a hearing may be submitted.

The PTO does not agree that the Commissioner should be required to hold a hearing as part of every section 902 evaluation whenever requested. Section 150.4(b) provides that information obtained during section 914 proceedings will be used in evaluating requests for Presidential proclamations. Moreover, under section 150.4(a) the Commissioner may institute section 914 proceedings if an interim order has not been issued in favor of mask works from such a requesting nation. Given the thoroughness with which section 914 proceedings are generally conducted, the Commissioner is expected to have available a substantial record concerning the degree of protection for U.S. mask works in the subject country. A separate hearing might only serve to cause delay in such cases.

Moreover, effective public participation in the section 902 evaluation process is not dependent on whether the Commissioner holds a hearing. The rules proceed from the assumption that any material issues relating to protection of U.S. mask works in a requesting foreign country can be raised in written comments, and that these issues can be resolved flexibly through informal inter partes contacts. Where issues cannot be resolved through such informal contacts, section 150.4(e)(ii) gives the Commissioner discretion to hold a hearing to obtain additional views and to assist in resolving the issues. It is not evident that a mandatory hearing upon request of interested parties would provide an opportunity for exchange of views or information that is not otherwise available under section 150.4(e).

The PTO agrees that, if the Commissioner elects to hold a hearing, the information obtained should be included in the record. Accordingly, section 150.4(f) is amended to make this clarification. It is also proper that the rules specify a time period for the submission of comments following publication in the Federal Register of the request for a proclamation or the Commissioner's determination to initiate independently a section 902 evaluation. Thus, to ensure that all interested parties have sufficient time to investigate and prepare complete written comments, section 150.4(c) is amended to specify that comments must be submitted within sixty (60) days of Federal Register publication.

Discussion of Principal Changes

A new section 150.1(b) has been added to the rules as proposed to clarify that international or regional intergovernmental organizations may request Presidential proclamations on behalf of their member states, provided the member states have empowered the organization to make such requests. Proposed sections 150.1(c)-(g) have been redesignated as sections 150.1(d)-(h). The definition of "mask work" in section 150.1(d) (proposed section 150.1(c)) has been modified slightly to conform to the language in section 901(a)(2) of the SCPA. The definition of "Presidential proclamation" in section 150.1(e) (proposed section 150.1(d)) has been changed slightly by substituting the words "applying for" for the word "making" before the word "registrations." The purpose of this change is to conform the language of the rule to section 908 of the SCPA, which relates to mask work registration. The definition of "request" in section 150.l(f) (proposed section 150.l(e)) has been changed to indicate that the Commissioner is not required to treat requests for the revision, suspension or revocation of a Presidential proclamation in the same way as requests for issuance of such proclamations (see discussion of section 150.5(b), infra).

Section 150.2(a) has been expanded to make clear that the Commissioner may initiate independently an evaluation of recommending the revision, suspension, or revocation of a Presidential proclamation, as well as an evaluation of recommending the issuance of a proclamation. This change reflects the amendment to section 902(a)(2) made by the Semiconductor Chip Protection Act Extension of 1987, which clarifies that the President has the authority to revise, suspend or revoke, as well as issue, proclamations extending protection to foreign mask works.

Section 150.3(b) has been changed to state that requests for issuance of a Presidential proclamation must be accompanied by "a copy" of laws, legal rulings, regulations or administrative orders, rather than "an official copy" of such materials, as was proposed. This change is made to avoid confusion arising from the fact that the meaning of "official copy" may vary from country to country. Section 150.3(b)(5) has been redesignated as section 150.3(b)(6), and a new section 150.3(b)(5) has been added to specify that the copies submitted to the PTO must be in full text, unedited, and where possible, be reproduced from the original document.

Section 150.4(c) has also been changed. The proposed rule stated that notices of requests by foreign governments for the issuance of Presidential proclamations will be published in the Federal Register. Language has been added to make clear that notices of the Commissioner's determination independently to initiate evaluations will also be published in the Federal Register. Section 150.4(c) has also been changed to provide that comments shall be submitted to the Commissioner within sixty (60) days of publication of the Federal Register notice. Section 150.4(f) has been modified to include information obtained in a public hearing held pursuant to section 150.4(e)(ii), if such a hearing is held, in the list of materials to be evaluated by the Commissioner.

Section 150.5(b) has been changed to reflect the amendment to section 902(a)(2) made by the Semiconductor Chip Protection Act Extension of 1987. The first sentence provides that any interested party may request the "revision, suspension or revocation" of a proclamation. The second sentence has been modified to provide that "requests for revision, suspension or revocation of a proclamation will be considered in substantially the same manner as requests for the issuance of a section 902 proclamation." The word "substantially" has been added to indicate that the Commissioner need not initiate a formal evaluation in every case where a request is made for the revision, suspension or revocation of a Presidential proclamation, in contrast to situations where a foreign government requests the issuance of such a proclamation. While good faith requests for the revision, suspension or revocation of a proclamation will be accorded fair procedural treatment, it is proper that the Commissioner have flexibility at the outset to consider such requests on a case-by-case basis as experience is gained under these rules. If necessary, the PTO may amend the rules at a later time to provide additional procedures for consideration of requests for revision, suspension or revocation of Presidential proclamations.

Stylistic changes have also been made in sections 150.2(a), 150.3(b)(6) (proposed section 150.3(b)(5)) and 150.5(a), but these changes are for purposes of clarity and are not substantive in nature.

Other Considerations

This rule does not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of natural resources. This rule is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980,44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Small Business Administration that the proposed rule will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) The economic impact of a Presidential proclamation on small entities will be beneficial, since such proclamations may be issued only upon a finding that a foreign nation extends reciprocal protection to U.S. mask works.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less that $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state or local government agencies, or geographic regions. By extending protection to foreign mask work owners, the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets will be enhanced.

The Patent and Trademark Office has also determined that this notice has no federalism implications affecting the relationship between the national government and the states as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The rule will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3510 et seq., since no record-keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Subchapter C

Administrative practice and procedure, Authority delegations, Semiconductor chips, Mask works.

For the reasons set out in the preamble, Chapter 1 of Title 37 CFR is amended by adding a new Subchapter C, Part 150, as follows:

Subchapter C - PROTECTION OF FOREIGN MASK WORKS

Part 150 - REQUESTS FOR PRESIDENTIAL PROCLAMATIONS PURSUANT TO 17 U.S.C. 902(a)(2)

Sec.
150.1 Definitions.
150.2 Initiation of Evaluation.
150.3 Submission of Requests.
150.4 Evaluation.
150.5 Duration of Proclamation.
150.6 Mailing Address.

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6; E.O. 12504, 50 FR 4849, 3 CFR, 1985 Comp., p. 335.

Section 150.1 Definitions.

(a) "Commissioner" means Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.
(b) "Foreign government" means the duly-constituted executive of a foreign nation, or an international or regional intergovernmental organization which has been empowered by its member states to request issuance of Presidential proclamations on their behalf under this part.
(c) "Interim order" means an order issued by the Secretary of Commerce under 17 U.S.C. 914.
(d) "Mask work" means a series of related images, however fixed or encoded -

(1) having or representing the predetermined, threedimensional pattern of metallic, insulating, or semiconductor material present or removed from the layers of a semiconductor chip product; and
(2) in which series the relation of the images to one another is that each image has the pattern of the surface of one form of the semiconductor chip product.

(e) "Presidential proclamation" means an action by the President extending to foreign nationals, domiciliaries and sovereign authorities the privilege of applying for registrations for mask works pursuant to 17 U.S.C. 902.
(f) "Request" means a request by a foreign government for the issuance of a Presidential proclamation.

(g) "Proceeding" means a proceeding to issue an interim order extending protection to foreign nationals, domiciliaries and sovereign authorities under 17 U.S.C. Chapter 9.
(h) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Commerce.

Section 150.2 Initiation of Evaluation.

(a) The Commissioner independently or as directed by the Secretary, may initiate an evaluation of the propriety of recommending the issuance, revision, suspension or revocation of a section 902 proclamation.
(b) The Commissioner shall initiate an evaluation of the propriety of recommending the issuance of a section 902 proclamation upon receipt of a request from a foreign government.

Section 150.3 Submission of Requests.

(a) Requests for the issuance of a section 902 proclamation shall be submitted by foreign governments for review by the Commissioner.
(b) Requests for issuance of a proclamation shall include:

(1) A copy of the foreign law or legal rulings that provide protection for U.S. mask works which provide a basis for the request.
(2) A copy of any regulations or administrative orders implementing the protection.
(3) A copy of any laws, regulations or administrative orders establishing or regulating the registration (if any) of mask works.
(4) Any other relevant laws, regulations or administrative orders.
(5) All copies of laws, legal rulings, regulations or administrative orders submitted must be in unedited, full-text form, and if possible, must be reproduced from the original document.
(6) All material submitted must be in the original language, and if not in English, must be accompanied by a certified English translation.

Section 150.4 Evaluation.

(a) Upon submission of a request by a foreign government for the issuance of a section 902 proclamation, if an interim order under section 914 has not been issued, the Commissioner may initiate a section 914 proceeding if additional information is required.
(b) If an interim order under section 914 has been issued, the information obtained during the section 914 proceeding will be used in evaluating the request for a section 902 proclamation.
(c) After the Commissioner receives the request of a foreign government for a section 902 proclamation, or after a determination is made by the Commissioner to initiate independently an evaluation pursuant to section 150.2(a) of this part, a notice will be published in the Federal Register to request relevant and material comments on the adequacy and effectiveness of the protection afforded U.S. mask works under the system of law described in the notice. Comments should include detailed explanations of any alleged deficiencies in the foreign law or any alleged deficiencies in its implementation. If the alleged deficiencies include problems in administration such as registration, the respondent should include as specifically as possible full detailed explanations, including dates for and the nature of any alleged problems. Comments shall be submitted to the Commissioner within sixty (60) days of publication of the Federal Register notice.
(d) The Commissioner shall notify the Register of Copyrights and the Committees on the Judiciary of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the initiation of an evaluation under these regulations.
(e) If the written comments submitted by any party present relevant and material reasons why a proclamation should not issue, the Commissioner will:
(1) Contact the party raising the issue for verification and any needed additional information;
(2) Contact the requesting foreign government to determine if the issues raised by the party can be resolved; and,

(i) If the issues are resolved, continue with the evaluation; or,
(ii) If the issues cannot be resolved on this basis, hold a public hearing to gather additional information.

(f) The comments, the section 902 request, information obtained from a section 914 proceeding, if any, and information obtained in a hearing held pursuant to subsection (e)(ii) of this section, if any, will be evaluated by the Commissioner.
(g) The Commissioner will forward the information to the Secretary, together with an evaluation and a draft recommendation.
(h) The Secretary will forward a recommendation regarding the issuance of a section 902 proclamation to the President.

Section 150.5 Duration of Proclamation.

(a) The recommendation for the issuance of a proclamation may include terms and conditions regarding the duration of the proclamation.
(b) Requests for the revision, suspension or revocation of a proclamation may be submitted by any interested party. Requests for revision, suspension or revocation of a proclamation will be considered in substantially the same manner as requests for the issuance of a section 902 proclamation.

Section 150.6 Mailing Address.

Requests and all correspondence submitted pursuant to these guidelines shall be addressed to:

(140) Errors in Notice of Allowance

The purpose of this notice is to clarify existing Office practice with respect to providing a new issue fee due date. Sometimes errors appear on the Notice of Allowance, such as an incorrect number of claims, the misspelling of an inventor's name, an incorrect inventorship, or an incorrect title. A duplicate Notice of Allowance correcting the errors may be requested from the Group that mailed the Notice. However, a new issue fee due date will not be provided if the information on the original Notice of Allowance is sufficient to allow a reasonable practitioner to timely file a proper issue fee in the correct application. Specifically, the mere filing of a request for a corrected or duplicate Notice of Allowance will not act to stay the period for paying the issue fee.

(141) Initial Guidelines Implementing Changes in 35 U.S.C. 103, 116, and 120

The Patent and Trademark Office has established initial guidelines for patent examiners to use in implementing the changes made in 35 U.S.C. 103, 116, and 120 by Public Law

VOL 1122 ISS 1 1991 JA UMI

98-622, the Patent Law Amendments Act of 1984. As a service to the public, those guidelines are published below. A copy of Public Law 98-622 is also being published concurrently herewith. Some of the procedural aspects of matters contained in the guidelines will be incorporated into Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulation through the rule-making process.

Dec. 11, 1984. RENE D. TEGTMEYER,
Assistant Commissioner for Patents.

Initial Guidelines As To Implementation Of 35 U.S.C. 103

Public Law 98-622 added a new sentence to 35 U.S.C. 103 which reads as follows:

"Subject matter developed by another person, which qualifies as prior art only under subsection (f) or (g) of section 102 of this title, shall not preclude patentability under this section where the subject matter and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person."

The significant features resulting from this amendment to § 103 are the following:

(1) The only prior art which is disqualified is prior art under § 102(f) or (g) where the subject matter, i.e., the prior art, and the invention "were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person." (Person includes organization.)
(2) If the subject matter (prior art) qualifies as prior art under any other section, e.g., § 102(a), (b), or (e), it is still prior art and can be used.
(3) Amendment applies only to subject matter which qualifies as prior art under § 103; it does not affect subject matter which qualifies as prior art under § 102, i.e., anticipatory prior art.
(4) Term "another person" means any inventive entity other than the inventor and includes the inventor and any other person.
(5) Term "developed" is to be read broadly and is not limited to any particular manner of development.
(6) Subject matter derived from another under § 102(f) is prior art under § 103 unless the derived subject matter and the claimed invention are owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person at the time the claimed invention was made.
(7) The disclosure of an earlier filed patent application which issues as a patent continues to be prior art under § 102(e) against a later invented and filed application of another inventor even though the patent and the later application are owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person.
(8) Commonly owned applications, i.e., applications owned by the same person, may be refiled as a single application to avoid one or more of them becoming prior art against another under §§ 102(e) and 103.
(9) The phrase "owned by the same person" requires that the same person, persons, or organization own 100% of the subject matter (prior art) and 100% of the claimed invention.
(10) The phrase "subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person" requires that a legal obligation of assignment exist and not merely a moral or unenforceable obligation.
(11) As long as the same person owns the subject matter and the invention at the time the claimed invention was made, a license to another may be made without the subject matter becoming prior art.
(12) Amended § 103 requires actual ownership (or obligation to assign) be in existence at the time the claimed invention is made for the subject matter to be disqualified as prior art; acquiring one or the other later is not sufficient.
(13) Burden of establishing that subject matter is disqualified as prior art is placed on patent applicant and not on the patent examiner once the examiner establishes a prima facie case of obviousness based on the prior art.
(14) Double patenting rejections may now be made in applications based on commonly owned patents of different inventive entities and double patenting rejections of the obviousness type can be overcome by terminal disclaimers.
(15) A double patenting rejection may also be made in a later filed application where the application/patent on which the rejection is based and the later filed application are not commonly owned as long as one of the inventors is common between the later filed application and the application/patent; such a rejection cannot be overcome by terminal disclaimer in view of the lack of common ownership.
(16) The Commissioner's Notice of January 9, 1967, "Double Patenting", 834 O.G. 1615 (Jan. 31, 1967) is withdrawn to the extent that it does not authorize a double patenting rejection where different inventive entities are present.
(17) Inventors of subject matter not commonly owned at the time of the invention may file as joint inventors in a single application. However, the claims in such an application are not protected from a § 102(f) /103 or § 102(g)/103 rejection.

Implementation Steps As To Amended 35 U.S.C. 103

A. Applications To Be Considered
(1) Amended § 103 does not "affect any final decision made by the court or the Patent and Trademark Office before the date of enactment [November 8, 1984]. . . with respect to a patent or application for patent, if no appeal from such decision is pending and the time for filing an appeal has expired."
(2) The amendment of § 103 will not be considered to apply to:
   (a) Any application which has been abandoned prior to November 8, 1984, unless such application is revived pursuant to the provisions of 37 CFR 1.137(a) or (b) and is pending on or after November 8, 1984;
   (b) Any application in which all the claims have been allowed and in which prosecution has been closed prior to November 8, 1984, e.g., by an Ex parte Quayle action, a Notice of allowability, or a Notice of Allowance. However, a continuing application would obtain the benefit of amended § 103 if filed prior to the abandonment or issuance of the application; and
   (c) Any application in which an appeal has been filed and is no longer pending or in which the time for filing an appeal has expired prior to November 8, 1984. However if the application contains allowed claims on or after November 8, 1984, the allowed claims are subject to amended § 103.
(3) The amendment to § 103 will be applied to any application (a) which is before the examiner for action and in which all the claims have not been allowed and the prosecution closed or (b) in which prosecution has been closed and is being reopened to reject the allowed claims on grounds other than § 102(f) /103 or § 102(g)/103.
(4) Applications not before the examiner for action, e.g., an application in which a response from applicant is required, will not be considered as to the applicability of amended § 103 unless applicant takes timely action which properly requires an action on the merits by the examiner.

B. Conflicting Co-pending Applications Of Different Inventive Entities With No Indication That They Are Commonly Owned

(1) If the application files do not establish that they are owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person, the examiner will:
   (a) assume that the applications are not commonly owned;
   (b) examine the applications on all grounds other than any conflict between the applications;
   (c) consider the applicability of § 102(f) /103 or § 102(g)/103 if one application refers to the other (if there is no cross-reference between the applications it would be inappropriate for the examiner to refer to one application in the other in view of 35 U.S.C. 122);
   (d) consider interference if appropriate;
   (e) suspend the later filed application if it is otherwise allowable until the earlier filed application is abandoned or issues as a patent and then reject the later filed application under § 102(e)/103, if appropriate; and
   (f) proceed under item C below if at any time during the examination a statement is made that the applications are commonly owned.

C. Conflicting Co-pending Applications Of Different Inventive Entities Which Are Commonly Owned

(1) Co-pending applications will be considered by the examiner to be owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person if (a) the application files refer to assignments recorded in the PTO in accordance with 37 CFR 1.331 which convey the entire rights in the applications to the same person(s) or organization(s); or (b) copies of unrecorded assignments which convey the entire rights in the applications to the same person(s) or organization(s) are filed in each of the applications; or (c) an affidavit or declaration by the common owner is filed which states that there is common ownership and explains why the affiant believes there is common ownership; or (d) other evidence is submitted which establishes common ownership of the applications in question, e.g., a court decision determining the owner. In circumstances where the common owner is a corporation or other organization an affidavit or declaration averring common ownership may be signed by an official of the corporation or organization empowered to act on behalf of the corporation or organization.
(2) If the application files establish that they are owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person, the examiner will:
   (a) examine the applications as to all grounds except §§ 102(f) and (g) as they apply through § 103 if the application files establish common ownership at the time the later invention was made;
   (b) examine the applications for double patenting, including double patenting of the obviousness type, and make a provisional rejection, if appropriate, (see In re Mott, 190 USPQ 536 (CCPA 1976);
   (c) examine the later filed application under § 102(e) as it applies through § 103 and make a provisional rejection under § 102(e)/103 in the later filed application, if appropriate;
   (d) permit applicant of the later filed application to file an affidavit under 37 CFR 1.131 to overcome the provisional or actual § 102(e)/103 rejection, if appropriate, and a terminal disclaimer to overcome the provisional or actual rejection on double patenting of the obviousness type.

Initial Guidelines As To Implementation Of 35 U.S.C. 116

Public Law 98-622 amended 35 U.S.C. 116 to clarify that each inventor need not "sign the application" in addition to making the required oath and to add a new sentence which reads as follows:

"Inventors may apply for a patent jointly even though (1) they did not physically work together or at the same time, (2) each did not make the same type or amount of contribution, or (3) each did not make a contribution to the subject matter of every claim of the patent."

The significant features resulting from these amendments to § 116 are the following:

(1) The joint inventors do not have to separately "sign the application," but only need apply for the patent jointly and make the required oath by signing the same; this is a clarification, but not a change in current practice.
(2) Inventors may apply for a patent jointly even though "they did not work together or at the same time," thereby clarifying (a) that it is not necessary that the inventors physically work together on a project, and (b) that one inventor may "take a step at one time, the other an approach at different times." (Monsanto Co. v. Kamp, 154 USPQ 259 (D.D.C. 1967)).
(3) Inventors may apply for a patent jointly even though "each did not make the same type or amount of contribution," thereby clarifying the "fact that each of the inventors plays a different role and that the contribution of one may not be as great as that of another does not detract from the fact that the invention is joint, if each makes some original contribution, though partial, to the final solution of the problem." Monsanto, supra.
(4) Inventors may apply for a patent jointly even though "each did not make a contribution to the subject matter of every claim of the patent."
(5) Inventors may apply for a patent jointly as long as each inventor made a contribution, i.e., was an inventor or joint inventor, of the subject matter of at least one claim of the patent; there is no requirement that all the inventors be joint inventors of the subject matter of any one claim.
(6) If an application by joint inventors includes more than one independent and distinct invention, restriction may be required with the possible result of a necessity to change the inventorship named in the application if the elected invention was not the invention of all the originally named inventors.
(7) The amendment to § 116 increases the likelihood that different claims of an application or patent may have different dates of invention; when necessary the Office or court may inquire of the patent applicant or owner concerning the inventors and the invention dates for the subject matter of the various claims.

Implementation Steps As To Amended 35 U.S.C. 116

(1) See items (1) to (4) above under "Applications To Be Considered" for applications to be considered under amended § 116.
(2) Pending applications will be permitted to be amended by complying with 37 CFR 1.48 to add claims to inventions by inventors not named when the application was filed as long as such inventions were disclosed in the application as filed since 37 CFR 1.48 permits correction of inventorship where the "correct inventor or inventors are not named in an application for patent through error without any deceptive intention on the part of the actual inventor or inventors."
(3) Under amended § 116 an examiner will reject claims under § 102(f) only in circumstances where a named inventor is not the inventor of at least one claim in the application; no rejection under § 102(f) is appropriate if a named inventor made a contribution to the invention defined in any claim of the application.
(4) Under amended § 116 considered in conjunction with amended § 103, a rejection may be appropriate under § 102(f)/103 where the subject matter, i.e., prior art, and the claimed invention were not owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person at the time the invention was made.
(5) Applicants are responsible for correcting, and will be required to correct, the inventorship in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48 when the application is amended to change the claims so that one (or more) of the named inventors is no longer an inventor of the subject matter of a claim remaining in the application.

(6) In requiring restriction in an application filed by joint inventors the examiner will remind applicants of the necessity to correct the inventorship pursuant to 37 CFR 1.48 if an invention is elected and the claims to the invention of one or more inventors are cancelled.

(7) The examiner will not inquire of the patent applicant concerning the inventors and the invention dates for the subject matter of the various claims until it becomes necessary to do so in order to properly examine the application.

(8) If an application is filed with joint inventors, the examiner will assume that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time the inventions covered therein were made, unless there is evidence to the contrary. If inventors of subject matter, not commonly owned at the time of the later invention, file a joint application, applicants have an obligation pursuant to 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim and the lack of common ownership at the time the later invention was made in order that the examiner may consider the applicability of § 102(f)/103 or § 102(g)/103. The examiner will assume, unless there is evidence to the contrary, that applicants are complying with their duty of disclosure.

Initial Guidelines As To Implementation Of 35 U.S.C. 120

Public Law 98-622 amended 35 U.S.C. 120 by striking out "by the same inventor" and inserting in its place "which is filed by an inventor or inventors named in the previously filed application."

The amended first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 120 (the bracketed portion was deleted and the underlined portion added) reads as follows:

§120. Benefit of earlier filing date in the United States

An application for patent for an invention disclosed in the manner provided by the first paragraph of section 112 of this title in an application previously filed in the United States, or as provided by section 363 of this title, [by the same inventor] which is filed by an inventor or inventors named in the previously filed application shall have the same effect, as though filed on the date of the prior application, if filed before the patenting or abandonment of or termination of proceedings on the first application or on an application similarly entitled to the benefit of the filing date of the first application and if it contains or is amended to contain a specific reference to the earlier filed application."

The significant features of these amendments to § 120 are the following:

(1) A later filed application by an inventor or inventors of a previously filed co-pending application may claim the benefit of the previously filed co-pending application under § 120 even though the later filed application does not name all of the same inventors as the previously filed application.

(2) In order for the later filed application to be entitled to claim the benefit of the earlier filed co-pending application under § 120 the earlier filed co-pending application must
   (a) have at least one inventor in common with the later filed application;
   (b) disclose the common inventor's invention in the manner provided by the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112, i.e., fully disclose and support at least one of the common inventor's claims found in the later application.

(3) When necessary the Patent and Trademark Office or a court may inquire of the patent applicant or owner as to who invented, and the date of invention of, the subject matter being claimed in any claims in the later filed application.

(4) Double patenting rejections may be applicable, whether or not the applications and patents are commonly owned as long as the applications/ patent(s) have at least one inventor in common.

(5) If the applications and patents are commonly owned, the rejection of the applications on the grounds of double patenting can be overcome by an appropriate terminal disclaimer as long as the identical invention is not being claimed. See In re Robeson, 141 USPQ 485 (CCPA 1964), and In re Kaye, 141 USPQ 829 (CCPA 1964).

(6) If the applications and patents are not commonly owned, the double patenting rejection is entered in the later filed application and cannot be overcome by a terminal disclaimer since the ownership of the subject matter being claimed belongs to someone other than the owner of the later application.

Implementation Steps As To Amended 35 U.S.C. 120

(1) See items (1) to (4) above under "Applications To Be Considered" for applications to be considered under amended § 120.

(2) The examiner will examine any earlier filed co-pending application to which priority is claimed under § 120 to determine if
   (a) the earlier filed co-pending application has at least one inventor in common with the later filed application;
   (b) the other requirements for claiming benefit under § 120 are met; and
   (c) a rejection on the grounds of double patenting is proper.

(3) As long as the formal requirements for claiming benefit under § 120 are met, the examiner will permit the claim to be made without examining the earlier filed co-pending application for disclosure and support of at least one claim of the later filed application under the first paragraph of § 112 unless it becomes necessary to do so, e.g. because of an interference or an intervening reference.

(4) The examiner will not inquire of the patent applicant as to who invented, and the date of invention of, the subject matter being claimed in any claims in the later filed application until it becomes necessary to do so in order to properly examine the application.

(5) The examiner will examine the earlier and later filed applications and make actual or provisional rejections for double patenting where appropriate, whether or not the applications are commonly owned.

Example 1 - Single Application - Plural Inventors

Inventors A and B, both employees of Company E with obligation to assign all their inventions to E develop inventions X and Y respectively. An application for patent is properly filed listing A and B as joint inventors and with claims to both X and Y as now possible under § 116 as amended by Public Law 98-622.

Situation 1.

The claims to X and Y are not patentably distinct.

Examiner's Action:

If otherwise patentable over the prior art—allows application.

Situation 2.

The claims to X and Y are patentably distinct.

Examiner's Action:

Require restriction and election of claims to either X or Y. The applicant, after election, must correct the inventorship of the application to ist only the inventor of the elected invention; for example, inventor A if claims to invention X were elected. A divisional application with B as inventor and claims to Y may claim benefit of the originally filed application under 35 U.S.C. 120 as amended by Public Law 98-622.

Situation 3.

The application contains a Markush-type claim to X and Y and separate species claims to X and Y.

Examiner's Action:

(a) Examine the application to determine if the inventions X and Y are restrictable. If so, the claims to elected invention X (assume X is elected by applicants) and the X portion of the Markush claim to X and Y are examined.
   (i) if the claim to X is allowable, the entire Markush claim and the species claim to Y must also be examined.
   (ii) if the claim to X is not allowable, no further action on species claim Y or the Y portion of the Markush claim is required.

The inventorship of the application at the time of allowance must be corrected, if necessary, to correspond to the inventions covered by the claims allowed.

Example 2 - Multiple applications - plural inventions

Inventors A and B, both employees of Company E, with obligation to assign all their inventions to E, develop inventions X and Y with Y being developed by B after knowledge of A's development of X. A files application on X before B's development of Y and B later files application. Both applications establish they are owned by Company E.

Situation 1.

The claims to X and Y are not patentably distinct.

Examiner's Action:

(a) Examine the applications as to all grounds except § 102(f) and (g) as they apply through § 103;

(b) Make a provisional rejection of the later filed application on the grounds of double patenting of the obviousness type, if appropriate. If a terminal disclaimer is filed in accordance with § 1.321(b), the provisional double patenting rejection of the obviousness type will be overcome;

(c) Examine the later filed application under § 102(e)/103 and make a provisional rejection based on § 102(e)/103, if appropriate. An affidavit under § 1.131 can be filed to overcome the rejection based on § 102(e)/103.

Situation 2.

After receiving the examiner's action in situation 1, A and B filed a continuation-in-part application with inventor C and claim A's invention, B's invention and an improvement they jointly developed with C. A and B abandon their prior applications.

Examiner's Action:

Examine the application in the normal manner; no double patenting and § 102(e)/103 problems now exist.

Example 3 - Two copending applications with no indication in the record of common ownership

Inventor A files an application with claims to invention X. Another copending application is filed by inventor B claiming invention Y. There is no indication of common ownership.

Situation 1.

The claims in the two applications are directed to patentably distinct inventions.

Examiner's Action:

If the claims are otherwise allowable, the applications are both allowed.

Situation 2.

The claims in the two applications are not patentably distinct.

Examiner's Action:

The applications are prosecuted until one application is allowable. If the time difference between the two applications is too large to declare an interference, action on the later filed application is suspended until the earlier filed application issues as a patent. At that time the later filed application is rejected over the earlier filed application under § 102(e)/103.

If the filing dates of the applications are sufficiently close to declare an interference, claims for an interference should be suggested. If the applications are commonly owned, the common owner must make the ownership known. When such common ownership is made known, a provisional double patenting rejection should be made in the later filed application. If the double patenting rejection is of the obviousness type, a terminal disclaimer under 37 CFR 1.321(b) may be filed. The later filed application should be examined under § 102(e)/103 and a provisional rejection based on § 102(e)/103 should be made in the later filed application, if appropriate. An affidavit under § 1.131 can be filed to overcome a rejection based on § 102(e)/103.

Example 4 - Claims in single application by different inventors.

An application for patent is filed in the Patent and Trademark Office in which the owner E sets forth the following information.

"The subject matter of claim 1 was invented by inventor A. The subject matter of claim 2 was invented by inventor B. Inventor B knew of the invention of inventor A at the time he made his invention. Both A and B made their inventions while working for owner E with a duty to assign". The inventions are different but not patentably distinct.

Examiner's Action:

If the claims are patentable over the prior art, the application should be allowed.

Public Law 98—622
Signed November 8, 1984

Ninety-eighth Congress of the United States of America

AT THE SECOND SESSION

Begun and held at the City of Washington on Monday, the twenty-third dayof January, one thousand nine hundred and eighty-four

An Act

To amend title 35, United States Code, to increase the effectiveness ofthe patent laws, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SHORT TITLE

SECTION 1. This Act may be cited as the "Patent Law Amendments Act of 1984".

TITLE I—PATENT IMPROVEMENT PROVISIONS

USE OF PATENTED INVENTIONS OUTSIDE

THE UNITED STATES

SEC. 101.(a) Section 271 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new subsection:

"(f)(1) Whoever without authority supplies or causes to be supplied in or from the United States all or a substantial portion of the components of a patented invention, where such components are uncombined in whole or in part, in such manner as to actively induce the combination of such components outside of the United States in a manner that would infringe the patent if such combination occurred within the United States, shall be liable as an infringer.

"(2) Whoever without authority supplies or causes to be supplied in or from the United States any component of a patented invention that is especially made or especially adapted for use in the invention and not a staple article or commodity of commerce suitable for substantial noninfringing use, where such component is uncombined in whole or in part, knowing that such component is so made or adapted and intending that such component will be combined outside of the United States in a manner that would infringe the patent if such combination occurred within the United States, shall be liable as an infringer."

STATUTORY INVENTION REGISTRATION

SEC. 102.(a) Chapter 14 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new section:

§ 157. Statutory invention registration

"(a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this title, the Commissioner is authorized to publish a statutory invention registration containing the specification and drawings of a regularly filed application for a patent without examination if the applicant:

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

"(1) meets the requirements of section 112 of this title;
"(2) has complied with the requirements for printing, as set forth in regulations of the Commissioner;
"(3) waives the right to receive a patent on the invention within such period as may be prescribed by the Commissioner; and
"(4) pays application, publication, and other processing fees established by the Commissioner.
If an interference is declared with respect to such an application, a statutory invention registration may not be published unless the issue of priority of invention is finally determined in favor of the applicant.

"(b) The waiver under subsection (a)(3) of this section by an applicant shall take effect upon publication of the statutory invention registration.

"(c) A statutory invention registration published pursuant to this section shall have all of the attributes specified for patents in this title except those specified in section 183 and sections 271 through 289 of this title. A statutory invention registration shall not have any of the attributes specified for patents in any other provision of law other than this title. A statutory invention registration published pursuant to this section shall give appropriate notice to the public, pursuant to regulations which the Commissioner shall issue, of the preceding provisions of this subsection. The invention with respect to which a statutory invention certificate is published is not a patented invention for purposes of section 292 of this title.

"(d) The Secretary of Commerce shall report to the Congress annually on the use of statutory invention registrations. Such report shall include an assessment of the degree to which agencies of the Federal Government are making use of the statutory invention registration system, the degree to which it aids the management of federally developed technology, and an assessment of the cost savings to the Federal Government of the use of such procedures.".

(b) The table of sections at the beginning of chapter 14 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"157. Statutory invention registration.".

(c) The amendments made by this section shall take effect six months after the date of the enactment of this Act.

PRIOR ART

SEC. 103. Section 103 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"Subject matter developed by another person, which qualifies as prior art only under subsection (f)or (g) of section 102 of this title, shall not preclude patentability under this section where the subject matter and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person."

JOINT INVENTORS

SEC. 104. (a) Section 116 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by amending the first paragraph to read as follows:

"When an invention is made by two or more persons jointly, they shall apply for patent jointly and each make the required oath, except as otherwise provided in this title. Inventors may apply for a patent jointly even though (1) they did not physically work together or at the same time, (2) each did not make the same type or amount of contribution, or (3) each did not make a contribution to the subject matter of every claim of the patent.".

(b) Section 120 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out "by the same inventor" and inserting in lieu thereof "which is filed by an inventor or inventors named in the previously filed application".

ARBITRATION OF INTERFERENCES

SEC. 105. Section 135 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new subsection:

"(d) Parties to a patent interference, within such time as may be specified by the Commissioner by regulation, may determine such contest or any aspect thereof by arbitration. Such arbitration shall be governed by the provisions of title 9 to the extent such title is not inconsistent with this section. The parties shall give notice of any arbitration award to the Commissioner, and such award shall, as between the parties to the arbitration, be dispositive of the issues to which it relates. The arbitration award shall be unenforceable until such notice is given. Nothing in this subsection shall preclude the Commissioner from determining patentability of the invention involved in the interference.".

EFFECTIVE DATE

SEC. 106. (a) Subject to subsections (b), (c), (d), and (e) of this section, the amendments made by this Act shall apply to all United States patents granted before, on, or after the date of enactment of this Act, and to all applications for United States patents pending on or filed after the date of enactment.

(b) The amendments made by this Act shall not affect any final decision made by the court or the Patent and Trademark Office before the date of enactment of this Act with respect to a patent or application for patent, if no appeal from such decision is pending and the time for filing an appeal has expired.

(c) Section 271(f) of title 35, United States Code, added by section 101 of this Act shall apply only to the supplying, or causing to be supplied, of any component or components of a patented invention after the date of enactment of this Act.

(d) No United States patent granted before the date of enactment of this Act shall abridge or affect the right of any person or his successors in business who made, purchased, or used prior to such effective date anything protected by the patent, to continue the use of, or to sell to others to be used or sold, the specific thing so made, purchased, or used, if the patent claims were invalid or otherwise unenforceable on a ground obviated by section 103 or 104 of this Act and the person made, purchased, or used the specific thing in reasonable reliance on such invalidity or unenforceability. If a person reasonably relied on such invalidity or unenforceability, the court before which such matter is in question may provide for the continued manufacture, use, or sale of the thing made, purchased, or used as specified, or for the manufacture, use, or sale of which substantial preparation was made before the date of enactment of this Act, and it may also provide for the continued practice of any process practiced, or for the practice of which substantial preparation was made, prior to the date of enactment, to the extent and under such terms as the court deems equitable for the protection of investments made or business commenced before the date of enactment.

(e) The amendments made by this Act shall not affect the right of any party in any case pending in court on the date of enactment to have their rights determined on the basis of the substantive law in effect prior to the date of enactment.

TITLE II—PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE PROCEDURES

BOARD OF PATENT APPEALS AND INTERFERENCES

SEC. 201. (a) Section 7 of title 35, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"§ 7. Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences

"(a) The examiners-in-chief shall be persons of competent legal knowledge and scientific ability, who shall be appointed to the competitive service. The Commissioner, the Deputy Commissioner, the Assistant Commissioners, and the examiners-in-chief shall constitute the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

"(b) The Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences shall, on written appeal of an applicant, review adverse decisions of examiners upon applications for patents and shall determine priority and patentability of invention in interferences declared under section 135(a) of this title. Each appeal and interference shall be heard by at least three members of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, who shall be designated by the Commissioner. Only the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences has the authority to grant hearings.

"(c) Whenever the Commissioner considers it necessary, in order to keep current the work of the Board of Patent Apeals and Interferences, the Commissioner may designate any patent examiner of the primary examiner grade or higher, having the requisite ability, to serve as examiner-in-chief for periods not exceeding six months each. An examiner so designated shall be qualified to act as a member of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. Not more than one of the members of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences hearing an appeal or determining an interference may be an examiner so designated. The Secretary of Commerce is authorized to fix the pay of each designated examiner-in-chief in the Patent and Trademark Office at not to exceed the maximum rate of basic pay payable for grade GS 16 of the General Schedule under section 5332 of title 5. The rate of basic pay of each individual designated examiner-in-chief shall be adjusted, at the close of the period for which that individual was designated to act as examiner-in-chief, to the rate of basic pay which that individual would have been receiving at the close of such period if such designation had not been made."

(b) The item relating to section 7 in the table of sections at the beginning of chapter 1 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out "Appeals" and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent Appeals and Interferences".

INTERFERENCES

SEC. 202. Section 135(a) of title 35, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"(a) Whenever an application is made for a patent which, in the opinion of the Commissioner, would interfere with any pending application, or with any unexpired patent, an interference may be declared and the Commissioner shall give notice of such declaration to the applicants, or applicant and patentee, as the case may be. The Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences shall determine questions of priority of the inventions and may determine questions of patentability. Any final decision, if adverse to the claim of an applicant, shall constitute the final refusal by the Patent and Trademark Office of the claims involved, and the Commissioner may issue a patent to the applicant who is adjudged the prior inventor. A final judgment adverse to a patentee from which no appeal or other review has been or can be taken or had shall constitute cancellation of the claims involved in the patent, and notice of such cancellation shall be endorsed on copies of the patent distributed after such cancellation by the Patent and Trademark Office.".

APPEALS AND CIVIL ACTIONS

SEC. 203. (a) Section 141 of title 35, United States Code, is amended—
(1) in the first sentence—
(A) by striking out "of the Board of Patent Appeals may appeal" and inserting in lieu thereof "in an appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences under section 134 of this title may appeal the decision"; and
(B) by striking out ", thereby waiving his right" and inserting in lieu thereof ". By filing such an appeal the applicant waives his or her right";
(2) in the second sentence—
(A) by striking out "board of patent interferences on the question of priority may appeal" and inserting in lieu thereof "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences on the interference may appeal the decision";
(B) by striking out "according to" and inserting in lieu thereof "in accordance with"; and
(C) by striking out "he" and inserting in lieu thereof "the party"; and
(3) by amending the last sentence to read as follows: "If the appellant does not, within thirty days after the filing of such notice by the adverse party, file a civil action under section 146, the decision appealed from shall govern the further proceedings in the case."

(b) Section 145 of title 35, United States Code, is amended—
(1) in the first sentence by striking out "Appeals may" and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent Appeals and Interferences in an appeal under section 134 of this title may,"and
(2) in the second sentence by striking out "Appeals" and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent Appeals and Interferences".

(c) Section 146 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out "board of patent intereferences on the question of priority" and inserting in lieu thereof "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences on the interference".

TECHNICAL AND CONFORMING AMENDMENTS

SEC. 204. (a) Section 41(a)(6) of title 35, United States Code, is amended—
(1) by striking out "Appeals" each place it appears and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent Appeals and Interferences"; and
(2) by inserting "in the appeal" after oral hearing".

(b)(1) Section 134 of title 35, United States Code, is amended—
(A) in the section caption by striking out "APPEALS" and inserting in lieu thereof "PATENT APPEALS AND INTERFERENCES"; and
(B) by striking out "Appeals" and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent Appeals and Interferences".
(2) The item relating to section 134 in the table of sections at the beginning of chapter 12 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out "Appeals" and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent Appeals and Interferences".
(c) Section 305 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out "Appeals" and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent Appeals and Interferences".

AMENDMENTS TO OTHER PROVISIONS OF LAW

SEC. 205. (a) Section 1295(a)(4)(A) of title 28, United States code, is amended by striking out "Appeals or the Board of Patent" and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent Appeals and".

(b) Section 152 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U.S.C. 2182) is amended in the third paragraph—
(1) by striking out "Board of Patent Interferences" and inserting in lieu thereof "the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences";
(2) by striking out "the Board of Patent Interferences" and inserting in lieu thereof "the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences".

(c)(1) Section 305(d) of the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958 (42 U.S.C. 2457(d)) is amended—
(A) by striking out "a Board of Patent Interferences" and inserting in lieu thereof "the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences"; and
(B) by striking out "the Board of Patent Interferences" and inserting in lieu thereof "the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences".
(2) Section 305(e) of the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958 (42 U.S.C. 2457(e)) is amended by striking out "a Board of Patent Interferences" and inserting in lieu thereof "the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences".

SAVINGS PROVISION

SEC. 206. Any individual who, on the effective date of this title, is an examiner-in-chief of the Board of Patent Appeals of the Patent and Trademark Office or an examiner of interferences of the Board of Patent Interferences of such office shall be entitled to continue in office as a member of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences of the Patent and Trademark Office as of such effective date.

EFFECTIVE DATE

SEC. 207. Section 206 of this Act and the amendments made by this title shall take effect three months after the date of the enactment of this Act.

TITLE III— NATIONAL COMMISSION ON INNOVATION AND PRODUCTIVITY ESTABLISHMENT

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

SEC. 301. There is hereby established a National Commission on Innovation and Productivity (hereinafter in this title referred to as the "Commission").

MEMBERSHIP OF COMMISSION

SEC. 302. (a) The Commission shall be composed of —

(1) three Members of the Senate appointed by the President of the Senate;

(2) three Members of the House of Representatives apointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives; and

(3) three members appointed by the President of the United States, one of whom the President shall designate as Chairman.

Of the members appointed by the President, one member should be an appropriate officer or employee of the United States, one member should be an employer who employs inventors, and one member should be an employed inventor.

(b) At no time shall more than two of the members appointed under paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of subsection (a) be persons who are members of the same political party.

(c) Any vacancy in the Commission shall not affect its powers but shall be filled in the same manner in which the original appointment was made, and subject to the limimtation set forth in subsection (b) with respect to the original appointment.

(d) Six members of the Commission shall constitute a quorum, but a lesser number may conduct hearings.

DUTIES OF THE COMMISSION

SEC. 303. The Commission shall make a full and complete review and study of the level of innovation and producitivity of employed inventors. Such study shall include an analysis of the various methods available to inspire or stimulate individual and corporate innovation and productivity, including an assessment of the techniques used in other countries to achieve this objective. Such study may include an assessment of those aspects of other areas of intellectual property law that inspire or stimulate such innovation and productivity. The Commission shall make recomendations for such revisions of the laws of the United States, including the repeal of unnecessary or undesirable statutes, and such other changes as the Commission considers will better foster innovation and productivity.

COMPENSATION OF MEMBERS OF THE COMMISSION

SEC. 304. (a) A member of the Commission who is a Member of Congress or a full-time officer or employee of the United States shall receive no additional compensation by reason of his or her service on the Commission.

(b) Subject to amounts provided in advance in appropriations Acts, a member of the Commission from private life shall receive the daily equivalent of the annual rate of basic pay payable for level III of the Executive Schedule for each day (including traveltime) during which such member is engaged in the actual performance of duties vested in the Commission, plus reimbursement for travel, subsistence, and other necessary expenses incurred in the performance of such duties, in accordance with subchapter I of chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code.

DIRECTOR AND STAFF

SEC. 305. (a) The Commission shall have a Director who shall be appointed by the Commission and who shall be paid at a rate not to exceed the rate of basic pay payable for level IV of the Executive Schedule. The Director, subject to the direction of the Commission, shall supervise the activities of persons emloyed by the Commission and the preparation of the reports of the Commission and shall perform such other duties as may be assigned to the Director by the Commission.

(b) The Commission may appoint and fix the pay of such additional personnel as it considers appropriate.

(c) The staff of the Commission may be appointed without regard to the provisions of title 5, United States Code, governing appointments in the competitive service, and may be paid without regard to the provisions of chapter 51 and subchapter III of chapter 53 of such title relating to classification and General Schedule pay rates, except that no individual so appointed may receive pay in excess of the maximum annual rate of basic pay payable for GS— 16 of the General Schedule.

(d) The Chairman of the Commission may procure temporary and intermittent services under section 3109(b) of title 5, United States Code.

GOVERNMENT AGENCY COOPERATION

SEC. 306. The Commission is authorized to request from any department, agency, or independent instrumentality of the Government any information and assistance it considers necessary to carry out its functions under this title. Each such department, agency, and instrumentality is authorized to cooperate with the Commission and, to the extent permitted by law, to furnish such information and assistance to the Commission.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION; TERMINATION

SEC. 307. The Commission shall submit interim reports on its activities to the President and the Congress at such times as the Commission considers appropriate, except that at least one such report shall be so submitted within one year after the date of the enactment of this Act. The Commission shall submit its final report on its activities to the President and the Congress within two years after such date of enactment. The Commission shall cease to exist sixty days after the date of the submission of its final report.

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

SEC. 308. The General Services Administration shall provide administrative services for the Commission on a reimbursable basis.

AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS

SEC. 309. There is authorized to be appropriated $250,000 to carry out this title.

EFFECTIVE DATE

SEC. 310. This title shall take effect on January 21, 1985.

TITLE IV— MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

INTERNATIONAL STAGE

SEC. 401. (a) Section 361(d) of title 35, United States Code, is amended in the first sentence by inserting "or within one month after the date of such filing" after "application".

(b) Section 366 of title 35, United States Code, is amended—

(1) in the first sentence—

(A) by inserting "after the date of withdrawal," after "effect"; and

(B) by inserting before the period the following: ", unless a claim for the benefit of a prior filing date under section 365(c) of this part was made in a national application, or an international application designating the United States, filed before the date of such withdrawal"; and

(2) in the second sentence by inserting "withdrawn" after "such".

NATIONAL STAGE

SEC. 402. (a) Section 371(a) of title 35, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by striking out "is" and inserting in lieu thereof "may be"; and

(2) by striking out", except those filed in the Patent Office".

(b) Section 371(b) of title 35, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"(b) Subject to subsection (f) of this section, the national stage shall commence with the expiration of the applicable time limit under article 22(1) or (2) of the treaty."

(c) Section 371(c)(2) of title 35, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by striking out "received from" and inserting in lieu thereof "communicated by"; and

(2) by striking out "verified" before "translation".

(d) Section 371(d) of title 35, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"(d) The requirements with respect to the national fee referred to in subsection (c)(1), the translation referred to in subsection (c)(2), and the oath or declaration referred to in subsection (c)(4) of this section shall be complied with by the date of the commencement of the national stage or by such later time as may be fixed by the Commissioner. The copy of the international application referred to in subsection (c)(2) shall be submitted by the date of the commencement of the national stage. Failure to comply with these requirements shall be regarded as abandonment of the application by the parties thereof, unless it be shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that such failure to comply was unavoidable. The payment of a surcharge may be required as a condition of accepting the national fee referred to in subsection (c)(1) or the oath or declaration referred to in subsection (c)(4) of this section if these requirements are not met by the date of the commencement of the national stage. The requirements of subsection (c)(3) of this section shall be complied with by the date of the commencement of the national stage, and failure to do so shall be regarded as a cancellation of the amendments to the claims in the international application made under article 19 of the treaty.".

(e) Section 372(b) of title 35, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by striking out the period at the end of paragraph (2) and inserting in lieu thereof "; and"; and

(2) by adding at the end thereof the following:

"(3) the Commissioner may require a verification of the translation of the international application or any other document pertaining to the application if the application or other document was filed in a language other than English.".

(f) Section 372 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out subsection (c).

(g) Section 376(a) of title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out paragraph (5) and redesignating paragraph (6) as paragraph (5).

TECHNICAL AMENDMENTS

SEC. 403. (a) Title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out "Patent Office" each place it appears and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent and Trademark Office".

(b) The table of parts at the beginning of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"IV. Patent Cooperation Treaty ..... 351"

PATENT FEES

SEC. 404. (a) Notwithstanding section 41 of title 35, United States Code, as in effect before the enactment of Public Law 97 247 (96 Stat. 317), no fee shall be collected for maintaining a plant patent in force.

(b) Notwithstanding section 41(c) of title 35, United States Code, as in effect before the enactment of Public Law 97-247 (96 Stat. 317), the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks may accept, after the six-month grace period referred to in such section 41(c), the payment of any maintenance fee due on any patent based on an application filed in the Patent and Trademark Office on or after December 12, 1980, and before August 27, 1982, to the same extent as in the case of patents based on applications filed in the Patent and Trademark Office on or after August 27, 1982.

TRADEMARK TRIAL AND APPEAL BOARD

SEC. 405. Section 3 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"(e) The members of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board of the Patent and Trademark Office shall each be paid at a rate not to exceed the maximum rate of basic pay payable for GS-16 of the General Schedule under section 5332 of title 5."

EFFECTIVE DATE

SEC. 406. (a) Section 404 of this Act and the amendments made by section 403 of this Act shall take effect on the date of the enactment of this Act.

(b) The amendments made by sections 401, 402, and of this Act shall take effect six months after the date of the enactment of this Act.

Final Rules for Miscellaneous Patent Provisions

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Notice of final rulemaking
Summary : The Patent and Trademark Office is amending the rules of practice in patent cases, Part I of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, to provide rules and procedures for the miscellaneous patent provisions enacted into law by Public Laws 98-620 and 98-622, on Nov. 8, 1984, in which statutory invention registrations, changes in appeals to the courts, prior art and joint inventor provisions and PCT international application filing and processing procedures were established or amended. The rulemaking provides specific rules and procedures for the new and amended provisions.
Effective Date : May 8, 1985
For Further Information Contact : R. Franklin Burnett by telephone at (703) 557-3054 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information : This rule change is designed primarily to establish a set of rules and procedures for the various requirements of Public Laws 98-620 and 98-622 concerning appeals to the courts, statutory invention registrations, rejections based on prior art and double patenting, and filing of international applications under the Patent Cooperation Treaty. The proposed rules were published on Jan. 25, 1985 in Volume 50 of the Federal Register, pages 3712 through 3725. A public hearing was held on the proposed rule changes on Feb. 8, 1985.
Background Information :
Most of the rule changes contained herein are necessary as a result of Public Laws 98-620 or 98-622, both of which were signed by President Reagan on Nov. 8, 1984. The following is a summary of the purposes of the various statutory amendments.

Amended 35 U.S.C. 103 - Unpublished knowledge of prior art.

Public Law 98-622 changes a complex body of case law which discourages communication among members of research teams working in corporations, universities or other organizations. It amended 35 U.S.C. section 103 by adding a new sentence which provides that subject matter developed by another which qualifies as "prior art" only under subsections 102(f) or (g) of 35 U.S.C. is not to be considered when determining whether an invention sought to be patented is obvious under 35 U.S.C. 103, provided the subject matter and the claimed invention were commonly owned at the time the invention was made.

"Prior art" is the existing body of technical information against which the patentability of an invention is judged. Publicly known information is always considered in determining whether an invention would have been obvious. However, under In re Bass, 474 F. 2d 1276, 177 USPQ 178 (CCPA 1973), and In re Clemens, 622 F.2d 1029, 206 USPQ 289 (CCPA 1980), an earlier invention which is not public could have been treated under 35 U.S.C. 102(g), and possibly under 102(f), as prior art with respect to a later invention made by another employee of the same organization.

New technology often is developed by using background scientific or technical information known within an organization but unknown to the public. Public Law 98 622, by disqualifying such background information from prior art, encourages communication among members of research teams, and leads to more public dissemination through patents of the results of team research.

The subject matter that is disqualified as prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103 is strictly limited to subject matter that qualifies as prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or 102(g). If the subject matter qualifies as prior art under any other subsection—e.g., subsection 102(a), 102(b) or 102(e)—it will not be disqualified as prior art under the amendment to section 103.

The contents of a patent of the same or different ownership as an application, continues to be available as prior art against the application under section 103 by virtue of section 102(e) as of the application filing date of the patent. If subject matter becomes potential prior art under section 102 (e) because a patent application is filed on such subject matter before a commonly owned claimed invention is made the subject matter of a later application the two applications may be combined (under amended §§ 116 and 120) into a single application and such subject matter (with the abandonment of the two applications) would no longer constitute potential prior art under section 102(e) or under section 103 since it would not be "described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another."

It is important to recognize that the amendment to the law applies only to consideration of prior art for purposes of section 103. It does not apply to or affect subject matter which qualifies as prior art under section 102. A patent applicant urging that subject matter is disqualified has the burden of establishing that it was commonly owned at the time the claimed invention was made.

Public Law 98-622 was not intended to permit anyone other than the inventors to be named in a patent application or patent. Also, the amendment was not intended to enable appropriation of the invention of another.

The Patent and Trademark Office has withdrawn the Commissioner's Notice of Jan. 9, 1967, "Double Patenting", 834 O.G. 1615 (Jan. 31, 1967), to the extent that it does not authorize a double patenting rejection where different inventive entities are present. See the Commissioner's Notice of Dec. 11, 1984, "Initial Guidelines Implementing Changes in 35 U.S.C. 103 116, and 120", 1050 O.G. 316 (Jan. 8, 1985). The Office is reinstituting, in appropriate circumstances, the practice of rejecting claims in commonly owned applications of different inventive entities on the ground of double patenting. See 130 Cong. Rec. H 10527, column 3 (daily ed. Oct. 1, 1984) (statement of Rep. Kastenmeier); In re Rogers, 394 F.2d 566, 567 n. 4, 157 USPQ 569, 570 n. 4 (CCPA 1964). This is in accordance with existing case law and prevents an organization from obtaining two or more patents with different expiration dates covering nearly identical subject matter. See In re Zickendraht, 319 F.2d 225, 138 USPQ 22 (CCPA 1963) ("The doctrine is well established that claims in different applications need be more than merely different in form or content; and that patentable distinction must exist to entitle applicants to a second patent") and In re Christensen, 330 F.2d 652, 141 USPQ 295 (CCPA 1964) (". . . the correct procedure for double patenting cases is to analyze the claims to determine the inventions defined therein, and then decide whether such inventions, as claimed are patentably distinct and therefore qualified to be claimed in separate patents"). In accordance with established patent law doctrines, double patenting rejections can be overcome in certain circumstances by disclaiming, pursuant to the existing provisions of 37 CFR 1.321, the terminal portion of the term of the later patent and including in the disclaimer a provision that the patent shall be enforceable only for and during the period the patent is commonly owned with the application or patent which formed the basis for the rejection, thereby eliminating the problem of extending patent life.

Information learned from or transmitted to persons outside the organization is not disqualified as prior art.

The term "subject matter" will be construed broadly, in the same manner the term is construed in the remainder of § 103. The term "another" as used in § 103 means any inventive entity other than the inventor and would include the inventor and any other persons. The term "developed" is to be read broadly and is not limited by the manner in which the development occurred. The term "commonly owned" means wholly owned by the same person, persons, or organization at the time the invention was made.

Amended 35 U.S.C. 116 - Joint inventor filing

35 U.S.C. 116 as amended by Public Law 98-622 recognizes the realities of modern team research. A research project may include many inventions. Some inventions may have contributions made by individuals who are not involved in other, related inventions.

Amended 35 U.S.C. 116 allows inventors to apply for a patent jointly even though (i) they did not physically work together or at the same time, (ii) each did not make the same type or amount of contribution, or (iii) each did not make a contribution to the subject matter of every claim of the patent. Items (i) and (ii) adopt the rationale stated in decisions such as Monsanto v. Kamp, 269 F. Supp. 818, 154 USPQ 259 (D.D.C. 1967). Item (iii) adopts the rationale of cases such as SAB Industries AB v. Bendix Corp., 199 USPQ 95 (E.D. Va. 1978).

Like other patent applications, jointly-filed applications are subject to the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 121 that an application be directed to only a single invention. If more than one invention is included in the application, the Patent and Trademark Office may require the application to be restricted to one of the inventions. In such a case, a "divisional" application complying with 35 U.S.C. 120 would be entitled to the benefit of the earlier filing date of the original application.

It is possible that different claims of an application or patent may have different dates of invention even though the patent covers only one independent and distinct invention within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 121. When necessary, the Patent and Trademark Office or a court may inquire of the patent application or owner concerning the inventors and the invention dates for the subject matter of the various claims.

Amended 35 U.S.C. 120 - Benefit of prior U.S. application

35 U.S.C. 120 was amended by Public Law 98-622 to provide that an application can obtain the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application when not all inventors named in the joint application are the same as those named in the earlier application. This amendment permits greater latitude in filing "divisional" applications. For example, if the previously filed application named inventors A and B as the inventors, a later application by either A or B could be filed during the pendency of the previously filed application and claim benefit of the previously filed application. In order for a claim to be entitled to the benefit of an earlier pending application, the subject matter of the claim of the later application would have to be disclosed in the earlier application.

Similarly, if inventor A filed an application on an invention and during the pendency of that application made an improvement on the subject matter of the application as a joint inventor with inventor B, the joint application filed on behalf of inventors A and B could claim the benefit of A's previously filed sole application to the extent that the later filed joint application contained claims directed solely to A's subject matter which was disclosed in the earlier filed pending application in the manner provided by the first paragraph of section 112 of title 35, U.S.C.

Likewise, an application filed by inventors A and C could claim the benefit of an earlier filed pending application of inventors A and B, to the extent that the requirements of section 120 could be met.

Like other patent applications, jointly-filed applications will continue to be subject to the requirement of 35 U.S.C. 121 that an application be directed to only a single invention. If more than one invention is included in the application, the Patent and Trademark Office may require the application to be restricted to one of the inventions. In such a case, a "divisional" application would be entitled to the benefit of the earlier filing date of the original application.

New 35 U.S.C. 157 - Statutory Invention Registration (SIR)

This section which is effective on May 8, 1985, establishes an optional procedure by which an inventor may secure protection which is strictly defensive in nature.

Under current law, there is no simple, practical method by which an inventor can protect his or her ability to exploit the invention without obtaining a patent. The new procedure confers on an inventor the same defensive rights that a patent provides to prevent others from patenting the invention. However, it does not permit the holder to exclude others from making, using or selling the invention.

Due to the fact that a SIR does not grant an exclusive right to an inventor, it is not necessary to subject a SIR to the lengthy examination process required for the granting of a patent. Such an examination is necessary if the SIR is subject to an interference proceeding to determine priority of invention. In all other instances, the Patent and Trademark Office will only review the application for adherence to formal printing and fee payment requirements and to ensure that the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112 are satisfied.

An applicant desiring to have a SIR published will be required to file a regular complete application for a patent and to execute a request including a waiver of enforcement of patent rights. This waiver of the claimed invention will be effective at the time of publication. The original application can be abandoned in favor of a continuing application for a patent, claiming the filing date of the earlier filed application, by filing an express abandonment of the original application and a timely request or petition to withdraw the request for a SIR prior to publication of the SIR, thereby providing the applicant with flexibility during the pendency period of the application. Until the SIR is published the application remains an application for a patent. However, the holder of a SIR will not be able to file a reissue application to recapture the rights to exclusive use that were waived by the initial publication of the SIR.

The waiver of the right to receive a patent, required of all applicants electing to receive a SIR, applies to those remedies provided for the enforcement of a patent under section 183 and sections 271 through 289 of title 35, United States Code. The waiver also applies to remedies under other titles of the United States Code including sections 1337 and 1337a of title 19, section 2356 of title 22, and section 1498 of title 28. This waiver of enforcement applies only to the claimed subject matter of the SIR and not to any foreign patent arising from an application which might have served as the basis of a priority claim under the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property. Likewise, the waiver does not prevent the holder of a SIR from asserting any defenses provided in sections 271 through 289 of title 35, U.S.C. with respect to a charge of infringement of any other patent.

The Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks can refuse to accept the waiver in certain cases. For example, the waiver could not be accepted if the waiver is not a waiver of all the previously mentioned rights. The Commissioner also has discretion, which has not been exercised at this time, to set time limits on the waiver. This would allow the Commissioner to limit the ability of an inventor to keep inventions secret through a series of continuing patent applications followed by a conversion to a SIR.

The waiver of patent rights in the SIR to the subject matter claimed therein may affect the patentability of a claim in other related applications, particularly divisional applications, since the waiver of patent rights would be effective for all inventions claimed in the SIR and would be effective as a waiver of the right of the inventor to obtain a patent on the invention claimed in the same application or any other application, but not in any patent issued before the date the SIR is published. Where an application containing generic claims is published as a SIR, the waiver in that application applies to any other related applications, including divisions, continuations, and continuations-in-part, to the extent that the same invention claimed in the SIR is also claimed in the other related application.

The Patent and Trademark Office will apply standards similar to those which it applies in making determinations of "same invention" double patenting for purposes of determining whether or not a waiver by an inventor to claims in a SIR precludes patenting by the same inventor to subject matter in any other related application.

Therefore, the waiver would preclude patenting of an invention claimed by an inventor in a related application which is the same as the invention claimed by the same inventor in the SIR. When making this determination it is the claimed subject matter of the related application. Where the subject matter claimed in the related application is the same as the subject matter waived in the SIR, i.e., the "same invention" in the double patenting sense, the claims of the related application will be rejected as being precluded by the waiver in the SIR and cannot be overcome by a terminal disclaimer. The limitation of the scope of the waiver to the claimed invention would not affect the application of existing § 1.658(c) should the SIR become involved in an interference. If a divisional application is filed and published as a SIR claiming only a method, publication thereof will not normally effect a waiver on an application for a patent claiming only an apparatus. The waiver in a SIR would not affect any rights in a patent which issued prior to the date of publication of the SIR, but would preclude an already issued patent from being broadened by reissue if the rights to the subject matter to which broadened claims relate have been waived by publication of the SIR. The waiver applies to any rights of the same inventor in any application pending when the SIR is published even if the inventor is a joint applicant in the pending application and was a sole applicant in the application published as a SIR. The waiver would not affect the rights of any other inventor even though those rights are commonly owned by the same person.

The holder of a SIR containing the required waiver will be left without the offensive rights associated with a patent. In other respects a SIR will be the same as a patent, including the application which is published as a SIR serving as the basis for a priority claim in a foreign application under the Paris Convention. A SIR will be treated the same as a U.S. patent for all defensive purposes. The application, and the SIR published therefrom, could become involved in an interference; the SIR would be a "constructive reduction to practice" under 35 U.S.C. 102(g); it will be "prior art" under all applicable sections of 35 U.S.C. 102 including section 102(e); and it will be classified, cross-referenced and placed in the search files, disseminated to foreign patent offices, stored in the Patent and Trademark Office computer tapes, made available in commercial data bases, and announced in the Official Gazette of the Patent and Trademark Office. A published SIR is intended to be a fully viable publication for defensive purposes, usable as a reference as of its filing date in the same manner as a patent. A SIR will also serve as a basis to initiate or participate in an interference or priority proceeding under 35 U.S.C. 291 in a manner similar to a patent and can be used as a reference in defense of an infringement suit.

A SIR is based on a regularly filed application for a patent. Therefore, the filing date of the application will be a sufficient basis for a priority claim in a foreign application. Article 4, section A(3) of the Paris Convention states:

> "By a regular national filing is meant any filing that is adequate to establish the date on which the application was filed in the country concerned, whatever may be the subsequent fate of the application."

After a SIR is published, markings such as "patent pending" are improper under section 292 of title 35 of the United States Code.

The SIR will serve as a replacement for the current "defensive publication program" which was established by regulation under 37 CFR 1.139. Although publication under the "defensive publication program" was intended to provide rights similar to those of the SIR, publication under that program has been held not to be available as evidence of prior knowledge as of its filing date under section 102(a) of title 35, U.S.C. (Ex parte Osmond, 191 USPQ 334 (P.T.O. Bd. App. 1976)). The use of a "defensive publication" as a reference to prevent a patent from issuing on a subsequent application is therefore limited. A SIR, on the other hand, will have a clear statutory basis in title 35, U.S.C. The SIR will be "prior art" and a "constructive reduction to practice" under section 102(a) and section 102(g), respectively, as of the filing date of the application on which it is based.

A SIR will not be subject to reexamination under sections 302 to 307 of title 35, United States Code.

The Commissioner is authorized to issue SIRs for defensive purposes, but is not required to do so. The Commissioner has discretion in determining whether or not a SIR should be issued on a particular application. In circumstances where the subject matter is obviously not an invention, is too informal to print, and so forth, the Commissioner has the right to refuse to publish the SIR.

SIRs will be published sooner than patents because no substantive examination will normally be required for SIRs. To the extent that examination is required, it will be conducted in the same manner as in any other patent application. Maintenance fees will not be charged for SIRs.

Since the fees set by the Commissioner for the new SIR procedure under section 157 of title 35, U.S.C. are not established under section 41(a) or (b) of that title, they are not subject to reduction if the applicant has small entity status.

If the fee for requesting publication is not paid at the time of filing of the waiver of the right to receive a patent, the Commissioner may set a period within which the fee must be paid to prevent abandonment of the application. Such a period would be subject to petitions and fees for extensions of time. If abandonment should occur, the application may be revived.

In the final analysis, the SIR procedures set forth in the law should give inventors defensive protection more cheaply than they could get by obtaining a patent. The procedure will allow the government and the private sector to make inventions public knowledge. Last, the SIR would be particularly useful to those with limited resources such as universities and small businesses, who have a new, less expensive alternative to the traditional patenting of inventions.

Amended 35 U.S.C. 361, 366, 371, 372 and 376 - Miscellaneous provisions relating to the applications under the Patent Cooperation Treaty.

Section 361(d) of title 35, United States Code, was amended effective May 8, 1985, to provide a one-month grace period from the date of filing an international application for payment of the basic international fee and the transmittal and search fees.

Section 366 of title 35, United States Code, was amended, effective May 8, 1985, to clarify the effect of withdrawal of an international application on claims for the benefit of its filing date. The withdrawal of an international application designating the United States will not deprive an applicant of the right to claim the benefit of the filing date of such an international application in a later filed application, provided the claim for benefit is made before that international application is withdrawn. Stated otherwise, this clarifies that withdrawing the designation of the United States in an international application is comparable to abandoning a national application as far as a claim for an earlier filing date is concerned.

National Stage

As a general proposition, the amendments made to 35 U.S.C. 371 set forth a legislative scheme, effective May 8, 1985, to provide greater flexibility in the Patent and Trademark Office for the handling of international applications. In addition, by relaxing the requirements which international applicants must satisfy by the commencement of the national stage, the amendments give international applicants benefits similar to those given national applications by section 111, 35 U.S.C. as amended by Public Law 97-247 with respect to the time for filing the national fee and oath or declaration.

Section 372(b) of title 35, United States Code, is amended, effective May 8, 1985, to authorize the Commissioner to require a verification of the translation of an international application or any other document pertaining thereto if the application or other document was filed in a language other than English. An authorization for the Commissioner to require verification in appropriate cases is necessary since subsection (c)(2) of section 371 was amended to remove the requirement that the translation be verified in all cases.

Section 372(c) of title 35, United States Code, was deleted thereby discontinuing the requirement for payment of a special fee to maintain claims in an international application which were not searched by an international searching authority. This deletion was made to place international applications processed in the national stage on the same footing as purely national applications.

Section 376(a) of title 35, United States Code, was also amended by Public Law 98-622 to delete mention of the special fee in order to conform with the amendment of section 372(c).

Discussion of Specific Rules

Section 1.11 is amended as proposed to add a reference to published statutory invention registrations in paragraph (a) to indicate that they are available to the public. The portion of present § 1.11(a) which deals with interferences is transferred to a new paragraph (e) and rewritten.

The amendment to paragraph (b) deletes reference to § 1.139, which is being deleted in favor of the SIR, and inserts language which covers opening to the public defensive publications published under § 1.139 as well as other applications laid open to the public such as the previously published abstracts and abbreviatures.

Section 1.11 is amended as proposed to delete the word "general" before public as unnecessary.

New paragraph (e) of § 1.11 is added to cover the availability to the public of all interferences, including those which involved a statutory invention registration. This paragraph applies to interferences declared under the new rules which became effective on Feb. 11, 1985, 49 F.R. 48416, (Dec. 12, 1984) as well as the rules formerly in effect. The term "award of priority" is intended to refer to those decisions of the Board of Patent Interferences, or Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, awarding priority in interferences conducted under the former rules. The term "judgment" refers to judgments entered by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in interferences conducted under the new rules. The language of the proposed rule has been slightly modified for clarity in the final rule.

Section 1.14 is amended as proposed to delete reference to § 1.139 since that section is being removed.

Section 1.17 paragraph (h) is amended as proposed to include the petition fee required by new § 1.295.

Section 1.17 is amended to add new paragraphs (n) and (o) to establish fees for requesting publication of statutory invention registrations. Paragraph (n) establishes a $400.00 fee for requesting publication of a statutory invention registration where no first examiner's action pursuant to § 1.104 has been issued in the application. The amount paid for basic filing fees under § 1.16(a), (f) or (g) will be credited against this amount. For example, if a $300.00 filing fee was paid, only $100.00 additional would be required for requesting publication of a statutory invention registration.

The addition of paragraph (o) to § 1.17 is similar to the addition of paragraph (n) but establishes a fee for requesting publication of applications, which have received any examiner's action pursuant to § 1.104, as a statutory invention registration. The higher fee of $800.00 set in paragraph (o) is necessary in view of the expenditure of additional Office resources in examining the application prior to the filing of the request for a statutory invention registration.

Section 1.19 is amended as proposed to provide in paragraph (a)(1) a reference to the cost of a printed copy of a statutory invention registration and in paragraph (e) to provide reference to statutory invention registrations listed by subclass.

Section 1.20 is amended as proposed to delete the requirement to pay maintenance fees in all plant patents in view of the amendment in Public Law 98-622. Paragraph 1.20(m) is amended as proposed to provide that non-timely payment of maintenance fees may be accepted in patents based on applications filed prior to Aug. 27, 1982, in accordance with Public Law 98-622.

Public Law 98-622 provides that no maintenance fees are charged for plant patents, regardless of when filed. Without this provision that no maintenance fees be charged for plant patents, plant patent owners whose applications were filed between the dates of enactment of Public Law 96-517 and Public Law 97-247 (Dec. 12, 1980 to Aug. 27, 1982) would be subject to payment of maintenance fees, while plant patent owners whose applications were filed outside those dates would not be subject to such fees. Public Law 98-622 eliminates that inconsistency.

Section 1.45 is amended as proposed to reflect the change made by Public Law 98-622 in 35 U.S.C. 116. The previously existing paragraph is designated as paragraph (a). New paragraph (b) incorporates the wording added to 35 U.S.C. 116 by Public Law 98-622. New paragraph (c) indicates that each named inventor listed in an application must have made a contribution, individually or jointly, to the subject matter of at least one claim of the application and that the application will be considered to be a joint application under 35 U.S.C. 116.

Section 1.48 is amended to add new paragraphs (b) and (c). New paragraph (b) provides for deleting the names of persons originally properly included as inventors, but whose invention is no longer being claimed in the application. Such a situation would arise where claims have been amended or deleted because they are unpatentable or as a result of a requirement for restriction of the application to one invention, or for other reasons. Public Law 98-622 and § 1.48(b) change the result reached in Ex parte Lyon, 146 USPQ 222, 1965 Dec. Comm'r. Pat. 362 (Bd. App. 1964). The final rule has fewer requirements than the proposed rule for correction of inventorship in this situation. The proposed rule would have required, in addition to the requirements of the final rule, an oath or declaration by each actual inventor or inventors as required by § 1.63 and the written consent of any assignee. The final rule requires only a petition and fee with the petition including a statement identifying each named inventor who is being deleted and acknowledging that the inventor's invention is no longer being claimed in the application. The amendment would have to be diligently made under paragraph (b).

The final rule adds a paragraph (c) in response to a comment to provide for the situation where an application discloses unclaimed subject matter by an inventor or inventors not named in the application as filed. In such a situation, the application may be amended pursuant to paragraph (a) of § 1.48 to add claims to the subject matter and also to name the correct inventors for the application. The claims would be added by an amendment and, in addition, an amendment pursuant to paragraph (a) of § 1.48 would be required to correct the inventors named in the application. Any claims added to the application must be supported by the disclosure as filed and cannot add new matter.

Section 1.60 is amended to include wording which would permit an application to be filed under this section only if it named as inventors the same or less than all the inventors who were named and signed the oath or declaration in the prior application. This addition is necessary in view of the new provisions of 35 U.S.C. 120, as amended by Public Law 98-622, which permit continuing applications to be filed by different inventors. Under § 1.60 additional inventors are not permitted to be named since the oath or declaration from the prior application is relied upon.

Section 1.61 is amended as proposed to incorporate the ability to file the translation, oath or declaration, and national fee after the 20 month deadline set forth in PCT Article 22(1) for entering the national phase in the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

Public Law 98-622 amended 35 U.S.C. 371(a) to provide greater flexibility for the PTO handling international applications. Also, 35 U.S.C. 371(a), by relaxing the requirements which international applicants must satisfy by the commencement of the national stage, gives international applicants benefits similar to those given national applicants under 35 U.S.C. 111 by P.L. 97-247 with respect to the time for filing the national fee and oath or declaration.

Paragraph (b) of § 1.61 is amended to delete the 2 month time period to conform with the decision concerning PCT Article 22(2) adopted by the Assembly of the International Patent Cooperation Union (PCT Union) on Feb. 3, 1984. The amendment to the Article took effect on Jan. 1, 1985.

PCT Article 22(2) as amended, reads as follows:

> "Where the International Searching Authority makes a declaration, under Article 17(2)(a), that no international search report will be established, the time limit for performing the acts referred to in paragraph (1) of this Article shall be the same as that provided in paragraph (1)."

The additional wording to paragraph (b) of § 1.61 sets forth the ability to comply with the requirements for entering the national phase before the Patent and Trademark Office as a Designated Office within 22 months of the priority date. If the national fee or oath or declaration is submitted later than 20 months after the priority date, a surcharge as set in § 1.445(a)(5) is required to be paid. If a required English translation of the international application is filed later than 20 months after the priority date, a processing fee as set in § 1.445(a)(6) is required to be paid.

New paragraph (c) of § 1.61 provides that any amendments under PCT Article 19 which are not received along with any necessary English translation by the end of 20 months from the priority date will be considered as cancelled. This change is required in view of amended § 371(d) of 35 U.S.C.

Paragraph (d) is added as proposed to § 1.61 in view of § 372(b) of title 35, United States Code, as amended by Public Law 98-622, which authorizes the Commissioner to require a verification of the translation of an international application or any other document pertaining thereto if the application or other document was filed in a language other than English. An authorization for the Commissioner to require verification in appropriate cases was necessary since subsection (c) (2) of 35 U.S.C. 371 was amended to remove the requirement that the translation beverified in all cases.

Section 1.62 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (c), and (h) to include wording which would permit a continuing application to be filed under this section by the same or less than all the same inventors who filed and signed the oath or delcaration in the prior application. This addition is necessary in view of the new provisions of 35 U.S.C. 120, as amended by Public Law 98-622, which permit continuing applications to be filed by different inventors. Under § 1.62, additional inventors may be added only in applications in which a new oath or declaration is required because additional subject matter is being claimed. Paragraph (h) has been amended to also request applicants to furnish the title of the invention and the names of the applicants in the continuing application to permit the Office to enter this information in its records in the Application Branch.

Section 1.78 is amended to provide in paragraph (a) that the inventorship in the continuing application may be different from the inventorship in the prior copending application and that the prior application must disclose the invention claimed in at least one claim of the later filed application in the manner provided by the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112. The requirement that at least one claim be fully supported in the prior application to be entitled to priority benefit is not new, but is included to serve as a reminder that information such as foreign patenting, publication, or public use or sale in the United States which occurred more than one year prior to the filing date of the later application is available as prior art where the claims of the continuation-in-part application are not fully supported by the disclosure of the parent application so as to be entitled to an earlier effective filing date under 35 U.S.C. 120. See In re Ruscetta, 255 F. 2d 687, 118 USPQ 101 (CCPA 1958); In re van Langenhoven, 458 F. 2d 132, 173 USPQ 426 (CCPA 1972), and Chromalloy American Corp. v. Alloy Surfaces Inc., 339 F. Suppl. 859, 173 USPQ 295 (D. Del. 1972).

Paragraph (c) as amended provides for the reply to an examiner's inquiry as to first inventor of conflicting claims in commonly owned applications or an application and a patent to be either (1) a statement that the inventions were both commonly owned at the time the later invention was made or (2) an indication of the first inventor. Paragraph (c) has been changed from that proposed in response to comments to clarify that common ownership or an obligation of assignment to the same person has to exist at the time the later invention was made. New paragraph (d) provides for making a double patenting rejection where an application claims an invention which is not patentably distinct from an invention claimed in a commonly-owned patent with the same or different inventive entities. An obviousness-type double patenting rejection could be overcome by the assignee by submitting a terminal disclaimer complying with § 1.321(b).

Section 1.101 is amended as proposed to delete reference to applications filed under § 1.139 since this section is being removed.

Section 1.103 is amended as proposed to refer in paragraph (d) to a request "for a defensive publication" rather than a request "filed under § 1.139" since § 1.139 is being removed. Paragraph (d) is amended as proposed to also refer to "patent interference proceedings under Subpart E" rather than to "proceedings under § 1.201(b)" since § 1.201(b) has been removed.

Section 1.104 is amended as proposed to add a new paragraph (e) to specify the nature of the showing necessary before the examiner would consider co-pending applications to be owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person for purposes of 35 U.S.C. 102(f)/103, 102(g)/103, and paragraph (d) of § 1.106. The rule permits the necessary showing to be made in different alternative ways. The necessary showing will be considered by the examiner to be present if the application files refer to assignments which are recorded in the Patent and Trademark Office in accordance with § 1.331 as long as the assignments conveyed the entire rights in the applications to the same person or organization. A second alternative which can be used, if assignments have not been recorded, permits the examiner to consider copies of unrecorded assignments filed in each of the applications by the applicants as long as the unrecorded assignments convey the entire rights in the applications to the same person or organization. A third alternative permits an affidavit or declaration to be filed by the common owner stating that there is common ownership and stating facts which explain why the affiant or declarant believes there is common ownership. Under this alternative, sufficient facts will have to be presented in order to enable the examiner to conclude that a prima facie case of common ownership exists. The fourth alternative permits other evidence to be used which would establish common ownership of the applications, e.g., a court decision determining the owner. The terms "person" and "organization" in the rule would include circumstances where the ownership resided in more than one person and/or organization as long as the applications are owned jointly by the same owners. Paragraph (e) also provides that where the common owner is a corporation or other organization an affidavit or declaration averring common ownership may be signed by an official of the corporation or organization who is empowered to act on behalf of the corporation or organization. A mere power of attorney to prosecute a patent application will not make an individual an official of the corporation or organization or empower the individual to act on behalf of the corporation or organization.

The wording of § 1.106(d) amends the rule to reflect the change in 35 U.S.C. 103 and refers to the "entire" rights to the subject matter and the claimed invention to make it clear that the term "commonly owned" means wholly owned by the same person, persons, or organization.

If the person, persons, or organization owned less than 100 percent of the subject matter which would otherwise be prior art to the claimed invention, or less than 100 percent of the claimed invention, then common ownership would not exist. Common ownership requires that the person, persons, or organization own 100 percent of the subject matter and 100 percent of the claimed invention. As long as principal ownership rights to either the subject matter or the claimed invention reside in different persons or organizations common ownership does not exist. A license of the claimed invention to another by the owner where basic ownership rights are retained would not defeat ownership. The requirement for common ownership at the time the claimed invention was made is intended to preclude obtaining ownership of subject matter after the claimed invention was made in order to disqualify that subject matter as prior art against the claimed invention. The question of whether common ownership exists at the time the claimed invention was made is to be determined on the basis of the evidence presented and the facts of the particular case in question. Actual ownership of the subject matter and the claimed invention by the same individual or organization or a legal obligation to assign both the subject matter and the claimed invention to the same individual or organization must be in existence at the time the claimed invention was made in order for the subject matter to be disqualified as prior art. A moral or unenforceable obligation would not evidence common ownership.

The burden of establishing that subject matter is disqualified as prior art under the section is intended to be placed and reside upon the person or persons urging that the subject matter is disqualified. For example, the examiner would normally make what appears to be a proper 35 U.S.C. 102(f)/103 or 102(g)/103 rejection and the burden would be on the patent applicant to establish that subject matter is disqualified as prior art because it was commonly owned at the time the claimed invention was made. To place the burden upon the patent examiner would not be appropriate since evidence as to common ownership at the time the claimed invention was made might not be available to the patent examiner, but such evidence, if it exists, should be readily available to the patent applicant or the patentee.

The invention is made for purposes of the amendment to § 103 when the conception is complete as defined in Mergenthaler v. Scudder, 11 App. D.C. 264, 1897 C.D. 724 (C.A.D.C. 1897), and in In re Tansel, 117 USPQ 188 (CCPA 1958).

> "The conception of the invention consists in the complete performance of the mental part of the inventive act. All that remains to be accomplished in order to perfect the act or instrument belongs to the department of construction, not invention. It is, therefore, the formation in the mind of the inventor of a definite and permanent idea of the complete and operative invention as it is thereafter to be applied in practice that constitutes an available conception within the meaning of the patent law."

Paragraph (e) of § 1.106 has been added in response to a comment that the rulemaking should leave no doubt as to the standard to be applied in determining the effect of a statutory invention registration waiver in one application on a related application. Paragraph (e) of § 1.106 provides that the claims in any original application naming an inventor will be rejected as being precluded by a waiver in a published statutory invention registration naming that inventor if the same subject matter is claimed in the application and the statutory invention registration. Paragraph (e) of § 1.106 also provides that the claims in any reissue application naming an inventor will be rejected as being precluded by a waiver in a published statutory invention registration naming that inventor if the reissue application seeks to claim subject matter which was not covered by claims issued in the patent prior to the date of publication of the statutory invention registration and which was the same subject matter waived in the statutory invention registration.

Section 1.108 is amended as proposed to delete the reference to filing a request under § 1.139, which is being removed, and insert in its place a reference to a defensive publication.

A new section 1.110 is added as proposed to allow the examiner or other Office official to make inquiry as to the invention date, inventors and ownership at the time the invention was made when necessary for purposes of an Office proceeding.

Section 1.131 is amended to require that affidavits to overcome a rejection of a claim on a cited patent or publication be by the inventor or inventors of the subject matter of that claim. Section 1.131 has also been amended in response to a comment to permit the person qualified under §§ 1.42, 1.43, or 1.47 to make the required oath or declaration in appropriate circumstances.

Section 1.139 is being removed in view of the new statutory invention registration. The proposed rules made clear the intent to remove this section which established the defensive publication program although the section per se was not published as being removed. The defensive publication program is being replaced by the ability to obtain a statutory invention registration.

Section 1.193 is amended as proposed to change from twenty days to one month the time for filing a reply brief in response to an examiner's answer which raises new points of argument. This amendment is intended to simplify the docketing of this time period and make it consistent with the time period fixed for requesting an oral hearing in § 1.194(b).

Section 1.293 is added to provide who may file a request for a statutory invention registration (SIR) and the requirements of such a request in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 157 added by Public Law 98-622. Paragraph (a) of § 1.293 indicates that a request for publication of a statutory invention registration in a complete pending patent application for an original patent may be filed and be signed by the applicant, and any assignee of record, or the attorney or agent of record in the application. Paragraph (b) sets forth the requirements for a request for a statutory invention registration. Such a request must include:

(1) a waiver of the applicant's right to receive a patent. This waiver will become effective upon the date of publication. Therefore, it will be possible to petition to withdraw a request for publication of a statutory invention registration until such time that publication can not be terminated;
(2) payment of the fee for requesting publication of a statutory invention registration as set forth in § 1.17(n) or (o). The fee is set at two levels to reflect the amount of resources used by the Patent and Trademark Office;
(3) a statement that the application meets the disclosure requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112. This provision is considered desirable in order to prevent publication of defective and insufficient disclosures; and
(4) a statement that the application complies with the formal requirements of the rules of practice relating to printing. This provision is required in order to provide the printer with drawings and specification which are suitable for printing in substantially the same format as a patent.

A suggested format for use in filing a request for a statutory invention registration is as follows:

A. In the above identified patent application, I hereby
1. request and authorize the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks to publish the above identified regularly filed patent application as a Statutory Invention Registration. (35 U.S.C. 157)
2. waive the right to receive a United States patent on the same invention claimed in the above identified patent application. These rights, which are waived, include those specified in 35 U.S.C. § 183 and §§ 271 through 289 as well as all attributes specified for patents in any other provision of law other than title 35 United States Code. The waiver includes, but is not limited to, the remedies under 19 U.S.C. 1337 and 1337a, 22 U.S.C. 2356 and 28 U.S.C. 1498. (35 U.S.C. 157(c))
3. understand that the above waiver will be effective pursuant to 37 CFR 1.293 upon publication of the Statutory Invention Registration to waive the inventor's right to receive a United States patent on the invention claimed in the Statutory Invention Registration. (37 CFR 1.293(b) (1))
4. state that, in my opinion, the disclosure and claims of the above identified patent application meet the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112. (37 CFR 1.293(b) (3))
5. state that, in my opinion, the above identified application complies with the requirements for printing as set forth in the Rules of Practice for Patent Cases, 37 CFR Part 1. (37 CFR 1.293(b) (4))

Paragraph (c) of § 1.293 is added to define the effects of a waiver filed with a request for a statutory invention registration. The waiver is effective, upon publication of the SIR, to waive the inventor's right to receive a patent on the invention claimed in the SIR in any application for an original patent which is pending on, or filed after, the date of publication of the SIR. The waiver will affect pending or later applications the inventor filed as a joint inventor with others, but will not affect an application of another person, even if the application and the SIR were commonly owned. The waiver will affect a reissue application of an earlier patent of the inventor only to the extent that the reissue application seeks to enlarge the scope of the claims. Paragraph (c) of § 1.293 has been modified from the proposal by inclusion of a reference to § 1.106(e).

Section 1.294 is added as proposed to provide in paragraph (a) for a review of the request for publication of a statutory invention registration and the patent application to which it is directed. The request will be examined to determine if the requirements of § 1.293 have been met. The application to which the request is directed will be examined to determine (1) if the subject matter of the application is appropriate for publication, (2) if the requirements for publication are met, and (3) if the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112 and § 1.293 are met. Under 35 U.S.C. 157, the Commissioner is authorized to publish a statutory invention registration, but is not required to do so. Thus, the Commissioner has discretion in determining whether or not a statutory invention registration should be issued on a particular patent. In circumstances where the subject matter was obviously not a patentable invention, was too informal to print, and so forth, the request to publish the statutory invention registration will be refused.

Paragraph (b) of § 1.294 provides for notifying applicant of the results of the examination of the request for publication of the statutory invention registration. Paragraph (c) of § 1.294 provides for the issuance of a notice of the intent to publish a statutory invention registration once the request has been examined and approved.

Section 1.295 is added to provide for the review of a final refusal to publish a statutory invention registration. The review would be by petition to the Commissioner for matters other than those arising from a rejection pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 112 and by appeal for a rejection pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 112. The language of the final rule is slightly different from that proposed to emphasize that the Board either affirms or reverses decisions rather than rejections. Paragraph (a) also differs from the proposal by including, in response to a comment, a provision for requesting return of the petition fee if the necessity for the petition resulted from an error by the Patent and Trademark Office.

Section 1.296 has been modified from the proposal to provide a specific period during which a request for a statutory invention registration may be withdrawn. Under § 1.296, as modified, a request for a statutory invention registration may be withdrawn, at applicant's option, prior to the date of the notice of intent to publish a statutory invention registraiton issued pursuant to § 1.294(c) by filing a request to withdraw the request for publication of a statutory invention registration. An applicant filing such a request to withdraw may also, under § 1.296, request a refund of any amount paid in excess of the application filing fee and a handling fee of $100.00 which will be retained by the Office. Any request to withdraw the request for publication of a statutory invention registration filed on or after the date of the notice of intent to publish pursuant to § 1.294(c) must be in the form of a petition pursuant to § 1.183 accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(h).

Section 1.297 is added to provide for the publication of the statutory invention registration and of the notice of its publication in the Official Gazette. In response to a comment, § 1.297 has been modified so that the statement on the statutory invention registration will specifically state that the statutory invention registration is not a patent.

Sections 1.301, 1.302 and 1.304 are amended as proposed to delete the requirement to give reasons for appeal when filing an appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit in accordance with § 414(a) of Public Law 98-620 which amended 35 U.S.C. 142, 143 and 144.

Section 1.378 is amended as proposed to delete from paragraph (a) the limitation that only applications filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982 may have the maintenance fee accepted after expiration of the patent. This change follows the change made by § 404(b) of Public Law 98-622.

Section 1.431 is amended as proposed to provide for the later payment directly to the Receiving Office of the basic fee portion of the international fee and the transmittal and search fees within one month of the filing of an international application. The rule follows § 361(d) of title 35 U.S.C. as amended by Public Law 98-622, to provide a one-month grace period from the date of filing of an international application for the payment of the basic international fee and the transmittal and search fees.

It should be noted that the designation fees continue to be required by 12 months after the priority date and that no subsequent grace period is provided in the Receiving Office for designation fees.

New paragraphs 1.431(d) and (e) incorporate into the regulations the provisions of PCT Rule 16 bis. Under these provisions the Receiving Office will charge any unpaid or insufficient fees to a deposit account maintained by the International Bureau. The applicant will then be notified by the International Bureau and be given one month to reimburse the amount charged plus a surcharge of 50%. The surcharge would not be less than 248 Swiss francs or more than 624 Swiss francs under the current fee schedule.

Section 1.445 is amended as proposed to clarify paragraph (a) (4) to clearly indicate that the national fee is credited by an amount of $250 only one time where a $500 search fee has been paid to the Patent and Trademark Office to act as an international searching authority. This is consistent with current practice. The special fee provisions in paragraph (a) (5) are being deleted in view of § 402(g) of Public Law 98-622 which deleted the fee in 35 U.S.C. 376(a)(5). The wording of § 1.445(a) (5) sets forth the surcharge required for filing of a national fee or oath or declaration later than 20 months from the priority date. Paragraph (a)(6) of § 1.445 is added to require a fee of $20.00 for filing an English translation of an international application later than 20 months after the priority date. This makes the practice in international applications consistent with that in national applications where a fee of $20.00 is charged under § 1.17(k) for processing an application filed with a specification in a non-English language.

Section 1.446 is amended as proposed to clarify the refund of a portion of the $500 search fee toward payment of the national fee.

Section 1.451 is amended as proposed to correct a rule citation in paragraph (b) and to amend paragraph (c) to provide for supplying a copy of the priority document to the Receiving Office in conformance with revised PCT Rule 17.1.

Section 1.461 is amended as proposed to delete provisions which relate to the applicant transmitting the record copy to the International Bureau. Provisions for such alternative transmittal were deleted from PCT Rule 22, effective Jan. 1, 1985. Accordingly, since the PCT rules no longer provide for such transmittal, the provisions therefor in the U.S. rules are also being deleted.

Response to Comments on the Rules

Specific comments were received on a number of the proposed rule changes. Six letters submitting written comments were received. Oral testimony was presented by four persons at the public hearing conducted on Feb. 8, 1985 and the oral testimony of two of these persons (representing the American Intellectual Property Law Association and Intellectual Property Owners, Inc.) was supplemented by written statements. All of the written and oral comments were considered in adopting the changes set forth herein. Comments suggesting modifications to the proposed rules appear below with responses thereto.

Comment:

One Comment suggested that 37 CFR 1.11 be amended to create a waiver of secrecy of an application as of the date of filing of a notice of appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. The comment suggests that secrecy could be maintained upon request by the appellant in such a situation.

Reply:

The change was not published in the proposed rulemaking and is considered to be too substantial a change to be adopted without publication as a proposal to allow public comment. Further, if the suggestion were adopted appellants might simply include a request for secrecy with every notice of appeal.

Comment:

One comment suggested that the $120.00 petition fee under § 1.17(h) for review of a refusal to publish a statutory invention registration under § 1.295 be returned to the petitioner if the refusal to publish is found to have occurred only through an administrative error of the PTO.

Reply:

This suggestion has been adopted by an additional sentence being added to § 1.295(a).

Comment:

Three comments suggested that the proposed fees for a statutory invention registration were too high. One comment suggested the elimination of the fee proposed in § 1.17(o).

Reply:

Although lower fees would certainly be preferred by the public, the Office must recover its costs of processing and publishing statutory invention registrations. The two levels of fees permit an applicant whose application has not had a first Office action mailed to pay a minimum amount while those filing a request for a statutory invention registration later would share the average additional costs. The amounts proposed are the current estimates of expected costs and cannot be reduced. This will become apparent when it is realized that about $250.00 of the $400.00 fee which has been established for requesting publication of a statutory invention registration prior to the mailing of the first examiner's action pursuant to § 1.104 is the cost of printing the statutory invention registration and does not include in-house publication staff costs. The remainder of the fee is used to cover the administrative processing costs and the limited examination which is required to be given pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 157. The higher fee of $800.00 which has been established is necessary to cover the additional costs to the Office when an applicant requests publication of a statutory invention registration after the office has begun examination of the application on which the applicant is requesting publication of a statutory invention registration. Since the rules permit the request to be filed at any time during the examination process substantial additional examination costs, including possibly appeal costs, may have been incurred in a particular application prior to the date on which the request for publication is made. Accordingly, the additional $400.00 is required to cover the extra costs to the Office where the applicant belatedly requests publication of a statutory invention registration. Applicants can avoid the higher costs to themselves and the Office by requesting publication of the statutory invention registration in a timely fashion prior to the mailing of the first examiner's action pursuant to § 1.104. The possibility of reducing fees below costs to the Office does not exist since the legislative history of 35 U.S.C. 157 does not reflect any intent that other Office fees or appropriations be used to defer the costs of statutory invention registrations. Further, most of the comments received urged that the fees be set as low as possible, but not below the level necessary to recover costs.

Comment:

One comment suggested that the Patent and Trademark Office should investigate less expensive procedures for printing statutory invention registrations to reduce the costs and thereby lower the fees.

Reply:

If the registrations are not printed by a system using computer tape, the subject matter of the registrations would not be easily searchable in paper form and would not be fully available for searching under the planned automated "paperless" system. Further, the "section-by-section" analysis submitted for the Record by Representative Kastenmeier during discussion of H. R. 6286 on the floor of the House stated that the statutory invention registration "would be classified and cross-referenced, disseminated to foreign patent offices, stored in the Patent and Trademark Office computer tapes, made available in commercial data bases, and announced in the Official Gazette of the PTO." (130 Cong. Rec. H 10526 (1984), column 3). These uses of the statutory invention registrations preclude use of any informal method of printing which would be different from the method used for the printing of patents.

Comment:

A number of comments were received concerning § 1.48(b). The comments related to (1) the propriety of the fee required, (2) the incorporation of paragraph (b) into current § 1.48, (3) the inclusion in the rules of a fixed and definite time period to correct inventorship, (4) the inclusion in the rules of a provision to add inventors claiming previously disclosed but unclaimed subject matter, and (5) a suggestion that the change in inventorship be simplified and possibly effected by a statement by applicant's attorney.

Reply:

Each comment will be treated separately in order. (1) The fee of $120.00 to accompany a petition for correction of inventorship is considered appropriate since the consideration of such a petition and correction of Office records takes additional resources. Such a fee should also act as a discouragement to grouping marginal inventions and loosely related inventions into the same application. (2) Whether paragraph (b) is made part of § 1.48 or established as a separate rule does not appear to be a substantive matter. Paragraph (b) is being made part of § 1.48 to place all rules relating to correction of inventorship in applications in a single rule. (3) No specific time period for correction of inventorship was indicated in the proposed rules. The rule requires that the correction must be made diligently. Since the examiner will not normally be aware of when inventorship correction is required, the responsibility of making such a correction diligently must rest with the applicant. The time of the correction will vary from case to case. (4) The addition of claims to previously disclosed but unclaimed subject matter of additional inventors is considered to be an error in the application and is therefore corrected under § 1.48(a). A new paragraph (c) has been added to § 1.48 to make this clear. Such a correction must always include a new oath or declaration. (5) The correction of inventorship has been simplified from that proposed. Final § 1.48(b) does not require a new oath or declaration of each actual inventor or written consent of any assignee as originally proposed. The final rule requires a petition including a statement identifying each named inventor who is being deleted and acknowledging that the inventor's invention is no longer being claimed in the application, and the fee set forth in § 1.17(h). The petition could be signed by applicant's attorney who would then take full responsibility for ensuring that the inventor is not being improperly deleted from the application.

Comment:

One comment suggested that proposed §§ 1.60 and 1.62 should be modified to permit the filing of such continuing applications with different inventive entities from the prior application.

Reply:

The procedures under §§ 1.60 and 1.62 were developed to allow continuing applications to be filed without the necessity of again obtaining an inventor's signature to a declaration. The proposed rule wording has been modified in the final rule to permit inventors to be deleted in the continuing application. The addition of inventors is now permitted where a new oath or declaration would be required because of claims in the continuing application being drawn to additional subject matter.

Comment:

One comment suggested that §§ 1.77 and 1.78 be modified to change the placement in a patent application of the information regarding cross-reference to related applications. It was suggested to require this information to be placed immediately after the Abstract, following the claims, so that the cross-reference information could be easily removed when filing the application outside the United States.

Reply:

These changes were not included in the proposed rulemaking and therefore the public has not had an opportunity to comment on the suggestion. Accordingly, the suggestion has not been adopted.

Comment:

One comment suggested that proposed § 1.78(c) be modified to permit a statement that the claimed inventions were subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person at the time the inventions were made.

Reply:

The suggestion has been adopted.

Comment:

One comment suggested that the application of double patenting rejections to applications of different inventive entities which are commonly owned as set out in proposed § 1.78(d) not be made until the effective date of this rulemaking.

Reply:

The Commissioner's Notice of Dec. 11, 1984, "Initial Guidelines Implementing Changes in 35 U.S.C. 103, 116, and 120", 1050 O.G. 316 (Jan. 8, 1985), changed the practice in accordance with the intention of Congress in enacting Public Law 98-622. See 130 Cong. Rec. H 10527, column 3 (daily ed. Oct. 1, 1984) (statement of Rep. Kastenmeier) wherein the following statement appears:

> "The Committee expects that the Patent and Trademark Office will reinstitute in appropriate circumstances the practice of rejecting claims in commonly owned applications of different inventive entities on the ground of double patenting. This will be necessary in order to prevent an organization from obtaining two or more patents with different expiration dates covering nearly identical subject matter. In accordance with established patent law doctrines, double patenting rejections can be overcome in certain circumstances by disclaiming the terminal portion of the term of the later patent, thereby eliminating the problem of extending patent life."

Since the provisions of Public Law 98-622 became effective on Nov. 8, 1984, it was not appropriate to delay the change in practice.

Comment:

One comment suggested that the policy of rejecting commonly-owned applications of different inventive entities on the grounds of double patenting, as set forth in proposed § 1.78(d), was unnecessary in view of 35 U.S.C. 102(e).

Reply:

The provisions of 35 U.S.C. 102(e) will not be effective to preclude double patenting in situations where the applicants of the later filed application can use the provisions of 37 CFR 1.131 to antedate the filing date of the earlier filed application or patent. Accordingly, the application of the prohibitions against double patenting is necessary in order to prevent an organization from obtaining two or more patents with different expiration dates covering nearly identical subject matter. See 130 Cong. Rec. H 10527, supra.

Comment:

One comment suggested that proposed § 1.78(c) was broader than required by statute and capable of being construed to conflict with proposed § 1.106(d) by referring to common ownership at "the time the inventions were made" rather than at the time the later invention was made.

Reply:

The wording of § 1.78(c) has been revised from the proposal to clarify the problem spoken to in the comment.

Comment:

One comment suggested that the proposed amendment to § 1.131 not be made so that the "applicant" can make affidavits or declarations to overcome rejections. The comment suggested that the proposed rule provides no remedy in situations where the inventor is dead, insane, legally incapacitated, cannot be reached or refuses to join in the application.

Reply:

The final rule has been changed in response to the comment to permit the person qualified under §§ 1.42, 1.43, or 1.47 to make the required oath or declaration in appropriate circumstances.

Comment:

Two comments suggested that the scope of the waiver in a statutory invention registration be limited to the subject matter of the claims of the statutory invention registration and not to any obvious modifications thereof. Another comment suggested that the statutory invention registration applicant should be able to waive the right to a patent on all of the subject matter disclosed in the application if he wishes to do so. One comment suggested that the rulemaking should leave no doubt as to the standard to be applied in determining the effect of a statutory invention registration waiver in one application on a related application.

Reply:

A new paragraph (e) has been added to § 1.106 to clarify the standard to be applied in determining the effect of a statutory invention registration waiver. The suggestion that the scope of the waiver be limited to the subject matter of the claims of the statutory invention registration and not to any obvious modifications thereof has been adopted.
Comment:

Three comments suggested that since a statutory invention registration is prior art as of its effective filing date, the time permitted between the effective filing date and the publication of the statutory invention registration should be limited. Several different approaches were suggested. One comment suggested that there was no problem in this regard. Another comment suggested that the organization is studying the question and will have recommendations in several months.
Reply:

The statute makes it clear that the Commissioner is not required to publish a statutory invention registration in response to a request therefor. The case-by-case consideration of requests for publication of a statutory invention registration should safeguard the public without unduly placing limits on patent applicants. The Office will await further recommendations on this question and will observe actual experience prior to placing any time limitations on the use of statutory invention registrations.
Comment:

Two comments suggested that § 1.293 be modified to eliminate the requirement for a statement in the request for publication of a statutory invention registration that the application meets the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112. One of these comments also suggested the elimination of the statement that the application meets formal requirements for printing. One comment suggested that if there is a requirement for a statement in the request for publication of a statutory invention registration that the application meets the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, there will not be a great necessity for the Office to spend a lot of time examining the application, although there has to be some examination.
Reply:

The reason for the statements in § 1.293 regarding compliance with 35 U.S.C. 112 and the formal requirements for printing as a patent was to reduce the cost of statutory invention registrations to the applicants and to the Office. The level of fees which have been established assumes that applicants will include the statements required by § 1.293 in their requests and that the statements will accurately reflect the condition of the applications to which the requests are directed.
Comment:

One comment suggested that the rules should include a fixed and definite time period in which an authorized party can withdraw a statutory invention registration after its approval and before its publication.
Reply:

The suggestion has been adopted. Section 1.296 has been modified to permit a request to withdraw the request for publication of a statutory invention registration to be filed at any time prior to the date of the notice of intent to publish the statutory invention registration. After the date of the notice of intent to publish the statutory invention registration, any request to withdraw the request for publication of the statutory invention registration must be in the form of a petition pursuant to § 1.183 accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(h).
Comment:

One comment suggested that the statement to be printed on statutory invention registrations as set out in proposed § 1.297(b) be modified to be easily understood by lay people.
Reply:

The statement has been modified to specifically state that the statutory invention registration is not a patent.

Environmental, Energy, and Other Considerations: The final rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or conservation of energy resources.

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce certified to the Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354). In fact, the rule change will benefit small entities since the statutory invention registration procedures will provide a new, less expensive alternative to the traditional patenting of inventions in appropriate circumstances. Further, the ability to join multiple inventors in a single application in appropriate circumstances will be of particular benefit to small entities. Other changes, such as the elimination of the reasons for appeal, will also be beneficial to all inventors. See a "section-by-section" analysis submitted for the Record by Representative Kastenmeier during discussion of H.R. 6286 on the floor of the House in which the following statement appears (130 Cong. Rec. H 1057 (1984), column 1):

> "Last, the SIR would be particularly useful to those with limited resources such as universities and small businesses, who have a new less expensive alternative to the traditional patenting of inventions."

These rules, therefore, will have no significant adverse economic impact on small entities.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The information collection requirements contained in these rules were submitted to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) at the time of the proposed rulemaking for review under Section 3504(h) of the Paperwork Reduction Act. OMB has approved the information collection requirements and has assigned OMB control number 0651— 0018 thereto.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Authority delegations (government agencies), Conflict of interests, Courts, Inventions and patents, Lawyers.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6, Pub. L. 98—620 and 98—622, the Patent and Trademark Office is amending Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations as set forth below.

1. Section 1.11 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) and adding new paragraph (e) to read as follows:

(a) After a patent has been issued or a statutory invention registration has been published, the specification, drawings and all papers relating to the case in the file of the patent or statutory invention registration are open to inspection by the public, and copies may be obtained upon paying the fee therefor. See § 2.27 for trademark files.

(b) All reissue applications, all applications in which the Office has accepted a request to open the complete application to inspection by the public, and related papers in the application file, are open to inspection by the public, and copies may be furnished upon paying the fee therefor. The filing of reissue applications will be announced in the Official Gazette. The announcement shall include at least the filing date, reissue application and original patent numbers, title, class and subclass, name of the inventor, name of the owner of record, name of the attorney or agent of record, and examining group to which the reissue application is assigned.

* * * * *

(e) The file of any interference involving a patent, a statutory invention registration, or an application on which a patent has issued or which has been published as a statutory invention registration, is open to inspection by the public, and copies may be obtained upon paying the fee therefor, if: (1) the interference has terminated, or (2) an award of priority or judgment has been entered as to all parties and all counts.

2. Section 1.14 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(b) Except as provided in § 1.11(b) abandoned applications are likewise not open to public inspection, except that if an application referred to in a U.S. patent, or in an application in which the applicant has filed an authorization to open the complete application to the public, is abandoned and is available, it may be inspected or copies obtained by any person on written request, without notice to the applicant.

* * * * *

3. Section 1.17 is amended by revising paragraphs (h) and by adding new paragraphs (n) and (o) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(h) For filing a petition to the Commissioner under a section of this part listed below which refers to this paragraph		$120.00
§ 1.47	—for filing by other than all the inventors or a person not the inventor
§ 1.48	— for correction of inventorship
§ 1.182	— for decision on questions not specifically provided for
§ 1.183	— to suspend the rules
§ 1.295	— for review of refusal to publish a statutory invention registration
§ 1.37	— for review of decision refusing to accept and record payment of a maintenance fee filed prior to expiration of patent
§ 1.378(e)	— for reconsideration of decision on petition refusing to accept delayed payment of maintenance fee in expired patent
§ 1.644(e)	— for petition in an interference
§ 1.644(f)	— for request for reconsideration of a decision on petition in an interference
§ 1.666(c)	— for late filing of interference settlement agreement
§§ 5.12, 5.13, & 5.14	— for expedited handling of foreign filing license
§ 5.15	— for changing the scope of a license
§ 5.25	— for retroactive license
(n) For requesting publication of a statutory invention registration prior to the mailing of the first examiner's acton pursuant to § 1.104		$400.00 reduced by the amount of the application basic filing fee paid
(o) For requesting publication of a statutory invention registration after the mailing of the first examiner's action pursuant to § 1.104		$800.00 reduced by the amount of the application basic filing fee paid

* * * * *

4. Section 1.19 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (e) to read as follows:

The Patent and Trademark Office will supply copies of the following documents upon payment of the fees indicated:

(a) Uncertified copies of Office documents:

(1) Printed copy of a patent, including a design patent, statutory invention registration, or defensive publication document, except color plant patent. $1.00

* * * * *

(e) List of patents in subclass:

(1) For list of all United States patents and statutory invention registrations in a subclass, per 100 numbers or fraction thereof 2.00
(2) For list of United States patents and statutory invention registrations in a subclass limited by date or number, per 50 numbers or fraction thereof 2.00

5. Section 1.20 is amended by revising paragraphs (e), (f), (g) and (m) to read as follows:

(e) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after December 12, 1980 and before August 27, 1982, in force beyond 4 years; the fee is due by three years and six months after the original grant $200.00
(f) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after December 12, 1980 and before August 27, 1982, in force beyond 8 years; the fee is due by seven years and six months after the original grant 400.00
(g) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after December 12, 1980 and before August 27, 1982, in force beyond 12 years; the fee is due by eleven years and six months after the original grant 600.00

* * * * *

(m) Surcharge for accepting a maintenance fee after expiration of a patent for non-timely payment of a maintenance fee where the delay in payment is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been unavoidable 500.00

6. Section 1.45 is revised by labeling the existing paragraph as (a) and by adding new paragraphs (b) and (c) to read as follows:

(a) * * * * *
(b) Inventors may apply for a patent jointly even though
(1) they did not physically work together or at the same time,
(2) each inventor did not make the same type or amount of contribution, or
(3) each inventor did not make a contribution to the subject matter of every claim of the application.
(c) If multiple inventors are named in an application, each named inventor must have made a contribution, individually or jointly, to the subject matter of at least one claim of the application and the application will be considered to be a joint application under 35 U.S.C. 116.

7. Section 1.48 is amended by labeling the current paragraph as paragraph (a) and by adding new paragraphs (b) and (c) to read as follows:

(a) * * * * *

(b) If the correct inventors are named in the application when filed and the prosecution of the application results in the amendment or cancellation of claims so that less than all of the originally named inventors are the actual inventors of the invention being claimed in the application, an amendment shall be filed deleting the names of the person or persons who are not inventors of the invention being claimed. The amendment must be diligently made and shall be accompanied by:

(1) a petition including a statement identifying each named inventor who is being deleted and acknowledging that the inventor's invention is no longer being claimed in the application, and

(2) the fee set forth in § 1.17(h).

(c) If an application discloses unclaimed subject matter by an inventor or inventors not named in the application, the application may be amended pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section to add claims to the subject matter and name the correct inventors for the application. [OMB Control No. 0651-0018].

8. Section 1.60 is revised to read as follows:

(a) A continuation or divisional application (filed under the conditions specified in 35 U.S.C. 120 or 121 and § 1.78(a)), naming as inventors the same or less than all the inventors named in a prior application and which discloses and claims only subject matter disclosed in the prior application may be filed as a separate application before the patenting or abandonment of or termination of proceedings on the prior application.

(b) An applicant may omit signing of the oath or declaration in a continuation or divisional application if (1) the prior application was a complete application as set forth in [g49 1.51(a), (2) applicant files a true copy of the prior complete application as filed including the specification (including claims), drawings, oath or declaration showing the signature or an indication it was signed, and any amendments referred to in the oath or declaration filed to complete the prior application, and (3) the inventors named in the continuation or divisional application are the same or less than all the inventors named in the prior application. The copy of the prior application must be accompanied by a statement that the application papers filed are a true copy of the prior application and that no amendments referred to in the oath or declaration filed to complete the prior application introduced new matter therein. Such statement must be by the applicant or applicant's attorney or agent and must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office. Only amendments reducing the number of claims or adding a reference to the prior application (§ 1.78(a)) will be entered before calculating the filing fee and granting the filing date. If the continuation or divisional application is filed by less than all the inventors named in the prior application a statement must accompany the application when filed requesting deletion of the names of the person or persons who are not inventors of the invention being claimed in the continuation or divisional application.

9. Section 1.61 is amended by revising the section heading and paragraphs (a) and (b) and adding paragraphs (c) and (d) to read as follows:

(a) To maintain the benefit of the international filing date and obtain an examination as to the patentability of the invention in the United States, the applicant shall furnish to the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office not later than the expiration of 20 months from the priority date: (1) a copy of the international application with any amendments under PCT Article 19, unless it has been previously communicated by the International Bureau or unless it was originally filed in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office; (2) a translation of the international application and a translation of any amendments under PCT Article 19 into the English language, if originally filed in another language; (3) the national fee (see § 1.445(a)(4)); and (4) an oath or declaration of the inventor (see § 1.70).

(b) If the translation of the international application, oath or declaration, and national fee have not been submitted by the applicant within twenty (20) months from the priority date, such requirements may be met within twenty-two (22) months from the priority date. The payment of the surcharge set forth in § 1.445(a)(5) is required as a condition for accepting the national fee or the oath or declaration later than 20 months after the priority date. The payment of the processing fee set forth in § 1.445(a)(6) is required for acceptance of an English translation later than 20 months after the priority date. Failure to comply with these requirements will result in abandonment of the application. The provisions of § 1.136 do not apply to the 22 month period of this section.

(c) If a copy of the amendments under PCT Article 19 is not communicated by the International Bureau or a copy thereof and any necessary English translation thereof is not received by the end of 20 months from the priority date, such failure will be regarded as cancellation of the amendments under PCT Article 19 in the international application.

(d) Verification of the translation of the international application or any other document pertaining to an international application may be required where it is considered necessary, if the international application or other document was filed in a language other than English.

10. Section 1.62 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (c) and (h) to read as follows:

(a) A continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application, which uses the specification, drawings and oath or declaration from a prior complete application (§ 1.51(a)) which is to be abandoned, may be filed before the payment of the issue fee, abandonment of, or termination of proceedings on the prior application. The filing date of an application filed under this section is the date on which a request is filed for an application under this section including identification of the Serial Number, filing date, and applicant's name of the prior complete application. If the continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application is filed by less than all the inventors named in the prior application a statement must accompany the application when filed requesting deletion of the names of the person or persons who are not inventors of the invention being claimed in the continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application.

* * * * *

(c) In the case of a continuation-in-part application which adds and claims additional disclosure by amendment, an oath or declaration as required by § 1.63 must also be filed. In those situations where a new oath or declaration is required due to additional subject matter being claimed, additional inventors may be named in the continuing application. In a continuation or divisional application which discloses and claims only subject matter dislcosed in a prior application, no additional oath or declaration is required and the application must name as inventors the same or less than all the inventors named in the prior application.

* * * * *

(h) The applicant is urged to furnish the following information relating to the prior and continuing applications to the best of his or her ability:

* * * * *

(5) The title of the invention and names of the applicants to be named in the continuing application.

* * * * *

11. Section 1.78 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (c) and by adding a new paragraph (d) to read as follows:

(a) An application may claim an invention disclosed in a prior filed copending national application or international application designating the United States of America. In order for an application to claim the benefit of a prior filed copending national application, the prior application must name as an inventor at least one inventor named in the later filed application and dislcose the named inventor's invention claimed in at least one claim of the later filed application in the manner provided by the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112. In addition, the prior application must be (1) complete as set forth in § 1.51, or (2) entitled to a filing date as set forth in § 1.53(b) and include the basic filing fee set forth in § 1.16; or (3) entitled to a filing date as set forth in § 1.53(b) and have paid therein the processing and retention fee set forth in § 1.21(1) within the time period set forth in § 1.53(d). Any application claiming the benefit of a prior filed copending national or international application must contain or be amended to contain in the first sentence of the specification following the title a reference to such prior application, identifying it by serial number and filing date or international application number and international filing date and indicating the relationship of the applications. Cross-references to other related applications may be made when appropriate. (See § 1.14(b)).

(c) Where two or more applications, or an application and a patent naming different inventors and owned by the same party contain conflicting claims, and there is no statement of record indicating that the claimed inventions were commonly owned or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person at the time the later invention was made, the assignee may be called upon to state whether the claimed inventions were commonly owned or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person at the time the later invention was made, and if not, indicate which named inventor is the prior inventor. In addition to making said statement, the assignee may also explain why an interference should or should not be declared.

(d) Where an application claims an invention which is not patentably distinct from an invention claimed in a commonly owned patent with the same or a different inventive entity, a double patenting rejection will be made in the application. An obviousness-type double patenting rejection may be obviated by filing a terminal disclaimer in accordance with § 1.321(b).

12. Section 1.101 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

(a) Applications filed in the Patent and Trademark Office and accepted as complete applications are assigned for examination to the respective examining groups having the classes of inventions to which the applications relate. Applications shall be taken up for examination by the examiner to whom they have been assigned in the order in which they have been filed except for those applications in which examination has been advanced pursuant to § 1.102. International applications which have complied with the re-quirements of 35 U.S.C. 371(c) will be taken up for action based on the date on which such requirements were met. However, unless a request has been filed under 35 U.S.C. 371(f), no action may be taken prior to 21 months from the priority date.

* * * * *

13. Section 1.103 is amended by revising paragraph (d) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(d) Action on applications in which the Office has accepted a request to publish a defensive publication will be suspended for the entire pendency of these applications except for purposes relating to patent interference proceedings under Subpart E.

14. Section 1.104 is amended by adding a new paragraph (e) immediately following the Note to paragraph (d) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(e) Co-pending applications will be considered by the examiner to be owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person if (1) the application files refer to assignments recorded in the Patent and Trademark Office in accordance with § 1.331 which convey the entire rights in the applications to the same person or organization; or (2) copies of unrecorded assignments which convey the entire rights in the applications to the same person or organization are filed in each of the applications; or (3) an affidavit or declaration by the common owner is filed which states that there is common ownership and states facts which explain why the affiant or declarant believes there is common ownership; or (4) other evidence is submitted which establishes common ownership of the applications. In circumstances where the common owner is a corporation or other organization an affidavit or declaration may be signed by an official of the corporation or organization empowered to act on behalf of the corporation or organization.

15. Section 1.106 is amended by adding new paragraphs (d) and (e) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(d) Subject matter which is developed by another person which qualifies as prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102 (f) or (g) may be used as prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103 against a claimed invention unless the entire rights to the subject matter and the claimed invention were commonly owned by the same person or organization or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person or organization at the time the claimed invention was made.

(e) The claims in any original application naming an inventor will be rejected as being precluded by a waiver in a published statutory invention registration naming that inventor if the same subject matter is claimed in the application and the statutory invention registration. The claims in any reissue application naming an inventor will be rejected as being precluded by a waiver in a published statutory invention registration naming that inventor if the reissue application seeks to claim subject matter (1) which was not covered by claims issued in the patent prior to the date of publication of the statutory invention registration and (2) which was the same subject matter waived in the statutory invention registration.

16. Section 1.108 is revised to read as follows:

Abandoned applications as such will not be cited as references except those which have been opened to inspection by the public following a defensive publication.

17. Section 1.110 is added to read as follows:

When more than one inventor is named in an application or patent, the Patent and Trademark Office, when necessary for purposes of an Office proceeding, may require an applicant, patentee, or owner to identify the inventive entity of the subject matter of each claim in the application or patent. Where appropriate, the invention dates of the subject matter of each claim and the ownership of the subject matter on the date of invention may be required of the applicant, patentee or owner. See also §§ 1.78(c) and (d). [OMB Control No. 0651-0018].

18. Section 1.131 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

(a) When any claim of an application or a patent under reexamination is rejected on reference to a domestic patent which substantially shows or describes but does not claim the rejected invention, or on reference to a foreign patent or to a printed publication, and the inventor of the subject matter of the rejected claim, the owner of the patent under reexamination, or the person qualified under §§ 1.42, 1.43 or 1.47, shall make oath or declaration as to facts showing a completion of the invention in this country before the filing date of the application on which the domestic patent issued, or before the date of the foreign patent, or before the date of the printed publication, then the patent or publication cited shall not bar the grant of a patent to the inventor or the confirmation of the patentability of the claims of the patent, unless the date of such patent or printed publication is more than one year prior to the date on which the inventor's or patent owner's application was filed in this country.

19. Section 1.139 is removed.

20. Section 1.193 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(b) The appellant may file a reply brief directed only to such new points of argument as may be raised in the examiner's answer, within one month from the date of such answer. However, if the examiner's answer states a new ground of rejection appellant may file a reply thereto within two months from the date of such answer; such reply may include any amendment or material appropriate to the new ground.

21. A new section 1.293 is added to read as follows:

(a) An applicant for an original patent may request, at any time during the pendency of applicant's pending complete application, that the specification and drawings be published as a statutory invention registration. Any such request must be signed by (1) the applicant and any assignee of record or (2) an attorneyor agent of record in the application.

(b) Any request for publication of a statutory invention registration must include the following parts:

(1) a waiver of the applicant's right to receive a patent on the invention claimed effective upon the date of publication of the statutory invention registration;

(2) the required fee for filing a request for publication of a statutory invention registration as provided for in § 1.17(n) or (o);

(3) a statement that, in the opinion of the requester, the application to which the request is directed meets the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112; and

(4) a statement that, in the opinion of the requester, the application to which the request is directed complies with the formal requirements of this part for printing as a patent.

(c) A waiver filed with a request for a statutory invention registration will be effective, upon publication of the statutory invention registration, to waive the inventor's right to receive a patent on the invention claimed in the statutory invention registration, in any application for an original patent which is pending on, or filed after, the date of publication of the statutory invention registration. A waiver filed with a request for a statutory invention registration will not affect the rights of any other inventor even if the subject matter of the statutory invention registration and an application of another inventor are commonly owned. A waiver filed with a request for a statutory invention registration will not affect any rights in a patent to the inventor which issued prior to the date of publication of the statutory invention registration unless a reissue application is filed seeking to enlarge the scope of the claims of the patent. See also § 1.106(e). [OMB Control No. 0651-0018].

22. A new section 1.294 is added to read as follows:

§ 1.294 Examination of request for publication of a statutory invention registration and patent application to which the request is directed.

(a) Any request for a statutory invention registration will be examined to determine if the requirements of § 1.293 have been met. The application to which the request is directed will be examined to determine (1) if the subject matter of the application is appropriate for publication, (2) if the requirements for publication are met, and (3) if the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112 and § 1.293 of this part are met.

(b) Applicant will be notified of the results of the examination set forth in paragraph (a) of this section. If the requirements of § 1.293 and this section are not met by the request filed, the notification to applicant will set a period of time within which to comply with the requirements in order to avoid abandonment of the application. If the application does not meet the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, the notification to applicant will include a rejection under the appropriate provisions of 35 U.S.C. 112. The periods for response established pursuant to this section are subject to the extension of time provisions of § 1.136. After response by the applicant, the application will again be considered for publication of a statutory invention registration. If the requirements of § 1.293 and this section are not timely met, the refusal to publish will be made final. If the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112 are not met, the rejection pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 112 will be made final.

(c) If the examination pursuant to this section results in approval of the request for a statutory invention registration the applicant will be notified of the intent to publish a statutory invention registration.

23. A new section 1.295 is added to read as follows:

(a) Any requester who is dissatisfied with the final refusal to publish a statutory invention registration for reasons other than compliance with 35 U.S.C. 112 may obtain review of the refusal to publish the statutory invention registration by filing a petition to the Commissioner accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(h) within one month or such other time as is set in the decision refusing publication. Any such petition should comply with the requirements of § 1.181(b). The petition may include a request that the petition fee be refunded if the final refusal to publish a statutory invention registration for reasons other than compliance with 35 U.S.C. 112 is determined to result from an error by the Patent and Trademark Office.

(b) Any requester who is dissatisfied with a decision finally rejecting claims pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 112 may obtain review of the decision by filing an appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences pursuant to § 1.191. If the decision rejecting claims pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 112 is reversed, the request for a statutory invention registration will be approved and the registration published if all of the other provisions of § 1.293 and this section are met. [OMB Control No. 0651-0018].

24. A new section 1.296 is added to read as follows:

A request for a statutory invention registration, which has been filed, may be withdrawn prior to the date of the notice of the intent to publish a statutory invention registration issued pursuant to § 1.294(c) by filing a request to withdraw the request for publication of a statutory invention registration. The request to withdraw may also include a request for a refund of any amount paid in excess of the application filing fee and a handling fee of $100 which will be retained. Any request to withdraw the request for publication of a statutory invention registration filed on or after the date of the notice of intent to publish issued pursuant to § 1.294(c) must be in the form of a petition pursuant to § 1.183 accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(h). [OMB Control No. 0651- 0018].

25. A new section 1.297 is added to read as follows:

(a) If the request for a statutory invention registration is approved the statutory invention registration will be published. The statutory invention registration will be mailed to the requester at the correspondence address as provided for in § 1.33(a). A notice of the publication of each statutory invention registration will be published in the Official Gazette.

(b) Each statutory invention registration published will include a statement relating to the attributes of a statutory invention registration. The statement will read as follows:

A statutory invention registration published pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 157 is not a patent but it has all of the attributes specified for patents in title 35, United States Code, except those specified in 35 U.S.C. 183 and sections 271 through 289. A statutory invention registration does not have any of the attributes specified for patents in any other provision of law other than title 35, United States Code. The invention with respect to which a statutory invention registration is published is not a patented invention for purposes of the marking provisions of 35 U.S.C. 292.

26. Section 1.301 is revised to read as follows:

Any applicant or any owner of a patent involved in a reexamination proceeding dissatisfied with the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, and any party to an interference dissatisfied with the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, may appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. The appellant must take the following steps in such an appeal: (a) In the Patent and Trademark Office file a written notice of appeal directed to the Commissioner (see §§ 1.302 and 1.304); and (b) in the Court, file a copy of the notice of appeal and pay the fee for appeal, as provided by the rules of the Court. The certified list of documents and any original or certified copies of such documents required by the Court will be transmitted to the Court by the Patent and Trademark Office.

27. Section 1.302 is revised to read as follows:

(a) When an appeal is taken to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, the appellant shall give notice thereof to the Commissioner within the time specified in § 1.304.

(b) In interferences, the notice must be served as provided in § 1.646.

28. Section 1.304 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.304 Time for appeal or civil action.

(a) The time for filing the notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (§ 1.302) or for commencing a civil action (§ 1.303) is sixty days from the date of the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. If a request for reconsideration or modification of the decision is filed within the time provided under § 1.197(b) or § 1.658(b), the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire at the end of the sixty-day period or thirty days after action on the request, whichever is later. Except for an appeal from or commencing a civil action after a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in a reexamination proceeding or an interference proceeding, the time periods set forth herein are subject to the provisions of § 1.136. See § 1.550(c) for extensions of time to appeal or commence a civil action in a reexamination proceeding. See § 1.645(a) for extensions of time to appeal or commence a civil action in an interference. An examiner-in-chief, upon a showing of excusable neglect, may extend the time for seeking judicial review of a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in an interference case when a request is untimely filed after expiration of the time prescribed by this section.

* * * * *

29. Section 1.378 is amended by revising the section heading and paragraph (a) to read as follows:

(a) The Commissioner may accept the payment of any maintenance fee due on a patent after expiration of the patent if, upon petition, the delay in payment of the maintenance fee is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been unavoidable and if the surcharge required by § 1.20(m) is paid as a condition of accepting payment of the maintenance fee. If the Commissioner accepts payment of the maintenance fee upon petition, the patent shall be considered as not having expired, but will be subject to the conditions set forth in 35 U.S.C. 41(c)(2).

* * * * *

30. Section 1.431 is amended by revising paragraphs (b)(3)(iii) and (c) and by adding new paragraphs (d) and (e) to read as follows:

(iii) The name of the applicant, as prescribed (note §§ 1.421-1.424);

(c) Payment of the basic portion of the international fee (PCT Rule 15.2) and the transmittal and search fees (§ 1.445) may be made in full at the time international application papers required by paragraph (b) of this section are deposited or within one month thereafter. Failure to make full payment within one month of the deposit of the international application papers required by paragraph (b) of this section will result in the fees being charged to the International Bureau under the provisions of paragraph (d) of this section and PCT Rule 16 bis.

(d) The United States Receiving Office will charge to the International Bureau in accordance with PCT Rule 16 bis and will consider as having been timely paid:

(1) the transmittal fee, the basic fee portion of the international fee, or the search fee where these fees have not been fully paid by the applicant within one month of the date of deposit of the international application, and

(2) the destination fee, or the amount necessary to cover all the designations made in the request which have not been paid by the applicant within one year from the priority date.

(e) The International Bureau will notify applicant of any amount charged under paragraph (d) of this section and invite the applicant to pay directly to the International Bureau within one month from the date of the notification, the amount charged, augmented by a surcharge of 50%, provided the surcharge will not be less and will not be more, than the amounts indicated in the Schedule of Fees appended to the PCT Rules. If the payment needed to cover the transmittal fees, the basic fee, the search fee, one designation fee and the surcharge is not timely made to the International Bureau, the International Bureau will notify the Receiving Office which will declare the international application withdrawn under PCT Article 14(3)(a). If the applicant makes timely payment of the fees referred to in the previous sentence, but the amount paid is not sufficient to cover all the designation fees, the Receiving Office will declare any designations not paid withdrawn under PCT Article 14(3)(b) in accordance with PCT Rule 16 bis. 2(c).

31. Section 1.445 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)(4) and (5) and adding paragraph (a)(6) to read as follows:

(a) * * *

(4) The national fee, that is, the amount set forth as the filing fee under § 1.16(a) through (d) credited one time only by an amount of $250 where an international search fee of $500.00 has been paid on the corresponding international application to the United States Patent and Trademark Office as an International Searching Authority. Where the amount of the credit is in excess of that required for the national fee, a request for a refund of the excess under § 1.446(b) may be filed at the time of paying the national fee. Only one such credit is permitted based on a single $500.00 international search fee.

(5) Surcharge for filing the national fee or oath or declaration later than 20 months from the priority date $100.00

(6) For filing an English translation of an international application later than 20 months after the priority date (§ 1.61(b)) $20.00

* * * * *

32. Section 1.446 is amended by revising the section heading and paragraph (b) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(b) Refund of a portion of the search fee toward payment of the national fee may be made one time to the extent set forth in § 1.445(a)(4) if requested at the time of paying the national fee provided that a $500 search fee has been paid.

* * * * *

33. Section 1.451 is amended by revising paragraphs (b) and (c) to read as follows:

(b) Whenever the priority of an earlier United States national application is claimed in an international application, the applicant may request in a letter of transmittal accompanying the international application upon filing with the United States Receiving Office or in a separate letter filed in the Receiving Office not later than 16 months after the priority date, that the Patent and Trademark Office prepare a certified copy of the national application for transmittal to the International Bureau (PCT Article 8 and PCT Rule 17). The fee for preparing a certified copy is stated in § 1.19(a)(3) and (b)(1).

(c) If a certified copy of the priority document is not submitted together with the international application on filing, or, if the priority application was filed in the United States and a request and appropriate payment for preparation of such a certified copy do not accompany the international application on filing or are not filed within 16 months of the priority date, the certified copy of the priority document must be furnished by the applicant to the International Bureau or to the United States Receiving Office within the time limit specified in PCT Rule 17.1(a).

34. Section 1.461 is amended by deleting paragraph (b) and by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

(a) Transmittal of the record copy of the international application to the International Bureau shall be made by the United States Receiving Office.

(b) (reserved)

[1053 OG 10]

(143) Establishing Common Ownership of Patent Applications and/or Patents Owned by a Corporation or Other Organization

This notice is intended to simplify the practice of establishing common ownership of patent applications and/or patents in circumstances where the common owner is a corporation or other organization. Under 37 CFR 1.104(e), in order to establish common ownership "[i]n circumstances where the common owner is a corporation or other organization an affidavit or declaration may be signed by an official of the corporation or organization empowered to act on behalf of the corporation or organization." A mere power of attorney to prosecute a patent application does not make an individual an official of a corporation or organization or empower the individual to act on behalf of the corporation or organization in making an affidavit or declaration averring to common ownership. However, such an affidavit could be made by a patent attorney, patent agent, or other individual if the attorney, agent, or other individual has been appointed in writing by the corporation or organization as an official of the corporation or organization specifically empowered to make affidavits or declarations on its behalf averring to common ownership. In circumstances where such a written appointment has been given to a patent attorney, patent agent, or other individual, that person could then make affidavits or declarations averring to common ownership as long as the affidavit or declaration referred to an attached copy of the written appointment and averred that the authority is still in effect. Under this practice the original signed copy of the written appointment would be retained by the affiant or declarant unless the Patent and Trademark Office specifically required it to be filed. Unless some question arose as to the authority of the individual to make the averment as to common ownership, the Patent and Trademark Office would ordinarily not need to require the original signed copy of the written appointment. While this practice should simplify the establishing of common ownership by necessitating only one original signed written appointment, corporations and other organizations must exercise care that the written appointment is only given to those persons who are in a position to know that common ownership does in fact exist and can therefore properly make affirmative representations to that effect to the Patent and Trademark Office.

(144) U.S. Department of Commerce Patent and Trademark Office Special Status for Patent Applications Relating to Superconductivity

In his Remarks of July 28, 1987, to the Federal Conference On Commercial Applications of Superconductivity, the President stated that "We need to strengthen patent laws to increase protection for manufacturing processes and speed up the patent process so that it can keep pace with the fast-paced world of high technology." The President also noted that "to most of us laymen, superconductivity was a completely new term, but it wasn't long before we learned of the great promise it held out to alter our world for the better — a quantum leap in energy efficiency that would bring with it a host of benefits, not least among them a reduced dependence on foreign oil, a cleaner environment, and a stronger national economy." The President's Superconductivity Initiative of even date included, as a major administrative component, a proposal "Directing the Patent and Trademark Office to accelerate the processing of patent applications and adjudication of disputes involving superconductivity technologies when requested by the applicants to do so."

In accordance with the President's proposal, the Patent and Trademark Office will, on request, accord "special" status to all patent applications for inventions involving superconductive materials. Examples of such inventions would include those directed to the superconductive materials themselves as well as to their manufacture and application. In order that the Patent and Trademark Office may implement this procedure, we invite all applicants desiring to participate in this program to request that their applications be accorded "special" status. Such requests should be in writing, should identify the application by serial number and filing date, and should be accompanied by a statement under 37 CFR 1.102 that the invention involves superconductive materials. No fee is required. The statement must be verified if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office. Decisions whether to accord "special" status on the basis of a request will be made by the appropriate Group Director.

Requests should be addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(145) Preparation for Processing High Temperature Superconductor Technology

In response to the President's Superconductivity Initiative announced on July 28, 1987 and with the expectation of the filing of increasing numbers of patent applications relating to higher temperature superconductors, the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office has taken a number of steps to prepare for the effective handling of applications on this subject matter.

These actions include (1) establishing a special Task Force to prepare for the processing of patent applications for higher temperature superconductor technology; (2) making patent applications relating to this technology special on request of the applicant and (3) renewing support for legislation providing for an expanded scope of protection for process patents to cover products made by the patented process.

The responsibilities of the Task Force are to (1) coordinate the development of a Patent and Trademark Office capability to examine the expected large number of patent applications in this area and (2) provide an information resource and sounding board for legal and practice questions and policy development in this area. The Task Force has been assigned a number of specific tasks, such as developing a complete search file on superconductivity technology for the use of Examiners and the public, establishing a training program for examiners on the technology and assuring a uniform and consistent application of the patent law to the technology in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

Miscellaneous Amendments of Patent Rules

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending its rules of practice in patent cases, Parts 1 and 5 of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, (1) to bring the rule relating to swearing back of a reference into conformity with current interference practice; (2) to require that the appellant's brief in an ex parte appeal contain certain specific items; (3) to reset the time period for requesting an oral hearing in ex parte appeals where the examiner's answer states a new ground of rejection; (4) to clarify the procedure following a rejection after a remand to the examiner under § 1.196(b)(1); (5) to give the examiner-in-chief the authority to decide certain requests for access by an interference party; (6) to clarify the rule relating to access to pending or abandoned applications; (7) to modify the rules concerning requests for interference with an application or patent; (8) to amplify the rule concerning the requirements of a motion to declare an additional interference; (9) to make more comprehensive the rule concerning the filing of a reissue application by a patentee involved in an interference; and (10) to conform the rule concerning applications under secrecy order to current interference practice.
Effective Date: Sept. 12, 1988. Amended Sections 1.191, 1.192 and 1.193 apply to ex parte appeals in which the notice of appeal under § 1.191 was filed on or after Sept. 12, 1988.
For Further Information Contact: Saul I. Serota by telephone at (703) 557-4072 or Ian A. Calvert by telephone at (703) 557-4000 or by mail marked to the attention of either and addressed to Box Interference, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Background

A notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register at 52 Fed. Reg. 36736-36743 (Sept. 30, 1987) and at 1083 Official Gazette 19-26 (Oct. 13, 1987).

An oral hearing was held on Dec. 9, 1987. Twenty-nine written comments were received, and four persons testified at the oral hearing. Responses to these comments are incorporated in the following discussion of specific rules.

Discussion of Specific Rules

(1) Swearing Back of a Reference

The Patent and Trademark Office published the final rule amending the rules of practice in patent interference cases in the Federal Register at 49 Fed. Reg. 48416-48471 (Dec. 12, 1984) and at 1050 Official Gazette 385-440 (Jan. 29, 1985). Included in the rules adopted was § 1.601(n), which defines "same patentable invention."

Section 1.131(a), as amended, inserts "the same patentable invention, as defined in § 1.601(n), as" before the phrase "the rejected invention." The amendment does not change the present practice where the inventor of the rejected claim, the owner of a patent under reexamination, or the person qualified under §§ 1.42, 1.43 or 1.47 can swear behind a domestic patent which discloses but does not claim the same invention as the rejected invention, a foreign patent or a printed publication. Rather, the amendment is necessary to define precisely the term "does not claim the rejected invention." See In re Eickmeyer, 602 F.2d 974, 979, 202 USPQ 655, 661 (CCPA 1979) where the Court stated:

> . . . we conclude that the phrase "does not claim the rejected invention" should be construed favorably to an applicant, if possible, so that unless the applicant is clearly claiming the same invention as the U.S. patent reference, he will not lose his rights under Rule 131. [Emphasis added.]

and also expressed its dissatisfaction with the PTO for

> . . . leaving an applicant in a position where he cannot overcome the reference claims by a 131 affidavit because the PTO has decided that the reference claims his invention, while at the same time, he is denied an interference because the PTO has decided that the claims of his application and those of the reference are not for substantially the same invention.

Possibly because of this decision, some patent practitioners may have been of the opinion that an affidavit under 37 CFR 1.131 can be used to overcome a rejection on a domestic patent so long as there is no verbatim correspondence between the claims of the application or the patent under reexamination rejected on that domestic patent and the claims of the domestic patent.

Such an opinion would not be in accord with the law expressed in cases such as In re Clark, 457 F.2d 1004, 173 USPQ 359 (CCPA 1972); In re Hidy, 303 F.2d 954, 133 USPQ 650 (CCPA 1962); In re Teague, 254 F.2d 145, 117 USPQ 284 (CCPA 1958); and In re Ward, 236 F.2d 428, 111 USPQ 101 (CCPA 1956). In In re Hidy, supra, 303 F.2d at 957, 133 USPQ at 652, the Court stated:

> A Rule 131 affidavit is ineffective to overcome a United States patent, not only where there is a verbatim correspondence between claims of the application and of the patent, but also where there is no patentable distinction between the respective claims. In re Wagenhorst, 20 CCPA 829, 62 F.2d 831, 16 USPQ 126; In re Teague, 45 CCPA 877, 254 F.2d 145, 117 USPQ 284.

If the application (or patent under reexamination) and the domestic patent contain claims which are identical, or which are not patentably distinct, then the application and patent are claiming the "same patentable invention," defined by § 1.601(n) as follows:

> Invention "A" is the "same patentable invention" as an invention "B" when invention "A" is the same as (35 U.S.C. 102) or is obvious (35 U.S.C. 103) in view of invention "B" assuming invention "B" is prior art with respect to invention "A".

As provided in § 1.601(i), an interference may be declared whenever an examiner is of the opinion that an application and a patent contain claims for the "same patentable invention." The purpose of the amendment to § 1.131(a) is to insure that an applicant who is claiming an invention which is identical to, or obvious in view of, i.e., the same patentable invention as claimed in a domestic patent, cannot employ an affidavit under § 1.131 as a means for avoiding an interference with the patent. To allow an applicant to do so would result in the issuance of two patents to the same invention.

Two commenters suggested that § 1.131 be amended to require that an interference be declared if an affidavit or declaration under the rule cannot be used; another suggested that the examiner be required to consider the § 1.131 affidavit or declaration if an interference is not declared. These suggestions are not being adopted. As discussed above, an affidavit or declaration under § 1.131 may be used whenever the inventions claimed by the reference patent (not a statutory bar) and the application would not interfere. However, the rule could not properly be amended to require that an interference always be declared if the patent and application claims interfere, because even if the claims interfere an interference will not be declared unless the applicant first meets the requirements of 37 CFR 1.608(a) or (b). Section 1.608(b) requires an applicant whose showing is based on priority of invention to file affidavits by "one or more corroborating witnesses," whereas § 1.131 does not. Compare Kistler v. Weber, 412 F.2d 280, 162 USPQ 214 (CCPA 1969).

One commenter asserted that an applicant should be able to "pursue the swearing back of a reference while not restricting the PTO in declaring an interference." However, the PTO is not restricted from declaring an interference if an affidavit or declaration under § 1.131 is filed. The purpose of the rule change is to more clearly define when such an affidavit or declaration can be used.

Section 1.131(b), as amended, inserts in the first sentence thereof the language, "prior to" before the words "said date." This amendment makes clear that the showing of facts under § 1.131(b) must establish due diligence from a date prior to the effective date of the reference to affiant's subsequent reduction to practice or to the filing of his application as set forth in In re Mulder, 716 F.2d 1542, 219 USPQ 189 (Fed. Cir. 1983).

(2) Appellant's Brief and Reply Brief

A. Limitation on Length

The proposed limitations on briefs and reply briefs to 30 and 15 pages, respectively, together with the proposal that non-complying briefs and reply briefs be returned to the appellant, are not being adopted, in view of the overwhelming opposition of the majority of the commenters. While the PTO is still concerned about the filing of excessively lengthy briefs, it is hoped that the effect of the proposed rules in focusing the attention of the patent bar on this issue, together with the newly-adopted requirements of § 1.192(c), will help to alleviate the problem.

B. Contents of the Main Brief

Section 1.192, as amended, adds paragraphs (c) and (d). Paragraph (c) remains as proposed, except that item (5) has been revised and the title of item (7) has been changed. The first sentence of proposed paragraph (d) has been rewritten in response to numerous comments to the effect that dismissal of the appeal for failure to include any of the items required by paragraph (c), in the order specified in paragraph (c), would be too harsh a penalty.

Paragraph (c) requires that the brief contain, in order, seven specific items. This requirement arose from the recommendations of a committee which was appointed by the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks in 1986 to study and report on alternatives for reducing the backlog of ex parte appeals at the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences (Board). One of the committee's recommendations was that § 1.192 be amended to require that the appellant's brief include certain items. Items (3), (4), (5) and (6) of § 1.192(c) are based upon the committee's recommendations. The committee indicated that the inclusion of those items in the brief would crystallize the issues involved in the appeal. By eliminating inadequate briefs, the Board will not need to engage in what might be called "de novo" examination of a patent application, but rather can confine its activities to review of the appealed rejections.

The committee also recommended that certain items be required to be included in the examiner's answer. The Manual of Patent Examining Procedure will be amended to require that the examiner's answer contain these and other items, substantially as indicated in Appendix A.

In addition to the committee's recommendations, some of the items are supported by the evaluation of selected practices conducted as a part of the PTO's Quality Reinforcement Program. A summary of the results of that evaluation is published at 1078 Official Gazette 22 (May 19, 1987).

The specific items required by § 1.192(c) are:

(1) A statement of the status of all the claims in the application, or patent under reexamination, i.e., for each claim in the case, appellant should state whether it is cancelled, allowed, rejected, etc. Each claim on appeal must be identified.

(2) A statement of the status of any amendment filed subsequent to final rejection, i.e., whether or not the amendment has been acted upon by the examiner, and if so, whether it was entered, denied entry, or entered in part. In response to one comment, it is noted that this statement will of course be of the status of the amendment as understood by the appellant.

Items (1) and (2) are included in § 1.192(c) because in the past confusion has sometimes arisen as to which claims are on appeal, and the precise wording of those claims, particularly where the appellant has sought to amend claims after final rejection. The inclusion of items (1) and (2) in the brief will advise the examiner of what the appellant considers the status of the claims and post-final rejection amendments to be, allowing any disagreement on these questions to be resolved before the appeal is taken up for decision by the Board.

(3) A concise explanation of the invention defined in the claims involved in the appeal. This explanation is required to refer to the specification by page and line number, and, if there is a drawing, to the drawing by reference characters. Where applicable, it would be preferable to read the appealed claims on the specification and any drawing.

Two commenters felt that the requirement that the specification be referred to by page and line should be optional; another, that referring to the specification and drawings might limit the claims; and others, that reference to page and line of the specification would make the explanation less concise. Nevertheless, while reference to page and line of the specification may require somewhat more detail than simply summarizing the invention, it is considered important to enable the Board to more quickly determine where the claimed subject matter is described in the application. Since the claims are read in light of the disclosure, it is not apparent how compliance with this requirement would limit the claims.

(4) A concise statement of the issues presented for review. Each stated issue should correspond to a separate ground of rejection which appellant wishes the Board to review. While the statement of the issues must be concise, it should not be so concise as to omit the basis of each issue. For example, the statement of an issue as "Whether claims 1 and 2 are unpatentable" would not comply with § 1.192(c)(4). Rather, the basis of the alleged unpatentability must be stated, e.g., "Whether claims 1 and 2 are unpatentable under 35 U.S.C. 103 over Smith in view of Jones," or "Whether claims 1 and 2 are unpatentable under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as being based on a non-enabling disclosure." The statement should be limited to the issues presented, and should not include any argument concerning the merits of those issues.

Two commenters suggested that the term "issues" in § 1.192 (c)(4) be replaced by "rejections," as being more in agreement with the explanation in the preceding paragraph. However, the term "issues" is considered preferable, because some rejections may encompass multiple issues. For example, a rejection for failure to comply with 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, might include the issues of no written description, nonenabling disclosure, and lack of best mode. Specifying each of these as a separate issue would be more informative than including them all in a single statement of the rejection.

(5) If an appealed ground of rejection applies to more than one claim and appellant considers the rejected claims to be separately patentable, § 1.192(c)(5) requires appellant to state that the claims do not stand or fall together, and to present in the appropriate part or parts of the argument under § 1.192(c)(6) the reasons why they are considered separately patentable. The absence of such a statement will be taken by the PTO as a concession by the appellant that, if the ground of rejection is sustained as to any one of the rejected claims, it will be equally applicable to all of them. Section 1.192(c)(5) continues the current practice of the Board, and is consistent with the practice of the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit indicated in such cases as In re Sernaker, 702 F.2d 989, 217 USPQ 1 (Fed. Cir. 1983), and In re King, 801 F.2d 1324, 231 USPQ 136 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

One commenter recommended that this provision be deleted, because the grouping of claims would be "redundant in view of the arguments presented in the Brief and/or prior prosecution," and such grouping may estop the patentee in subsequent litigation from showing the patentable distinctness of claims within a group. Another commenter suggested that the rule be modified to state that appellant can waive arguments for patentability as to claims solely for the purpose of simplifying issues for appeal, without giving rise to any permanent inference therefrom. These recommendations are not adopted. One reason for incorporating § 1.192(c)(5) is that it is often not clear whether or not appellant is urging that certain rejected claims are separately patentable. It is not apparent why any estoppel which may result from requiring a clear statement of appellant's position should or would differ from that which may presently result from a failure to argue that claims are separately patentable.

Another commenter asserted that § 1.192(c)(5) elevates form over substance, and improperly tries to resolve the patentability of claims on formal grounds, rather than on the merits of the individual claims. What this comment seems to say is that the patentability of each claim should be determined separately, even if not argued separately. This is, however, not the current practice, as discussed above.

Two commenters suggested either that the requirement for "reasons" be deleted from § 1.192(c)(5), or that the subsection be deleted entirely. They contended that any such "reasons" should appear in the "Argument" section (§ 1.192(c)(6)), and their repetition in § 1.192(c)(5) is redundant. These suggestions have been adopted in part. Proposed § 1.192(c)(5) required the inclusion of "reasons" in order to avoid unsupported assertions of separate patentability. The requirement of "reasons" has therefore been retained, but § 1.192(c)(5) now specifies that they be included in the appropriate portion of the "Argument" section of the brief. For example, if claims 1 to 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 and appellant considers claim 4 to be separately patentable from claims 1 to 3, he should so state in the "Grouping of claims" section of the brief, and then give the reasons for separate patentability in the 35 U.S.C. 102 portion of the "Argument" section (i.e., under § 1.192(c)(6)(iii)).

(6) The appellant's contentions with respect to each of the issues presented for review in § 1.192(c)(4), and the basis for those contentions, including citations of authorities, statutes, and parts of the record relied on. Included in this paragraph are five subparagraphs, (i) to (v). Subparagraphs (i) to (iv) concern the grounds of rejection most commonly involved in ex parte appeals, namely, 35 U.S.C. 112, first and second paragraphs, 35 U.S.C. 102, and 35 U.S.C. 103. Subparagraph (v) is a general provision concerning grounds of rejection not covered by subparagraphs (i) to (iv).

The purpose of subparagraphs (i) to (iv) is to insure that the appellant's argument concerning each appealed ground of rejection will include a discussion of the questions relevant to that ground. It is believed that compliance with the requirements of the particular subparagraphs which are pertinent to the grounds of rejection involved in an appeal will be beneficial both to the PTO and to appellants. It will not only facilitate a decision by the Board by enabling the Board to determine more quickly and precisely the appellant's position on the relevant issues, but also will help appellants to focus their arguments on those issues.

For each rejection not falling under subparagraphs (i) to (iv), subparagraph (v) provides that the argument should specify the specific limitations in the rejected claims, if appropriate, or other reasons, which cause the rejection to be in error. This language recognizes that for some grounds of rejection, it may not be necessary to specify particular claim limitations; for example, a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 101, as in Ex parte Hibberd, 227 USPQ 443 (BPAI 1985), or a rejection for violation of the duty of disclosure under 37 CFR 1.56(d), as in Ex parte Harita, 1 USPQ2d 1887 (BPAI 1986).

One commenter proposed that the provisions of parts (i) to (iv) should be optional, rather than mandatory. The PTO does not agree. One of the primary purposes of the present amendment of the rules is to require appellants to come to grips with the fundamental questions involved in determining patentability under 35 U.S.C. 102, 103 and 112. To make these provisions optional would defeat that purpose. Although parts (i) to (v) may, in the words of another commenter, "in essence merely parrot the relevant section of Title 35," experience of the PTO suggests that including them in the requirements for ex parte briefs is not "completely unnecessary." For similar reasons, the PTO does not favor the adoption of appropriate portions of Rule 13 of the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and Rule 28 of the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure, as this commenter proposed.

The latter commenter proposed as an alternative that parts (i) to (v) should be amended to, in effect, provide that the appellant must either specify the errors in the rejection or explain how the claims comply with the relevant section of the statute, rather than doing both, which may be unnecessary and create "harmful and unnecessary prosecution history estoppel" by requiring a discussion of issues not raised by the examiner. This proposal has not been adopted. Giving an appellant the option of not explaining how the claims comply with the statute would perpetuate one of the problems the rule is designed to solve.

One commenter contended that § 1.192(c)(6)(i) and (ii) improperly place on an appellant the burden of showing how the rejected claims comply with 35 U.S.C. 112. It should be remembered, however, that in the rejection from which the appeal is taken the examiner has already stated why the claims are considered unpatentable. Once this has been done, the appellant must demonstrate to the Board that the rejection is erroneous. The requirements of § 1.192(c)(6)(i) and (ii) are therefore not improper or unreasonable.

Another commenter suggested that item (B) of § 1.192(c)(6)(i) should be divided into two parts: "how-to-make" and "how-to-use." This is not considered necessary. § 1.192(c)(6)(i) states that the argument include, "as appropriate," items (A), (B) and (C). If the rejection were for failure of the disclosure to enable one skilled in the art to make the claimed subject matter, then the argument would not have to specify how the disclosure enabled use of the subject matter, and vice versa.

A commenter suggested that the language of the first sentence of § 1.192(c)(6)(iv) is misleading, and that the second and third sentences should be deleted. The commenter asserts that for a valid rejection the subject matter of the invention as a whole must be rendered obvious, in accordance with the test set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), and suggests that § 1.192(c)(6)(iv) be modified to require that the argument follow the analysis method of the Graham decision. These proposals have not been adopted. The language of § 1.192(c)(6)(iv) is based on the statute. Nothing therein is intended to change the law, or to preclude an appellant from basing arguments on the case law. The purpose of the language is to attempt to focus the argument on the specific issues of the particular case at hand, and to avoid arguments based entirely on broad generalities. The third sentence is included because it has been observed that in a number of cases appellants ignore the secondary references applied by the examiner, and argue a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103 as though it were a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102.

Pursuant to one comment, the title of § 1.192(c)(7) has been changed to "Appendix."

One commenter urged that the rule should not require that the copy of the claims be located at any particular place in the brief. This proposal is not adopted, as it is considered desirable that the examiner and the Board be able to locate the copy of the claims quickly by placing it in a common position in all briefs.

Two commenters expressed the concern that § 1.192(c) does not permit the inclusion in a brief of any items other than the seven items specified. Other commenters suggested that other items be included, such as a list of the references, table of contents, table of cases, etc. It should be emphasized that § 1.192(c) merely specifies the minimum requirements for a brief, and does not prohibit the inclusion of any other material which an appellant may consider necessary or desirable. A brief is in compliance with § 1.192(c) as long as it includes items (1) to (7) in the order set forth (with the appendix, item (7), at the end).

Paragraph (d) provides that if a brief is filed which does not comply with all the requirements of paragraph (c), the appellant will be notified of the reasons for non-compliance and given a period of one month within which to file an amended brief. The appeal will be dismissed if the appellant does not file an amended brief within the one-month period, or files an amended brief which does not overcome all the reasons for non-compliance of which he or she was notified.

Several commenters proposed that the Board, rather than the examiner, should be the arbiter of whether a brief complies with § 1.192(c). These proposals have not been adopted. The question of whether a brief complies with a rule is a matter within the jurisdiction of the examiner. Moreover, adoption of these proposals would require the application file to be sent to the Board to review the brief, then returned to the examiner for the examiner's answer. Such a procedure would not only cause unnecessary delays, but would contravene one of the purposes of § 1.192(c) by increasing the workload of the Board. Under § 1.192(d), as adopted, the appellant may file an amended brief to correct any deficiencies in the original. Moreover, if appellant disagrees with the examiner's holding of non-compliance, a petition under 37 CFR 1.181 may be filed.

Paragraph (d) also adds the following sentence:

> Any arguments or authorities not included in the brief may be refused consideration by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

This sentence emphasizes that all arguments and authorities which an appellant wishes the Board to consider should be included in the brief. It should be noted that arguments not presented in the brief and made for the first time at oral hearing are not normally entitled to consideration. In re Chiddix, 209 USPQ 78 (Comr. 1980); Rosenblum v. Hiroshima, 220 USPQ 383 (Comr. 1983). A number of commenters were concerned that this sentence of § 1.192(d) would preclude the filing of a supplemental paper if a new argument or authority should become available or relevant after the brief was filed. No such result is intended. The sentence in question uses the word "may" to leave open the possibility that the Board has leeway to consider arguments or authorities not included in the brief under circumstances where the failure to include them can be justified. Examples of such circumstances would be where a pertinent decision of a court or other tribunal was not published until after the brief was filed, or where a particular argument or authority was not applicable to any of the grounds of rejection in the final rejection, but was relevant to a new point of argument raised in the examiner's answer.

C. Contents of Reply Brief

Section 1.193(b), as amended, inserts the following as the second and third sentences:

> The new points of argument shall be specifically identified in the reply brief. If the examiner determines that the reply brief is not directed only to new points of argument raised in the examiner's answer, the examiner may refuse entry of the reply brief and will so notify the appellant.

Since the reply brief must be limited to any new points of argument raised in the examiner's answer, compliance with the requirement of the second sentence should facilitate both preparation of the reply brief by appellant and consideration of the reply brief by the PTO. The reply brief is appropriately limited to new points of argument raised in the examiner's answer because appellants have an obligation to present arguments supporting their positions in their opening briefs. Considering an argument advanced for the first time in a reply brief would not only delay the proceeding, but also would entail the risk of an improvident or ill-advised opinion on the legal issues tendered. Von Brimer v. Whirlpool Corp., 536 F.2d 838, 846, 190 USPQ 528, 534 (9th Cir. 1976).

The final sentence of § 1.193(b), as amended, provides that the reply may be accompanied by, rather than include, any amendment or material appropriate to the new ground of rejection. This change in the rule makes clear that the amendment or other material must be presented in a separate paper, rather than in the reply itself.

A number of commenters proposed that the Board, not the examiner, should determine whether or not the reply brief is directed only to new points raised in the examiner's answer. In essence they feel that the examiner is not in a position to fairly judge whether a reply brief complies with the rule. These proposals have not been adopted. Section 1.193(b) requires that the appellant be notified if the reply brief is not entered because of non-compliance with the rule, and an appellant who disagrees with that ruling may seek review by way of a petition under 37 CFR 1.181. This is essentially no different than the procedure currently followed (see Manual of Patent Examining Procedure, § 1208.01, p. 1200-9, 5th Ed., Rev. 7 (Dec. 1987)).

One commenter suggested that the examiner's answer be eliminated; another, that the examiner should have to file the examiner's answer first. These are both beyond the scope of the present proposal, and have not been adopted.

(3) Time Period for Requesting an Oral Hearing

Section 1.194(b), as amended, adds the following sentence after the first sentence:

> If the examiner's answer states a new ground of rejection and if appellant files a reply as provided by § 1.193(b), then the written request must be made within three months after the date of the filing of the reply.

The present rule does not provide the appellant with an additional time period for requesting an oral hearing in the event that the examiner's answer states a new ground of rejection. If the answer states a new ground of rejection, § 1.193(b) provides that appellant's reply may also include any amendment or material appropriate to the new ground of rejection. However, under § 1.194(b) appellant must file the request for oral hearing within one month after the date of the answer whereas the reply thereto must be filed within two months from the date of the answer. Consequently, appellant must file a request for oral hearing before having the benefit of the examiner's views, if any, with respect to the reply.

Although the examiner does not normally issue a supplemental answer in response to a reply, see Manual of Patent Examining Procedure, supra, § 1208.01, the amendment to § 1.194(b) permits the appellant to postpone filing a request for an oral hearing until three months after the date the reply is filed. This will give the appellant time to receive the examiner's response, if any, to the reply before the appellant has to decide whether to request an oral hearing.

One commenter suggested that whenever the examiner makes a new ground of rejection in the examiner's answer and appellant files a reply brief, a supplemental examiner's answer should be required, and appellant then be permitted to file a supplemental reply thereto. This suggestion has not been adopted. Under present practice (see Manual of Patent Examinq Procedure, supra) the examiner includes a new ground of rejection in the examiner's answer, rather than reopening ex parte prosecution, only under circumstances where the PTO has determined that the appellant will not be unfairly prejudiced, e.g., where the reference is not basic and materially better in meeting all the claims, and the requirements for making an action final are met. This sufficiently protects the rights of the appellant, while at the same time preventing the addition of a further round of papers to the file.

(4) Procedure Followinq Final Rejection, Remand Under § 1.196(b)

Section 1.196(b)(1), as amended, adds the following sentence as the penultimate sentence of the section:

> Should the examiner repeat the rejection the applicant may again appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

Under § 1.196(b), the Board may, in its decision on an ex parte appeal, make a new rejection of one or more appealed claims, in which case the appellant has the option of (1) submitting an appropriate amendment of the rejected claims, and/or a showing of facts, (2) requesting reconsideration, or (3) treating the decision as a final decision. If the appellant elects option (1), the case is remanded to the examiner for consideration. If the examiner does not consider that the amendment and/or showing of facts overcome the rejection, he or she will again reject the claims; if appropriate, the rejection will be made final.

An applicant in whose application such a final rejection has been made by the examiner may mistakenly believe that he or she is entitled to review by the Board of the rejection by virtue of the fact that the application was previously on appeal. The amendment corrects this belief by making clear that after such a rejection, an applicant who desires further review of the matter must file a new appeal to the Board. The language of the amendment is similar to the fourth sentence of § 1.196(d).

The proposed amendment to § 1.196(b)(l) began "Should the examiner make the rejection final," but as one commenter pointed out, 35 U.S.C 134 permits an appeal to the Board of claims which have been twice rejected. Since the claims referred to in § 1.196(b)(1) would have been twice rejected (once by the Board and once by the examiner), the examiner's rejection could be appealed even if not made final. The beginning of the amendment has therefore been changed to "Should the examiner again reject the application."

This commenter also asserted that § 1.196(b)(l) is ambiguous, in that it implies that a separate fee would be due for the subsequent appeal, "an interpretation contrary to 35 U.S.C. 134." The PTO considers that the statute requires a separate fee for such an appeal. In the § 1.196(b) situation, the appellant has already filed an appeal, paid the fee, and received a decision thereon by the Board. Any rejection under § 1.196(b) included in the Board's decision would be, according to the rule, on "any grounds not involved in the appeal." Thus, an appeal from the subsequent rejection by the examiner would be an entirely new appeal involving a different ground and would require a new notice of appeal and the payment of another fee.

(5) Request for Access by Interference Party

Section l.612(a), as amended, adds the following sentence as the last sentence of the section:

> A party seeking access to any abandoned or pending application referred to in the opposing party's involved application or access to any pending application referred to in the opposing party's patent must file a motion under § 1.635. The amendment requires an interference party seeking access either to a pending or abandoned application referred to in an opposing party's involved application or to a pending application referred to in an opposing party's involved patent to file a motion under 37 CFR 1.635. Such a motion is decided by an examiner-in-chief (§ 1.640(b)).

Under the present practice, access can only be obtained by filing an ex parte petition to the Commissioner accompanied by the petition fee set forth in § 1.17(i) and normally no decision is rendered on the petition until after the opposing party has had an opportunity to respond to the petition. The amendment expedites the interference proceeding by eliminating the delays inherent in the petition process. By requiring the party seeking access to file a motion under § 1.635, that party will first have to confer with the opposing party in an effort to resolve the issue of access as required by § 1.637(b). The examiner-in-chief will not have to decide the issue unless it cannot be resolved by the parties.

(6) Access to Applications

Section 1.14(e), as amended, deletes the word "of" from the phrase "or of any papers relating thereto" and adds a reference to § 1.612(a) by adding the following sentence as the last sentence thereof:

> See § 1.612(a) for access by an interference party to a pending or an abandoned application.

Section 1.14(e) as presently worded appears to limit a request by a member of the public to copies of, but not access to, any papers relating to any pending or abandoned application. Any such limitation was unintentional. The amended language will permit a member of the public to request both access to and copies of those papers.

(7) Request for Interference with an Application or Patent

Sections 1.604(a) and 1.607(a), as amended, provide for the situation in which a patent applicant requests an interference with another application or patent, respectively, on the basis of one or more claims which are already present in his or her application. The present rules require that when an applicant seeks an interference with another application or an unexpired patent, he or she must present a claim corresponding to the proposed count. The amended rules eliminate this requirement if a claim or claims corresponding to the proposed count are already in the application, and the applicant identifies them as such.

(8) Motion to Declare Additional Interference

Section 1.637(e)(1)(vi), as amended, requires that a motion to declare an additional interference under 37 CFR 1.633(e)(1) between an additional application not involved in the interference and owned by a party and an opponent's application or patent involved in the interference either (1) designate the claims of the opponent's application or patent which define the same patentable invention defined by the proposed count, or (2), if the opponent's application does not contain any such claim, the moving party must propose a claim to be added to the opponent's application. The present § 1.637(e)(2)(vi) includes requirement (1), but only infers alternative requirement (2). The amended section specifically includes both requirements.

(9) Filinq of Reissue Application Durinq Interference

Section 1.662(b), as amended, inserts a comma after "§ 1.633(h)" and adds the language "or would not be appropriate" at the end of the last sentence. The present rule contemplates that a reissue application may be filed by a patentee involved in an interference only for one of two reasons: either for the purpose of avoiding the interference, or for some other purpose relating to the interference, e.g., to add claims corresponding to a proposed new count. In the first case, judgment would be entered against the patentee, and in the second case, a motion under § 1.633(h) to add the reissue application to the interference would be appropriate.

However, it has been found that a patentee involved in an interference may file a reissue application for some other reason not contemplated by the rule, and for which the entry of judgment or a motion under § 1.633(h) would not be appropriate. For example, the patentee might file a reissue application for the purpose of amending claims of the patent which are directed to an invention which is patentably distinct from the issue of the interference and which is not disclosed by the opposing party. In such a situation, addition of the reissue application to the interference would be unnecessary. The amendment of § 1.662(b) accommodates this third possibility by providing that, instead of filing a motion under § 1.633(h) to add the reissue application to the interference, a patentee can show good cause why such a motion would not be appropriate under the particular circumstances involved.

(10) Applications Under Secrecy Order

Section 5.3(b), as amended, deletes the language "under secrecy order copies claims from an issued patent" and inserts in its place the language "is under secrecy order seeks to provoke an interference with an issued patent" to make the section's language consistent with that of § 1.607(d). In addition, the reference to "§ 1.205(c)66 is corrected to read "§ 1.607(d)".

Postponement of Amendment of Interference Estoppel Rule

The notice of proposed rulemaking included proposed amendments of 37 CFR 1.658(c) concerning the effect of a judgment in an interference. In response to requests by a number of commenters for further time to study the effect of the proposed amendments, the proposal will not be implemented at this time. A proposed amendment of § 1.658(c) will be published later; in the meantime, interested parties are invited to submit their comments and suggestions.

Accordingly, present § 1.658(c) remains in effect.

Environmental, Energy and Other Considerations

This rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or conservation of energy resources.

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce certified to the Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)), because it is intended to expedite the disposition of appeals and to simplify by clarification and amplification certain of the rules governing the conduct of an interference. The expedited disposition of appeals will permit the small entity to make earlier business decisions which may be affected by a pending appeal. The effect of the clarification and amplification of the rules relating to interferences will be to reduce the costs associated with involvement in an interference.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The Patent and Trademark Office has also determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the national government and the states as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

This rule does not contain a collection of information subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Parts 1 and 5

Administrative practice and procedure, Authority delegations (government agencies), Conflict of interests, Courts, Inventions and patents, Lawyers.

Pursuant to the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6, Parts 1 and 5 of Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations are amended as set forth below.

Part 1—RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.14 is amended by revising paragraph (e) to read as follows: § 1.14 Patent applications preserved in secrecy.

* * * * *

(e) Any request by a member of the public seeking access to, or copies of, any pending or abandoned application preserved in secrecy pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, or any papers relating thereto, must (1) be in the form of a petition and be accompanied by the petition fee set forth in § 1.17(i) or (2) include written authority granting access to the member of the public in that particular application from the applicant or the applicant's assignee or attorney or agent of record. See § 1.612(a) for access by an interference party to a pending or abandoned application.

3. Section 1.131 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) to read as follows:

(a) When any claim of an application or a patent under reexamination is rejected on reference to a domestic patent which substantially shows or describes but does not claim the same patentable invention, as defined in § 1.601(n), as the rejected invention, or on reference to a foreign patent or to a printed publication, and the inventor of the subject matter of the rejected claim, the owner of the patent under reexamination, or the person qualified under §§ 1.42, 1.43 or 1.47, shall make oath or declaration as to facts showing a completion of the invention in this country before the filing date of the application on which the domestic patent issued, or before the date of the foreign patent, or before the date of the printed publication, then the patent or publication cited shall not bar the grant of a patent to the inventor or the confirmation of the patentability of the claims of the patent, unless the date of such patent or printed publication is more than one year prior to the date on which the inventor's or patent owner's application was filed in this country.

(b) The showing of facts shall be such, in character and weight, as to establish reduction to practice prior to the effective date of the reference, or conception of the invention prior to the effective date of the reference coupled with due diligence from prior to said date to a subsequent reduction to practice or to the filing of the application. Original exhibits of drawings or records, or photocopies thereof, must accompany and form part of the affidavit or declaration or their absence satisfactorily explained.

4. Section 1.192 is amended by revising paragraph (a) and adding new paragraphs (c) and (d) to read as follows:

(a) The appellant shall, within 2 months from the date of the notice of appeal under § 1.191 in an application, reissue application, or patent under reexamination, or within the time allowed for response to the action appealed from, if such time is later, file a brief in triplicate. The brief must be accompanied by the requisite fee set forth in § 1.17(f) and must set forth the authorities and arguments on which the appellant will rely to maintain the appeal.

* * * * *

(c) The brief shall contain the following items under appropriate headings and in the order here indicated:

(1) Status of Claims. A statement of the status of all the claims, pending or cancelled, and identifying the claims appealed.

(2) Status of Amendments. A statement of the status of any amendment filed subsequent to final rejection.

(3) Summary of Invention. A concise explanation of the invention defined in the claims involved in the appeal, which shall refer to the specification by page and line number, and to the drawing if any, by reference characters.

(4) Issues. A concise statement of the issues presented for review.

(5) Groupinq of Claims. For each ground of rejection which appellant contests and which applies to more than one claim, it will be presumed that the rejected claims stand or fall together unless a statement is included that the rejected claims do not stand or fall together, and in the appropriate part or parts of the argument under subparagraph (c)(6) of this section appellant presents reasons as to why appellant considers the rejected claims to be separately patentable.

(6) Argument. The contentions of the appellant with respect to each of the issues presented for review in subparagraph (c)(4) of this section, and the basis therefor, with citations of the authorities, statutes, and parts of the record relied on. Each issue should be treated under a separate heading.

(i) For each rejection under 35 U.S.C. 112 first paragraph, the argument shall specify the errors in the rejection and how the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112 is complied with, including, as appropriate, how the specification and drawings, if any, (A) describe the subject matter defined by each of the rejected claims, (B) enable any person skilled in the art to make and use the subject matter defined by each of the rejected claims, and (C) set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his or her invention.

(ii) For each rejection under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, the argument shall specify the errors in the rejection and how the claims particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

(iii) For each rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102, the argument shall specify the errors in the rejection and why the rejected claims are patentable under 35 U.S.C. 102, including any specific limitations in the rejected claims which are not described in the prior art relied upon in the rejection.

(iv) For each rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103, the argument shall specify the errors in the rejection and, if appropriate, the specific limitations in the rejected claims which are not described in the prior art relied on in the rejection, and shall explain how such limitations render the claimed subject matter unobvious over the prior art. If the rejection is based upon a combination of references, the argument shall explain why the references, taken as a whole, do not suggest the claimed subject matter, and shall include, as may be appropriate, an explanation of why features disclosed in one reference may not properly be combined with features disclosed in another reference. A general argument that all the limitations are not described in a single reference does not satisfy the requirements of this paragraph.

(v) For any rejection other than those referred to in paragraphs (i) to (iv) of this section, the argument shall specify the errors in the rejection and the specific limitations in the rejected claims, if appropriate, or other reasons, which cause the rejection to be in error.

(7) Appendix. An appendix containing a copy of the claims involved in the appeal.

(d) If a brief is filed which does not comply with all the requirements of paragraph (c) of this section, the appellant will be notified of the reasons for non-compliance and provided with a period of one month within which to file an amended brief. If the appellant does not file an amended brief during the one-month period, or files an amended brief which does not overcome all the reasons for non-compliance stated in the notification, the appeal will be dismissed. Any arguments or authorities not included in the brief may be refused consideration by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

5. Section 1.193 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(b) The appellant may file a reply brief directed only to such new points of argument as may be raised in the examiner's answer, within one month from the date of such answer. The new points of argument shall be specifically identified in the reply brief. If the examiner determines that the reply brief is not directed only to new points of argument raised in the examiner's answer, the examiner may refuse entry of the reply brief and will so notify the appellant. If the examiner's answer states a new ground of rejection appellant may file a reply thereto within two months from the date of such answer; such reply may be accompanied by any amendment or material appropriate to the new ground.

6. Section 1.194 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(b) If appellant desires an oral hearing, appellant must file a written request for such hearing accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(g) within one month after the date of the examiner's answer. If the examiner's answer states a new ground of rejection and if appellant files a reply as provided for by § 1.193(b), then the written request must be made within three months after the date of the filing of the reply. If appellant requests an oral hearing and submits therewith the fee set forth in § 1.17(g), an oral argument may be presented by, or on behalf of, the primary examiner if considered desirable by either the primary examiner or the Board.

* * * * *

7. Section 1.196(b)(1) is revised to read as follows:

* * * * *

(b) * * *

(1) The appellant may submit an appropriate amendment of the claims so rejected or a showing of facts, or both, and have the matter reconsidered by the examiner in which event the application will be remanded to the examiner and the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences shall not be considered final for the purpose of judicial review. The statement shall be binding upon the examiner unless an amendment or showing of facts not previously of record be made which, in the opinion of the examiner, overcomes the new ground for rejection stated in the decision. Should the examiner again reject the application the applicant may again appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. When appropriate, upon conclusion of proceedings on remand before the examiner, the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences may enter an order otherwise making its decision final.

8. Section 1.604(a) is revised to read as follows: § 1.604 Request for interference between applications by an applicant.

(a) An applicant may seek to have an interference declared with an application of another by (1) suggesting a proposed count and presenting at least one claim corresponding to the proposed count or identifying at least one claim in his or her application that corresponds to the proposed count, (2) identifying the other application and, if known, a claim in the other application which corresponds to the proposed count, and (3) explaining why an interference should be declared.

* * * * *

9. Section 1.607(a) is revised to read as follows:

(a) An applicant may seek to have an interference declared between an application and an unexpired patent by (1) identifying the patent, (2) presenting a proposed count, (3) identifying at least one claim in the patent corresponding to the proposed count, (4) presenting at least one claim corresponding to the proposed count or identifying at least one claim already pending in his or her application that corresponds to the proposed count, and, if any claim of the patent or application identified as corresponding to the proposed count does not correspond exactly to the proposed count, explaining why each such claim corresponds to the proposed count, and (5) applying the terms of any application claim (i) identified as corresponding to the count and (ii) not previously in the application to the disclosure of the application.

* * * * *

10. Section 1.612(a) is revised to read as follows:

(a) After an interference is declared, each party shall have access to and may obtain copies of the files of any application set out in the notice declaring the interference, except for affidavits filed under § 1.131 and any evidence and explanation under § 1.608 filed separate from an amendment. A party seeking access to any abandoned or pending application referred to in the opposing party's involved application or access to any pending application referred to in the opposing party's patent must file a motion under 1.635.

* * * * *

11. Paragraph (vi) of § 1.637(e)(i) is revised to read as follows:

* * * * *

(e) * * *

(1) * * *

(vi) Identify all claims in the opponent's application or patent which should be designated to correspond to each proposed count; if the opponent's application does not contain any such claim, the motion shall propose a claim to be added to the opponent's application.

* * * * *

12. Paragraph (b) of § 1.662 is revised to read as follows:

* * * * *

(b) If a patentee involved in an interference files an application for reissue during the interference and omits all claims of the patent corresponding to the counts of the interference for the purpose of avoiding the interference, judgment may be entered against the patentee. A patentee who files an application for reissue other than for the purpose of avoiding the interference shall timely file a preliminary motion under § 1.633(h), or show good cause why the motion could not have been timely filed or would not be appropriate.

* * * * *

Part 5—SECRECY OF CERTAIN INVENTIONS AND LICENSES TO EXPORT AND FILE APPLICATIONS IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES

13. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 5 is revised to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, 41, 181-188, the Export Administration Act of 1979, as amended, 50 U.S.C.App. 2401 et seq., the Arms Export Control Act, as amended, 22 U.S.C. 2751 et seq., the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 2011 et seq., and the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Act of 1978, 22 U.S.C. 3201 et seq., and the delegations in the regulations under these acts to the Commissioner (15 CFR 370.10(j), 22 CFR 125.04, and 10 CFR 810.7).

14. Paragraph (b) of § 5.3 is revised to read as follows:

* * * * *

(b) An interference will not be declared involving national applications under secrecy order. However, if an applicant whose application is under secrecy order seeks to provoke an interference with an issued patent, a notice of that fact will be placed in the file wrapper of the patent. (See § 1.607(d)).

APPENDIX A

Requirements for Examiner's Answer

Chapter 1200 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure will be amended to require that the examiner's answer include, in the order indicated, the following items:

(1) Status of claims. A statement of whether the examiner disagrees with the statement of the status of claims contained in the brief and a correct statement of the status of all the claims pending or cancelled, if necessary.

(2) Status of Amendments. A statement of whether the examiner disagrees with the statement of the status of amendments contained in the brief, and an explanation of any disagreement.

(3) Summary of invention. A statement of whether the examiner disagrees with the summary of invention contained in the brief, an explanation of why the examiner disagrees, and a correct summary of invention, if necessary.

(4) Issues. A statement of whether the examiner disagrees with the statement of the issues in the brief and an explanation of why the examiner disagrees, including:

(i) Identification of any issues which are petitionable rather than appealable, and

(ii) Identification of any issues or grounds of rejection on appeal which the examiner no longer considers applicable.

(5) Grouping of Claims. A statement of whether the examiner disagrees with any statement in the brief that certain claims do not stand or fall together, and, if the examiner disagrees, an explanation as to why those claims are not separately patentable.

(6) Claims appealed. A statement of whether the copy of the appealed claims contained in the appendix to the brief is correct and if not, a correct copy of any incorrect claim.

(7) References of record. A listing of the references of record relied on, and in the case of non-patent references, the relevant page or pages.

(8) New references. A statement of whether or not any new reference is being applied and a listing of each such reference being cited for a new ground of rejection in the examiner's answer, and in the case of non-patent references, the relevant page or pages.

(9) Grounds of rejection. For each ground of rejection applicable to the appealed claims, an explanation of the ground of rejection, or reference to a final rejection or other single prior action for a clear exposition of the rejection.

(i) For each rejection under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, the examiner's answer, or the single prior action, shall explain how the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112 is not complied with, including, as appropriate, how the specification and drawings, if any, (a) do not describe the subject matter defined by each of the rejected claims, (b) would not enable any person skilled in the art to make and use the subject matter defined by each of the rejected claims, and (c) do not set forth the best mode contemplated by the appellant of carrying out his or her invention.

(ii) For each rejection under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, the examiner's answer, or single prior action, shall explain how the claims do not particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

(iii) For each rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102, the examiner's answer, or single prior action, shall explain why the rejected claims are anticipated or not patentable under 35 U.S.C. 102, pointing out where all of the specific limitations recited in the rejected claims are found in the prior art relied upon in the rejection.

(iv) For each rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103, the examiner's answer, or single prior action, shall state the ground of rejection and point out where each of the specific limitations recited in the rejected claims is found in the prior art relied on in the rejection, shall identify any difference between the rejected claims and the prior art relied on and shall explain how the claimed subject matter is rendered unpatentable over the prior art. If the rejection is based upon a combination of references, the examiner's answer, or single prior action, shall explain the rationale for making the combination.

(v) For each rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102 or 103 where there may be questions as to how limitations in the claims correspond to features in the prior art, the examiner, in addition to the requirements of (9)(iii) and (iv) above, should compare at least one of the rejected claims feature by feature with the prior art relied on in the rejection. The comparison shall align the language of the claim side by side with a reference to the specific page, line number, drawing reference number and quotation from the prior art, as appropriate.

(vi) For each rejection, other than those referred to in paragraphs (i) to (v) of this section, the examiner's answer, or single prior action, shall specifically explain the basis for the particular rejection.

(10) New ground of rejection. A statement of whether or not any new ground of rejection is being made in the examiner's answer and a complete statement and explanation of any such new ground. The requirements of paragraph (9) shall be complied with for any new ground of rejection.

(11) Response to argument. A statement of whether the examiner disagrees with each of the contentions of appellant in the brief with respect to the issues presented and an explanation of the reasons for disagreement with any such contention. If any ground of rejection is not argued and responded to by appellant, the response shall point out each claim affected.

(12) Period of response to new ground of rejection. A statement setting the period for appellant to file a reply to any new ground of rejection, if necessary.

(147) Treatment of Objected-to Claims After Appeal

This notice sets out the policy of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) with respect to the treatment of dependent claims that are not subject to rejection in an application in which an appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences (Board) has been filed. 37 C.F.R. 1.191.

37 C.F.R. 1.197(c) reads:

> Proceedings are considered terminated by the dismissal of an appeal or the failure to timely file an appeal to the court or a civil action (37 C.F.R. 1.304) except: (1) Where claims stand allowed in an application, or (2) where the nature of the decision requires further action by the examiner. In such cases, the date of termination of proceedings is the date on which the appeal is dismissed or the date on which the time for appeal to the court or review by civil action (37 C.F.R. 1.304) expires. If an appeal to the court or a civil action has been filed, proceedings are similarly considered terminated when the appeal or civil action is terminated.

1. When an Appeal Brief is not filed

Upon failure to file an appeal brief, applications containing both, allowed claims and claims subject to rejection will have the appeal dismissed. The rejected claims will be cancelled and the application will issue with the allowed claims only.

Applicants should note that dependent claims which have been objected to by the examiner as being allowable except for their dependence from rejected claims are not claims which stand allowed. Accordingly, applicants must take affirmative action to overcome the objection and make the objected-to claims allowed claims. This may be done by filing an amendment rewriting objected-to dependent claims into independent form prior to termination of proceedings under 37 C.F.R. 1.197(c).

Upon termination of proceedings, the PTO will hold an application abandoned for failure to take appropriate action if the application contains only rejected and/or objected-to claims.

2. After a Board or Court decision

The approach outlined in (1) above will also apply to applications following an affirmance by the Board or a court of law.

An exception to the approach outlined in (1) above exists when the Board or court affirms a rejection against an independent claim and reverses all rejections against a claim dependent thereon. This type of decision requires further action by the examiner; 37 C.F.R. 1.197(c). Accordingly, upon termination of the time for appeal, the examiner will proceed in one of two ways:

a. Convert the dependent claim into independent form by examiner's amendment, cancel all claims in which the rejection was affirmed, and issue the application; or,
b. Set a one-month time period in which applicant may rewrite the dependent claim in independent form. Extension of time requests to this time period under 37 C.F.R. 1.136(a) will not be permitted. Failure to take timely action will result in abandonment under 35 U.S.C. 133 unless allowed claims are present in the application. If allowed claims are present, the examiner will cancel all rejected and objected-to claims and issue the application with the allowed claims only.

(148) Revised Ex Parte Appeal Requirements

New format and content requirements for appeal briefs in ex parte appeals are now in effect for cases where the notice of appeal was filed on or after Sept. 12, 1988. The new requirements were set forth in amended 37 CFR 1.192 which was published in the Official Gazette at 1092 O.G. 26 on July 12, 1988 and reprinted on Jan. 3, 1989 in the Consolidated Listing of Official Gazette Notices as item number 162. The changes are also set forth in chapter 1200 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure as revised in revision number 9, dated Sept, 1988.

Appellant's brief is required by 37 CFR 1.192(c) to contain, under appropriate headings, (1) the status of all the claims, (2) the status of any amendment filed subsequent to final rejection, (3) a summary of the invention, (4) a concise statement of the issues presented for review, (5) a statement that claims rejected under a rejection do not stand or fall together and the reasons why (if no statements is filed it will be presumed that the rejected claims stand or fall together), (6) the arguments of the appellant with respect to each issue presented for review, and (7) and appendix containing a copy of the claims involved in the appeal. The rule further sets out specific requirements for arguments against rejections based on 35 U.S.C. 102, 103, 112 and other grounds. The examiner's answer to the brief will follow a corresponding format.

Pursuant to 37 CFR 1.192(d), if a brief is filed which does not comply with the new requirements as set forth in paragraph (c) of the rule, the appellant will be notified of the reasons for non-compliance and provided with a period of one month within which to file an amended brief. The one-month period will not be extended. If appellant does not file a brief overcoming the reasons for non-compliance within the one-month period, the appeal will be dismissed.

The new requirements for the appeal brief will aid in the crystallization of the issues invlolved in the appeal. This will benefit the appellant and the examiner, as well as the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, in their consideration.

RIN 0651-AA35

Amendment of Patent and Trademark Rules concerning Judicial Review of Decisions of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences and the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board and other Miscellaneous Matters.

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final Rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is amending the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases, Parts 1 and 2 of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, relating to (1) decisions of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences (BPAI), (2) requests for reconsideration of decisions of the BPAI and the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (TTAB), (3) extensions of time in proceedings after a decision by the BPAI under §§ 1.196 and 1.197, (4) practices concerning judicial review of final decisions of the BPAI and TTAB, (5) extensions of time for seeking judicial review of BPAI and TTAB decisions and (6) miscellaneous changes in the practice before the BPAI and housekeeping amendments.

Two recent decisions of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit have held that even though the BPAI includes a new ground for rejection in its decision under 37 CFR § 1.196(b)(3), appellants may appeal directly to the Federal Circuit without first seeking reconsideration at the BPAI. Where judicial review is sought without requesting reconsideration, the arguments against the new ground of rejection are developed for the first time during court proceedings. The amendments require that appellants seek reconsideration of the new ground of rejection prior to appeal or commencement of a civil action.

Experience under the previous rules relating to judicial review of final board decisions indicated that the rules may have been confusing in certain respects relating to the time in which judicial review must be sought and the manner in which extensions of time for seeking judicial review may be obtained. The rules eliminate any confusion as to when judicial review must be sought and standardize the manner of obtaining extensions of time to seek judicial review.

The rules also make clarifying and housekeeping amendments with respect to practice before the BPAI.

Effective Date: August 20, 1989.

Supplementary Information:

Background

A notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register at 54 Fed. Reg. 11009 (March 16, 1989) and at 1101 Official Gazette 6 (April 4, 1989). No oral hearing was held and no written comments were received.

Discussion of Specific Rules

(1) Decisions of the BPAI and requests for reconsideration of BPAI and TTAB decisions

Only final decisions of the BPAI and TTAB are subject to judicial review. 35 U.S.C. §§ 141, 145; U.S.C. § 1071; 28 U.S.C.§ 1295 (a)(4)(A) and (B).

Section 1.196(b) provides that if the BPAI has knowledge of any grounds, not involved in the appeal, for rejecting any appealed claim, it may include in its decision a statement to that effect. The statement then constitutes a new rejection of the claims. The previous rules permitted appellants to treat the decision as a final decision in the case and thus immediately appealable. 37 CFR § 1.196(b)(3) (1988). Therefore, when an appellant proceeded under this option, arguments against the new rejection were presented for the first time to the reviewing court.

A recent decision by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit rejected the Commissioner's argument that an appellant should not be permitted to contest the BPAI's new ground for rejection because it had not requested reconsideration of that ground by the BPAI. In re Evanega, 829 F.2d 1110, 1113, 4 USPQ 2d 1249, 1252 (Fed. Cir. 1987). See also In re Nielson, 816 F.2d 1567, 1570, 2 USPQ 2d 1525, 1527 (Fed. Cir. 1987). In Evanega, the Commissioner urged that requiring appellants to request reconsideration, where the BPAI adopts a new ground for rejection, would provide the BPAI with an opportunity to consider appellant's arguments and correct any errors while the case was still in the PTO. This conserves judicial resources, and in any event, obtains the benefit of the BPAI's view should judicial review ultimately be sought. The court held, however, that in view of PTO regulations (37 CFR § 1.196(b)(3)) which "expressly provide that the board's decision, even if based on a new ground, is a final determination and thus may be appealed without seeking reconsideration," appellant could not be required to request reconsideration by the BPAI. Id.

The new rule changes eliminate 37 CFR § 1.196(b)(3). By removing § 1.196(b)(3), appellants no longer have the option of treating a new ground of rejection as final and immediately appealable. Appellants' options are limited to requesting remand to the examiner or requesting reconsideration by the BPAI as set forth in §§ 1.196(b)(1) and 1.196(b)(2). The preamble of § 1.196(b) has been amended to specifically recite that a new ground of rejection shall not be considered a final decision for judicial review.

Appellants still may elect further prosecution before the examiner under 37 CFR § 1.196(b)(1) or request reconsideration under § 1.196(b)(2). The option of § 1.196(b)(2) requires that any request for reconsideration address the new ground of rejection and specifically state the reasons why the new ground was in error. Section 1.196(b)(2) also provides that the BPAI will reconsider the new rejection and, if necessary, render a new decision. The decision on reconsideration will be deemed to incorporate the earlier decision except for any portions of the earlier decision specifically withdrawn.

Reconsideration or remand need not be requested if appellant does not contest the new ground. Appellants may seek judicial review as to claims not subject to the new ground.

Section 1.196(a) expressly provides for remands to the examiner for further consideration. The BPAI has inherent authority, as part of its role in reviewing standards of patentability applied in the PTO, to remand applications to the examiner for further consideration. Cf. Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (MPEP) §§ 1211 and 1212. The change merely makes express that which is inherent.

The amendments also delete the portion of former § 1.196(d) which provides (1) that any decision which includes a remand shall not be a final decision for the purposes of judicial review and (2) that upon conclusion of the proceedings on remand the BPAI may enter an order making its decision final. Those provisions have been included as new § 1.196(e). Under this paragraph, decisions pursuant to § 1.196(b) would not be final as to the claims subject to a new rejection.

The last sentence of former § 1.196(b)(1) has been deleted and placed in new § 1.196(e).

(2) Requests for reconsideration of BPAI and TTAB decisions

Section 1.197(b) provides that any request for reconsideration must specifically state the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in the BPAI's decision. Experience has shown that many requests for reconsideration are nothing more than reargument of appellant's position on appeal. The provision, as adopted, limits requests to the points of law or fact which appellant feels were overlooked or misapprehended by the BPAI.

The amendments also clarify the exception found in the first sentence of § 1.197(b) by including specific references to the "original decision" and the "decision on reconsideration." Some confusion had been noted with respect to the meaning of the current language.

In order to simplify calculation of times for requesting reconsideration of the decisions of the boards, §§ 1.658(b), 2.129(c), and 2.144 specify a period of one month rather than the periods expressed in days. Section 1.197(a) already specified a one-month period.

(3)Extensions of time after a decision by the BPAI to take action under §§ 1.196 and 1.197

Appellants in patent cases may no longer use fee extensions under § 1.136(a) to extend the time for making an election under § 1.196(b) or seeking reconsideration under § 1.197.

Under previous rules appellants could request reconsideration of a BPAI decision up to five months after a decision or file a response to a new ground of rejection up to six months after the decision. This inordinately delayed final disposition of appeals. Section 1.136(a) provides that fee extensions are not available to file responses to a BPAI decision pursuant to §§ 1.196, 1.197 or 1.304. One month is deemed to be ample time to submit a request for reconsideration. Note that Fed. R. Civ. P. 59 provides 10 days and Fed. R. App. P. 40 provides 14 days for similar requests. Extensions under § 1.136(b) will be available to extend the time to file a response under §§ 1.196 and 1.197. Section 1.304(a) exclusively governs extensions of time to file a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or to commence a civil action. See further discussion below.

Section 1.136(a) specifically refers to § 1.136(b) for extensions of time to file responses under §§ 1.196 and 1.197 and refers to § 1.304 for extensions of time to initiate judicial review. Sections 1.196(f) and 1.197(b) correlatively reference § 1.136(b) for extensions of time.

Fee extensions are not available to extend the time for electing further prosecution before the examiner under § 1.196(b)(1). Where an appellant elects further prosecution before the examiner, fee extensions under § 1.136(a) remain available to respond to the primary examiner's Office actions.

(4) Time for seeking judicial review of decisions of the BPAI and TTAB

Under previous rules, judicial review of final decisions of the BPAI or TTAB had to be sought within sixty days of the decision or thirty days after a decision on reconsideration. However, where a decision on reconsideration was, in effect, a new decision, it was not always clear whether the time for appeal was thirty or sixty days. Sections 1.304(a) and 2.146(d)(1) provide a two-month period to appeal from either the date of the decision or the decision on a timely filed request for reconsideration.

Some problems have been noted with respect to the time for seeking judicial review in days. Miscalculations of the statutory sixty-day time period have resulted in filing untimely requests for judicial review. In order to simplify calculation of the time for seeking judicial review, §§ 1.304(a) and 2.145(d)(1) specify two months. The two-month period meets the sixty-day requirement of 35 U.S.C. §§ 142, 145 and 146 and 15 U.S.C. §§ 1071(a)(2) and (b)(1) except for time periods which include February 28. In order to comply with the sixty-day requirement, §§ 1.304(b) and 2.145(d)(2) provide that an additional day shall be added to any two-month period for initiating judicial review which includes February 28. Appeals will always be timely if the judicial review is initiated within two months of the final decision.

Previously, the rules did not specify a time period for filing a cross-appeal or cross-action in inter partes cases. The absence of such a time period made it difficult for parties and their attorneys to make appropriate plans for judicial review. For example, in an interference where there has been a split judgment, one of the parties may be satisfied with the judgment but may desire to appeal the adverse judgment only if an appeal is noted by the other party. Where the appeal is filed on the last possible day, a cross-appeal is precluded. Sections 1.304(a) and 2.145(d)(1) specify that the time for filing a cross-appeal or commencing a cross-action expires (1) fourteen days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint or (2) two months after the decision to be reviewed, whichever is later.

Similarly, no provision for filing a cross-action was provided where an appellee elects to have further proceedings conducted in the district court pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 146 or 15 U.S.C. § 1071(a)(1). Section 1.304(c) and 2.145(d)(3) provide that the time for filing a cross-action expires 14 days after service of the summons and complaint. The district court will determine whether any cross-action was timely filed since neither the complaint nor cross-action is filed in the PTO.

(5) Extensions of time to seek judicial review

In the past, standards for granting requests for extensions of time to take an appeal or commence a civil action varied depending upon which board was involved and upon the particular type proceeding before the board. For example, extensions relating to patent applications could be obtained by paying the appropriate fee under § 1.136(a). However, in reexamination proceedings or when judicial review was sought from a decision of the TTAB, the requester must demonstrate sufficient cause under § 1.550(c) or § 2.145(d)(1). The rules standardize the manner in which an extension of time to initiate judicial review may be obtained. The PTO has adopted a standard which is similar to the standard used in the Federal courts for granting extensions. Under the rules the Commissioner may extend the time (1) for good cause if requested before the expiration of the time provided for initiating judicial review or (2) upon a showing of excusable neglect in failing to initiate judicial review if requested after the expiration of the time period. This standard will be applicable in both trademark and patent proceedings (§§ 1.304(a) and 2.145(e)) once the "last" decision, i.e., either the decision (in circumstances where no timely reconsideration is sought) or the decision on reconsideration, of either board has been entered. In patent cases, extensions of time under § 1.136(b) and § 1.550(c) and fee extensions under 37 CFR § 1.136(a) are no longer available to extend the time for the purpose of judicial review once a decision or a decision on reconsideration has been entered. Section 1.304(a) states that the provisions of §§ 1.136 and 1.550(c) are not available to extend the time to initiate judicial review. Sections 1.136(a), 1.136(b), 1.191(d), 1.550(c), 1.645(a) and(b) refer to § 1.304 for extensions of time for seeking judicial review after a decision has been entered. Section 1.645(a) has been amended by (1) adding the introductory phrase "Except to extend the time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action," to the first sentence and (2) deleting the references to filing a notice of appeal or commencing a civil action in the second sentence.

In view of the amendments to §§ 1.197 and 1.304, relating to extensions of time to seek reconsideration or initiate judi-cial review, § 1.191(d) does not refer to §§ 1.196 and 1.197.

(6) Miscellaneous amendments

In the past, appellants could use fee extensions to delay the time for requesting an oral hearing at the BPAI. This delays final disposition of the appeal and causes administrative problems and duplication of effort due to the transfer of the appeal to the hearing docket. Section 1.191(d) no longer refers to § 1.194. Fee extensions are no longer available to extend the time for requesting an oral hearing. Extensions under § 1.136(b) are available to extend the time to request an oral hearing.

Section 1.191(b) has been rewritten as one sentence without any change in substance.

Some confusion has resulted as to who has jurisdiction over a patent application after a notice of appeal to the BPAI has been filed. Problems arose, for example, as to the appropriate PTO official to decide certain petitions and other matters after an appeal has been filed. MPEP § 1210 indicates that jurisdiction over the application normally passes at one of five possible times listed therein. Section 1.191 includes a new section (e) which provides that jurisdiction transfers to the BPAI when the application or reexamination file including all briefs and examiner's answers is transmitted to the BPAI. Thus, jurisdiction transfers to the BPAI when all written submissions by the applicant and the examiner have been entered and the application papers have been forwarded to the BPAI.

New paragraph 1.191(e) also includes a provision that the Commissioner, prior to the time the BPAI renders its decision, may sua sponte order that an application be remanded to the examiner for further consideration. This provision merely makes explicit the inherent authority of the Commissioner to direct and supervise the examination of patent applications.

Under previous rules there was some confusion as to when "termination of proceedings" occurs. Section 1.197(c) provides that proceedings are "terminated" when the Federal Circuit's mandate is received by the PTO or after the time for appeal from the judgment of the district court in a civil action under 35 U.S.C. § 145 has expired. The language "In such cases," in the second sentence of former § 1.197(c) has been eliminated since it was superfluous and may have been confusing.

The rules delete the phrase "that he or she elects" and substitutes "electing" therefor in §§ 1.304(c) and 2.145(c)(3), as amended. The amendment merely changes wording without any change in substance.

Section 1.196(b) changes the verb "make" to "makes" to conform the verb to the singular subject of the sentence.

Sections 1.301, 1.303, 2.145(a)(2) and 2.145(c)(3) no longer refer to transmittal of the certified list and certified copies of the notice of election to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit under 35 U.S.C. § 141 or 15 U.S.C. § 1071(a)(1). These procedures are required by applicable statutes or Court Rules and are unnecessary in the PTO's regulations.

Sections 1.304(a), 1.304(c), 2.145(c)(3) and 2.145(d)(1) include a statement that the certificate of mailing provisions of § 1.8 are not applicable. No substantive change is involved since the inapplicability of § 1.8 is already stated in §§ 1.8(a)(2)(viii) and (ix).

Sections 1.304(b) and 2.145(d)(2) recite "Federal holiday in the District of Columbia" rather than "legal holiday." These changes merely conform the language of these sections with the language of 35 U.S.C. § 21(b) and 37 CFR § 1.7.

Section 2.145(c)(2) and (3) include changes in wording without any change in substance.

Other Considerations

These rules will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 350 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities [Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354]. The rule change requiring appellants to request reconsideration under the specific circumstances set forth is not expected to result in an increase of fees charged by attorneys and agents to entities, including small entities, since the rule change is intended to eliminate erroneous grounds for rejection prior to appeal and in some instances is expected to eliminate the need for appeal.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect to the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The PTO has also determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the national government and the states as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR, Part 2:

For the reasons given in the preamble and pursuant to the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. § 6, Parts 1 and 2 of Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations are amended as set forth below.

PART 1—RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.136 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.136 Filing of timely responses with petition and fee for extension of time and extensions of time for cause.

(a) If an applicant is required to respond within a non-statutory or shortened statutory time period, applicant may respond up to four months after the time period set if a petition for an extension of time and the fee set in § 1.17 are filed prior to or with the response, unless (1) applicant is notified otherwise in an Office action, (2) the application is involved in an interference declared pursuant to § 1.611 or (3) the response is to a decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences pursuant to §§ 1.196, 1.197 or 1.304. The date on which the response, the petition, and the fee have been filed is the date of the response and also the date for purposes of determining the period of extension and the corresponding amount of the fee. The expiration of the time period is determined by the amount of the fee paid. In no case may an applicant respond later than the maximum time period set by statute, or be granted an extension of time under paragraph (b) of this section when the provisions of this paragraph are available. See § 1.136(b) for extensions of time relating to proceedings pursuant to §§ 1.196 or 1.197, § 1.304 for extension of time to appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or to commence a civil action, § 1.645 for extension of time in interference proceedings and § 1.550(c) for extension of time in reexamination proceedings.

(b) When a response with petition and fee for extension of time cannot be filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, the time for response will be extended only for sufficient cause, and for a reasonable time specified. Any request for such extension must be filed on or before the day on which action by the applicant is due, but in no case will the mere filing of the request effect any extension. In no case can any extension carry the date on which response to an Office action is due beyond the maximum time period set by statute or be granted when the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section are available. See § 1.304 for extension of time to appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or to commence a civil action, § 1.645 for extension of time in interference proceedings and § 1.550(c) for extension of time in reexamination proceedings.

3. Section 1.191 is amended by revising paragraphs (b) and (d) and adding paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§ 1.191 Appeal to Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences

* * * * *

(b) The appeal in an application or reexamination proceeding must identify the rejected claim or claims appealed, and must be signed by the applicant, patent owner or duly authorized attorney or agent.

* * * * *

(d) The time periods set forth in §§ 1.191 through 1.193 are subject to the provisions of § 1.136 for patent applications or § 1.550(c) for reexamination proceedings. See §1.304(a) for extensions of time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action.

(e) Jurisdiction over the application or patent under reexamination passes to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences upon transmittal of the file, including all briefs and examiner's answers, to the Board. Prior to the entry of a decision on the appeal, the Commissioner may sua sponte order the application remanded to the examiner.

4. Section 1.196 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (b) and (d) and adding new paragraphs (e) and (f) to read as follows:

§1.196 Decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences

(a) The Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, in its decision, may affirm or reverse the decision of the examiner in whole or in part on the grounds and on the claims specified by the examiner or remand the application to the examiner for further consideration. The affirmance of the rejection of a claim on any of the grounds specified constitutes a general affirmance of the decision of the examiner on that claim, except as to any ground specifically reversed.

(b) Should the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences have knowledge of any grounds not involved in the appeal for rejecting any appealed claim, it may include in the decision a statement to that effect with its reasons for so holding, which statement shall constitute a new rejection of the claims. A new rejection shall not be considered final for the purpose of judicial review. When the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences makes a new rejection of an appealed claim, the appellant may exercise either of the following two options with respect to the new ground:

(1) The appellant may submit an appropriate amendment of the claims so rejected or a showing of facts, or both, and have the matter reconsidered by the examiner in which event the application will be remanded to the examiner. The statement shall be binding upon the examiner unless an amendment or showing of facts not previously of record be made which, in the opinion of the examiner, overcomes the new ground for rejection stated in the decision. Should the examiner again reject the application the applicant may again appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

(2) The appellant may have the case reconsidered under § 1.197(b) by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences upon the same record. The request for reconsideration shall address the new ground for rejection and state with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision and also state all other grounds upon which reconsideration is sought. Where request for such reconsideration is made the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences shall reconsider the new ground for rejection and, if necessary, render a new decision which shall include all grounds upon which a patent is refused. The decision on reconsideration is deemed to incorporate the earlier decision, except for those portions specifically withdrawn on reconsideration, and is final for the purpose of judicial review.

(d) Although the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences normally will confine its decision to a review of rejections made by the examiner, should it have knowledge of any grounds for rejecting any allowed claim it may include in its decision a recommended rejection of the claim and remand the case to the examiner. In such event, the Board shall set a period, not less than one month, within which the appellant may submit to the examiner an appropriate amendment, a showing of facts or reasons, or both, in order to avoid the grounds set forth in the recommendation of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. The examiner shall be bound by the recommendation and shall enter and maintain the recommended rejection unless an amendment or showing of facts not previously of record is filed which, in the opinion of the examiner, overcomes the recommended rejection. Should the examiner make the recommended rejection final the applicant may again appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

(e) Whenever a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences includes or allows a remand, that decision shall not be considered a final decision. When appropriate, upon conclusion of proceedings on remand before the examiner, the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences may enter an order otherwise making its decision final.

(f) See § 1.136(b) for extensions of time to take action under this section.

5. Section 1.197 is amended by revising paragraphs (b) and (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.197 Action following decision

* * * * *

(b) A single request for reconsideration or modification of the decision may be made if filed within one month from the date of the original decision, unless the original decision is so modified by the decision on reconsideration as to become, in effect, a new decision, and the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences so states. The request for reconsideration shall state with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision and also state all other grounds upon which reconsideration is sought. See 37 CFR § 1.136(b) for extensions of time for seeking reconsideration.

(c) Termination of proceedings. Proceedings are considered terminated by the dismissal of an appeal or the failure to timely file an appeal to the court or a civil action (§ 1.304) except: (1) where claims stand allowed in an application or (2) where the nature of the decision requires further action by the examiner. The date of termination of proceedings is the date on which the appeal is dismissed or the date on which the time for appeal to the court or review by civil action (§ 1.304) expires. If an appeal to the court or a civil action has been filed, proceedings are considered terminated when the appeal or civil action is terminated. An appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit is terminated when the mandate is received by the Office. A civil action is terminated when the time to appeal the judgment expires.

6. Section 1.301 is revised to read as follows:

Any applicant or any owner of a patent involved in a reexamination proceeding dissatisfied with the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, and any party to an interference dissatisfied with the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, may appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. The appellant must take the following steps in such an appeal: (a) In the Patent and Trademark Office file a written notice of appeal directed to the Commissioner (see §§ 1.302 and 1.304); and (b) in the Court, file a copy of the notice of appeal and pay the fee for appeal, as provided by the rules of the Court.

7. Section 1.303 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(c) If any adverse party to an appeal taken to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit by a defeated party in an interference proceeding files notice with the Commissioner within twenty days after the filing of the defeated party's notice of appeal to the court (§ 1.302), that he or she elects to have all further proceedings conducted as provided in 35 U.S.C. 146. The notice of election must be served as provided in § 1.646.

8. Section 1.304 is revised to read as follows:

(a) The time for filing the notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (§ 1.302) or for commencing a civil action (§ 1.303) is two months from the date of the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. If a request for reconsideration or modification of the decision is filed within the time provided under § 1.197(b) or § 1.658, the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire two months after action on the request. In interferences, the time for filing a cross-appeal or cross-action expires (1) 14 days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint or (2) two months after the date of decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, whichever is later. The time periods set forth in this section are not subject to the provisions of § 1.136, 1.550(c) or 1.645(a) or (b). The Commissioner may extend the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action (1) for good cause shown if requested in writing before the expiration of the period for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action, or (2) upon written request after the expiration of the period for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action upon a showing that the failure to act was the result of excusable neglect. The certificate of mailing practice of § 1.8 is not available for filing a notice of appeal or cross-appeal. See § 1.8(a)(2)(ix).

(b) The times specified in this section in days are calendar days. The times specified herein in months are calendar months except that one day shall be added to any two-month period which includes February 28. If the last day of the time specified for appeal of commencing a civil action falls on a Saturday, Sunday or Federal holiday in the District of Columbia, the time is extended to the next day which is neither a Saturday, Sunday nor a Federal holiday.

(c) If a defeated party to an interference has taken an appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and an adverse party has filed notice under 35 U.S.C. 141 electing to have all further proceedings conducted under 35 U.S.C. 146 (§ 1.303(c)), the time for filing a civil action thereafter is specified in 35 U.S.C. 141. The time for filing a cross-action expires 14 days after service of the summons and complaint. The certificate of mailing practice of § 1.8 is not available for filing a notice of appeal of cross-appeal. See § 1.8(a)(2)(viii).

9. Section 1.550 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.550 Conduct of reexamination proceedings

* * * * *

(c) The time for taking any action by a patent owner in a reexamination proceeding will be extended only for sufficient cause, and for a reasonable time specified. Any request for such extension must be filed on or before the day on which action by the patent owner is due, but in no case will the mere filing of the request effect any extension. See § 1.304(a) for extensions of time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action.

* * * * *

10. Section 1.645 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.645 Extension of time, late papers, stay of proceedings

(a) Except to extend the time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action, a party may file a motion (§ 1.635) seeking an extension of time to take action in an interference. See § 1.304(a) for extensions of time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action. The motion shall be filed within sufficient time to actually reach the examiner-in-chief before expiration of the time for taking action. A moving party should not assume that the motion will be granted even if there is no objection by any other party. The motion will be denied unless the moving party shows good cause why an extension should be granted. The press of other business arising after an examiner-in-chief sets a time for taking action will not normally constitute good cause. A motion seeking additional time to take testimony because a party has not been able to procure the testimony of a witness shall set forth the name of the witness, any steps taken to procure the testimony of the witness, the dates on which the steps were taken, and the facts expected to be proven through the witness.

(b) Any paper belatedly filed, will not be considered except upon motion (§ 1.635) which shows sufficient cause why the paper was not timely filed. See § 1.304(a) for exclusive procedures relating to belated filing of a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or belated commencement of a civil action.

* * * * *

11. Section 1.658 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.658 Final Decision

* * * * *

(b) Any request for reconsideration of a decision under paragraph (a) of this section shall be filed within one month after the date of the decision. The request for reconsideration shall specify with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision. Any reply to a request for reconsideration shall be filed within 14 days of the date of service of the request for reconsideration. Where reasonably possible, service of the request for reconsideration shall be such that delivery is accomplished by hand or "Express Mail." The Board shall enter a decision on the request for reconsideration. If the Board shall be of the opinion that the decision on the request for reconsideration significantly modifies its original decision under paragraph (a) of this section, the Board may designate the decision on the request for reconsideration as a new decision.

PART 2 - RULES OF PRACTICE IN TRADEMARK CASES

12. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 2 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

13. Section 2.129 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 2.129 Oral argument; reconsideration

* * * * *

(c) Any request for rehearing or reconsideration or modification of a decision issued after final hearing must be filed within one month from the date of the decision. A brief in response must be filed within fifteen days from the date of service of the request. The times specified may be extended by order of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board on motion for good cause.

14. Section 2.144 is revised to read as follows:

§ 2.144 Reconsideration of decision on ex parte appeal

Any request for rehearing or reconsideration, or modification of the decision, must be filed within one month from the date of the decision. Such time may be extended by the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board upon a showing of sufficient cause.

15. Section 2.145 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (c)(2), (c)(3), (d)(1), (d)(2) and (d)(3) and adding new paragraph (e) to read as follows:

(a) Appeal to U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. An applicant for registration, or any party to an interference, opposition, or cancellation proceeding or any party to an application to register as a concurrent user, hereinafter referred to as inter partes proceedings, who is dissatisfied with the decision of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board and any registrant who has filed an affidavit or declaration under section 8 of the Act or who has filed an application for renewal and is dissatisfied with the decision of the Commissioner (§§ 2.165, 2.184), may appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. The appellant must take the following steps in such an appeal:

(1) In the Patent and Trademark Office give written notice of appeal to the Commissioner (see paragraphs (b) and (d) of this section);

(2) In the court, file a copy of the notice of appeal and pay the fee for appeal, as provided by the rules of the Court.

* * * * *

(c) * * *

(2) Any applicant or registrant in an ex parte case who takes an appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit waives any right to proceed under section 21(b) of the Act.

(3) Any adverse party to an appeal taken to the U.S. Courtof Appeals for the Federal Circuit by a defeated party in an inter partes proceeding may file a notice with the Commissioner within twenty days after the filing of the defeated party's notice of appeal to the court (paragraph (b) of this section), electing to have all further proceedings conducted as provided in section 21(b) of the Act. The notice of election must be served as provided in § 2.119. The certificate of mailing practice of § 1.8 is not available for filing a notice of election. See § 1.8(a)(2)(viii).

(d) Time for appeal or civil action. (1) The time for filing the notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (paragraph (b) of this section), or for commencing a civil action (paragraph (c) of this section), is two months from the date of the decision of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board or the Commissioner, as the case may be. If a request for rehearing or reconsideration or modification of the decision is filed within the time specified in §§ 2.127(b), 2.129(c) or 2.144, or within any extension of time granted thereunder, the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire two months after action on the request. In inter partes cases, the time for filing a cross-action or a notice of a cross-appeal expires (1) 14 days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint or (2) two months from the date of the decision of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board or the Commissioner, whichever is later. The certificate of mailing practice of § 1.8 is not available for filing a notice of appeal or cross-appeal. See § 1.8(a)(2)(ix).

(2) The times specified in this section in days are calendar days. The times specified herein in months are calendar months except that one day shall be added to any two-month period which includes February 28. If the last day of time specified for an appeal, or commencing a civil action falls on a Saturday, Sunday or Federal holiday in the District of Columbia, the time is extended to the next day which is neither a Saturday, Sunday nor a Federal holiday.

(3) If a party to an inter partes proceeding has taken an appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and an adverse party has filed notice under section 21(a)(1) of the Act electing to have all further proceedings conducted under section 21(b) of the Act, the time for filing a civil action thereafter is specified in section 21(a)(1) of the Act. The time for filing a cross-action expires 14 days after service of the summons and complaint.

(e) Extensions of time to commence judicial review. The Commissioner may extend the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action (1) for good cause shown if requested in writing before the expiration of the period for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action, or (2) upon written request after the expiration of the period for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action upon a showing that the failure to act was the result of excusable neglect.

(150) Hearings Before the Board of Appeals

In recent years the backlog of cases awaiting decision by the Board of Appeals has grown substantially. The average time elapsing between filing of the examiner's answer and final disposition is now roughly 17 months. Intensive effort by the Board and greater use of acting examiners-in-chief have been successful in raising the number of dispositions, but at the same time the number of appeals continues to grow. Thus in the first six months of 1974, the Board disposed of 1,193 appeals but received 1,915; in the last half of the year the Board disposed of 1,993 appeals but received 2,179.

In this connection it will be helpful if applicants and attorneys will dispense with oral hearings except where unusual circumstances are present which make a hearing important to the decision. Appeals submitted on brief receive just as careful consideration as those in which oral argument is presented, nor are any implications drawn as to the merits of the appeal from failure to request a hearing. It has been the Board's experience that in the ordinary case the hearing is not of great value in arriving at the ultimate decision.

Appellants are also encouraged to review cases where a hearing has already been requested, with a view to withdrawing the request if it is not necessary. It is particularly important that the Board be given timely notice whenever circumstances prevent the applicant or his representative from the appearing at a scheduled hearing.

Rule 194 (37 CFR 1.194) limits oral argument to thirty minutes unless otherwise ordered by the Board. It has been the Board's experience, however, that effective arguments can be presented in less than thirty minutes in most cases. Effective immediately the Board will be informing appellants in the notices of hearing mailed to them that oral argument will be limited to twenty minutes unless otherwise ordered before the hearing begins.

The assistance of the public will be appreciated.

Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(151) Hearings Before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences

During the past twelve months there has been an increase in the number of ex parte appeals pending before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. In order to address the growing backlog of pending appeals, it is necessary to make the most effective use of the time of Examiners-in-Chief hearing appeals. Significant amounts of time are spent by Examiners-in-Chief preparing for the hearings. In an effort to conserve the time spent in the preparation for hearing by Examiners-in-Chief, notice is hereby given that subsequent to the confirmation of attendance at oral hearing, requests for postponement of the hearing will not be granted in the absence of a showing of dramatically unusual circumstances.

Rule 1.3 (37 CFR 1.3) provides that:

> "[a]pplicants and their attorneys or agents are required to conduct their business with the Patent and Trademark Office with decorum and courtesy."

Notice is hereby given that persons attending hearings before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences are advised that the above provision also applies to dress. If an attendee at a hearing is not appropriately dressed, the attendee may be requested to leave the hearing room.

(153) Access to Interference Settlement Agreements by Government Agencies

Under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. § 135(c), a party to an interference filing a copy of a settlement agreement may request that the copy be kept separate from the file of the interference, and made available only to Government agencies on written request, or to any person on a showing of good cause.

In order to provide the parties with a record of the inspection of such agreements by Government agencies, a representative of an agency will henceforth be required to present a written request, similar to the following, for each interference in which the inspection and/or copying of the agreement(s) is desired:

Date:_____

To: Clerk, Board of Patent Interferences

Pursuant to the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 135(c), please permit ..... the bearer(s) of this letter, to [ ] inspect and/or [ ] copy the settlement agreement(s) filed in Interference No..... The information gained from such inspection and/or copying will be kept in confidence and will not be disclosed to any other person except for official investigative or law enforcement purposes.

Name, Title
.....
Agency

The request will be placed in the folder containing the copy of the agreement, where it may be inspected by the parties or their authorized representatives.

This procedure will be applicable only to inspection or copying by the representatives of Government agencies, since no person other than a representative of a Government agency, or of a party, will be granted access to a copy of an interference settlement agreement which is kept separate from the interference file except by way of a petition for access thereto, see M.P.E.P. § 1002.02(k), item 2, and the parties to the interference are normally provided with copies of any such petition.

Acting Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(154) Accessibility of Non-Final Discovery Opinions and Orders Issued by the Board of Patent Interferences

A number of inquiries have been received from the patent bar and other interested persons relating to discovery practice under 37 C.F.R. § 1.287 before the Board of Patent Interferences. The inquiries indicate a need for making available to the public non-final Board opinions, including concurring and dissenting opinions, as well as orders, made in the adjudication of discovery matters before the Board. While non-final opinions need not be made available to the public [5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(2)], in order to satisfy the need, copies of non-final opinions issued by the Board will be kept in a file in the Service Branch of the Board in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (Crystal Plaza, Building 6, Eleventh Floor, Room 1116, Arlington, Virginia). Opinions in the file may be reviewed by the public during normal business hours (8:30 A.M. to 5:00 P.M.). Copies of opinions may be made by the public on reproducing equipment in the Service Branch with tokens at a cost of $0.15 per page or copies may be ordered at a cost of $0.30 per page [37 C.F.R. 1.21(b)].

In view of the provisions of 35 U.S.C. § 122 and 37 C.F.R. § 1.11(a), a consent will be obtained by the Office from all parties in an interference before an opinion issued in connection with the interference is placed in the file if the interference file is not otherwise available to the public. Preliminary indications are that the parties and their counsel generally consent.

In order to obtain optimum dissemination of the information contained in the file, opinions placed therein will be indexed according to specific topics. Copies of the index will be updated from time to time as the need occurs. Specific questions relating to the index and file may be directed to the Patent Interference Examiners.

The initial index is as follows:

(155) DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
Patent and Trademark Office
37 CFR Part 1
Time Period for Objection to Publication

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Notice of proposed rulemaking.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) poroposes changing the period within which applicants or parties may object to publication of a decision of the Board of Psatent Appeals and Interferences (Board), or any decision of the Commissioner on petition, not otherwise open to public inspection, from two months to "a time specified by the Commissioner." The proposed change would permit setting shorter periods for objection to publication of decisions and is intended to expedite publication of decisions involving issues of important precedential value.
Dates: Comments must be submitted on or before August 24, 1990. No hearing will be held.
Address: Address written comments to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D. C. 20231, marked to the attention of Lee E. Barrett.
For Further Information Contact: Lee E. Barrett by telephone at (703) 557-4035 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D. C. 20231.
Supplementary Information:: As presently written, 37 CFR § 1.14(d) allows an applicant or party to an interference two months to object to the publication of decisions of the Board or the Commissioner. The two-month period delays publication of decisions involving significant issues of law, rule interpretation or PTO practice which the Commissioner has determined to be of important and immediate interest to patent practitioners. The PTO proposes changing § 1.14(d) from "two months" to "a time specified by the Commissioner" to permit the Commissioner to set shorter periods to object to publication. If the proposed rule is adopted, the reasonable period will normally be one month.

Other Considerations

The proposed rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.
The proposed rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. § 3501 et seq.
The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Small Business Administration that the proposed rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354) because no increase in fees or paperwork should result from this rule change.
The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. the annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, state or local government agencies, or geographical regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation or on the ability of Unoted States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.
The PTO has also determined that this notice has no federalism implications affecting the relationship between the national Government and the states as outlined in Exectutive Order 12612.
The rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. § 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Freedom of information, Inventions and patents, Reporting and record keeping requirements.

For the reasons set out in the preamble and pursuant to the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by U.S.C. § 6, the Patent and Trademark Ofice proposes to amend Title 37, Chapter I, Subchapter A of the Code of Federal Regulations as set forth below. The proposed addition is printed between arrows (▶ ◀) and the deletions are shown between brackets ([ ]).

Part 1-Rules of Practice in Patent Cases

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 would continue to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. § 6 unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.14 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraph (d) to read as folows:

(d) Any decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Intererences, or any decision of the Commissioner on petition, not otherwise open to public inspection shall be published or made available for public inspection if: (1) The Commissioner believes the decision involves an interpretation of patent laws or regulations that would be of important precedent value; and (2) the applicant, or any party involved in the interference, does not within ▶a time specified by the Commissioner◀ [two months] after being notified of the intention to make the decision public[,] object in writing on the ground that the decision dicloses a trade secret or other confidential information. If a decision discloses such information, the applicant or party shall indentify the deletions in the text of the decision considered necessary to protect the information. If it is considered the entire decision must be witheld from the public to protect such information, the applicant or party must explain why. Applicants or parties will be given time, not less than twenty days, to request reconsideration and seek court review before any portions of decisions are made public over thier objection. See § 2.27 for trademark applications.

Supplementary Information: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) conducts interference proceedings to determine who as between two or more applicants for patent or one or more applicants and one or more patentees is the first inventor of a patentable invention. Heretofore, the determination was made by a Board of Patent Interferences. The Patent Law Amendments Act of 1984, Public Law 98-622, §§ 201-202 combines the Board of Appeals and the Board of Patent Interferences into a single Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences (Board) and authorizes the Board to consider priority and patentability in interference cases.

In view of the discretion given the Board under 35 U.S.C. § 135(a), as amended by Public Law 98-622 ("The Board . . . . may determine questions of patentability . . . ."), these new rules will apply to all interferences declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985, except in special circumstances, such as: (1) interferences which are declared as a result of a motion made in another interference which was pending before the Board before Feb. 11, 1985, (e.g., an interference declared as a result of a motion under 37 CFR § 1.231 to declare an additional interference); (2) an interference related to another interference declared prior to Feb. 11, 1985 (e.g., an interference involving a method of using a compound where an interference involving the same parties and the compound was declared prior to Feb. 11, 1985); and (3) an interference reinstituted after having been dissolved under the old rules (37 CFR §§ 1.201- 1.288)(e.g., an interference reinstituted after having been dissolved as a result of a motion under 37 CFR § 1.231 to dissolve on the grounds of unpatentability where the applicant has obtained allowance of the claims held unpatentable in the decision on motions).

Through these new rules the PTO seeks to improve interference procedure so that the rights of parties in interferences are determined at an early date and the overall process of examining patent applications which become involved in interferences is simplified.

In order to obtain maximum input from the public prior to formally proposing revisions to the rules, on Aug. 1, 1983, the PTO published in the Federal Register an advance notice of proposed rulemaking for interference rules. 48 F.R. 34836-34855. The advance notice was not published in the Official Gazette. Twenty-one written comments were received. All comments are available for public inspection in Rm. 10C01, Crystal Gateway II, 1225 Jefferson Davis Hwy., Arlington, Va.

On Jan. 30, 1984, the PTO published in the Federal Register a notice of proposed rulemaking. 49 F.R. 3768-3802. The notice was also published in the Official Gazette on Feb. 14, 1984. 1039 O.G. 11; 1039 TMOG 11.The notice also appeared in the Bureau of National Affairs' Patent, Trademark & Copyright Journal, Vol. 27, pp. 312-346 (Feb. 2, 1984), hereinafter 'BNA." Eighteen written comments were received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking. The comments are analyzed herein. A hearing was held on May 15, 1984. Three individuals appeared at the hearing. Oral comments made at the hearing are also analyzed herein. The eighteen comments and copy of the transcript of the hearing are available for public inspection in Rm. 10C01, Crystal Gateway II, 1225 Jefferson Davis Hwy., Arlington, Va.

The new rules for interferences are set forth herein in §§ 1.601 through 1.688. The new rules replace entirely the present interference rules (37 CFR §§ 1.201 through 1.288). A "six hundred" number series is used for the new rules. The use of a six hundred number series for the new rules will permit interested individuals to research published decisions (e.g., F.2d, USPQ) or computerized legal research services (e.g., LEXIS) citing the new rules.

An index of the headings of §§ 1.601-1.688 and a table correlating 37 CFR §§ 1.201 through 1.288 (old rules) to §§ 1.601 through 1.688 (new rules) appears below.

Under the new rules, interferences are decided by the Board. The Board has jurisdiction to determine (1) priority of invention, (2) patentability of any claim corresponding to a count both as to applicants and patentees, (3) any issue of interference-in-fact as to any count, and (4) any other issue necessary to resolve the interference. The rules permit an interference to be declared on the basis of a single count defining one patentable invention in interferences involving patents as well as applications. The Board also has jurisdiction to determine whether counts are patentably distinct.

When an interference is declared, an examiner-in-chief is assigned to handle the interlocutory stages of the interference. An examiner having full signatory authority determines when one or more applications or one or more applications and a patent claim the same patentable invention. When the examiner makes such determination, the examiner will forward any involved applications or patents to the Board. The examiner will designate, at the time the involved applications or patents are sent to the Board, the claims of any application and patent which correspond to each count. The examiner-in-chief can subsequently designate additional claims to correspond to a count. The examiner-in-chief assigned to handle the interference will issue a notice to the parties declaring the interference.

The object of the interference will be to resolve all controversies as to all interfering subject matter defined by one or more counts. A final decision in the interference will determine who, if anyone, is entitled to claims which correspond to a count. Any decision adverse to an applicant by the Board will constitute a final refusal by the PTO to that applicant of the claims involved. Any decision adverse to a patentee constitutes cancellation from the patent of the claims involved.

Any decision by the Board on any issue is binding on the examiner and would govern further proceedings in the PTO.

The designation of a single examiner-in-chief to handle the interlocutory phases of an interference will permit better management of, and control over, interference proceedings. The rules provide that times be set and the examiner-in-chief exercise control over proceedings in the interference such that pendency of the interference before the Board from declaration to final decision will not normally exceed 24 months. The examiner-in-chief should be familiar with the history of the interference and will be accessible to counsel for the parties. For example, an examiner-in-chief, where appropriate, may conduct telephone conference calls to obtain agreement of the parties on the setting of schedules. The rules also permit the examiner-in-chief to hold hearings in the PTO or by conference telephone call in order to expedite or settle interlocutory issues in interferences. Any hearing can be transcribed by a court reporter under such conditions as an examiner-in-chief or the Board deems appropriate. The examiner-in-chief, where appropriate, will be available by phone to rule on the admissibility of evidence in the event parties encounter unusual problems during the taking of depositions. The examiner-in-chief will also be available to rule on requests for production of documents which take place during cross-examination. Oral orders given by phone will be followed by written orders.

At the time an interference is declared, the examiner-in-chief will set a time for filing preliminary motions. The preliminary motions can include:

(1) A motion for judgment on the ground that a claim corresponding to the count is not patentable to an opponent under 35 U.S.C. §§ 102, 103, 112, or any other provision of law.

(2) A motion for judgment on the ground that there is no interference-in-fact between the claims of the opponents in the interference.

(3) A motion to add or to substitute new counts, to amend a claim corresponding to a count, to designate an application or patent claim to correspond to a count, to designate an application or patent claim as not corresponding to a count, or to require an applicant to present a claim to be designated to correspond to a count.

*It should be recognized that the decision of the Board following the final hearing may not terminate the interference. For example, if the order to show cause resulted from an Examiner-in-chief's grant of a motion for judgment, and the Board after final hearing reversed the Examiner-in-chief's decision, the case might then proceed to the taking of priority testimony. The Board's decision would however be final with regard to the basis of the motion for judgment.

(4) A motion to substitute another application for the application involved in the interference or to add an application for reissue to the interference.

(5) A motion to declare another interference.

(6) A motion to be accorded the benefit of an earlier application or to attack the benefit of an earlier application which has been accorded to an opponent.

Other motions are permitted as necessary, such as a motion to amend the count and/or a claim corresponding to the count in response to a preliminary motion for judgment.

Oppositions to motions are permitted if filed within a time set by the examiner-in-chief. Replies are also authorized. Papers which are not authorized by the rules or requested by the examiner-in-chief can be returned unfiled.

A preliminary statement will be filed prior to or concurrently with the preliminary motions outlined above.

Motions will be decided by an examiner-in-chief, who may consult with an examiner on questions of patentability which have not previously been decided by the examiner. The examiner-in-chief may grant a motion, deny a motion, defer consideration on the merits of a motion to final hearing, or take such other action with respect to a motion as may be appropriate, e.g., dismiss an entirely inappropriate motion.

At the time preliminary motions are decided, the preliminary statements will be opened. If a decision on a motion or inspection of the preliminary statement results in entry of an order to show cause why a judgment should not be entered, the party against whom judgment might be entered can request a hearing before the examiner-in-chief and two additional examiners-in-chief. The decision will govern further proceedings. If adverse, the decision will constitute a final agency action. If favorable, the interference will proceed before the examiner-in-chief.

After preliminary motions are decided and assuming judgment does not result, a period may be set for the parties to file motions for additional discovery. The scope of the additional discovery would be the same as under current practice.

When a time period is set for filing discovery motions, or after discovery has closed, the examiner-in-chief will set a period for taking testimony. Any party wishing to take the testimony of a witness can elect to have the testimony of the witness taken by deposition or presented by affidavit. A transcript of an ex parte deposition can be used as an affidavit. If an affidavit is presented, the opposing party may then cross-examine on oral deposition. Any redirect will take place at the deposition. The party calling the witness is responsible for securing a court reporter and filing the transcript and record associated with cross-examination of its witness.

In the event a party needs testimony from a third-party who will not appear unless a subpoena is issued, including a hostile witness, direct and cross-examination testimony may be taken on oral deposition. The rules provide that prior authorization of an examiner-in-chief is required before a party can take testimony by issuance of a subpoena under 35 U.S.C. (g49 24. The rule thus adopts the policy of Sheehan v. Doyle, 513 F.2d 895, 898, 185 USPQ 489, 492 (1st Cir.), cert. denied, 423 U.S. 874 (1975), and Sheehan v. Doyle, 529 F.2d 38, 40, 188 USPQ 545, 546 (1st Cir.), cert. denied, 429 U.S. 870 (1976), rehearing denied, 429 U.S. 987 (1976), and rejects the policy announced in Brown v. Braddick, 595 F.2d 961, 967, 203 USPQ 95, 101-102 (5th Cir. 1979). Testimony obtained in other proceedings, e.g., another interference or an infringement action, may be used if otherwise admissible.

Under the rules, the Federal Rules of Evidence are made applicable to interferences, except for those portions which relate to criminal actions, juries, and other matters not relevant to interferences. Those portions include:

(2) Rule 104(c), (d), and (e).
(3) The language in Rule 105 which reads "and instruct the jury accordingly."
(4) Rule 201(g).
(5) The language in Rule 403 which reads "or misleading the jury."
(6) Rule 404(a)(1) and (2).
(7) The word "charge" in Rule 405(b).
(8) The language "or criminal" and proviso (ii) in Rule 410.
(9) Rule 412.
(10) Rule 606.
(11) The language "whether by an accused" and "other" in the last sentence of Rule 607.
(12) The provisions of the first sentence of Rule 611 (c) relating to leading questions on direct examination do not apply to statements made in an affidavit authorized to be filed under the rules.
(13) The language "Except as otherwise provided in criminal proceedings by section 3500 of title 18, United States Code" and "except that in criminal cases when the prosecution elects not to comply, the order shall be one striking the testimony or, if the court in its discretion determines that the interests of justice so require, declaring a mistrial" in Rule 612.
(16) The language "excluding, however, in criminal cases matters observed by police officers and other law enforcement personnel" and "and against the Government in criminal cases" in Rule 803(8).
(17) The language "but not including, when offered by the Government in a criminal prosecution for purposes other than impeachment, judgments against persons other than the second" in Rule 803(22).
(18) The language "prosecution for homicide or in a" in Rule 804(b)(2).
(19) The language "A statement tending to expose the declarant to criminal liability and offered to exculpate the accused is not admissible unless corroborating circumstances clearly indicate the trustworthiness of the statement" in Rule 804(b)(3).
(20) Rule 1101(a), (b), (d)(2), (d)(3), and (e).

The examiner-in-chief will set a period for filing the record and briefs. Oral hearings normally will be held before a panel consisting of the examiner-in-chief assigned to the interference and two other examiners-in-chief. The panel will render a final decision in the interference. Requests for reconsideration are permitted.

In rendering its decision, the Board will consider only that evidence which can be made available to the public under § 1.11(a). Accordingly, the Board will not consider evidence which is submitted under a protective order issued by a court if release of that evidence under § 1.11(a) would be inconsistent with the terms of the court's order.

A final decision of the Board is reviewable in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or an appropriate U. S. district court. Any reviewing court can review all aspects of the decision including patentability, priority, and all relevant interlocutory orders, such as denials of discovery.

Except as noted above, these new rules are applicable to all interferences declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. Interferences declared prior to Feb. 11, 1985, continue to be governed by the prior rules (37 CFR §§ 1.201-1.288 (July 1, 1984)) and will be decided by personnel of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. Actions presently taken by a patent interference examiner or examiners of interferences will be taken by an examiner-in-chief.

An anticipated time schedule for a two-party interference follows.

Sections 1.601 through 1.688 would introduce new concepts in interference practice. Some of the more significant aspects of the rules, as well as some of the new concepts, include the following.

Section 1.1 codifies a practice announced in a Commissioner's Notice of Nov. 28, 1983, "Mailing of Papers to the PTO in Patent Interference Proceedings," 1037 Official Gazette 25 (Dec. 27, 1983) and authorizes a party in an interference to direct mail to the PTO intended for the interference to a special box in the Mail Room for interference papers. Amendments copying claims which are filed prior to the time an interference is declared would continue to be addressed in accordance with § 1.5(a).

Section 1.5 provides that when a paper filed in the PTO concerns an interference which has been declared, it should state the names of the parties (e.g., Smith v. Jones) and the number of the interference. The name of the examiner-in-chief assigned to the interference (§ 1.610) and the name of the party filing the paper should also appear conspicuously on the first page of the paper. Identification of the examiner-in-chief assigned to the interference and the name of the party filing the paper will greatly assist the Board in its administration of interference cases.

Section 1.8 excludes from the certificate of mailing practice any paper in an interference which an examiner-in-chief orders filed by hand or "Express Mail." Papers filed by "Express Mail" in an interference case would be addressed as set forth in § 1.1(e).

Section 1.11 sets forth when the interference file would become available to the public without a petition for access.

Section 1.48 provides that when a request is filed to correct inventorship of an application involved in an interference, the request shall comply with the requirements of § 1.48 and shall be accompanied by a motion under § 1.634. The request will be placed in the file of the application and the motion will be placed in the file of the interference. The request will be decided as part of the interference.

Section 1.138 permits an attorney or agent to sign and file a paper abandoning an application involved in an interference.

Section 1.196 more clearly sets forth the options open to an applicant when the Board makes a new ground of rejection under § 1.196(b). The last sentence of paragraph (b)(1) is intended to clarify practice in certain situations. One situation involves a case where (1) the Board affirms an examiner's rejection of a "first" claim and makes a new ground of rejection under § 1.196(b) of a "second" claim, (2) the applicant elects to have further proceedings before the examiner on the new ground of rejection on the second claim, and (3) those proceedings do not result in a further appeal (i.e., the second claim is allowed or is cancelled). The last sentence of § 1.196(b)(1) permits the Board to make its decision final on the first claim. By making its decision final on the first claim, the time period under § 1.304 for seeking judicial review begins. Another situation involves a case where (1) the Board affirms an examiner's rejection of a claim over reference A, (2) the Board also enters a new ground of rejection of the claim over reference B, (3) the applicant elects to have further proceedings before the examiner on the new ground of rejection, and (4) those proceedings result in applicant overcoming the new ground of rejection based on reference B. The last sentence of § 1.196(b)(1) permits the Board to make its decision final as to its affirmance of the rejection over reference A. Entry of an order making its decision final would start the period under § 1.304 for seeking judicial review. Thus, an applicant does not forego possible judicial review by electing further prosecution before the examiner when a new ground of rejection is made by the Board. Under paragraph (d), a recommendation by the Board that an allowed claim be rejected is binding on the examiner (rather than being a mere recommendation as was previously the case) in the absence of (1) an amendment, (2) showing of facts by affidavit or other appropriate evidence, or (3) both. The last sentence of paragraph (d) is intended to clarify that the Board may enter a final decision in certain circumstances. When the Board affirms an examiner's rejection of a "first" claim and makes a recommendation under paragraph (d) as to a "second" claim, the application is remanded to the examiner and the Board's decision affirming the rejection of the first claim is not a final decision. If proceedings before the examiner on remand do not result in a further appeal (i.e., the second claim is allowed or is cancelled), the Board may then make its decision final as to the first claim. By making its decision final as to the first claim, the time period under § 1.304 for seeking judicial review starts. Thus, an applicant does not forego judicial review on the first claim merely because of the remand proceedings with respect to the second claim.

Most of the current interference rules (§§ 1.201 through 1.247 and 1.251 through 1.288) are removed, but will continue to govern interferences declared prior to Feb. 11, 1985. Section 1.248 is retained and governs service of papers in all patent cases except interference proceedings. Section 1.646 governs service of papers in interference proceedings.

Under § 1.292, it is intended to modify public use proceedings only to the extent that public use and on sale issues which arise during an interference shall be raised by a preliminary motion under § 1.633(a). There is no fee for filing the motion in the interference, but a fee would continue to be necessary when a petition is filed for institution of a public use proceeding apart from an interference. When a public use proceeding is instituted apart from an interference, the Commissioner will designate an appropriate official to conduct the proceeding including the setting of times for taking testimony under §§ 1.671 through 1.685. There will continue to be no "additional discovery" (see §§ 1.687 and 1.688) in public use proceedings.

Section 1.304 makes clear that the provisions of § 1.136 do not apply when judicial review is sought of a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in (1) a reexamination proceeding or (2) an interference. An extension of time to seek judicial review of a decision of the Board in a reexamination proceeding may be obtained under § 1.550(c). An extension of time to seek judicial review of a decision of the Board in an interference proceeding may be obtained under § 1.645. Section 1.304 also establishes an "excusable neglect" standard for seeking judicial review in interference cases when a notice of appeal is untimely filed or a civil action is not timely commenced. The excusable neglect standard is intended to be the same as the standard under Rule 4(a)(5) of the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure.

Section 1.322 provides that when a request for a certificate of correction under 35 U.S.C. § 254 (PTO mistake) is filed to make a correction of a patent involved in an interference, the request shall comply with the requirements of § 1.322 and shall be accompanied by a motion under § 1.635. The request will be placed in the file of the patent and the motion will be placed in the file of the interference. The request will be decided as part of the interference.

Section 1.323 provides that when a request for a certificate of correction under 35 U.S.C. § 255 (patentee's mistake) is filed to make a correction of a patent involved in an interference, the request shall comply with the requirements of § 1.323 and shall be accompanied by a motion under § 1.635. The request will be placed in the file of the patent and the motion will be placed in the file of the interference. The request will be decided as part of the interference.

Section 1.324 provides that when a request is filed to correct inventorship of a patent involved in an interference, the request shall comply with the requirements of § 1.324 and shall be accompanied by a motion under proposed § 1.634. The request will be placed in the file of the patent and the motion will be placed in the file of the interference. The request will be decided as part of the interference.

Section 1.565 provides that when a patent is involved in an interference proceeding and a reexamination proceeding, both the interference proceeding and the reexamination proceeding will continue unless one of the proceedings is stayed. A stay of a reexamination proceeding will be made by the Commissioner. A stay of an interference proceeding will be made by an examiner-in-chief, subject to review by the Commissioner. Section 1.565 continues the present practice of the Commissioner determining in every instance whether to stay a reexamination proceeding when the patent involved in the reexamination proceeding is sought to be reissued or becomes involved in litigation.

Under § 1.601, the rules shall be construed to secure the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of interferences. Section 1.601 defines various terms used in Subpart E including "additional discovery," "affidavit," "case-in-chief," "case-in-rebuttal," "count," "effective filing date," "filing date," "interference," "interference-in-fact," "junior party," "lead" attorney, "party," "phantom count," "same patentable invention," "separate patentable invention," "senior party," "sworn," and "United States." "Affidavits" include declarations under 35 U.S.C. § 25 and 37 CFR § 1.68 as well as statutory declarations under 28 U.S.C. § 1746. The definition of "United States" is the same as the definition of United States in 35 U.S.C. § 100(c).

The definition of "interference" permits an interference between one or more applications and one or more patents. Thus, these new rules follow the policy of Wilson v. Yakel, 1876 Dec. Comm'r. Pat. 245 (Comm'r.Pat. 1876) and, to the extent inconsistent therewith, do not follow the policy announced in Touval v. Newcombe, 194 USPQ 509 (Comm'r.Pat. 1976). However, in view of the statutory requirement for the presence of at least one application in an interference, if an applicant were to concede priority or otherwise be terminated from an interference involving only one application and more than one patent, the interference would have to be terminated for lack of subject matter jurisdiction unless one or more of the patentees filed an application for reissue which could be added to the interference under § 1.633(h). A "count" defines interfering subject matter. An interference may have two counts only if the second count defines a "separate patentable invention" from the first count. The reason the second count must define a separate patentable invention is to permit the PTO to lawfully issue separate patents to different parties in an interference when a single party does not prevail as to all counts. A "separate patentable invention" is defined in§ 1.601(n):

> Invention (A) is a "separate patentable invention" with respect to invention (B) when invention (A) is new (35 U.S.C. § 102) and non-obvious (35 U.S.C. § 103) in view of invention (B) assuming invention (B) is prior art with respect to invention (A).

Section 1.602(a) continues the present PTO practice (37 CFR § 1.201(c)) of not declaring or continuing an interference between (1) two or more applications owned by the same party or (2) an application and a patent owned by a single party unless good cause is shown. A corporation and its wholly-owned subsidiary are considered a "single party" within the meaning of § 1.602(a). Under prior rules, when a patent and an application involved in an interference became commonly owned, the interference was not "dissolved." Rather, the PTO required that the interference be terminated with a judgment. Chillas v. Weisberg, 1928 Dec. Comm'r. Pat. 24 (Comm'r.Pat. 1928); Malone v. Toth, 202 USPQ 397 (Comm'r.Pat. 1978); and Morehouse v. Armbruster, 209 USPQ 514 (Comm'r.Pat. 1980). Under these new rules, all interferences, including those involving only applications, will be terminated with a judgment. As noted in Chillas v. Weisberg, supra at 25 "the common owner can allow a judgment against the junior party to be rendered by default or it can file a concession of priority from one party to the other." Paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 1.602 continue the present PTO practice (37 CFR § 1.201(c)) of requiring a party to notify the PTO of any real party in interest not apparent on the face of the notice declaring the interference (see § 1.611) or of any change in the real party in interest after the interference is declared. The PTO needs to know the identity of any real party in interest to properly enforce § 1.602(a) and to enable an examiner-in-chief to determine whether recusal is necessary or appropriate. A new requirement in paragraphs (b) and (c), not present in 37 CFR § 1.201(c), is a 20-day time period for advising the PTO of the identity of, or any change in, the real party in interest.

Under §§ 1.601(f), 1.603, and 1.606, the interfering subject matter would be defined by one or more counts. All the claims in an application or a patent which define the same patentable invention as a count would be designated to correspond to the count. An interference would have two counts only if one count defines a separate patentable invention from another count. Under § 1.606, at the time an interference is declared between a patent and an application, a count would not be narrower in scope than any patent claim which corresponds to the count. Thus, a patent claim would be presumed, subject to a motion under § 1.633(c), not to embrace "separate patentable inventions." Some examples illustrate how the PTO would formulate counts and designate patent and application claims to correspond to counts.

Example 1: Application A contains patentable claim 1 (engine). Application B contains patentable claim 8 (engine). If an interference is declared, there would be one count (engine). Claim 1 of application A and claim 8 of application B would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 2: Application C contains patentable claims 1 (engine) and 2 (6-cylinder engine). Application D contains patentable claim 8 (engine). An engine and a 6-cylinder engine define the same patentable invention. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (engine). Claims 1 and 2 of application C and claim 8 of application D would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 3: Application E contains patentable claims 1 (engine), 2 (6-cylinder engine), and 3 (engine with a platinum piston). Application F contains patentable claims 11 (engine) and 12 (8-cylinder engine). Claims 1 and 2 of application E and claims 11 and 12 of application F define the same patentable invention. Claim 3 of application E defines a separate patentable invention from claims 1 and 2 of application E and claims 11 and 12 of application F. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (engine). Claims 1 and 2 of application E and claims 11 and 12 of application F would be designated to correspond to the count. Claim 3 of application E would not be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 4: Application G contains patentable claims 1 (engine), 2 (6-cylinder engine), and 3 (engine with a platinum piston). Application H contains patentable claims 11 (engine) and 15 (engine with a platinum piston). Claims 1 and 2 of application G and claim 11 of application H define the same patentable invention. Claim 3 of application G and claim 15 of application H define a separate patentable invention from claims 1 and 2 of application G and claim 11 of application H. If an interference is declared, there would be two counts: Count 1 (engine) and Count 2 (engine with a platinum piston). Claims 1 and 2 of application G and claim 11 of application H would be designated to correspond to Count 1. Claim 3 of application G and claim 15 of application H would be designated to correspond to Count 2.

Example 5: Application J contains patentable claims 1 (engine), 2 (combination of an engine and a carburetor) and 3 (combination of an engine, a carburetor, and a catalytic converter). Application K contains patentable claims 31 (engine), 32 (combination of an engine and a carburetor), and 33 (combination of an engine, a carburetor, and an air filter). The engine, combination of an engine and carburetor, and combination of an engine, carburetor, and air filter define the same patentable invention. The combination of an engine, carburetor, and catalytic converter define a separate patentable invention from engine. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (engine). Claims 1 and 2 of application J and claims 31, 32, and 33 of application K would be designated to correspond to the count. Claim 3 of application J would not be designated as corresponding to the count.

Example 6: The PTO will continue to follow Waldeck v. Lewis, 120 USPQ 88 (Comm'r.Pat. 1955). Application L contains patentable claims 1 (Markush group of benzene or toluene), 2 (benzene), and 3 (toluene). Application M contains patentable claim 11 (benzene). Benzene and toluene define the same patentable invention. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (Markush group of benzene or toluene). Claims 1, 2, and 3 of application L and claim 11 of application M would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 7: Application N contains patentable claim 1 (benzene). Application P contains patentable claim 11 (xylene). Benzene and xylene define the same patentable invention. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (benzene or xylene). Claim 1 of application N and claim 11 of application P would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 8: Application Q contains patentable claims 1 (Markush group of benzene or chloroform), 2 (benzene), and 3 (chloroform). Application R contains patentable claim 33 (benzene). If benzene and chloroform define the same patentable invention and an interference is declared, there would be one count (Markush group of benzene or chloroform). Claims 1, 2, and 3 of application Q and claim 33 of application R would be designated to correspond to the count. If chloroform defines a separate patentable invention from benzene and an interference is declared, there would be one count (benzene). Claims 1 and 2 of application Q and claim 33 of application R would be designated to correspond to the count. Claim 3 of application Q would not be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 9: Application S contains patentable claims 1 (Markush group of benzene or chloroform), 2 (benzene), and 3 (chloroform). Application T contains patentable claims 11 (Markush group of benzene or chloroform), 12 (benzene), and 13 (chloroform). If benzene and chloroform define the same patentable invention and an interference is declared, there would be one count (Markush group of benzene or chloroform). Claims 1, 2, and 3 of application S and claims 11, 12, and 13 of application T would be designated to correspond to the count. The PTO will continue to adhere to Becker v. Patrick, 47 USPQ 314 (Comm'r.Pat. 1939). An interference can have two counts only if one count defines a separate patentable invention from another count. If chloroform defines a separate patentable invention from benzene and an interference is declared, there would be two counts: Count 1 (benzene) and Count 2 (chloroform). Claims 1 and 2 of application S and claims 11 and 12 of application T would be designated to correspond to Count 1. Claims 1 and 3 of application S and claims 11 and 13 of application T would be designated to correspond to Count 2.

Example 10: Patent A contains claim 1 (engine). Application U contains patentable claim 11 (engine). If an interference is declared, there would be one count (engine). Claim 1 of patent A and claim 11 of application U would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 11: Patent B contains claims 1 (engine) and 2 (6-cylinder engine). Application V contains patentable claim 8 (engine). An engine and a 6-cylinder engine define the same patentable invention. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (engine). Claims 1 and 2 of patent B and claim 8 of application V would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 12: Patent C contains claims 1 (engine), 2 (6-cylinder engine), and 3 (engine with a platinum piston). Application W contains patentable claims 11 (engine) and 12 (8 cylinder engine). Claims 1 and 2 of patent C and claims 11 and 12 of application W define the same patentable invention. Claim 3 of patent C defines a separate patentable invention from claims 1 and 2 of patent C and claims 11 and 12 of application W. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (engine). Claims 1 and 2 of patent C and claims 11 and 12 of application W would be designated to correspond to the count. Claim 3 of patent C would not be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 13: Patent D contains claim 1 (engine), 2 (6-cylinder engine), and 3 (engine with a platinum piston). Application X contains patentable claims 11 (engine) and 15 (engine with a platinum piston). Claims 1 and 2 of patent D and claim 11 of application X define the same patentable invention. Claim 3 of patent D and claim 15 of application X define a separate patentable invention from claims 1 and 2 of patent D and claim 11 of application X. If an interference is declared, there would be two counts: Count 1 (engine) and Count 2 (engine with a platinum piston). Claims 1 and 2 of patent D and claim 11 of application X would be designated to correspond to Count 1. Claim 3 of patent D and claim 15 of application X would be designated to correspond to Count 2.

Example 14: Patent E contains claims 1 (Markush group of benzene or toluene), 2 (benzene), and 3 (toluene). Application Y contains patentable claim 11 (benzene). Benzene and toluene define the same patentable invention. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (Markush group of benzene or toluene). Claims 1, 2, and 3 of patent E and claim 11 of application Y would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 15: In this example, the claims of patent E and application Y in Example 14 are reversed. Patent E contains claim 1 (benzene). Application Y contains patentable claims 11 (Markush group of benzene or toluene), 12 (benzene), and 13 (toluene). If an interference is declared, the count would be the same as the count in Example 14—(Markush group of benzene or toluene). Claim 1 of patent E and claims 11, 12, and 13 of application Y would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 16: The PTO will continue to follow cases such as Case v. CPC International, Inc., 730 F.2d 745, 221 USPQ 196 (Fed. Cir. 1984); cert. denied, 105 S.Ct. 233 (1984); Aelony v. Arni, 547 F.2d 566, 192 USPQ 486 (CCPA 1977); and Nitz v. Ehrenriech, 537 F.2d 539, 190 USPQ 413 (CCPA 1976), and declare interferences where interfering patent and application claims are mutually exclusive provided the claims define the same patentable invention. Patent F contains claim 1 (benzene). Application Z contains patentable claim 11 (xylene). Benzene and xylene define the same patentable invention. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (benzene or xylene). Claim 1 of patent F and claim 11 of application Z would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 17: It will be the practice of the PTO under § 1.606 to initially declare interferences with counts which are identical to or broader than patent claims which correspond to the counts. A single patent claim would be presumed, subject to a motion under § 1.633(c), not to define separate patentable inventions. Patent G contains claim 1 (Markush group of benzene or chloroform), 2 (benzene), and 3 (chloroform). Application AA contains patentable claim 33 (benzene). If an interference is declared, initially it would be presumed by the PTO, subject to a later motion under § 1.633(c), that benzene and chloroform define the same patentable invention. There would be one count (Markush group of benzene or chloroform). Claims 1, 2, and 3 of patent G and claim 33 of application AA would be designated to correspond to the count. If a party believes benzene and chloroform define separate patentable inventions, that party could file a motion under § 1.633(c) to redefine the count and the claims corresponding to the counts.

Example 18: Patent H contains claims 1 (Markush group of benzene or chloroform), 2, (benzene), and 3 (chloroform). Application AB contains patentable claims 11 (Markush group of benzene or chloroform), 12 (benzene), and 13 (chloroform). Benzene and chloroform initially would be presumed, subject to a motion under § 1.633(c), to define the same patentable invention, because they are recited as a Markush group in a single patent claim. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (Markush group of benzene or chloroform). Claims 1, 2, and 3 of patent H and claims 11, 12, and 13 of application AB would be designated to correspond to the count. If a party believes benzene and chloroform define separate patentable inventions, the party could move under § 1.633(c) to substitute a count (benzene) for (Markush group of benzene or chloroform) and to add a count (chloroform). See Example 36.

Example 19: Under § 1.606, the PTO will continue to follow the practice announced in Ex parte Card and Card, 1904 Dec.Comm'r.Pat. 383 (Comm'r.Pat. 1904). Patent J contains claim 1 (method of mixing, grinding, and heating). Application AC contains patentable claim 8 (method of mixing and heating) and does not disclose or claim a grinding step. In the context of the inventions disclosed in patent J and application AC, a method of mixing, grinding, and heating is the same patentable invention as a method of mixing and heating. Under current practice, it would be said that "grinding" is an "immaterial" limitation in claim 1 of patent J. Under § 1.606, the fact application AC does not disclose grinding would not preclude an interference. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (method of mixing and heating). Claim 1 of patent J and claim 8 of application AC would be designated to correspond to the count.

Under § 1.605, timely filing of an amendment presenting a claim suggested by the examiner for purposes of an interference would stay ex parte proceedings in the application in which the claim is presented pending a determination by the examiner of whether an interference will be declared. Also under § 1.605(a), when an examiner suggests a claim, the applicant will be required to copy verbatim the suggested claim. At the time the suggested claim is copied, however, the applicant may also (1) call the examiner's attention to other claims already in the application or which are presented with the copied claim and (2) explain why the other claims would be more appropriate to be included in any interference which may be declared.

Under § 1.607(b), when an applicant seeks an interference with a patent, e.g., by copying claims from the patent, examination of the application including any appeal would be handled with special dispatch within the PTO. "Special dispatch" would be construed to be the same as special dispatch in a reexamination proceeding. See 35 U.S.C. § 305.

Under § 1.608, the PTO will continue current practice (37 CFR § 1.204(c)) of requiring an applicant seeking to provoke an interference with a patent to submit evidence which demonstrates that the applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee. Evidence would be submitted only when the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of the application is more than three months after the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date under 35 U.S.C. §§ 120 of the patent. The evidence may relate to patentability and need not be restricted to priority. When the evidence (1) consists of prior printed publications and patents and (2) shows that the claims of the application are not patentable, the claims in the application would be rejected and the applicant could file a request for reexamination of the patent.

Section 1.609 sets forth what an examiner shall forward to the Board when an interference is declared. For the most part, § 1.609 continues current practice. However, under § 1.609(b)(3), the examiner would identify all claims in an application which the examiner believes are patentable over the proposed counts. Thus, a claim in an application would either correspond to a count or would be indicated as being patentable over the count. For instance, in Example 3, supra, the examiner would indicate that (1) claims 1 and 2 of application E and claims 11 and 12 of application F correspond to the count and (2) claim 3 of application E defines a separate patentable invention from the count.

Under § 1.610, each interference will be declared by an examiner-in-chief. The examiner-in-chief enters all interlocutory orders in the interference. As necessary, another examiner-in-chief may act in place of the examiner-in-chief assigned to the interference. At the discretion of the examiner-in-chief assigned to the interference, a panel of two or more examiners-in-chief may enter an interlocutory order. The examiner-in-chief will set times and control proceedings such that pendency of the interference normally will not exceed 24 months. Under § 1.610(d), the examiner-in-chief is authorized to hold conferences. Any conference can be by a telephone conference call. Under § 1.610(e), an examiner-in-chief is authorized to determine a proper course of conduct for any situation not specifically covered by the rules.

Under § 1.611(a), the PTO will normally notify each party at its correspondence address (37 CFR § 1.33(a)) that an interference is declared. This practice will save the PTO the administrative burden of sending multiple notices as is required by the present rules. Under § 1.611(a), the PTO could, in an appropriate circumstance, also send a notice to a patentee or an assignee. An appropriate circumstance for sending an additional notice would be a situation where a patent was issued on the basis of an application filed under 37 CFR § 1.47. The matters to be specified in a notice declaring an interference are set out in § 1.611(c). One item to be set out is the "order of the parties," meaning the order in which the parties will take testimony. If Jones is the junior party and Smith is the senior party, the order of the parties is: Jones v. Smith. The order of the parties may change as a result of the granting of a motion under § 1.633(d), (f), or (g). Under § 1.611(d), the notice declaring the interference may also set dates for filing preliminary statements, notices that preliminary statements have been filed, motions under § 1.633, oppositions to those motions, and replies to the oppositions. Alternatively, an examiner-in-chief may set those times in a separate order before or after consultation with counsel for the parties. Under § 1.611(e), the PTO may place a notice in the Official Gazette each time an interference is declared involving a patent. The notice would make it easier for patent practitioners throughout the country to determine whether a given patent is or has been involved in an interference.

Under § 1.612, except for affidavits under § 1.131 and any evidence and explanation under § 1.608(b) filed separate from an amendment, each party shall have access to the file of every other party after an interference is declared. The files of applications and patents involved in an interference will be maintained if the Service Branch of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences for inspection and copying. Any explanation which is filed as part of an amendment or an amendment which discusses details contained in an affidavit under § 1.131 would not be sealed under § 1.612(a). Thus, § 1.612(a) continues the practice discussed in Moorman v. Martin, 103 USPQ 273 (Comm'r.Pat. 1950) and Calvert, An Overview of Interference Practice, 62 J. Pat. Off. Soc'y. 290, 293 (1980). Under § 1.612(b), each party will have access to an opponent's affidavit under § 1.131 or an opponent's evidence and explanation under § 1.608(b) when a decision is rendered on motions under § 1.633. Under § 1.612(c), a party would be required to serve any evidence and explanation under § 1.608(b) if an order to show cause is issued under § 1.617(a) and the party responds to the order under § 1.617(b). Under § 1.612(d), the parties may agree to exchange copies of their respective files.

Under § 1.613(a), when a party has appointed more than one attorney or agent of record, the party may be required to designate a "lead" attorney or agent. A lead attorney or agent would be a registered attorney or agent of record who is primarily responsible for prosecuting an interference on behalf of a party and is the individual whom an examiner-in-chief can contact to set times and take other action in the interference. Section 1.613(b) continues the practice of not permitting the same attorney or agent to represent two or more parties in an interference except as permitted by Chapter 1, see e.g., § 1.344. Under § 1.613(c), an examiner-in-chief can make an appropriate inquiry to determine whether an attorney or agent should be disqualified from representing a party. A final decision to disqualify an attorney or agent is made by the Commissioner under 35 U.S.C. § 32.

Section 1.614 specifies when the Board gains jurisdiction over an interference. The section also indicates when an interference becomes a contested case within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. § 24. A remand to the examiner is authorized and may be useful in certain situations, such as, when a party moves under § 1.633(c) to add a proposed count which is broader than any count in an interference. Alternatively, an examiner-in-chief would be able to obtain informal opinions from examiners during the course of an interference. Nothing in the rules, however, is intended to authorize informal conferences between an examiner-in-chief and an examiner with respect to the merits of an application before the Board in an ex parte appeal from an adverse decision of the examiner.

Section 1.616 permits an examiner-in-chief or the Board to impose appropriate sanctions against a party who fails to comply with the rules or with an order entered in the interference. Paragraphs (a) through (e) set forth some of the possible sanctions which can be entered. The particular sanction to be entered would depend on the facts of a given case and ordinarily would not be entered prior to giving the affected party an opportunity to present its views. An individual examiner-in-chief could not impose a sanction granting judgment inasmuch as entry of a judgment requires action by the Board. See § 1.610(a). A party desiring sanctions imposed against an opponent could move under § 1.635 for entry of an order imposing sanctions.

Section 1.617 retains summary judgment proceedings in those cases where a junior party applicant is required to file evidence and an explanation under § 1.608(b). To avoid summary judgment, the junior party applicant must establish that it is prima facie entitled to judgment relative to the senior party patentee. For the most part, practice under § 1.617 will be the same as the current practice under 37 CFR § 1.228. The major changes would be the following: (1) A prima facie case could be based on patentability as well as priority. (2) A stricter standard would be imposed for presenting additional evidence after entry of an order to show cause. Under current practice (37 CFR § 1.228), additional evidence may be submitted with a response to an order to show cause "when a showing in excuse of . . . [its] omission from the original" showing is made. The "good cause" showing required by § 1.617(b) imposes a stricter standard than was required under the prior rules. The stricter standard is necessary to encourage applicants copying claims from a patent to better prepare their initial showings under proposed § 1.608(b). Under current practice, the Board of Patent Interferences has found that substantial time is lost in issuing orders to show cause based on an inadequate initial showing only to have an adequate showing made with the response to the order to show cause. Under the "good cause" standard, ignorance by a party or counsel of the provisions of the rules or the substantive requirements of the law would not constitute good cause. (3) When an interference involves more than two parties, all opponents would be permitted to participate in summary judgment proceedings. Thus, the new rules overrule Chan v. Akiba v. Clayton, 189 USPQ 621 (Comm'r.Pat. 1975). (4) Currently, an applicant must file two copies of its initial showing under 37 CFR § 1.204(c). Under § 1.608(b), a party would file only one copy of the showing. However, any party responding to an order to show cause would be required to serve a copy of its initial showing under § 1.608(b) with any response to the order to show cause. (5) A single examiner-in-chief may order an interference to proceed after issuance of an order to show cause under § 1.608(b) and the filing of a response by an applicant under § 1.617(b). Only the Board, however, may enter a summary judgment. See § 1.617(b).

Under § 1.618, the PTO has authority to return to a party any paper presented in an interference which is not authorized by, or is not in compliance with the requirements of, Subpart E. When an improper paper is filed, a party may be given an opportunity to file a proper paper under such conditions as an examiner-in-chief may deem appropriate. Two examples of improper papers are: (1) replies to replies which are not authorized by the rules and (2) papers presented which have attached thereto a paper previously filed in the interference.

Sections 1.621 through 1.629 govern preliminary statements which continue to be required in interference cases.

Under § 1.621, a preliminary statement can be signed by any individual having knowledge of the facts (e.g., the inventor) or by an attorney or agent of record. Permitting an attorney or agent of record to sign a preliminary statement eliminates unnecessary mailing of papers between parties and their attorney or agent.

Under § 1.622, the preliminary statement would identify the inventor who made the invention defined by each count. If the inventor identified in the preliminary statement is not an inventor named in the application or patent involved in the interference, a motion under § 1.634 must be diligently filed to correct inventorship.

Sections 1.623, 1.624, and 1.625 respectively set out the allegations which should be made in, and the attachments which should accompany, a preliminary statement when (1) the invention was made in the United States, (2) the invention was made abroad and was introduced into the United States, and (3) derivation by an opponent from a party is to be an issue.

Section 1.626 permits a party to file a preliminary statement which states that the party only intends to rely on the filing date of an earlier United States or foreign application. Ordinarily, a junior party who fails to file a preliminary statement is not entitled to access to any other preliminary statement filed (see § 1.631(b)). Section 1.626 would permit a junior party who only intends to rely on an earlier application to have access to any opponent's preliminary statement.

Section 1.628 sets out how an error in a preliminary statement may be corrected.

Section 1.629 sets out the effect of a preliminary statement. A party who fails to file a preliminary statement will not be permitted to prove (1) that the party made the invention defined by a count prior to the party's filing date or (2) that an opponent derived the invention from the party.

Under § 1.631, preliminary statements normally will be opened for inspection when an examiner-in-chief decides preliminary motions filed under § 1.633. A junior party who does not file a preliminary statement is not entitled to access to a preliminary statement of any other party. When an interference is terminated before preliminary statements are opened, any preliminary statement which has been filed will be returned unopened to the party who submitted the statement.

Under § 1.632, a notice must be filed by a party who intends to argue that an opponent abandoned, suppressed, or concealed an actual reduction to practice. 35 U.S.C. § 102(g). A party will not be permitted to brief (§ 1.656) or argue at final hearing (§ 1.654) that an opponent abandoned, suppressed, or concealed an actual reduction to practice unless the notice is timely filed. A notice is timely if filed within ten (10) days of the close of the testimony-in-chief period of an opponent. While a party has the burden of proving that an opponent abandoned, suppressed, or concealed, the burden may be discharged on the basis of the opponent's evidence alone. Shindelar v. Holdeman, 628 F.2d 1337, 207 USPQ 112 (CCPA 1980). See also Correge v. Murphy, 705 F.2d 1326, 217 USPQ 753 (Fed. Cir. 1983); Horwath v. Lee, 564 F.2d 948, 195 USPQ 701 (CCPA 1977); and Peeler v. Miller, 535 F.2d 647, 190 USPQ 117 (CCPA 1976). Under current practice where notice is not required, it is possible that a party may learn for the first time that abandonment, suppression, or concealment is an issue when the party receives an opponent's brief at final hearing. See Klug v. Wood, 212 USPQ 767, 771 n. 2 (Bd.Pat.Int. 1981). At that point, it is often too late to reopen proceedings in the interference. The purpose of requiring the notice under § 1.632 is to make the parties and the Board aware during the interlocutory stage of an interference that abandonment, suppression, or concealment may be an issue in the interference. Early notice will permit the parties to ask for and the examiner-in-chief to set appropriate testimony periods for a party to present evidence related to abandonment, suppression, and concealment, particularly in those cases where long unexplained delays tend to prove the allegation of suppression or concealment. Early notice will also eliminate the need for the party moving to reopen the testimony period. Klug v. Wood, supra.

Under § 1.633, a party may file preliminary motions for judgment, to redefine the interference, to substitute a different application in the interference, to declare an additional interference, to be accorded the benefit of an earlier application, to attack benefit previously accorded an opponent, or to add a reissue application to the interference. The motions are called "preliminary motions" in order to distinguish the motions from other motions which might be filed during the course of an interference. The preliminary motions would replace motions currently authorized by 37 CFR § 1.231.

Under § 1.633(a), a motion to dissolve would be replaced with a motion for judgment. A party can file a motion for judgment on the ground that an opponent's claim corresponding to a count is unpatentable to the opponent. With two exceptions, unpatentability can be based on prior art (35 U.S.C. §§ 102, 103), insufficiency of disclosure (35 U.S.C. § 112, first paragraph), indefiniteness of claims (35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph), double patenting, estoppel, or any other ground which would support a holding that claims corresponding to a count are not patentable. The two exceptions are (1) priority of invention of the subject matter of a count by the moving party as against any opponent and (2) derivation of the subject matter of a count by the opponent from the moving party. The two exceptions are directed to issues which are traditional "priority" issues, e.g., which inventor made the invention defined by a count first or, when derivation is an issue, who made the invention. Resolution of those "priority" issues almost always requires the taking of testimony. A motion for judgment, however, would be proper when a party believed an individual not involved in the interference made the invention defined by the count prior to an opponent in the interference, but subsequent to the moving party. Thus, a patentability issue, such as that raised under 35 U.S.C. § 102(g) in Sutter Products Co. v. Pettibone Mulliken Corp., 428 F.2d 639, 166 USPQ 100 (7th Cir. 1970), properly could be raised with a motion for judgment under § 1.633(a). Derivation by an opponent from an individual not involved in the interference could also be raised under § 1.633(a).

Under § 1.633(b), a party could move for a judgment when the party believes there is no interference-in-fact. A motion for judgment on the ground of no interference-in-fact is only proper under one of three conditions: (1) when an interference involves designs, (2) when the interference involves plant applications or a plant application and plant patent, or (3) when no claim of a party which corresponds to a count is identical to any claim of an opponent which corresponds to that count. An example illustrates when a motion under § 1.636(b) is proper.

Example 20: Application AD contains patentable claim 1 (6-cylinder engine). Application AE contains patentable claim 3 (8-cylinder engine). An interference is declared with a single count (6 or 8-cylinder engine). Claim 1 of application AD and claim 3 of application AE are designated to correspond to the count. Applicant AD believes that a 6-cylinder engine is a "separate patentable invention" (see § 1.601(n)) from an 8-cylinder engine. Applicant AD would file a motion under § 1.633(b) for a judgment on the ground of no interference-in-fact stating why a 6-cylinder engine is patentably distinct from an 8-cylinder engine. If the Board ultimately agrees with applicant AD, a patent could issue to AD containing claim 1 of application AD and a second patent could issue to AE containing claim 3 of application AE.

Under § 1.633(c), a party may move to redefine interfering subject matter. One way to redefine interfering subject matter would be to add or substitute a count. When a party seeks to add a count, the party is required to demonstrate that the proposed count to be added is directed to a "separate patentable invention" from every other count in the interference.

A motion may be filed to amend an application claim which has already been designated to correspond to a count. See § 1.633(c)(2). Such a motion might be filed when a party believes an application claim designated to correspond to a count is unpatentable and the amended claim is believed to be patentable.

An applicant may move to add a claim to the applicant's application and to designate the claim to be added to correspond to a count. See § 1.633(c)(2). Such a motion may be filed when the applicant discloses specific subject matter which is not claimed, would like to claim the subject matter, and wants the subject matter involved in the interference.

Another way to redefine interfering subject matter would be to designate a claim as corresponding or not corresponding to a count. See § 1.633(c)(3) and (c)(4). Examples 21 and 22 illustrate this latter point.

Example 21: Application AF contains patentable claim 1 (engine). Patent K contains claims 3 (engine) and 5 (6-cylinder engine). Claim 1 of application AF and claim 3 of patent K are designated to correspond to the count. Applicant AF believes a 6-cylinder engine is the "same patentable invention" (see § 1.601(n)) as engine. Applicant AF would file a motion under § 1.633(c)(3) to designate claim 5 of patent K as corresponding to the count. If the motion is granted and applicant AF prevails in the interference, judgment would be entered against patentee K and both claims 3 and 5 of patent K would be cancelled under 35 U.S.C. § 135(a).

Example 22: Application AG contains patentable claim 1 (engine). Patent L contains claims 3 (engine) and 5 (8-cylinder engine). An interference is declared with one count (engine). Claim 1 of application AG and claims 3 and 5 of patent L are designated to correspond to the count. Patentee L believes that an 8-cylinder engine defines a "separate patentable invention" (see § 1.601(n)) from engine. Patentee L should file a motion under § 1.633(c)(4) to designate claim 5 of patent L as "not corresponding" to the count. If the motion is granted and an adverse judgment is entered against patentee L, only claim 3 would be cancelled from the patent pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 135(a).

A motion to redefine the interfering subject matter may also request that an opponent who is an applicant be required to add a claim to the opponent's application and to designate the claim to correspond to a count. See § 1.633(c)(5). Such a motion might be filed when a party sees that the opponent discloses, but does not claim, subject matter which the party believes should be involved in the interference.

Section 1.633(i) would continue present practice (37 CFR § 1.231) of allowing a party to move to redefine the subject matter of the interference or substitute a different application when an opponent moves for judgment (see § 1.633(a) and (b)) or to attack benefit (see § 1.633(g)).

Paragraph (j) of § 1.633 will permit an opponent to move for benefit when a party moves to add or substitute a count. Thus, when a motion to add a count is filed by a party and an opponent wants benefit of an earlier application in the event the motion to add is granted, the opponent should file a motion under § 1.633(j) to be accorded benefit. The mere fact that the opponent had been accorded benefit of an earlier application when the interference was declared does not mean the opponent will be accorded benefit as to some other count which may be added on motion of some other party.

Section 1.634 authorizes a motion to correct inventorship in an application (see § 1.48) or a patent (see § 1.324) involved in an interference.

Section 1.635 authorizes the filing of motions other than those specified in §§ 1.633 or 1.634. Motions filed under § 1.635 would be referred to as "miscellaneous motions" to distinguish from "preliminary motions" under § 1.633. Instances where a miscellaneous motion would be filed include motions to correct an error in a preliminary statement, to extend time for taking action or to seek judicial review, to obtain permission to proceed under 35 U.S.C. § 24, or to obtain additional discovery.

Section 1.636 sets out the times within which a motion would be filed.

Section 1.637 sets out the content of motions. In prior interference practice, parties and their counsel have had difficulty meeting all the "unwritten" requirements for motions under 37 CFR § 1.231. Section 1.637 is quite specific in setting out the requirements for each type of motion, particularly the preliminary motions. By setting out with specificity the requirements for each type of motion, it is intended to minimize disposition of motions on technicalities. A vast majority of the comments in response to the advanced notice published in the Federal Register on Aug. 1, 1983, commenting on then proposed § 1.637 were in favor of the requirements for motions being specifically set out in the regulations.

Section 1.638 authorizes oppositions to motions. Any cpposition would have to identify any material fact in dispute. A reply to an opposition would be authorized for all motions. A reply to a reply is not authorized.

Section 1.639 sets forth the evidence which may accompany a motion, opposition, or reply. Every material fact alleged in a motion, opposition, or an reply would have to be supported by proof. Section 1.639(b) authorizes affidavits to be used as proof for any motion. The affidavit may later be used by a party during the testimony period (see §§ 1.671(e) and 1.672(b)). When a party believes that testimony is necessary to decide a motion under § 1.633 or § 1.634, the party would have to describe the nature of the testimony needed. If an examiner-in-chief agrees that testimony is needed, appropriate interlocutory relief would be granted and testimony would be ordered.

Example 23: An interference is declared with one count between application AH and application AJ. Applicant AH files a preliminary motion under § 1.633(c)(1) to redefine the interference by adding a second count. In order to succeed, applicant AH must show that the proposed count to be added is directed to a "separate patentable invention" (see § 1.601(n)) from the count already in the interference. In the motion, applicant AH sets forth in detail the testimony which would be required to prove that the subject matter of the proposed count is to a separate patentable invention from the subject matter of the count in the interference. Applicant AJ opposes the motion on the ground that the proposed and present counts define the "same patentable invention" (see § 1.601(n)). An examiner-in-chief determines that a material fact is in dispute and that applicant AH has established testimony is needed to properly rule on the motion. Under the circumstances, the motion would be deferred to final hearing and a testimony period would be ordered. The questions of (1) whether the proposed and present counts define the same patentable invention and (2) priority would be decided at final hearing.

Under § 1.640, an examiner-in-chief would decide all motions. A hearing could be held on a motion in the discretion of an examiner-in-chief. Where appropriate, an examiner-in-chief could consult with an examiner on a question of patentability which arises in the first instance in the interference. Consultation would not be necessary where the examiner had already ruled on the patentability question which comes before the examiner-in-chief or the Board. Moreover, nothing in § 1.640 authorizes conferences between examiners-in-chief and examiners in ex parte appeals under 35 U.S.C. § 134 from an adverse decision of an examiner. A party is entitled to request reconsideration of a decision on a motion by a single examiner-in-chief. An opposition to a request for reconsideration could not be filed unless ordered by an examiner-in-chief or the Board, but the decision by the single examiner-in-chief would not normally be modified unless an opposition has been requested. The request for reconsideration would be acted on by a panel of the Board consisting of at least three examiners-in-chief, one of whom would normally be the examiner-in-chief who decided the motion. Several comments were received in response to the advance notice questioning why the examiner-in-chief who decided the motion would form part of the panel deciding the request for reconsideration. The decision to propose, and now adopt, a regulation which would permit the examiner-in-chief who decided the motion to participate in the decision on reconsideration was made after careful balancing of all the factors involved. It could have been proposed to permit the examiner-in-chief to individually decide the request for reconsideration. However, it is believed that parties in interference cases would feel that their requests for reconsideration are being more fully considered if more than one person considers their request. The two additional examiners-in-chief would be able to consult with the examiner-in-chief most familiar with the case, but would be able to control the decision on reconsideration by a majority vote. Use of the examiner-in-chief who decided the motion and two additional examiners-in-chief would (1) minimize delay which would occur if three new examiners-in-chief were used who were unfamiliar with the record and (2) minimize the possibility that reversible error occurred if only the examiner-in-chief who decided the motion also individually decided the request for reconsideration.

Under § 1.644, petitions to the Commissioner are authorized in interference cases under certain restricted conditions. Petitions in interferences have been the source of substantial delay. Section 1.644 attempts to minimize those delays. Section 1.644 authorizes a petition to the Commissioner from a decision of an examiner-in-chief or a panel when the examiner-in-chief or the panel shall be of the opinion (1) that the decision involves a controlling question of procedure or an interpretation of a rule as to which there is a substantial ground for a difference of opinion and (2) that an immediate decision on petition would materially advance the ultimate termination of the interference. The standard is intended to be analogous to that of a district court certifying a question to a court of appeals under 28 U.S.C. § 1292(b). A petition could be filed seeking to invoke the supervisory authority of the Commissioner. However, the petition could not be filed prior to entry of judgment and could not relate to the merits of priority or patentability or the admissibility of evidence under the Federal Rules of Evidence. A petition could also be filed seeking waiver of a rule. A fee of $120 would be charged for each petition and for each request for reconsideration of a decision on petition. Any petition would be decided on the record made before the examiner-in-chief or the Board and additional evidence could not be submitted with the petition. An opposition could not be filed unless ordered by the Commissioner. Where reasonably possible, service of a petition would have to be such that delivery is accomplished within one day. Service by hand or "Express Mail" would comply with this requirement.

Section 1.645 permits a party to file a motion to seek an extension of time to take action in an interference or to seek judicial review. The motion would have to be filed within sufficient time to actually reach an examiner-in-chief prior to expiration of the time for taking action. Under § 1.645, a moving party would not be able to assume that a motion for an extension of time would be granted. Under § 1.610(d)(6), a request for an extension of time could be made orally and an appropriate order would then be entered thus eliminating considerable paper work. The order would be the written record of the request and decision. See § 1.2. Extensions of time have caused numerous delays in interference cases. Under present interference practice, some delays are caused because attorneys and agents on many occasions unexpectedly receive orders setting times. Under the new practice, attorneys and agents can expect times to be set for filing preliminary statements, preliminary motions, motions for additional discovery, testimony, and briefs after a conference call. It is expected that use of conference calls will permit an examiner-in-chief and attorneys or agents for parties to set a time schedule which is mutually satisfactory. A motion to extend time would not be granted unless a party shows good cause. The use of conference calls would allow schedules to be set before orders setting time are entered and therefore the press of other business which arises after the examiner-in-chief and attorneys and agents agree to times would not normally be considered good cause.

Under § 1.647, when a party relies on a document in a foreign language, an English language translation of the document and an affidavit attesting to the accuracy of the translation would be required. The rule would apply to any document, including evidence submitted with motions, foreign applications for which a party seeks benefit, testimony, and exhibits introduced in evidence during testimony.

Under § 1.651, after a decision is entered on preliminary motions, an examiner-in-chief would set times for filing motions for additional discovery and for taking testimony. Any motion for additional discovery would be to obtain answers to terrogatories, requests for admissions, and documents and things necessary for a party to prepare its case-in-chief.

Section 1.653 sets out what shall be in the record to be considered by the Board at final hearing. The record would continue to be printed or typed on paper 8-1/2 by 11 inches in size. Accordingly, when a party files an affidavit, the party should use 8-1/2 by 11 inches paper for the affidavit.

Section 1.654 continues the practice of holding a final hearing where oral argument may be presented by all parties. No fee would be charged for appearing at oral argument at final hearing in an interference.

Section 1.655 specifies the matters which can be considered in rendering a final decision. Patentability is an issue which may be raised. The Board can also consider whether any interlocutory order was manifestly erroneous or an abuse of discretion, although any interlocutory order would be presumed to be correct and burden of showing error shall be on the party attacking the order. This last procedural provision permits the Board to correct any manifest error before a party seeks judicial review of an interlocutory order along with judicial review of the Board's final decision.

Section 1.656 sets forth the requirements for briefs for final hearing. In large measure, § 1.656 follows the requirements of Rule 28 of the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure. An original and three copies of a brief is required. Under § 1.656(h), if a party wants the Board in rendering its final decision to rule that any evidence is inadmissible, the party must file with its opening brief an original and three copies of a motion to suppress the evidence. Any previous objection to the admissibility of evidence is waived unless the motion to suppress is filed. This procedural provision makes clear that an objection to the admissibility of evidence must be renewed at final hearing and will be considered by the Board in rendering its final decision. When a junior party fails to file a brief, an order can be issued requiring the junior party to show cause why failure to file the brief should not be taken as a concession of priority.

Under § 1.658 the Board would enter a final decision. The decision can (1) enter judgment, in whole or in part, (2) remand the interference to an examiner-in-chief, or (3) take further action not inconsistent with law. A judgment as to a count shall state whether or not each party is entitled to a patent containing claims which correspond to the count. When judgment is entered as to all counts, the decision of the Board is considered final for the purpose of judicial review. Section 1.658(c) defines the doctrine of interference estoppel as it is to be applied in the PTO after an interference is terminated. The definition of interference estoppel is designed to encourage parties in interference cases to settle as many issues as possible in one proceeding. Section 1.658(c) creates an estoppel both as to senior and junior parties unlike the present practice (37 CFR § 1.257) which limits estoppel in some instances to junior parties. An estoppel would not apply with respect to any claims which correspond, or which properly could have corresponded, to a count as to which the party was awarded a favorable judgment. A few examples illustrate how estoppel would be applied.

Example 24: Junior party applicant AL and senior party applicant AK both disclose separate patentable inventions "A" and "B" and claim only invention A in their respective applications. An interference is declared with a single count to invention A. Neither party files a preliminary motion (see § 1.633(c)(1)) to add a count to invention B. Judgment as to all of AL's claims corresponding to the sole count is awarded to junior party applicant AL. Senior party applicant AK would be estopped to thereafter obtain a patent containing claims to invention B, because applicant AK failed to move to add a count to invention B in the interference. Junior party applicant AL would not be estopped to obtain a patent containing claims to invention B.

Example 25: In this example, the facts are the same as in Example 24 except that judgment is awarded as to all AK's claims corresponding to the count to senior party applicant AK. Junior party applicant AL would be estopped to obtain a patent containing claims to invention B in the interference. Senior party applicant AK would not be estopped to obtain a patent containing claims to invention B.

Example 26: Junior party applicant AM and senior party applicant AP both disclose separate patentable inventions "C", "D", and "E" and claim inventions C and D in their respective applications. An interference is declared with two counts. Count 1 is to invention C and Count 2 is to invention D. Neither party files a preliminary motion to add a proposed Count 3 to invention E. Judgment as to all AM's claims corresponding to Counts 1 and 2 is awarded to junior party applicant AM. Senior party applicant AP would be estopped to thereafter obtain a patent containing claims to invention E, because applicant AP failed to move to add a count to invention E in the interference. Junior party applicant AM would not be estopped to obtain a patent containing claim to invention E.

Example 27: In this example, the facts are the same as in Example 26 except that judgment is awarded as to all AP's claims corresponding to Counts 1 and 2 to senior party applicant AP. Junior party applicant AM would be estopped to obtain a patent containing claims to invention E, because applicant AM failed to move to add a count to invention E in the interference. Senior party applicant AP would not be estopped to obtain a patent containing claims to invention E.

Example 28: In this example, the facts are the same as in Example 26 except that judgment is awarded on all of AM's claims corresponding to Count 1 to junior party applicant AM and judgment is awarded on all AP's claims corresponding to Count 2 to senior party applicant AP. Both parties would be estopped to obtain a patent containing claims to invention E, because neither moved to add a count to invention E during the interference. Assume that junior party AM could have properly moved under § 1.633(f) to be accorded the benefit of an earlier application, but did not do so during the interference. Junior party AM would not be estopped in subsequent ex parte prosecution from asking for benefit of the earlier application as to the invention defined by Count 1. Accordingly, if the examiner were to reject junior party AM's claim corresponding to Count 1 on the basis of some newly discovered prior art, junior party AM could properly antedate the prior art by seeking the benefit under 35 U.S.C. § 120 of the earlier application. Thus, even though junior party AM was a "losing party" as to Count 2 (an adverse judgment as to junior party AM's claims corresponding to Count 2 having been entered), junior party AM was awarded a favorable judgment (§ 1.658(c)) as to Count 1. Junior party AM would be estopped in subsequent ex parte prosecution from attempting to be accorded the benefit of the earlier application as to the invention of Count 2.

Example 29: Applicant AQ discloses and claims invention "F." Applicant AR discloses and claims separate patentable inventions "F" and "G." The assignee of applicant AQ also owns an application AS which discloses and claims invention "G." An interference is declared between applicant AQ and applicant AR. The sole count is directed to invention F. No motion is filed by applicant AQ or its assignee to declare an additional interference between applicant AR and applicant AS with a count to invention G. A judgment as to all of AR's claims corresponding to the sole count is awarded to applicant AR. Applicant AS and the assignee would be estopped to obtain a patent containing claims to invention G, because applicant AR and the assignee failed to move to declare an additional interference with a count to invention G.

Example 30: The facts in this example are the same as the facts in Example 29 except that judgment as to all of AQ's claims corresponding the sole count is awarded to applicant AQ. Applicant AS and the assignee would not be estopped, because applicant AQ was not a "losing party" (§ 1.658(c)).

Example 31: Applicant AT discloses a generic invention to "solvent" and a species to "benzene." Application AT contains a patentable claim 1 (solvent) and no other claims. Applicant AU discloses the generic invention to "solvent" and species to "benzene" and "toluene." Application AU contains patentable claim 3 (solvent) and no other claims. An interference is declared with a single count (solvent). Claims 1 of application AT and claim 3 cf applicatien AU are designated to correspond to the count. No preliminary motions are filed. A judgment is entered in favor of applicant AT on the claim corresponding to the sole count. Applicant AU would be estopped to obtain a patent containing a claim to benzene, because applicant AU failed to file a preliminary motion under § 1.633(c)(1) seeking to add a count to benzene and benzene was disclosed in winning party AT's application. Applicant AU would also be estopped to obtain a patent containing a claim to toluene, unless "toluene" defines a "separate patentable invention" from "solvent ." A basis for interference estoppel (§ 1.658(c)) exists if "toluene" and "solvent" define the "same patentable invention," because a claim to "toluene" could properly have been added and designated to correspond to the count. See § 1.633(c)(2).

Under § 1.659, the Board would be able to make recommendations to examiners and the Commissioner, including recommendations that application claims not involved in the interference be rejected and that a patent be reexamined as to patent claims not involved in the interference.

Under § 1.660, a party would be required to notify the Board when the party's patent or application becomes involved in other PTO proceedings (reexamination, reissue, or protest) or litigation.

Section 1.661 sets forth when an interference is considered terminated after a judgment is entered in the interference. For the purpose of filing copies of settlement agreements, an interference is considered terminated when the time for all appeals has expired. Tallent v. Lemoine, 204 USPQ 1058 (Comm'r.Pat. 1979). See also Nelson v. Bowler, 212 USPQ 760 (Comm'r.Pat. 1981).

Section 1.662 provides that a party may request that an adverse judgment be entered. The section also provides that when a written disclaimer (not a statutory disclaimer), concession of priority or unpatentability, abandonment of the invention, abandonment of an application, or abandonment of the contest is filed, the disclaimer, concession, or abandonment would be treated as a request for entry of an adverse judgment. Section 1.662(b) provides that when a patentee files a reissue application and omits all claims of a patent corresponding to the counts of an interference for the purpose of avoiding the interference, judgment would be entered against the patentee. Under § 1.662(c), the filing of a statutory disclaimer would not be treated as a request for entry of an adverse judgment unless all patent claims corresponding to a count are disclaimed. Under § 1.662(d), if after entry of a judgment or after filing of a statutory disclaimer no interference exists, the interference would be terminated as to any party against whom judgment has not been entered and any further prosecution of any application involved in the interference would be ex parte before the examiner.

Section 1.666 sets out the procedure for filing settlement agreements in interference cases. The PTC is merely a repository for copies of agreements filed under 35 U.S.C. § 135(c) and does not undertake to rule on whether the statute requires that a copy of any particular agreement be filed. Nelson v. Bowler, 212 USPQ 760 (Comm'r.Pat. 1981).

Section 1.671 sets out what would be considered evidence. The Federal Rules of Evidence, with certain exceptions, are made applicable to interference cases. Under § 1.671(e), a party cannot rely on a previously filed affidavit unless the affidavit is served and notice is given that the party intends to rely on the affidavit. The purpose for the notice is to permit an opponent to determine whether a deposition for cross-examination is necessary (see §§ 1.672(b) and 1.673(e)).

Section 1.671(e) is intended to overrule prior construction of PTO rules in Holmes v. Kelly, 586 F.2d 234, 237 n. 7, 199 USPQ 778, 782 n. 7 (CCPA 1978) and Brecker v. Jennings, 204 USPQ 663 (Bd.Pat.Int. 1978), which considered a Rule 132 affidavit in the file of an involved application to be part of the "record" in an interference. Under § 1.671(e), a party intending to rely on such an affidavit must give notice and serve a copy of the affidavit on the opponent.

Under § 1.671(f), the significance of documentary and other exhibits must be discussed with particularity by a witness during oral deposition or in an affidavit. Section 1.671(f) sets out in the regulations an evidentiary requirement imposed by precedent. See Popoff v. Orchin, 144 USPQ 762 (Bd.Pat.Int. 1963) (unexplained experimental data should not be considered); Chandler v. Mock, 150 F.2d 563, 66 USPQ 209 (CCPA 1945) (records standing alone were held to be meaningless), and Smith v. Bousquet, 111 F.2d 157, 45 USPQ 347 (CCPA 1940) (unexplained tests in stipulated testimony are entitled to little weight). See also In re Borkowski, 505 F.2d 713, 184 USPQ 29 (CCPA 1974) and Triplett v. Steinmayer, 129 F.2d 869, 54 USPQ 409 (CCPA 1942). Under § 1.671(g), a party is required to obtain permission from an examiner-in-chief prior to proceeding under 35 U.S.C. § 24. This requirement insures that a subpoena is necessary (e.g., a subpoena ordinarily should not be necessary where testimony of an opponent is sought) and that testimony sought through a § 24 subpoena is relevant before a subpoena is issued. The motion seeking permission to proceed under § 24, any opposition thereto, and the order of an examiner-in-chief authorizing the moving party to proceed under § 24 will be of assistance to a federal court in the event a party is required to resort to a court to enforce the subpoena or to compel answers to questions propounded at any deposition where a witness is appearing pursuant to a subpoena. See Sheehan v. Doyle, 529 F.2d 38, 188 USPQ 545 (1st Cir.), cert. denied, 429 U.S. 870 (1976), rehearing denied, 429 U.S. 987 (1976).

Under § 1.671(h), any evidence which is not taken or sought and filed in accordance with the regulations will not admissible.

Section 1.672 sets forth the manner in which testimony shall be taken. Testimony can be taken by deposition or affidavit at the election of the party presenting the testimony. A party presenting testimony by affidavit must file and serve the affidavit. If the party presents testimony by affidavit and an opponent elects to cross-examine the affiant, the party is required to notice a deposition for the purpose of cross-examination. Re-direct and re-cross will take place at the deposition. Where the parties agree, testimony can be presented by affidavit without opportunity for cross-examination (see § 1.672(e)) or by an agreed statement of facts (see § 1.672(f)).

Section 1.673 sets out how a deposition must be noticed. A deposition can be noticed for any reasonable place in the United States. The extent to which parties, witnesses, and attorneys or agents have to travel may be considered in determining whether a place is reasonable. Prior to serving a notice for a deposition, a party is required to take two procedural steps. Under § 1.673(b), a party would be required to serve a copy of the documents and a list of the things in its possession, custody, and control upon which it intended to rely. Under § 1.673(g), the party is required to have an oral conference (in person or by telephone) with all opponents to attempt to agree on a mutually acceptable time and place for taking the deposition. An examiner-in-chief may set the time and place if agreement is not reached. A single notice listing all the witnesses and thegeneral nature of their expected testimony is then served. Under § 1.673(c) and except as provided, a party can not rely on any witness not mentioned in the notice, any document not served, or any thing not listed. Under § 1.673(h), a copy of any notice must be attached to the certified transcript of each deposition filed.

Section 1.674 sets out the persons before whom depositions can be taken.

Section 1.675 sets out how a deposition is to be taken.

Section 1.676 sets out how a court reporter should prepare and file a certified transcript of a deposition. Section 1.676(d) sets out how exhibits are to be marked for identification, used at depositions, and filed. Provisions similar to those of Rule 30(f)(1)(A) and (B) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure are applicable to interferences.

Section 1.677 sets out the form of a transcript of a deposition.

Under § 1.678, a transcript of a deposition must be filed in the PTO within 45 days of the date of the deposition.

Section 1.682 sets out how a party may introduce in evidence, if otherwise admissible, official records or printed publications. When a notice is served, a party is also required to serve (but not file) copies of the official records and printed publications. Any objection to the notice or to the admissibility of any official record or publication must be filed within 15 days of the date of service of the notice.

Section 1.683 sets out how a party may use testimony from another interference or proceeding.

Section 1.684 sets out how a party may take testimony in a foreign country.

Section 1.685 sets out how objections during the taking of depositions must be raised. Under § 1.685(a), an error in a notice of deposition is waived unless a motion to quash the notice is filed as soon as the error is, or could have been, discovered. Under § 1.685(b), any objection to the qualifications of an officer is waived unless (1) the objection is noted on the record of the deposition before a witness begins to testify or (2) if discovered after the deposition, a motion to suppress is filed as soon as the objection is, or could have been, discovered. Under § 1.685(c), any error in the manner in which testimony is transcribed, the transcript is signed by a witness, or the transcript is prepared or otherwise handled by the court reporter is waived unless a motion to suppress is filed as soon as the error is, or could have been, discovered. Under § 1.685(d), any objection on the merits to the admissibility of evidence (e.g., under the Federal Rules of Evidence is waived unless an objection is made on the record at the deposition stating the specific ground of objection. Often objections are cured by subsequent testimony. Accordingly, any objection which a party wants the Board to consider at final hearing must also be made the subject of a motion under § 1.656(h).

Section 1.687 sets out how a party could seek and obtain additional discovery. "Additional discovery" is defined in § 1.601(a). Section 1.687 does not change the standard ("interest of justice") for obtaining discovery.

Section 1.688 sets out how a party can introduce into evidence admissions and answers to interrogatories obtained as a result of additional discovery.

Changes in Text

Several changes have been made to the text of the proposed rules published in the Federal Register on Jan. 30, 1984. The changes are discussed below. Additional rationale for the changes are further discussed under the heading "Analysis of Comments."

All references to the "Board of Appeals and Interferences" have been changed to "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences" in view of Public Law 98-622.

In § 1.11(a) the language "or after termination of an interference without an award of judgment" has been deleted. This change has been made in view cf changes made in paragraphs (c) and (d) of § 1.662.

In response to a comment, the fee required for a petition in an interference under § 1.644(e) and a request fcr reconsideration of a decision on petition in an interference under § 1.644(f) have been set out as separate items.

Section 1.136 was changed to refer to § 1.611 rather than § 1.610(a).

The following sentence was inadvertently omitted as the third sentence of § 1.138 in the notice of proposed rulemaking: "A registered attorney or agent acting under the provision of § 1.34(a), or of record, may also expressly abandon a prior application as of the filing date granted to a continuing application when filing such a continuing application." This sentence presently appears in § 1.138.

In § 1.196(d), second sentence, "thirty days" has been changed to "one month".

In § 1.197(b), "thirty days" has been changed to "one month".

In the last sentence of § 1.304, "The Commissioner" has been changed to "An examiner-in-chief" and "of a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in an interference case" has been inserted after "time for seeking judicial review." This change is made to limit the "excusable neglect" standard to interference cases only.

In § 1.601(j), the language "all the claims of a party which correspond" has been changed to read "at least one claim of a party which corresponds". The language "all the claims of an opponent which correspond" has been changed to read "at least one claim of an opponent which corresponds".

Section 1.605(a) has been changed by deleting from the third sentence the language "a claim which is the same or substantially the same as" and by adding the following sentence as the fourth sentence: "At the time the suggested claim is presented, the applicant may also (1) call the examiner's attention to other claims already in the application or which are presented with the suggested claim and (2) explain why the other claims would be more appropriate to be included in any interference which may be declared." In the second sentence, "30 days" has been changed to "one month".

In the last sentence of § 1.606, the language "to define one patentable invention" has been changed to read: "not to contain separate patentable inventions."

The word "and" has been inserted in § 1.607(a) before "(3)". The word "must" in the first sentence of § 1.607(c) has been changed to "shall" in response to a suggestion in a comment.

Pursuant to two separate suggestions, the following is being added after the first sentence in § 1.608(b): "Where the basis upon which an applicant is entitled to judgment relative to a patentee is priority of invention, the evidence shall include affidavits by the applicant, if possible, and one or more corroborating witnesses, supported by documentary evidence, if available, each setting out a factual description of acts and circumstances performed or observed by the affiant, which collectively would prima facie entitle the applicant to judgment on priority with respect to the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of the patent. To facilitate preparation of a record (§ 1.653(g) and (h)) for final hearing, an applicant should file affidavits on paper which is 8-1/2 by 11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm.)."

In § 1.609(b)(1), the language "count or counts" has been changed to "proposed count or counts". In § 1.609(b)(2), each occurrence of "the count" has been changed to "each count".

In § 1.613(a), "§ 1.344" has been changed to "this Chapter." This change is being made to obviate the need to again amend § 1.613 in the event new rules relating to practice before the PTO are issued. See the notice of proposed rulemaking published in the Federal Register on Aug. 24, 1984, 49 F.R. 33790, proposed §§ 10.62 and 10.66. The language "or members of the same firm of attorneys or agents" has been added after "agent" in § 1.613(b).

In § 1.615(a), second sentence, "which are" has been deleted and "in the interference" has been added after "will not be entered or considered".

Several changes have been made in § 1.617. In § 1.617(a), the language "the interference shall proceed before the examiner-in-chief" has been changed to read: "the interference shall proceed in the normal manner under the regulations of this part". The second sentence of § 1.617(b) ("A response may include a request by the applicant for a hearing before the Board.") has been changed to read: "Any request by the applicant for a hearing before the Board shall be made in the response." This change was made to clarify when and how a hearing must be requested by the applicant. The second sentence of § 1.617(d) has been changed to read: "The statement may set forth views as to why summary judgment should be granted against the applicant, but the statement shall be limited to discussing why all the evidence presented by the applicant does not overcome the reasons given by the examiner-in-chief for issuing the order to show cause." Section 1.617(e) has been re-written as follows: "Within a time authorized by the examiner-in-chief, an applicant may file a reply to any statement filed by any opponent." The language "examiner-in-chief or the" has been added after "by the applicant is timely filed, the" in the first sentence of § 1.617(g). The language "Board decides that" has been deleted from the second sentence of § 1.617(g). The language "If the Board decides otherwise" has been replaced with "Otherwise" in the third sentence of § 1.617(g). The language "before the examiner-in-chief" in the third sentence of § 1.617(g) has been changed to read: "in the normal manner under the regulations of this part." These changes will authorize either an examiner-in-chief or a Board to authorize an interference to proceed under § 1.617(g). It will continue to be necessary for the Board to enter an order granting summary judgment. In the last sentence of § 1.617(h), "patentee" has been changed to "any opponent".

The language "the name of" has been deleted from the first sentence of § 1.622(a). The second sentence of § 1.622(a) in the notice of proposed rulemaking ("When an inventor identified in the preliminary statement is not identical to the inventor named in the party's application or patent, the party shall file a motion . . . .") has been changed to read: "When an inventor identified in the preliminary statement is not an inventor named in the party's application or patent, the party shall file a motion . . . ." This change is being made in view of § 105(a) of Public Law 98-622 which amended 35 U.S.C. § 116 to permit joint inventors to be named "even though . . . (3) each did not make a contribution to the subject matter of every claim . . . ."

The following changes have been made in § 1.623(c). In the first sentence, "copy of the drawing" has been changed to "copy of the first drawing". In the second sentence, "copy of the written description" has been changed to "copy of the first written description". In the third sentence, "when a drawing or written description" has been changed to "when a copy of the first drawing or first written description".

Several changes have been made to § 1.624. The following has been added as a second sentence in § 1.624(a)(5): "If an actual reduction to practice of the invention was not introduced into the United States, the preliminary statement shall so state." The following changes have been made in § 1.624(c). Each occurrence of "was made" has been changed to "was introduced into the United States." In the first sentence, "copy of the drawing" has been changed to "copy of that drawing". In the second sentence, "copy of the written description" has been changed to "copy of that written description". In the third sentence, "a drawing or written description" has been changed to "a copy of the first drawing or first written description introduced in the United States".

The following changes have been made in § 1.625(c). In the first sentence, "copy of the drawing" has been changed to "copy of the first drawing". In the second sentence, "copy of the written description" has been changed to "copy of the first written description". In the third sentence, "a drawing or written description" has been changed to "a first drawing or first written description".

The language of § 1.628(b) which read: "because the drawing or written description is not in the party's possession, custody, or control, the party may file a motion . . . to amend its preliminary statement promptly after it secures possession, custody, or control of a copy of the drawing or written description" has been changed to read as follows: "the party (1) shall show good cause and explain in the preliminary statement why a copy of the drawing or written description cannot be attached to the preliminary statement and (2) shall attach to the preliminary statement the earliest drawing or written description made in or introduced into the United States which is available. The party shall file a motion . . . to amend its preliminary statement promptly after the first drawing, first written description or drawing or written description first introduced into the United States becomes available."

The first sentence ("A preliminary statement should be carefully prepared.") has been deleted from § 1.629(a).

In § 1.629(b), the language "no earlier than" has been changed to "as early as".

In § 1.629(d), the following has been added after "allegation: "unless the party complies with § 1.628(b)."

A new § 1.632 has been added to require a party to give timely notice of the party's intent to argue that an opponent has abandoned, suppressed, or concealed an actual reduction to practice. A companion change has been made to § 1.654.

Two changes have been made to § 1.633(c). Paragraph (c)(2) has been changed by adding thereto the following language: "or adding a claim in the moving party's application to be designated to correspond to a count". In addition, in § 1.633(c), the "or" before "(4)" has been deleted and the following has been added to the end of the first sentence: ", or (5) requiring an opponent who is an applicant to add a claim and to designate the claim to correspond to a count."

Paragraph (j) has been added to § 1.633.

In § 1.636(b), "(i)" has been changed to "(i) or (j)" in view of the addition of paragraph (j) to § 1.633. The language "filed as soon as practical" in § 1.636(c) has been changed to "diligently filed" in order to conform § 1.636 to § 1.48. A party must exercise diligence in correcting inventorship. Van Otteren v. Hafner, 278 F.2d 738, 126 USPQ 151 (CCPA 1960).

Several changes have been made to § 1.637. The language "Where appropriate," has been deleted from the following paragraphs of § 1.637. (c)(1)(vi); (c)(2)(iv); (c)(3)(iii); (d)(4); (e)(1)(viii); (e)(2)(vii); and (h)(4). The following has been added in § 1.637(c)(2) before "shall": "or adding a claim to be designated to correspond to a count". The language "amended claim" in § 1.637(c)(2)(i) has been changed to read: "amended or added claim". The language "Apply the terms of each proposed claim to the disclosure of the application" in § 1.637(c)(2)(ii) has been changed to read: "Show that the proposed or added claim defines the same patentable invention as the count." The language "proposed amended claim" in § 1.637(c)(2)(iii) has been changed to read "amended or added claim." The language "adding the proposed claim" in § 1.637(c)(2)(iii) has been changed to read: "making the amended or added claim".

The word "interferènces" in § 1.637(c)(4)(ii) has been corrected to read: "interference".

Subparagraph (c)(5) has been added to § 1.637.

The following has been added as the last sentence to § 1.637(f)(2): "If the earlier application filed abroad is not in English, the requirements of § 1.647 must also be met."

In paragraph § 1.637(f)(3), the language "discloses an embodiment with the scope" has been changed to read: "constitutes a constructive reduction to practice".

The first sentence, originally proposed in § 1.638(b) ("A reply to an opposition shall not be filed unless authorized by this subpart or an examiner-in-chief or the motion was filed under §§ 1.633 or 1.634"), has been deleted. The language "any authorized reply" in § 1.638(b) has been changed to "a reply".

The language "or a motion to correct inventorship under § 1.634" has been added to the first sentence of § 1.639(c) after "preliminary motion under § 1.633."

The following has been added after the first sentence of § 1.640(b)(1): "Failure or refusal of a party to timely present an amendment required by an examiner-in-chief shall be taken without further action as a disclaimer by that party of the invention involved." The fourth sentence of § 1.640(c) ("A request for reconsideration will ordinarily not be granted unless an opposition has been requested by an examiner-in-chief or the Board") has been changed to read: "A decision of a single examiner-in-chief will not ordinarily be modified unless an opposition has been requested by an examiner-in-chief or the Board." In the last sentence of § 1.640(c), the language "shall be decided by a panel" has been changed to read: "shall be acted on by a panel".

The word "application" in the paragraph heading and text of § 1.642 has been changed to read: "application or patent".

Three changes have been made in § 1.644. The following language has been added after "Commissioner" in § 1.644(a)(2): "and is not filed prior to the decision of the Board awarding judgment and does not relate to (i) the merits of priority of invention or patentability or (ii) the admissibility of evidence under the Federal Rules of Evidence". The following language has been deleted from the second sentence of § 1.644(b): "and shall not relate to (1) the merits of priority of invention or patentability or (2) the admissibility of evidence under the Federal Rules of Evidence". The language "A request for reconsideration will ordinarily not be granted unless" in the second sentence of § 1.644(f) has been changed to read: "The decision will not ordinarily be modified unless such".

Two changes have been made in § 1.645. The word "to" has been added before "file a notice of appeal" and "commence a civil action" in the first sentence of paragraph (a). The language ", accompanied by an affidavit," has been deleted from paragraph (b).

Three changes have been made to § 1.646. The word "service" has been added after "additional" in the third sentence of paragraph (b). The language "or except as otherwise provided by this part," has been added after "otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief," in paragraph (c). The language in paragraph (c) "paper may be made" has been changed to "paper shall be made". The word "time" has been changed to "date" in the last sentence of paragraph (e).

A new paragraph (c) has been added to § 1.654 to require that a party give timely notice of the party's intent to argue that an opponent has abandoned, suppressed, or concealed an actual reduction to practice. Section 1.632 specifies the time within which the notice shall be filed.

Three changes have been made in § 1.658. The language "paragraph (a) of the section" in the last sentence of § 1.658(b) has been changed to "paragraph (a) of this section". The "(i)" in the first sentence of § 1.658(c) has been changed to "(j)" in view of the addition of § 1.633(j). In the notice of proposed rulemaking, the second sentence of § 1.658(c) read: "A party, other than a party awarded a favorable judgment as to all counts, who could have properly moved, but failed to move, under §§ 1.633 or 1.634, shall be estopped to take ex parte or inter partes action in the Patent and Trademark Office after the interference which is inconsistent with the party's failure to properly move." This sentence has been changed to read: "A losing party who could have properly moved, but failed to move, under §§ 1.633 or 1.634, shall be estopped to take ex parte or inter partes action in the Patent and Trademark Office after the interference which is inconsistent with that party's failure to properly move, except that a losing party shall not be estopped with respect to any claims which correspond, or properly could have corresponded, to a count as to which that party was awarded a favorable judgment."

Several changes have been made in § 1.662. In § 1.662(a), the word "construed" has been changed to "treated". The first sentence of § 1.662(c) in the notice of proposed rulemaking read: "The filing of a statutory disclaimer under 35 U.S.C. § 253 by a patentee will not be treated as a request for entry of an adverse judgment against the patentee, but will delete any statutorily disclaimed claims from being involved in the interference." That first sentence has been changed to read: "The filing of a statutory disclaimer under 35 U.S.C. § 253 by a patentee will delete any statutorily disclaimed claims from being involved in the interference." The second sentence of § 1.662(c) in the notice of proposed rulemaking read: "A statutory disclaimer of any claim involved in an interference shall in subsequent proceedings have the same effect with respect to the patentee as an adverse judgment." That second sentence has been changed to read: "A statutory disclaimer will not be treated as a request for entry of an adverse judgment against the patentee unless it results in the deletion of all patent claims corresponding to a count." In view of this change, proposed § 1.662(d) has been deleted as unnecessary, and a change has also been made in § 1.11(a) to delete any reference to a termination of an interference by any means other than judgment.

The last sentence of § 1.671(g) has been changed from "The motion shall describe the general nature and show the admissibility in the interference of the testimony, document, or thing" to: "The motion shall describe the general nature and the relevance of the testimony, document, or thing."

Three changes have been made to § 1.672(b). In the second sentence after "witness by affidavit shall" the following has been added: ", prior to the close of the party's relevant testimony period". The language "file an affidavit" has been changed to "file and serve an affidavit". The following has been added after the third sentence: "A party shall not be entitled to rely on any document referred to in the affidavit unless a copy of the document is filed with the affidavit. A party shall not be entitled to rely on any thing mentioned in the affidavit unless the opponent is given reasonable access to the thing. A thing is something other than a document."

Several changes have been made in § 1.673(b). The introductory sentence of paragraph (b) ("Unless the parties agree otherwise, at least three days prior to the conference required by paragraph (g) of this section, a party shall serve, but not file, the following:") has been changed to read: "Unless the parties agree otherwise, a party shall serve, but not file, at least three days prior to the conference required by paragraph (g) of this section, if service is made by hand or "Express Mail," or at least ten days prior to the conference if service is made by any other means, the following:" In § 1.673(b)(1) the word "copy" has been changed to "list and copy".

In the last sentence of § 1.675(d), the language "signed by the witness in the presence of any notary" has been changed to read "signed by the witness in the form of (1) an affidavit in the presence of any notary or (2) a declaration". This change conforms § 1.675(d) to § 1.68.

In § 1.682(a)(4), ", where appropriate," has been added prior to "be accompanied" and "(§ 1.671(d))" has been added after "printed publication".

The word "admissible" in § 1.684(a)(4) has been changed to "relevant".

The following sentence has been deleted from § 1.687(b): "If the witness refuses to produce a requested document or thing, the party may file a motion (§ 1.635) for additional discovery under paragraph (c) of this section."

Section 1.688 has been revised to more clearly describe how a party may introduce in evidence an answer to a request for admission or an answer to a written interrogatory.

Analysis of Comments

Eighteen written comments were received. Three individuals testified at a hearing held on May 15, 1984. The following is an analysis of the written comments and the oral comments made at the hearing.

One comment suggested that § 1.8 not be amended to exclude from the certificate of mailing practice a paper in an interference which an examiner-in-chief orders to be filed by hand or "Express Mail." The comment argues that "[s]ome parties might not have an attorney in the Washington area or they may live in an area not serviced by Express Mail." The suggestion is not being adopted. Experience has shown that there are situations in interferences where it is desirable to have and the parties need a prompt ruling on a written motion. It is difficult for an examiner-in-chief to render a prompt ruling if the motion and any opposition are not promptly served and filed. In those situations where a party has no Washington, D.C. metropolitan area attorney or where a party resides in an area not served by "Express Mail," it may not be possible to hand-file or use "Express Mail." The examiner-in-chief would then exercise discretion by not invoking the exception of new subparagraph (xii) of § 1.8(a).

One comment suggested that it would be clearer if the fee for a petition in an interference and the fee for a request for reconsideration of a decision on petition in an interference were set out in § 1.17(h) as separate items. This suggestion has been adopted and the two fees have been set out in § 1.17(h) as separate items.

A suggestion was made that a reference be made in § 1.136 to § 1.611 rather than § 1.610(a). The suggestion is being adopted, because a reference to § 1.611 is believed to be more appropriate. Once an interference is declared involving an application, ex parte prosecution of the application is suspended and the applicant need not respond to any PTO action outstanding as of the date the interference is declared.

One comment made the following remark concerning § 1.196: "I do not understand the need or desire of the PTO to start the time to appeal to a Court from a PTO final decision on one claim, while PTO action is continuing on a second claim." As explained in the notice of proposed rulemaking (49 F.R. 3770, columns 2-3; 1039 O.G. 20-21; 1039 TMOG 20-21), when there are further proceedings before the examiner following a decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, judicial review is not appropriate. Hence, under § 1.196, the PTO will not start a time for seeking judicial review of a PTO decision on one claim while PTO action is continuing on another claim. The last sentences of § 1.196(b)(1) and § 1.196(d) authorize the Board to enter an order making its decision final as to one claim when remand proceedings as to another claim result in a favorable decision for the applicant. Section 1.196 is intended to eliminate piecemeal appeals.

With respect to § 1.292(c), one commentator said: "[a] party should be able to raise public use and [on] sale issues at any stage [of an interference proceeding] provided the issue is raised in a timely manner after learning of the use or sale." Public use and on sale issues are to be raised in interferences by way of a preliminary motion under § 1.633(a). If a motion under § 1.633(a) cannot be timely filed, a belated motion may be filed provided the moving party complies with the provisions of § 1.645(b). Whether or not a belated motion will be accepted where a public use or sale is discovered after the time for filing § 1.633(a) motions which has passed will manifestly depend on the facts of a given case.

One comment suggested that the language "speedy, and inexpensive" be deleted from the second sentence of the preamble of § 1.601. This suggestion is not being adopted. The second sentence of the preamble of § 1.601 provides that the rules "shall be construed to secure the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of every interference." The provision is modeled in part after the second sentence of Rule 1 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure which states that the Federal Rules "shall be construed to secure the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of every action." The "just, speedy, and inexpensive determination" provision of § 1.601 will prove useful in construing other provisions in the rules.

Two comments were received which suggested a change in language in § 1.601(j). One comment correctly noted that "[i] f even one claim of each party defines the same patentable invention, there is an interference-in-fact." The comment went on to correctly note that "[t] he remaining claims can be disposed of by a motion under § 1.633(c)(4)." A second comment noted that under the definition proposed, all the claims of both parties corresponding to a count must define the same patentable invention. The comment went on to correctly note the intent of the PTO is, however, that an interference-in-fact exists if at least one of the claims of a party corresponding to a count defines the same patentable invention as one of the corresponding claims of an opponent. In view of the suggestions made in the two comments, § 1.601(j) has been changed to state that an interference-in-fact exists when at least one claim of a party which corresponds to a count and at least one claim of an opponent which corresponds to the count defines the same patentable invention.

Two comments were received which suggested that the language "earliest filing date" in § 1.601(m) be changed to read "earliest effective filing date." The suggestion is not being adopted. Section 1.601(m) defines "senior party." The definition of "senior party" in § 1.601(m) is consistent with current practice and is intended to codify current practice. In an interference where there are no benefit applications, the "senior party" is the party with the earliest "filing date." There are interferences where a party may be "senior" with respect to a first count based on the filing dates of the applications involved in the interference and "junior" with respect to a second count because the opponent is entitled to benefit of an earlier application as to the second count only. Under these circumstances in the past, the PTO has designated the party who is "senior" based on the filing dates of the applications involved as the "senior party." The designation of the party as "senior party" is for procedural purposes only, i.e., setting who takes testimony first, and does not affect which party has the burden of proof. Section 1.601(m) preserves this past practice.

Comments were received regarding § 1.601(n) which defines "same patentable invention" and "separate patentable invention." One written comment suggested that § 1.601(n) be deleted. The commentator appeared at the hearing and also urged orally that § 1.601(n) be deleted. The suggestion is not being adopted. In view of the nature of the comment and the importance of the definitions in § 1.601(n), the written comment is reproduced in its entirety:

Comment: The paragraph to be deleted contains an explicit definition of both "same patentable invention" and "separate patentable invention". It requires application of a two-prong test for determining "sameness" or "separateness". Two inventions are considered to be the "same patentable invention" when they are the same under 35 USC 102 or obvious variants under 35 USC 103 when one is considered as "prior art" with respect to the other. Application of this standard may lead to results which are anomalous or in conflict with statutory requirements if, as the proposed rules apparently assume, the award of priority as to counts embodying "separate patentable inventions" will inherently and finally resolve the question of entitlement to a patent as between the parties on involved claims corresponding to those counts. Three specific problems with the definition of Rule 601(n) have been identified as follows:

(1) If the standard of separate patentability as between two counts is applied on a mutual basis (i.e., Invention A must be separately patentable from Invention B considered as prior art and Invention B must be separately patentable from Invention A considered as prior art), then the conduct of interferences with separate counts directed to both a generic invention and an included specific embodiment thereof (i.e., a species) are frustrated. If, however, such mutuality is not applied (i.e., if Invention A is the existing count, then a count directed to Invention B is proper so long as Invention B would be considered patentable over Invention A as prior art), then a number of irreconcilable anomalies in count modification through preliminary motions practice will be manifest.

(2) "Separate patentability" as a non-obviousness issue is in every context except interference practice before the PTO determined with finality only when an affirmative determination has been reached or the applicant elects to discontinue further prosecution of any applications embodying the invention or to admit obviousness. Because in the ex parte context an applicant may continue to marshall additional evidence supportive of non-obviousness until separate patentability over a prior art invention has been established, "separate patentability" is always a fluid concept where ultimate resolution can neither be predicted nor foreclosed. On certain cases interference proceedings under the proposed rules will be conducted and judgment rendered on the assumption of a lack of "separate patentability", which would ordinarily be subject to change or rebuttal as additional argument, evidence or other supportive activity of non-obviousness were marshalled. Thus, simply determining a proposed count is not yet "separately patentable" for the purposes of count formation ought not to foreclose post-interference reconsideration of separate patentability questions when the party proposing the count would not have been foreclosed on priority grounds.

(3) The underlying assumption that "separate patentability" is to be established under the proposed rules for one invention when a second invention is considered as "prior art" does not have any necessary correspondence to the effect of an adverse judgment in an interference on the question of priority. While a lost count in interference is not patentable to the loser, the lost count will be considered as "prior art" against the losing party only if the status of prior art for the purposes of 35 USC 103 is established by the record in the interference, (i.e., by representing a prior invention of another made in the United States, not abandoned, suppressed or concealed under 35 USC 102). A party entitled to priority for a count under the benefit provisions of 35 USC 119 creates no "prior art" under 35 USC 102(g)/103 against his opponent. Separate counts ought not to be created or denied in an interference on the basis of a rule which fails to account for whether the interference record will confirm the assumption in the definition that a lost count will become "prior art".

The following examples are provided as indicative of perceived difficulties in the application of the definition embodied in Rule 601(n):

Example A: Rule 601(n) is applied in a mutuality sense to an interference where the existing count (Invention A) is a broad genus over organic compounds. Both parties disclose a species (Invention B) which one of the parties alleges represents a "selection invention", i.e., is neither anticipated by the genus nor obvious therefrom. The party proposing to add a species count to Invention B must demonstrate that the genus was neither the same as nor obvious in view of the species, an impossibility since disclosure of the species anticipates the genus under 35 USC 102. In effect, no party could ever propose sub-generic or species counts included within broader generic counts. Since all potential patentability and priority questions with respect to possible sub-generic and species claims are intended to be resolved in the unified patentability/priority proceedings, loss of such a broad generic count might be construed as estopping the losing party from arguing entitlement to a patent for species and sub-genera within the lost count. Since proof of a single species is dispositive of the question of priority as to a genus, no matter how large, this is a more severe result than would appear to be proper or intended.

Example B: Under the facts of Example A, if the standard under which the propriety for including a second sub-generic or species count is merely that the proposed count must be non-obvious over the existing count considered as prior art, then, an interference could conceivably proceed with both the generic and the species count in the interference. The usual criteria for "selection inventions" could be employed. However, when an interference is declared with a species count embodying Invention A, then utilization of a test requiring that a proposed count be non-obvious over the existing count as prior art leads literally to the conclusion that a proposed count to a generic Invention B is anticipated by the existing species count and therefore may not be added to the interference. This artificial distinction can certainly not have been intended, and yet the rules provide no clear indication of which result is the "correct" one or whether another test will be employed, e.g., the narrower count need only be non-obvious over the broader count.

Example C: A party moves to substitute two sub-generic counts to allegedly separately patentable inventions, Invention A and Invention B, in place of a broad generic count to the "Markush" group of Invention A and Invention B. The party alleges Invention B has surprising and unexpected properties over Invention A and is separately patentable thereover. Because, however, a consideration of Invention B as "prior art" suggests Invention A would not be non-obvious thereover, the motion is denied. The moving party establishes priority as to Invention B, but loses the sole count of the interference to an opponent who filed a foreign application disclosing a single species from Invention A. The result is that the moving party with clear evidence of priority apparently loses the right to patent an invention on the technicality of "count formation" in interference. The result is substantially more severe than had he been simply faced with a statutory bar!

Example D: The senior party, a foreign applicant, relies on a priority application disclosing Embodiment A. Subsequently the junior party files a United States application directed to an Embodiment B. Thereafter both parties file applications in the United States disclosing a generic invention including both Embodiments A and B. An interference is declared on the generic invention and the junior party moves to substitute two counts, one count to Embodiment A and a second count to Embodiment B on the ground that they represent separate patentable inventions. Since the junior party's invention date for Embodiment B is after the senior party's priority date, the junior party will be obliged to concede priority on the sole count in the interference unless his motion to substitute counts is granted.

Accordingly, the junior party undertakes laboratory tests which indicate that both Embodiments A and B achieve substantially the same result in substantially the same manner without any significant differences in effectiveness. Without evidence of separate patentability to support the motion to substitute, the junior party is unsuccessful and priority is awarded to the senior party.

The junior party abandons his claim to the generic invention of the lost count, but persists in his assertion he is entitled to a patent on Embodiment B since the interference record indicates no actual priority for this embodiment in favor of the senior party. Ultimately, the junior party obtains evidence that Embodiment B is unexpectedly more useful than anticipated in a commercial setting, while Embodiment A is substantially unsuitable for any practical use in a commercial setting.

Is the junior party entitled to a patent notwithstanding the disposition of the issue of its separate patentability in an inter partes proceeding? If indeed, the junior party would be entitled to such a patent, must a second interference now be declared with the senior party to again litigate the issue of priority? Had the junior party failed to have made the motion to substitute counts in view of his utter lack of supporting evidence of separate patentability, would the estoppel under 37 CFR 1.658(c) have applied? Finally, would the ends of justice be better served by a standard for count formation which could be finally determined contemporaneously with the filing of the preliminary motions themselves? All of these questions suggest that the utilization of a fluid concept such as non-obviousness as the basis for count formation will give unintended and unsupportable results in situations where the lack of separate patentability is prematurely assumed.

Example E: In the scenario of Example D, the non-entitlement to contest Embodiment B as a separate count was premised on a failure to demonstrate that Embodiment B was non-obvious over Embodiment A considered as prior art. However, an award of priority to the senior party based on the disclosure of Embodiment A in a foreign priority application does not render Embodiment A as available prior art (35 USC 102(g)/103) inasmuch as Embodiment A would not have been a prior invention of another made in the United States which had not been abandoned, suppressed or concealed. The junior party's entitlement to a patent on Embodiment B should depend, therefore, solely on his entitlement to priority with respect to Embodiment B. Priority is a necessary condition for entitlement to a patent since both parties disclose the embodiment and a sufficient condition since regardless of the party entitled to priority on Embodiment A, it should not become obviousness-generating prior art. Therefore, any standard or count formation which fails to reach the result of the junior party is entitled to contest priority and a patent on Embodiment B is contrary to current statutory requirements for entitlement to a patent.

The proposed rules attempt to rationally define counts in an interference so that the judgment in the interference settles all questions of entitlement to a patent. This not only cannot be done prospectively, but should not be done at all. Judgment should be made on claims, not counts and unpatentability determinations made against a party subject to the normal ex parte standard that additional evidence of non-obviousness, or other evidence of patentability wholly independent of priority itself, could compel a reconsideration of the judgment of unpatentability.

With respect to paragraph (1) of the comment, the standard of patentability will not be applied "on a mutual basis." Thus, if a species is patentable over a genus, the species is a "separate patentable invention" from the genus. Compare In re Taub, 348 F.2d 556, 146 USPQ 384 (CCPA 1965) (fluorine species might be patentable over genus of Markush group of hydrogen and halogen). A first count to a genus and a second count to a species which is patentable over the genus may properly appear in an interference. See e.g., Example 4. The comment suggests that if "such mutuality is not applied . . . then a number of irreconcilable anomalies . . . will be manifest." The urged "irreconcilable anomalies" are not readily apparent to the PTO.

The PTO disagrees with the concept expressed in paragraph (2) of the comment that there should be "post-interference reconsideration of separate patentability." One of the principal objects of Public Law 98-622 and these new rules is to encourage complete determination of all rights between parties in an interference and to avoid post-interference reconsideration in an ex parte environment of issues which were or could have been raised inter partes in an interference.

The commentator remarks in paragraph (3) of the comment that "[a] party entitled to priority for a count under the benefit of 35 USC 119 creates no 'prior art' under 35 USC 102(g)/103 against his opponent." In re McKellin, 529 F.2d 1324, 188 USPQ 428 (CCPA 1976), arguable provides support for the commentator's remark. It should be noted, however, that in defining "same patentable invention" and "separate patentable invention" in § 1.601(n), the PTO is not establishing a new definition of "prior art." Rather, the PTO is providing definitions which will determine—both initially and ultimately in an interference—how claims in an application or patent will be designated to correspond to counts. See §§ 1.603 and 1.606. Examples 1-19 illustrate how the PTO proposes to initially designate claims to correspond to counts. The designation of claims to correspond (or not correspond) to a count is significant because, as noted by the plurality opinion in McKellin, 529 F.2d at 1327, 188 USPQ at 432: "[a] n applicant [or patentee] who has lost an interference is not entitled to claims which correspond to the subject matter of the counts of the interference." Section 1.658(c) estops a party from obtaining a claim which could have been added and which would have been designated to correspond to the lost count. The definitions of "same patentable invention" and "separate patentable invention" in § 1.601(n), the availability of motions to designate or not designate claims as corresponding to a count under § 1.633(c), and the estoppel provisions of § 1.658(c) provide the basis for accomplishing the PTO's objective of resolving inter partes in a single proceeding all issues which are or could have been raised between parties in an interference.

Examples illustrate how §§ 1.601(n), 1.633(c) and 1.658(c) accomplish the PTO's objective.

Example 32: Application AV discloses engines in general and in particular a 6-cylinder engine. Application AV contains only claim 1 (engine). Application AW discloses engines in general, but does not specifically disclose a 6-cylinder engine. Application AW contains only a single claim 3 (engine). The U.S. "filing date" (§ 1.601(h)) of the AV application is prior to the U. S. filing date of the AW application, but the AW application claims a foreign priority date under 35 U.S.C. 119 based on an application filed in a foreign country prior to the filing date of the AV application. An interference is declared. The sole count of the interference is to "an engine." Claim 1 of the AV application and claim 3 of the AW application are designated to correspond to the count. During the interference, applicant AV does not move under § 1.633(c)(2) to add a claim to a 6-cylinder engine and to designate the claim to correspond to the count. Applicant AW is awarded a judgment in the interference based on the earlier filing date of the foreign patent application. After the interference, applicant AV adds claim 2 (6-cylinder engine) to the AV application. Whether AV would be entitled to a patent containing a claim to a 6-cylinder engine will depend solely on whether a 6-cylinder engine is a "separate patentable invention" from "engine"—the subject matter of the count. If a 6-cylinder engine is a "separate patentable invention" within the meaning of § 1.601(n), applicant AV could not have successfully moved under § 1.633(c)(2) to add claim 2 and to designate it to correspond to the count. Therefore applicant AV could obtain a patent containing claim 2. If, on the other hand, a 6-cylinder engine is not a "separate patentable invention," claim 2 of the AV application would be rejected on the basis of interference estoppel because claim 2 could have been added by a motion under § 1.633(c)(2). See § 1.658(c). See also Example 37.

Example 33: This example is basically the same as Example 32, except that application AV initially contains claim 1 (engine) and claim 2 (6-cylinder engine). When the interference is declared, both claims 1 and 2 of application AV are designated to correspond to the count. During the interference, applicant AV does not move under § 1.633(c)(4) to designate claim 2 as not corresponding to the count. A judgment in the interference is entered for applicant AW based on the earlier filing date of the foreign patent application. After the interference, applicant AV would not be able to obtain a patent containing claim 2, because that claim was designated to correspond to a count and entry of the judgment constitutes a final decision by the PTO refusing to grant applicant AV a patent containing claim 2.

In the written comment, Examples A through E were set out to illustrate what the commentator believed were "perceived difficulties." These examples are set out above and are analyzed below.

Analysis of Commentator's Example A

Example A does not describe any practice under these rules, because "same patentable invention" and "separate patentable invention" under § 1.601(n) are not intended to be "applied in a mutuality sense." Where a first count is to a genus and a second count is to a species within the scope of the genus, there may be two counts if the species is separately patentable from the genus. The species is "invention A" referred to in § 1.601(n); the genus is "invention B" referred to in § 1.601(n).

Analysis of Commentator's Example B

Commentator's Example B suggests—incorrectly—that if an interference is declared with a count to a species that no motion under § 1.633(c)(1) to add a count to a genus can ever be granted. If the species ("invention A" referred to in § 1.601(n)) is not anticipated by or obvious in view of the genus ("invention B" referred to in § 1.601(n)), a motion to add a separate count to the genus may be proper. The commentator uses the language "selection inventions" in both Examples A and B. Insofar as the PTO is aware, the language is not a term of art in the patent law. The PTO has not ascribed any particular meaning to the language in analyzing Examples A or B.

Analysis of Commentator's Example C

The result suggested in commentator's Example C can come to pass only if the moving party accepts as final the denial of the motion to substitute two "sub-generic counts" for the "broad generic count." Unlike practice under the rules which have been in effect, under these new rules a decision denying a motion to substitute a count is reviewable by the Board (see § 1.640(c) and § 1.655(a), second sentence). Additionally, the party could seek judicial review (35 U.S.C. §§ 141, 146) of any final decision by the Board. However, if the party accepts as final the PTO's determination that inventions A and B are the "same patentable invention," the party would be precluded from obtaining a patent to invention B. After the interference is terminated, the only conceivable way that the moving party could seek to obtain a patent containing claims to invention B would be to first successfully move to reopen the interference for the purpose of presenting additional evidence. If the motion to reopen is granted (and it would be expected that such a motion will rarely be granted), the moving party would then have to successfully establish that invention A and invention B are not the same patentable invention. The PTO will continue to follow the general guidelines of 4 Rivise & Caesar, Interference Law and Practice, § 821 et seq. (Michie Co. 1948), in determining motions to reopen an interference after entry of judgment. It should be additionally noted that interferences in which a judgment has been entered by a district court in an action brought under 35 U.S.C. § 146 or a mandate has been entered by the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (35 U.S.C. § 141 or 28 U.S.C. § 1295(a)(4)(C)) will not be reopened until the district court vacates its judgment and/or the Federal Circuit withdraws its mandate.

Analysis of Commentator's Example D

Several questions asked in the commentator's Example D can be answered as follows:

Question: Is the junior party entitled to a patent notwithstanding the disposition of the issue of its separate patentability in an inter partes proceeding? Answer: No. The junior party should have presented the "evidence that Embodiment B is unexpectedly more useful than anticipated in a commercial setting" during the interference. The PTO expects to resolve issues inter partes in the interference. If the PTO was to permit the evidence to be presented after the interference is terminated and after ex parte prosecution resumes, a principal purpose of the overall change to interference practice would be defeated. It may be unfortunate that the evidence was not known to the junior party. However, it may also be true that the winning party—had the evidence been presented in the interference—could have produced probative counter-evidence. Why should the winning party be put to the expense of a second interference?

Question: If indeed, the junior party would be entitled to such a patent, must a second interference now be declared with the senior party to again litigate the issue of priority? Answer: The premise in the question is not correct. The junior party is not entitled to a patent to Embodiment B and therefore there will not be a second interference.

Question: Had the junior party failed to have made the motion to substitute counts in view of his utter lack of supporting evidence of separate patentability, would the estoppel under 37 CFR 1.658(c) have applied? Answer: Yes, unless the junior party can successfully move to reopen the interference.

Question: Would the ends of justice be better served by a standard for count formation which could be finally determined contemporaneously with the filing of the preliminary motions themselves? Answer: While the question is not fully understood, it should be recognized that counts will initially be formed when an interference is declared and are subject to being changed by a motion (§ 1.633(c)) or by the Board (§ 1.640(c) and § 1.655, second sentence). The correctness of the PTO's ultimate decision on what counts should be is subject to judicial review (35 U.S.C. §§ 141, 146).

Analysis of Commentator's Example E

The PTO, without agreeing or disagreeing with all of the commentator's statements in Example E, disagrees with any ultimate conclusion that the junior party is entitled to a patent on Embodiment B and that such a result "is contrary to current statutory requirements for entitlement to a patent." Interference estoppel precludes granting a patent claiming Embodiment B to the junior party even if Embodiment A is not prior art with respect to Embodiment B.

One comment asked whether "invention A" and "invention B" mentioned in § 1.601(n) "refer to the entire scope of subject matter recited in a claim or to the disclosed embodiment(s) supporting the claim (a la In re Vogel, [422 F.2d 438,] 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970))?" The question is somewhat difficult, if not impossible, to answer in the abstract. Whether "invention A" refers to the entire scope or to the embodiments which support a claim is not controlling under these new rules. One fundamental change being made under the new rules is that judgments will be in the form of whether an applicant or patentee is or is not entitled to a claim. In the past, the Board of Patent Interferences has entered an "award of priority." The use of an "award of priority" does not always accurately express the "judgment" entered in many interferences. See e.g., Applegate v. Scherer, 332 F.2d 571, 573 n. 1, 141 USPQ 796, 798 n. 1 (CCPA 1964). Whether an applicant or patentee is or is not entitled to a particular claim in any given interference will depend on many factors, some of which include the scope of the claim, the scope of the opponent's claim, and the prior art. An example illustrates the point.

Example 34: Applicant AX discloses an apparatus having fastening means. The specific means disclosed are rivets. Applicant AY discloses a similar apparatus having fastening means. The specific means disclosed are a nut and bolt. The prior art reveals that items have been fastened with numerous fastening means including both rivets and nuts and bolts. In determining whether AX's apparatus with rivet fastening means is the "same patentable invention" as AY's apparatus with nut and bolt fastening means, it would be proper to consider the specific apparatus disclosed by AX, the specific apparatus disclosed by AY, the fact that both AX and AY disclose the use of "fastening means" broadly, and the prior art which shows rivets and nuts and bolts to be known fastening means.

One comment suggested that the last sentence of § 1.604(b) and the last sentence of § 1.607(c) be deleted in view of a proposed rule (§ 10.23(c)(7); 49 F.R. 10028; 49 F.R. 33809) which defines "misconduct" as including "[k] nowingly withholding from the Office information identifying a patent or application of another from which one or more claims have been copied." The proposed rule is still being considered. In any event, the last sentences of §§ 1.604(b) and 1.607(c) are instructions to examiners whereas proposed 37 CFR § 10.23(c)(7) defines misconduct for those registered to practice before the PTO. Another comment suggested deletion of § 1.604(b) because "existing rules [37 CFR § 1.56] already provide a duty of disclosure of subject matter material to examination." There is no inconsistency between the rule relating to the duty of disclosure and § 1.604. The comment also suggested that by identifying another application, an applicant "might be construed as having admitted that the claims" of the other application are directed to the same patentable invention as the claims in the applicant's application. The filing of such a paper is a statement by the applicant that the claims presented are "known to the applicant to define the same patentable invention" (emphasis added). If an applicant wishes to call another application to the attention of an examiner and the applicant believes that the other application does not claim the same patentable invention, but nevertheless may be relevant within the meaning of 37 CFR § 1.56, the applicant may identify the other application and at the same time state why the invention claimed in the other application is not the same patentable invention as the invention claimed in the applicant's application. For the reasons given, the suggestions made in the two comments are not being adopted.

Three comments relating to § 1.605 were received. One comment suggested that the language "or substantially the same as the suggested claim" be deleted from the third sentence of § 1.605. The suggestion is being adopted to the extent that the language "a claim which is the same or substantially the same as" is being deleted. Under § 1.605, when the examiner requests an applicant to copy a suggested claim, the applicant will be required to copy verbatim the claim suggested by the examiner. A second comment suggested that the second and third sentences of § 1.605 be changed to read as follows:

> The applicant to whom the claim is suggested shall amend the application by presenting the suggested claim, or shall identify in the application one or more pending claims which the applicant regards as being directed to the same or substantially the same invention as the suggested claim, within a time specified by the Examiner, not less than thirty days. Failure or refusal of an applicant to timely present a claim or to timely identify one or more claims which are directed to the same or substantially the same invention as the suggested claim shall be taken without further action as a disclaimer by the applicant of the invention defined by the suggested claim.

A third comment suggested that the second and third sentences of § 1.605 fail to take into account the case where an applicant is already claiming the invention. The third comment suggested addition of the following at the end of the third sentence of § 1.605(a): ", unless the application already contains claims to the same patentable invention." The suggestions made in the second and third comments are not being adopted as such. However, the following sentence is being added as the fourth sentence of § 1.605: "At the time the suggested claim is presented, the applicant may also (1) call the examiner's attention to other claims already in the application or which are presented with the suggested claim and (2) explain why the other claims would be more appropriate to be included in any interference which may be declared." A major deficiency of the suggestions made in the second and third comments was the inability of the PTO to efficiently and effectively handle situations where the applicant (1) presents a claim which is "substantially the same as" the suggested claim or (2) points to a claim already in the application and the examiner is of the opinion that the claim is not to the same patentable invention. Under these circumstances, the examiner could not properly declare an interference. Accordingly, the applicant will be required to present verbatim the suggested claim. The applicant may, however, also present any other claim which the applicant believes is more appropriate. Alternatively, the applicant, in addition to presenting verbatim the suggested claim, may also call the examiner's attention to a claim already in the application which the applicant believes is more appropriate for interference purposes. In either case, the applicant must explain to the examiner why a claim other than the suggested claim is more appropriate for inclusion in the interference. Upon consideration of the suggested claim and the applicant's alternative claims and any explanation, the examiner is in a position to forward the application to the Board for declaration of an interference. If the applicant is dissatisfied with the claims of the application designated to correspond to the count, the applicant may file an appropriate motion under § 1.633(c).

Two comments were received which suggested that the last sentence of § 1.606 is not entirely clear. One comment suggested that the language in the last sentence which reads: "to define one patentable invention" be changed to read: "not to contain separate patentable invention." This suggestion is being adopted. The use of the language "one patentable invention" was unfortunate and rendered the actual intent of the rule unclear. Under § 1.606, at the time an interference is declared a rebuttable presumption will exist that any patent claim designated to correspond to a count does not embrace separate patentable inventions. Moreover, at the time the interference is declared, no count will be narrower in scope than the broadest patent claim designated to correspond to that count. The presumption is rebuttable and may be challenged and overcome by a motion under § 1.633(c). Examples 17 and 18 illustrate practice under § 1.606.

Two comments were received discussing § 1.607. A first comment suggested that the word "must" in the first sentence of § 1.607(c) be changed to "shall". The suggestion is being adopted. Use of "shall" makes § 1.607(c) consistent with § 1.604(b). A second comment asked the following question:

> "If the examiner determines that the applicant's claim is patentable but that there is no interfering subject matter, and the examiner accordingly allows the claim but refuses to declare an interference, is that determination appealable [to the Board of Appeals and Interferences under 35 U.S.C. § 1.134]?"

The commentator suggests that "such a determination" is appealable and rationale in support of the commentator's position appears in Gholz, Board of Appeals Jurisdiction Over Appeals from Decisions by Primary Examiners Refusing to Institute Interferences on Modified or Phantom Counts, 64 J. Pat. Off. Soc'y 651 (1982). At the hearing, the commentator orally urged that the rules be amended to permit an appeal to the Board when an examiner allows a claim, but refuses to declare an interference involving the allowed claim. The suggestion is not being adopted. A decision by an examiner to allow a claim, but not to declare an interference involving the allowed claim, is petitionable and not appealable. See Gholz, supra, at 652 n. 13. The rule being suggested would enlarge the jurisdiction of the Board. Action by Congress would be necessary to accomplish what is embodied in the suggestion.

Several written comments and one oral presentation at the hearing were made concerning § 1.608. One comment suggested that § 1.608 be expanded to provide for summary judgment in interferences involving applications where the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of one application was three months earlier than the date of the other application. This suggestion is not being adopted. Ordinarily, interferences are not declared between applications having effective dates more than three months apart. Moreover, expanding summary judgment proceedings to application-application interferences would result in delay in resolving interferences. Currently in application-patent summary judgment proceedings under 37 CFR § 1.204(c), very few summary judgments are entered against applicants who are junior to a patentee by more than three months. There is no reason to expect that a significant number of summary judgments would be entered in application-application interferences. As noted in the notice of proposed rulemaking, the PTO has already declined to expand summary judgment proceedings to cases where a patentee is junior to an applicant by more than three months. See 49 F.R. 3775 (paragraph bridging columns 1 and 2); 1039 O.G. 34; 1039 TMOG 34; 27 BNA 319.

Two written comments were received which suggested that § 1.608(b) should be more specific in indicating the kind of evidence which should be submitted when an applicant attempts to make out a prima facie case based on priority of invention. The following sentence has been added to § 1.608(b):

> Where the basis upon which an applicant is entitled to judgment relative to a patentee is priority of invention, the evidence shall include affidavits by the applicant, if possible, and one or more corroborating witnesses, supported by documentary evidence, if available, each setting out a factual description of acts and circumstances performed or observed by the affiant, which collectively would prima facie entitle the applicant to judgment on priority with respect to the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of the patent.

Similar language appears in the current rule: 37 CFR § 1.204(c). The PTO agrees entirely with the following discussion made by one commentator:

> The material added to Rule 608(b) currently appears in existing 37 CFR § 1.204(c). A comparison of the existing language of 37 CFR § 1.204(c) with the proposed rule might be construed as suggesting that the allegations which are now expressly required where priority is an issue will be changed, specifically relaxed in some manner. Since under proposed Rule 617 this clearly is not the case, the proposed addition to Rule 608(b) should assist the practitioner in understanding the intent of the PTO.

The commentator has accurately pointed out that the PTO intends to apply a stricter standard for filing additional evidence in summary judgment proceedings after an order to show cause has been issued. See the notice of proposed rulemaking. 49 F.R. 3775 (column 1); 1039 O.G. 34; 1039 TMOG 1039; 27 BNA 319 (column 1).

At the hearing, it was suggested that § 1.608 should encourage the use of 8-1/2 by 11 inch paper for affidavits. This suggestion is being adopted and the following sentence has been added to § 1.608(b): "To facilitate preparation of a record (§ 1.653(g) and (h)) for final hearing, an applicant should file affidavits on paper which is 8-1/2 x 11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm.)." The commentator at the hearing suggested that "many people submitting a Rule 608(b) showing are going to want to rely upon that showing under Rule 672(b)" in those cases where an interference is allowed to proceed. Use of 8-1/2 by 11 inch paper will facilitate preparation of the ultimate record.

Two comments were received with respect to § 1.609. The first comment suggested that the language "count or counts" in § 1.609(b)(1) be changed to "proposed count or counts" and that each occurrence of "the count" in § 1.609(b)(2) be changed to "each count". The suggestion is being adopted. These changes are editorial in nature and are designed to enhance the clarity of the rule. A second comment indicated that it was not clear to the commentator why it was necessary under § 1.609(b)(3) for the examiner to identify the claims in an application or patent which are deemed to be patentable over any count. The commentator went on to say that the examiner "could probably readily identify claims which would clearly be unpatentable over a count and perhaps this would be all that is needed. If the examiner simply said all claims are considered unpatentable over the count, what recourse does the applicant have if he disagrees?" The purpose of having the examiner identify all claims which are patentable over the count or counts is to place the parties on notice that those claims are allowable notwithstanding any decision in the interference. Thus, in an interference between Jones and Smith if the examiner indicates that claim 8 of Jones is patentable over the proposed count or counts, Smith will know that Jones may receive a patent containing claim 8 even if Smith wins the interference. This will permit Smith to move under § 1.633(c) to add claim 8 as corresponding to a count if Smith believes claim 8 defines the same patentable invention as one of the counts. Contrary to the suggestion in the comment, an examiner will not indicate that a claim is unpatentable over a count; rather, the examiner will designate the claim to correspond to a count. Each claim in a patent or application which is directed to the same patentable invention as a count will be designated to correspond to the count. Under the new practice, an examiner will no longer have occasion to indicate that a claim will be rejected over a lost count. To fully answer the commentator's question, if a claim is designated to correspond to a count and the applicant believes the claim does not define the same patentable invention as the count, the applicant may move under § 1.633(c) to designate the claim as not corresponding to the count. If the motion is granted, the examiner would be authorized to issue the applicant a patent containing the claim even if the applicant loses the interference.

Several comments were received which discuss § 1.611. One comment suggested addition of a paragraph (f) to permit expanded summary judgment proceedings in application-application interferences. Since expanded summary judgment proceedings are not contemplated, the suggestion is not being adopted. See the discussion above under analysis of comments of § 1.608(b). Two comments suggested that § 1.611(c)(8), which provides that a notice declaring the interference shall specify among other things the "order of the parties," fails to take into account the fact one party may be "senior" as to one count and "junior" as to another count. As explained above in connection the analysis of the comments concerning § 1.601(m), the "order of the parties" is a procedural tool. It indicates the "style" of the case—which practitioners are encouraged to use. If there are two counts and one party is "senior" as to one count and "junior" as to another count, the party has the burden of proof as to that count to which the party is "junior." See § 1.657. Appropriate testimony periods will be set (§ 1.651(b)) to accommodate differing burdens of proof in cases where a party is "senior" on one count and "junior" on another count. The suggestions to change the meaning of "order of the parties" are not being adopted. Another comment suggested that § 1.611(e) be changed to indicate that notice "shall" (as opposed to "may") be given in the Official Gazette when an interference has been declared involving a patent. No useful purpose would be served by changing "may" to "shall" inasmuch as the rights of parties involved in an interference are not affected by publication or non-publication of the fact that a patent is involved in the interference. By § 1.611 the PTO intends to exercise discretion to publish in the Official Gazette an identification of patents which become involved in interferences; however, the PTO does not intend to undertake an absolute obligation to do so. The use of "may" better expresses the PTO's intent behind § 1.611(e).

No written comments were received relating to § 1.612. However, at the hearing two suggestions were made orally. The first suggestion was that where a "party" has obtained a copy of his "opponent's" affidavit under § 1.131 or § 1.608(b) (see § 1.612(b)), the party should be required to notify the opponent. According to the suggestion, if the opponent then intends to rely on the affidavit (§ 1.671(e)), the opponent would have to "reserve" the affidavit on the party. This suggestion is not being adopted. When the party gains access to the affidavit under § 1.612(b), the party may or may not make an accurate copy. On the other hand, the opponent knows exactly those portions of the affidavit upon which the opponent intends to rely. After careful consideration, the PTO believes on balance that it is better for the opponent to serve a copy of the evidence upon which the opponent intends to rely. Service avoids issues as to whether the party obtained under § 1.612(b) a complete and/or accurate copy of the evidence upon which the opponent intends to rely.

The second suggestion concerning § 1.612 made orally at the hearing was that a party should have access to an opponent's "predecessor application, even though the application may not be relied upon for 35 USC, Section 120 benefit." According to the suggestion, access to a "predecessor application" may be needed to uncover relevant evidence, including violations of 37 CFR § 1.56. Specifically, the commentator called attention to Driscoll v. Cebalo, 731 F.2d 878, 221 USPQ 745 (Fed. Cir. 1984), rehearing denied mem., (Fed. Cir. July 25, 1984). The suggestion is not being adopted. The Patent Statute (35 U.S.C. § 122) provides that applications for patent will be preserved in secrecy by the PTO unless special circumstances are shown. Section 1.687(c) provides for "additional discovery" when required in the interest of justice. Additional discovery is believed to provide the necessary procedural vehicle for obtaining access to an opponent's "predecessor application."

One comment was received which suggested that the language "or members of the same firm of attorneys and agents" be added after "agent" in § 1.613(b). The suggestion is being adopted, because it is believed to make the rule clearer.

One comment was received which said the following with respect to § 1.616: "Sanctions should not be left to the Examiner-in-Chief (EIC) or BAI [Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences] - This Rule is unnecessary and should be deleted. An alternative would be to give sanction power only to the BAI." The suggestion to delete § 1.616 is not being adopted. There are cases where sanctions are warranted. See e.g., Woods v. Tsuchiya, 207 USPQ 228 (Comm'r. Pat. 1979) and Tezel v. Bellantoni, 188 USPQ 688 (Bd.Pat.Int. 1975). The PTO continues to believe that imposition of a sanction (except judgment) by a single examiner-in-chief is appropriate. In any event, a party may ask a 3-member panel of the Board to reconsider any sanction which may be imposed by a single examiner-in-chief. See § 1.640(c).

Several written and oral comments were received regarding § 1.617.

One oral comment made at the hearing suggested that "it should be explicitly stated in Rule 617(a) that the decision of the examiner-in-chief to permit the interference to proceed is without prejudice to the right of any other party to attack the sufficiency of the Rule 608(b) showing when offered as Rule 672 testimony." The suggestion is not being adopted. While no explicit statement to that effect will be placed in § 1.617(a), it necessarily follows that any opponent may attack the sufficiency of an applicant's showing under § 1.608(b) when that showing is presented as evidence under § 1.672. In summary judgment proceedings, all an applicant need do is make out a prima facie case. If the interference is allowed to proceed in the normal manner, the applicant must prove priority by a preponderance of evidence (when the application and the patent are copending) or beyond a reasonable doubt (when the application was filed after the patent issued). Manifestly, the burden in summary judgment proceedings is not as strict as the burden in proceedings following summary judgment. Breuer v. DeMarinis, 558 F.2d 22, 28, 194 USPQ 308, 313 (CCPA 1977) and Schwab v. Pittman, 451 F.2d 637, 640, 172 USPQ 69, 71 (CCPA 1971).

Several comments suggested that an applicant should be permitted as a matter of right to file a reply to any statement filed by any opponent under § 1.617(d). The suggestion that a reply be permitted is being adopted. Accordingly, § 1.617(e) has been changed to read: "[w] ithin a time authorized by the examiner-in-chief, an applicant may file a reply to any statement filed by any opponent." Some of the comments indicated that the applicant should be able to reply to a statement by a patentee or another opponent. The language "any opponent" in § 1.617(e) is intended to include both the patentee and any other opponent. The change in the last sentence of § 1.617(h) of "patentee" to "any opponent" is intended to make clear that all parties may appear at a hearing if the applicant requests a hearing.

One comment suggested that the patentee (and presumably any other opponent) should be allowed to present "evidence" during summary judgment proceedings. This suggestion is not being adopted. A change in the second sentence of § 1.617(d) is intended to make clear that opponents may file statements in response to an applicant's "response," but the statement "shall be limited to discussing why all the evidence presented by the applicant does not overcome the reasons given by the examiner-in-chief for issuing the order to show cause." The PTO does not intend to expand summary judgment proceedings into a "mini-interference." An applicant presents evidence under § 1.608(b). If the examiner-in-chief finds that evidence insufficient, an order to show cause stating reasons for the insufficiency is issued. An applicant may respond and, if appropriate, file "additional evidence." The PTO intends to be rather strict in permitting the filing of new evidence. After the applicant responds (with or without additional evidence), any opponent may file a statement. In the statement, the opponent should be free to comment on all the evidence (original and additional) which the applicant presents. Compare In re Plockinger, 481 F.2d 1327, 179 USPQ 103 (CCPA 1973). Under § 1.617(d) the opponent may not urge a rationale for summary judgment which does not appear in the order to show cause issued by the examiner-in-chief. However, it is not the PTO's intent to interpret § 1.617(d) in the narrow manner the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals interpreted 37 CFR § 1.204(c) in Kahl v. Scoville, 609 F.2d 991, 995-996, 203 USPQ 652, 656 [headnote 6] (CCPA 1979). An example will illustrate how the PTO intends to interpret § 1.617(d).

Example 35: An applicant copies claims from a patent and is required to submit a showing under § 1.608(b). Upon review of the showing under § 1.608(b), the examiner-in-chief concludes that the showing fails to make out a prima facie case of priority, because applicant has failed to show an actual reduction to practice. Applicant files a response and includes additional evidence which purports to show an actual reduction to practice. The patentee then files a statement in which two arguments are made. First, patentee argues that the additional evidence has not been properly authenticated. Second, patentee argues that even if applicant has shown an actual reduction to practice, summary judgment is nevertheless appropriate because applicant suppressed and concealed after the actual reduction to practice. The first argument is proper, but the second argument is not. A patentee may comment on the sufficiency of the applicant's evidence. Fairness, however, dictates that summary judgment be granted only after fair notice in the order to show cause. Accordingly, summary judgment will not be based on a rationale raised by a patentee in a statement which does not correspond to the rationale used by the examiner-in-chief in the order to show cause.

A change has been made in § 1.617(a) and § 1.617(g) to make clear that once summary judgment proceedings have concluded, an interference will proceed "in the normal manner." The change is intended to codify the decisions in Walsh v. Sakai, 167 USPQ 465 (Comm'r.Pat. 1967) and Ing v. Chiou, 207 USPQ 321 (Comm'r.Pat. 1979). This change is further discussed in the discussion of the comments received with respect to § 1.635.

One comment was received which indicated that § 1.618:

> "needs qualification. It may be appropriate to resubmit certain papers (See also § 1.644(d) last sentence)."

The precise "qualification" needed was not set forth in the comment. Likewise, no example of "certain papers" was set forth. Under the circumstances, the PTO declines to make any change in § 1.618.

Several comments were received which discussed the rules relating to preliminary statements.

Three comments were received which suggested that § 1.622(a) be amended to "take into account several court decisions holding that joint inventors need not be joint inventors of [the subject matter of] all claims." Changes have been made in § 1.622(a) consistent with the amendment to 35 U.S.C. § 116 made by Public Law 98-622.

One comment was critical of §§ 1.623(c); 1.624(c); and 1.625(c), because § 1.628(b) does not cover the possibility that a drawing might not be available, e.g., a drawing destroyed in "a fire." Section 1.628(b) has been amended to permit a party to allege a date when a first drawing or first written description was made in those circumstances where the first drawing or first written description is not available. The party will be required (1) to show good cause and explain in the preliminary statement why a copy of the drawing or written description cannot be attached to the preliminary statement and (2) attach to the preliminary statement the earliest drawing or written description made in or introduced into the United States which is available. The party would also be required to file a motion to amend its preliminary statement promptly after the drawing or written description becomes available. It is the PTO's intent by the amendment to § 1.628(b) to overrule the holding of headnote [1] of Reddy v. Davis, 187 USPQ 386, 388 (Comm'r.Pat. 1975)

Another comment was critical of the language "conceived" in § 1.623(a)(4). The current rules do not require a party to allege a conception; rather, they require one to allege the date of the certain acts which, if proved, would establish conception. See 37 CFR § 1.216(a)(4). According to the commentator, an allegation of conception is "unprovable and meaningless." The use of "conception" in § 1.623(a)(4) is intentional and is designed to permit a party to "plead" the earliest date on which it believes conception occurred. Contrary to the suggestion in the comment, "conception" is not meaningless and may be proved during the the testimony period. See Gould v. Schawlow, 363 F.2d 908, 150 USPQ 634 (CCPA 1966); Meitzner v. Corte, 410 F.2d 433, 161 USPQ 599 (CCPA 1969); and Mergenthaler v. Scudder, 11 App.D.C. 264, 1897 C.D. 724 (D.C.Cir. 1897). There is no need to prove "conception" in the preliminary statement.

A preliminary statement serves several useful purposes in an interference: (1) it serves to limit a party's proofs as to time, (2) it serves as a vehicle for permitting the examiner-in-chief or the Board to issue orders to show cause in those cases where it would be futile to take testimony, and (3) it serves as notice to an opponent of the case which is alleged by a party. Under the rules being announced herein, the issues which will be raised and decided by the Board at final hearing are made known during the interlocutory stage through (a) the preliminary statement, (b) motions under § 1.633 and decisions thereon, and (c) notices under § 1.632 of a party's intent to argue abandonment, suppression, or concealment. Section 1.632(a)(4) requires a party to allege a date of conception—it does not require proof of conception. The allegation puts the opponent on notice that the party intends to prove conception as of a date no earlier than the date alleged in the preliminary statement.

One comment suggested that the rules relating to preliminary statements are deficient because they do not permit one to allege allegations concerning tapes. Specifically, the commentator said: "What about a taped transcript of an invention, a practice being followed in a number of research departments of corporations?" If making a tape is the last act of conception, a party may allege the date the tape was made as the conception date under § 1.623(a)(4).

Several comments were received which suggested that a party should not have to allege derivation in a preliminary statement because the party may not know derivation occurred until the testimony period. Section 1.625 requires a party to file a preliminary statement when derivation is an issue. If derivation is not known or discovered prior to the date the preliminary statement is due, a party may move to amend the preliminary statement and allege derivation promptly after existence of derivation is discovered.

Several comments discussing § 1.624 were received. One comment suggested that § 1.624(a)(5) should require a party to state, where appropriate, that no actual reduction to practice of an invention made in a foreign country was introduced into the United States. This suggestion is being adopted and a second sentence has been added to § 1.624(a)(5) which provides: "If an actual reduction to practice of the invention was not introduced into the United States, the preliminary statement shall so state." This sentence conforms § 1.624(a)(5) to the allegation required in the second sentence of § 1.623(a)(5). Another comment suggested that the language "in the United States" be inserted after "reasonable diligence" in § 1.624(a)(6) and that all occurrences of the language "was made" in § 1.624(c) be changed to "was introduced into the United States". This suggestion is being adopted. As noted in the comment, "[t] he changes . . . are necessary to clarify that for an invention made abroad the only relevant activities are those which occur in the United States." See 35 U.S.C. § 104.

One comment asked "how does one introduce 'an actual reduction to practice of the invention' in the United States?" Breuer v. DeMarinis, 558 F.2d 22, 194 USPQ 308 (CCPA 1971), illustrates a case where an actual reduction to practice abroad was introduced into the United States.

One comment suggested that § 1.627(a) be changed to require preliminary statements "be enclosed in an outer envelope addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks and be additionally marked Box Interference—Preliminary Statement." According to the comment, the confidentiality of preliminary statements "envisioned under the proposed rules would be further enhanced . . . ." The suggestion is not being adopted. The PTO believes it is sufficient if preliminary statements are enclosed in a sealed envelope as specified in § 1.627(a). The Board will not permit access to preliminary statements which have not been ordered opened by an examiner-in-chief.

Several comments discussing § 1.629 were received. One comment suggested that the first sentence ("A preliminary statement should be carefully prepared.") should not appear in § 1.629(a). This suggestion is being adopted. The PTO agrees with the commentator that the sentence:

> "no longer appears necessary or appropriate in the context of rulemaking. The remainder of the paragraph makes the admonition redundant at best."

Two comments were received which suggested that the word "normally" be deleted from the last sentence of § 1.629(d). The suggestions are not being adopted. A preliminary statement is a pleading. The Board does not evaluate or consider the content of a drawing or written description prior to final hearing. At final hearing, in fact, the Board will only consider the drawing or written description if a party places the drawing or written description in evidence. The word "normally" first appeared in 37 CFR § 1.223(c), last sentence, in 1978 (see e.g., 973 TMOG 19 (Aug. 1, 1978)). The last sentence of 37 CFR § 1.223(c) was intended to codify headnote [2] of Reddy v. Davis, 187 USPQ 386 (Comm'r.Pat. 1975). The word "normally" appears in the rule to permit the Board to exercise discretion to evaluate or consider the content of a drawing or written description in some unusual and presently unforeseen circumstance.

One comment suggested that "no earlier than" in § 1.629(b) be changed to "as early as". The suggestion is being adopted inasmuch as it is believed to more clearly state the intent of the rule.

One comment suggested that § 1.629(d) "is improper because it fails to take into account testimony which can show that a drawing and/or written description were actually made even though the drawing and/or written description are not now available." A change to § 1.628(d) and addition of "unless the party complies with § 1.628(b)" to the first sentence of § 1.629(d) eliminates the problem raised by the commentator.

One comment discussing § 1.631(a) was received which expressed the view that a junior party should be required to send a copy of its preliminary statement to the senior party even if the senior party does not file a preliminary statement. According to the commentator, the senior party is prima facie the first inventor and at some time it will have to know the earliest dates alleged by the junior party. The rules require all parties to file a preliminary statement. If a junior party does not file a preliminary statement, it will be denied access to any other preliminary statement which is filed. A senior party, however, is always entitled to access to any preliminary statement filed by a junior party. See e.g., § 1.631(b). However, a junior party will only be required to serve a senior party who files a statement.

Numerous comments were received discussing § 1.633.

One commentator asked: "What sort of a judgment is in order if a count is not patentable over the prior art to an opponent?" Section 1.633(a) authorizes a party to bring a motion for judgment on the ground that the opponent's claim corresponding to a count is not patentable. It is important to note that the motion raises the patentability of the opponent's claim not the count. Accordingly, by a motion under § 1.633(a), a party seeks entry of a judgment that the opponent is not entitled to a patent containing a claim corresponding to a count.

Two comments questioned the nature of the judgment when a motion under § 1.633(b) is granted. Section 1.633(b) authorizes the filing of a motion for judgment on the ground that there is no interference-in-fact. If a motion under § 1.633(b) is granted, the judgment would provide that each party is entitled to a patent containing that party's claims corresponding to the count. Judgments in interferences under these rules will determine a party's entitlement or lack of entitlement to claims corresponding to a count.

One comment expressed the hope that "third party inventorship" would not be made an issue in interferences. Contrary to the hope expressed by the commentator, "third party inventorship" can be made the subject of a motion under § 1.633(a). Any ground of unpatentability may be made the subject of a motion under § 1.633(a) except (1) priority of invention of the subject matter of a count by the moving party as against any opponent or (2) derivation of the subject matter of a count by an opponent from the moving party. It should be noted that under past practice, third party inventorship has not been considered "ancillary" to priority. Sheffner v. Gallo, 515 F.2d 1169, 185 USPQ 726 (CCPA 1975). However, under these rules, the question of whether an issue is "ancillary" no longer arises. See 130 Cong. Rec. H10528 (daily ed. Oct. 1, 1984)(statement by Rep. Kastenmeier). Public Law 98-622 gives the Board authority to consider priority and patentability. Third party inventorship involves a question of patentability. 35 U.S.C. § 102(f). One comment pointed out that § 1.633(e) adopts the estoppel rule approved by the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals in Avery v. Chase, 101 F.2d 205, 40 USPQ 343 (CCPA 1939), cert. denied, 307 U.S. 638 (1939), while rejecting the rule announced by the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit in International Cellucotton Products Co. v. Coe, 35 F.2d 869, 30 USPQ 366 (D.C. Cir. 1936). See also American Cyanamid Co. v. Coe, 106 F.2d 851, 42 USPQ 302 (D.C. Cir. 1939). The commentator is correct in noting that the rules adopt the estoppel rule approved in Avery v. Chase. The following comment by the CCPA in its opinion in In re Shimer, 69 F.2d 556, 558, 21 USPQ 161, 163 (CCPA 1934), accurately expresses the intent of the PTO in promulgating §§ 1.633(e) and 1.658(c):

> It may be stated that this rule works no hardship to him who is diligent in pursuit of his rights. When an interference is declared, the files of his contestants are open to him. He has full cognizance of their disclosures and claims. So advised, it becomes his duty to put forward every claim he has. [Rule 1.633(e)] . . . affords him this opportunity. If the rule be not enforced or enforceable, then delays and litigation are greatly increased. It is quite obvious that the doctrine of estoppel, as applied in these cases, results in the better conduct of the business of the Patent [and Trademark] Office and in the public good.

One comment suggested that the following be added to the end of § 1.633(c):

> A motion to add or substitute a count shall be construed as an automatic request for the benefit of any earlier application [filing] dates accorded the existing count, and also as encompassed by a contemporaneous motion under § 1.633(f) or (g), unless indicated otherwise. Any opposition thereto must be raised in a motion opposition pursuant to § 1.638.

The suggestion is not being adopted. A specific reference to § 1.637(c) appears in § 1.633(c). The provisions of § 1.637(c) spell out in detail the steps which a moving party must take in filing a motion under § 1.633(c). One of those steps requires the moving party to request benefit of any earlier application. The mere fact that benefit has been accorded for a "first" count does not establish that benefit should be accorded for a "second" count. The PTO believes the burden should be on the moving party to point out where an earlier application supports a count rather than placing the burden on an opponent in the first instance to point out where an earlier application fails to support particular subject matter. There is no compelling reason to force the opponent "to prove a negative." It should be noted that the language "Where appropriate," has been deleted in every instance from § 1.637 to make clear that the burden lies on the moving party to request benefit when that party files a motion under § 1.633.

At the hearing, one individual commented that § 1.633(a) is not clear as to whether a motion for judgment based on "fraudulent appropriation of the moving party's invention by his opponent" excluded. The "fraudulent appropriation of the moving party's invention by his opponent" is derivation. Section 1.633(a)(2) excludes both "innocent" derivation (e.g., through a third party and unknown to either party in an interference) or "fraudulent" derivation (e.g., where one party knowingly takes the invention from an opponent). In either event if derivation by an opponent of a party's invention is proved, the party will be awarded judgment.

One comment made the following statement:

> An opponent faced with a motion for judgment on the ground that a count is unpatentable may not be able to prove patentability in the short time periods. Provision should be made for extensions of time in such cases.

Provisions for extensions of time are made in § 1.645.

One comment addressed Example 23 which appeared in the notice of proposed rulemaking. Example 23 also appears in a slightly modified form herein and, as modified, takes into account discussion in the comment. The commentator believed that the motion mentioned in Example 23 should be denied and that a testimony period should be set. Accordingly to the commentator, the granting of the motion would shift the burden to the opponent of the motion. The commentator's point is well taken. Actually, the motion should be deferred to final hearing and a testimony period would be set. In ruling on motions under § 1.633, it will not always be possible for the examiner-in-chief to grant or deny outright a motion. When testimony is needed to rule on a motion, the proper course of action is to defer a decision on the motion to final hearing and permit testimony. See § 1.639(c). The moving party retains the burden. If testimony is taken on patentability, the parties would also have to take testimony on priority. With all testimony at its disposal, the Board would then be in a position to rule on all issues and award a judgment.

One comment asked how the claims of the parties would be designated to correspond to the counts if in Example 18 a motion to substitute Count 2 (benzene) and add Count 3 (chloroform) was granted. The following Example 36 answers the commentator's question.

Example 36: The facts in this example are the same as Example 18. Assume that applicant AB believes that benzene and chloroform define separate patentable inventions. Applicant AB would file a motion under § 1.633(c)(1) to substitute Count 2 (benzene) for Count 1 (Markush group of benzene or chloroform) and add Count 3 (chloroform). If the examiner-in-chief grants the motion, the interference would be redeclared by deleting Count 1 and substituting in its place Counts 2 and 3. Claims 1 and 2 of the patent H and claims 11 and 12 of application AB would be designated to correspond to Count 2. Claims 1 and 3 of patent H and claims 11 and 13 of application AB would be designated to correspond to Count 3. If one party proves priority with respect to both benzene and chloroform, that party would be entitled to all claims in its application or patent corresponding to Counts 2 and 3. The other party would not be entitled to a patent containing any claim corresponding to Counts 2 and 3. If patentee H proves priority with respect to benzene and applicant AB proves priority with respect to chloroform (assuming there was no issue raised at final hearing with respect to the patentable distinctness of benzene and chloroform), the judgment would provide that patentee H is not entitled to a patent with claims 1 and 3, but is entitled to a patent with claim 2 and that applicant AB is not entitled to a patent with claims 11 and 12, but is entitled to a patent with claim 13. If an issue is properly raised at final hearing as to whether benzene and chloroform are the same patentable invention and the Board holds that they are the same patentable invention, the party proving the earliest priority as to either benzene or chloroform would prevail as to all claims. Thus, if patentee H invented benzene before applicant AB invented benzene or chloroform, patentee H would be entitled to a patent containing claims 1 through 3 even if applicant AB invented chloroform before patentee H invented chloroform. Applicant AB would not be entitled to a patent with claims 11 through 13.

An oral comment was received by telephone which raised the question of whether a party is, or could be, required to present in the party's application every claim which the party may ever seek to obtain in a patent based on the party's application. According to the commentator, such a requirement would prevent the party from proceeding ex parte after the interference on any claim on which a favorable judgment was not entered. It is not the PTO's intent to require a party who is an applicant to present at the outset all claims which the party may ever seek to obtain in a patent based on his application. Parties in interference cases should recognize, however, that the interference estoppel provisions of § 1.658(c) have been expanded with the view to eliminating much of the ex parte maneuvering which has taken place in the past after an interference is terminated. Accordingly, a party who fails to move to place a matter in issue runs a considerable risk that the party will not be able to raise the issue ex parte after an interference is terminated. Nevertheless, the PTO has determined that it will not, at this time, adopt the requirement suggested by the commentator. The commentator also suggested, contingent on his earlier suggestion being rejected, that the rules provide that a party be authorized to file a motion to require an opponent who is an applicant to add a claim to the opponent's application and to designate the claim as corresponding to a count. This suggestion is being adopted by addition of § 1.633(c)(5). Paragraph (c)(5) authorizes the filing of a motion to redefine the interfering subject matter by requiring an opponent who is an applicant to add a claim and to designate the claim to correspond to a count. A companion addition of paragraph (c)(5) to § 1.637 sets out the requirements of a motion under § 1.633(c)(5). Those requirements are: the moving party must (1) propose a claim to be added to the opponent's application, (2) show the patentability of the claim to the opponent and apply the terms of the claim to the disclosure of the opponent's application, (3) identify the count to which the proposed claim shall be designated to correspond, and (4) show that the proposed claim defines the same patentable invention as the count to which it will be designated to correspond. The following example illustrates how practice under §§ 1.633(c)(5) and 1.637(c)(5) is expected to occur.

Example 37: In this example, some of the facts set out in Example 32 will be used. Application AV discloses engines and in particular a 6-cylinder engine. Application AV contains only claim 1 (engine). Application AW discloses engines in general, but does not specifically disclose a 6-cylinder engine. Application AW contains only a single claim 3 (engine). Seeing that application AV specifically discloses a 6-cylinder engine and believing that a 6-cylinder engine is the same patentable invention as "engine," AW could move under § 1.633(c)(5) to require applicant AV to add a claim (6-cylinder engine) and to have the claim designated to correspond to the count (engine). Applicant AV could oppose on the ground that a 6-cylinder engine is not the "same patentable invention" as "engine." If the motion is granted, applicant AV would be required to add a claim to 6-cylinder engine and the claim would be designated to correspond to the count. If applicant AV loses the interference, the judgment would preclude applicant AV from obtaining a patent with claims to "engine" or "6-cylinder engine." If the motion is denied on the basis that a 6-cylinder engine is not the same patentable invention, applicant AV would not be required to present a claim to 6-cylinder engine and would be able to pursue such a claim ex parte even if applicant AV loses the interference.

If an applicant is ordered by an examiner-in-chief to file an amendment to present a claim and the applicant fails or refuses to timely present the amendment, the failure or refusal will be taken without further action as a disclaimer by the applicant of the subject matter of the claim. See the second sentence of § 1.640(b)(1).

At the hearing, one commentator indicated that it is not clear whether § 1.635 "would permit a motion for judgment in a situation where a junior party's case-in-chief fails as a matter of law to overcome a senior party's effective filing date." Under the rules, it is not the intent of the PTO to allow a senior party to test the sufficiency of the case-in-chief of a junior party prior to final hearing. Thus, a "motion for a directed verdict" (see Rule 50(a) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure) at the conclusion of the junior party's case-in-chief and prior to a senior party's case-in-chief is not authorized under the rules. If a senior party believes the case-in-chief of the junior party is insufficient as a matter of law, the senior party may elect to proceed immediately to final hearing. If the senior party is incorrect, however, the senior party will have waived any right to present any case-in-chief or rebuttal. See e.g., Comstock v. Kroekel, 200 USPQ 548, 550 n. 4 (Comm'r.Pat. 1978); Lorenian v. Winstead, 127 USPQ 501, 508 (Bd.Pat.Int. 1959); and, more recently, Burson v. Carmichael, 731 F.2d 849, 221 USPQ 664 (Fed. Cir. 1984) ("There is no support in law for repeated bites at the apple"). This would be true even if the only evidence relied upon by the junior party is a showing under 1.608(b). In this respect, the rules codify the decision in Walsh v. Sakai, 167 USPQ 465 (Comm'r.Pat. 1970).

Two comments were received which suggested that the twenty-day period in § 1.636(b) is too short. It was suggested that a longer time period be set and one comment suggested thirty (30) days. The suggestions are not being adopted. The time period set for filing oppositions will normally be set during a telephone conference call between the examiner-in-chief and the attorneys for the parties. The twenty-day period appears in the rule in the event a specific time for filing oppositions is not set by an examiner-in-chief. The twenty-day period is deemed to be sufficient in most cases. Twenty days are currently allowed to respond to a motion. See 37 CFR § 1.231(b). It should be noted that the twenty-day period is longer than the minimum period allowed by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure for responding to motions. See Rule 6(d) and (e).

Two comments were received which discussed § 1.637. Both comments suggested that a sentence be added to § 1.637(f) (2) to require a translation to be filed when a party moves for benefit of an earlier foreign application which is not in English. The suggestions are being adopted and the following has been added as the last sentence of § 1.637(f) (2): "If the earlier application filed abroad is not in English, the requirements of § 1.647 must also be met." Section 1.647 requires a translation whenever a party relies on a document in a language other than English. One comment suggested that the language of § 1.637(f)(3) ("Show that the earlier application discloses an embodiment within the scope of the each count.") may be "contrary to past decisions of the CCPA which have held a disclosure can be good without a specific embodiment." The critical issue in each benefit situation is whether the earlier application constitutes a constructive reduction to practice of the invention defined by the count. The issue is necessarily resolved on a case-by-case basis and the presence or absence of an embodiment is only one factor to be considered. Accordingly, the language of § 1.647(f)(2) has been changed to read: "Show that the earlier application constitutes a constructive reduction to practice of each count." The comment also criticized the use of the word "each" in § 1.647(f)(2). The term "each" is used to make clear that when there are two or more counts, the moving party must show that the earlier application constitutes a constructive reduction to practice for each count. There are cases where a disclosure in an earlier application would constitute a constructive reduction to practice for one count but not for another count.

Several changes have been made to § 1.637 which were not made as a result of a comment submitted from the public. Each occurrence of the language "Where appropriate," in § 1.637 has been deleted as being unnecessary and possibly confusing. Whenever a party wants or believes that it is entitled to benefit of an earlier application, the party must file a motion under § 1.633(f) for benefit. The language "Where appropriate" may have given parties the mistaken impression that a motion was not necessary where benefit of the earlier application had been accorded in the papers declaring the interference. See the discussion above of the suggested change to § 1.633(c) which was rejected.

The language "or adding a claim to be designated to correspond to a count" has been added to § 1.637(c)(2). The change supplements a change made in § 1.633(c)(2). Section 1.637(c)(2) sets out the requirements for a preliminary motion to redefine the interfering subject matter by adding a claim in the moving party's application and to designate the claim to correspond to a count.

In § 1.637(c)(2)(ii), the language "Apply the terms of each proposed claim to the disclosure of the application" has been changed to "Show that the proposed or added claim defines the same patentable invention as the count". This change was made to add the requirement of showing that the new claim defines the same patentable invention as the count and to eliminate a requirement already contained in § 1.637(c)(2)(iii).

Section 1.637(c)(2)(iii) was changed to refer to an "amended or added claim" and thereby conform the language of the section to the language of § 1.633(c)(2).

Paragraph (c)(5) was added to set out the requirements of a motion under § 1.633(c)(5) which permits a party to move to require an opponent who is an applicant to add a claim to the application and to designate the claim to correspond to a count. See Example 37.

Two comments were made concerning § 1.638. One comment suggested that the twenty-day periods of paragraphs (a) and (b) were too short. The PTO has evaluated the time periods of paragraphs (a) and (b) and has decided that no change will be made to those periods. Attention is directed to the discussion above of the comments concerning § 1.636(b) which also contains a twenty-day period.

Another comment made at the hearing suggested that a reply to an opposition to a motion should be permitted as a matter of course. Upon consideration of the comment, it has been decided to authorize the filing of replies to opposition to all motions. Presently, replies are permitting as a matter of course only for oppositions to motions under 37 CFR § 1.231. Section 1.638(b), as changed, would permit the reply in every instance. The PTO over the years has received complaints concerning the inability of a party to file replies. The change being made in § 1.638(b) will be reviewed sometime in the future to determine whether authorizing replies is helpful to the Board and/or whether undue delay in resolving interference occurs because replies are filed. Moreover, the PTO will make a judgment on whether "new issues" are being raised as a matter of course in replies. It can thus be seen that the change in authorizing replies may be considered experimental and could be changed in the future if found to be counterproductive or inconsistent with the objective of resolving interferences in a relatively prompt manner.

One comment discussing § 1.639 was received. The comment states:

> The requirement that proofs of alleged material facts must be filed may be difficult or impossible to meet in view of the shortened times. [The] rule should make provisions for timely submission of proofs within reasonable times.

To the extent that the comment suggests setting specific times in the rules, the suggestion is not being adopted. It should be noted that if affidavits cannot be timely prepared to be filed with a motion, the moving party may wish to take advantage of paragraph (c) which requires a party to specify any testimony needed to resolve a motion.

One change was made in § 1.639(c) to make clear that a moving party or an opponent may describe any testimony needed to resolve a motion under either § 1.633 or § 1.634. Often, testimony is needed to resolve inventorship disputes. Accordingly, a party may describe testimony needed to resolve motions to correct inventorship under § 1.634. It should be noted that if a party relies solely on affidavits in support of a motion (under § 1.633 or § 1.634) and the issue raised in the motion is to be considered at final hearing, the party must comply with § 1.671(e).

Several comments were received which discussed § 1.640. One comment asked: "When the final sentence speaks of a panel deciding the request for reconsideration, does this mean that the panel decides whether to reconsider or whether to modify the decision?" It was the PTO's intent that the panel make a decision on whether to modify the decision made by the single examiner-in-chief. Accordingly, the language "shall be decided by a panel" in the last sentence of § 1.640(c) has been changed to read: "shall be acted on by a panel". Another change in language to the fourth sentence of § 1.640(c) has been made to make clear that a decision of a single examiner-in-chief will not ordinarily be modified by a panel without an opportunity to file an opposition.

Another comment suggested that § 1.640(a) be changed to "allow, even encourage, the examiner-in-chief to travel to conferences where more convenient/practical for all concerned." This suggestion is not being adopted. The use of a telephone conference call eliminates the need to adopt the suggestion. The same comment suggested that the "speedy and inexpensive" language of the second sentence of § 1.640(b) be deleted. The suggestion is not beingadopted. The comment fails to explain why the language should be deleted. It is obvious that a motion cannot always be granted or denied; other action is often appropriate, e.g., deferring consideration of a motion to final hearing. Section 1.640(b) gives the examiner-in-chief discretion to take appropriate action and the "just, speedy, and inexpensive determination" language provides some standard which an examiner-in-chief may follow in those cases where granting or denying a motion is not appropriate.

One comment was received which suggested that § 1.640 be changed to provide that an examiner-in-chief hold a hearing to determine whether an interference should proceed in those cases where a junior party fails to allege a date prior to the senior party and remains in an interference only because the junior party is alleging "fraud" by the senior party. The suggestion is not being adopted. If a party believes that an opponent has committed "fraud" or has engaged in "inequitable conduct," the party may file a motion under § 1.633(a) for judgment. Obviously, a motion for judgment on the basis of "fraud" or "inequitable conduct" must make out a case by clear and convincing evidence. The examiner-in-chief has sufficient authority under the rules to preclude a party from proceeding in an interference on a baseless charge of "fraud" or "inequitable conduct."

One oral comment was received which suggested that the examiner-in-chief be required to consult with an examiner prior to deciding a preliminary motion for judgment under § 1.633(a) based on patentability. The oral comment suggested alternate proposals:

(1) The examiner-in-chief will normally obtain a patentability report when deciding motions involving a question of patentability.

(2) The examiner-in-chief will consult with a primary examiner prior to deciding a motion raising an issue of patentability.

The suggestion of the oral comment is not being adopted. An examiner-in-chief is a person having "competent legal knowledge and scientific ability." 35 U.S.C. § 7. Examiners-in-chief review decisions of examiners on questions of patentability. Accordingly, there is no reason to require an examiner-in-chief to consult with an examiner on a question of patentability. The PTO recognizes that many examiners possess special expertise in particular arts. It is for this reason that § 1.640(b) provides that "[a] n examiner-in-chief may consult with an examiner in deciding motions involving a question of patentability" (emphasis added). Thus, an examiner-in-chief is authorized to consult with an examiner on a question of patentability where the examiner-in-chief believes consultation will be beneficial.

One comment suggested that § 1.642 be changed to permit an examiner-in-chief to add a newly discovered patent, as well as newly discovered applications, to an interference. Inasmuch as 35 U.S.C. § 135(a) authorizes interferences between applications and patents, the suggestion is being adopted. The language "application" in § 1.642 has been changed to read: "application or patent".

Several comments discussing § 1.644 were received. One commentator made four suggestions, none of which are being adopted. First, the commentator suggested that there should be no fee for a petition under § 1.644(a)(1). This suggestion is not being adopted. A decision on a petition is a service performed by the PTO on behalf of a petitioner. The Commissioner is authorized to charge fees for services performed. 35 U.S.C. § 41(d). Second, the commentator suggested that the last sentence of § 1.644(d) be deleted. This suggestion is not being adopted. In the past when parties have filed petitions, copies of documents already in the interference file have been attached to the petition. The copies tend to increase unnecessarily the size of the file of an interference. Inasmuch as the document submitted with the petition is already in the interference, there is no need to file a "second" copy of the document. Parties can expect that petitions will be returned ((§ 1.618) if the petition is accompanied by documents which are already in the interference file. Third, the commentator argued that the "requirement of service within one (1) day is too onerous and should be deleted" from § 1.644(g). No rationale was given in support of the argument. Petitions have caused considerable delay in interference cases in the past. To avoid unnecessary delay and surprise on the part of the opponent, the PTO has decided to require that service of a petition be such that delivery to the opponent is within one (1) working day. Service within one day should not ordinarily be difficult in view of "Express Mail" and numerous commercial one-day delivery services available. Lastly, the commentator suggested that § 1.644(i) be changed to provide that decision on a petition would not be delegated to the examiner-in-chief handling the interference. The suggestion to change § 1.644(i) is not being adopted. However, when a PTO employee is granted authority to decide a petition in an interference case, the employee would not be the examiner-in-chief handling the interference or an employee on a panel of the Board deciding the petition. It would be expected that an employee deciding a petition by delegation of authority would be one who could exercise independent judgment on the petition bearing in mind that a petition will be decided on the record made before the examiner-in-chief or the panel. In connection with this latter point, findings of fact by an examiner-in-chief or the Board will be presumed to be correct unless shown to be clearly erroneous. Discretionary action by an examiner-in-chief or the Board will not be overturned unless it is shown that an abuse of discretion occurred.

One commentator asked the following: "Is § 1.644(g) intended to apply only to 'oppositions' to § 1.644 petitions, or is it also applicable to § 1.638 oppositions?" The provisions of § 1.644(g) apply only to petitions filed under § 1.644; those provisions do not apply to oppositions under § 1.638.

Two comments suggested that § 1.644(a)(2) be changed to include an express statement that a petition under paragraph (a)(2) could not be filed until after the Board has entered judgment and that the petition could not relate to the merits of priority of invention or patentability or a question of whether evidence is admissible under the Federal Rules of Evidence. The suggestions are being adopted and appropriate language has been added to § 1.644(a)(2) after the word "Commissioner". The change was suggested by the commentators so that no reasonable person could possibly overlook the fact that a petition to exercise supervisory authority can be filed only after entry of judgment. It should be noted that the language "and shall not relate to (1) the merits of priority of invention or patentability or (2) the admissibility of evidence under the Federal Rules of Evidence" has been deleted from § 1.644(b) in view of the change to § 1.644(a)(2).

One comment suggested that the last sentence of § 1.644(f) be changed to make clear that a decision would not ordinarily be modified until the Commissioner had requested an opposition to a request for reconsideration. This suggestion has been adopted and an appropriate change has been made to the last sentence of § 1.644(g).

One comment suggested that the word "shall" in the last sentence of § 1.644(b) precludes the filing of an opposition beyond the 15-day period specified in the rules. According to the commentator, the opposition should also be considered timely if filed within "any appropriate extension." A party may move to extend the time for filing an opposition. See § 1.645.

One comment argued that § 1.644(a)(1) cannot "be squared with the statute as interpreted in Myers [v. Feigelman, 455 F.2d 596, 172 USPQ 580 (CCPA 1972)]." The rationale in support of the comment is the following:

> I presume that the limitation in subparagraph (b) that a petition under subparagraph (a)(2) "shall not relate to . . . the merits of priority of invention or patentability or . . . the admissibility of evidence" is intended to avoid conflict with Myers v. Feigelman, 172 USPQ 580 (CCPA 1972), and its progeny. However, I read Myers as saying that, if the board has statutory authority to make a decision (including all the myriad of ancillary decisions that the panels and/or the single examiner-in-chief will be making under the new procedure), then the Commissioner does not have authority to review the board's or the single examiner-in-chief's decision. Or, to put it the other way around, if the Commissioner reviews an examiner-in-chief's decision, he is stepping into the shoes of the examiner-in-chief, and the Commissioner's decision is in turn reviewable by the panel (which is, of course, the only entity authorized to exercise the statutory jurisdiction of the board—see Knickerbacker Toy Co. v. Faultless Starch Co., 175 USPQ 417 n.8 (CCPA 1972)). Thus, I don't see how proposed section 1.644(a)(1) can possibly be squared with the statute as interpreted in Myers.

It is true that the CCPA has stated that, "in performing his duties, the Commissioner cannot usurp the functions or impinge upon the jurisdiction of the Board . . . established by 35 U.S.C. 135." In re Dickinson, 299 F.2d 954, 958, 133 USPQ 39, 43 (CCPA 1962). See also Myers v. Feigelman, supra, 455 F.2d at 599 n. 8, 172 USPQ at 583 n. 8. However, it is also true that the Commissioner "shall superintend or perform all duties required by law respecting the granting and issuing of patents . . ." 35 U.S.C. § 6; Kingsland v. Carter Carburetor Corp., 83 U.S.App.D.C. 266, 168 F.2d 565, 77 USPQ 499 (D.C.Cir. 1948); In re Staeger, 189 USPQ 284, 285 n. 2 (Comm'r.Pat. 1974). The Commissioner, subject to approval of the Secretary of Commerce, establishes the procedure by which the examiners-in-chief and the Board will consider interference cases. 35 U.S.C. § 6. See also 35 U.S.C. § 23 relating to affidavits and depositions.

Under the rules, the Commissioner will not determine on petition either "priority of invention" or "patentability." See § 1.644(b). Likewise, the Commissioner will not consider whether evidence should have been admitted or excluded under the Federal Rules of Evidence. The PTO believes that the federal courts, which routinely rule on admissibility under the Federal Rules, are in a better position to determine whether the Board properly interpreted the Federal Rules of Evidence.

While the Commissioner will not decide "priority of invention" or "patentability" under 35 U.S.C. § 135(a), it does not follow that the Commissioner is precluded from interpreting PTO rules on procedural matters, including procedural matters related to the admissibility of evidence on some basis other than the Federal Rules of Evidence, e.g., whether a party has complied with a PTO rule such as § 1.671(e)(procedure for relying on affidavits) or § 1.671(g)(permission required for obtainin g evidence by subpoena.)

Full consideration has been given to the comment. The PTO nevertheless believes that § 1.644(a)(1) is not inconsistent with law. Several comments concerning § 1.645 were received. One comment suggested that "to" be inserted in the first sentence of paragraph (a) before "file a notice of appeal" and "commence a civil action". According to the comment, "[t] he use of parallel infinitive verb forms provides greater clarity to the rule." The suggestion has been adopted.

Another commentator said the following:

> "No good reason is seen to require a notarized oath from an attorney merely to explain why a paper was filed late, if there is no claim of substantive prejudice by other parties. Attorneys and examiners-in-chief should not be spending unnecessary time and effort on merely procedural formalities. That is contrary to the intent of the new rules."

The PTO agrees with the commentator and has deleted the language "accompanied by an affidavit" from § 1.645(b).

One comment suggested that a reference to § 1.610(d)(6) which provides for oral requests should be inserted into § 1.645 to reflect intent stated in the comments [of the notice of proposed rulemaking] on proposed § 1.645." This suggestion is not being adopted. As the commentator notes, § 1.610(d) authorizes an examiner-in-chief to hold a conference call to resolve issues and to enter an appropriate order following the conference call. A conference call may be used to obtain an extension of time. If the examiner-in-chief grants the request, an order may be entered—in which case a written motion is not necessary. The order provides the written record required by 37 CFR § 1.2. However, it would unduly lengthen the rules to insert a reference to § 1.610(d) in each rule to which it may be applicable. Section 1.645(a) specifies the procedure to be used when a written motion is filed. It should be noted that an examiner-in-chief may require a written motion notwithstanding a conference call.

One comment stated that "[t] he 'other business' may be more pressing than the Interference. In order to serve the ends of justice, the PTO should be considerate in this matter." The PTO intends to evaluate each request for an extension of time on a case-by-case basis. However, extensions of time in interference cases have become "routine." A recent survey of a file in one interference revealed the following. The interference was declared on Mar. 30, 1976. Preliminary statements were filed on May 5, 1979. A decision on motions was entered on June 28, 1982. Testimony was filed on Jan. 3, 1984. During the period between declaration and filing of testimony, sixty-four (64) requests or stipulations for extension of time were filed.

When counsel and an examiner-in-chief agree to a schedule and times are set, the parties will be expected to adhere to the schedule unless there are unusual circumstances. Apart from work that counsel may have in an interference, an examiner-in-chief will have a docket and must manage not only the interference involving counsel, but numerous other interferences. The U. S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit recently said the following in Rosemount, Inc. v. Beckman Instruments, Inc., 727 F.2d 1540, 1549-1550, 221 USPQ 1, 10 (Fed. Cir. 1984):

> The conduct of a trial, granting of continuances and the like, is not, however, solely or entirely a matter of balancing conveniences of the parties. The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure recognize another consideration—the need for the exercise of discretion by the trial court in carrying out its duty of managing the judicial process, the business of the court, and the administration of justice.

Likewise, these rules also recognize the need for the exercise of discretion by an examiner-in-chief in carrying out his or her duty of managing the interference (§ 1.610), the business of the PTO (§ 1.610), and the administration of justice (§ 1.601).

Several comments were received which discussed § 1.646. One comment suggested that it would be clearer if "service" was inserted after "additional" in the last sentence of § 1.646(b). This suggestion has been adopted.

Another comment suggested that "or except as otherwise provided in these Rules" be added to § 1.646(c) after "otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief". The commentator pointed out that the change was needed because certain rules (§§ 1.644(g) and 1.658(b)) require service by "Express Mail" or by hand. The commentator accurately pointed out that adding the suggested phrase "will call attention to the fact that there are other rules which have their own requirements for service of papers." The suggestion has been adopted, except that "this part" has been used instead of "these Rules."

One comment suggested changing "time" to "date" in the last sentence of § 1.646(e). The suggestion has been adopted. The change is necessary to conform with the language of the rule to actual practice and other language in the rule.

Two comments suggested that § 1.646(d), which authorizes an examiner-in-chief to order service by hand or "Express Mail," be deleted. This suggestion is not being adopted. The use of "Express Mail" or delivery by hand is often desirable to expedite matters or to avoid unnecessary delay. One comment argued that delivery by hand may be prohibitive. Commercial couriers may be used to accomplish delivery by hand. The fee charged by most commercial couriers is not "prohibitive." The other comment argued that "there are circumstances when . . . [delivery by hand] is [not] possible." The use of § 1.646(d) is discretionary on the part of an examiner-in-chief. If delivery by hand, i.e., personal delivery or delivery by commercial courier, or by "Express Mail" is impossible, it would be expected that the examiner-in-chief would exercise discretion and permit service by first class mail.

One comment suggested that the language "present case," which was said to appear in § 1.651(b)(1) and § 1.651(c), be changed to "prepare case." The suggestion is not being adopted because the language "present case" does not appear in § 1.651. In any event, a testimony period is set for a party to present its testimony—either case-in-chief or case-in-rebuttal.

One comment was received which made two suggestions regarding § 1.652. First, the comment suggested that a period longer than 15 days be set for filing a response to a paper answering an order to show cause. This suggestion is not being adopted. The fifteen-day period is believed to be adequate in most cases. If more time is needed, a party may file a motion under § 1.645. Second, the comment suggested that the party placed under an order to show cause should be permitted as a matter of course to file a "reply" brief. This suggestion is not being adopted. In those instances where the Board believes a "reply" brief is desirable it may authorize the filing of a "reply."

One comment argued that § 1.653(i) "fails to make provision for exhibits which are too big to file or are too dangerous to file." If an "exhibit" cannot be filed, it will not be given consideration. A party will have to rely on testimony and/or pictures or sketches for "exhibits" (e.g., a large machine in a factory) which are too large or too dangerous to be filed in the PTO.

While no comments were received concerning § 1.654, it should be noted that a new paragraph (c) has been added and paragraph (c) as set out in the notice of proposed rulemaking has been redesignated as paragraph (d). New paragraph (c) provides that a party shall not be entitled to argue that an opponent abandoned, suppressed, or concealed an actual reduction to practice unless a notice under § 1.632 was timely filed.

Two comments discussing § 1.655 were received. The first comment made the following statement regarding § 1.655(a):

> Last sentence—interlocutory orders are reviewed only for 'manifest error' etc. It is not clear whether this includes show cause orders under § 1.640 resulting from unpatentability determined under § 1.633(a). However, if so, it precludes proper review of the patentability determination.

Patentability will initially be determined by a single examiner-in-chief. See §§ 1.610(a) and 1.640(b). If the examiner-in-chief determines that a claim of a party is unpatentable to that party, an order to show cause why judgment should not be entered as to that claim will be issued to that party. See § 1.640(d). If a response to the order to show cause is filed, a decision will be entered by the Board. See §§ 1.610(a) and 1.640(e). If the Board determines that the claim is not patentable to the party, a final decision and judgment will be entered holding the claim to be unpatentable. Review of the final decision and judgment is by judicial review under 35 U.S.C. §§ 141 or 146. It should be noted, however, that if there are other claims in the party's application or patent which are deemed to be patentable, an interlocutory order would be entered holding only that certain claims are unpatentable. A final order holding those claims unpatentable would be entered after final hearing on other issues. Such a practice will avoid piecemeal judicial review.

Another comment suggested that § 1.655 be changed to preclude consideration of patentability at final hearing. Public Law 98-622 authorizes consideration of patentability assuming patentability is properly raised by a party during the interlocutory phase of an interference.

Two comments discussing § 1.656 were received. One comment suggested that "[b] riefs should be letter size for consistency." The PTO has no preference for the size of briefs. Briefs may be filed on letter or legal-size paper. Inasmuch as the federal courts now require letter-size paper, parties who intend to use a PTO brief as an exhibit in a federal court should use letter-size paper.

Another comment suggested that § 1.656 be amended to preclude a single examiner-in-chief from ruling on admissibility of evidence. The introductory remarks to the notice of proposed rulemaking (and this notice) state that "[t] he examiner-in-chief, where appropriate, will be available by phone to rule on the admissibility of evidence in the event parties encounter unusual problems during the taking of depositions" (emphasis added). The commentator states:

> If an examiner-in-chief has ruled certain evidence inadmissible, that evidence would presumably not be before the Board at final hearing. Proposed Rule 1.656(h) provides a means for a party to obtain suppression of evidence to which he has made timely objection, but the Rule does not provide for any means for a party whose proffered evidence has been held inadmissible by the examiner-in-chief, to have that holding considered by the Board.

The change suggested by the comment will not be adopted. However, a brief explanation of how practice is expected to work is in order. The introductory remarks indicate that a single examiner-in-chief may rule on admissibility of evidence "where appropriate" and in "unusual" circumstances. There are times during interferences where a motion in limine can be helpful. For example, a junior party during its case-in-chief may wish to examine a witness on a document which was not served as required by § 1.673(b)(1). The senior party objects and realizes that if the junior party is permitted to examine the witness on the document, extensive cross-examination using numerous documents would be necessary. In order to avoid wasting considerable time, the parties could contact the examiner-in-chief by phone for a determination in limine on whether the junior party should be able to examine the witness on the document. Under the circumstances outlined the examiner-in-chief in his or her discretion could enter an order excluding the document from evidence. The order would be subject to a request for reconsideration. See § 1.640(c). Ordinarily, however, it would be expected that parties would present evidence subject to objection. See § 1.675(c), last sentence. It is not envisioned that a single examiner-in-chief will routinely rule on the admissibility of evidence.

Several comments discussing § 1.658 were received. One comment suggested that the 14-day time period in § 1.658(b) is too short. Section 1.658(b) provides that a party may file a request for reconsideration with 14 days of a final decision by the Board. The 14-day time period is the same period authorized for filing requests for reconsideration by the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. See Rule 40(a) of the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure.

Several individuals suggested that a less restricted "interference estoppel" be set out in § 1.658(c). While full consideration has been given to the suggestions, it has been decided to retain in these rules the interference estoppel provisions of § 1.658(c) essentially as proposed. "Interference estoppel" under § 1.658(c) is designed to implement the PTO's intent to have as many issues resolved as possible in a single inter partes proceeding. Numerous examples in this notice illustrate how practice is expected to take place under § 1.658(c).

The language in the second sentence of § 1.658(c) has been changed to more clearly state the nature of the estoppel and the exception to estoppel. The word "counts" in the second sentence of § 1.658(c) means the counts as they exist at the time a final decision is entered.

One comment was received concerning § 1.658(c) which requires a specific answer. The comment made the following statement:

> You state that an estoppel would not apply against a party awarded a favorable judgment as to all counts. However, it seems to me that there will be occasion when it would not be appropriate to have estoppel where there was a split decision. For instance, consider an interference between applicants A and B in which A was awarded priority as to count 1 and B was awarded priority as to count 2. If I understand you correctly, A would be estopped in post-interference ex parte practice to present an additional claim X which was patentably indistinct from his claim corresponding to count 1 if B had support for claim X. I think this result would be unfortunate, and that A should be permitted to further refine his claim structure after the interference — that is, after he has been assured that he is entitled to claims to the basic invention recited in count 1. Under the circumstances described by the commentator, inventor A would not be estopped to present a claim to X because X is "patentably indistinct" (the proper terminology under the rules would be to say X is the "same patentable invention" as the subject matter of count 1) from the subject matter of count 1. Inventor A would be entitled to claim any disclosed invention which is directed to the "same patentable invention" as count 1. The change in the second sentence of {g49 1.658(c) more clearly reflects the PTO's intent in this regard. Inventor A would not be entitled to claim any invention which is the "same patentable invention" as the subject matter of lost count 2. See Examples 26, 27, and 28 for illustrations of interference estoppel practice when a "split" judgment is entered.

Two comments were received discussing § 1.659. One comment suggested that the first sentence of § 1.659(b) should "reflect" that a reexamination may be based only on patents and printed publications. The suggestion is not being adopted. The basis upon which a reexamination may be instituted are set out elsewhere in the statute and rules. 35 U.S.C. 301-306; 37 CFR 1.501-1.570. There is no further need to set that basis out again in § 1.659(b). Another comment suggested that the language "not involved in the judgment of the interference" be deleted from § 1.659(b). The rationale in support of the comment was as follows:

> Besides introducing a potential ambiguity as to what claims were 'involved in the judgment,' there does not appear to be any good reasons to draw this distinction, particularly unless it is made more specific. Why should the Board be prevented from recommending reexamination of some (less relevant) patent claims and not other patent claims which are potentially even more relevant to the public, unless all of the same art has already been fully evaluated against the same claims in the Board's decision? (emphasis in original).

When a patent is involved in an interference, each claim of the patent will be designated to (1) correspond to a count or (2) not correspond to a count. All claims which are ultimately determined to correspond to a count will be "involved in the judgment of the interference." Inasmuch as they are involved in the judgment of the interference, there is no need to recommend reexamination of those claims. The claims involved in the interference are either patentable or unpatentable based on the final decision of the Board. Section 1.659(b) merely authorizes the Board to recommend reexamination of patent claims which (1) are not involved in the judgment and (2) for one reason or another neither party saw fit to move to designate as corresponding to a count.

One comment was received which suggested that the requirements of § 1.660 are unnecessary. The PTO disagrees. The requirements of § 1.660 are designed to keep the PTO and a party's opponent informed of activity which is relevant to an interference. These rules attempt, to the extent possible, to eliminate procedural surprise. Inasmuch as mail delays occur and the PTO cannot react instantaneously to every paper filed in connection with every application or patent, the provisions of § 1.660 are believed helpful in preventing surprise on the part of opponent's and unnecessary work by examiners-in-chief or the Board due to a lack of knowledge of relevant activity which may be taking place in the PTO.

One comment suggested that at the end of § 1.661 the following be added: "and the time for any such available appeal or review has expired." The suggestion is not being adopted. Section 1.661 already provides for finality when "no appeal . . . can be taken . . . ." The language finds antecedent basis in 35 U.S.C. § 135(a).

Several comments discussing § 1.662 were received. Two comments suggested a change be made to provide that when a patentee files a statutory disclaimer under 35 U.S.C. § 253 and deletes all claims corresponding to a count, the disclaimer will be treated as a request for judgment. As one of the comments pointed out, "[s] ince . . . [the filing of a statutory disclaimer disclaiming all claims corresponding to a count] by the patentee could have no other conceivable effect, the proposed rule should be changed to require judgment when all corresponding claims are disclaimed." The suggestion has been adopted and appropriate changes have been made to § 1.662(c). In view of the changes, the following language in § 1.662(c), as proposed, is not necessary: "A statutory disclaimer of any claim involved in an interference shall in subsequent proceedings have the same effect with respect to the patentee as an adverse judgment." When a patentee disclaims less than all claims corresponding to a count; the claims which remain in the patent continue to be involved in the interference and any patentability or priority issues involving those remaining claims will be involved in the judgment on the merits in the interference.

Two comments suggested that the word "dissolved" in § 1.662(d) be changed to "terminated". This suggestion is being adopted, because § 1.662(d) has been deleted. However, all interferences will be terminated with a "judgment." A change has been made in the language of § 1.11(a) to delete any reference to terminating an interference other than by judgment.

One comment suggested that the word "construed" in § 1.662(a) be changed to "treated". This suggestion has been adopted and more clearly states the intent of the PTO. The filing of the various papers mentioned paragraphs (a) and (c) of § 1.662 will result in certain action by the PTO. The word "treated" more appropriately describes the consequences of filing such papers.

One comment suggested that § 1.662(a) "is too sweeping." According to the commentator, a patentee may file a disclaimer because it has "become aware of a statutory bar or can not afford the expense of an interference." If the patentee becomes aware of a statutory bar, the patentee should call the "bar" to the attention of the PTO or file an appropriate motion under § 1.633(a) for judgment if the "bar" applies to the opponent. If a junior party patentee decides than an interference is too expensive and for that reason files a disclaimer, there is no reason why judgment should not be entered in favor of the opponent. The comment also suggested that § 1.662(c) "needs revision" because a patentee may disclaim one claim corresponding to a count, but not another. Section 1.662(c), as revised, takes into account the possibility that less than all claims corresponding to a count may be disclaimed. When some of the patent claims corresponding to a count are disclaimed, the interference proceeds on the basis of the remaining claims which correspond to the count. If all patent claims corresponding to a count are disclaimed, judgment will be entered.

One comment made the following statement regarding the third sentence of § 1.662(a):

> What of abandonment in favor of a CIP [continuation-in-part application]? Would this be construed as [a] request to enter [an] adverse judgment? Language should reflect procedural moves of substituting CIP for abandoned application and/or declaring new interference.

The third sentence of § 1.662(a) does not apply to an application which is not involved in an interference. If an applicant files a continuation-in-part application and successfully moves (§ 1.633(d)) to substitute the continuation-in-part for the application involved in the interference, abandonment of the application originally involved in the interference would have no bearing on the interference. Accordingly, no additional language is needed in § 1.662(a).

Two comments discussing § 1.663 were received. One comment suggested that an explanation of the status of patent claims involved in an adverse judgment should be stated in the rule. This suggestion is not being adopted. The status of patent claims involved in an adverse judgment is stated in 35 U.S.C. § 135(a). Another comment suggested that the status of "claims which could have been counts . . . should be made of record." Unless a motion (§ 1.633(c)) to add claims to correspond to counts is filed, no reference will be made in a judgment as to claims "which could have been made counts."

One comment suggested that the language "then owned by either party but" be inserted after "application" in § 1.665. This suggestion is not being adopted. The language "same parties" in § 1.665 is intended to cover a party and any assignee. The suggested language "then owned" would narrow the scope of the rule in a manner not intended by the PTO.

An oral comment at the hearing suggested that § 1.671(e) be changed so that a party would not have to serve copies of affidavits relied upon under § 1.608(b) in those cases where an opponent had already obtained copies of the Rule 608(b) affidavits. This suggestion is not being adopted. See the discussion above answering comments related to § 1.612(b). Another comment made at the hearing noted that the PTO is "adopting" the Federal Rules of Evidence. The Federal Rules include a "shop book" rule—Rule 803(b)(6). The commentator expressed the view that adopting of a "shop book" rule might make an important change in evidence which is admissible in interferences and suggested that "it would be helpful if the Patent and Trademark Office would publicly comment on this extremely important evidentiary rule . . . " The PTO believes that adoption of Rule 803(b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Evidence does not constitute a change in the admissibility of "shop book" evidence in interference cases. Rule 803(b)(6) is very similar to the former Federal Shop Book Rule (28 U.S.C. § 1732) which it replaced. The courts have articulated a rule of law which the PTO will continue to apply in determining admissibility of laboratory note books under the "shop book" Rule 803(b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Evidence. See e.g., Alpert v. Slatin, 305 F.2d 891, 134 USPQ 296 (CCPA 1962) and Elliott v. Barker, 476 F.2d 1337, 179 USPQ 100 (CCPA 1973).

One comment suggested that § 1.671(f) be eliminated on the ground that a rule should not be used to train attorneys and agents. The suggestion is not being adopted. The problem addressed by § 1.671(f) is significant. By providing in the rules that documentary evidence must be explained the PTO hopes to save both parties and the Board considerable difficulty in presenting and evaluating evidence.

One comment suggested that § 1.671(g) should be changed to require a party only to show the "relevancy" of expected testimony as opposed to the "admissibility" of the testimony. This suggestion is being adopted and an appropriate change has been made to § 1.671(g) to require a moving party to "describe the general nature and the relevance of the testimony, document, or thing."

An oral comment was received which asked whether permission to issue a subpoena would be needed in the event a party seeks to call a witness under the control of an opponent. Ordinarily, the examiner-in-chief can order a party to produce an individual for a deposition as long as the individual is a party or is under the control of the party, e.g., an employee of an assignee. Where so-called "third parties" are concerned, however, issuance of a subpoena may be necessary, because the PTO has no authority to compel attendance of third parties. Several comments concerning § 1.672 were received. One comment at the hearing pointed out that use of 8-1/2 by 11 inch paper for affidavits appears to be optional. The commentator is correct in pointing out that the use is optional. By using 8-1/2 by 11 inch paper, however, a party will save considerable time when filing a record (§ 1.653).

Two comments asked questions concerning § 1.672(b), and in particular, the meaning of the word "party" in the phrase "a party shall not be entitled to rely on any document or thing not mentioned in one or more of the affidavits . . ." Specifically, one commentator stated:

> It is the scope of the words "the party" which leave doubt as to the meaning of the passage. If "the party" refers only to the party proffering the affidavit testimony, then the passage is fair since such party had the opportunity to use whatever documents it deemed favorable to its position. But if "the party" also encompasses the opponent, i.e., the cross-examining party not proffering the affidavit testimony, then the passage improperly restricts the scope of cross-examination. Surely, the proponent party cannot, simply by confining the affidavit to favorable documents, insulate the witness from cross-examination on unfavorable documents.

Section 1.672(b) refers to a "party" and an "opponent." The "party" is the party filing the affidavit and not an opponent of that party. Any "opponent" conducting cross-examination of an affiant may properly rely on documents and things not referred to in the affidavit.

One comment suggested that the language "a witness whose testimony will not be compelled under 35 U.S.C. 24" should be deleted or revised. According to the commentator:

> This is often not determinable in advance. Even a "voluntary" witness may develop cold feet and require a subpoena, or demand one for his own protection. Nor will all witnesses agreeable to affidavits be agreeable to depositions.

The suggestion is not being adopted. An affidavit may be used only when a witness agrees to sign the affidavit. If an individual refuses to sign an affidavit or voluntarily appear at a deposition, the party calling the witness will have to compel attendance at a deposition by a subpoena under 35 U.S.C. § 24 after receiving permission from an examiner-in-chief.

One comment asked why there is "no express provision . . . [in the rules] for simply taking appropriate testimony of an adverse party by notice . . . rather than requiring a subpoena?" In many cases, notice will be sufficient inasmuch as an examiner-in-chief or the Board may generally order an adverse party to appear and give testimony. Thus, in many cases a subpoena is not needed to require attendance at a deposition of an adverse party.

Two comments suggested that a time be set out in the rules by which an affidavit should be filed. The suggestion is being adopted and the second sentence of § 1.672(b) has been changed to provide that affidavits shall be filed prior to the close of the party's relevant testimony period. The two comments also suggested that the rules specify that documents relied upon in an affidavit be filed with the affidavit. This suggestion is also being adopted by an appropriate change to § 1.672(b) which will provide that a party cannot rely on any document referred to in an affidavit unless a copy of the document is filed with the affidavit. Any document filed with an affidavit must also be served (§ 1.646). Section 1.672(b) will also provide that a party may not rely on any "thing" mentioned in an affidavit unless the opponent is given reasonable access to the "thing." A "thing" is something other than a document. The comments had suggested that the "things" be limited to those under the possession, custody, or control of the party submitting the affidavit. This suggestion is not being adopted. If a "thing" is not under the possession, custody, or control of a party, the party should resort the use of a deposition and compel production of the "thing" by a subpoena under 35 U.S.C. § 24.

Four comments were received discussing § 1.673. It was suggested that the time for service under § 1.673(b) be three days if service is accomplished by hand or "Express Mail" and ten days if service is accomplished by any other means. This suggestion is being adopted. An appropriate change has been made in the introductory sentence of § 1.673(b). It was also suggested that the word "copy" in § 1.673(b)(1) be changed to read "list and copy". In support of the suggestion, one commentator states:

> In connection with the service of documents, the amendment to the proposed rule would require that a listing of documents accompany the documents themselves. This would permit cross-checking between lists and documents to ascertain whether or not discrepancies exist and reduce the possibility for later controversy.

The suggestion is being adopted. Under § 1.673(b)(1) a list of the documents would have to accompany the documents. One comment suggested that documents served should be "Bates numbered." While this suggestion is not being adopted in the sense of changing the language of a rule, it must be remembered that the party serving documents may be required to later prove exactly what was served. Using "Bates" numbers or an equivalent scheme may prove invaluable in later stages of an interference.

One comment discussing § 1.682 suggested that the language "not identified on the record during the taking of testimony of a witness" be deleted. This suggestion is not being adopted. If an official record or printed publication is made an exhibit during a deposition or in an affidavit, it need not be submitted under § 1.682. Section 1.682 permits a party to make an official record or printed publication part of the evidence being considered at final hearing without calling a witness. The official record or printed publication must, however, be self-authenticating. On the other hand, a party may present the official record or printed publication as an exhibit during testimony. When this latter course is followed, there is no need to take advantage of the provisions of § 1.682. The comment also suggested that a change be made in § 1.682(a)(4) because the requirement therein for a "certified" copy appeared to be inconsistent with § 1.671(d) which provides that a record of the PTO need not be certified. The suggestion is being adopted by adding "where appropriate" at the beginning of § 1.682(a)(4) and a reference to § 1.671(d) at the end of § 1.682(a)(4). If the official record is not a record of the PTO, it will be necessary to submit a certified copy of the official record.

Comments were received discussing § 1.684. One comment suggested that language be inserted in § 1.684(a) to make clear that the testimony authorized is for a case-in-chief or a case-in-rebuttal. The suggestion is not being adopted. The testimony authorized by § 1.684(a) is necessarily testimony for a case-in-chief or a case-in-rebuttal. The commentator correctly notes that the use of written interrogatories under § 1.684 "for cross-examination would seem neither appropriate or justified." Section 1.684 does not apply to cross-examination. If a party submits an affidavit under § 1.672(b) or intends to rely on an affidavit under § 1.617(e), the party must make the affiant available for cross-examination at a deposition. See § 1.673(e). A deposition may be noticed only "for a reasonable time and place in the United States." See § 1.673(a). Accordingly, it is not expected that § 1.684(a) will be used to cross-examine affiants residing in foreign countries. The party filing the affidavit will be required to make the affiant available for cross-examination in the United States.

One comment suggested that the provisions of § 1.685(d) are "harsher" than the corresponding provisions of 37 CFR § 1.285(c). The comment is not fully understood. Section 1.685(d) requires an objection to be stated on the record. An objection to the admissibility of evidence must be stated on the record and a motion under § 1.656(h) renewing the objection at final hearing must be filed. No longer will a party be permitted to attend a deposition and fail to enter an objection only to raise the objection at final hearing. The current practice permits a party to delay the objection until it is often too late to permit an opponent to correct the evidentiary basis on which the objection is bottomed.

One comment suggested that the second sentence of § 1.687(b) ("If the witness refuses to produce a requested document or thing, the party may file a motion (§ 1.635) for additional discovery under paragraph (c) of this section.") be deleted. This suggestion is being adopted. The PTO agrees with the following remark by the commentator: "[o]mission of the sentence is recommended since it is clear from [paragraph] (c) [of § 1.687] that such a motion could be made in an appropriate case."

One comment at the hearing suggested that the PTO's inability to enter protective orders makes discovery unduly complicated. The commentator suggested that under § 1.687(c), as set out in the notice of proposed rulemaking, it is possible to obtain appropriate protective orders. The commentator correctly concedes that the maximum sanction which the PTO can enter upon a proven violation of a PTO entered protective order is judgment. See § 1.616. The commentator suggested, however, that additional discovery may be conditioned on the issuance of a subpoena duces tecum under 35 U.S.C. § 24. Upon issuance of the subpoena, the commentator stated that the opponent could move the district court for entry of a protective order. If a party violates a protective order entered by a district court, the party would be subject to such sanctions as the district court might deem appropriate as well as a sanction by the PTO, including entry of judgment against the party. The PTO, unlike the district court, would not be able to apply a sanction after an interference is terminated.

The commentator's suggestion is believed to be sound. No change in the language of § 1.687(b) is believed to be necessary inasmuch as paragraph (b) authorizes the PTO to "specify the terms of conditions of such additional discovery." One of those terms could be requiring a party to issue a subpoena under 35 U.S.C. § 24. By making a party proceed in the first instance in the PTO, appropriate PTO orders may be entered suggesting the scope of any protective order and stating the underlying basis for requiring a party to produce documents. The order could be of assistance to the district court in subsequent enforcement or contempt proceedings.

Additional discovery obtained under a protective order issued by either the PTO or a district court will not be admitted in evidence in the PTO in determining the interference. All evidence submitted in an interference must be made available to the public under the provisions of § 1.11(a). Accordingly, any protective orders have to be vacated before a document could be admitted in evidence in the PTO which is subject to a protective order.

Example 38 illustrates how the practice would work.

Example 38: An interference involves party X and party Y. During the interference, party X files a motion for additional discovery under § 1.687(c) asking that party Y be required to produce certain documents. Party Y opposes on the sole ground that the documents contain trade secret and confidential information. Party Y indicates that it has no objection to producing the documents for inspection by counsel for party X, but insists that party X not be permitted to inspect the documents. Accordingly, party Y asks the examiner-in-chief to authorize the discovery subject to entry of a protective order. Party Y argues, however, that the sanctions of § 1.616 are not sufficient in the event of a violation of the protective order. An examiner-in-chief concludes that additional discovery should be ordered, that a protective order is appropriate, and that the sanctions of § 1.616 are not sufficient in the event of a violation of the protective order. Under the circumstances, the examiner-in-chief would enter an order directing party Y to produce the documents for inspection by counsel of party X on the condition that party X seek production of the documents by a subpoena duces tecum under 35 U.S.C. § 24. Upon issuance of any subpoena, party Y could move the district court for entry of a protective order. If the district court enters the protective order, party Y can produce the documents to counsel for party X. If the protective order of the examiner-in-chief is violated, an appropriate sanction up to and including judgment may be entered by the Board. In addition, party Y would be in a position to seek contempt or other sanctions in the district court. The documents produced for inspection by counsel for party X could not be admitted in evidence in the interference (until the protective order is vacated), because those documents are not documents which can be made available to the public under § 1.11(a).

Other Considerations: These rules do not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

The rules are in conformity with the requirements of the (1) Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), (2) Executive Order 12291, and (3) the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Small Business Administration that these rules will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act; Public Law 96-354). The rules govern the conduct of interference cases which arise in the Patent and Trademark Office. In fiscal 1983, the Patent and Trademark Office received 105,704 patent applications. During the same period, 180 interferences were declared. It is expected that the overall cost will be reduced for obtaining a patent based on application which become involved in an interference. See a "section-by-section" analysis submitted for the Record by Representative Kastenmeier during discussion of H. R. 6286 on the floor of the House in which the following statement appears (130 Cong. Rec. H10528, columns 2 and 3):

> it is expected that interferences will become simpler, more expeditious, and less costly. Under the bill, all issues of patentability and priority which arise in an interference can be decided in a single proceeding rather than in a series of complicated inter partes and ex parte proceedings.

These rules, therefore, will have no significant economic impact on small entities.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy would be less than $100 million. There would be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There would be no adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

These rules do not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

PART 1 — RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

For the reasons set out in the preamble and under the authority given to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6, 23, 41, and 135, Part 1 of Title CFR is amended as set forth below.

1. Section 1.1 is amended by adding a new paragraph (e) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(e) Communications relating to interferences and applications or patents involved in an interference should be additionally marked "BOX INTERFERENCE."

2. Section 1.4 is amended by revising paragraph (a)(2) and reprinting the introductory text of paragraph (a) to read as follows:

(a) Correspondence with the Patent and Trademark Office comprises:

* * * * *

(2) correspondence in and relating to a particular application or other proceeding in the Office. See particularly the rules relating to the filing, processing, or other proceedings of national applications in Subpart B, §§ 1.31 to 1.352; of international applications in Subpart C, §§ 1.401 to 1.482; of reexamination of patents in Subpart D, §§ 1.501 to 1.570; of interferences in Subpart E, §§ 1.601 to 1.688; and of trademark applications §§ 2.11 to 2.189.

* * * * *

3. Section 1.5 is amended by adding a new paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§ 1.5 Identification of application, patent or registration

* * * * *

(e) When a paper concerns an interference, it should state the names of the parties and the number of the interference. The name of the examiner-in-chief assigned to the interference (§ 1.610) and the name of the party filing the paper should appear conspicuously on the first page of the paper.

4. Section 1.8 is amended by adding to paragraph (a) a new subparagraph (xii) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(xii) The filing of a paper in an interference which an examiner-in-chief orders to be filed by hand or "Express Mail."

* * * * *

5. Section 1.9 is amended by adding a new paragraph (g) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(g) For definitions in interferences see § 1.601.

6. Section 1.11 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

(a) After a patent has been issued, the specification, drawings and all papers relating to the case in the file of the patent are open to inspection by the general public, and copies may be obtained upon paying the fee therefor. After entry of a judgment in an interference by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences as to all parties, the file of any interference which involved a patent, or an application on which a patent has issued, is similarly open to public inspection and procurement of copies. See § 2.27 for trademark files.

* * * * *

7. Section 1.14 is amended by removing from paragraph (d) the words "Board of Patent Appeals or the Board of Patent Interferences" and inserting, in their place, the words "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences."

8. Section 1.17 is amended by revising paragraphs (e), (g), (h), and (l) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(e) For filing a notice of appeal from the examiner to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f))	$57.50
By other than a small entity	115.00

* * * * *

(g) For filing a request for an oral hearing before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in appeal under 35 U.S.C. § 134:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f))	$50.00
By other than a small entity	100.00

(h) For filing a petition to the Commissioner under a section of this part listed below which refers to this paragraph. $120.00

—§ 1.47 —for filing by other than all the inventors or a person not the inventor

—§ 1.48 —for correction of inventorship

—§ 1.1 —for decision on questions not specifically provided for

—§ 1.183—to suspend the rules

—§ 1.377—for review of decision refusing to accept and record payment of a maintenance fee filed prior to expiration of patent

—§ 1.37(e)—for reconsideration of decision on petition refusing to accept delayed payment of maintenance fee in expired patent

—§ 1.644(e)—for petition in an interference

—§ 1.644(f)—for request for reconsideration of a decision on petition in an interference.

—§ 1.666(c)—for late filing of interference settlement agreement.

—§§ 5.12, 5.13 & 5.14—for expedited handling of foreign filing license

—§ 5.15—for changing the scope of a license

—§ 5.25@—for retroactive license

(i) For filing a petition to the Commissioner under a section of this part listed below which refers to this paragraph. ..... $ 60.00

—§ 1.12—for access to an assignment record

—§ 1.14—for access to an application

—§ 1.5—for entry of late priority papers

—§ 1.102—to make application special

—§ 1.103—to suspend action in application

—§ 1.177— for divisional reissues to issue separately

—§ 1.312—for amendment after payment of issue fee

—§ 1.313—to withdraw an application from issue

—§ 1.314—to defer issuance of a patent

—§ 1.334—for patent to issue to assignee, assignment recorded late

—§ 1.666(b)—for access to interference settlement agreement

* * * * *

9. Section 1.36 is revised as follows:

A power of attorney or authorization of agent may be revoked at any stage in the proceedings of a case, and an attorney or agent may withdraw, upon application to and approval by the Commissioner. An attorney or agent, except an associate attorney or agent whose address is the same as that of the principal attorney or agent, will be notified of the revocation of the power of attorney or authorization, and the applicant or patent owner will be notified of the withdrawal of the attorney or agent. An assignment will not of itself operate as a revocation of a power or authorization previously given, but the assignee of the entire interest may revoke previous powers and be represented by an attorney or agent of the assignee's own selection. See § 1.613(d) for withdrawal of an attorney or agent of record in an interference.

10. Section 1.48 is revised as follows:

If the correct inventor or inventors are not named in an application for patent through error without any deceptive intention on the part of the actual inventor or inventors, the application may be amended to name only the actual inventor or inventors. Such amendment must be diligently made and must be accompanied by (a) a petition including a statement of facts verified by the original named inventor or inventors establishing when the error without deceptive intention was discovered and how it occurred; (b) an oath or declaration by each actual inventor or inventors as required by § 1.63; (c) the fee set forth in § 1.17(h); and (d) the written consent of any assignee. When the application is involved in an interference, the petition shall comply with the requirements of this section and shall be accompanied by a motion under § 1.634.

11. Section 1.55 is amended by removing from paragraph (a) "1.224" and inserting, in its place, "1.630".

12. Section 1.59 is revised as follows:

Papers in an application which has received a filing date pursuant to § 1.53 will not be returned for any purpose whatever. If applicants have not preserved copies of the papers, the Office will furnish copies at the usual cost of any application in which either the required basic filing fee (§ 1.16) or the processing and retention fee (§ 1.21(1)) has been paid. See § 1.618 for return of unauthorized and improper papers in interferences.

13. Section 1.68 is revised as follows:

Any document to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office and which is required by any law, rule, or other regulation to be under oath may be subscribed to by a written declaration. Such declaration may be used in lieu of the oath otherwise required, if, and only if, the declarant is on the same document, warned that willful false statements and the like are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both (18 U.S.C. 1001) and may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issuing thereon. The declarant must set forth in the body of the declaration that all statements made of the declarant's own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true.

14. Section 1.103 is amended by revising paragraph (d) as follows:

* * * * *

(d) Action on applications in which the Office has accepted a request filed under § 1.139 will be suspended for the entire pendency of these applications except for purposes relating to interference proceedings under §§ 1.601 through 1.688.

15. Section 1.122 is amended by revising paragraph (b) as follows:

* * * * *

(b) Ordinarily all amendments presented in a paper filed while the application is open to amendment are entered and considered, subsequent cancellation or correction being required of improper amendments. Untimely amendatory papers may be refused entry and consideration in whole or in part. For amendments presented during an interference see § 1.664.

16. Section 1.136 is amended by removing "§ 1.207" and inserting, in its place, "§ 1.611" and by removing "§ 1.245" and inserting, in its place, "§ 1.645".

17. Section 1.138 is revised as follows:

An application may be expressly abandoned by filing in the Patent and Trademark Office a written declaration of abandonment signed by the applicant and the assignee of record, if any, and identifying the application. An application may also be expressly abandoned by filing a written declaration of abandonment signed by the attorney or agent of record. A registered attorney or agent acting under the provision of § 1.34(a) or of record, may also expressly abandon a prior application as of the filing date granted to a continuing application when filing such a continuing application. Express abandonment of the application may not be recognized by the Office unless it is actually received by appropriate officials in time to act thereon before the date of issue.

18. Section 1.181 is amended by revising paragraph (a) as follows:

(a) Petition may be taken to the Commissioner: (1) from any action or requirement of any examiner in the ex parte prosecution of an application which is not subject to appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences or to the court; (2) in cases in which a statute or the rules specify that the matter is to be determined directly by or reviewed by the Commissioner; and (3) to invoke the supervisory authority of the Commissioner in appropriate circumstances. For petitions in interferences, see § 1.644.

* * * * *

19. The center heading preceding § 1.191 is revised to read "APPEAL TO THE BOARD OF PATENT APPEALS AND INTERFERENCES".

20. Section 1.191 is amended by revising the section heading and paragraphs (a) and (c) as follows:

(a) Every applicant for a patent or for reissue of a patent, or every owner of a patent under reexamination, any of the claims of which have been twice rejected or who has been given a final rejection (§ 1.113), may, upon the payment of the fee set forth in § 1.17(e), appeal from the decision of the examiner to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences within the time allowed for response.

* * * * *

(c) An appeal when taken must be taken from the rejection of all claims under rejection which the applicant or patent owner proposes to contest. Questions relating to matters not affecting the merits of the invention may be required to be settled before an appeal can be considered.

* * * * *

21. Section 1.194 is amended by removing the words "Board of Appeals" and inserting, in their place, the words "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences."

22. Section 1.196 is revised as follows:

(a) The Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, in its decision, may affirm or reverse the decision of the examiner in whole or in part on the grounds and on the claims specified by the examiner. The affirmance of the rejection of a claim on any of the grounds specified constitutes a general affirmance of the decision of the examiner on that claim, except as to any ground specifically reversed.

(b) Should the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences have knowledge of any grounds not involved in the appeal for rejecting any appealed claim, it may include in the decision a statement to that effect with its reasons for so holding, which statement shall constitute a new rejection of the claims. When the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences makes a new rejection of an appealed claim, the appellant may exercise any one of the following three options:

(1) The appellant may submit an appropriate amendment of the claims so rejected or a showing of facts, or both, and have the matter reconsidered by the examiner in which event the application will be remanded to the examiner and the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences shall not be considered final for the purpose of judicial review. The statement shall be binding upon the examiner unless an amendment or showing of facts not previously of record be made which, in the opinion of the examiner, overcomes the new ground for rejection stated in the decision. When appropriate, upon conclusion of proceedings on remand before the examiner, the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences may enter an order otherwise making its decision final.

(2) The appellant may have the case reconsidered under § 1.197(b) by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences upon the same record. Where request for such reconsideration is made the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences shall, if necessary, render a new decision which shall include all grounds upon which a patent is refused.

(3) The appellant may treat the decision, including the new grounds for rejection given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, as a final decision in the case.

(c) Should the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences include an explicit statement that a claim may be allowed in amended form, appellant shall have the right to amend in conformity with such statement which shall be binding on the examiner in the absence of new references or grounds of rejection.

(d) Although the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences normally will confine its decision to a review of rejections made by the examiner, should it have knowledge of any grounds for rejecting any allowed claim it may include in its decision a recommended rejection of the claim and remand the case to the examiner. In such event, the Board shall set a period, not less than one month, within which the appellant may submit to the examiner an appropriate amendment, a showing of facts or reasons, or both, in order to avoid the grounds set forth in the recommendation of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. The examiner shall be bound by the recommendation and shall enter and maintain the recommended rejection unless an amendment or showing of facts not previously of record is filed which, in the opinion of the examiner, overcomes the recommended rejection. Should the examiner make the recommended rejection final the applicant may again appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. Whenever a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences includes a remand, that decision shall not be considered a final decision. When appropriate, upon conclusion of proceedings on remand before the examiner, the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences may enter an order otherwise making its decision final.

23. Section 1.197 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) as follows:

(a) After decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, the case shall be returned to the examiner, subject to the appellant's right of appeal or other review, for such further action by the appellant or by the examiner, as the condition of the case may require, to carry into effect the decision.

(b) A single request for reconsideration or modification of the decision may be made if filed within one month from the date of the original decision, unless that decision is so modified as to become, in effect, a new decision, and the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences so states.

* * * * *

24. Section 1.198 is amended by removing the words "Board of Appeals" and inserting, in their place, the words "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences."

25. The center heading preceding § 1.201 is removed.

26. Sections 1.201 through 1.212 are removed.

27. The center heading preceding § 1.215 is removed.

28. Sections 1.215 through 1.228 are removed.

29. The center heading preceding § 1.231 is removed.

30. Sections 1.231 through 1.238 are removed.

31. The center heading preceding § 1.242 is removed.

32. Sections 1.242 through 1.247 are removed.

33. A center heading preceding § 1.248 is added which reads "MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS".

34. Section 1.248 is amended by adding paragraph (c) and revising the section heading as follows:

* * * * *

(c) See § 1.646 for service of papers in interferences.

35. The center heading preceding § 1.251 is removed.

36. Sections 1.251 through 1.259 are removed.

37. The center heading preceding § 1.261 is removed.

38. Sections 1.261 through 1.268 are removed.

39. The center heading preceding § 1.271 is removed.

40. Sections 1.271 through 1.288 are removed.

41. Section 1.292 is amended by revising paragraph (a) and adding paragraph (c) as follows:

(a) When a petition for the institution of public use proceedings, supported by affidavits or declarations and the fee set forth in § 1.17(j) is filed by one having information of the pendency of an application and is found, on reference to the examiner, to make a prima facie showing that the invention claimed in an application believed to be on file had been in public use or on sale more than one year before the filing of the application, a hearing may be had before the Commissioner to determine whether a public use proceeding should be instituted. If instituted, the Commissioner may designate an appropriate official to conduct the public use proceeding, including the setting of times for taking testimony, which shall be taken as provided by §§ 1.671 through 1.685. The petitioner will be heard in the proceedings but after decision therein will not be heard further in the prosecution of the application for patent.

(c) A petition for institution of public use proceedings shall not be filed by a party to an interference as to an application involved in the interference. Public use and on sale issues in an interference shall be raised by a preliminary motion under § 1.633(a).

42. Section 1.301 is amended by removing the words "Board of Appeals" and the words "Board of Patent Interferences" and inserting, in each of their places, the words "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences."

43. Section 1.302 is amended by removing from paragraph (b) "1.248" and inserting, in its place, "1.646" and by removing "and other contested cases".

44. Section 1.303 is amended by removing from paragraph (a) the words "Board of Appeals" and the words "Board of Patent Interferences" and inserting, in each of their places, the words "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences" and by removing from paragraph (c) "1.248" and inserting, in its place, "1.646".

45. Section 1.304 is amended by revising paragraph (a) as follows:

(a) The time for filing the notice and reasons of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (§ 1.302) or for commencing a civil action (§ 1.303) is sixty days from the date of the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. If a request for reconsideration or modification of the decision is filed within the time provided under § 1.197(b) or § 1.658(b), the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire at the end of the sixty-day period or thirty days after action on the request, whichever is later. Except for an appeal from or commencing a civil action after a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in a reexamination proceeding or an interference proceeding, the time periods set forth herein are subject to the provisions of § 1.136. See § 1.550(c) for extensions of time to appeal or commence a civil action in a reexamination proceeding. See § 1.645(a) for extensions of time to appeal or commence a civil action in an interference. An examiner-in-chief, upon a showing of excusable neglect, may extend the time for seeking judicial review of a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in an interference case when a request is untimely filed after expiration of the time prescribed by this section.

46. Section 1.322 is amended by revising paragraph (a) as follows:

(a) A certificate of correction under 35 U.S.C. 254 may be issued at the request of the patentee or the patentee's assignee. Such certificate will not be issued at the request or suggestion of anyone not owning an interest in the patent, nor on motion of the Office, without first notifying the patentee (including any assignee of record) and affording the patentee an opportunity to be heard. When the request relates to a patent involved in an interference, the request shall comply with the requirements of this section and shall be accompanied by a motion under § 1.635.

* * * * *

47. Section 1.323 is revised as follows:

Whenever a mistake of a clerical or typographical nature or of minor character which was not the fault of the Office, appears in a patent and a showing is made that such mistake occurred in good faith, the Commissioner may, upon payment of the fee set forth in § 1.20(a), issue a certificate, if the correction does not involve such changes in the patent as would constitute new matter or would require reexamination. A request for a certificate of correction of a patent involved in an interference shall comply with the requirements of this section and shall be accompanied by a motion under § 1.635.

48. Section 1.324 is revised as follows:

Whenever a patent is issued and it appears that the correct inventor or inventors were not named through error without deceptive intention on the part of the actual inventor or inventors, the Commissioner may, on petition of all the parties and the assignees and satisfactory proof of the facts and payment of the fee set forth in § 1.20(b), or on order of a court before which such matter is called in question, issue a certificate naming only the actual inventor or inventors. A request to correct inventorship of patent involved in an interference shall comply with the requirements of this section and shall be accompanied by a motion under § 1.634.

49. Section 1550 is amended by removing from paragraph (a) "Board of Appeals" and inserting, in its place, "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences."

50. Section 1.565 is amended by revising paragraph (b) and adding paragraph (e) as follows:

* * * * *

(b) If a patent in the process of reexamination is or becomes involved in litigation or a reissue application for the patent is filed or pending, the Commissioner shall determine whether or not to stay the reexamination or reissue proceeding.

* * * * *

(e) If a patent in the process of reexamination is or becomes involved in an interference, the Commissioner may stay reexamination or the interference. The Commissioner will not consider a request to stay an interference unless a motion (§ 1.635) to stay the interference has been presented to, and denied by, an examiner-in-chief and the request is filed within ten (10) days of a decision by an examiner-in-chief denying the motion for a stay or such other time as the examiner-in-chief may set.

51. A new subpart entitled "Subpart E—Interferences" is added which reads as follows:

SUBPART E—Interferences

This subpart governs the procedure in patent interferences in the Patent and Trademark Office. This subpart shall be construed to secure the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of every interference. For the meaning of terms in the Federal Rules of Evidence as applied to interferences, see § 1.671(c). Unless otherwise clear from the context, the following definitions apply to this subpart:

(a) "Additional discovery" is discovery to which a party may be entitled under § 1.687 in addition to discovery to which the party is entitled as a matter of right under § 1.673(a) and (b).

(b) "Affidavit" means affidavit, declaration under § 1.68, or statutory declaration under 28 U.S.C. § 1746. A transcript of an ex parte deposition may be used as an affidavit.

(c) "Board" means the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

(d) "Case-in-chief" means that portion of a party's case where the party has the burden of going forward with evidence.

(e)"Case-in-rebuttal" means that portion of a party's case where the party presents evidence in rebuttal to the case-in-chief of another party.

(f) A"count" defines the interfering subject matter between (1) two or more applications or (2) one or more applications and one or more patents. When there is more than one count, each count shall define a separate patentable invention. Any claim of an application or patent which corresponds to a count is a claim involved in the interference within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. § 135(a). A claim of a patent or application which is identical to a count is said to "correspond exactly" to the count. A claim of a patent or application which is not identical to a count, but which defines the same patentable invention as the count, is said to "correspond substantially" to the count. When a count is broader in scope than all claims which correspond to the count, the count is a "phantom count." A phantom count is not patentable to any party.

(g) The "effective filing date" of an application or a patent is the filing date of an earlier application accorded to the application or patent under 35 U.S.C. §§ 119, 120, or 365.

(h) In the case of an application, "filing date" means the filing date assigned to the application. In the case of a patent, "filing date" means the filing date assigned to the application which issued as the patent.

(i) An "interference" is a proceeding instituted in the Patent and Trademark Office before the Board to determine any question of patentability and priority of invention between two or more parties claiming the same patentable invention. An interference may be declared between two or more pending applications naming different inventors when, in the opinion of an examiner, the applications contain claims for the same patentable invention. An interference may be declared between one or more pending applications and one or more unexpired patents naming different inventors when, in the opinion of an examiner, any application and any unexpired patents contain claims for the same patentable invention.

(j) An "interference-in-fact" exists when at least one claim of a party which corresponds to a count and at least one claim of an opponent which corresponds to the count define the same patentable invention.

(k) A "lead" attorney or agent is a registered attorney or agent of record who is primarily responsible for prosecuting an interference on behalf of a party and is the attorney or agent whom an examiner-in-chief may contact to set times and take other action in the interference.

(l) A "party" is (1) an applicant or patentee involved in the interference or (2) a legal representative or an assignee of an applicant or patentee involved in an interference. Where acts of a party are normally performed by an attorney or agent, "party" may be construed to mean the attorney or agent. An "inventor" is the individual named as inventor in an application involved in an interference or the individual named as inventor in a patent involved in an interference.

(m) A "senior party" is the party with earliest effective filing date as to all counts or, if there is no party with the earliest effective filing date as to all counts, the party with the earliest filing date. A "junior party" is any other party.

(n) Invention "A" is the "same patentable invention" as a invention "B" when invention "A" is the same as (35 U.S.C. § 102) or is obvious (35 U.S.C. § 103) in view of invention "B" assuming invention "B" is prior art with respect to invention "A". Invention "A" is a "separate patentable invention" with respect to invention "B" when invention "A" is new (35 U.S.C. § 102) and nonobvious (35 U.S.C. § 103) in view of invention "B" assuming invention "B" is prior art with respect to invention "A".

(o) "Sworn" means sworn or affirmed.

(a) Unless good cause is shown, an interference shall not be declared or continued between (1) applications owned by a single party or (2) applications and an unexpired patent owned by a single party.

(b) The parties, within 20 days after an interference is declared, shall notify the Board of any and all right, title, and interest in any application or patent involved or relied upon in the interference unless the right, title, and interest is set forth in the notice declaring the interference.

(c) If a change of any right, title, and interest in any application or patent involved or relied upon in the interference occurs after notice is given declaring the interference and before the time expires for seeking judicial review of a final decision of the Board, the parties shall notify the Board of the change within 20 days of the change.

Before an interference is declared between two or more applications, the examiner must be of the opinion that there is interfering subject matter claimed in the applications which is patentable to each applicant subject to a judgment in the interference. The interfering subject matter shall be defined by one or more counts. Each count shall define a separate patentable invention. Each application must contain, or be amended to contain, at least one claim which corresponds to each count. All claims in the applications which define the same patentable invention as a count shall be designated to correspond to the count.

(a) An applicant may seek to have an interference declared with an application of another by (1) suggesting a proposed count and presenting a claim corresponding to the proposed count, (2) identifying the other application and, if known, a claim in the other application which corresponds to the proposed count, and (3) explaining why an interference should be declared.

(b) When an applicant presents a claim known to the applicant to define the same patentable invention claimed in a pending application of another, the applicant shall identify that pending application, unless the claim is presented in response to a suggestion by the examiner. The examiner shall notify the Commissioner of any instance where it appears an applicant may have failed to comply with the provisions of this paragraph.

(a) The examiner may suggest that an applicant present a claim in an application for the purpose of an interference with another application or a patent. The applicant to whom the claim is suggested shall amend the application by presenting the suggested claim within a time specified by the examiner, not less than one month. Failure or refusal of an applicant to timely present the suggested claim shall be taken without further action as a disclaimer by the applicant of the invention defined by the suggested claim. At the time the suggested claim is presented, the applicant may also (1) call the examiner's attention to other claims already in the application or which are presented with the suggested claim and (2) explain why the other claims would be more appropriate to be included in any interference which may be declared.

(b) The suggestion of a claim by the examiner for the purpose of an interference will not stay the period for response to any outstanding Office action. When a suggested claim is timely presented, ex parte proceedings in the application will be stayed pending a determination of whether an interference will be declared.

Before an interference is declared between an application and an unexpired patent, an examiner must determine that there is interfering subject matter claimed in the application and the patent which is patentable to the applicant subject to a judgment in the interference. The interfering subject matter will be defined by one or more counts. Each count shall define a separate patentable invention. Any application must contain, or be amended to contain, at least one claim which corresponds to each count. All claims in the application and patent which define the same patentable invention as a count shall be designated to correspond to the count. At the time an interference is initially declared (§ 1.611), a count shall not be narrower in scope than any patent claim which corresponds to the count and any single patent claim will be presumed, subject to a motion under § 1.633(c), not to contain separate patentable inventions.

(a) An applicant may seek to have an interference declared between an application and an unexpired patent by (1) presenting a proposed count and a claim corresponding to the proposed count and, if any claim of the patent or application does not correspond exactly to the proposed count, explaining why an interference should be declared, (2) identifying the patent and indicating which claim in the application and which claim or claims of the patent correspond to the proposed count, and (3) applying the terms of the application claim corresponding to the count to the disclosure of the application.

(b) When an applicant seeks an interference with a patent, examination of the application, including any appeal to the Board, shall be conducted with special dispatch within the Patent and Trademark Office. The examiner shall determine whether there is interfering subject matter claimed in the application and the patent which is patentable to the applicant subject to a judgment in an interference. If the examiner determines that there is any interfering subject matter, an interference will be declared. If the examiner determines that there is no interfering subject matter, the examiner shall state the reasons why an interference is not being declared and otherwise act on the application.

(c) When an applicant presents a claim which corresponds exactly or substantially to a claim of a patent, the applicant shall identify the patent and the number of the patent claim, unless the claim is presented in response to a suggestion by the examiner. The examiner shall notify the Commissioner of any instance where an applicant fails to identify the patent.

(d) A notice that an applicant is seeking to provoke an interference with a patent will be placed in the file of the patent and a copy of the notice will be sent to the patentee. The identity of the applicant will not be disclosed unless an interference is declared. If a final decision is made not to declare an interference, a notice to that effect will be placed in the patent file and will be sent to the patentee.

(a) When the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of an application is three months or less after the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of a patent, the applicant, before an interference will be declared, shall file an affidavit alleging that there is a basis upon which applicant is entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee.

(b) When the earlier of the filing date or the effective filing date of an application is more than three months after the earlier of the filing date or the effective filing date under 35 U.S.C. § 120 of a patent, the applicant, before an interference will be declared, shall file (1) evidence which may consist of patents or printed publications, other documents, and one or more affidavits which demonstrate that applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee and (2) an explanation stating with particularity the basis upon which the applicant is {it prima facie {ro entitled to the judgment. Where the basis upon which an applicant is entitled to judgment relative to a patentee is priority of invention, the evidence shall include affidavits by the applicant, if possible, and one or more corroborating witnesses, supported by documentary evidence, if available, each setting out a factual description of acts and circumstances performed or observed by the affiant, which collectively would prima facie entitle the applicant to judgment on priority with respect to the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of the patent. To facilitate preparation of a record (§ 1.653(g) and (h)) for final hearing, an applicant should file affidavits on paper which is 8-1/2x11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm.). The significance of any printed publication or other document which is self-authenticating within the meaning of Rule 902 of the Federal Rules of Evidence or § 1.671(d) and any patent shall be discussed in an affidavit or the explanation. Any printed publication or other document which is not self-authenticating shall be authenticated and discussed with particularity in an affidavit. Upon a showing of sufficient cause, an affidavit may be based on information and belief. If a examiner finds an application to be in condition for declaration of an interference, the examiner will consider the evidence and explanation only to the extent of determining whether a basis upon which the applicant would be entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee is alleged and, if a basis is alleged, an interference may be declared.

When the examiner determines that an interference should be declared, the examiner shall forward to the Board:

(a) All relevant application and patent files and
(b) A statement identifying:
(1) The proposed count or counts;
(2) The claims of any application or patent which correspond to each count, stating whether the claims correspond exactly or substantially to each count;
(3) The claims in any application which are deemed by the examiner to be patentable over any count; and
(4) Whether an applicant or patentee is entitled to the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application and, if so, sufficient information to identify the earlier application.

(a) Each interference will be declared by an examiner-in-chief who may enter all interlocutory orders in the interference, except that only a panel consisting of at least three members of the Board shall (1) hear oral argument at final hearing, (2) enter a decision under §§ 1.617, 1.640(c) or (e), 1.652, 1.656(i) or 1.658 or (3) enter any other order which terminates the interference.

(b) As necessary, another examiner-in-chief may act in place of the one who declared the interference. Unless otherwise provided in this section, at the discretion of the examiner-in-chief assigned to the interference, a panel consisting of two or more members of the Board may enter interlocutory orders.

(c) Unless otherwise provided in this subpart, times for taking action by a party in the interference will be set on a case-by-case basis by the examiner-in-chief assigned to the interference. Times for taking action shall be set and the examiner-in-chief shall exercise control over the interference such that the pendency of the interference before the Board does not normally exceed two years.

(d) An examiner-in-chief may hold a conference with the parties to consider: (1) simplification of any issues, (2) the necessity or desirability of amendments to counts, (3) the possibility of obtaining admissions of fact and genuineness of documents which will avoid unnecessary proof, (4) any limitations on the number of expert witnesses, (5) the time and place for conducting a deposition (§ 1.673(g)), and (6) any other matter as may aid in the disposition of the interference. After a conference, the examiner-in-chief may enter any order which may be appropriate.

(e) The examiner-in-chief may determine a proper course of conduct in an interference for any situation not specifically covered by this part.

(a) Notice of declaration of an interference will be sent to each party.

(b) When a notice of declaration is returned to the Patent and Trademark Office undelivered, or in any other circumstance where appropriate, an examiner-in-chief may (1) send a copy of the notice to a patentee named in a patent involved in an interference or the patentee's assignee of record in the Patent and Trademark Office or (2) order publication of an appropriate notice in the Official Gazette.

(c) The notice of declaration shall specify:

(1) the name and residence of each party involved in the interference;
(2) the name and address of record of any attorney or agent of record in any application or patent involved in the interference;
(3) the name of any assignee of record in the Patent and Trademark Office;
(4) the identity of any application or patent involved in the interference;
(5) where a party is accorded the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application, the identity of the earlier application;
(6) the count or counts;
(7) the claim or claims of any application or any patent which correspond to each count; and
(8) the order of the parties.

(d) The notice of declaration may also specify the time for: (1) filing a preliminary statement as provided in § 1.621(a); (2) serving notice that a preliminary statement has been filed as provided § 1.621(b); and (3) filing preliminary motions authorized by § 1.633, oppositions to the motions, and replies to the oppositions.

(e) Notice may be given in the Official Gazette that an interference has been declared involving a patent.

(a) After an interference is declared, each party shall have access to and may obtain copies of the files of any application set out in the notice declaring the interference, except for affidavits filed under § 1.131 and any evidence and explanation under § 1.608(b) filed separate from an amendment.

(b) After preliminary motions under § 1.633 are decided (§ 1.640(b)), each party shall have access to and may obtain copies of any affidavit filed under § 1.131 and any evidence and explanation filed under § 1.608(b) in any application set out in the notice declaring the interference.

(c) Any evidence and explanation filed under § 1.608(b) in the file of any application identified in the notice declaring the interference shall be served when required by § 1.617(b).

(d) The parties at any time may agree to exchange copies of papers in the files of any application identified in the notice declaring the interference.

§ 1.613 Lead attorney, same attorney representing different parties in an interference, withdrawal of attorney or agent.

(a) Each party may be required to designate one attorney or agent of record as the lead attorney or agent.

(b) The same attorney or agent or members of the same firm of attorneys or agents may not represent two or more parties in an interference except as may be permitted under this Chapter.

(c) An examiner-in-chief may make necessary inquiry to determine whether an attorney or agent should be disqualified from representing a party in an interference. If an examiner-in-chief is of the opinion that an attorney or agent should be disqualified, the examiner-in-chief shall refer the matter to the Commissioner. The Commissioner will make a final decision as to whether any attorney or agent should be disqualified.

(d) No attorney or agent of record in an interference may withdraw as attorney or agent of record except with the approval of an examiner-in-chief and after reasonable notice to the party on whose behalf the attorney or agent has appeared. A request to withdraw as attorney or agent of record in an interference shall be made by motion (§ 1.635).

(a) The Board shall assume jurisdiction over an interference when the interference is declared under § 1.611.

(b) When the interference is declared the interference is a contested case within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. § 24.

(c) The examiner shall have jurisdiction over any pending application until the interference is declared. An examiner-in-chief, where appropriate, may for a limited purpose restore jurisdiction to the examiner over any application involved in the interference.

(a) When an interference is declared, ex parte prosecution of an application involved in the interference is suspended. Amendments and other papers related to the application received during pendency of the interference to be entered or considered in the interference without the consent of an examiner-in-chief.

(b) Ex parte prosecution as to specified matters may be continued concurrently with the interference with the consent of the examiner-in-chief.

An examiner-in-chief or the Board may impose an appropriate sanction against a party who fails to comply with the regulations of this part or any order entered by an examiner-in-chief or the Board. An appropriate sanction may include among others entry of an order:
(a) holding certain facts to have been established in the interference;
(b) precluding a party from filing a motion or a preliminary statement;
(c) precluding a party from presenting or contesting a particular issue;
(d) precluding a party from requesting, obtaining, or opposing discovery; or

§ 1.617 Summary judgment against applicant

(a) An examiner-in-chief shall review any evidence filed by an applicant under § 1.608(b) to determine if the applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee. If the examiner-in-chief determines that the evidence shows the applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee, the interference shall proceed in the normal manner under the regulations of this part. If in the opinion of the examiner-in-chief the evidence fails to show that the applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee, the examiner-in-chief shall, concurrently with the notice declaring the interference, enter an order stating the reasons for the opinion and directing the applicant, within a time set in the order, to show cause why summary judgment should not be entered against the applicant.

(b) The applicant may file a response to the order and state any reasons why summary judgment should not be entered. Any request by the applicant for a hearing before the Board shall be made in the response. Additional evidence shall not be presented by the applicant or considered by the Board unless the applicant shows good cause why any additional evidence was not initially presented with the evidence filed under § 1.608(b). At the time an applicant files a response, the applicant shall serve a copy of any evidence filed under § 1.608(b) and this paragraph.

(c) If a response is not timely filed by the applicant, the Board shall enter a final decision granting summary judgment against the applicant.

(d) If a response is timely filed by the applicant, all opponents may file a statement within a time set by the examiner-in-chief. The statement may set forth views as to why summary judgment should be granted against the applicant, but the statement shall be limited to discussing why all the evidence presented by the applicant does not overcome the reasons given by the examiner-in-chief for issuing the order to show cause. Evidence shall not be filed by any opponent. An opponent may not request an oral hearing.

(e) Within a time authorized by the examiner-in-chief, an applicant may file a reply to any statement filed by any opponent.

(f) When more than two parties are involved in an interference, all parties may participate in summary judgment proceedings under this section.

(g) If a response by the applicant is timely filed, the examiner-in-chief or the Board shall decide whether the evidence submitted under § 1.608(b) and any additional evidence properly submitted under paragraph (b) of this section shows that the applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee. If the applicant is not prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee, the Board shall enter a final decision granting summary judgment against the applicant. Otherwise, an interlocutory order shall be entered authorizing the interference to proceed in the normal manner under the regulations of this part.

(h) Only an applicant who filed evidence under § 1.608(b) may request a hearing. If that applicant requests a hearing, the Board may hold a hearing prior to entry of a decision under paragraph (g) of this section. The examiner-in-chief shall set a date and time for the hearing. Unless otherwise ordered by the examiner-in-chief or the Board, the applicant and any opponent will each be entitled to no more than 30 minutes of oral argument at the hearing.

(a) The Patent and Trademark Office shall return to a party any paper presented by the party when the filing of the paper is not authorized by, or is not in compliance with the requirements of, this subpart. Any paper returned will not thereafter be considered by the Patent and Trademark Office in the interference. A party may be permitted to file a corrected paper under such conditions as may be deemed appropriate by an examiner-in-chief.

(b) When presenting a paper in an interference, a party shall not submit with the paper a copy of a paper previously filed in the interference.

(a) Within the time set for filing preliminary motions under § 1.633, each party may file a preliminary statement. The preliminary statement may be signed by any individual having knowledge of the facts recited therein or an attorney or agent of record.

(b) When a party files a preliminary statement the party shall also simultaneously file and serve on all opponents in the interference a notice stating that a preliminary statement has been filed. A copy of the preliminary statement need not be served until ordered by an examiner-in-chief.

(a) A party's preliminary statement must identify the inventor who made the invention defined by each count and must state on behalf of the inventor the facts required by paragraph (a) of §§ 1.623, 1.624, and 1.625 as may be appropriate. When an inventor identified in the preliminary statement is not an inventor named in the party's application or patent, the party shall file a motion under § 1.634 to correct inventorship.

(b) The preliminary statement shall state whether the invention was made in the United States or abroad. If made abroad, the preliminary statement shall state whether the party is entitled to the benefit of the second sentence of 35 U.S.C. § 104.

(a) When the invention was made in the United States or a party is entitled to the benefit of the second sentence of 35 U.S.C. § 104, the preliminary statement must state the following facts as to the invention defined by each count:

(1) The date on which the first drawing of the invention was made.

(2) The date on which the first written description of the invention was made.

(3) The date on which the invention was first disclosed by the inventor to another person.

(4) The date on which the invention was first conceived by the inventor.

(5) The date on which the invention was first actually reduced to practice. If the invention was not actually reduced to practice by or on behalf of the inventor prior to the party's filing date, the preliminary statement shall so state.

(6) The date after the inventor's conception of the invention when active exercise of reasonable diligence toward reducing the invention to practice began.

(b) If a party intends to prove derivation, the preliminary statement must also comply with § 1.625.

(c) When a party alleges under paragraph (a)(1) of this section that a drawing was made, a copy of the first drawing shall be filed with and identified in the preliminary statement. When a party alleges under paragraph (a)(2) of this section that a written description of the invention was made, a copy of the first written description shall be filed with and identified in the preliminary statement. See § 1.628(b) when a copy of the first drawing or written description cannot be filed with the preliminary statement.

(a) When the invention was made abroad and a party intends to rely on introduction of the invention into the United States, the preliminary statement must state the following facts as to the invention defined by each count:

(1) The date on which a drawing of the invention was first introduced into the United States.

(2) The date on which a written description of the invention was first introduced into the United States.

(3) The date on which the invention was first disclosed to another person in the United States.

(4) The date on which the inventor's conception of the invention was first introduced into the United States.

(5) The date on which an actual reduction to practice of the invention was first introduced into the United States. If an actual reduction to practice of the invention was not introduced into the United States, the preliminary statement shall so state.

(6) The date after introduction of the inventor's conception into the United States when active exercise of reasonable diligence in the United States toward reducing the invention to practice began.

(b) If a party intends to prove derivation, the preliminary statement must also comply with § 1.625.

(c) When a party alleges under paragraph (a)(1) of this section that a drawing was introduced into the United States a copy of that drawing shall be filed with and identified in the preliminary statement. When a party alleges under paragraph (a)(2) of this section that a written description of the invention was introduced into the United States a copy of that written description shall be filed with and identified in the preliminary statement. See § 1.628(b) when a copy of the first drawing or first written description introduced in the United States cannot be filed with the preliminary statement.

(a) When the invention was made in the United States or abroad and a party intends to prove derivation by an opponent from the party, the preliminary statement must state the following as to the invention defined by each count:

(1) The name of the opponent.

(2) The date on which the first drawing of the invention was made.

(3) The date on which the first written description of the invention was made.

(4) The date on which the invention was first disclosed by the inventor to another person.

(5) The date on which the invention was first conceived by the inventor.

(6) The date on which the invention was first communicated to the opponent.

(b) If a party intends to prove priority, the preliminary statement must also comply with § 1.623 or § 1.624.

(c) When a party alleges under paragraph (a)(2) of this section that a drawing was made, a copy of the first drawing shall be filed with and identified in the preliminary statement. When a party alleges under paragraph (a)(3) of this section that a written description of the invention was made, a copy of the first written description shall be filed with and identified in the preliminary statement. See § 1.628(b) when a first drawing or first written description cannot be filed with the preliminary statement.

When a party does not intend to present evidence to prove a conception or an actual reduction to practice and the party intends to rely solely on the filing date of an earlier application filed in the United States or abroad to prove a constructive reduction to practice, the preliminary statement may so state and identify the earlier application with particularity.

(a) The preliminary statement and copies of any drawing or written description shall be filed in a sealed envelope bearing only the name of the party filing the statement and the style (e.g., Jones v. and number of the interference. The sealed envelope should contain only the preliminary statement and copies of any drawing or written description. If the preliminary statement is filed through the mail, the sealed envelope should be enclosed in an outer envelope addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks in accordance with § 1.1(e).

(a) A material error arising through inadvertence or mistake in connection with (1) a preliminary statement or (2) drawings or a written description submitted therewith or omitted therefrom, may be corrected by a motion (§ 1.635) for leave to file a corrected statement. The motion shall be supported by an affidavit and shall show that the correction is essential to the ends of justice and shall be accompanied by the corrected statement. The motion shall be filed as soon as practical after discovery of the error.

(b) When a party cannot attach a copy of a drawing or a written description to the party's preliminary statement as required by §§ 1.623(c), 1.624(c), or 1.625(c), the party (1) shall show good cause and explain in the preliminary statement why a copy of the drawing or written description cannot be attached to the preliminary statement and (2) shall attach to the preliminary statement the earliest drawing or written description made in or introduced into the United States which is available. The party shall file a motion (§ 1.635) to amend its preliminary statement promptly after the first drawing, first written description, or drawing or written description first introduced into the United States becomes available. A copy of the drawing or written description may be obtained, where appropriate, by a motion (§ 1.635) for additional discovery under § 1.687 or during a testimony period.

(a) A party shall be strictly held to any date alleged in the preliminary statement. Doubts as to (1) definiteness or sufficiency of any allegation in a preliminary statement or (2) compliance with formal requirements will be resolved against the party filing the statement by restricting the party to the earlier of its filing date or effective filing date or to the latest date of a period alleged in the preliminary statement as may be appropriate. A party may not correct a preliminary statement except as provided by § 1.628.

(b) Evidence which shows that an act alleged in the preliminary statement occurred prior to the date alleged in the statement shall establish only that the act occurred as early as the date alleged in the statement.

(c) If a party does not file a preliminary statement, the party:

(1) shall be restricted to the earlier of the party's filing date or effective filing date and

(2) will not be permitted to prove that:

(i) the party made the invention prior to the party's filing date or

(ii) any opponent derived the invention from the party.

(d) If a party files a preliminary statement which contains an allegation of a date of first drawing or first written description and the party does not file a copy of the first drawing or written description with the preliminary statement as required by § 1.623(c), § 1.624(c), or § 1.625(c), the party will be restricted to the earlier of the party's filing date or effective filing date as to that allegation unless the party complies with § 1.628(b). The content of any drawing or written description submitted with a preliminary statement will not normally] be evaluated or considered by the Board.

(e) A preliminary statement shall not be used as evidence on behalf of the party filing the statement.

A party shall not be entitled to rely on the filing date of an erlier application filed in the United States or abroad unless (a) the earlier application is identified § 1.611(c)(5)) in the notice declaring the interference or (b) the party files a preliminary motion under § 1.633 seeking the benefit of the filing date of the earlier application.

(a) Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, concurrently with entry of a decision by the examiner-in-chief on preliminary motions filed under § 1.633, any preliminary statement filed under § 1.621(a) shall be opened to inspection by the senior party and any junior party who filed a preliminary statement. Within a time set by the examiner-in-chief, a party shall serve copies of its preliminary statement on every opponent who served a notice under § 1.621(b).

(b) A junior party who does not file a preliminary statement shall not have access to the preliminary statement of any other party.

(c) If an interference is terminated before the preliminary statements have been opened, the preliminary statements will remain sealed and will be returned to the respective parties who submitted the statements.

A notice hall be filed by a party who intends to argue that an opponent has abandoned, suppressed, or concealed an actual reduction to practice (35 U.S.C. § 102(g)). A party will not be permitted to argue abandonment, suppression, or concealment by an opponent unless the notice is timely filed. Unless authorized otherwise by an examiner-in-chief, a notice is timely when filed within ten (10) days of the close of the testimony-in-chief of the opponent.

A party may file the following preliminary motions:

(a) A motion for judgment on the ground that an opponent's claim corresponding to a count is not patentable to the opponent. In determining a motion filed under this paragraph, a claim may be construed by reference to the prior art of record. A motion under this paragraph shall not be based on: (1) priority of invention of the subject matter of a count by the moving party as against any opponent or (2) derivation of the subject matter of a count by an opponent from the moving party. See § 1.637(a)

(b) A motion for judgment on the ground that there is no interference-in-fact. A motion under this paragraph is proper only if: (1) the interference involves a design application or patent or a plant application or patent or (2) no claim of a party which corresponds to a count is identical to any claim of an opponent which corresponds to that count. See § 1.637(a)

(c) A motion to redefine the interfering subject matter by (1) adding or substituting a count, (2) amending an application claim corresponding to a count or adding a claim in the moving party's application to be designated to correspond to a count, (3) designating an application or patent claim to correspond to a count, (4) designating an application or patent claim as not corresponding to a count, or (5) requiring an opponent who is an applicant to add a claim and to designate the claim to correspond to a count. See § 1.637(a) and (c).

(d) A motion to substitute a different application owned by a party for an application involved in the interference. See § 1.637(a) and (d).

(e) A motion to declare an additional interference (1) between an additional application not involved in the interference and owned by a party and an opponent's application or patent involved in the interference or (2) when an interference involves three or more parties, between less than all applications and any patent involved in the interference. See § 1.637(a) and (e).

(f) A motion to be accorded the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application filed in the United States or abroad. See § 1.637(a) and (f).

(g) A motion to attack the benefit accorded an opponent in the notice declaring the interference of the filing date of an earlier application filed in the United States or abroad. See § 1.637(a) and (g).

(h) When a patent is involved in an interference and the patentee has on file or files an application for reissue under § 1.171, a motion to add the application for reissue to the interference. See § 1.637(a) and (h).

(i) When a motion is filed under paragraph (a), (b), or (g) of this section, an oponent, in addition to opposing the motion, may file a motion to redefine the interfering subject matter under paragraph (c) of this section or a motion to substitute a different application under paragraph (d) of this section.

(j) When a motion is filed under paragraph (c)(1) of this section an opponent, in addition to opposing the motion, may file a motion for benefit under paragraph (f) of this section as to the count to be added or substituted.

A party may file a motion to (a) amend its application involved in an interference to correct inventorship as provided by § 1.48 or (b) correct inventorship of its patent involved in an interference as provided in § 1.324. See § 1.637(a).

A party seeking entry of an order relating to any matter other than a matter which may be raised under §§ 1.633 or 1.634 may file a motion requesting entry of the order. See § 1.637(a) and (b).

(a) A preliminary motion under § 1.633(a) through (h) shall be filed within a time period set by an examiner-in-chief.

(b) A preliminary motion under § 1.633(i) or (j) shall be filed within 20 days of the service of the preliminary motion under § 1.633(a), (b), or (g) unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief.

(c) A motion under § 1.634 shall be diligently filed after an error is discovered in the inventorship of an application or patent involved in an interference unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief.

(d) A motion under § 1.635 shall be filed as specified in this subpart or when appropriate unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief.

(a) Every motion shall include (1) a statement of the precise relief requested, (2) a statement of the material facts in support of the motion, and (3) a full statement of the reasons why the relief requested should be granted.

(b) A motion under § 1.635 shall contain a certificate by the moving party stating that the moving party has conferred with all opposing parties in an effort in good faith to resolve by agreement the issues raised by the motion. A moving party shall indicate in the motion whether any other party plans to oppose the motion. The provisions of this paragraph do not apply to a motion to suppress evidence (§ 1.656(h)).

(c) A preliminary motion under (§ 1.633(c) shall explain why the interfering subject matter should be redefined.

(1) A preliminary motion seeking to add or substitute a count shall:

(i) Propose each count to be added or substituted.

(ii) When the moving party is an applicant, show the patentability to the applicant of all claims in, or proposed to be added to, the party's application which correspond to each proposed count and apply the terms of the claims to the disclosure of the party's application; when necessary amoving party applicant shall file with the motion an amendment adding any proposed claim to the application.

(iii) Identify all claims in an opponent's application which should be designated to correspond to each proposed count; if an opponent's applicatcn does not contain such a claim, the moving party shall propose a claim to be added to the opponent's application. The moving party shall show the patentability of any proposed claims to the opponent and apply the terms of the claims to the disclosure of the opponent's application.

(iv) Designate the claims of any patent involved in the interference which define the same patentable invention as each proposed count.

(v) Show that each proposed count defines a separate patentable invention from every other count in the interference.

(vi) Be accompanied by a motion under § 1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of any earlier application filed in the United States or abroad.

(2) A preliminary motion seeking to amend an application claim corresponding to a count or adding a claim to be designated to correspond to a count shall:

(i) Propose an amended or added claim.

(ii) Show that the proposed or added claim defines the same patentable invention as the count.

(iii) Show the patentability to the applicant of each amended or added claim and apply the terms of the amended or added claim to the disclosure of the application; when necessary a moving party applicant shall file with the motion an amendment making the amended or added claim to the application.

(iv) Be accompanied by a motion under § 1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of any earlier application filed in the United States or abroad.

(3) A preliminary motion seeking to designate an application or patent claim to correspond to a count shall:

(i) Identify the claim and the count.

(ii) Show the claim defines the same patentable invention as the count.

(iii) Be accompanied by a motion under § 1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of any earlier application filed in the United States or abroad.

(4) A preliminary motion seeking to designate an application or patent claim as not corresponding to a count shall:

(i) Identify the claim and the count.

(ii) Show the claim does not define the same patentable invention as any other claim designated in the notice declaring the interference as corresponding to the count.

(5) A preliminary motion seeking to require an opponent who is an applicant to add a claim and designate the claim as corresponding to a count shall:

(i) Propose a claim to be added by the opponent.

(ii) Show the patentability to the opponent of the claim and apply the terms of the claim to the disclosure of the opponent's application.

(iii) Identify the count to which the claim shall be designated to correspond.

(iv) Show the claim defines the same patentable invention as the count to which it will be designated to correspond.

(d) A preliminary motion under § 1.633(d) to substitute a different application shall:

(1) Identify the different application.

(2) Certify that a complete copy of the file of the different application, except for documents filed under § 1.131 or § 1.608(b), has been served on all opponents.

(3) Show the patentability to the applicant of all claims in, or proposed to be added to, the different application which correspond to each count and apply the terms of the claims to the disclosure of the different application; when necessary the applicant shall file with the motion an amendment adding a claim to the different application.

(4) Be accompanied by a motion under § 1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application filed in the United States or abroad.

(e) A preliminary motion to declare an additional interference under § 1.633(e) shall explain why an additional interference is necessary:

(1) When the preliminary motion seeks an additional interference under § 1.633(e)(1), the motion shall:

(i) Identify the additional application.

(ii) Certify that a complete copy of the file of the additional application, except for documents filed under §§ 1.131 or 1.608(b), has been served on all opponents.

(iii) Propose a count for the additional interference.

(iv) Show the patentability to the applicant of all claims in, or proposed to be added to, the additional application which correspond to each proposed count for the additional interference and apply the terms of the claims to the disclosure of the additional application; when necessary the applicant shall file with the motion an amendment adding a claim to the additional application.

(v) When the opponent is an applicant, show the patentability to the opponent of any claims in, or proposed to be added to, the opponent's application which correspond to the proposed count and apply the terms of the claims to the disclosure of the opponent's application.

(vi) When the opponent is a patentee, designate the claims of the patent which define the same patentable invention defined by the proposed count.

(vii) Show that each proposed count for the additional interference defines a separate patentable invention from all counts of the interference in which the motion is filed.

(viii) Be accompanied by a motion under § 1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application filed in the United States or abroad.

(2) When the preliminary motion seeks an additional interference under § 1.633(e)(2), the motion shall:

(i) Identify any application or patent to be involved in the additional interference.

(ii) Propose a count for the additional interference.

(iii) When the moving party is an applicant, show the patentability to the applicant of all claims in, or proposed to be added to the party's application which correspond to each proposed count and apply the terms of the claims to the disclosure of the party's application; when necessary a moving party applicant shall file with the motion an amendment adding any proposed claim to the application.

(iv) Identify all claims in any opponent's application which should be designated to correspond to each proposed count; if an opponent's application does not contain such a claim, the moving party shall propose a claim to be added to the opponent's application. The moving party shall show the patentability of any proposed claims to the opponent and apply the terms of the claims to the disclosure of the opponent's application.

(v) Designate the claims of any patent involved in the interference which define the same patentable invention as each proposed count.

(vi) Show that each proposed count for the additional interference defines a separate patentable invention from all counts in the interference in which the motion is filed.

(vii) Be accompanied by a motion under § 1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application filed in the United States or abroad.

(f) A preliminary motion for benefit under § 1.633(f) shall:

(1) Identify the earlier application.

(2) When the earlier application is an application filed in the United States, certify that a complete copy of the file of the earlier application, except for documents filed under § 1.131 or § 1.608(b), has been served on all opponents. When the earlier application is an application filed abroad, certify that a copy of the application filed abroad has been served on all opponents. If the earlier application filed abroad is not in English, the requirements of § 1.647 must also be met.

(3) Show that the earlier application constitutes a constructive reduction to practice of each count.

(g) A preliminary motion to attack benefit under § 1.633(g) shall explain, as to each count, why an opponent should not be accorded the benefit of the filing date of the earlier application.

(h) A preliminary motion to add an application for reissue under § 1.633(h) shall:

(1) Identify the application for reissue.

(2) Certify that a complete copy of the file of the application for reissue has been served on all opponents.

(3) Show the patentability of all claims in, or proposed to be added to, the application for reissue which correspond to each count and apply the terms of the claims to the disclosure of the application for reissue; when necessary a moving applicant for reissue shall file with the motion an amendment adding a claim to the application for reissue.

(4) Be accompanied by a motion under § 1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application filed in the United States or abroad.

(a) Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, any opposition to any motion shall be filed within 20 days after service of the motion. An opposition shall (1) identify any material fact set forth in the motion which is in dispute and (2) include an argument why the relief requested in the motion should be denied.

(b) Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, a reply shall be filed within 15 days after service of the opposition. A reply shall be directed only to new points raised in the opposition.

(a) Proof of any material fact alleged in a motion, opposition, or reply must be filed and served with the motion, opposition, or reply unless the proof relied upon is part of the interference file or the file of any patent or application involved in the interference or any earlier application filed in the United States of which a party has been accorded or seeks to be accorded benefit.

(b) Proof may be in the form of patents, printed publications, and affidavits.

(c) When a party believes that testimony is necessary to support or oppose a preliminary motion under § 1.633 or a motion to correct inventorship under § 1.634, the party shall describe the nature of the testimony needed. If the examiner-in-chief finds that testimony is needed to decide the motion, the examiner-in-chief may grant appropriate interlocutory relief and enter an order authorizing the taking of testimony and deferring a decision on the motion to final hearing.

(a) A hearing on a motion may be held in the discretion of the examiner-in-chief. The examiner-in-chief shall set the date and time for any hearing. The length of oral argument at a hearing on a motion is a matter within the discretion of the examiner-in-chief. An examiner-in-chief may direct that a hearing take place by telephone.

(b) Motions will be decided by an examiner-in-chief. An examiner-in-chief may consult with an examiner in deciding motions involving a question of patentability. An examiner-in-chief may grant or deny any motion or take such other action which will secure the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of the interference.

(1) When preliminary motions under § 1.633 are decided, the examiner-in-chief will, when necessary, set a time for filing any amendment to an application involved in the interference and for filing a supplemental preliminary statement as to any new counts involved in the interference. Failure or refusal of a party to timely present an amendment required by an examiner-in-chief shall be taken without further action as a disclaimer by that party of the invention involved. A supplemental preliminary statement shall meet the requirements specified in §§ 1.623, 1.624, 1.625, or 1.626, but need not be filed if a party states that it intends to rely on a preliminary statement previously filed under § 1.621(a). After the time expires for filing any amendment and supplemental preliminary statement, the examiner-in-chief will, if necessary, redeclare the interference.

(2) After a decision is entered on preliminary motions filed under § 1.633, a further motion under § 1.633 will not be considered except as provided by § 1.655(b).

(c) When a decision on any motion under §§ 1.633, 1.634, or 1.635 is entered which does not result in the issuance of an order to show cause under paragraph (d) of this section, a party may file a request for reconsideration within 14 days after the date of the decision. The filing of a request for reconsideration will not stay any time period set by the decision. The request for reconsideration shall specify with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision. No opposition to a request for reconsideration shall be filed unless requested by an examiner-in-chief or the Board. A decision of single examiner-in-chief will not ordinarily be modified unless an opposition has been requested by an examiner-in-chief or the Board. The request for reconsideration shall be acted on by a panel of the Board consisting of at least three examiners-in-chief, one of whom will normally be the examiner-in-chief who decided the motion.

(d) An examiner-in-chief may issue an order to show cause why judgment should not be entered against a party when:

(1) A decision on a motion is entered which is dispositive of the interference against the party as to all counts;

(2) The party is a junior party who fails to file a preliminary statement; or

(3) The party is a junior party whose preliminary statement fails to overcome the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of another party.

(e) When an order to show cause is issued under paragraph (d) of this section, the Board shall enter a judgment in accordance with the order unless, within 20 days after the date of the order, the party against whom the order issued files a paper which shows good cause why judgment should not be entered in accordance with the order. Any other party may file a response to the paper within 20 days of the date of service of the paper. If the party against whom the order was issued fails to show good cause, the Board shall enter judgment against the party. If a party wishes to take testimony in response to an order to show cause, the party's response should be accompanied by a motion (§ 1.635) requesting the testimony period. See § 1.651(c)(4).

During the pendency of an interference, if the examiner-in-chief becomes aware of a reason why a claim corresponding to a count may not be patentable, the examiner-in-chief may notify the parties of the reason and set a time within which each party may present its views. After considering any timely filed views, the examiner-in-chief shall decide how the interference shall proceed.

During the pendency of an interference, if the examiner-in-chief becomes aware of an application or a patent not involved in the interference which claims the same patentable invention as a count in the interference, the examiner-in-chief may add the application or patent to the interference on such terms as may be fair to all parties.

(a) An assignee of record in the Patent and Trademark Office of the entire interest in an application or patent involved in an interference is entitled to conduct prosecution of the interference to the exclusion of the inventor.

(b) An assignee of a part interest in an application or patent involved in an interference may file a motion (§ 1.635) for entry of an order authorizing it to prosecute the interference. The motion shall show (1) the inability or refusal of the inventor to prosecute the interference or (2) other cause why the ends of justice require that the assignee of a part interest be permitted to prosecute the interference. The examiner-in-chief may allow the assignee of a part interest to prosecute the interference upon such terms as may be appropriate.

(a) There is no appeal to the Commissioner in an interference from a decision of an examiner-in-chief or a panel consisting of more than one examiner-in-chief. The Commissioner will not consider a petition in an interference unless:

(1) The petition is from a decision of an examiner-in-chief or a panel and the examiner-in-chief or the panel shall be of the opinion (i) that the decision involves a controlling question of procedure or an interpretation of a rule as to which there is a substantial ground for a difference of opinion and (ii) that an immediate decision on petition by the Commissioner may materially advance the ultimate termination of the interference;

(2) The petition seeks to invoke the supervisory authority of the Commissioner and is not filed prior to the decision of the Board awarding judgment and does not relate to (i) the merits of priority of invention or patentability or (ii) the admissibility of evidence under the Federal Rules of Evidence; or

(3) The petition seeks relief under § 1.183.

(b) A petition under paragraph (a)(1) of this section filed more than 15 days after the date of the decision of the examiner-in-chief or the panel may be dismissed as untimely. A petition under paragraph (a)(2) of this section shall not be filed prior to decision by the Board awarding judgment. Any petition under paragraph (a)(3) of this section shall be timely if it is made as part of, or simultaneously with, a proper motion under §§ 1.633, 1.634, or 1.635. Any opposition to a petition shall be filed within 15 days of the date of service of the petition.

(c) The filing of a petition shall not stay the proceeding unless a stay is granted in the discretion of the examiner-in-chief, the panel, or the Commissioner.

(d) Any petition must contain a statement of the facts involved and the point or points to be reviewed and the action requested. Briefs or memoranda, if any, in support of the petition or opposition shall accompany or be embodied therein. The petition will be decided on the basis of the record made before the examiner-in-chief or the panel and no new evidence will be considered by the Commissioner in deciding the petition. Copies of documents already of record in the interference shall not be submitted with the petition or opposition.

(e) Any petition under paragraph (a) of this section shall be accompanied by the petition fee set forth in § 1.17(h).

(f) Any request for reconsideration of a decision by the Commissioner shall be filed within 15 days of the decision of the Commissioner and must be accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(h). No opposition to a request for reconsideration shall be filed unless requested by the Commissioner. The decision will not ordinarily be modified unless such an opposition has been requested by the Commissioner.

(g) Where reasonably possible, service of any petition, opposition, or request for reconsideration shall be such that delivery is accomplished within one working day. Service by hand or "Express Mail" complies with this paragraph.

(h) An oral hearing on the petition will not be granted except when considered necessary by the Commissioner.

(i) The Commissioner may delegate to appropriate Patent and Trademark Office employees the determination of petitions under this section.

(a) A party may file a motion (§ 1.635) seeking an extension of time to take action in an interference, to file a notice of appeal (§§ 1.302, 1.304), or to commence a civil action (§§ 1.303, 1.304). The motion shall be filed within sufficient time to actually reach the examiner-in-chief before expiration of the time for taking action, filing the notice, or commencing the civil action. A moving party should not assume that the motion will be granted even if there is no objection by any other party. The motion will be denied unless the moving party shows good cause why an extension should be granted. The press of other business arising after an examiner-in-chief sets a time for taking action will not normally constitute good cause. A motion seeking additional time to take testimony because a party has not been able to procure the testimony of a witness shall set forth the name of the witness, any steps taken to procure the testimony of the witness, the dates on which the steps were taken, and the facts expected to be proved through the witness.

(b) Any paper belatedly filed will not be considered except upon motion (§ 1.635) which shows sufficient cause why the paper was not timely filed.

(c) The provisions of § 1.136 do not apply to time periods in interferences.

(a) A copy of every paper filed in the Patent and Trademark Office in an interference or an application or patent involved in the interference shall be served upon all other parties except:

(1) Preliminary statements when filed under § 1.621; preliminary statements shall be served when service is ordered by an examiner-in-chief.

(2) Certified transcripts and exhibits which accompany the transcripts filed under §§ 1.676 or 1.684; copies of transcripts shall be served as part of a party's record under § 1.653(c).

(b) Service shall be on an attorney or agent for a party. If there is no attorney or agent for the party, service shall be on the party. An examiner-in-chief may order additional service or waive service where appropriate.

(c) Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, or except as otherwise provided by this part, service of a paper shall be made as follows:

(1) By handing a copy of the paper to the person served.

(2) By leaving a copy of the paper with someone employed by the person at the person's usual place of business.

(3) When the person served has no usual place of business, by leaving a copy of the paper at the person's residence with someone of suitable age and discretion then residing therein.

(4) By mailing a copy of the paper by first class mail; when service is by mail the date of mailing is regarded as the date of service.

(5) When it is shown to the satisfaction of an examiner-in-chief that none of the above methods of obtaining or serving the copy of the paper was successful, the examiner-in-chief may order service by publication of an appropriate notice in the Official Gazette.

(d) An examiner-in-chief may order that a paper be served by hand or "Express Mail".

(e) Proof of service must be made before a paper will be considered in an interference. Proof of service may appear on or be affixed to the paper. Proof of service shall include the date and manner of service. In the case of personal service under paragraphs (c)(1) through (c)(3) of this section, proof of service shall include the names of any person served and the person who made the service. Proof of service may be made by an acknowledgment of service by or on behalf of the person served or a statement signed by the party or the party's attorney or agent containing the information required by this section. A statement of an attorney or agent attached to, or appearing in, the paper stating the date and manner of service will be accepted as prima facie proof of service.

When a party relies on a document in a language other than English, a translation of the document into English and an affidavit attesting to the accuracy of the translation shall be filed with the document.

(a) At an appropriate stage in an interference, an examiner-in-chief shall set (1) a time for filing motions (§ 1.635) for additional discovery under § 1.687(c) and (2) testimony periods for taking any necessary testimony.

(b) Where appropriate, testimony periods will be set to permit a party to:

(1) present its case-in-chief and/or case-in-rebuttal and/or

(2) cross-examine an opponent's case-in-chief and/or a case-in-rebuttal.

(c) A party is not entitled to take testimony to present a case-in-chief unless:

(1) the examiner-in-chief orders the taking of testimony under § 1.639(c);

(2) the party alleges in its preliminary statement a date of invention prior to the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of the senior party;

(3) a testimony period has been set to permit an opponent to prove a date of invention prior to the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of the party and the party has filed a preliminary statement alleging a date of invention prior to that date; or

(4) a motion (§ 1.635) is filed showing good cause why a testimony period should be set.

If a junior party fails to timely take testimony authorized under § 1.651, or file a record under § 1.653(c), an examiner-in-chief, with or without a motion (§ 1.635) by another party, may issue an order to show cause why judgment should not be entered against the junior party. When an order is issued under this section, the Board shall enter judgment in accordance with the order unless, within 15 days after the date of the order, the junior party files a paper which shows good cause why judgment should not be entered in accordance with the order. Any other party may file a response to the paper within 15 days of the date of service of the paper. If the party against whom the order was issued fails to show good cause, the Board shall enter judgment against the party.

(a) Testimony shall consist of affidavits under § 1.672(b) and (e), transcripts of depositions under §§ 1.672(b) and (c), agreed statements of fact under § 1.672(f), and transcripts of interrogatories, cross-interrogatories, and recorded answers under § 1.684(c).

(b) An affidavit shall be filed as set forth in § 1.672(b) or (e). A certified transcript of a deposition including a deposition cross-examining an affiant, shall be filed as set forth in § 1.676. An original agreed statement shall be filed as set forth in § 1.672(f). A transcript of interrogatories, cross-interrogatories, and recorded answers shall be filed as set forth under § 1.684(c).

(c) In addition to the items specified in paragraph (b) of this section and within a time set by an examiner-in-chief each party shall file three copies and serve one copy of a record consisting of:

(1) An index of the names of each witness giving the pages of the record where the direct testimony and cross-examination of each witness begins.

(2) An index of exhibits briefly describing the nature of each exhibit and giving the page of the record where each exhibit is first identified and offered into evidence.

(3) The count or counts.

(4) Each (i) affidavit, (ii) transcript, including transcripts of cross-examination of any affiant, (iii) agreed statement relied upon by the party, and (iv) transcript of interrogatories, cross-interrogatories, and recorded answers filed under paragraph (b) of this section.

(5) Each notice, official record, and publication relied upon by the party and filed under § 1.682(a).

(6) Any evidence from another interference, proceeding, or action relied upon by the party under § 1.683.

(7) Each request for an admission and the admission and each written interrogatory and the answer upon which a party intends to rely under § 1.688.

(f) The record may be typewritten or printed.

(g) When the record is printed, it may be produced by standard typographical printing or by any process capable of producing a clear black permanent image. All printed matter except on covers must appear in at least 11 point type on opaque, unglazed paper. Margins must be justified. Footnotes may not be printed in type smaller than 9 point. The page size shall be 8-1/2 by 11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm.) with type matter 6-1/2 by 9-1/2 inches (16.5 by 24.1 cm.). The record shall be bound to lie flat when open.

(h) When the record is typewritten, it must be clearly legible on opaque, unglazed, durable paper approximately 8-1/2 by 11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm.) in size (letter size). Typing shall be double-spaced on one side of the paper in not smaller than pica-type with a margin of 1-1/2 inches (3.8 cm.) on the left-hand side of the page. The pages of the record shall be bound with covers at their left edges in such manner to lie flat when open in one or more volumes of convenient size (approximately 100 pages per volume is suggested). Multigraphed or otherwise reproduced copies conforming to the standards specified in this paragraph may be accepted.

(i) Each party shall file its exhibits with the record specified in paragraph (c) of this section. One copy of each documentary exhibit shall be served. Documentary exhibits shall be filed in an envelope or folder and shall not be bound as part of the record. Physical exhibits, if not filed by an officer under § 1.676(d), shall be filed with the record. Each exhibit shall contain a label which identifies the party submitting the exhibit and an exhibit number, the style of the interference (e.g., Jones v. Smith), and the interference number. Where possible, the label should appear at the bottom right-hand corner of each documentary exhibit. Upon termination of an interference, an examiner-in-chief may return an exhibit to the party filing the exhibit. When any exhibit is returned, the examiner-in-chief shall enter an appropriate order indicating that the exhibit has been returned.

(j) Any testimony, record, or exhibit which does not comply with this section may be returned under § 1.618(a).

(a) At an appropriate stage of the interference, the parties will be given an opportunity to appear before the Board to present oral argument at a final hearing. An examiner-in-chief shall set a date and time for final hearing. Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief or the Board, each party will be entitled to no more than 60 minutes of oral argument at final hearing.

(b) The opening argument of a junior party shall include a fair statement of the junior party's case and the junior party's position with respect to the case presented on behalf of any other party. A junior party may reserve a portion of its time for rebuttal.

(c) A party shall not be entitled to argue that an opponent abandoned, suppressed, or concealed an actual reduction to practice unless a notice under § 1.632 was timely filed.

(d) After final hearing, the interference shall be taken under advisement by the Board. No further paper shall be filed except under § 1.658(b) or as authorized by an examiner-in-chief or the Board. No additional oral argument shall be had unless ordered by the Board.

(a) In rendering a final decision, the Board may consider any properly raised issue including (1) priority of invention, (2) derivation by an opponent from a party who filed a preliminary statement under § 1.625, (3) patentability of the invention, (4) admissibility of evidence, (5) any interlocutory matter deferred to final hearing, and (6) any other matter necessary to resolve the interference. The Board may also consider whether any interlocutory order was manifestly erroneous or an abuse of discretion. All interlocutory orders shall be presumed to have been correct and the burden of showing manifest error or an abuse of discretion shall be on the party attacking the order.

(b) A party shall not be entitled to raise for consideration at final hearing a matter which properly could have been raised by a motion under §§ 1.633 or 1.634 unless (1) the motion was properly filed, (2) the matter was properly raised by a party in an opposition to a motion under §§ 1.633 or 1.634 and the motion was granted over the opposition, or (3) the party shows good cause why the issue was not timely raised by motion or opposition.

(c) To prevent manifest injustice, the Board may consider an issue even though it would not otherwise be entitled to consideration under this section.

(a) Each party shall be entitled to file briefs for final hearing. The examiner-in-chief shall determine the briefs needed and shall set the time and order for filing briefs.

(b) The opening brief of a junior party shall contain under appropriate headings and in the order indicated:

(1) A table of contents, with page references, and a table of cases (alphabetically arranged), statutes, and other authorities cited, with references to the pages of the brief where they are cited.

(2) A statement of the issues presented for decision in the interference.

(3) A statement of the facts relevant to the issues presented for decision with appropriate references to the record.

(4) An argument, which may be preceded by a summary, which shall contain the contentions of the party with respect to the issues to be decided, and the reasons therefor, with citations to the cases, statutes, other authorities, and parts of the record relied on.

(5) A short conclusion stating the precise relief requested.

(6) An appendix containing a copy of the counts.

(c) The opening brief of the senior party shall conform to the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section except:

(1) a statement of the issues and of the facts need not be made unless the party is dissatisfied with the statement in the opening brief of the junior party and

(2) an appendix containing a copy of the counts need not be included if the copy of the counts in the opening brief of the junior party is correct.

(d) Briefs may be printed or typewritten. If typewritten, legal-size paper may be used. The opening brief of each party in excess of 50 legal-size double-spaced typewritten pages or any other brief in excess of 25 legal-size double-space typewritten pages shall be printed unless a satisfactory reason be given why the brief should not be printed. Any printed brief shall comply with the requirements of § 1.653(g). Any typewritten brief shall comply with the requirements of § 1.653(h), except legal-size paper may be used and the binding and covers specified are not required.

(e) An original and three copies of each brief must be filed.

(f) Any brief which does not comply with the requirements of this section may be returned under § 1.618(a).

(g) Any party, separate from its opening brief, but filed concurrently therewith, may file an original and three copies of concise proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law. Any proposed findings of fact shall be supported by specific references to the record. Any proposed conclusions of law shall be supported by citation of cases, statutes, or other authority. Any opposing party, separate from its opening or reply brief, but filed concurrently therewith, may file a paper accepting or objecting to any proposed findings of fact or conclusions of law; when objecting, a reason must be given. The Board may adopt the proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law in whole or in part.

(h) If a party wants the Board in rendering its final decision to rule on the admissibility of any evidence, the party shall file with its opening brief an original and three copies of a motion (§ 1.635) to suppress the evidence. The provisions of § 1.637(b) do not apply to a motion to suppress under this paragraph. Any objection previously made to the admissibility of an opponent's evidence is waived unless the motion required by this paragraph is filed. An original and three copies of an opposition to the motion may be filed with an opponent's opening brief or reply brief as may be appropriate.

(i) When a junior party fails to timely file an opening brief, an order may issue requiring the junior party to show cause why the Board should not treat failure to file the brief as a concession of priority. If the junior party fails to respond within a time period set in the order, judgment may be entered against the junior party.

A rebuttable presumption shall exist that, as to each count, the inventors made their invention in the chronological order of the earlier of their filing dates or effective filing dates. The burden of proof shall be upon a party who contends otherwise.

(a) After final hearing, the Board shall enter a decision resolving the issues raised at final hearing. The decision may (1) enter judgment, in whole or in part, (2) remand the interference to an examiner-in-chief for further proceedings, or (3) take further action not inconsistent with law. A judgment as to a count shall state whether or not each party is entitled to a patent containing the claims in the party's patent or application which correspond to the count. When the Board enters a decision awarding judgment as to all counts, the decision shall be regarded as a final decision.

(b) Any request for reconsideration of a decision under paragraph (a) of this section shall be filed within 14 days after the date of the decision. The request for reconsideration shall specify with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision. Any reply to a request for reconsideration shall be filed within 14 days of the date of service of the request for reconsideration. Where reasonably possible, service of the request for reconsideration shall be such that delivery is accomplished by hand or "Express Mail." The Board shall enter a decision on the request for reconsideration. If the Board shall be of the opinion that the decision on the request for reconsideration significantly modifies its original decision under paragraph (a) of this section, the Board may designate the decision on the request for reconsideration as a new decision.

(c) A judgment in an interference settles all issues which (1) were raised and decided in the interference, (2) could have been properly raised and decided in the interference by a motion under § 1.633 (a) through (d) and (f) through (j) or § 1.634 and (3) could have been properly raised and decided in an additional interference with a motion under § 1.633(e). A losing party who could have properly moved, but failed to move, under §§ 1.633 or 1.634, shall be estopped to take ex parte or inter partes action in the Patent and Trademark Office after the interference which is inconsistent with that party's failure to properly move, except that a losing party shall not be estopped with respect to any claims which correspond, or properly could have corresponded, to a count as to which that party was awarded a favorable judgment.

(a) Should the Board have knowledge of any ground for rejecting any application claim not involved in the judgment of the interference, it may include in its decision a recommended rejection of the claim. Upon resumption of ex parte prosecution of the application, the examiner shall be bound by the recommendation and shall enter and maintain the recommended rejection unless an amendment or showing of facts not previously of record is filed which, in the opinion of the examiner, overcomes the recommended rejection.

(b) Should the Board have knowledge of any ground for reexamination of a patent involved in the interference as to a patent claim not involved in the judgment of the interference, it may include in its decision a recommendation to the Commissioner that the patent be reexamined. The Commissioner will determine whether reexamination will be ordered.

(c) The Board may make any other recommendation to the examiner or the Commissioner as may be appropriate.

(a) When a request for reexamination of a patent involved in an interference is filed, the patent owner shall notify the Board within 10 days of receiving notice that the request was filed.

(b) When an application for reissue is filed by a patentee involved in an interference, the patentee shall notify the Board within 10 days of the day the application for reissue is filed.

(c) When a protest under § 1.291 is filed against an application involved in an interference, the applicant shall notify the Board within 10 days of receiving notice that the protest was filed.

(d) A party in an interference shall notify the Board promptly of any litigation related to any patent or application involved in an interference, including any civil action commenced under 35 U.S.C. § 146.

After a final decision is entered by the Board, an After a final decision is entered by the Board, an interference is considered terminated when no appeal (35 U.S.C. § 141) or other review (35 U.S.C. § 146) has been or can be taken or had.

(a) A party may, at any time during an interference, request and agree to entry of an adverse judgment. The filing by an applicant or patentee of a written disclaimer of the invention defined by a count, concession of priority or unpatentability of the subject matter of a count, abandonment of the invention defined by a count, or abandonment of the contest as to a count will be treated as a request for entry of an adverse judgment against the applicant or patentee as to all claims which correspond to the count. Abandonment of an application by an applicant, other than an applicant for reissue having a claim of the patent sought to be reissued involved in the interference, will be treated as a request for entry of an adverse judgment against the applicant as to all claims corresponding to all counts. Upon the filing by a party of a request for entry of an adverse judgment, the Board may enter judgment against the party.

(b) If a patentee involved in an interference files an application for reissue during the interference and omits all claims of the patent corresponding to the counts of the interference for the purpose of avoiding the interference, judgment may be entered against the patentee. A patentee who files an application for reissue other than for the purpose of avoiding the interference shall timely file a preliminary motion under § 1.633(h) or show good cause why the motion could not have been timely filed.

(c) The filing of a statutory disclaimer under 35 U.S.C. § 253 by a patentee will delete any statutorily disclaimed claims from being involved in the interference. A statutory disclaimer will not be treated as a request for entry of an adverse judgment against the patentee unless it results in the deletion of all patent claims corresponding to a count.

Whenever an adverse judgment is entered as to a count against an applicant from which no appeal (35 U.S.C. § 141) or other review (35 U.S.C. § 146) has been or can be taken or had, the claims of the application corresponding to the count stand finally disposed of without further action by the examiner. Such claims are not open to further ex parte prosecution.

(a) After termination of an interference, the examiner will promptly take such action in any application previously involved in the interference as may be necessary. Unless entered by order of an examiner-in-chief, amendments presented during the interference shall not be entered, but may be subsequently presented by the applicant subject to the provisions of this part provided prosecution of the application is not otherwise closed.

(b) After judgment, the application of any party may be held subject to further examination, including an interference with another application.

A second interference between the same parties will not be declared upon an application not involved in an earlier interference for an invention defined by a count of the earlier interference. See § 1.658(c).

(a) Any agreement or understanding between parties to an interference, including any collateral agreements referred to therein, made in connection with or in contemplation of the termination of the interference, must be in writing and a true copy thereof must be filed before the termination of the interference (§ 1.661) as between the parties to the agreement or understanding.

(b) If any party filing the agreement or understanding under paragraph (a) of this section so requests, the copy will be kept separate from the file of the interference, and made available only to Government agencies on written request, or to any person upon petition accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i) and on a showing of good cause.

(c) Failure to file the copy of the agreement or understanding under paragraph (a) of this section will render permanently unenforceable such agreement or understanding and any patent of the parties involved in the interference or any patent subsequently issued on any application of the parties so involved. The

Commissioner may, however, upon petition accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(h) and on a showing of good cause for failure to file within the time prescribed, permit the filing of the agreement or understanding during the six month period subsequent to the termination of the interference as between the parties to the agreement or understanding.

(a) Evidence consists of testimony and exhibits, official records and publications filed under § 1.682, evidence from another interference, proceeding, or action filed under § 1.683, and discovery relied upon under § 1.688, and the specification (including claims) and drawings of any application or patent:

(1) Involved in the interference.

(2) To which a party has been accorded benefit in the notice declaring the interference or by a preliminary motion granted under § 1.633.

(3) For which a party has sought, but has been denied, benefit by a preliminary motion under § 1.633.

(4) For which benefit was rescinded by a preliminary motion granted under § 1.633.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this part, the Federal Rules of Evidence shall apply to interference proceedings. Those portions of the Federal Rules of Evidence relating to criminal actions, juries, and other matters not relevant to interferences shall not apply.

(c) Unless the context is otherwise clear, the following terms of the Federal Rules of Evidence shall be construed as follows:

(1) "Courts of the United States," "U.S. Magistrate," "court," "trial court," or "trier of fact" means examiner-in-chief or Board as may be appropriate.

(2) "Judge" means examiner-in-chief.

(3) "Judicial notice" means official notice.

(4) "Civil action," "civil proceeding," "action," or "trial," mean interference.

(5) "Appellate court" means United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or a United States district court when judicial review is under 35 U.S.C. § 146.

(6) "Before the hearing" in Rule 703 means before giving testimony by oral deposition or affidavit.

(7) "The trial or hearing" in Rules 803(24) and 804(5) means the taking of testimony by oral deposition.

(d) Certification is not necessary as a condition to admissibility when the record is a record of the Patent and Trademark Office to which all parties have access.

(e) A party may not rely on an affidavit filed by that party during ex parte prosecution of an application, an affidavit under § 1.608(b), or an affidavit under § 1.639(b) unless (1) a copy of the affidavit is or has been served and (2) a written notice is filed prior to the close of the party's relevant testimony period stating that the party intends to rely on the affidavit. When proper notice is given under this paragraph, the affidavit shall be deemed filed under § 1.672(b). A copy of the affidavit shall be included in the record (§ 1.653).

(f) The significance of documentary and other exhibits shall be discussed with particularity by a witness during oral deposition or in an affidavit.

(g) A party must file a motion (§ 1.635) seeking permission from an examiner-in-chief prior to taking testimony or seeking documents or things under 35 U.S.C. § 24. The motion shall describe the general nature and the relevance of the testimony, document, or thing.

(h) Evidence which is not taken or sought and filed in accordance with this subpart shall not be admissible.

(a) Testimony of a witness may be taken by oral deposition or affidavit in accordance with this subpart.

(b) A party wishing to take the testimony of a witness whose testimony will not be compelled under 35 U.S.C. § 24 may elect to present the testimony of the witness by affidavit or deposition. A party electing to present testimony of a witness by affidavit shall, prior to the close of the party's relevant testimony period, file and serve an affidavit of the witness or, where appropriate, a notice under § 1.671(e). To facilitate preparation of the record (§ 1.653(g) and (h)), a party should file an affidavit on paper which is 8-1/2 by 11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm). A party shall not be entitled to rely on any document referred to in the affidavit unless a copy of the document is filed with the affidavit. A party shall not be entitled to rely on any thing mentioned in the affidavit unless the opponent is given reasonable access to the thing. A thing is something other than a document. After the affidavit is filed and within a time set by an examiner-in-chief, any opponent may file a request to cross-examine the witness on oral deposition. If any opponent requests cross-examination of an affiant, the party shall notice a deposition under § 1.673(e) for the purpose of cross-examination by any opponent. Any redirect and recross shall take place at the deposition. At any deposition for the purpose of cross-examination of a witness whose testimony is presented by affidavit, the party shall not be entitled to rely on any document or thing not mentioned in one or more of the affidavits filed under this paragraph, except to the extent necessary to conduct proper redirect. A party electing to present testimony of a witness by deposition shall notice a deposition of the witness under § 1.673(a). The party who gives notice of a deposition shall be responsible for obtaining a court reporter and for filing a certified transcript of the deposition as required by § 1.676.

(c) A party wishing to take the testimony of a witness whose testimony will be compelled under 35 U.S.C. § 24 must first obtain permission from an examiner-in-chief under § 1.671(g). If permission is granted, the party shall notice a deposition of the witness under § 1.673 and may proceed under 35 U.S.C. § 24. The testimony of the witness shall be taken on oral deposition.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of this subpart, if the parties agree in writing, a deposition may be taken before any person authorized to administer oaths, at any place, upon any notice, and in any manner, and when so taken may be used like other depositions.

(e) If the parties agree in writing, the testimony of any witness may be submitted in the form of an affidavit without opportunity for cross-examination. The affidavit of the witness shall be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office.

(f) If the parties agree in writing, testimony may be submitted in the form of an agreed statement setting forth (1) how a particular witness would testify if called or (2) the facts in the case of one or more of the parties. The agreed statement shall be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office. See § 1.653(a).

(a) A party electing to take testimony of a witness by deposition shall, after complying with paragraphs (b) and (g) of this section, file and serve a single notice of deposition stating the time and place of each deposition to be taken. Depositions may be noticed for a reasonable time and place in the United States. Unless the parties agree in writing, a deposition may not be noticed for any other place without approval of an examiner-in-chief (see § 1.684). The notice shall specify the name and address of each witness and the general nature of the testimony to be given by the witness. If the name of a witness is not known, a general description sufficient to identify the witness or a particular class or group to which the witness belongs may be given instead.

(b) Unless the parties agree otherwise, a party shall serve, but not file, at least three days prior to the conference required by paragraph (g) of this section, if service is made by hand or "Express Mail," or at least ten days prior to the conference if service is made by any other means, the following:

(1) A list and copy of each document in the party's possession, custody, or control and upon which the party intends to rely at any deposition and

(2) A list of and a proffer of reasonable access to things in the party's possession, custody, or control and upon which the party intends to rely at any deposition.

(c) A party shall not be permitted to rely at any deposition on any witness not listed in the notice, or any document not served or any thing not listed as required by paragraph (b) of this section, (1) unless all opponents agree in writing or on the record to permit the party to rely on the witness, document, or thing or (2) except upon a motion (§ 1.635) promptly filed which is accompanied by any proposed notice, additional documents, or lists and which shows sufficient cause why the notice, documents, or lists were not served in accordance with this section.

(d) Each opposing party shall have a full opportunity to attend a deposition and cross-examine. If an opposing party attends a deposition of a witness not named in a notice and cross-examines the witness or fails to object to the taking of the deposition, the opposing party shall be deemed to have waived any right to object to the taking of the deposition for lack of proper notice.

(e) A party electing to present testimony by affidavit and who is required to notice depositions for the purpose of cross-examination under § 1.672(b), shall, after complying with paragraph (g) of this section, file and serve a single notice of deposition stating the time and place of each cross-examination deposition to be taken.

(f) The parties shall nor take depositions in more than one place at the same time or so nearly at the same time that reasonable opportunity to travel from one place of deposition to another cannot be had.

(g) Before serving a notice of deposition and after complying with paragraph (b) of this section, a party shall have an oral conference with all opponents to attempt to agree on a mutually acceptable time and place for conducting the deposition. A certificate shall appear in the notice stating that the oral conference took place or explaining why the conference could not be had. If the parties cannot agree to a mutually acceptable place and time for conducting the deposition at the conference, the parties shall contact an examiner-in-chief who shall then designate the time and place for conducting the deposition.

(h) A copy of the notice of deposition shall be attached to the certified transcript of the deposition filed under § 1.676(a).

(a) Within the United States or a territory or insular possession of the United States a deposition shall be taken before an officer authorized to administer oaths by the laws of the United States or of the place where the examination is held.

(b) Unless the parties agree in writing, the following persons shall not be competent to serve as an officer: (1) a relative or employee of a party, (2) a relative or employee of an attorney or agent of a party, or (3) a person interested, directly or indirectly, in the interference either as counsel, attorney, agent, or otherwise.

(a) Each witness before giving an oral deposition shall be duly sworn according to law by the officer before whom the deposition is to be taken.

(b) The testimony shall be taken in answer to interrogatories with any questions and answers recorded in their regular order by the officer or by some other person, who shall be subject to the provisions of § 1.674(b), in the presence of the officer unless the presence of the officer is waived on the record by agreement of all parties.

(c) All objections made at the time of the deposition to the qualifications of the officer taking the deposition, the manner of taking it, the evidence presented, the conduct of any party, or any other objection to the proceeding shall be noted on the record by the officer. Evidence objected to shall be taken subject to any objection.

(d) Unless the parties agree in writing or waive reading and signature by the witness on the record at the deposition, when the testimony has been transcribed a transcript of the deposition shall be read by the witness and then signed by the witness in the form of (1) an affidavit in the presence of any notary or (2) a declaration.

(a) The officer shall prepare a certified transcript of the deposition by attaching to a transcript of the deposition a copy of the notice of deposition, any exhibits to be annexed to the certified transcript, and a certificate signed and sealed by the officer and showing:

(1) The witness was duly sworn by the officer before commencement of testimony by the witness.

(2) The transcript is a true record of the testimony given by the witness.

(3) The name of the person by whom the testimony was recorded and, if not recorded by the officer, whether the testimony was recorded in the presence of the officer.

(4) The presence or absence of any opposing party.

(5) The place where the deposition was taken and the day and hour when the deposition began and ended.

(6) The officer is not disqualified under § 1.674.

(b) If the parties waived any of the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section, the certificate shall so state.

(c) The officer shall note on the certificate the circumstances under which a witness refuses to sign a transcript.

(d) Unless the parties agree otherwise in writing or on the record at the deposition, the officer shall securely seal the certified transcript in an envelope endorsed with the style of the interference (e.g., Smith v. Jones), the interference number, the name of the witness, and the date of sealing and shall promptly forward the envelope to BOX INTERFERENCE, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. Documents and things produced for inspection during the examination of a witness, shall, upon request of a party, be marked for identification and annexed to the certified transcript, and may be inspected and copied by any party, except that if the person producing the documents and things desires to retain them, the person may (1) offer copies to be marked for identification and annexed to the certified transcript and to serve thereafter as originals if the person affords to all parties fair opportunity to verify the copies by comparison with the originals or (2) offer the originals to be marked for identification, after giving to each party an opportunity to inspect and copy them, in which event the documents and things may be used in the same manner as if annexed to the certified transcript. The exhibits shall then be filed as specified in § 1.653(i). If the weight or bulk of a document or thing shall reasonably prevent the document or thing from being annexed to the certified transcript, it shall, unless waived on the record at the deposition by all parties, be authenticated by the officer and forwarded to the Commissioner in a separate package marked and addressed as provided in this paragraph.

(a) A transcript of a deposition must be typewritten on opaque, unglazed, durable paper approximately 8-1/2 by 11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm.) in size (letter size). Typing shall be double-spaced on one side of the paper in not smaller than pica-type with a margin of 1-1/2 inches (3.8 cm.) on the left-hand side of the page. The pages must be consecutively numbered throughout the entire record of each party (§ 1.653(d)) and the name of the witness must be typed at the top of each page (§ 1.653(e)). The questions propounded to each witness must be consecutively numbered unless paper with numbered lines is used and each question must be followed by its answer.

(b) Exhibits must be numbered consecutively and each must be marked as required by {g49 1.653(i).

Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, a certified transcript of a deposition must be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office within 45 days from the date of the deposition. If a party refuses to file a certified transcript, the examiner-in-chief or the Board may take appropriate action under § 1.616. If a party refuses to file a certified transcript, any opponent may move for leave to file the certified transcript and include a copy of the transcript as part of the opponent's record.

A certified transcript filed in the Patent and Trademark Office may be inspected by any party. The certified transcript may not be removed from the Patent and Trademark Office for printing (§ 1.653(g)) unless authorized by an examiner-in-chief upon such terms as may be appropriate.

(a) A party may introduce into evidence, if otherwise admissible, any official record or printed publication not identified on the record during the taking of testimony of a witness, by filing a notice offering the official record or publication into evidence. If the evidence relates to the party's case-in-chief, the notice shall be filed prior to close of testimony of the party's case-in-chief. If the evidence relates to rebuttal, the notice shall be filed prior to the close of testimony of the party's case-in-rebuttal. The notice shall (1) identify the official record or printed publication, (2) identify the portion thereof to be introduced in evidence, (3) indicate generally the relevance of the portion sought to be introduced in evidence, and (4), where appropriate, be accompanied by a certified copy of the official record or a copy of the printed publication (§ 1.671(d)).

(b) A copy of the notice, official record, and publication shall be served.

(c) Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, any written objection to the notice or to the admissibility of the official record or printed publication shall be filed within 15 days of service of the notice. See also § 1.656(h).

(a) Prior to close of a party's appropriate testimony period or within such time as may be set by an examiner-in-chief, a party may file a motion (§ 1.635) for leave to use in an interference testimony of a witness from another interference, proceeding, or action involving the same parties, subject to such conditions as may be deemed appropriate by an examiner-in-chief. The motion shall specify with particularity the exact testimony to be used and shall demonstrate its relevance.

(b) Any objection to the admissibility of the testimony of the witness shall be made in an opposition to the motion. See also § 1.656(h).

(a) An examiner-in-chief may authorize testimony of a witness to be taken in a foreign country. A party seeking to take testimony in a foreign country shall, prior to the close of the party's appropriate testimony period or within such time as may be set by an examiner-in-chief, file a motion(§ 1.635):

(1) Naming the witness.

(2) Describing the particular facts to which it is expected that the witness will testify.

(3) Stating the grounds on which the moving party believes that the witness will so testify.

(4) Demonstrating that the expected testimony is relevant.

(5) Demonstrating that the testimony cannot be taken in this country at all or cannot be taken in this country without hardship to the moving party greatly exceeding the hardship to which all opposing parties will be exposed by the taking of the testimony in a foreign country.

(6) Accompanied by an affidavit stating that the motion is made in good faith and not for the purpose of delay or harassing any party.

(7) Accompanied by written interrogatories to be asked of the witness.

(b) Any opposition under § 1.638(a) shall state any objection to the written interrogatories and shall include any cross-interrogatories to be asked of the witness. A reply under § 1.638(b) may be filed and shall be limited to stating any objection to any cross-interrogatories proposed in the opposition.

(c) If the motion is granted, the moving party shall be responsible for obtaining answers to the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories before an officer qualified to administer oaths in the foreign country under the laws of the United States or the foreign country. The officer shall prepare a transcript of the interrogatories, cross-interrogatories, and recorded answers to the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories and shall transmit the transcript to BOX INTERFERENCE, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, with a certificate signed and sealed by the officer and showing:

(1) The witness was duly sworn by the officer before answering the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories.

(2) The recorded answers are a true record of the answers given by the witness to the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories.

(3) The name of the person by whom the answers were recorded and, if not recorded by the officer, whether the answers were recorded in the presence of the officer.

(4) The presence or absence of any party.

(5) The place, day, and hour that the answers were recorded.

(6) A copy of the recorded answers was read by or to the witness before the witness signed the recorded answers and that the witness signed the recorded answers in the presence of the officer. The officer shall state the circumstances under which a witness refuses to read or sign recorded answers.

(7) The officer is not disqualified under § 1.674.

(d) If the parties agree in writing, the testimony may be taken before the officer on oral deposition.

(e) A party taking testimony in a foreign country shall have the burden of proving that false swearing in the giving of testimony is punishable as perjury under the laws of the foreign country. Unless false swearing in the giving of testimony before the officer shall be punishable as perjury under the laws of the foreign country where testimony is taken, the testimony shall not be entitled to the same weight as testimony taken in the United States. The weight of the testimony shall be determined in each case.

(a) An error in a notice for taking a deposition is waived unless a motion (§ 1.635) to quash the notice is filed as soon as the error is, or could have been, discovered.

(b) An objection to a qualification of an officer taking a deposition is waived unless:

(1) The objection is made on the record of the deposition before a witness begins to testify.

(2) If discovered after the deposition, a motion (§ 1.635) to suppress the deposition is filed as soon as the objection is, or could have been, discovered.

(c) An error or irregularity in the manner in which testimony is transcribed, a certified transcript is signed by a witness, or a certified transcript is prepared, signed, certified, sealed, indorsed, forwarded, filed, or otherwise handled by the officer is waived unless a motion (§ 1.635) to suppress the deposition is filed as soon as the error or irregularity is, or could have been, discovered.

(d) An objection to the competency of a witness, admissibility of evidence, manner of taking the deposition, the form of questions and answers, any oath or affirmation, or conduct of any party at the deposition is waived unless an objection is made on the record at the deposition stating the specific ground of objection. Any objection which a party wishes considered by the Board at final hearing shall be included in a motion to suppress under § 1.656(h).

(e) Nothing in this section precludes taking notice of plain errors affecting substantial rights although they were not brought to the attention of an examiner-in-chief or the Board.

(b) Where appropriate, a party may obtain production of documents and things during cross-examination of an opponent's witness or during the testimony period of the party's case-in-rebuttal.

(c) Upon a motion (§ 1.635) brought by a party within the time set by an examiner-in-chief under § 1.651 or thereafter as authorized by § 1.645 and upon a showing that the interest of justice so requires, an examiner-in-chief may order additional discovery, as to matters under the control of a party within the scope of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, specifying the terms and conditions of such additional discovery.

(d) The parties may agree to discovery among themselves at any time. In the absence of an agreement, a motion for additional discovery shall not be filed except as authorized by this subpart.

(a) If otherwise admissible a party may introduce into evidence, an answer to a written request for an admission or an answer to a written interrogatory obtained by discovery under § 1.687 by filing a copy of the request for admission or the written interrogatory and the answer. If the answer relates to a party's case-in-chief, the answer shall be filed prior to the close of testimony of the party's case-in-chief. If the answer relates to the party's rebuttal, the admission or answer shall be filed prior to the close of testimony of the party's case-in-rebuttal. Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, any written objection to the admissibility of an answer shall be filed within 15 days of service of the answer.

(b) A party may not rely upon any other matter obtained by discovery unless it is introduced into evidence under this subpart.

1. In the second column after the last full paragraph, the following paragraph is added:

An oral comment was received by telephone concerning the declaration of an interference under §§ 1.603 and 1.606 with applications filed under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 157—Statutory Invention Registration (SIR). Under 35 U.S.C. 157(c), a published SIR has all of the attributes specified for patents except those specified in 35 U.S.C. 183 and 271 to 289. Consequently, interferences will be declared between an application and either an application containing a request for a SIR (37 CFR 1.293) or a published SIR. Until sufficient experience is gained by the PTO, the interference will be conducted by procedure established on a case by case basis.

In the second column, after the first full paragraph, the following paragraph is added:

Oral comments have been received by telephone concerning the doctrine of interference estoppel under 37 CFR 1.658(c) with respect to a party's failure to move under 37 CFR 1.633(e) to declare an "additional interference" between an additional application not involved in the interference and owned by the party and an opponent's application or patent involved in the interference on a separate patentable invention. Generally a party will be estopped for failure to move when the separate patentable invention (subject matter) which could have been the subject of the "additional interference" was claimed (during the pendency of the interference) (1) in the opponent's involved application or patent or (2) in a non-involved application owned by the party.

The following illustrates the general applicability of interference estoppel in certain situations where a party fails to move under 37 CFR 1.633(e) to declare an "additional interference" on a separate patentable invention.

Clerical Corrections to the Rules

1. On page 420 the second column, the amendment to § 1.8, amendatory instruction 4 is corrected by changing "paragraph (a)(xii) to read "paragraph (a)(2)(xii)".

2. On page 421, the second column, in the second sentence of § 1.59, the spelling of the word "required" is corrected and the reference to "§ 1.21(1)" is corrected to read "§ 1.21(l)".

3. On page 423, the third column, § 1.324 is corrected by inserting in the second sentence the article "a" before the word "patent".

4. On page 424, the first column, in § 1.565, in the first sentence of paragraph (b), "in filed" should have read "is filed".

5. On page 425, the first column, the last sentence of § 1.601(i) is corrected by removing the last occurrence of the word "patents" and inserting, in its place, the word "patent".

6. On page 425, the first column, § 1.601(k) is corrected by removing the words "and interference" and inserting, in their place, the words "an interference".

7. On page 425, the second column the second sentence of § 1.601(n) is corrected by removing the words "a invention" and inserting, in their place, the words "an invention".

8. On page 427, the first column, § 1.611(d)(2) is corrected by inserting the word "in" after the word "provided".

9. On page 427, the second column, the reference to "1.608(b)" in the first sentence of §§ 1.612(a), 1.612(b) and 1.612(c) is corrected to read "1.608".

10. On page 427, the third column, the first sentence of § 1.615(a) is corrected by placing in italics the words "ex parte".

11. On page 427, the third column, the second sentence of § 1.616 is corrected by changing to upper case the first letter of the words "holding", "precluding" and "granting" in paragraphs (a) to (e).

12. On page 428, the first column, the first sentence of § 1.617(b) is corrected by removing the first occurrence of the word "any" and inserting, in its place, the word "may".

13. On page 428, the first column, the last sentence of § 1.617(b) is corrected by inserting the words "on each opponent" after the words "shall serve".

14. On page 428, the first column, the last sentence of § 1.617(d) is corrected by removing the words "an oral" and inserting, in their place, the article "a".

15. On page 428, the first column, the last sentence of § 1.617(g) is corrected by removing the word "part" and inserting, in its place, the word "subpart".

16. On page 428, the second column, the second sentence of § 1.621(a) is corrected by inserting the word "by" after the first occurrence of the word "or".

17. On page 428, the second column, the first sentence of § 1.621(b) is corrected by inserting a comma after the first occurrence of word "statement".

18. On page 428, the third column, the first sentence of § 1.624(a) is corrected by removing the semicolon appearing after the word "count" and inserting, in its place, a colon.

19. On page 430, the first column, the last sentence of § 1.631(a) is corrected by removing the words "a party shall serve copies of its preliminary statement on every opponent" and inserting, in their place, the words "a party shall serve a copy of its preliminary statement on each opponent".

20. On page 430, the first column, the heading of § 1.633 is corrected by changing to lower case the first letter of the word "Motions".

21. On page 430, the third column, in § 1.636(b) the reference to "§ 1.633(a), (b), or (g)" is corrected to read "§ 1.633(a), (b), (c)(1), or (g)".

22. On page 431, the second column, in §§ 1.637(d)(2) and 1.637(e)(1)(ii) the reference to "§ 1.608(b)" is corrected to read "§ 1.608".

23. On page 431, the second column, § 1.637(e)(1)(iv) is corrected by removing the words "a claim" and inserting, in their place, the words "any claim".

24. On page 431, the third column, § 1.637(e)(2)(iii) is corrected by removing the first occurrence of the word "party's" and inserting, in its place, the word "party".

25. On page 431, the third column, the second sentence of § 1.637(e)(2)(iv) is corrected by removing the two occurrences of the word "claims" and inserting, in their place, the word "claim".

26. On page 431, the third column, in the first sentence of § 1.637(f) (2), the reference to "§ 1.608(b)" is corrected to read "§ 1.608".

27. On page 432, the first column, § 1.637(h)(3) is corrected by removing the words "a claim" and inserting, in their place, the words "any proposed claim".

28. On page 432, the second column, § 1.640(b)(2) is corrected by removing the words "entered or" and inserting, in their place, the words "entered on".

29. On page 432, the third column, the penultimate sentence of § 1.640(c) is corrected by inserting the article "a" before the words "single examiner-in-chief".

30. On page 432, the third column, § 1.640(d)(1) is corrected by removing the words "all counts" and inserting, in their place, the words "any count".

31. On page 432, the third column, the first sentence of § 1.640(e) is corrected by removing the word "filed" and inserting, in its place, the word "files".

32. On page 433, the second column, § 1.644(i) is corrected by removing the word "petition" and inserting, in its place, "petitions".

33. On page 433, the second column, the first sentence of § 1.645(a) is corrected by inserting the word "or" after "§§ 1.302," and after "§§ 1.303,".

34. On page 433, the third column, in the first sentence of § 1.646(a), the spelling of the word "every" is corrected.

35. On page 433, the third column, § 1.646(c) is corrected by removing the word "part" and inserting, in its place, the word "subpart".

36. On page 434, the third column, § 1.653(c)(5) is corrected by removing the word "an" and inserting, in its place, the word "and".

37. On page 434, the third column, the last sentence of § 1.653(g) is corrected by removing the word "found" and inserting, in its place, the word "bound".

38. On page 435, the first column, the penultimate sentence of § 1.653(i) is corrected by removing the words "and exhibit" and inserting, in their place, the words "an exhibit".

39. On page 436, the third column, the second sentence of § 1.664(a) is corrected by removing the word "part" and inserting, in its place, the word "subpart".

40. On page 437, the first column, the last sentence of § 1.666(c) is corrected by removing the word "Commission" and inserting, in its place, "Commissioner".

41. On page 437, the second column, the first sentence of § 1.671(b) is corrected by removing the word "part" and inserting, in its place, the word "subpart".

42. On page 437, the second column, in the first sentence of § 1.671(e) the reference to "§ 1.608(b)" is corrected to read "§ 1.608".

43. On page 437, the third column, the third sentence of § 1.672(b) is corrected by removing the words "a party shall file" and inserting, in their place, the words "a party should file".

44. On page 438, the third column, in § 1.676(a), the spelling of the third occurrence of the word "transcript" is corrected.

45. On page 440, the first column, the second sentence of § 1.684(c)(6) is corrected by removing the words "a witness refused to read" and inserting, in their place, the words "a witness refuses to read".

46. On page 440, the second column, § 1.685(c) is corrected by inserting the word "or" after the first occurrence of the word "error," and by removing the word "indorsed" and inserting, in its place, the word "endorsed".

(158) Interference Practice: Response to Order to Show Cause Under 37 CFR 1.640

37 CFR 1.640(e) provides that when an order to show cause under 37 CFR 1.640(d) is issued against an interference party, the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences will enter judgment against that party "unless, within 20 days after the date of the order, the party against whom the order issued files a paper which shows good cause why judgment should not be entered in accordance with the order." In the application of this rule, some confusion has arisen as to the nature of the "paper" which the party must file when the basis of the order is 37 CFR 1.640(d)(1), i.e., where "[a] decision on a motion is entered which is dispositive of the interference against the party on any count."

Normally, the "paper" filed in response to such an order to show cause should be a simple request that final hearing (see 37 CFR 1.654) be set to review the decision on the motion which was dispositive of the interference against the party, as well as any other decision on motion which the party may wish to have reviewed by the Board.* When such a response is filed, the Examiner-in-Chief will normally set the times for filing briefs under 37 CFR 1.656. The response should be accompanied by a motion requesting a testimony period, if the party desires to take testimony. See 37 CFR 1.640(e), last sentence. Also, an opposing party may request a testimony period, even if the party responding to the order to show cause does not. Such a request should be filed promptly after the Examiner-in-Chief enters an order setting the brief times, but in no event more than twenty (20) days after entry of such order. Cf. the Commissioner's Notice of June 15, 1981, 1008 O.G. 9 (July 14, 1981).

Instead of filing a request that final hearing be set, the party under order to show cause may file a paper containing a full discussion of the reasons why judgment should not be entered. However, before deciding to file such a paper, the following should be taken into consideration:

(1) Such paper will be construed as a request for final hearing if a testimony period is requested;

(2) Such paper will be deemed a waiver of any opportunity to present oral argument concerning the matters discussed therein, and the matter will be decided by the Board based upon the content of the paper and any response thereto;

(3) An opposing party may still request final hearing and/or a testimony period within twenty (20) days of the date of service of the paper, and if either request is granted it will be necessary for the parties to file briefs under 37 CFR 1.656.

It is the policy of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences that when final hearing is set pursuant to a request therefor following an order to show cause issued as a result of a decision on preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 or 1.634, the parties must raise at that hearing for consideration by the Board all matters specified in 37 CFR 1.655(b) which were decided on the merits by the Examiner-in-Chief and which they wish to have considered. In other words, once the brief times are set for such a final hearing, every matter which was decided by an Examiner-in-Chief in connection with a motion under 37 CFR 1.633 or 1.634 must be raised in the parties' main briefs if the parties wish to have those matters considered by the Board. A party cannot wait to see what the Board's decision on one such matter will be and then, if the decision is unfavorable to the party and the case continues, raise that matter or any other such matter at a subsequent final hearing.

(159) Winkler v. Guglielmino

On March 15, 1989, a panel of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences entered a decision in an interference awarding priority to junior party, Guglielmino, and held that Winkler, the senior party, is not entitled to a patent containing a claim corresponding to the interference count because he admitted the subject matter of the count was unpatentable. Gugielmino v. Winkler, 11 USPQ2d 1389 (Bd. Pat. App. & Int. 1989).

An appeal was taken to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. On May 9, 1990, the Federal Circuit vacated and remanded. Winkler v. Gulielmino, Appeal No. 89-1571 (Fed. Cir. May 9, 1990). The opinion in support of the decision was not published.

In view of the Federal Circuit's decision, the Board's published decision is no longer viable precedent and will not be followed.

In the future, a motion for judgment under 37 CFR § 1.633(a) contending that an opponent's claims corresponding to a count are not patentable over the prior art shall not be taken as an admission per se that the moving party's claims corresponding to the count are also unpatentable. However, if an Examiner-in-Chief or a panel of the Board determines that the motion should be granted on the merits and the prior art relied upon by the moving party is equally applicable to the claims of the moving party, action may be taken against all parties under 37 CFR § 1.641 by issuing an order to show cause. When the prior art relied upon in support of the motion is not a statutory bar, a party in the response to the order to show cause may request a testimony period for the purpose of presenting evidence to overcome the date of the relied upon prior art.

Prior cases, such as Slivinski v. Lane, 1922 Dec. Comm'r Pat. 4 (Comm'r Pat. 1922), held that when an applicant, in interference with a patent, called attention to a reference which allegedly anticipated the subject matter of the count, the interference should be dissolved and the applicant's claims rejected on the admission of non-patentability. The rationale behind this holding was that the Patent Office had no jurisdiction in an interference to cancel a patent. Since 35 U.S.C. § 135(a) gives the Board jurisdiction to consider patentability in an interference and present interference rules authorize a motion for judgment against a patentee based on unpatentability over the prior art, the holding of Slivinski and similiar cases is no longer applicable. Under 37 CFR §§ 1.601 through 1.690, a motion for judgment based on unpatentability over prior art does not constitute an admission of unpatentability to the moving party.

(160) Interferences—Preliminary Motions for Judgment

When a party files a preliminary motion for judgment [37 CFR § 1.633(a)] against an opponent in an interference on the ground that the claim(s) corresponding to a count are unpatentable over prior art, and, based upon the effective filing date(s) of the application(s)/patent(s) involved in the interference, the prior art would also be applicable to the moving party, the following will apply:

1. The mere filing of the motion will not be construed as an admission by the moving party [See Commissioner's Notice of May 23, 1990, 1115 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 31 (June 19, 1990), discussing Winkler v. Guglielmino, Appeal No. 89-1571 (Fed. Cir. May 9, 1990) (unpublished)].

2. The Examiner-in-Chief (EIC) will determine (i) whether the date(s) of the cited prior art are such that it would on its face appear to apply to the moving party, and (ii) if so, whether the motion includes an explanation as to why the prior art would not be applicable to the movant. If the motion does not contain an explanation, the EIC will send a letter to the moving party. The letter must: (a) inform the movant that the prior art appears to be applicable against the movant; (b) set a time period to provide an explanation as to why the prior art does not apply to the movant; (c) state that unless a sufficient explanation (and evidence, if appropriate, e.g., Rule 132 affidavit) is filled within the time set, the movant will not be permitted to rely on any such explanation (and evidence) in response to or in any subsequent action in the interference.

3.If the movant provides no explanation, or an insufficient explanation, as to why the cited prior art would not apply to the movant, the EIC will determine whether or not the prior art cited in support of the motion renders the count (claims corresponding to the count) unpatentabe to the moving party as well as each of the other parties. If the EIC concludes that the claims are unpatentable, the EIC will issue an Order to Show Cause under 37 CFR § 1.640 against all parties to whom the prior art is applicable without regard to the dates alleged in the preliminary statements.[1] Note that if the moving party expressly admits that the prior art renders his corresponding claims unpatentable, the EIC must still determine whether the corresponding claims of the other parties are unpatentable over that art.

4. In response to the Order to Show Cause, the parties have the options set forth in the Commissioner's Notice of December 8, 1986, 1074 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 4 (January 6, 1987), and/or may move under 37 CFR § 1.651(c)(4) for a testimony period, if appropiate. However, the following should be noted:

A. If the party who filed the motion for judgment is under the Order to Show Cause, the party's showing and/or request for testimony in response to the Order may not be based upon any reasons which could have been, but were not, given in explanation of why the cited prior art would not apply to the party.

B. If the prior art is not a statutory bar to a party and the allegations in that party's preliminary statement, if proven, would antedate the effective date(s) of the prior art, an appropriate response to the Order to Show Cause would be a request to take testimony to antedate the prior art, as well as to prove priority of invention. If applicable, this option may be specified in the Order to Show Cause.

C. A request for a testimony period to remove the prior art based upon other reasons, e.g., inoperativeness of a reference, unexpected results, etc., must meet the criteria set forth in Hanagan v. Kimura, Interference No. 102,150 ___USPQ2d___ (Comm'r. Pat. Apr. 5, 1990) (LEXIS, Patcop library, Omni file).

D. Even assuming corroboration, the evidence necessary to antedate a reference is not necessarily the same as that required to prove priority of invention. Cf. Anderson v. Norman, 185 USPQ 371 (Comm'r Pat. 1968). Therfore, depending on the circumstances, a request to take priority testimony may not be adequate to cover taking testimony to antedate the reference, and vice versa.

August 10, 1990 SAUL SEROTA Chairman, Board of Patentt Appeals and Interferences

1. Goutzoulis v. Athale, 15 USPQ2d 1461 (Comm'r Pat.) suggests that a preliminary statement might be considered to determine whether an Order to Show Cause should be issued. In view of the procedure outlined herein, that suggestion will not be followed.

(161) Animals—Patentability

A decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Allen, 2 USPQ2d 1425 (Bd. App. & Int., Apr. 3, 1987), held that claimed polyploid oysters are nonnaturally occurring manufactures or compositions of matter within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 101. The Board relied upon the opinion of the Supreme Court in Diamond v. Chakrabarty, 447 U.S. 303, 208 USPQ 193 (1980) as it had done in Ex parte Hibbard, 227 USPQ 443 (Bd. App. & Int., 1985), as controlling authority that Congress intended statutory subject matter to "include anything under the sun that is made by man." The Patent and Trademark Office now considers nonnaturally occurring non-human multicellular living organisms, including animals, to be patentable subject matter within the scope of 35 U.S.C. 101.

The Board's decision does not affect the principle and practice that products found in nature will not be considered to be patentable subject matter under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 102. An article of manufacture or composition of matter occurring in nature will not be considered patentable unless given a new form, quality, properties or combination not present in the original article existing in nature in accordance with existing law. See e.g. Funk Bros. Seed Co. v. Kalo Inoculant Co., 333 U.S. 127, 76 USPQ 280 (1948); American Fruit Growers v. Brogdex, 283 U.S. 1, 8 USPQ 131 (1931); Ex Parte Grayson, 51 USPQ 413 (Bd. App. 1941).

A claim directed to or including within its scope a human being will not be considered to be patentable subject matter under 35 U.S.C. 101. The grant of a limited, but exclusive property right in a human being is prohibited by the Constitution. Accordingly, it is suggested that any claim directed to a nonplant multicellular organism which would include a human being within its scope include the limitation "non-human" to avoid this ground of rejection. The use of a negative limitation to define the metes and bounds of the claimed subject matter is a permissible form of expression, In re Wakefield, 422 F.2d 897, 164 USPQ 636 (CCPA 1970).

Accordingly, the Patent and Trademark Office is now examining claims directed to multicellular living organisms, including animals. To the extent that the claimed subject matter is directed to a non-human "nonnaturally occurring manufacture or composition of matter — a product of human ingenuity" (Diamond v. Chakrabarty), such claims will not be rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as being directed to nonstatutory subject matter.

[Docket No. 50103-7058]

Arbitration of Patent Interference Cases

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending its rules to implement the arbitration provisions of section 105 of the Patent Law Amendments Act of 1984, Pub. L. 98-622.
Effective Date: May 27, 1987.
For Further Information Contact: Ian A. Calvert or Michael Sofocleous by telephone at (703) 557-4000 or by mail marked to the attention of either and addressed to Box Interference, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: Section 105 of the Patent Law Amendments Act of 1984, enacted Nov. 8, 1984, provides for the arbitration of patent interference cases. Section 105, codified as 35 U.S.C. 135(d), provides:

Parties to a patent interference, within such time as may be specified by the Commissioner by regulation, may determine such contest or any aspect thereof by arbitration. Such arbitration shall be governed by the provisions of title 9 to the extent such title is not inconsistent with this section. The parties shall give notice of any arbitration award to the Commissioner, and such award shall, as between the parties to the arbitration, be dispositive of the issues to which it relates. The arbitration award shall be unenforceable until such notice is given. Nothing in this subsection shall preclude the Commissioner from determining patentability of the invention involved in the interference.

The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) conducts interference proceedings to determine any question of patentability and priority of invention between two or more parties claiming the same patentable invention. An interference may be declared between two or more pending applications naming different inventors when, in the opinion of an examiner, the applications contain claims for the same patentable invention. An interference may be declared between one or more pending applications and one or more unexpired patents naming different inventors when, in the opinion of an examiner, any application and any unexpired patent contain claims for the same patentable invention. Patent interference cases can be quite expensive. Arbitration may prove useful to minimize expenses in interference cases. The arbitration rule applies to all pending interferences.

The PTO published an advance notice of rulemaking in the Federal Register of Jan. 16, 1985 (50 FR 2294-2296). The notice was also published in the Official Gazette on Feb. 12, 1985 (1051 O.G. 9-10). The notice also appeared in the Bureau of National Affairs' Patent, Trademark and Copyright Journal, Vol. 29, p. 310 (Jan. 24, 1985), hereinafter "BNA." Five written comments were received in response to the advance notice.

A notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register on Sept. 15, 1986 (51 FR 32756-32762), in the Official Gazette on Oct. 21, 1986 (1071 O.G. 25-31), and in BNA's Patent, Trademark and Copyright Journal, Vol. 32, pp. 552-558 (Sept. 18, 1986). In response to the notice, three comments, two in writing and one by telephone, were received. These comments are discussed herein.

All written comments are available for public inspection in Rm. 10C01, Crystal Gateway 2, 1225 Jefferson Davis Hwy., Arlington, Va.

Discussion of the Rule

Under § 1.690 the arbitrator can determine issues of patentability as between the parties but a determination by him or her that the subject matter is patentable would not be binding upon the PTO. If the arbitrator's award holds that a party's claims corresponding to the count are unpatentable over prior art or under 35 U.S.C. 112, that determination would be binding on that party vis-a-vis the party's opponent and would result in a judgment adverse to that party. The judgment, however, would not discharge the duty that each party has under 37 CFR 1.56 to bring to the attention of the examiner in charge of its respective application any prior art and/or reason relied upon by the arbitrator in the determination of unpatentability.

It is the longstanding practice of the PTO to favor the settlement of interferences and the PTO looks with favor on all proper efforts in that direction as being conducive to the termination of the proceeding. See 4 Revise and Caesar, Interference Law and Practice, section 861, p. 2956 (Michie Co. 1948) and the Commissioner's Notice of Nov. 9, 1976, titled, "Extensions of Time and Filing of Papers in Interferences," 953 Official Gazette 2 (Dec. 7, 1976). In this regard, the notice states that:

> • • • stipulation or motions for extensions of time under 37 CFR 1.245 will not henceforth be approved or granted, respectively, unless accompanied by a detailed showing of facts sufficient to establish that the action for which the extension is sought could not have been or cannot be taken or completed during the time previously set therefor, and that the entire extension appears necessary for the taking or completion of that action. Since the Office favors the amicable settlement of interferences, the foregoing requirement will be liberally applied in the case of a first request for extension of time for the purpose of negotiating settlement.

Consequently, the examiner-in-chief may give favorable consideration to a motion for an extension of time for purposes of settlement; however, a further motion for an extension for that purpose would not be granted unless it is accompanied by a schedule of specific dates showing that the parties will make a good faith effort to promptly terminate the proceeding. If preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 have not been filed, the examiner-in-chief would not normally extend the time for their filing merely for purposes of settlement. In these circumstances, the examiner-in-chief would require that the preliminary motions be filed or that their filing be waived.

If the proceeding is in the testimony stage, the examiner-in-chief could grant the parties' motion to extend all the unexpired testimony times to close concurrently on the date the record is due provided they file a stipulation that any evidence to be submitted will be in one of the forms specified in 37 CFR 1.672(e) and (f), i.e., affidavit testimony or a stipulation either as to what a particular witness would testify to if called or the facts in the case of any party.

Analogously, the aforesaid practice would apply to arbitration. Section 1.690 requires that parties who intend to arbitrate an interference notify the examiner-in-chief in writing of their intention to arbitrate and file a copy of the arbitration agreement within 20 days of its execution. Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 135(c) an agreement to arbitrate is considered to be one "made in connection with and in contemplation of the termination of the interference". The agreement must be in writing a copy filed in the PTO within 20 days after its execution. The notification of intention to arbitrate must be made in a separate paper. Merely incorporating the notification in the agreement is not sufficient to comply with § 1.690(a). The parties also will be required to adhere to a time schedule approved by the examiner-in-chief such that the interference proceeding can be expeditiously resolved so as to prevent the unnecessary postponement of the beginning of the running of the term of any patent resulting from an application involved in the interference. Pritchard v. Loughlin, 361 F.2d 483, 149 USPQ 841 (CCPA 1966).

If the parties desire to arbitrate an interference prior to the close of the motion period, the examiner-in-chief will not normally grant an extension of time for the purpose. The parties will be required to file their preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633. After the motions are filed, the examiner-in-chief could grant an extension only upon compliance with 37 CFR 1.645 which requires a showing of "good cause." Such a "good cause" showing would normally include a schedule, agreed to by the parties, setting forth, inter alia, the dates for (1) executing the arbitration agreement, (2) determining priority and (3) terminating the interference.

Section 1.690(a) requires that an arbitration agreement include the following:

(1) The name of the arbitrator or a date certain (not more than 30 days after the execution of the agreement) for his or her selection.
(2) The issues to be decided by the arbitrator.
(3) A provisions that the arbitrator's award is binding on the parties and that the Board can enter a judgment based thereon.

Section 1.690(c) requires that a copy of the arbitration award be filed within 20 days from the date of the award or by a date set by the examiner-in-chief.

If the proceeding is in the testimony stage and the parties desire to arbitrate, the examiner-in-chief could grant a reasonable extension for that purpose. A motion for a further extension for that purpose would not be granted unless it were accompanied by a schedule, agreed to by the parties, setting forth, inter alia, the dates for (1) executing the arbitration agreement, (2) determining priority, and (3) terminating the interference. If the parties are to submit the required schedule, a motion for a further extension could be granted. If the parties file a copy of the arbitration agreement and they agree that any evidence submitted in the proceeding will be in one of the forms specified by 37 CFR 1.672(e) or (f), the examiner-in-chief could give favorable consideration to the parties' motion that all the unexpired times be extended to close concurrently on the date the record is due. By that date, the parties would be required to file the arbitrator's award and their records, if necessary for the resolution of any issue not decided by the arbitrator. If the award is not dispositive of all the issues in the interference, the examiner-in-chief would set brief times so that parties could explain their evidence relating to any issues which the arbitrator did not, or was unable to decide. For example, the award might be dispositive of the issue of priority between the parties and leave for the Board's determination the question of substituting a new count raised in a preliminary motion under 37 CFR 1.633.

The arbitration award, filed by the parties, would be in the nature of a final decision and should include the following:

(1) The style (e.g., Jones v. Smith), the number of the interference and the names of the real parties in interest.
(2) The subject matter in issue, i.e., the counts and a table of counts, if necessary, indicating the relationship of the parties' claims corresponding to each count and those claims not corresponding thereto.
(3) The issues for decision before the arbitrator.
(4) The arbitrator's decision. The decision may also include a statement of the grounds and reasoning in support thereof.
(5) A summary, if appropriate, indicating, inter alia, that judgment should be awarded to one of the parties.

Any party to the arbitration can attack the award only in the manner provided by 9 U.S.C. 10 and 11.

9 U.S.C. 10 reads as follows:

> In either of the following cases the United States court in and for the district wherein the award was made may make an order vacating the award upon the application of any party to the arbitration—
> (a) Where the award was procured by corruption, fraud, or undue means.
> (b) Where there was evident partiality or corruption in the arbitrators, or either of them.
> (c) Where the arbitrators were guilty of misconduct in refusing to postpone the hearing, upon sufficient cause shown, or in refusing to hear evidence pertinent and material to the controversy; or of any other misbehavior by which the rights of any part have been prejudiced.
> (d) Where the arbitrators exceeded their powers, or so imperfectly execute them that a mutual, final, and definite award upon the subject matter submitted was not made.
> (e) Where an award is vacated and the time within which the agreement required the award to be made has not expired the court may, in its discretion, direct a rehearing by the arbitrators.

9 U.S.C. 11 reads as follows:

> In either of the following cases, the United States court in and for the district wherein the award was made may make an order modifying or correcting the award upon the application of any party to the arbitration—
> (a) Where there was an evident material miscalculation of figures or an evident material mistake in the description of any person, thing, or property referred to in the award.
> (b) Where the arbitrators have awarded upon a matter not submitted to them, unless it is a matter not affecting the merits of the decision upon the matter submitted.
> (c) Where the award is imperfect in matter of form not affecting the merits of the controversy.
> The order may modify and correct the award, so as to effect the intent thereof and promote justice between the parties.

See, for example, Fairchild and Co., Inc. v. Richmond, F. and P. R. Co., 516 F.Supp. 1305 (D.D.C. 1981). If such an attack were to be made by one of the parties while the interference is pending before the Board, the Board would not stay the interference. Rather, the Board would issue its judgment in accordance with the award. So long as the award is in compliance with § 1.690, it would carry the presumption that the arbitrator acted correctly in making his decision and accordingly, the party designated by the award as the prevailing party would be entitled prima facie to a judgment in its favor. If the dissatisfied party brings an action in an appropriate United States district court and if the court vacates, modifies or corrects the award, the Board would take action consistent with the court's findings. No action would lie in the PTO to vacate or correct an arbitration award, unless all parties agreed in writing.

The following examples illustrate the practice of the PTO concerning arbitration.

Arbitration Practice—Preliminary Stage

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. The parties decide to arbitrate the interference in accordance with § 1.690 and file a motion for an extension of time so that they can "freely" arbitrate the interference, but do not file a waiver of their right to file motions.

The examiner-in-chief would deny the motion because the parties' intention to arbitrate, in and of itself, does not constitute a showing of "good cause" within the meaning of 37 CFR 1.645(a). Even if the parties file an agreement to arbitrate, the PTO would not grant any extension of time to permit the parties to "freely" arbitrate an interference prior to the expiration of the time for filing preliminary motions.

Example 2

Arbitration Practice—Testimony Stage

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633. The parties file preliminary motions; the examiner-in-chief renders a decision thereon and sets the testimony times. The parties file a notice of intent to arbitrate the interference under § 1.690(a) and a motion for a one month extension of the testimony times. The examiner-in-chief could grant the motion, but would indicate that if the parties file another motion for an extension for that purpose, the motion must be accompanied by a schedule, agreed to by the parties, setting forth the dates for (1) executing the arbitration agreement, (2) determining priority and (3) terminating the interference.

The parties file a motion for an additional one month extension of time to permit the parties to arbitrate the interference. Accompanying the motion is a proposed schedule of times and a copy of the arbitration agreement which provides, inter alia, (i) the name of the arbitrator or a date certain for his selection, (ii) that the arbitrator's award will be binding on the parties, (iii) the issues to be decided by the arbitrator and (iv) that the award will be filed by the date the record is due. The parties also indicate that the evidence to be filed in the proceeding will be in one of the forms specified by 37 CFR 1.672(e) or (f). The examiner-in-chief could grant the motion and indicate that he will give favorable consideration to a motion to extend all the unexpired times to close concurrently on the date the record is due should the parties request such.

On the date for filing the record, the parties file the arbitrator's award and their evidentiary records, if necessary. The award states (i) the style and number of the interference and the real parties in interest, (ii) the subject matter in issue and the parties' claims which correspond thereto and which do not correspond thereto, (iii) the issues for decision before the arbitrator, (iv) the arbitrator's decision (which may include a statement of the grounds and reasoning in support thereof) and (v) that judgment should be awarded to one of the parties. The examiner-in-chief examines the award to ensure that it complies with § 1.690 and is dispositive of the issues in the interference which can be decided by the arbitrator. If the award is otherwise acceptable, the Board would issue a judgment based on the award. If the award is not dispositive of all the issues in the interference, the examiner-in-chief would determine how the interference will proceed.

Arbitration Practice—Award Decides Interference-in-Fact Issue and Junior Party Takes No Testimony

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. The junior party files a motion for judgment under 37 CFR 1.633(b) on the ground that there is no interference-in-fact between his claims corresponding to the count and his opponent's claims corresponding thereto. The examiner-in-chief denies the motion, examines the preliminary statements and sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference, notify the examiner-in-chief of their intent to arbitrate and file an arbitration agreement which is approved by the examiner-in-chief. On the date for filing the record, the junior party files the award together with a motion requesting that the interference be terminated in view of the award. He does not file a record. In his award the arbitrator holds that no interference-in-fact exists between the parties' claims corresponding to the count.

The motion would be denied because the award decides a matter of patentability which would not result in a judgment adverse to one of the parties. Consequently, the junior party would be placed under an order to show cause why judgment under 37 CFR 1.652 should not be entered against him for his failure to file an evidentiary record by the time set therefore. In response to the order, the junior party requests final hearing to review the examiner-in-chief's denial of the motion for judgment and a testimony period to show no interference-in-fact. The examiner-in-chief would grant the junior party's request to the extent that final hearing is set and would deny the request for testimony because the junior party already had the opportunity to take testimony on the matter.

Arbitration Practice—Cannot Decide Patentability

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. The junior party files a motion for judgment under 37 CFR 1.633(a) on the ground that the claims corresponding to the count are unpatentable over prior art. In his decision on motions, the examiner-in-chief grants the motion and places both parties under an order pursuant to 37 CFR 1.640(d)(1) to show cause why judgment should not be entered against them as to the count. In response to the order, the senior party files a paper in accordance with 37 CFR 1.640(e) purportedly showing good cause why judgment should not be entered in accordance with the order and a motion requesting permission to arbitrate the patentability issue. The examiner-in-chief would deny the motion. The arbitrator is without authority to establish vis-a-vis the public that the subject matter of the court is patentable. Thus, the arbitration will serve no useful purpose. The Board would consider the senior party's paper and enter an appropriate order.

Example 5

Arbitration Practice—Award After Decision on Motions

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JAN 1 1991 UMI

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. The junior party files a motion for judgment under 37 CFR 1.633(a) on the ground that the claims corresponding to counts 1 and 2 are unpatentable over prior art. In his decision on motions, the examiner-in-chief grants the motion with respect to count 1, denies the motion with respect to count 2 and places both parties under an order pursuant to 37 CFR 1.640(d)(1) to show cause why judgment should not be entered against them as to count 1. The senior party files a paper in accordance with 37 CFR 1.640(e); the junior party, a response thereto. The Board considers the paper and the response thereto and based on the record enters judgment adverse to both parties as to count 1. Thereafter, the examiner-in-chief examines the preliminary statements and sets dates for taking testimony and filing the record.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference, notify the examiner-in-chief of their intent to arbitrate and file an arbitration agreement which is approved by the examiner-in-chief. In his award, the arbitrator decides that judgment should be awarded to the junior party. On the date for filing the record, both parties file the award together with a motion requesting that the interference be terminated in view of the award. No record is filed.

The motion would be granted and accordingly it would be held that the senior party is not entitled to a patent containing his claims corresponding to count 2.

Example 6

Arbitration Practice—Award Decides Patentability

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. No motions for judgment under 37 CFR 1.633 are filed and after the examination of the preliminary statements, the examiner-in-chief sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference, notify the examiner-in-chief of their intent to arbitrate and file an arbitration agreement which is approved by the examiner-in-chief. In his award, the arbitrator finds (1) that the evidence is insufficient to establish a prior public use bar under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) against the junior party, (2) that the claims of the junior party corresponding to the count are patentable under 35 U.S.C. 103 over the prior art cited by the senior party to the junior party, and (3) that judgment on priority should be awarded to junior party. On the date for filing together with a motion requesting that the interference be terminated in view of the award.

The motion would be granted and accordingly it would be held that the senior party is not entitled to a patent containing his claims corresponding to the count. After the termination of the proceeding, each party has the duty under 37 CFR 1.56 to bring before the primary examiner the evidence concerning the purported public use bar and the prior art cited by the senior party and/or considered by the arbitrator.

Arbitration Practice—Award Grants Priority to Junior Party Contingent Upon Granting of Preliminary Motion Under 1.633(C)

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. The junior party files a motion under 37 CFR 1.633(c)(1) to substitute another count. The examiner-in-chief denies the motion, examines the preliminary statements and sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference, notify the examiner-in-chief of their intention to arbitrate and enter into an arbitration agreement which is approved by the examiner-in-chief. The agreement provides that any evidence to be submitted by the parties will be in the form of a stipulation under 37 CFR 1.672(e) and (f). The parties file a motion requesting that all the unexpired testimony times be extended to close concurrently on the date the record is due. The motion would be granted.

On the date for filing the record, the junior party files his record and the award. The award states, inter alia, that if the Board at final hearing should grant the junior party's motion under 37 CFR 1.633(c)(1) to substitute a new count, judgment should be awarded to the junior party based on the evidence. Otherwise, the award states that judgment should be awarded to the senior party.

The examiner-in-chief sets the brief times and after the filing thereof the interference would be set for final hearing so that the Board can review the examinter-in-chief's denial of the junior party's motion under 37 CFR 1.633(c) and issue an appropriate judgment based on the award.

Example 8

Arbitration Practice—Award Attacked

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. No preliminary motions are filed. The examiner-in-chief examines the preliminary statements and sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference, notify the examiner-in-chief of their intention to arbitrate and file an arbitration agreement which is approved by the examiner-in-chief.

On the date for filing the record, both parties file their records. The junior party files the award which states that judgment should be awarded to him and a motion for judgment based on that award. The senior party files an opposition to the motion for judgment on the grounds (i) that the award contains errors of law, (ii) that the award was procured by "corruption, fraud or undue means" in violation of 9 U.S.C. 10(a), and (iii) that the arbitrator exhibited "evident partiality" in violation of 9 U.S.C. 10(b) and was "guilty of misconduct * * * in refusing to hear evidence pertinent and material" to the interference, citing 9 U.S.C. 10(c).

The Board would grant the judgment based on the award, holding that the senior party is not entitled to a patent containing his claims corresponding to the count. So long as the award is in compliance with the provisions of § 1.690, it would carry a presumption that the arbitrator acted properly in all respects. Consequently, before the PTO the award is binding upon the parties and the junior party is prima facie entitled to a judgment in its favor. Thus, no action lies in the PTO as regards the matter raised by the senior party. The senior party's action lies in an appropriate United States district court and the PTO would take any action consistent with the court's decision.

Arbitration Practice—Award Cannot Modify Board's Final Decision

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. No motions are filed. The examiner-in-chief examines the preliminary statements and sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference and enter into an arbitration agreement. Neither party notifies the examiner-in-chief of their intent to arbitrate nor do they file a copy of the agreement in the interference. Both parties timely file their records and briefs. Both waive oral argument. The Board enters a final decision after consideration of the evidence in favor of the senior party.

The junior party requests reconsideration of the Board's final decision, submits a copy of the arbitration award and moves that the Board set aside its final decision and enter judgment in his favor based on the award. In support of its request, the junior party cites 9 U.S.C. 9, which provides that "any party to the arbitration may apply to the court so specified for an order confirming the award" and 35 U.S.C. 135(d) which provides that title 9 applies to interference arbitrations.

The Board would deny the motion to set aside. The parties did not comply with § 1.690(a), i.e., notify the examiner-in-chief in writing of their intention to arbitrate and file a copy of the arbitration agreement within twenty (20) days of its execution. The denial of the motion is an appropriate sanction under 37 CFR 1.616. Such action by the Board is considered consistent with long-standing interference practice. Cf. Humphrey v. Fickert, 1904 Dec. Comm'r. Pat. 447 (Comm'r. 1904) wherein the Board, after it had considered the evidence, refused to set aside its award of priority to Fickert and act upon the Fickert's concession of priority in favor of Humphrey, the losing party.

Arbitration Award Filed With Record—No Notice to Examiner-In-Chief

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. No motions are filed. The examiner-in-chief examines the preliminary statements and sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference and enter into an arbitration agreement. Neither party notifies the examiner-in-chief of the agreement. The junior party timely files its record together with a copy of the arbitration award and a motion for judgment based on the award.

The motion would be denied. Under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.616, the examiner-in-chief would place both parties under an order to show cause why judgment should not be rendered against them for their failure to comply with 1.690(a), i.e., failing to notify him of their intent to arbitrate and file a copy of the arbitration agreement.

Discussion of Comments

One commentor suggested that the expression "An interference or any aspect thereof shall be arbitrated" in part (b) of proposed § 1.690 might be construed as going beyond the terms of the statute by authorizing an examiner-in-chief to require the parties to arbitrate an interference, and proposed that the quoted language be changed to "An arbitration proceeding under this section shall be conducted." To eliminate any possible misconstruction of the rule, this proposal has been adopted.

A second commentor suggested, by telephone, that a provision be added to proposed § 1.690 requiring that the arbitrator be familiar with United States interference practice, and that United States law be applied by the arbitrator in making the determination. He expressed the fear that a foreign arbitrator might reach a result contrary to established domestic law.

This suggestion has not been adopted. It is incumbent upon the parties to select the arbitrator, and to satisfy themselves as to his or her qualifications. Presumably if the arbitrator's decision is contrary to established law, any resulting patent would be subject to attack on that ground by a third party in subsequent litigation.

Another commentor stated that, with the arbitration rule, the PTO was "attempting to apply a band-aid to a system which cannot be cured by application of a band-aid," and that the first-to-file system should be adopted in place of the first-to-invent system. This suggestion is obviously far beyond the scope of the rule change under consideration. The first-to-invent system is mandated by statute and could not be replaced merely by a change in the rules. The purpose of § 1.690 is to establish a specific procedure governing the optional arbitration of interferences provided by section 105 of Pub. L. 98-622.

Other Considerations

This rule does not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of natural resources.

The rule is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce certified to the Small Business Administration that the rule will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act. Pub. L. 96-354) because arbitration intended to minimize expenses in interference cases.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effects on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The rule will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Authority delegations, Conflicts of interest, Courts, Inventions and patents, Lawyers.

For the reasons set out in the preamble and under the authority given to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6 and 135, Part 1 of Title 37 CFR is amended as follows:

PART 1—RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 would continue to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6 unless otherwise noted.

2. New § 1.690 is added to Subpart E to read as follows:

(a) Parties to a patent interference may determine the interference or any aspect thereof by arbitration. Such arbitration shall be governed by the provisions of Title 9, United States Code. The parties must notify the Board in writing of their intention to arbitrate. An agreement to arbitrate must be in writing, specify the issues to be arbitrated, the name of the arbitrator or a date not more than thrity (30) days after the execution of the agreement for the selection of the arbitrator, and provide that the arbitrator's award shall be binding on the parties and that judgment thereon can be entered by the Board. A copy of the agreement must be filed within twenty (20) days after its execution. The parties shallbe solely responsible for the selection of the arbitrator and the rules for conducting proceedings before the arbitrator. Issues not disposed of by arbitration will be resolved in accordance with the procedures established in 37 CFR, Subpart E of Part 1, as determined by the examiner-in-chief.

(b) An arbitration proceeding under this section shall be conducted within such time as may be authorized on a case-by-case basis by an examiner-in-chief.

(c) An arbitration award will be given no consideration unless it is binding on the parties, is in writing and states in a clear and definite manner (1) the issue or issues arbitrated and (2) the disposition of each issue. The award may also include a statement of the grounds and reasoning in support thereof. Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, the parties shall give notice to the Board of an arbitration award by filing within twenty (20) days from the date of the award a copy of the award signed by the arbitrator or arbitrators. When an award is timely filed, the award shall, as to the parties to the arbitration, be dispositive of the issue or issues to which it relates.

(d) An arbitration award shall not preclude the Office from determining patentability of any invention involved in the interference.

Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(163) Disclosure Document Program

This notice consolidates and supersedes the notices of Mar. 26, 1969 (862 O.G. 1) and Aug. 11, 1970 (878 O.G. 1) relating to the Patent Office Disclosure Document Program. Under this program the Patent Office accepts and preserves, for a period of two years, papers referred to as "Disclosure Documents." These papers may be used as evidence of the dates of conception of inventions.

The Program

A paper disclosing an invention and signed by the inventor or inventors may be forwarded to the Patent Office by the inventor (or by any one of the inventors when there are joint inventors), by the owner of the invention, or by the attorney or agent of the inventor(s) or owner. It will be retained for two years and then be destroyed unless it is referred to in a separate letter in a related patent application within said two years.

A Disclosure Document is not a patent application and the date of its receipt in the Patent Office will not become the effective filing date of any patent application subsequently filed. However, like patent applications, these documents will be kept in confidence by the Patent Office. If patent protection is desired, a patent application should be filed as soon as possible.

This program does not diminish the value of conventional witnessed and notarized records as evidence of conception of an invention, but it should provide a more credible form of evidence than that provided by the popular practice of mailing a disclosure to oneself or another person by registered mail. The program is made available as a service to those persons desiring to use it.

Content of Disclosure Document

Although there are no restrictions as to content and claims are not necessary, the benefits afforded by a Disclosure Document will depend directly upon the adequacy of the disclosure. Therefore, it is strongly urged that the document contain a clear and complete explanation of the manner and process of making and using the invention in sufficient detail to enable a person having ordinary knowledge in the field of the invention to make and use the invention. When the nature of the invention permits, a drawing or sketch should be included. The use or utility of the invention should be described, especially in chemical inventions.

The Disclosure Document must be limited to written matter or drawings on paper or other thin, flexible material, such as linen or plastic drafting material, having dimensions or being folded to dimensions not to exceed 8 1/2 by 13 inches. Photographs also are acceptable. Each page should be numbered. Text and drawings should be sufficiently dark to permit reproduction with commonly used office copying machines.

A $10 fee is charged for filing a Disclosure Document. Payment must accompany the Disclosure Document when it is submitted to the Patent Office.

In addition to the $10 fee, the Disclosure Document must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope and a separate paper in duplicate, signed by the inventor, stating that he is the inventor and requesting that the material be received for processing under the Disclosure Document Program. The papers will be stamped by the Patent Office with an identifying number and date of receipt, and the duplicate request will be returned in the self-addressed envelope together with a warning notice indicating that the Disclosure Document may be relied upon only as evidence and that a patent application should be diligently filed if patent protection is desired. The inventor's request may take the following form:

"The undersigned, being the inventor of the disclosed invention, requests that the enclosed papers be accepted under the Disclosure Document Program, and that they be preserved for a period of two years."

Retention

The Disclosure Document will be preserved in the Patent Office for two years after its receipt and will then be destroyed unless it is referred to in a separate letter in a related patent application filed within the two-year period. The Disclosure Document must be referred to in the separate letter by title, number, and date of receipt. Acknowledgment of receipt of such letters will be made in the next official communication or in separate letter from the Patent Office. Unless it is desired to have the Patent Office retain the Disclosure Document beyond the two-year period, it is not required that it be referred to in a patent application.

Warning as to Limitations

The two-year retention period should not be considered to be a "grace period" during which the inventor can wait to file his patent application without possible loss of benefits. It should be recognized that in establishing priority of invention an affidavit or testimony referring to a Disclosure Document must usually also establish diligence in completing the invention or in filing the patent application since the filing of the Disclosure Document.

Inventors are also reminded that any public use or sale in the United States, or publication of the invention anywhere in the world, more than one year prior to the filing of a patent application on that invention will prohibit the granting of a patent on that invention.

If the inventor is not familiar with what is considered to be "diligence in completing the invention" or "reduction to practice" under the patent law, or if he has other questions about patent matters, the Patent Office advises him to consult an attorney or agent registered to practice before the Patent Office. Patent attorneys and agents may be found in the telephone directories of most major cities. Also, many large cities have associations of patent attorneys which may be consulted.

Jan. 4, 1971. RICHARD A. WAHL,
Assistant Commissioner of Patents.

(164) POSTAL SERVICE EMERGENCY CONTINGENCY PLAN

The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office is establishing the following contingency plan for filing any paper or paying any fee in the Office in the event of an emergency caused by any major interruption in the mail service in the United States. Upon determination by the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks that such an emergency exists, a notice activating the plan will be issued by the Commissioner. The activating notice will be published in the Wall Street Journal and made available in a special recorded telephone message at area code 703, 557-3158. Also, certain publications, patent bar groups, and other organizations closely associated with the patent system, will be notified. Termination of the program will be similarly announced. Where the postal emergency is not nationwide, the Commissioner will designate the areas of the United States in which the procedures outlined below will be in effect.

U.S. Department of Commerce District Offices (formerly referred to as Department of Commerce Field Offices) will be designated on an emergency basis, as receiving stations for filing papers and paying fees in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

Upon determination that an emergency exists, the following procedures may be followed: All papers and fees should be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Patent and Trademark Office and deposited in one of the District Offices. Such papers will be considered as received in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office on the day of deposit. The District Office will date stamp each envelope and the accompanying receipt card which completely identifies the deposited papers. The receipt card will be returned to the depositor. Applicants or their representatives should assure the legibility of the date stamp.

District Office deposits should be limited to checks in payment of issue fees, new application papers wherein priority dates or statutory bars may be involved, amendments where the six month statutory period for response is about to expire, trademark oppositions, Section 8 affidavits, trademark renewals, and to other papers for which the patent and trademark statutes do not provide a remedy for failure to obtain a particular date.

Where papers originate from overseas, it is suggested that the papers be mailed to a registered agent in Canada, with a request that the papers be forwarded by courier to the nearest District Office in the United States.

In regard to pending applications, if the time for taking any action or paying any fee expires during the period that the Commissioner declares to be an emergency, the time will be extended until one month after the end of the emergency period, provided that such extension does not exceed the maximum period for response provided for in the statutes.

Since this extension of time will be automatic, there will be no record in the individual files to indicate that a response filed during the extended period is in fact timely. In order to provide a complete record, applicants or their representatives should file a paper referring to this notice in each case in which a response is filed during the extended period.

(165) Service of Process and Testimony of Employees of the Patent and Trademark Office and Production of Documents in Legal Proceedings

The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is adding Parts 15 and 15a to Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations. Part 15 concerns service of process on the Commsssioner, the Patent and Trademark Office, and employees of the Patent and Trademark Office in their official capacity. Part 15a concerns the testimony of PTO employees regarding official matters and the production of official documents in legal proceedings. Parts 15 and 15a were effective upon publication in the Federal Register. 54 FR 3976-8 (Jan. 26, 1989).

In addition, §§ 1701 and 1701.01 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure and §§ 1801 and 1801.01 of ju the Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure are amended, as indicated below, effective immediately.

Parts 15 and 15a, §§ 1701 and 1701.01 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure and §§ 1801 and 1801.01 of the Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure are published in this notice as a convenience to the public. In addition to these materials, the Patent and Trademark Office alerts the public to its position with respect to Standard Packaging Corp. v. Curwood, Inc ., 365 F. Supp. 134, 180 USPQ 234 (N.D. Ill. 1973). In the past, parties have attempted, based on Standard Packaging, to obtain answers to questions which the Patent and Trademark Office has regarded to be improper. While the Patent and Trademark Office believes Standard Packaging accurately states the law, the Office believes that the court misapplied the law to the precise questions in issue. Accordingly, the Office agrees with the Federal Circuit's observation in Western Electric Co. v. Piezo Technology, Inc. v. Quigg , 860 F.2d 428, 432, 8 USPQ 2d 1853, 1857 (Fed. Cir. 1988), that there is considerable doubt whether Standard Packaging was correctly decided. The Patent and Trademark Office will not permit examiners to answer questions similar to those which the Standard Packaging court found acceptable.

Service of Process and Testimony of Employees of the Patent and Trademark Office and Production of Documents in Legal Proceedings

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office.
Action: Final rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is adding 37 CFR Parts 15 and 15a to supplement 15 CFR Parts 15 and 15a. These new parts prescribe policies and procedures to be followed with respect to service of process on the Patent and Trademark Office, the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, and employees of the Office, the testimony of Office employees regarding official matters, and the production of official documents in legal proceedings. These regulations serve as a statement of Office policy and provide comprehensive guidelines for the Office and its employees, outside agencies, and other persons regarding the appropriate procedures for service of process, testimony, and production of documents.
Effective date: Jan. 26, 1989.
For Further Information Contact: Associate Solicitor John W. Dewhirst by mail at Box 8, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231 and by phone at (703) 557-4035.
Supplementary Information: These regulations are designed to supplement, and be construed consistent with, 15 CFR Parts 15 and 15a. The regulations in Part 15a state the views of the Office with respect to the permissible scope of testimony which may be given by Office employees in connection with their performance of quasi-judicial patent and trademark matters. These Office views are consistent with United States v. Morgan, 313 U.S. 409, 422 (1941); Western Electric Co., Inc. v. Piezo Technology, Inc. v. Quigg, No. 88-1216, 860 F.2d 428, 8 USPQ 2d 1853 (Fed. Cir. Nov. 1, 1988); In re Mayewsky, 162 USPQ 86, 89 (E.D. Va. 1969), and Shaffer Tool Works v. Joy Mfg. Co., 167 USPQ 170 (S.D. Tex. 1970).

Because these regulations concern agency management and personnel, they are not rules or regulations within the meaning of section 1(a) of Executive Order 12291, and they are not subject to the requirements of that Order. Accordingly, no preliminary or final regulatory impact analysis has to be or will be prepared.

These regulations, relating to agency management and personnel, are exempt from all requirements of section 553 of the Administrative Procedure Act [5 USC 553] (including a delayed effective date and therefore will be effective immediately upon publication in the Federal Register.

Because a notice of proposed rule making and an opportunity for public comments are not required to be given for these regulations by section 553 of the APA, or by any other law, no regulatory flexibility analysis has to be or will be prepared for purposes of the Regulatory Flexibility Act [5 U.S.C. 603(a) and 604(a)].

This final rule does not contain policies with Federalism implications sufficient to warrant preparation of a Federalism assessment under Executive Order 12612.

This rule does not contain collections of information for purposes of the Paperwork Reduction Act.

List of subjects in 37 CFR Parts 15 and 15a:

Attorneys, Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Government employees.

For the reasons set forth in the preamble, 37 CFR is amended as follows:

1. Part 15 is added to read as follows:

Part 15
Service of Process

Sec.
15.1 Scope and purpose
15.2 Definitions
15.3 Acceptance of service of process
Authority: 5 U.S.C. 301; 15 U.S.C. 1501, 1512, 1513, 1515, and 1518; Reorganization Plan No. 5 of 1950; 44 U.S.C. 3101; 15 CFR 15.2(a).

(a) This part supplements 15 CFR Part 15 and sets forth the procedures to be followed when a summons or complaint is served on the Office or the Commissioner or an employee of the Office in his or her official capacity. This part is to be construed consistent with 15 CFR Part 15.

(b) This part is intended to ensure the orderly execution of the affairs of the Office and not to impede any legal proceeding.

(c) This part does not apply to subpoenas. The procedures to be followed with respect to subpoenas are set out in Part 15a of this Title.

(d) This part does not apply to service of process made on an Office employee personally on matters not related to official business of the Office or to the official responsibilities of the Office employee.

For the purpose of this part:

(a) "Commissioner" means Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(b) "Legal proceeding" means a proceeding before a tribunal constituted by law, including a court, an administrative body or commission, or an administrative law judge or hearing officer.

(c) "Office" means Patent and Trademark Office.

(d) "Office employee" means any officer or employee of the Office.

(f) "Solicitor" means the chief legal officer of the Office or other Office employee to whom the Solicitor has delegated authority to act under this part.

§ 15.3 Acceptance of service of process

(a) Any summons or complaint to be served in person or by registered or certified mail or as otherwise authorized by law on the Office or the Commissioner or an Office employee in his or her official capacity, shall be served on the Solicitor or an Office employee designated by the Solicitor.

(b) Any summons or complaint to be served by mail may be addressed to Solicitor, P.O. Box 15667, Arlington, Va. 22215. Any summons or complaint to be served by hand may be delivered to the Office of the Solicitor.

(c) Any Office employee served with a summons or complaint shall immediately notify and deliver the summons or complaint to the Office of the Solicitor.

(d) Any Office employee receiving a summons or complaint shall note on the summons or complaint the date, hour, and place of service and whether service was by personal delivery or by mail.

(e) When a legal proceeding is brought to hold an Office employee personally liable in connection with an action taken in the conduct of official business, rather than liable in an official capacity, the Office employee by law is to be served personally with process. Service of process in this case is inadequate when made upon the Solicitor or the Solicitor's designee. Any Office employee sued personally for an action taken in the conduct of official business shall immediately notify and deliver a copy of the summons or complaint to the Office of the Solicitor.

(f) An Office employee sued personally in connection with official business may be represented by the Department of Justice at its discretion. See 28 CFR 50.15 and 50.16 (1987).

(g) The Solicitor or Office employee designated by the Solicitor, when accepting service of process for an Office employee in an official capacity, shall endorse on the Marshal's or server's return of service form or receipt for registered or certified mail the following statement: "Service accepted in official capacity only." The statement may be placed on the form or receipt with a rubber stamp.

(h) Upon acceptance of service or receiving notification of service, as provided in this section, the Solicitor shall take appropriate steps to protect the rights of the Commissioner or Office employee involved.

2. Part 15a is added to read as follows:

Part 15a
Testimony by Employees and the Production of Documents in Legal Proceedings

Sec.
15a.1 Scope
15a.2 Definitions
15a.3 Office policy
15a.4 Testimony or production of documents; general rule
15a.5 Testimony of Office employees in proceedings involving the United States
15a.6 Legal proceedings between private litigants
15a.7 Procedures when an Office employee receives a subpoena
Authority: 5 U.S.C. 301; 15 U.S.C. 1501, 1512, 1513, 1515, and 1518; Reorganization Plan No. 5 of 1950; 44 U.S.C. 3101; 15 CFR 15a.1(e) and 15a.2(f).

(a) This part supplements 15 CFR Part 15a and prescribes the policies and procedures of the Office with respect to the testimony of Office employees as witnesses in legal proceedings and the production of documents of the Office for use in legal proceedings pursuant to a request, order, or subpoena. This part is issued pursuant to 15 CFR 15a.1(e) and is to be construed consistent with 15 CFR Part 15a.

(b) This part does not apply to any legal proceeding in which an Office employee is to testify, while on leave status, as to facts or events that are in no way related to the official business of the Office.

(c) This part is intended to ensure the orderly execution of the affairs of the Office and not to impede any legal proceeding and in no way affects the rights and procedures governing public access to records pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act or the Privacy Act. See 15 CFR 15a.4 and 37 CFR 1.15.

For the purpose of this part:

(b) "Demand" means a request, order, or subpoena for testimony or documents for use in a legal proceeding.

(c) "Document" means any record, paper, and other property held by the Office, including without limitation official patent and trademark files, official letters, telegrams, memoranda, reports, studies, calendar and dairy entries, maps, graphs, pamphlets, notes, charts, tabulations, analyses, statistical or informational accumulations, any kind of summaries of meetings and conversations, film impressions, magnetic tapes, and sound or mechanical reproductions.

(d) "Legal proceeding" means a proceeding before a tribunal constituted by law, including a court, an administrative body or commission, an administrative law judge or hearing officer or any discovery proceeding in support thereof.

(e) "Office" means Patent and Trademark Office.

(f) "Office employee" means any officer or employee of the Office.

(g) "Official business" means the authorized business of the Office.

(h) "Solicitor" means the chief legal officer of the Office or other Office employee to whom the Solicitor has delegated authority to act under this part.

(i) "Testimony" means a statement given in person before a tribunal or by deposition for use before the tribunal or any other statement given for use before a tribunal in a legal proceeding, including an affidavit, declaration under 35 U.S.C. 25, or declaration under 28 U.S.C. 1746.

(j) "United States" means the Federal Government, its departments and agencies, and individuals acting on behalf of the Federal Government.

§ 15a.3 Office policy.

The Office policy is that its documents will not be voluntarily produced and Office employees will not voluntarily appear as witnesses or give testimony in a legal proceeding. The reasons for this policy include:

(a) To conserve the time of Office employees for conducting official business.

(b) To minimize the possibility of involving the Office in controversial or other issues which are not related to the mission of the Office.

(c) To prevent the possibility that the public will misconstrue variances between personal opinions of Office employees and Office policy.

(d) To avoid spending the time and money of the United States for private purposes.

(e) To preserve the integrity of the administrative process, minimize disruption of the decision-making process, and prevent interference with the Office's administrative functions.

§ 15a.4 Testimony or production of documents; general rule

(a) No Office employee shall give testimony concerning the official business of the Office or produce any document in any legal proceeding without the prior authorization of the Solicitor. Where appropriate, an Office employee may be instructed in writing by the Commissioner, Solicitor, or other appropriate Office employee not to give testimony or produce a document. Without prior approval, no Office employee shall answer inquiries from a person not employed by the Department of Commerce regarding testimony or documents subject to a demand or a potential demand under the provisions of this Part. All inquiries involving a demand or potential demand on an Office employee shall be referred to the Solicitor.

(b) A certified copy of a document, not otherwise available under Chapter I of this Title, will be provided for use in a legal proceeding upon written request and payment of applicable fees required by law.

(c)(1) Request for testimony or document. A request for testimony of an Office employee or document shall be mailed or hand-delivered to the Office of the Solicitor. The mailing address of the Office of the Solicitor is Box 8, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(2) Subpoenas. A subpoena for testimony by an Office employee or a document shall be served in accordance with the Federal Rules of Civil or Criminal Procedure as appropriate, or applicable state procedure, and a copy of the subpoena shall be sent to the Solicitor.

(3) Affidavit. Every request and subpoena shall be accompanied by an affidavit or declaration under 28 U.S.C. 1746 or, if an affidavit or declaration is not feasible, a written statement setting forth the title of the legal proceeding, the forum, the requesting party's interest in the legal proceeding, the reasons for the request or subpoena, a showing that the desired testimony or document is not reasonably available from any other source, and if testimony is requested, the intended use of the testimony, a general summary of the testimony desired, and a showing that no document could be provided and used in lieu of testimony. The purpose of this requirement is to permit the Solicitor to make an informed decision as to whether testimony or production of a document should be authorized.

(d) Any Office employee who is served with a demand shall immediately notify the Office of the Solicitor.

(e) The Solicitor may consult or negotiate with an attorney for a party or the party, if not represented by an attorney, to refine or limit a demand so that compliance is less burdensome or obtain information necessary to make the determination required by paragraph (c) of this section. Failure of the attorney or party to cooperate in good faith to enable an informed determination to be made under this part may serve as the basis for a determination not to comply with the demand.

(f) A determination under this part to comply or not to comply with a demand is not an assertion or waiver of privilege, lack of relevance, technical deficiencies or any other ground for noncompliance. The Commissioner reserves the right to oppose any demand on any legal ground independent of any determination under this part.

§ 15a.5 Testimony of Office employees in proceedings involving the United States.

(a) An Office employee may not testify as an expert or opinion witness for any party other than the United States.

(b) When appropriate, the Solicitor may authorize an Office employee to give testimony as an expert or opinion witness on behalf of the United States. Expert or opinion testimony on behalf of the United States will not be authorized in any legal proceeding involving the validity or enforceability of a patent or registered trademark.

(c) Whenever, in any legal proceeding involving the United States, a request is made by an attorney representing or acting under the authority of the United States, the Solicitor will make all necessary arrangements for the Office employee to give testimony on behalf of the United States. Where appropriate, the Solicitor may require reimbursement to the Office of the expenses associated with an Office employee giving testimony on behalf of the United States.

§ 15a.6 Legal proceedings between private litigants

(a) Testimony by an Office employee and production of documents in a legal proceeding not involving the United States shall be governed by § 15a.4.

(b) If an Office employee is authorized to give testimony in a legal proceeding, the testimony, if otherwise proper, shall be limited to facts within the personal knowledge of the Office employee. An Office employee is prohibited from giving expert or opinion testimony, answering hypothetical or speculative questions, or giving testimony with respect to subject matter which is privileged. If an Office employee is authorized to testify in connection with the employee's involvement or assistance in a quasi-judicial proceeding which took place before the Office, that employee is further prohibited from giving testimony in response to questions which seek:

(1) Information about that employee's:

(i) Background.
(ii) Expertise.
(iii) Qualifications to examine or otherwise consider a particular patent or trademark application.
(iv) Usual practice or whether the employee followed a procedure set out in any Office manual of practice in a particular case.
(v) Consultation with another Office employee.
(vi) Understanding of:
(A) A patented invention, an invention sought to be patented, or patent application, patent, reexamination or interference file.
(B) Prior art.
(C) Registered subject matter, subject matter sought to be registered, or atrademark application, registration, opposition, cancellation, interference or concurrent use file.
(D) Any Office manual of practice.
(E) Office regulations.
(F) Patent, trademark, or other law.
(G) The responsibilities of another Office employee.
(vii) Reliance on particular facts or arguments.

(2) To inquire into the manner in and extent to which the employee considered or studied material in performing the quasi-judicial function.
(3) To inquire into the bases, reasons, mental processes, analyses, or conclusions of that Office employee in performing the quasi-judicial function.

§ 15a.7 Procedures when an Office employee receives a subpoena.

(a) Any Office employee who receives a subpoena shall immediately forward the subpoena to the Office of the Solicitor. The Solicitor will determine the extent to which an Office employee will comply with the subpoena.

(b) If the Office employee is not authorized to comply with the subpoena, the Office employee shall appear at the time and place stated in the subpoena, produce a copy of Part 15a of Title 15 and a copy of this part, and respectfully refuse to provide any testimony or produce any document. United States ex rel. Touhy v. Ragen . 340 U.S. 462 (1951).

(c) When necessary or appropriate, the Solicitor will request assistance from the Department of Justice or a U.S. Attorney or otherwise assure the presence of an attorney to represent the interests of the Office or an Office employee.

Dec. 23, 1988.

DONALD J. QUIGG,
Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

Revisions to §§ 1701 and 1701.01 of MPEP

§ 1701 Office personnel not to express opinion on validity or patentability of patent

Every patent is presumed to be valid. 35 U.S.C. § 282, first sentence. Public policy demands that every employee of the Patent and Trademark Office refuse to express to any person any opinion as to the validity or invalidity of, or the patentability or unpatentability of any claim in any U.S. Patent, except to the extent necessary to carry out (a) examination of an application seeking to reissue the patent, (b) a reexamination proceeding to reexamine the patent, or (c) an interference involving the patent.

The question of validity or invalidity is otherwise exclusively a matter to be determined by a court. Members of the patent examining corps are cautioned to be especially wary of any inquiry from any person outside the Patent and Trademark Office, including an employee of another Government agency, the answer to which might indicate that a particular patent should not have issued.

When a field of search for an invention is requested, examiners should routinely inquire whether the invention has been patented in the United States. If the invention has been patented, no field of search should be suggested.

Employees of the Patent and Trademark Office, particularly patent examiners who examined an application which matured into a patent or a reissued patent or who conducted a reexamination proceeding, should not discuss or answer inquiries from any person outside the Patent and Trademark Office as to whether or not a certain reference or other particular evidence was considered during the examination or proceeding and whether or not a claim would have been allowed over that reference or other evidence had it been considered during the examination or proceeding. Likewise, employees are cautioned against answering any inquiry concerning any entry in the patent or reexamination file, including the extent of the field of search and any entry relating thereto. The record of the file of a patent or reexamination proceeding must speak for itself.

Practitioners can be of material assistance in this regard by refraining from making improper inquiries of members of the patent examining corps. Inquiries from members of the public relating to the matters discussed above must of necessity be refused and such refusal should not be considered discourteous or an expression of opinion as to validity or patentability.

It is the policy of the Patent and Trademark Office that its employees, including patent examiners, will not appear as witnesses or give testimony in legal proceedings, except under the conditions specified in 37 CFR Part 15a. Any employee who testifies contrary to this policy will be dismissed or removed. The reasons for this policy are set out in 37 CFR 15a.3.

Whenever an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office, including a patent examiner, is asked to testify or receives a subpoena, the employee shall immediately notify the Office of the Solicitor. Inquiries requesting testimony shall be also referred immediately to the Office of the Solicitor.

Patent examiners and other Patent and Trademark Office employees performing or assisting in the performance of quasi-judicial functions, are forbidden to testify as experts or to express opinions as to the validity of any patent.

Any individual desiring the testimony of an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office, including the testimony of a patent examiner or other quasi-judicial employee, must comply with the provisions of 37 CFR Part 15a.

A request for testimony of an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office should be made to the Office of the + Solicitor at least ten working days prior to the date of the expected testimony.

If an employee is authorized to testify, the employee will be limited to testifying about facts within the employee's personal knowledge. Employees are prohibited from giving expert or opinion testimony. Fischer & Porter Co. v. Corning Glass Works. 61 F.R.D. 321, 181 USPQ 329 (E.D. Pa. 1974). Likewise, employees are prohibited from answering hypothetical or speculative questions. In re Mayewsky, 162 USPQ 86, 89 (E.D. Va. 1969) (deposition of an examiner must be restricted to relevant matters of fact and must avoid any hypothetical or speculative questions or conclusions based thereon); Shaffer Tool Works v. Joy Mfg. Co., 167 USPQ 170 (S.D. Tex. 1970) (deposition of examiner should be limited to matters of fact and must not go into hypothetical or speculative areas or the bases, reasons, mental processes, analyses, or conclusions of the examiner in acting upon a patent application). Employees will not be permitted to give testimony with respect to subject matter which is privileged. Several court decisions limit testimony with respect to quasi-judicial functions performed by employees. Those decisions include United States v. Morgan, 313 U.S. 409, 422 (1941) (improper to inquire into mental processes of quasi-judicial officer or to examine the manner and extent to which the officer considered an administrative record); Western Electric Co. v. Piezo Technology, Inc. v. Quigg, 860 F.2d 428, 8 USPQ 2d 1853 (Fed. Cir. 1988) (patent examiner may not be compelled to answer questions which probe the examiner's technical knowledge of the subject matter of a patent); McCulloch Gas Processing Co. v. Department of Energy, 650 F.2d 1216, 1229 (Temp. Emer. Ct. App. 1981) (discovery of degree of expertise of individuals performing governmental functions not permitted); In re Nilssen, 851 F.2d 1401, 7 USPQ 2d 1500 (Fed. Cir. 1988) (technical or scientific qualifications of examiners-in-chief are not legally relevant in appeal under 35 U.S.C. § 134 since board members need not be skilled in the art to render obviousness decision); Lange v. Commissioner, 352 F. Supp. 166, 176 USPQ 162 (D.D.C. 1972) (technical qualifications of examiners-in-chief not relevant in § 145 action).

In view of the discussion above, if an employee is authorized to testify in connection with the employee's involvement or assistance in a quasi-judicial proceeding which took place before the Patent and Trademark Office, the employee will not be permitted to give testimony in response to questions which seek:

(1) Information about that employee's:
(C)Qualifications to examine or otherwise consider a particular patent or trademark application.
(D)Usual practice or whether the employee followed a procedure set out in any Office manual of practice (including the MPEP or TMEP) in a particular case.
(E) Consultation with another Office employee.
(F) Understanding of:
(i) A patented invention, an invention sought to be patented, or patent application, patent, reexamination or interference file.
(ii) Prior art.
(iii) Registered subject matter, subject matter sought to be registered, or a trademark application, registration, opposition, cancellation, interference or concurrent use file.
(iv) Any Office manual of practice.
(v) Office regulations,
(vi) Patent, trademark, or other law.
(vii) The responsibilities of another Office employee.

(G) reliance on particular facts or arguments.
(2) To inquire into the manner in and extent to which the employee considered or studied material in performing a quasi-judicial function.
(3) To inquire into the bases, reasons, mental processes, analyses, or conclusions of that Office employee in performing the quasi-judicial function.

Any request for testimony addressed or delivered to the Office of the Solicitor shall comply with 37 CFR 15a.4(c). All requests must be in writing . The need for a subpoena may be obviated where the request complies with 37 CFR 15a.4(c) if the party requesting the testimony further meets the following conditions:

(1) The party requesting the testimony identifies the civil action or other legal proceeding for which the testimony is being taken. The identification shall include:

(a) the style of the case,
(b) the civil action number,
(c) the district in which the civil action is pending,
(d) the judge assigned to the case, and
(e) the name, address, and telephone number of counsel for all parties in the civil action.

(2) The party agrees not to ask questions seeking information which is precluded by 37 CFR 15a.6(b).
(3) The party shall comply with applicable provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, including Rule 30, and give ten working days notice to the Office of the Solicitor prior to the date a deposition is desired. Fifteen working days notice is required for any deposition which is desired to be taken between Nov. 15 and Jan. 15.
(4) The party agrees to notice the deposition at a place convenient to the Patent and Trademark Office. The Conference Room in the Office of the Solicitor is deemed to be a place convenient to the Office.
(5) The party agrees to supply a copy of the transcript of the deposition to the Patent and Trademark Office for its records.

Absent a written agreement meeting the conditions specified in paragraphs (1) through (5), a party must comply with the precise terms of 37 CFR 15a.4(c) and the Patent and Trademark Office will not permit a deposition without issuance of a subpoena.

Revisions to §§ 1801 and 1801.01 of TMEP

§ 1801 Office personnel not to express opinion on validity of registered trademark

A certificate of registration of a trademark on the Principal Register is prima facie evidence of the validity of the registration. 15 U.S.C. [g49 1057(b). Public policy demands that every employee of the Patent and Trademark Office refuse to express to any person any opinion as to the validity of any registered trademark, except to the extent necessary to carry out inter partes proceedings at the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board in cancellation and similar proceedings authorized by law.

The question of validity of a registered trademark is otherwise exclusively a matter to be determined by a court. Members of the trademark examining operation are cautioned to be especially wary of any inquiry from any person outside the Patent and Trademark Office, including an employee of another Government agency, the answer to which might indicate that a particular registration should not have been published or issued.

Employees of the Patent and Trademark Office, particularly trademark examining attorneys who examined an application should not discuss or answer inquiries from any person outside the Patent and Trademark Office as to whether or not a certain registration or other particular evidence was considered during the examination of the application or whether a trademark would have been published or registered if the registration or other evidence had been considered during the examination. Likewise, employees are cautioned against answering any inquiry concerning any entry in the trademark registration file, including the extent of the field of search and any entry relating thereto. The record of the file of a trademark registration or inter partes proceedings before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board must speak for itself.

Practitioners can be of material assistance in this regard by refraining from making improper inquiries of members of the trademark examining operation. Inquiries from members of the public relating to the matters discussed above must of necessity

It is the policy of the Patent and Trademark Office that its employees, including trademark examining attorneys, will not appear as witnesses or give testimony in legal proceedings, except under the conditions specified in 37 CFR Part 15a. Any employee who testifies contrary to this policy will be dismissed or removed . The reasons for this policy are set out in 37 CFR 15a.3.

Whenever an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office, including a trademark examining attorney, is asked to testify or receives a subpoena, the employee shall immediately notify the Office of the Solicitor. United States Adherence to the International Union for the Protection of New Varieties of Plants (UPOV)

On Nov. 12, 1980, the United States deposited its instrument of acceptance of the 1978 text of the UPOV Convention. The United States was the second State to adhere to this text, New Zealand having earlier done so.

The UPOV Convention will take effect with respect to the United States and the other adherents to the 1978 text upon a total of five adherences, three of which must be by present member States (States adhering to the text of the Convention). We expect at least three present member States to adhere shortly and the 1978 text to take effect, therefore, during 1981.

The United States deposited its instrument of acceptance on the basis of the legal protection offered for asexually reproduced plants under the plant patent law (35 U.S.C. 161-164). Accordingly, the Convention will apply only to asexually reproduced plants protected under this law. Steps are now being taken, however, by the Plant Variety Protection Office of the Department of Agriculture to conform the implementation of the Plant Variety Protection Act (7 U.S.C. 2321 et seq.) to the Convention's requirements. When this is done, the United States will notify the UPOV Secretariat that the Convention is also applicable in the United States to sexually reproduced plants protected under that Act.

Questions concerning the UPOV Convention may be directed to the Office of Legislation and International Affairs of the Patent and Trademark Office. This Office may be addressed as follows: Box 4, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. The Office's telephone number is (703) 557-3065.

(167) Taking Effect in the United States of the International Convention for the Protection of New Varieties of Plants

The International Convention for the Protection of New Varieties of Plants (the UPOV Convention) will take effect in the United States on Nov. 8, 1981. It will apply to all applications for the patenting of plants under the provisions of Title 35, United States Code, which are filed on or after Nov. 8, 1981. The actual filing date will govern in determining whether the Convention will apply to an application, even though the application may be entitled to an earlier effective date under section 119 or 120 of Title 35, United States Code.

In addition to the United States, the UPOV Convention will be in effect as of Nov. 8, 1981, in the following fourteen States: Belgium, Denmark, Federal Republic of Germany, France, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Netherlands, New Zealand, Republic of South Africa, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom.

No changes in the patent law are needed to implement the UPOV Convention in the United States. An applicant for a plant patent will be required, however, to submit for registration a variety name for the plant to be patented. Registration is required by Article 13 of the UPOV Convention.

Registrability shall be determined in accordance with the International Code of Nomenclature for Cultivated Plants (1980). As an interim procedure pending the promulgation of an appropriate rule, inclusion of the variety name in the application will be accepted as a submission of the name for registration. No plant patent as a result of an application filed on or after Nov. 8, 1981, shall be issued without the registration of a variety name. Questions concerning this variety naming requirement or the UPOV Convention may be addressed to:

(168) Qualifications for Admission to the Examination for Registration to Practice Before the Patent and Trademark Office

37 CFR 1.341(c) provides in pertinent part, "No person will be admitted to practice and registered unless he shall . . . establish to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that he is of good moral character and good repute and  possessed of the legal and scientific and technical qualifications necessary to enable him to render applicants for patents valuable service . In order that the Commissioner may determine whether the person  has the qualifications specified, satisfactory proof of good moral character and repute, and of sufficient basic training in scientific and technical matters must be submitted ***."

All persons requesting application forms are routinely furnished with a circular entitled "General Requirements For Admission To The Examination For Registration To Practice Before The Patent and Trademark Office". The circular contains a list of the subjects in which a person must have a bachelor's degree or the equivalency thereof in scientific and technical training to meet registration qualifications. It is strongly recommended that persons who do not have a bachelor's degree in one of those subjects comply with the instructions in the paragraph following the list to show their scientific and technical qualifications. If it is intended to rely on courses in computer science, no more than 3 semester hours of courses in computer programming will be accepted as providing part of the required basic training in scientific and technical matters. Computer science courses oriented away from the physical sciences or engineering, e.g., toward accounting or business, will not be accepted as providing any of the requisite basic training in scientific and technical matters.

Many applications for admission to an examination are filed on or just prior to the announced closing date for doing so, and these applications are frequently disapproved because the person does not furnish a satisfactory showing of his or her qualifications. For instance, persons with a bachelor's degree in a subject other than one of those listed in the circular frequently do not follow instructions in the circular and do not furnish both their transcripts and official course descriptions. Other persons list charges brought against them requiring further showings to overcome doubts raised by the charges about their character and reputation. Still others who failed one section of the examination three times do not furnish a satisfactory showing of sufficient additional legal training to pass the examination.

The Office of Enrollment and Discipline evaluates each application for admission to the examination on an individual basis as soon as practical after receipt in that office. Thereafter, notification is promptly mailed to each person whose application has been disapproved.

The Office of Personnel Management (OPM — formerly Civil Service Commission), which administers the examination, requires that it receive correct data from the Patent and Trademark Office identifying the locale of the examination and the number of persons to be tested well ahead of the examination date. To afford adequate time to present a satisfactory supplemental showing to gain admission to the examination for which application is being made, it is recommended that all persons file their applications early, preferably at least two months before the closing date.

All supplemental showings of qualifications and all applications filed after the announced closing date to apply for admission to an examination will be considered only in connection with the person's admission to the next succeeding examination. Admission to an examination given on a particular date is available only to persons who have filed a completed application form, a $75.00 admission fee, and a satisfactory showing of qualifications on or before the closing date for applying for admission to the examination. Examinations are given in Apr. and Oct. each year, and the respective closing dates for applying for admission to the examinations are the preceding Jan. 31 and July 31.

Docket 407 88-4181

Practice before the Patent and Trademark Office

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is amending its rules governing practice before the PTO by attorneys and agents. These rules are needed to clarify and modernize the rules relating to admission to practice and the conduct of disciplinary cases. The rules are also needed to set out in the Code of Federal Regulations a PTO Code of Professional Responsibility. By amending the rules, the PTO believes the standards for admission to practice in patent cases will be more easily understood, that those practicing before the PTO will have ready access to a code of professional responsibility, and that procedure in disciplinary cases will be more easily understood. The PTO expects that the conduct of disciplinary proceedings under these rules will be more effective and less costly.
Dates: The effective date of these rules (except § 1.21(a) (5) and (6)) is Mar. 8, 1985. Section 1.21(a) (5) and (6) is effective Apr. 8, 1985.
For Further Information Contact: Fred E. McKelvey by telephone at (703) 557-4025 (if no answer, message may be left at 703-557-4103) or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: Attorneys and agents practice before the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) in patent cases. 35 U.S.C. 31. Attorneys also practice before the PTO in trademark and other non-patent cases. 5 U.S.C. 500(b). A few agents also practice before the PTO in trademark cases under rules in force prior to Jan. 1, 1957.

A notice of proposed rulemaking for attorney and agent conduct and disciplinary procedure was published on Aug. 11, 1983 in the Federal Register, 48 F.R. 36478, and on Sept. 20, 1983 in the Official Gazette, 1034 O.G. 39, 1034 TMOG 33. A notice extending the comment period and setting a second hearing was published on Oct. 5, 1983 in the Federal Register, 48 F.R. 45424, and on Oct. 18, 1983, in the Official Gazette, 1035 O.G. 19, 1035 TMOG 17. The PTO decided to withdraw, and not adopt, the rules proposed in the Federal Register notice of Aug. 11, 1983. There were numerous objections to the proposed rules and the public indicated that a longer period for study and review of a code of conduct and disciplinary procedures was necessary.

An advance notice of proposed rulemaking setting out revised rules being considered for standards of conduct and disciplinary proceedings was published on Mar. 16, 1984, in the Federal Register, 49 F.R. 10012, and on Apr. 10, 1984, in the Official Gazette, 1041 O.G. 15, 1041 TMOG 13. Numerous organizations and individuals filed comments in response to the advance notice.

On Aug. 24, 1984, the PTO published in the Federal Register a notice of proposed rulemaking. 49 F.R. 33790. On Aug. 28, 1984, the notice was also published in the Official Gazette. 1045 O.G. 29; 1045 TMOG 25. The notice also appeared in the Bureau of National Affairs, Patents, Trademark & Copyright Journal, Vol. 28, No. 694, pp. 485-515 (Aug. 30, 1984). Twenty-two written comments were timely received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking. The comments are analyzed herein. A hearing was held on Oct. 10, 1984. Five individuals appeared at the hearing. Oral comments made at the hearing are also analyzed herein. The twenty-two written comments and a copy of the transcript of the hearing are available for public inspection in Room 12B10, Crystal Gateway II, 1225 Jefferson Davis Hwy., Arlington, Va.

This notice of rulemaking sets out rules in three areas:

(1) Practice of attorneys and agents before the PTO in patent, trademark, and other non-patent cases §§ 10.2 through 10.19);
(2) A PTO Code of Professional Responsibility (§§ 10.20 through 10.112); and
(3) Rules governing (a) investigation of possible violations of the PTO Code of Professional Responsibility and (b) disciplinary proceedings to reprimand, suspend, or exclude (disbar) individuals from practicing before the PTO who, after notice and opportunity for a hearing, are found to have violated a disciplinary rule of the PTO Code of Professional Responsibility (§§ 10.130 through 10.170).

Familiarity with the advance notice and notice of proposed rulemaking is assumed. Changes in the text of the rules published for comment in the notice of proposed rulemaking are discussed. Comments received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking are discussed. Comments not timely received in response to the advance notice are also discussed.

Tables 1, 2, and 3 are included in this notice to assist readers in correlating present rules with the new rules and to find the principal source for the new rules. An indication in Tables 1, 2, or 3 that a section is "new" means that a corresponding section does not currently appear in Tile 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

Table 1 shows the principal sources of the new rules which relate to (1) admission to practice of attorneys and agents in patent cases and (2) practice in trademark and other non-patent cases.

Table 2 shows the principal sources of the rules for the new PTO Code of Professional Responsibility.

Table 3 shows the principal sources of the new rules for disciplinary proceedings.

Other sources for, and rationale in support of, the proposed rules are discussed in the Supplementary Information of the advance notice, 49 F.R. 10012-10022, and the Supplementary Information of the notice of proposed rulemaking, 49 F.R. 33790-33803.

In issuing these rules, the PTO has made every effort to minimize preemption of State control over the practice of law. Thus, in § 10.1, second sentence, the new rules provide:

> Nothing in . . . [these rules] shall be construed to preempt the authority of each State to maintain control over the practice of law, except to the extent necessary for the Patent and Trademark Office to accomplish its federal objectives.

This provision of § 10.1 is based on language in Sperry v. Florida ex rel. Florida Bar, 373 U.S. 379, 402 (1963), and makes clear the PTO's intent to regulate only conduct related or relevant to practice before the PTO.

In an effort to ascertain whether the proposed rules would have any adverse impact on the States, copies of both the advance notice of Mar. 16, 1984, and the notice of proposed rulemaking of Aug. 24, 1984, were sent to Bar Counsel in each State. The PTO received responses from Bar Counsel in Ala., Conn., Fla., Ga., Md., Miss., Nebr., Tex., and Vt. Comments were also received from the National Organization of Bar Counsel, the American Bar Association, and others.

Alaska Bar Counsel, contrary to other bar counsel filing comments, suggested that creation of a PTO Code of Professional Responsibility would be "inherently confusing" to any attorney practicing in a State and also before the PTO. The new rules, however, do not establish for the first time a PTO Code of Professional Responsibility. The current PTO code appears in 37 CFR §§ 1.344 and 2.12. Sections 1.344 and 2.12 merely incorporate by reference the Code of Professional Responsibility of the American Bar Association (1970). The new PTO code more appropriately sets out the standards of conduct relevant to the practice of law before the PTO. Alaska Bar Counsel also felt that it would be more appropriate if the PTO brought alleged ethics violations by attorneys to local state enforcement authorities. This view was not shared by other bar counsel who filed comments. The statute (35 U.S.C. 32) authorizes the Commissioner to administer discipline. The PTO has taken disciplinary action in instances where a State has declined to do so. Moreover, there are registered patent agents who are not subject to discipline by State enforcement agencies. Finally, Alaska Bar counsel suggested that "adjudicative agencies" are too closely involved in a disciplinary matter to be impartial. Congress has determined otherwise. 35 U.S.C. 32 and 5 U.S.C. 500(d).

Comments were received from the Statewide Grievance Committee of Connecticut in response to the advance notice. Many helpful suggestions were made in the comments. Most of the suggestions were adopted at the time the notice of proposed rulemaking was published.

The Florida Bar, through its Director of Lawyer Regulation, filed comments in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking. The Florida Bar commented on §§ 10.1(c) and 10.23(c) (5). The PTO's response to the comment appears later in this notice under a discussion of § 10.1.

An Assistant General Counsel of the State Bar of Georgia filed a response to the advance notice. The response stated, among other things: "Although due to the press of business at the present time I am unable to provide a substantive response in this correspondence, I will respond within the appropriate time limits after having an opportunity to study the enclosed . . . [advance notice]." No further response was received.

Bar counsel for the Attorney Grievance Commission of Maryland filed a response to the advance notice. In his response Bar Counsel states in part:

> It does not appear to me that any of the proposed Rules would present any difficulty in the administration of discipline within Md.

Complaint Counsel for Miss. responded to the advance notice. He stated in part:

> I have not reviewed the proposed Code in comparison with the Code of Professional Responsiblity in great detail. In general however I can state that adoption of the proposed Code would not have an adverse effect upon the function of this office.

The General Counsel of the State Bar of Texas responded to the advance notice and did "not perceive that any problem would be created by . . . [the proposed rules] in Tex." The General Counsel did express the thought that the PTO's use of the word "practitioner" instead of "lawyer" would not prevent reciprocal discipline in Tex. based on disciplinary action by the PTO. The PTO sees no reason for disagreeing with the General Counsel. The word "practitioner" is used by the PTO to define registered attorneys, registered agents, and other attorneys authorized to practice in trademark and other non-patent cases before the PTO under 5 U.S.C. 500(b).
The Chairman of the Professional Conduct Board of Vermont responded to the advance notice. He states in part:

> I find nothing contained in the proposed rules which would present any difficulty in the administration of disciplinary matters within the State of Vermont. Further, I see no problems created vis-a-vis the Code of Professional Responsibility in this jurisdiction.

The President of the National Organization of Bar Counsel responded to the notice of proposed rulemaking. He expressed a concern as to whether the PTO intended to "provide for notice and information of . . . [each disciplinary violation by an attorney] to each jurisdiction where the attorney is licensed." Two provisions of the rules are designed to insure that States are notified of PTO disciplinary action. Section 10.158(b) (1) requires a disciplined attorney to notify all bars of which he or she is a member and to file a copy of the notice with the Director of Enrollment and Discipline of the PTO. Section 10.159(a) requires the Director to notify known state bars and appropriate bar associations of PTO disciplinary action. In addition, as a matter of policy, the PTO intends to notify the National Discipline Data Bank of the American Bar Association.

Comments were filed in response to the advance notice and the notice of proposed rulemaking by the Standing Committee on Professional Discipline of the American Bar Association. The comments filed in response to the advance notice were analyzed in the notice of proposed rulemaking and are not re-analyzed in this notice. In its comments responding to the notice of proposed rulemaking the Standing Committee made several helpful suggestions, some of which are being adopted. A full discussion of the PTO rationale for adopting or not adopting a particular suggestion appears under analysis of comments later in this notice. The Standing Committee urged adoption of the 1983 ABA Model Rules. The PTO is not now adopting the Model Rules inter alia because most States have not adopted those rules. If a significant number of states adopt the Model Rules, the PTO will consider further amendments to its Code of Professional Responsibility. The Standing Committee suggested changes to § 10.23(c) (12) which are being adopted in part. The Standing Committee suggested that notice be given to a practitioner prior to any meeting of the Committee on Discipline. This suggestion is not being adopted. In most instances, a practitioner will be able to respond to a notice under 5 U.S.C. 558(c). The Committee will have the practitioner's response at the time of its deliberation. The Standing Committee urged that hearings in disciplinary matters should be open to the public. Others opposed this position. The PTO is not adopting this suggestion in view of 35 U.S.C. 122. Further rationale for not adopting the Standing Committee's suggestion appears later in the notice. The Standing Committee urged a change in § 10.149 to make the burden for proving a disciplinary violation one of "clear and convincing evidence." This suggestion is being adopted. The Standing Committee urged that more discovery be permitted than was authorized by § 10.152 as proposed. This suggestion is being adopted as explained further in this notice. The Standing Committee also thought § 10.159 should provide for notice to the ABA National Discipline Data Bank when the PTO administers discipline. While § 10.159 will not specifically mention the Data Bank, a change has been made to permit the Director to notify appropriate bar associations. The Data Bank is an appropriate bar association.

Changes in Text: Several changes have been made in the text of the new rules from the text of the proposed rules which were published for comment in the notice of proposed rulemaking. Those changes are discussed below.

In § 1.8, the new subparagraph will be (xiii). Subparagraph (xii) was added when the rules relating to patent interference proceedings were amended. See 49 F.R. 48451 (Dec. 12, 1984).

In the first sentence of § 1.31, the term "agent" has been changed to "registered agent" to make clear that only registered agents are intended.

Section 1.33(c) is being amended to delete a reference to former §§ 1.341 and 1.347 and to now refer to §§ 10.5 and 10.11.

Section 1.56(f) and (h) is being amended to delete a reference to former § 1.346 and to now referred to § 10.18.

In the second sentence of § 10.1, "subpart shall" has been changed to "part shall" and "maintain control over" has been changed to "regulate." In the same sentence, "within its borders" has been deleted.

In § 10.2(b)(sf,4 (1), "maintain the register" has been changed to "maintain the register provided for in § 10.5".

In the next-to-the-last sentence of § 10.7(b), "examining corps" has been changed to "patent examining corps".

The language "an alien" in § 10.9(b) has been changed to read "a resident alien" to make clear that aliens registered under paragraphs (a) or (b) of § 10.6 must be resident aliens.

In the first sentence of § 10.14(c), "foreigner" has been changed to "foreign attorney or agent", "registered and in good standing" has been changed to "registered or in good standing", "applicants" has been changed to "parties" and "trademark applications" has been changed to "trademark cases".

In § 10.18(a) (1), "the paper has been read" has been changed to "the paper has been read by the practitioner".

Several changes have been made in § 10.23.

In § 10.23(c) (4) (iii), "improperly" has been added before "bestowing."

In § 10.23(c) (5), "on ethical grounds" has been added after the first occurrence of "attorney or agent" and "suspension or disbarment as an attorney or agent" (after "10.6(c)") has been deleted.

In § 10.23(c) (7), "patent" has been added before "application of another" and the following has been added as a second sentence: "See §§ 1.604(b) and 1.607(c) of this Subchapter."

In § 10.23(c) (8), "Failing to forward" has been changed to "Failing to inform a client or former client"; "inability to forward, to" has been changed to "inability to notify"; "client correspondence" has been changed to "client of correspondence"; "is correspondence which" has been changed to "is correspondence of which"; and "under the circumstances should be forwarded to the client or former client" has been changed to "under the circumstances the client or former client should be notified."

Section 10.23(c) (12) has been changed to read: "Knowingly filing, or causing to be filed, a frivolous complaint alleging a violation by a practitioner of the Patent and Trademark Office Code of Professional Responsibility."

In § 10.23(c) (15), "including" has been changed to "making a" and "matter" has been changed to "statement".

In § 10.36(b) (3), the language "in the locality" has been deleted.

The following language has been deleted from § 10.40(c): ", and may not withdraw in other matters,".

In § 10.62(b), the language "contemplated or pending litigation or" has been deleted.

In § 10.63(a), the language "contemplated or pending litigation or" has been deleted. Both occurrences of "trial or" have been deleted from § 10.63(a). The language "contemplated or pending litigation or" has been deleted from § 10.63(b).

The following sentence has been added to § 10.64(b):

"A practitioner may, however, advance any fee required to prevent or remedy an abandonment of a client's application by reason of an act or omission attributable to the practitioner and not to the client, whether or not the client is ultimately liable for such fee." 1 In § 10.84(a) (3), "§ 10.85" has been changed to "this part".

The following sentence has been added to § 10.87(a):

"It is not improper, however, for a practitioner to encourage a client to meet with an opposing party for settlement discussions."

Subparagraph (5) of § 10.89(c) as it appeared in the notice of proposed rulemaking has been deleted. Subparagraph (6) of § 10.89(c) as it appeared in the notice of proposed rulemaking has been changed to read: "(5) Engage in undignified or discourteous conduct before the Office (see § 1.3 of this Subchapter)." Subparagraph (7) of § 10.89(c) has been redesignated as subparagraph (6).

In § 10.112(a), the language:

> maintained: (1) in the case of a practitioner whose office is located in the United States, the State in which the practitioner's office is situated or (2) in the case of a practitioner having an office in a foreign country or registered under § 10.6(c) in the United States or the foreign country has been changed to read:
> maintained in the United States or, in the case of a practitioner having an office in a foreign country or registered under § 10.6(c), in the United States or the foreign country.

In § 10.131(a), the second sentence has been deleted as being unnecessary in view of § 10.132(b). The second sentence of § 10.131(a) in the notice of proposed rulemaking read: "The investigation shall be such as to determine whether there is probable cause to believe that a violation of a Disciplinary Rule by a practitioner has occurred."

In the first sentence of § 10.132(a), the language "that there is probable cuase to believe" has been deleted. The Committee on Discipline, not the Director, shall determine whether there is probable cause to believe that a practitioner has violated a Disciplinary Rule. See §§ 10.4(b) and 10.132(b).

Several changes have been made in § 10.133. In the first sentence of § 10.133(b), the language "§§ 10.132(b) and 10.134" has been replaced with "§ 10.134". The reference to § 10.132(b) is not necessary. The language "his or her resignation by filing" in § 10.133(b) has been deleted as unnecessary. The second sentence of § 10.133(b) has been modified to become new paragraphs (c) and (d). Paragraph (c) indicates the content of an affidavit of resignation filed prior to the date set by the administrative law judge (ALJ) for hearing. Paragraph (d) indicates the content of an affidavit of resignation filed on or after the date set by the ALJ for hearing. Paragraph (c) has been redesignated as new paragraph (e). In addition, the language "paragraph (b)" therein has been changed to "paragraphs (b) or (c)". Paragraphs (d) and (e) have been redesignated as new paragraphs (f) and (g), respectively.

In § 10.135(a) (2) (i), "Committee on Enrollment" has been changed to "Director".

In § 10.149, "a preponderance of" has been changed in both instances to "clear and convincing".

Several changes have been made to § 10.152 to expand discovery. Paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 10.152 as set out in the notice of proposed rulemaking have been redesignated as paragraphs (e) and (f), respectively, and new paragraphs (a) through (d) have been added. New paragraph (a) sets forth discovery which is authorized. New paragraph (b) sets forth matter which cannot be discovered. Paragraph (c) sets forth factors which an ALJ can consider in determining whether to authorize discovery. Paragraph (d) requires that a motion be filed which addresses specifically and separately each particular request for discovery. In paragraph (e) (formerly paragraph (a)), a new subparagraph (3) has been added to specify that the ALJ may require the parties to set out in a pre-hearing statement information related to expert witnesses. Old subparagraphs (3) and (4) have been redesignated as new subparagraphs (4) and (5), respectively.

In § 10.154(b), a new subparagraph (5) has been added which states: "(5) any extenuating circumstances."

In § 10.155(a), both occurrences of "on the respondent" have been deleted.

Several changes have been made to § 10.158. In § 10.158(b) (1), after "all clients of the practitioner" the following has been added "for whom he or she is handling matters before the Office". In § 10.158(b) (2), "client's active case files" has been changed to "client's active Office case files". In § 10.158(c), changes have been made to make paragraph (c) applicable to corporate patent departments and to prohibit a suspended or excluded practitioner from meeting in person or in the presence of another practitioner with an official of the PTO in connection with the prosecution of a patent, trademark, or other case.

The following has been added to the end of § 10.159(a): "and any appropriate bar associations,"

Several changes have been made in § 10.160(c). "A practitioner has been suspended or excluded" has been changed to "An individual who has resigned under § 10.133 or who has been suspended or excluded". The language "if the Director is satisfied" has been changed to "when the individual makes a clear and convincing showing". The language "suspended or excluded practitioner" has been changed to "individual".

Response to and Analysis of Comments: Twenty-two (22) written comments where timely received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking. The comments have been analyzed. Some suggestions made in comments have been adopted and others have been rejected. A detailed analysis of the timely received comments follows. Several comments were not timely received by July 9, 1984, in response to the advance notice of proposed rulemaking of Mar. 16, 1984. These comments have now been considered and are analyzed herein.

Several comments were received which suggested that the rules purport to regulate attorney conduct beyond that necessary or proper for administration of federal programs by the PTO. It is not, and has never been, the intention of the PTO to regulate conduct except to the extent necessary for the accomplishment of federal objectives. Thus, only that conduct which is relevant to the practice of patent, trademark, or other law before the PTO is what the PTO seeks to regulate. The preamble of § 10.1 indicates that Subpart 10 governs solely the practice of patent, trademark, and other law before the PTO. As noted in the preamble to § 10.1, "[n]othing in this subpart shall be construed to preempt the authority of each State to regulate the practice of law, except to the extent necessary for the Patent and Trademark Office to accomplish its federal objectives." See Sperry v. Florida ex rel. Florida Bar, 373 U.S. 379, 402 (1963). See also Michigan Canners and Freezers Ass'n. v. Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining Board, 104 S. Ct. 2518, 2523 (1984) (State Law is preempted when it stands as an obstacle to the accomplishment and execution of the full purposes and objectives of Congress) and Fidelity Federal Savings and Loan Ass'n. v. de la Cuesta, 102 S. Ct. 3014, 3022 (1982) (federal regulations have no less preemptive effect than federal statutes).

Several comments were received concerning § 10.1. The Florida Bar noted that in the notice of proposed rulemaking the PTO indicated "that failure to pay State bar dues is not a basis for suspension or exclusion before the PTO because failure to pay the dues has no relationship to the federal objectives which the PTO seeks to accomplish." 49 F.R. 33795, column 1, third full paragraph. The Florida Bar suggested that "the loss of good standing [should] be of concern to the PTO." The PTO agrees in part. Suspension from a State bar for failure to pay dues will not be viewed by the PTO as "misconduct." See § 10.23(c) (5), which has been changed to define misconduct as suspension or disbarment on ethical grounds. If an attorney is suspended by his or her State bar for failure to pay bar dues, and for that reason is no longer in good standing before the State bar, that attorney is no longer an attorney within the meaning of § 10.1(c). An attorney suspended from his or her State bar for failure to pay bar dues would no longer be eligible to represent individuals before the PTO in trademark and other non-patent cases.

One commentator suggested that the second sentence of § 10.1 be changed to read: "Nothing in this subpart shall be construed to preempt the authority of each State to regulate the practice of law, except to the extent necessary for the Patent and Trademark Office to accomplish its federal objectives." The suggestion is being adopted. The commentator noted that as originally proposed in the notice of proposed rulemaking, the phrase "to maintain control over the practice of law within its borders" is unduly restrictive. The commentator correctly pointed out that "[c]ertainly, New York would have the authority to regulate the practice of law by a New York attorney residing in Fla."

Another commentator noted the language "federal objectives" in § 10.1 and felt it would be appropriate for the PTO "to set forth what the federal objectives really are." The PTO does not believe it is appropriate to set out in the regulations specific federal objectives. The PTO engages in the examination of applications for patents, reexamination of issued patents, examination of applications for registrations of trademarks, and numerous inter partes patent and trademark proceedings. The federal objectives of the PTO center around these activities.

With respect to § 10.2(c), one commentator argued that "it is unfair to require the payment of a fee to review a final decision of the Director." The PTO disagrees. The review provided by § 10.2(c) is a service preformed by the PTO for which a fee may be charged. There is no compelling reason for not charging a fee.

Several comments were received discussing § 10.4. One commentator suggested "that a provision for no discovery or testimony from a member of the Committee on Discipline is unfair and inappropriate." The PTO does not believe that a "mini-trial" should be conducted in a subsequent disciplinary proceeding of how or why the Committee on Discipline reached its decision. The commentator also argued that 10.4(c) "would be in direct conflict with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure" in any review in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. Again, the PTO disagrees. The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure do not apply to disciplinary cases in the PTO. Moreover, those rules do not apply in cases seeking judicial review of a decision of the Commissioner in a disciplinary matter. Applicable law (35 U.S.C. 32 and Local Rule 1-26 of the district court) provides for review on the record made in the PTO. See also Camp v. Pitts, [ro 411 U.S. 138 (1973). Hence, there is no discovery in a proceeding under 35 U.S.C. 32.

Comments were received which suggest that the associate and assistant solicitors in the Office of the Solicitor cannot be isolated from the Solicitor and the Deputy Solicitor. The associate and assistant solicitors are to be isolated so that (1) the associate and assistant solicitors may act as attorney for the Director in prosecuting a disciplinary proceeding and (2) the Solicitor and Deputy Solicitor may act as legal advisor to the Commissioner in deciding a disciplinary matter. In disciplinary matters, the associate and assistant solicitors will report directly to the Director. Associate and assistant solicitors will not have occasion to discuss disciplinary matters with the Solicitor or Deputy Solicitor.

The following discussion in the Attorney General's Manual on the Administrative Procedure Act, pp. 5758 (1947), commenting on original § 5(c) (now 5 U.S.C. 554(d)) is believed particularly relevant to the issues raised in the comments:

> Assuming that an agency will in many cases wish to consult with certain of its staff members, it may proceed in one of two ways. It may in a particular case consult with staff members who in fact have not performed investigative or prosecuting functions in that or a factually related case. In the alternative, the agency may find it feasible so to organize its staff assignments that the staff members whom it most frequently desires to consult will be free of all investigative and prosecuting functions.
> [I]f the agency so organizes its staff that the general counsel is not responsible for the investigative and prosecuting functions, he would be regularly available to the agency for consultation on the decision of cases.[1]

Several commentators suggested that members of the public or the PTO bar should be members of the Committee on Discipline. This suggestion is not being adopted. As noted in the notice of proposed rulemaking (49 F.R. 33793, column 2, last paragraph), there are two reasons for not adopting the suggestion. Use of individuals outside the PTO is made difficult by 35 U.S.C. 122. Administrative delays would take place because it would be more difficult to schedule meetings.

One commentator suggested that the language "at least" in the phrase "at least three employees of the Office" should be deleted from the second sentence of § 10.4(a). This suggestion is not being adopted. The "at least" language will permit the Commissioner to appoint alternate members to substitute for a member who may be disqualified or who may be unavailable for an extended period.

Section 10.10 provides that only practitioners who are registered under § 10.6 or individuals given limited recognition under § 10.9 will be permitted to prosecute patent applications of others before the PTO. One comment was received which noted that the rules do not address the "status" of (a) "an individual in a training program directed to the preparation and prosecution of applications for patent" or (b) "a long-time employee working within a patent organization in the area of preparation and prosecution of applications for patent, but has never become registered to practice as either a Patent Agent or Patent Attorney." The commentator suggested that the rules should state what such individuals or employees may do. The suggestion is not being adopted. Only registered practitioners (attorneys and agents) may practice patent law before the PTO. The commentator also suggested that the rules should provide that long-time corporate or government employees who have never been registered should be given limited recognition by the PTO. This suggestion is not being adopted. Limited recognition will be given only on a case-by-case basis. See § 10.9.

One comment suggested that "applicants" and "trademark applications" in the first sentence of § 10.14(c) rendered it unclear whether an individual authorized to practice before the PTO in trademark cases could prosecute post-registration cases, such as a cancellation proceeding. The rule has been clarified by changing "applicants" to "parties" and "trademark applications" to "trademark cases". An individual authorized to represent others under § 10.14 is authorized to appear in any trademark case.

Several comments were received discussing § 10.18. One comment made at the hearing suggested that the rule should specify who should read the paper being signed. The commentator stated: "I think it would be salutary if what you really mean is that the practitioner who signs it has read it." The suggestion is being adopted and the language of § 10.18(a) (1) has been changed from "the paper has been read" to "the paper has been read by the practitioner".

Two individuals commented that requiring the signature of a practitioner would eliminate the "custom" of having an associate sign the name of a principal attorney on a paper which the principal authorizes the associate to file. Section 10.18 requires that the practitioner signing the paper sign his or her own name. The rule would permit associate attorney John Smith to sign on behalf of principal attorney David Jones by signing the paper as follows: "David Jones by John Smith." The rule would not permit Smith to merely sign Jones' name or to sign "David Jones by JS." The rule does not authorize a non-practitioner (e.g., a para-legal or secretary) to sign a paper on behalf of a practitioner.

One comment asked the following:

[1] The general counsel's participation in rule making and in court litigation would be entirely compatible with his role in advising the agency in the decision of adjudicatory cases subject to section 5(c).

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

> Assume an inventor is under Final Rejection and the period for proper response is near at hand. The attorney is now instructed to "keep the case alive" until a CIP [continuation-in-part] is prepared and filed. For reasons outside the control of the attorney, the CIP cannot be filed in time. Assume now the attorney files a Notice of Appeal, never intending to prosecute the appeal, intending only to buy time until the CIP can be filed. Would the filing of the Notice of Appeal violate Rule 10.18 and subject the attorney to PTO disciplinary action?

A notice of appeal is a proper response to a final rejection. Accordingly, it would not appear under the circumstances outlined that the notice of appeal was "interposed for delay" within the meaning of § 10.18(a) (4).

Three comments were received discussing § 10.22. One comment suggested that modifiers, such as "knowingly" and "willfully" be inserted in paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 10.22. The suggestion is not being adopted. A "materially false statement," a failure "to disclose a material fact," or furthering the application of another "known . . . to be unqualified" constitute acts which cannot be characterized as innocent. Accordingly, there is no need to insert the "modifiers" in the text of the rule. Another commentator suggested that the provisions of § 10.22 are not relevant to the federal objectives of the PTO. The PTO disagrees. Practitioners who (1) fail to tell the truth, (2) fail to reveal material information or (3) knowingly further the application of an unqualified individual to a bar, demonstrate that they are "disreputable" within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 32. A third commentator suggested that § 10.22(b) is too broad because a practitioner could recommend an individual for membership in a bar and the individual might fail to pass the bar examination. Unless a practitioner has good reason to know that the individual will fail to pass a bar examination, it is not apparent how the practitioner's recommendation could amount to a violation of the PTO Code of Professional Responsibility.

Numerous comments were received discussing § 10.23. One comment suggested that § 10.23(c) (8) be changed to require notification of a client rather than requiring correspondence to be forwarded. This suggestion has been adopted by making appropriate changes to § 10.23(c) (8).

A suggestion was made to delete the reference to $5000 in § 10.23(c) (17). This suggestion is not being adopted. See the discussion in the advance notice, 49 F.R. 10016, column 1.

A suggestion was made that § 10.23(c) (5) has "a built-in inequity as regards different patent attorneys in different states." According to the commentator, a practitioner suspended for an act by Ohio might not be suspended for the same act by New York. The commentator reasons it would be unfair for the Office to suspend the Ohio practitioner, but not the New York practitioner. The commentator's concern is not warranted in view of the second sentence of § 10.1.

Another commentator noted that § 10.23(a) (3) "points up the difficulty of superimposing . . . [a] set of rules on of the various local jurisdictions." Here again, the commentator's concern is not believed warranted in view of the second sentence of § 10.1. Another commentator noted that "moral turpitude" is hard to define. It was suggested that possession of marijuana is regarded as a crime involving moral turpitude in some states where a 99-year sentence may be received. It was suggested that in other states possession of marijuana might result in "a slap on the wrist." If a practitioner is incarcerated for a crime in a state, it follows that the practitioner is not capable of representing individuals before the Office. This is true even if the same practitioner would not have been incarcerated in another state for the same act.

The Florida Bar raised a question concerning § 10.23(c) (5) which is answered under the discussion above of § 10.1. Section 10.23(c) (5) has been changed to make suspension or disbarment "on ethical grounds" a basis for suspension or disbarment by the Office. "Ethical grounds" would include incompetence, but would not include failure to pay State bar dues.

One comment suggested that "disreputable" and "gross misconduct" in § 10.23(a) be defined. The terms "disreputable" and "gross misconduct" appear in 35 U.S.C. 32 and need no further definition in the rules. For a discussion of "disreputable," see Poole v. United States, 54 A.F.T.R. 2d (P-H) 84-5536 (D.D.C. June 29, 1984).

Several comments suggested that the Model Rules of Professional Conduct of the American Bar Association (1983) be adopted in place of § 10.23. Adoption of the Model Rules was given consideration prior to publication of the advance notice and the notice of proposed rulemaking. The matter has been considered again. However, it has not been demonstrated to the Office that a large number of states have adopted the Model Rules. As noted in the notice of proposed rulemaking, at least Va. has rejected the Model Rules. Accordingly, the PTO will not, at this time, adopt the Model Rules. If a large number of states adopt the Model Rules in the future, the PTO would be willing to reconsider its position.

One comment suggested that "before the Office" be inserted after the word "conduct" in § 10.23(b) (4), (5), and (6). This suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of § 10.1.

A suggestion was received that "improperly" be inserted at the beginning of § 10.23(c) (4) (iii). This suggestion has been adopted.

A suggestion was received that the word "patent" be inserted before "application" in § 10.23(c) (7). This suggestion has been adopted.

A suggestion was received that § 10.23(c) (15) be changed so that a trademark practitioner could present potentially scandalous subject matter in order to receive a determination on the merits of registrability. See e.g., In re McGinley, 660 F.2d 481, 211 USPQ 668 (CCPA 1981). Section 10.23(c) (15) has been changed to refer only "making a scandalous or indecent statement in a paper filed in the Office."

Several individuals suggested that it may be difficult to determine the identity of tunder § 10.23(c)(8), particularly in corporate patent departments. The PTO will presume that practitioners know the identities of their clients and that information conveyed to the client is being conveyed in a manner acceptable to the client.

Section 10.23(c)(12) has been changed in response to comments which suggested that it would be difficult for practitioners to comply with § 10.23(c)(12) on the one hand and §§ 10.24 and 10.131 on the other hand. The purpose of § 10.23(c)(12) is to eliminate a frivolous complaint against practitioners. Accordingly, § 10.23(c)(12) has been changed to define as misconduct "knowningly filing, or causing to be filed, a frivolous complaint alleging a violation by a practitioner of the Patent and Trademark Office Code of Professional Responsibility."

Several individuals criticized § 10.24. The provisions of § 10.24 are derived from DR 1-103 of the Code of Professional Responsibility of the American Bar Association (1970)—the rule currently applicable to practitioners. See 37 CFR §§ 1.344 and 2.13. The PTO is not aware that the current rule causes any problems. Accordingly, the numerous suggestions to delete or amend § 10.24 are not being adopted.

One comment was received which suggested that charging another person with trademark infringement and requesting that the person withdraw a pending application "might be . . . interpreted as a violation" of § 10.31(a). The PTO disagrees. A reasonable interpretation of the rule does not justify the unreasonable construction by the commentator.

At the hearing, an individual discussed § 10.32. The individual suggested that three "practices" should be sanctioned under any PTO Code of Professional Responsibility and it was suggested that all three practices might be prohibited by § 10.32. First, the individual suggested that "the giving of moderately priced presents . . . to established clients on appropriate occasions— Christmas, weddings of their daughters" should not constitute a violation of § 10.32. The PTO agrees. The giving of a gift to an "established client" on the occasions suggested is not a gift "to a person for recommending the practitioner's services." Second, the individual suggested that a practitioner should not be prohibited from "paying for ordinary client entertainment." The PTO agrees. Again the "client" is not "a person recommending the practitioner's services" in return for being entertained. Third, the individual argued that the rules should not preclude an "exchange of cases with foreign practitioners." An "exchange" was said to occur "[w] here a foreign patent practitioner in his country sends cases to an American patent or trademark practitioner to prosecute before the PTO, and you send the foreign firm cases to prosecute before the foreign patent office, on the more or less explicit basis that it's something in the nature of a trade." According to the individual, the "exchange" ordinarily takes place without knowledge of the practitioner's client. The individual expressed the opinion that "exchanges" without knowledge of the client presently occur routinely. The PTO believes that the suggested "exchange" may ethically take place only when the practitioner's clients are fully advised of the exchange. Three other witnesses at the hearing expressed the view—correctly the PTO believes—that client knowledge is essential to an ethical exchange of the type contemplated. No change in § 10.32 is being made.

A suggestion was received that "in matters before the Office" be inserted after "professional employment" in § 10.33. The suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of § 10.1. Another comment suggested that Rule 7.3 of the Model Rules of Professional Conduct (1983) be adopted in place of § 10.33. The suggestion is not being adopted. Section 10.33 is based partly on Rule 7.3, but contains the additional language "under circumstances evidencing undue influence, intimidation, or overreaching." Section 10.33 is designed to prohibit so-called "ambulance chasing." In Ohralik v. Ohio State Bar Ass'n., 436 U.S. 447 (1978), the Supreme Court held that a state could lawfully regulate ambulance chasing. In its opinion, the Supreme Court said:

> We need not discuss or evaluate each of these interests in detail as appellant has conceded that the State has a legitimate and indeed "compelling" interest in preventing those aspects of solicitation that involve fraud, undue influence, intimidation, overreaching, and other forms of 'vexatious conduct.' We agree that protection of the public from these aspects of solicitation is a legitimate and important state interest.

436 U.S. at 462. The additional language appearing in § 10.33 is designed to limit the application of § 10.33 to those situations in which the PTO has a legitimate interest. See also 35 U.S.C. 32 and § 10.31(a).

A suggestion was received that § 10.35(b) should be deleted. According to the suggestion, "[r]egulation of the practitioner's business arrangements should be left to state regulation." While the PTO is in general agreement with the rationale suggested, there exist partnerships of agents which are not subject to regulation by any state. Moreover, the commentator has not suggested or shown that § 10.35(b) is inconsistent with the policy of any state. Practitioners should not be free to hold themselves out as being associated with a partnership or other organizations when an association does not in fact exist.

One comment suggested that "in the locality" be deleted from § 10.36(b)(3). This suggestion is being adopted, because "in the locality" has no particular significance in the practice of patent and trademark law. Clients of patent and trademark practitioners are not necessarily located where counsel are located. Moreover, the practice is national in scope.

An individual at the hearing suggested that the PTO should delete subparagraphs (1) and (2) from § 10.37(a). This suggestion is not being adopted. The individual suggested that a client need not know that "employment" has been referred to another practitioner or to a foreign practitioner. The PTO disagrees and so did three other individuals who expressed a view at the hearing. Moreover, the PTO believes that when "farming out" occurs with the consent of a client, that the fee division should be proportional to the services rendered. Under § 10.37, "farming out" of work without knowledge and consent of a client will constitute a disciplinary rule violation.

One commentator suggested that § 10.39 "may result in numerous claims to the effect that a practitioner brought a proceeding 'merely for the purpose of harassing or maliciously injuring another person.' " Section 10.39 continues existing policy (37 CFR § 1.344 and DR 2-109 of the ABA Code (1970)). Under existing policy, the PTO has not experienced "numerous claims." Accordingly, there is no reason to expect such claims under § 10.39.

A suggestion was received that the first sentence of § 10.40(a) be changed to read: "A practitioner may withdraw from employment in a proceeding before the Office without permission from the Commissioner in those instances in which a substitute has been selected and is willing to serve." This suggestion is not being adopted. If "a substitute has been selected and is willing to serve," presumably with the consent of the client, a new power of attorney may be filed in the PTO. Another commentator suggested that § 10.40 should not apply to corporate attorneys. This suggestion likewise is not being adopted. If a corporate attorney changes jobs, the attorney should withdraw from representing the "old" corporation or the old corporation should revoke any power of attorney.

One comment suggested that the PTO should be under a burden of deciding requests for permission to withdraw within thirty (30) days. This suggestion is not being adopted, but it is and will continue to be PTO policy to promptly decide requests for permission to withdraw.

One comment suggested that ", and may not withdraw in other matters," be deleted from § 10.40(c). This suggestion has been adopted.

One comment asked whether a power of attorney given during prosecution of a patent application continues to be viable after the patent is issued. The answer is "yes." Communications received during reexamination proceedings are sent to the correspondence address established during prosecution of the application which matures into the patent being reexamined. See 37 CFR § 1.525. Notices concerning maintenance fees likewise are mailed to the correspondence address. See 37 CFR § 1.363, 49 F.R. 34725 (Aug. 31, 1984). The commentator also raised a question of who is the client when a case is filed on behalf of an individual, but the individual's assignee pays the practitioner's bills. Practitioners are expected to know the identities of their clients. If a practitioner is hired by a corporation and wishes to make that fact plain on the record of a patent application, the practitioner may file an assignment and a power of attorney signed by the assignee. If a dispute should then occur between the individual and the assignee, the record would be clear that the assignee is the client.

A comment suggested that § 10.40(a) "would appear to be unreasonable" in view of the language "giving due notice to another practitioner." Such language does not appear in § 10.40(a).

An oral comment was received by phone which questioned whether the use of para-legals or apprentices by a practitioner constitutes the unauthorized practice of law. If a para-legal or apprentice works under the direction of a practitioner and the practitioner does not allow the para-legal or apprentice to hold themselves out as a practitioner, there is no unauthorized practice of law problem within the meaning of § 10.47.

One comment discussing § 10.49 made the following statement:

> ". . . if the intent of this section is to prohibit a practitioner from forming a partnership with a lawyer who, while in good standing with his State bar, does not qualify to practice before the Office (either because he has not taken the patent examination or is not qualified to handle trademark matters), then it should be stricken."

As explained in the notice of proposed rulemaking (49 F.R. 33797, column 3), the PTO does not intend to prohibit formation of law firms by members of the Bar of any state.

One comment suggested that "in matters before the Office" should be inserted after "employment" in § 10.62(a). This suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of § 10.1.

Another comment suggested that §§ 10.62 and 10.63 be replaced with Rule 3.7(b) of the Model Rules of Professional Conduct of the ABA (1983). For reasons already discussed, the PTO is not adopting the Model Rules. The comment went on to suggest that practitioners would not be free testify concerning attorney diligence in patent interference cases. The PTO has made it plain twice that it disagrees. See the advance notice (49 F.R. 10016, column 3 (Mar. 16, 1984)) and the notice of proposed rulemaking (49 F.R. 33797, column 3, last paragraph (Aug. 24, 1984)).

A comment suggested that language in §§ 10.62 and 10.63 is not clear. Specifically, the commentator referred to "solely to an uncontested matter" or "solely to a matter of formality." This language occurs in the current rules and has not caused any known difficulty.

Two comments were received which suggested that § 10.64(b) should permit practitioners to pay fees which rightfully should be paid by a practitioner. This suggestion is being adopted and the following sentence has been added to § 10.64(b): "A practitioner may, however, advance any fee required to prevent or remedy an abandonment of a client's application by reason of an act or omission attributable to the practitioner and not to the client, whether or not the client is ultimately liable for such fee." One of the commentators supplied the following rationale with which the PTO agrees:

> It sometimes happens that payment of a fee is necessitated by some act or omission for which the practitioner and not the client is responsible. One example is a fee for an extension of time to respond to an Office Action (see 37 C.F.R. § 1.17 and § 1.136), where the delay has resulted from the practitioner's workload for other clients, or from the practitioner's absence from his or her office for purposes unrelated to the client's business. Another example is a petition fee for revival of an application unintentionally abandoned through some inadvertent oversight on the practitioner's part. In these circumstances, it would seem unjust to require the client to bear the cost of the fee.

One comment suggested that § 10.65 should be amended to indicate that it relates only to matters before the PTO. This suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of § 10.1.

Another comment suggested that § 10.65(a) "may limit a practitioner serving on the board of directors of a client." The commentator went on to say that practitioners serving on boards of directors is a common practice. Inasmuch as the client consents to practitioner serving on the board, it is believed that § 10.65 does not limit a practitioner as suggested by the commentator.

One comment was received which suggested that § 10.66(d) be changed to exclude corporate patent departments. According to the comment, "why should an entire corporate patent department have to withdraw if one of its members has to withdraw for disciplinary reasons?" In situations where it would not be appropriate for an entire firm or department to withdraw, § 10.66(d) permits the Commissioner or the Director to so order. See e.g., Sunkist Growers, Inc. v. The Benjamin Ansehl Co., 221 USPQ 1077 (Comm'r.Pat. 1984). Another comment suggested that § 10.66 should be amended to indicate that it relates only to matters before the PTO. This suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of § 10.1.

One comment was received which suggested that § 10.67 be amended to indicate that it relates only to matters before the PTO. This suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of § 10.1.

A comment was received which suggested that § 10.68(c) might be construed to preclude a practitioner from joining a law firm where attorneys who are not registered to practice before the PTO "are in control," i.e., are the "senior" partners. The definition of practitioner (see § 10.1(r)) precludes such a construction, because any attorney in good standing in any State is a practitioner. Another comment suggested that § 10.68 be amended to indicate that it relates only to matters before the PTO. This suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of § 10.1.

One comment was made at the hearing which suggested that modifiers, such as "knowingly, willfully, intentionally," be inserted in § 10.77. This suggestion is not being adopted. The PTO believes § 10.77 states clearly the prohibited conduct.

A comment was received which suggested that §§ 10.77, 10.78, and 10.84 be amended to indicate that they refer only to matters before the PTO. This suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of § 10.1.

One comment suggested that the term "unwarranted" in § 10.85(a) (2) is "too vague as to its limits." The PTO disagrees. Contrary to the suggestion by the commentator, it is believed that practitioners can readily determine whether they are advocating a position that is unwarranted under existing law.

A comment was received which suggested that § 10.85(b) can place a difficult burden on patent counsel. In support of his position, the commentator gave two examples and commented on both examples as follows:

Example 1:

A client engages a patent attorney in the preparation of a patent application, and the patent attorney goes through the usual routine of advising the client of statutory bars, duty to disclose, etc. The attorney prepares and files the application, and during the course of the prosecution, the client informs the attorney of some activities that occurred a couple of years before filing the application, which activities might constitute an offer for sale. The attorney advises that this must be disclosed to the Patent Examiner, but the applicant refuses to follow this course of action and discharges the patent attorney. The client then engages another attorney to complete the prosecution, without telling the new attorney of the potentially damaging prior art.

Comment:

In accordance with my interpretation of § 10.85(b), the first attorney would be required to disclose this situation to the Office, unless the term "prepetrated a fraud" as it appears in that rule does not include the deliberate failure to disclose relevant prior art. My concern is that this could make for some very poor relationships with the client who might not understand the attorney's duty of disclosure before the Office.

Example 2:

A rather poor inventor has managed to drum up enough money for the filing fee for a patent application and then proceeds to prepare and file his own patent application, without the assistance of a patent attorney. After a few months, the inventor obtains some financing from an investor, and the inventor and the investor consult the patent attorney to see if he would continue with the prosecution of the application. The attorney reviews the fact pattern and informs both the inventor and the investor that there is unquestionably some prior art, in the form of an earlier publication by the inventor, which must be disclosed before the Office. When the inventor and the investor find that the attorney intends to disclose this prior art as soon as he is engaged as their attorney, the inventor and the investor tell the attorney that they would rather engage the services of some other patent attorney, and that they will not tell the second attorney of the prior art.

Comment:

As I would interpret § 10.85 (b), the first patent attorney would be obliged to inform the Office of the relevant prior art. The first patent attorney would likely have the serial number and filing date of the application, and it would appear to me that the patent attorney would have to disclose not only the prior art, but also disclose the intent of the inventor and the investor not to disclose the same. This is pretty harsh treatment, and I can see where the inventor and the investor would have some very hard feelings against the patent attorney.

The PTO agrees that under the circumstances of Example 1, a "client . . . might not understand the attorney's duty of disclosure . . . " Likewise, the PTO can understand "where the inventor and the investor [in Example 2] would have some very hard feelings against the patent attorney." Nevertheless, the commentator has correctly noted in each case that the practitioner is required to advise the PTO. The practitioner's obligation under § 10.85(b) has not been changed by the rules and is mandated by Kingsland v. Dorsey, 338 U.S. 318 (1949). See also Nahstoll, The Lawyer's Allegiance: Priorities Regarding Confidentiality, 41 Wash. & Lee L. Rev. 421 (1984).

A comment was received which suggested that § 10.85 be amended to indicate that it pertains only to matters before the PTO. The suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of § 10.1.

Two comments were received which suggested that § 10.87(a) could be construed to prohibit a practitioner from recommending that a client meet with an opposing party for settlement discussions. Both comments suggested that § 10.87(a) be amended to permit a practitioner to recommend that a client engage in settlement discussions directly with an opposing party. The suggestion is being adopted and the following sentence has been added to § 10.87(a): "It is not improper, however, for a practitioner to encourage a client to meet with an opposing party for settlement discussions."

A suggestion was made that § 10.87 be amended to indicate that it pertains only to matters before the PTO. The suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of § 10.1.

One comment suggested that § 10.89(c) (5) be "eliminated on the grounds of vagueness" because one cannot "be expected to comply with apparently unpublished customs of courtesy or practice." The suggestion is being adopted. Subparagraph (6) of § 10.89(c) is being redesignated as subparagraph (5) and has also been changed to read: "Engage in undignified or discourteous conduct before the Office (see § 1.3 of this Subchapter)." Subparagraph (7) has been redesignated as subparagraph (6).

Another comment discussing § 10.89 asked "since when must counsel cite to the Examiner in ex parte proceedings cases known to be directly adverse to the position being advocated?" Counsel are expected to advise patent and trademark examiners of known controlling authority which is contrary to a position being advocated. It is important for counsel to do so in ex parte cases because there is no advocate taking a position contrary to the position being taken by an applicant. See also Southern Pacific Transportation Co. v. Public Utilities Commission of the State of Calif., 716 F.2d 1285, 1291 (9th Cir. 1983).

A commentator contended that § 10.89(a) "makes no sense" because a decision of the PTO may have been overruled by the Federal Circuit. Section 10.89(a) is limited to "a decision of the Office made in the course of a proceeding." Practitioners are expected to follow interlocutory orders entered in PTO proceedings. Obviously if such an order is ultimately overruled or reversed by a court, it no longer need be followed. The same commentator suggested that § 10.89(c) (3) is not appropriate. Specifically, the commentator indicated that practitioners often rely on the specification of a patent application and prior art. The specification and prior art are evidence, not the "practitioner's personal knowledge."

One commentator suggested that §§ 10.92 and 10.93 be amended to indicate that they relate solely to matters before the PTO. This suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of § 10.1.

A commentator at the hearing suggested that § 10.93 be changed to permit practitioners to discuss procedural matters with interlocutory examiners or members of the Board of Patent Interferences or the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board. In view of Public Law 98-622, November 8, 1984, the Board of Patent Interferences will cease to exist on February 8, 1985. All patent interference cases will be transfered to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences and will be assigned to an examiner-in-chief. Practitioners may consult an examiner-in-chief orally upon adequate notice to opposing counsel. A telephone conference call may be arranged when opposing counsel desires to participate in the oral consultation. The same is true of the interlocutory examiners or members of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board. Questions of a purely procedural nature may be asked. However, an examiner-in-chief or the interlocutory examiner or member of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board may nevertheless decline to answer procedural questions without opposing counsel being present or involved in a conference call.

One commentator suggested that §§ 10.101, 10.102, 10.103, and 10.111 be amended to indicate that they refer only to proceedings in the PTO. The suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of § 10.1.

One comment suggested that practitioners residing in the United States should be able to maintain trust funds in a bank in any State. This suggestion is being adopted and § 10.112(a) has been changed to implement the suggestion. However, if a State bar requires funds to be kept in a bank within the State, a practitioner would be required to keep funds in a bank in the State in order to comply with State rules. Another comment suggested that § 10.112(c)(2) is not practical. According to the commentator, "invention samples and invention disclosures and drawings usually are the client's property, but keeping them in a safe deposit box is totally impractical." The commentator overlooks that portion of § 10.112(c)(2) which reads "in a safe deposit box or other place of safekeeping . . . ." A client may consent to a practitioner keeping invention samples, invention disclosures, and drawings in the practitioner's office. The practitioner, of course, should see to it that the office is maintained with appropriate security.

An individual testified at the hearing that § 10.112 is not clear. According to the individual, "I think the rules should specify that if you get money up front from a client, whether it's called a retainer, pre-payment, or whatever . . . that money has to be put into a trust fund or a trust account . . . and that you can't take the money out and spend it until you have performed the services and sent a bill to the client that says X dollars has come out of your trust account in payment of Y services." The PTO believes that § 10.112(b)(2) specifies "that you can't take the money out and spent it until you have performed the services" and that § 10.112(c)(3) specifies that you must send "a bill to the client." Accordingly, no change to § 10.112 is necessary.

One commentator testified at the hearing that the PTO rules do not address "those individuals who, due to a mental or physical defect, are not able to bring themselves in conformity with the rules of conduct . . . ." On the contrary, § 10.130 specifies that any practitioner shown to be "incompetent" may be suspended or excluded. The commentator at the hearing referred to an individual "who has a drinking problem or one who is mentally incapable of representing people before the . . . Office." The statute (35 U.S.C. 32) and the rules address such an individual. As noted in the advance notice, the PTO has declined to adopt the suggestion appearing in Manson, Helping Lawyers Who Need Help (But Won't Ask for It!), 25 Va. Bar News 27 (June 1977). See 49 F.R. 10017, column 1 (Mar. 16, 1984). If an individual is suspended due to a drinking problem, reinstatement (see § 10.160) may be conditioned on a clear and convincing showing that the drinking problem has been overcome.

One individual testified at the hearing that a "statute of limitations" should be inserted in § 10.131. This suggestion is not being adopted. As the individual noted during testimony, statues of limitations do not apply in disciplinary proceedings.

A suggestion was received that § 10.132 be changed to expressly provide that:

> No disposition adverse to the respondent shall be recommended by the Director until the respondent shall have been afforded the opportunity to be heard.

This suggestion is not being adopted. Section 10.132(a) provides that, where necessary, the Director shall comply with 5 U.S.C. 558(c) prior to calling a meeting of the Committee on Discipline. The relevant portion of 5 U.S.C. 558(c) provides:

> Except in cases of willfulness or those in which public health, interest, or safety required otherwise, the withdrawal, suspension, revocation, or annulment of a license is lawful only if, before the institution of agency proceedings therefor, the license has been given;
> (1) notice by the agency in writing of the facts or conduct which may warrant the action; and
> (2) opportunity to demonstrate or achieve compliance with all lawful requirements.

Where appropriate, a notice under § 588(c) will be issued prior to the time the Director takes a case to the Committee on Discipline. Any reply to the § 558 (c) notice will be reviewed by the Director and the Committee on Discipline prior to deciding whether a complaint should be filed.

Another suggestion was received which indicated that § 10.132(c) should be changed so that the "accused practitioner . . . [would] have the right to select an administrative law judge from a panel of such judges, such panel including the names of at least two law judges." This suggestion is not being adopted. No rationale was given in support of the suggestion and there is no known reason to permit a respondent to select the particular administrative law judge (ALJ) to be assigned to hear the practitioner's case.

Several changes have been made in § 10.133 by the PTO which are not in response to any comment or suggestion. The language "§§ 10.132(b) and 10.134" in the first sentence of § 10.133(b) has been changed to § 10.134". This change was made because a reference to § 10.132(b) is not necessary. The language "his or her resignation by filing" in the first sentence of § 10.133(b) has also been deleted as unnecessary. The second sentence of paragraph (b) of § 10.133 has been replaced by new paragraphs (c) and (d). New paragraph (c) specifies the content of an affidavit of resignation filed prior to the date set by the ALJ for a hearing. New paragraph (d) specifies the content of an affidavit of resignation filed on or after the date set by the ALJ for a hearing. Old paragraph (c) has been redesignated as new paragraph (e) and the language "paragraph (b)" therein has been changed to read "paragraphs (b) and (c)". Old paragraphs (d) and (e) have been redesignated as new paragraphs (f) and (g), respectively.

New paragraph (c) of § 10.133 has been added to define the conditions under which a practitioner may resign prior to the date set by the ALJ for a hearing. Experience has shown that practitioners do not readily resign prior to hearing if they are required to admit the charges against them and/or are required to admit that they could not have been defended against the charges or the subject of an investigation. Paragraph (c) does not require a practitioner to admit the charges or any lack of defense at the time of resignation. Rather, under § 10.133(c)(5), any admission is operative at the time of a request for reinstatement and only for the limited purpose of determining the request for reinstatement. By deferring the time when the practitioner makes the admissions, it is believed that settlements are more likely. Once a hearing begins, however, there is no reason to permit a resignation without admission of the facts and a lack of defense. The admissions of paragraph (c)(5) are relevant in determining whether reinstatement should be granted and whether sufficient time has passed between resignation and any application for reinstatement.

One comment was made at the hearing which suggested that "if, in fact there is a real stalemate in a settlement discussion, that there be some avenue so that there be, in essence, binding arbitration" on the part of the respondent and the Director. This suggestion is not being adopted. There is no reason to impose binding arbitration in disciplinary matters. While settlements are to be encouraged, if the parties (the respondent and the Director) cannot reach a mutually agreeable settlement, the proper recourse is to proceed with the disciplinary proceeding.

A suggestion was received that the second sentence of § 10.138 be deleted. The suggestion is not being adopted. The second sentence of § 10.138 provides that evidence obtained by a subpoena under 35 U.S.C. 24 will not be admitted unless prior approval was obtained from the ALJ to proceed under § 24. This provision is necessary to retain control over the proceedings in the ALJ. Moreover, an order authorizing a party to proceed under § 24 can be helpful to any district court which is required to determine whether an individual should be compelled to answer counsel's questions. Additional rationale in support of the PTO's decision not to adopt the suggestion appears in the advance notice (49 F.R. 10019, columns 1 and 2) and in the notice of proposed rulemaking (49 F.R. 33800, column 1).

Two individuals testified at the hearing concerning § 10.144. Section 10.144 provides that hearings in disciplinary cases will not be open to the public. One individual suggested that hearings in disciplinary matters should be opened to the public. The other individual took the opposite position and supported § 10.144 as proposed. The suggestion to open hearings to the public is not being adopted at this time. The PTO believes that a practitioner should not unnecessarily be exposed to charges of alleged wrongdoing until the practitioner is found to have violated the PTO Code of Professional Responsibility. Unnecessary and premature exposure could cause a practitioner's clients to find other counsel based on mere allegations. Additionally, the PTO is required to maintain information concerning patent applications in secrecy. 35 U.S.C. 122. In most disciplinary cases information concerning a patent application is revealed at any hearing. Accordingly, the PTO will not provide for public hearings. However, the PTO intends to further study the possibility of hearings open to the public (e.g., in a disciplinary proceeding involving only trademark matters) and may, in the future, propose to modify § 10.144.

Numerous comments were received which suggested that the burden of proof set forth in § 10.149 should be changed from "preponderance of evidence" to "clear and convincing evidence." As announced at the hearing, this suggestion is being adopted. The "clear and convincing evidence" standard brings § 10.149 in conformance with § 10.158(d)(1)(ii) which also requires proof by clear and convincing evidence.

The term "clear and convincing evidence" is not succeptable to a precise definition. The PTO, therefore, deems it appropriate to set forth its views on what constitutes "clear and convincing evidence." "Clear and convincing evidence" falls somewhere between proof beyond a reasonable doubt and proof by a preponderance of evidence.

A reasonable doubt is a doubt based upon reason and common sense—the kind of doubt that would make a reasonable person hesitate to act. Proof beyond a reasonable doubt must, therefore, be proof of such a convincing character that a person would be willing to rely and act upon it unhesitatingly in the most important of his or her affairs. Devitt, Federal Jury Practice and Instructions § 11.01 (2d ed. 1970).

To establish a fact by a preponderance of evidence means to prove that fact is more likely so than not so. A preponderance of evidence means such evidence as, when considered and compared with that opposed to it, has more convincing force, and produces in the mind of the trier of fact a belief that what is sought to be proved is more likely true than not true. Devitt, supra at § 7.01.

Clear and convincing evidence is that measure or degree of proof which will produce in the mind of the trier of fact a firm belief or conviction as to an allegation sought to be established; it is more than a preponderance of evidence, but less than that required to establish guilt beyond a reasonable doubt. Hobson v. Eaton, 399 F.2d 781 (6th Cir. 1968). It does not mean clear and unequivocal." Fred C. Walker Agency, Inc. v. Lucas, 215 Va. 535, 540-541, 211 S.E.2d 88, 92 (1975).

Several comments were received which suggested that § 10.150 be changed to make the Federal Rules of Evidence applicable to disciplinary proceedings. The suggestion is not being adopted. The PTO has explained, in both the advance notice (49 F.R. 10020, column 2) and the notice of proposed rulemaking (49 F.R. 338001, columns 1 and 2) why it cannot adopt the Federal Rules of Evidence in disciplinary cases. The "Federal Rules of Evidence . . . do not apply to administrative proceedings . . . ." Davis, Administrative Law Treatise, § 14.01 (Supp. 1970). The controlling law is set out in 5 U.S.C. 556(d) which provides in part: "Any oral or documentary evidence may be received, but the agency as a matter of policy shall provide for the exclusion of irrelevant, immaterial, or unduly repetitious evidence. A sanction may not be imposed or rule or order issued except on consideration of the whole record or those parts thereof cited by a party and supported by and in accordance with the reliable, probative, and substantial evidence." It appears to be the concern of some of the comments that the Administrative Procedure Act does not articulate an appropriate standard of evidence and that hearsay may be admitted. Suffice it to say that many adjudications occur daily under the Administrative Procedure Act, including disciplinary proceedings. The following language appearing in an opinion of the Eleventh Circuit in TRW-United Greenfield Division v. National Labor Relations Board, 716 F.2d 1391, 1394 (11th Cir. 1983), may be helpful:

> At the hearing the ALJ refused to allow five additional employees to testify that other employees told them that such a statement had been made. TRW contends it was denied a full and fair hearing by the exclusion of this testimony. The general rule is that administrative tribunals are not bound by the strict rules of evidence governing jury trials. Opp Cotton Mills, Inc. v. Administrator of Wage & Hour Div., 312 U.S. 126, 155, 61 S.Ct. 524, 537, 85 L.Ed. 624 (1971). Thus, the admission of testimony which would be deemed incompetent in judicial proceedings would not invalidate the administrative order. Tagg Bros. & Moorhead v. United States, 280 U.S. 420, 442, 50 S.Ct. 220, 225, 74 L.Ed. 524 (1930). But this assurance of a desirable flexibility in administrative procedure does not go so far as to justify orders without a basis in evidence having rational probative force. Mere uncorroborated hearsay or rumor does not constitute substantial evidence. Consolidated Edison Co. v. N.L.R.B., 305 U.S. 197, 230, 59 S.Ct. 206, 217, 83 L.Ed. 126 (1938). Therefore, the hearsay testimony of other employees would not have amounted to substantial evidence sufficient to support a finding for the company. We find that TRW was not denied a full and fair hearing by the judge's refusal to admit hearsay testimony.

A suggestion was received that § 10.151 be changed to make the deposition rules of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure applicable to disciplinary proceedings. This suggestion is not being adopted. The discovery provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure are not being adopted by the PTO in disciplinary cases. Except for discovery which the parties agree to make voluntarily, all discovery under these rules will require the prior permission of the ALJ. This prior permission is designed to insure that the ALJ retains control over the proceeding. By requiring prior approval of the ALJ to take a deposition, the rules insure that the deposition will relate to evidence the ALJ deems to be relevant and will afford the ALJ the option of determining whether he or she wishes to observe the witness.

Several comments were received which suggested that § 10.152 be changed to permit more discovery. Some commentators urged adoption of the discovery provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure relating to requests for admissions, interrogatories, and requests for production of documents. Other commentators felt that the discovery proposed in the notice of proposed rulemaking was not sufficient and that more discovery should be authorized. These latter commentators, however, did not urge adoption of the discovery provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. As one commentator noted:

> Disciplinary proceedings are not in the nature of civil actions and full discovery within the scope of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure is probably not needed or desirable.

The PTO agrees that more discovery is appropriate than would have been authorized under § 10.152 as proposed. The PTO does not agree, however, that discovery should be commensurate in scope with the discovery provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

One commentator at the hearing who urged adoption of the discovery provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, correctly recognized the existence of "concerns of the Patent [and Trademark] Office regarding what are alleged to be general discovery abuses." There is ample basis for the PTO's concern. See e.g., Pollack, Discovery—Its Abuse and Correction, 80 F.R.D. 219 (1979) (reproducing remarks made by Judge Pollack at the Fifth Circuit Judicial Conference on April 26, 1978 at New Orleans). The same commentator at the hearing went on to note, however, that if the ALJ "gets on top of a case and monitors a case very actively, then no discovery abuses will occur, and if they do, they will be dealt with swiftly and properly."

Advocates of discovery "reform" seemingly rely on two principles which are claimed to be the cure-all for discovery abuse: (1) active control by the judge and (2) sanctions. See e.g. Second Report of the Special Committee for the Study of Discovery Abuse, 92 F.R.D. 137 (1980). The PTO is not in a position to impose the most effective sanction—costs. However, the PTO can invest the ALJ with control over discovery. It is because the PTO can invest the ALJ with control over discovery that the suggestion for more discovery is being adopted. Section 10.152 has been changed to permit discovery which the PTO believes will be effective. The scope of the discovery, however, will not be commensurate in scope with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

Paragraph (a) of § 10.152 will permit limited discovery an answer is filed. Discovery is not authorized prior to the filing of an answer. A party seeking discovery will have to make out a clear and convincing case to the ALJ that discovery is necessary and relevant. If discovery is authorized, the ALJ may set conditions he or she deems appropriate to accomplish the discovery. For example, the ALJ may set the place and time for inspection of documents which are required to be produced or the ALJ can order a party to mail copies of the documents to the other party. Under paragraph (a) of § 10.152, discovery is limited to a reasonable number of requests for admissions, interrogatories, or requests for production of documents and things. Consideration was given to setting numerical maximums for requests for admission, interrogatories and requests for production of documents and things. See e.g., Local Rule 11.1 of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia. However, numerical maximums are not presently specified. Should discovery become a problem, the PTO will give further consideration to limiting the number of discovery requests which a party may file.

Paragraph (b) of § 10.152 specified certain matters which cannot be discovered. Matter which will be used by another party solely for impeachment or cross-examination cannot be discovered. Documents which will be used as part of the Director's case-in-chief or the respondent's case-in-rebuttal or affirmative defenses are subject to discovery. Patent applications not available to a respondent under 35 U.S.C. § 122 are not subject to discovery. Matter relating to disciplinary proceedings commenced prior to the effective date of these rules is not available. For the most part, the reasons for a particular length of suspension or disbarment have not been stated in the past. Accordingly, disciplinary proceedings commenced prior to these rules are not particularly relevant. See Poole v. United States, 54 A.F.T.R. 2d (P-H) 84-5536 (D.D.C. June 29, 1984). Prior disciplinary proceedings which resulted in public discipline being imposed will continue to be available in the Office of the Director of Enrollment and Discipline. Respondents will continue to be free to inspect the files of those proceedings. Matters relating to experts, except as may be required by the ALJ under § 10.152(e), likewise are not subject to discovery. Privileged matter and attorney work product are excluded from matter which can be discovered.

Paragraph (c) sets forth some factors the ALJ can consider in determining whether to authorize discovery or to limit discovery which is authorized. The factors include delay (which is a major consideration in disciplinary matters), burden on the party required to produce discovery, availability of the discovery sought to the public (in which case, discovery may not be necessary), the extent to which the matter sought to be discovered is equally available to both parties, and the extent to which discovery is available from another source.

Paragraph (d) of § 10.152 requires a party desiring discovery to file a motion which explains, in detail, how each request is relevant to an issue raised in the complaint or the answer.

Paragraph (e) of § 10.152 sets out matter which the ALJ can require a party to produce in a pre-hearing statement. Subparagraph (4) states the matter the ALJ can require disclosed related to experts.

The PTO has every reason to believe that the discovery authorized by § 10.152 will be useful and that sufficient authority has been given to the ALJ to effectively control discovery and prevent abuses. The PTO intends to monitor discovery closely in the future and will consider amending these rules if abuses occur.

One comment suggested that § 10.154(b) be modified by adding "any extenuating circumstances" as a matter to be considered in imposing a penalty. This suggestion is being adopted. Another comment suggested that § 10.154 should address "probation." This suggestion is not being adopted. Nevertheless, the PTO has authority to place a practitioner on probation for all or a portion of any suspension and to revoke the probation upon a showing of a violation. See In re Dula, 1030 Official Gazette 20 (May 17, 1983).

One comment suggested that § 10.155 be modified to specify that the Director should serve a copy of any appeal "on the respondent or on the attorney for respondent." This suggestion is not being adopted. However, in view of the suggestion the language "on the respondent" (both occurrences) in § 10.155(a) is being deleted. Section 10.142(a) specifies how service is made on a respondent who is represented by an attorney.

A suggestion was received that § 10.157 be modified to provide that a stay would be entered in every case where a respondent seeks judicial review of a decision of the Commissioner. This suggestion was rejected at the time the notice of proposed rulemaking was published (49 F.R. 33802) and is not being adopted. There are cases where a stay is not appropriate, e.g., when the disbarred practitioner is incarcerated. There are other times when a stay may be appropriate. Accordingly, stays will be granted in the discretion of the Commissioner.

Several comments were received discussing § 10.158. Some commentators suggested that § 10.158 was "too lenient" and another suggested that it was "too hard" on suspended and excluded practitioners. Section 10.158 is designed to advise suspended practitioners as to what they can and cannot do during any period of suspension. The PTO believes that § 10.158 strikes a reasonable balance in a difficult area. See the discussion concerning § 10.158 in the advance notice (49 F.R. 10021, columns 2 and 3). One comment suggested that § 10.158 should be made applicable to corporations. This suggestion is being adopted by appropriate changes in § 10.158(c) to refer to client-employers. Another comment suggested that § 10.158(b)(1) and (2) be changed to refer to matters before the PTO. This suggestion is also being adopted.

An oral comment was received asking whether the Director could conduct an investigation in connection with a determination under § 10.158(d). The Director may conduct whatever investigation is warranted to determine whether a suspended or excluded practitioner seeking reinstatement has complied with regulations relating to suspended and excluded practitioners.

A comment was received regarding § 10.159(a) which suggested that the Director notify the American Bar Association

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

National Discipline Data Bank when a practitioner is suspended or excluded. This suggestion is not being adopted as such. However, § 10.159(a) has been changed to authorize the Director to notify "any appropriate bar association." The PTO is not inclined to mention any particular bar association by name in the rules. It will be the practice of the PTO to notify the National Discipline Data Bank, among others, when a practitioner is disciplined. Another comment suggested that the entire file of a disciplinary proceeding should not be open to the public when only some, but not all, charges are sustained. This suggestion is not being adopted. In most disciplinary matters, it would be highly inconvenient to segregate the relevant from the irrelevant. Moreover, once discipline is imposed, the principal rationale for keeping the file secret no longer exists. The disciplined practitioner will suffer whatever public embarassment results from discipline apart from whether part or all of the file is open to the public.

With respect to § 10.160, one commentator suggested that the burden on the suspended or excluded practitioner for reinstatement be stated in the rules. This suggestion is being adopted and a "clear and convincing showing" requirement has been added to § 10.160(c). Section 10.149 sets out the burden on the Director for proof of allegations in the complaint and upon the respondent for proving affirmative defenses. The showing required by § 10.158(d)(1) is by "clear and convincing evidence." One commentator suggested that the 5-year period of § 10.160(b) should be changed to a 3-year period. This suggestion is not being adopted. According to the commentator, the PTO has failed to state why a 5-year period was proposed. The commentator believes a 3-year period is more appropriate, although no reason is given in support of the commentator's belief. The PTO, after considering the matter, has concluded that some period must be specified and there is no reason to change the 5-year period proposed. A commentator suggested that a practitioner suspended for less than six months should "automatically" be reinstated. This suggestion is not being adopted, because the Director, as a condition to any reinstatement, must find that the suspended practitioner complied with § 10.158. Another commentator questioned whether the rules should provide for application for reinstatement during a period of probation. The PTO believes the rules need not make provision for application for reinstatement during probation. For example, if a practitioner is suspended for a period of three years and it is ordered that the practitioner be actually suspended for at least one year and that the last two years the practitioner be placed on probation, the practitioner would be able to apply for reinstatement after serving one year of the three year suspension.

The PTO disagrees with the following comment concerning § 10.161(b). "This clause is ex post facto legislation as it seeks retroactively an increase of penalties regarding conduct which occurred prior to the legislation." No legislation is involved. Section 10.161(b) does not "increase penalties."

Other Considerations: The rules will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

The rules are in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354) and Executive Order 12291.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Small Business Administration that the rules will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354). The rules regulate the conduct of attorneys and agents who represent individuals and juristic entities before the Patent and Trademark Office and would not be expected to result in an increase of fees charged by attorneys and agents to entities, including small entities.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that the rules are not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of the United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The information reporting requirements contained in the rules have been approved by the Office of Management and Budget, OMB Control No. 0651-0012 and OMB Control No. 0651-0017.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Parts 1, 2 and 10.

Administrative practice and procedure, Authority delegations, Conflict of interests, Courts, Inventions and patents, Trademarks, Lawyers.

For the reasons given in the preamble and under the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 5 U.S.C. 500; 15 U.S.C. 1123; and 35 U.S.C. 6, 31, 32, and 41. Parts 1, 2, and 10 of Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations are amended as set forth below:

Part 1—Rules of Practice in Patent Cases

1. Section 1.8 is amended by adding to paragraph (a) (12) a new subparagraph (xiii) to read as follows:

§ 1.8 Certificate of mailing.

(a) * * *
(2) * * *
(xiii) Papers filed in connection with a disciplinary proceeding under Part 10 of this Subchapter.

2. Section 1.21 is amended by adding to paragraph (a) two new subparagraphs (5) and (6) to read as follows:

§ 1.21 Miscellaneous fees and charges.

(a) * * *

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

(5) For review of a decision of the Director of Enrollment and Discipline under § 10.2(c) 60.00
(6) For requesting regrading of an examination under § 10.7(c) 60.00

* * * * *

3. Section 1.31 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.31 Applicants may be represented by a registered attorney or agent.

An applicant for patent may file and prosecute his or her own case, or he or she may be represented by a registered attorney, registered agent, or other individual authorized to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office in patent cases. See §§ 10.6 and 10.9 of this Subchapter. The Patent and Trademark Office cannot aid in the selection of a registered attorney or agent.

4. Section 1.33 is amended by removing from paragraph (c) "1.341 and 1.347" and inserting in its place "10.5 and 10.11".

5. Section 1.34 is amended by revising paragraph (a) as follows:

(a) When a registered attorney or agent acting in a representative capacity appears in person or signs a paper in practice before the Patent and Trademark Office in a patent case, his or her personal appearance or signature shall constitute a representation to the Patent and Trademark Office that under the provisions of this Subchapter and the law, he or she is authorized to represent the particular party in whose behalf he or she acts. In filing such a paper, the registered attorney or agent should specify his or her registration number with his or her signature. Further proof of authority to act in a representative capacity may be required.

6. Section 1.56 is amended by removing from paragraphs (f) and (h) "1.346" and inserting in its place "10.18".

7. The center heading preceding § 1.341 is removed.

8. Sections 1.341 through 1.348 are removed.

9. Section 1.455 is amended by removing from paragraph (a) "1.341" and inserting in its place "10.10".

Part 2—Rules of Practice in Trademark Cases

10. Section 2.11 is revised to read as follows:

§ 2.11 Applicants may be represented by an attorney.

The owner of a trademark may file and prosecute his or her own application for registration of such trademark, or he or she may be represented by an attorney or other individual authorized to practice in trademark cases under § 10.14 of this Subchapter. The Patent and Trademark Office cannot aid in the selection of an attorney or other representative.

11. Sections 2.12 through 2.16 are removed.

12. Section 2.17 is amended by revising paragraph (a) as follows:

§ 2.17 Recognition for representation.

(a) When an attorney as defined in § 10.1(c) of this Subchapter acting in a representative capacity appears in person or signs a paper in practice before the Patent and Trademark Office in a trademark case, his or her personal appearance or signature shall constitute a representation to the Patent and Trademark Office that, under the provisions of § 10.14 and the law he or she is authorized to represent the particular party in whose behalf he or she acts. Further proof of authority to act in a representative capacity may be required.

* * * * *

13. Section 2.19 is revised to read as follows:

§ 2.19 Revocation of power of attorney or of other authorization to represent, withdrawal.

(a) Authority to represent an applicant or a party to a proceeding may be revoked at any stage in the proceedings of a case upon notification to the Commissioner; and when it is so revoked, the Office will communicate directly with the applicant or party to the proceeding or with such other qualified person as may be authorized. The Patent and Trademark Office will notify the person affected of the revocation of his or her authorization.

(b) An individual authorized to represent an applicant or party in a trademark case may withdraw upon application to and approval by the Commissioner.

Part 10—Representation of others before the Patent and Trademark Office

This part governs solely the practice of patent, trademark, and other law before the Patent and Trademark Office. Nothing in this part shall be construed to preempt the authority of each State to regulate the practice of law, except to the extent necessary for the Patent and Trademark Office to accomplish its federal objectives. Unless otherwise clear from the context, the following definitions apply to this part:

(a) "Affidavit" means affidavit, declaration under 35 U.S.C. 25 (see § 1.68 and § 2.20 of this Subchapter), or statutory declaration under 28 U.S.C. 1746.

(b) "Application" includes an application for a design, plant, or utility patent, an application to reissue any patent, and an application to register a trademark.

(c) "Attorney" or "lawyer" means an individual who is a member in good standing of the bar of any United States court or the highest court of any State. A "non-lawyer" is a person who is not an attorney or lawyer.

(d) "Canon" is defined in § 10.20(a).

(e) "Confidence" is defined in § 10.57(a).

(f) "Differing interests" include every interest that may adversely affect either the judgment or the loyalty of a practitioner to a client, whether it be a conflicting, inconsistent, diverse, or other interest.

(g) "Director" means the Director of Enrollment and Discipline.

(h) "Disciplinary Rule" is defined in § 10.20(b).

(i) "Employee of a tribunal" includes all employees of courts, the Office, and other adjudicatory bodies.

(j) "Giving information" within the meaning of § 10.23(c)(2) includes making (1) a written statement or representation or (2) an oral statement or representation.

(k) "Law firm" includes a professional legal corporation or a partnership.

(m) "Legal profession" includes the individuals who are lawfully engaged in practice of patent, trademark, and other law before the Office.

(n) "Legal service" means any legal service which may lawfully be performed by a practitioner before the Office.

(o) "Legal System" includes the Office and courts and adjudicatory bodies which review matters on which the Office has acted.

(p) "Office" means Patent and Trademark Office.

(q) "Person" includes a corporation, an association, a trust, a partnership, and any other organization or legal entity.

(r) "Practitioner" means (1) an attorney or agent registered to practice before the Office in patent cases or (2) an individual authorized under 5 U.S.C. 500(b) or otherwise as provided by this Subchapter, to practice before the Office in trademark cases or other non-patent cases. A "suspended or excluded practitioner" is a practitioner who is suspended or excluded under §

10.156. A "non-practitioner" is an individual who is not a practitioner.

(s) A "proceeding before the Office" includes an application, a reexamination, a protest, a public use proceeding, a patent interference, an inter partes trademark proceeding, or any other proceeding which is pending before the Office.

(t) "Professional legal corporation" means a corporation authorized by law to practice law for profit.

(u) "Registration" means registration to practice before the Office in patent cases.

(w) "Secret" is defined in § 10.57(a).

(x) "Solicit" is defined in § 10.33.

(y) "State" includes the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and other federal territories and possessions.

(z) "Tribunal" includes courts, the Office, and other adjudicatory bodies.

(aa) "United States" means the United States of America, its territories and possessions.

§ 10.2 Director of Enrollment and Discipline.

(a) Appointment. The Commissioner shall appoint a Director of Enrollment and Discipline. In the event of the absence of the Director or a vacancy in the office of the Director, the Commissioner may designate an employee of the Office to serve as acting Director of Enrollment and Discipline. The Director and any acting Director shall be an active member in good standing of the bar of a State.

(b) Duties. The Director shall:

(1) Receive and act upon applications for registration, prepare and grade the examination provided for in § 10.7(b), maintain the register provided for in § 10.5, and perform such other duties in connection with enrollment and recognition of attorneys and agents as may be necessary.

(2) Conduct investigations into possible violations by practitioners of Disciplinary Rules, with the consent of the Committee on Discipline initiate disciplinary proceedings under § 10.132(b), and perform such other duties in connection with investigations and disciplinary proceedings as may be necessary.

(c) Review of Director's decision. Any final decision of the Director refusing to register an individual under § 10.6, recognize an individual under §§ 10.9 or 10.14(c), or reinstate a suspended or excluded petitioner under § 10.160, may be reviewed by petition to the Commissioner upon payment of the fee set forth in § 1.21(a)(5). A petition filed more than 30 days after the date of the decision of the Director may be dismissed as untimely. Any petition shall contain (1) a statement of the facts involved and the points to be reviewed and (2) the action requested. Briefs or memoranda, if any, in support of the petition shall accompany or be embodied therein. The petition will be decided on the basis of the record made before the Director and no new evidence will be considered by the Commissioner in deciding the petition. Copies of documents already of record before the Director shall not be submitted with the petition. An oral hearing on the petition will not be granted except when considered necessary by the Commissioner.

§ 10.3 Committee on Enrollment.

(a) The Commissioner may establish a Committee on Enrollment composed of one or more employees of the Office.

(b) The Committee on Enrollment shall, as necessary, advise the Director in connection with the Director's duties under § 10.2(b)(1).

§ 10.4 Committee on Discipline.

(a) The Commissioner shall appoint a Committee on Discipline. The Committee on Discipline shall consist of the at least three employees of the Office, none of whom reports directly or indirectly to the Director or the Solicitor. Each member of the Committee on Discipline shall be a member in good standing of the bar of a State.

(b) The Committee on Discipline shall meet at the request of the Director and after reviewing evidence presented by the Director shall, by majority vote, determine whether there is probable cause to bring charges under § 10.132 against a practitioner. When charges are brought against a practitioner, no member of the Committee on Discipline, employee under the direction of the Director, or associate solicitor or assistant solicitor in the Office of the Solicitor shall participate in rendering a decision on the charges.

(c) No discovery shall be authorized of, and no member of the Committee on Discipline shall be required to testify about, deliberations of the Committee on Discipline.

Individuals Entitled to Practice Before the Patent and Trademark Office

A register of attorneys and agents is kept in the Office on which are entered the names of all individuals recognized as entitled to represent applicants before the Office in the preparation and prosecution of applications for patent. Registration in the Office under provisions of this part shall only entitle the individuals registered to practice before the Office in patent cases.

(a) Attorneys. Any citizen of the United States who is an attorney and who fulfills the requirements of this part may be registered as a patent attorney to practice before the Office. When appropriate, any alien who is an attorney, who lawfully resides in the United States, and who fulfills the requirements of this part may be registered as a patent attorney to practice before the Office, provided: registration is not inconsistent with the terms upon which the alien was admitted to, and resides in, the United States and further provided: the alien may remain registered only (1) if the alien continues to lawfully reside in the United States and registation does not become inconsistent with the terms upon which the alien continues to lawfully reside in the United States or (2) if the alien ceases to reside in the United States, the alien is qualified to be registered under paragraph (c) of this section. See also § 10.9(b).

(b) Agents. Any citizen of the United States who is not an attorney and who fulfills the requirements of this part may be registered as a patent agent to practice before the Office. When appropriate, any alien who is not an attorney, who lawfully resides in the United States, and who fulfills the requirements of this part may be registered as a patent agent to practice before the Office, provided: registration is not inconsistent with the terms upon which the alien was admitted to, and resides in, the United States, and further provided: the alien may remain registered only (1) if the alien continues to lawfully reside in the United States and registration does not become inconsistent with the terms upon which the alien continues to lawfully reside in the United States or (2) if the alien ceases to reside in the United States, the alien is qualified to be registered under paragraph (c) of this section. See also § 10.9(b).

Note: All individuals registered prior to Nov. 15, 1938, were registered as attorneys, whether they were attorneys or not, and such registrations have not been changed.

(c) Foreigners. Any foreigner not a resident of the United States who shall file proof to the satisfaction of the Director that he or she is registered and in good standing before the patent office of the country in which he or she resides and practices and who is possessed of the qualifications stated in § 10.7, may be registered as a patent agent to practice before the Office for the limited purpose of presenting and prosecuting patent applications of applicants located in such country, provided: the patent office of such country allows substantially reciprocal privileges to those admitted to practice before the United States Patent and Trademark Office. Registration as a patent agent under this paragraph shall continue only during the period that the conditions specified in this paragraph obtain.

(d) Government employees. Any officer or employee of the United States who is disqualified by statute (18 U.S.C. 203, 205) from practicing as an attorney or agent in proceedings or other matters before Government departments or agencies, may not be registered to practice before the Office. If any registered attorney or agent becomes an officer or employee of the United States who is disqualified by statute from practicing as an attorney or agent in proceedings and other matters before Government departments or agencies, his or her name shall be endorsed as inactive on the register during the period of any employment by the United States. An officer or employee of the United States whose official duties require the preparation and prosecution of applications for patent and who fulfills the requirements of this part may be registered to practice before the Office to the extent necessary to carry out his or her official duties. A written statement describing the official duties of the officer or employee and signed on behalf of the agency employing the officer or employee may be required by the Director.

(e) Former Office employees. No individual who has served in the Office will be registered after termination of his or her services, nor if registered before such service, be reinstated, unless he or she signs a written statement indicating that he or she has read 18 U.S.C. 207. No individual who has served in the patent examining corps of the Office will be registered after termination of his or her services, nor if registered before such service, be reinstated, unless he or she signs a written undertaking (1) not to prosecute or aid in any manner in the prosecution of any patent application pending in any patent examining group during his or her period of service therein and (2) not to prepare or prosecute or to assist in any manner in the preparation or prosecution of any patent application of another (i) assigned to such group for examination and (ii) filed within two years after the date he or she left such group, without written authorization of the Director. Associated and related classes in other patent examining groups may be required to be included in the undertaking or designated classes may be excluded from the undertaking. When an application for registration or reinstatement is made after resignation from the Office, the applicant will not be registered or reinstated if he or she has prepared or prosecuted or assisted in the preparation or prosecution of any patent application as indicated in this paragraph.

(a) No individual will be registered to practice before the Office unless he or she shall:

(1) apply to the Commissioner in writing on a form supplied by the Director and furnish all requested information and material and

(2) establish to the satisfaction of the Director that he or she is:

(i) of good moral character and repute;

(ii) possessed of the legal, scientific, and technical qualifications necessary to enable him or her to render applicants for patents valuable service; and

(iii) is otherwise competent to advise and assist applicants for patents in the presentation and prosecution of their applications before the Office.

(b) In order that the Director may determine whether an individual seeking to have his or her name placed upon the register has the qualifications specified in paragraph (a) of this section, satisfactory proof of good moral character and repute and of sufficient basic training in scientific and technical matters must be submitted to the Director. Except as provided in this paragraph, each applicant for registration must take and pass an examination which is held from time to time. Each application for admission to take the examination for registration must be accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.21(a)(1) of this Subchapter. The taking of an examination may be waived in the case of any individual who has actively served for at least four years in the patent examining corps of the Office. The examination will not be administered as a mere academic exercise.

(c) Within two months from the date an applicant is notified that he or she failed an examination, the applicant may request regrading of the examination upon payment of the fee set forth in § 1.21(a)(6). Any applicant requesting regrading shall particularly point out the errors which the applicant believed occurred in the grading of his or her examination.

(OMB Control No. 0651-0012)

§ 10.8 Oath and registration fee.

Before an individual may have his or her name entered on the register of attorneys and agents, the individual must, after his or her application is approved, subscribe and swear to an oath or make a declaration prescribed by the Commissioner and pay the registration fee set forth in § 1.21(a)(2) of this Subchapter.

(OMB Control No. 0651-0012)

(a) Any individual not registered under § 10.6 may, upon a showing of circumstances which render it necessary or justifiable, be given limited recognition by the Director to prosecute as attorney or agent a specified application or specified applications, but limited recognition under this paragraph shall not extend further than the application or applications specified.

(b) When registration of a resident alien under paragraphs (a) or (b) of § 10.6 is not appropriate, the resident alien may be given limited recognition as may be appropriate under paragraph (a) of this section.

Only practitioners who are registered under § 10.6 or individuals given limited recognition under § 10.9 will be permitted to prosecute patent applications of others before the Office.

(a) Registered attorneys and agents shall notify the Director of any change of address. Any notification to the Director of any change of address shall be separate from any notice of change of address filed in individual applications.

(b) A letter may be addressed to any individual on the register, at the address of which separate notice was last received by the Director, for the purpose of ascertaining whether such individual desires to remain on the register. The name of any individual failing to reply and give any information requested by the Director within a time limit specified will be removed from the register and the names of individuals so removed will be published in the Official Gazette. The name of any individual so removed may be reinstated on the register as may be appropriate and upon payment of the fee set forth in § 1.21(a)(3) of this Subchapter.

(OMB Control No. 0651-0012)

§§ 10.12-10.13 [reserved]

§ 10.14 Individuals who may practice before the Office in trademark and other non-patent cases.

(a) Attorneys. Any individual who is an attorney may represent others before the Office in trademark and other non-patent cases. An attorney is not required to apply for registration or recognition to practice before the Office in trademark and other non-patent cases.

(b) Non-lawyers. Individuals who are not attorneys are not recognized to practice before the Office in trademark and other non-patent cases, except that individuals not attorneys who were recognized to practice before the Office in trademark cases under this chapter prior to Jan. 1, 1957, will be recognized as agents to continue practice before the Office in trademark cases.

(c) Foreigners. Any foreign attorney or agent not a resident of the United States who shall prove to the satisfaction of the Director that he or she is registered or in good standing before the patent or trademark office of the country in which he or she resides and practices, may be recognized for the limited purpose of representing parties located in such country before the Office in the presentation and prosecution of trademark cases, provided: the patent or trademark office of such country allows substantially reciprocal privileges to those permitted to practice in trademark cases before the United States Patent and Trademark Office. Recognition under this paragraph shall continue only during the period that the conditions specified in this paragraph obtain.

(d) Recognition of any individual under this section shall not be construed as sanctioning or authorizing the performance of any act regarded in the jurisdiction where performed as the unauthorized practice of law.

(e) No individual other than those specified in paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section will be permitted to practice before the Office in trademark cases. Any individual may appear in a trademark or other non-patent case in his or her own behalf. Any individual may appear in a trademark case for (1) a firm of which he or she is a member or (2) a corporation or association of which he or she is an officer and which he or she is authorized to represent, if such firm, corporation, or association is a party to a trademark proceeding pending before the Office.

Any practitioner authorized to appear before the Office may be suspended or excluded in accordance with the provisions of this part. Any practitioner who is suspended or excluded under this subpart or removed under § 10.11(b) shall not be entitled to practice before the Office.

§§ 10.16-10.17 [reserved]

§ 10.18 Signature and certificate of practitioner.

(a) Every paper filed by a practitioner representing an applicant or party to a proceeding in the Office must bear the signature of, and be personally signed by, such practitioner except those papers which are required to be signed by the applicant or party. The signature of practitioner to a paper filed by him or her, constitutes a certificate that:

(1) the paper has been read by the practitioner;
(2) the paper's filing is authorized;
(3) to the best of his or her knowledge, information, and belief, there is good ground to support the paper, including any allegations of improper conduct contained or alleged therein; and
(4) it is not interposed for delay.

(b) Any practitioner knowingly violating the provisions of this section is subject to disciplinary action. See § 10.23(c)(15).

§ 10.19 [reserved]

Patent and Trademark Office Code of Professional Responsibility

§ 10.20 Canons and Disciplinary Rules.

(a) Canons are set out in §§ 10.21, 10.30, 10.46, 10.56. 10.61, 10.76, 10.83, 10.100, and 10.110. Canons are statements of axiomatic norms, expressing in general terms the standards of professional conduct expected of practitioners in their relationships with the public, with the legal system, and with the legal profession.

(b) Disciplinary Rules are set out in §§ 10.22-10.24, 10.31-10.40, 10.47-10.57, 10.62-10.68, 10.77, 10.78, 10.84, 10.85, 10.87-10.89, 10.92, 10.93, 10.101-103, 10.111, and 10.112. Disciplinary Rules are mandatory in character and state the minimum level of conduct below which no practitioner can fall without being subjected to disciplinary action.

A practitioner should assist in maintaining the integrity and competence of the legal profession.

(a) A practitioner is subject to discipline if the practitioner has made a materially false statement in, or if the practitioner has deliberately failed to disclose a material fact requested in connection with, the practitioner's application for registration or membership in the bar of any United States court or any State court or his or her authority to otherwise practice before the Office in trademark and other non-patent cases.

(b) A practitioner shall not further the application for registration or membership in the bar of any United States court, State court, or administrative agency of another person known by the practitioner to be unqualified in respect to character, education, or other relevant attribute.

(a) A practitioner shall not engage in disreputable or gross misconduct.

(b) A practitioner shall not:

(1) Violate a Disciplinary Rule.
(2) Circumvent a Disciplinary Rule through actions of another.
(3) Engage in illegal conduct involving moral turpitude.
(4) Engage in conduct involving dishonesty, fraud, deceit, or misrepresentation.
(5) Engage in conduct that is prejudicial to the administration of justice.
(6) Engage in any other conduct that adversely reflects on the practitioner's fitness to practice before the Office.

(c) Conduct which constitutes a violation of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section includes, but is not limited to:

(1) Conviction of a criminal offense involving moral turpitude, dishonesty, or breach of trust.
(2) Knowingly giving false or misleading information or knowingly participating in a material way in giving false or misleading information, to:

(i) A client in connection with any immediate, prospective, or pending business before the Office.
(ii) The Office or any employee of the Office.

(3) Misappropriation of, or failure to properly or timely remit, funds received by a practitioner or the practitioner's firm from a client to pay a fee which the client is required by law to pay to the Office.
(4) Directly or indirectly improperly influencing, attempting to improperly influence, offering or agreeing to improperly influence, or attempting to offer or agree to improperly influence an official action of any employee of the Office by:

(i) use of threats, false accusations, duress, or coercion,
(ii) an offer of any special inducement or promise of advantage, or
(iii) improperly bestowing of any gift, favor, or thing of value.

(5) Suspension or disbarment from practice as an attorney or agent on ethical grounds by any duly constituted authority of a State or the United States or, in the case of a practitioner who resides in a foreign country or is registered under § 10.6(c), by any duly constituted authority of:

(i) a State,
(ii) the United States, or
(iii) the country in which the practitioner resides.

(6) Knowingly aiding or abetting a practitioner suspended or excluded from practice before the Office in engaging in unauthorized practice before the Office under § 10.158.
(7) Knowingly withholding from the Office information identifying a patent or patent application of another from which one or more claims have been copied. See §§ 1.604(b) and 1.607(c) of this Subchapter.
(8) Failing to inform a client or former client or failing to timely notify the Office of an inability to notify to a client or former client of correspondence received from the Office or the client's or former client's opponent in an inter partes proceeding before the Office when the correspondence (i) could have a significant effect on a matter pending before the Office, (ii) is received by the practitioner on behalf of a client or former client and (iii) is correspondence of which a reasonable practitioner would believe under the circumstances the client or former client should be notified.
(9) Knowingly misusing a certificate of mailing under § 1.8 of this Subchapter or a certificate of "Express Mail" under § 1.10 of this Subchapter.

(10) Violating the duty of candor or good faith requirements of § 1.56(a) of this Subchapter.
(11) Knowingly filing, or causing to be filed, an application which is subject to being stricken under § 1.56(c) of this Subchapter.
(12) Knowingly filing, or causing to be filed, a frivolous complaint alleging a violation by a practitioner of the Patent and Trademark Office Code of Professional Responsibility.
(13) Knowingly preparing or prosecuting a patent application in violation of an undertaking signed under § 10.6(e).
(14) Knowingly failing to advise the Director in writing of any change which would preclude continued registration under § 10.6.
(15) Knowingly signing a paper filed in the Office in violation of the provisions of § 10.18 or making a scandalous or indecent statement in a paper filed in the Office.
(16) Willfully refusing to reveal or report knowledge or evidence to the Director contrary to § 10.24 or paragraph (b) of § 10.131.
(17) Representing before the Office in a patent case either a joint venture comprising an inventor and an invention developer or an inventor referred to the registered practitioner by an invention developer when (i) the registered practitioner knows, or has been advised by the Office, that a formal complaint filed by a federal or state agency, based on any violation of any law relating to securities, unfair methods of competition, unfair or deceptive acts or practices, mail fraud, or other civil or criminal conduct, is pending before a federal or state court or federal or state agency, or has been resolved unfavorably by such court or agency, against the invention developer in connection with invention development services and (ii) the registered practitioner fails to fully advise the inventor of the existence of the pending complaint or unfavorable resolution thereof prior to undertaking or continuing representation of the joint venture or inventor. "Invention developer" means any person, and any agent, employee, officer, partner, or independent contractor thereof, who is not a registered practitioner and who advertises invention development services in media of general circulation or who enters into contracts for invention development services with customers as a result of such advertisement. "Invention development services" means acts of invention development required or promised to be performed, or actually performed, or both, by an invention developer for a customer. "Invention development" means the evaluation, perfection, marketing, brokering, or promotion of an invention on behalf of a customer by an invention developer, including a patent search, preparation of a patent application, or any other act done by an invention developer for consideration toward the end of procuring or attempting to procure a license, buyer, or patent for an invention. "Customer" means any individual who has made an invention and who enters into a contract for invention development services with an invention developer with respect to the invention by which the inventor becomes obligated to pay the invention developer less than $5,000 (not to include any additional sums which the invention developer is to receive as a result of successful development of the invention). "Contract for invention development services" means a contract for invention development services with an invention developer with respect to an invention made by a customer by which the inventor becomes obligated to pay the invention developer less than $5,000 (not to include any additional sums which the invention developer is to receive as a result of successful development of the invention).
(18) In the absence of information sufficient to establish a reasonable belief that fraud or inequitable conduct has occurred, alleging before a tribunal that anyone has committed a fraud on the Office or engaged in inequitable conduct in a proceeding before the Office.
(d) A practitioner who acts with reckless indifference to whether a representation is true or false is chargeable with knowledge of its falsity. Deceitful statements of half-truths or concealment of material facts shall be deemed actual fraud within the meaning of this part.

(a) A practitioner possessing unprivileged knowledge of a violation of a Disciplinary Rule shall report such knowledge to the Director.

(b) A practitioner possessing unprivileged knowledge or evidence concerning another practitioner, employee of the Office, or a judge shall reveal fully such knowledge or evidence upon proper request of a tribunal or other authority empowered to investigate or act upon the conduct of practitioners, employees of the Office, or judges.
(OMB Control No. 0651-0017)

§§ 10.25-10.29 [reserved]

§ 10.30 Canon 2.

A practitioner should assist the legal profesion in fulfilling its duty to make legal counsel available.

§ 10.31 Communications concerning a practitioner's services.

(a) No practitioner shall with respect to any prospective business before the Office, by word, circular, letter, or advertising, with intent to defraud in any manner, deceive, mislead, or threaten any prospective applicant or other person having immediate or prospective business before the Office.
(b) A practitioner may not use the name of a Member of either House of Congress or of an individual in the service of the United States in advertising the practitioner's practice before the Office.
(c) Unless authorized under § 10.14(b), a non-lawyer practitioner shall not hold himself or herself out as authorized to practice before the Office in trademark cases.
(d) Unless a practitioner is an attorney, the practitioner shall not hold himself or herself out:

(1) to be an attorney or lawyer or
(2) as authorized to practice before the Office in non-patent and trademark cases.

(a) Subject to § 10.31, a practitioner may advertise services through public media, including a telephone directory, legal directory, newspaper, or other periodical, radio, or television, or through written communications not involving solicitation as defined by § 10.33.
(b) A practitioner shall not give anything of value to a person for recommending the practitioner's services, except that a practitioner may pay the reasonable cost of advertising or written communication permitted by this section and may pay the usual charges of a not-for-profit lawyer referreal service or other legal service organization.
(c) Any communication made pursuant to this section shall include the name of at least one practitioner responsible for its content.

§ 10.33 Direct contact with prospective clients.

A practitioner may not solicit professional employment from a prospective client with whom the practitioner has no family or prior professional relationship, by mail, in-person or otherwise, when a significant motive for the practitioner's doing so is the practitioner's pecuniary gain under circumstances evidencing undue influence, intimidation, or overreaching. The term "solicit" includes contact in person, by telephone or telegraph, by letter or other writing, or by other communication directed to a specific recipient, but does not include letters addressed or advertising circulars distributed generally to persons not specifically known to need legal services of the kind provided by the practitioner in a particular matter, but who are so situated that they might in general find such services useful.

A registered practitioner may state or imply that the practitioner is a specialist as follows:

(a) A registered practitioner who is an attorney may use the designation "Patents," "Patent Attorney," "Patent Lawyer," "Registered Patent Attorney," or a substantially similar designation.
(b) A registered practitioner who is not an attorney may use

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

the designation "Patents," "Patent Agent," "Registered Patent Agent," or a substantially similar designation, except that any practitioner who was registered prior to November 15, 1938, may refer to himself or herself as a "patent attorney."

§ 10.35 Firm names and letterheads.

(a) A practitioner shall not use a firm name, letterhead, or other professional designation that violates § 10.31. A trade name may be used by a practitioner in private practice if it does not imply a current connection with a government agency or with a public or charitable legal services organzation and is not otherwise in violation of § 10.31.

(b) Practitioners may state or imply that they practice in a partnership or other organization only when that is the fact.

§ 10.36 Fees for legal services.

(a) A practitioner shall not enter into an agreement for, charge, or collect an illegal or clearly excessive fee.

(b) A fee is clearly excessive when, after a review of the facts, a practitioner of ordinary prudence would be left with a definite and firm conviction that the fee is in excess of a reasonable fee. Factors to be considered as guides in determining the reasonableness of a fee include the following:

(1) The time and labor required, the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved, and the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly.

(2) The likelihood, if apparent to the client, that the acceptance of the particular employment will preclude other employment by the practitioner.

(3) The fee customarily charged for similar legal services.

(4) The amount involved and the results obtained.

(5) The time limitations imposed by the client or by the circumstances.

(6) The nature and length of the professional relationship with the client.

(7) The experience, reputation, and ability of the practitioner or practitioners performing the services.

(8) Whether the fee is fixed or contingent.

§ 10.37 Division of fees among practitioners.

(a) A practitioner shall not divide a fee for legal services with another practitioner who is not a partner in or associate of the practitioner's law firm or law office, unless:

(1) The client consents to employment of the other practitioner after a full disclosure that a division of fees will be made.

(2) The division is made in proportion to the services performed and responsibility assumed by each.

(3) The total fee of the practitioners does not clearly exceed reasonable compensation for all legal services rendered to the client.

(b) This section does not prohibit payment to a former partner or associate pursuant to a separation or retirement agreement.

§ 10.38 Agreements restricting the practice of a practitioner.

(a) A practitioner shall not be a party to or participate in a partnership or employment agreement with another practitioner that restricts the right of a practitioner to practice before the Office after the termination of a relationship created by the agreement, except as a condition to payment of retirement benefits.

(b) In connection with the settlement of a controversy or suit, a practitioner shall not enter into an agreement that restricts the practitioner's right to practice before the Office.

§ 10.39 Acceptance of employment.

A practitioner shall not accept employment on behalf of a person if the practitioner knows or it is obvious that such person wishes to:

(a) Bring a legal action, commence a proceeding before the Office, conduct a defense, assert a position in any proceeding pending before the Office, or otherwise have steps taken for the person, merely for the purpose of harassing or maliciously injuring any other person.

(b) Present a claim or defense in litigation or any proceeding before the Office that is not warranted under existing law, unless it can be supported by good faith argument for an extension, modification, or reversal of existing law.

(a) A practitioner shall not withdraw from employment in a proceeding before the Office without permission from the Office (see §§ 1.36, and 2.19 of this Subchapter). In any event, a practitioner shall not withdraw from employment until the practitioner has taken reasonable steps to avoid foreseeable prejudice to the rights of the client, including giving due notice to his or her client, allowing time for employment of another practitioner, delivering to the client all papers and property to which the client is entitled, and complying with applicable laws and rules. A practitioner who withdraws from employment shall refund promptly any part of a fee paid in advance that has not been earned.

(b) Mandatory withdrawal. A practitioner representing a client before the Office shall withdraw from employment if:

(1) the practitioner knows or it is obvious that the client is bringing a legal action, commencing a proceeding before the Office, conducting a defense, or asserting a position in litigation or any proceeding pending before the Office, or is otherwise having steps taken for the client, merely for the purpose of harassing or maliciously injuring any person;

(2) the practitioner knows or it is obvious that the practitioner's continued employment will result in violation of a Disciplinary Rule;

(3) the practitioner's mental or physical condition renders it unreasonably difficult for the practitioner to carry out the employment effectively; or

(4) the practitioner is discharged by the client.

(c) Permissive withdrawal. If paragraph (b) of this section is not applicable, a practitioner may not request permission to withdraw in matters pending before the Office unless such request or such withdrawal is because:

(1) the petitioner's client:

(i) insists upon presenting a claim or defense that is not warranted under existing law and cannot be supported by good faith argument for an extension, modification, or reversal of existing law;

(ii) personally seeks to pursue an illegal course of conduct;

(iii) insists that the practitioner pursue a course of conduct that is illegal or that is prohibited under a Disciplinary Rule;

(iv) by other conduct renders it unreasonably difficult for the practitioner to carry out the employment effectively;

(v) insists, in a matter not pending before a tribunal, that the practitioner engage in conduct that is contrary to the judgment and advice of the practitioner but not prohibited under the Disciplinary Rule; or

(vi) has failed to pay one or more bills rendered by the practitioner for an unreasonable period of time or has failed to honor an agreement to pay a retainer in advance of the performance of legal services.

(2) the practitioner's continued employment is likely to result in a violation of a Disciplinary Rule;

(3) the practitioner's inability to work with co-counsel indicates that the best interests of the client likely will be served by withdrawal;

(4) the practitioner's mental or physical condition renders it difficult for the practitioner to carry out the employment effectively;

(5) the practitioner's client knowingly and freely assents to termination of the employment; or

(6) the practitioner believes in good faith, in a proceeding pending before the Office, that the Office will find the existence of other good cause for withdrawal.

§§ 10.41-10.45 [reserved]

A practitioner should assist in preventing the unauthorized practice of law.

§ 10.47 Aiding unauthorized practice of law.

(a) A practitioner shall not aid a non-practitioner in the unauthorized practice of law before the Office.

(b) A practitioner shall not aid a suspended or excluded practitioner in the practice of law before the Office.

(c) A practitioner shall not aid a non-lawyer in the unauthorized practice of law.

A practitioner or a firm of practitioners shall not share legal fees with a non-practitioner except that:

(a) An agreement by a practitioner with the practitioner's firm, partner, or associate may provide for the payment of money, over a reasonable period of time after the practitioner's death, to the practitioner's estate or to one or more specified persons.

(b) A practitioner who undertakes to complete unfinished legal business of a deceased practitioner may pay to the estate of the deceased practitioner that proportion of the total compensation which fairly represents the services rendered by the deceased practitioner.

(c) A practitioner or firm of practitioners may include non-practitioner employees in a compensation or retirement plan, even though the plan is based in whole or in part on a profit-sharing arrangement, providing such plan does not circumvent another Disciplinary Rule.

§ 10.49 Forming a partnership with a non-practitioner.

A practitioner shall not form a partnership with a non-practitioner if any of the activities of the partnership consist of the practice of patent, trademark, or other law before the Office.

§§ 10.50-10.55 [reserved]

A practitioner should preserve the confidences and secrets of a client.

§ 10.57 Preservation of confidences and secrets of a client.

(a) "Confidence" refers to information protected by the attorney-client or agent-client privilege under applicable law. "Secret" refers to other information gained in the professional relationship that the client has requested be held inviolate or the disclosure of which would be embarrassing or would be likely to be detrimental to the client.

(b) Except when permitted under paragraph (c) of this section, a practitioner shall not knowingly:

(1) Reveal a confidence or secret of a client.

(2) Use a confidence or secret of a client to the disadvantage of the client.

(3) Use a confidence or secret of a client for the advantage of the practitioner or of a third person, unless the client consents after full disclosure.

(c) A practitioner may reveal:

(1) Confidences or secrets with the consent of the client affected but only after a full disclosure to the client.

(2) Confidences or secrets when permitted under Disciplinary Rules or required by law or court order.

(3) The intention of a client to commit a crime and the information necessary to prevent the crime.

(4) Confidences or secrets necessary to establish or collect the practitioner's fee or to defend the practitioner or the practitioner's employees or associates against an accusation of wrongful conduct.

(d) A practitioner shall exercise reasonable care to prevent the practitioner's employees, associates, and others whose services are utilized by the practitioner from disclosing or using confidences or secrets of a client, except that a practitioner may reveal the information allowed by parargraph (c) of this section through an employee.

§§ 10.58-10.60 [reserved]

A practitioner should exercise independent professional judgment on behalf of a client.

§ 10.62 Refusing employment when the interest of the practitioner may impair the practitioner's independent professional judgment.

(a) Except with the consent of a client after full disclosure, a practitioner shall not accept employment if the exercise of the practitioner's professional judgment on behalf of the client will be or reasonably may be affected by the practitioner's own financial, business, property, or personal interests.

(b) A practitioner shall not accept employment in a proceeding before the Office if the practitioner knows or it is obvious that the practitioner or another practitioner in the practitioner's firm ought to sign an affidavit to be filed in the Office or be called as a witness, except that the practitioner may undertake the employment and the practitioner or another practitioner in the practitioner's firm may testify:

(1) If the testimony will relate solely to an uncontested matter.

(2) If the testimony will relate solely to a matter of formality and there is no reason to believe that substantial evidence will be offered in opposition to the testimony.

(3) If the testimony will relate solely to the nature and value of legal services rendered in the case by the practitioner or the practitioner's firm to the client.

(4) As to any matter, if refusal would work a substantial hardship on the client because of the distinctive value of the practitioner or the practitioner's firm as counsel in the particular case.

(a) If, after undertaking employment in a proceeding in the Office, a practitioner learns or it is obvious that the practitioner or another practitioner in the practitioner's firm ought to sign an affidavit to be filed in the Office or be called as a witness on behalf of a practitioner's client, the practitioner shall withdraw from the conduct of the proceeding and the practitioner's firm, if any, shall not continue representation in the proceeding, except that the practitioner may continue the representation and the practitioner or another practitioner in the practitioner's firm may testify in the circumstances enumerated in paragraphs (1) through (4) of § 10.62(b).

(b) If, after undertaking employment in a proceeding before the Office, a practitioner learns or it is obvious that the practitioner or another practitioner in the practitioner's firm may be asked to sign an affidavit to be filed in the Office or be called as a witness other than on behalf of the practitioner's client, the practitioner may continue the representation until it is apparent that the practitioner's affidavit or testimony is or may be prejudicial to the practitioner's client.

(a) A practitioner shall not acquire a proprietary interest in the subject matter of a proceeding before the Office which the practitioner is conducting for a client, except that the practitioner may:

(1) Acquire a lien granted by law to secure the practitioner's fee or expenses; or

(2) Contract with a client for a reasonable contingent fee; or

(3) In a patent case, take an interest in the patent as part or all of his or her fee.

(b) While representing a client in connection with a contemplated or pending proceeding before the Office, a practitioner shall not advance or guarantee financial assistance to a client, except that a practitioner may advance or guarantee the expenses of going forward in a proceeding before the Office including fees required by law to be paid to the Office, expenses of investigation, expenses of medical examination, and costs of obtaining and presenting evidence, provided the client remains ultimately liable for such expenses. A practitioner may, however, advance any fee required to prevent or remedy an abandonment of a client's application by reason of an act or omission attributable to the practitioner and not to the client, whether or not the client is ultimately liable for such fee.

A practitioner shall not enter into a business transaction with a client if they have differing interests therein and if the client expects the practitioner to exercise professional judgment therein for the protection of the client, unless the client has consented after full disclosure.

§ 10.66 Refusing to accept or continue employment if the interests of another client may impair the independent professional judgment of the practitioner.

(a) A practitioner shall decline proffered employment if the exercise of the practitioner's independent professional judgment in behalf of a client will be or is likely to be adversely affected by the acceptance of the proffered employment, or if it would be likely to involve the practitioner in representing differing interests, except to the extent permitted under paragraph (c) of this section.

(b) A practitioner shall not continue multiple employment if the exercise of the practitioner's independent professional judgment in behalf of a client will be or is likely to be adversely affected by the practitioner's representation of another client, or if it would be likely to involve the practitioner in representing differing interests, except to the extent permitted under paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) In the situations covered by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section a practitioner may represent multiple clients if it is obvious that the practitioner can adequately represent the interest of each and if each consents to the representation after full disclosure of the possible effect of such representation on the exercise of the practitioner's independent professional judgment on behalf of each.

(d) If a practitioner is required to decline employment or to withdraw from employment under a Disciplinary Rule, no partner, or associate, or any other practitioner affiliated with the practitioner or the practitioner's firm, may accept or continue such employment unless otherwise ordered by the Director or Commissioner.

§ 10.67 Settling similar claims of clients.

A practitioner who represents two or more clients shall not make or participate in the making of an aggregate settlement of the claims of or against the practitioner's clients, unless each client has consented to the settlement after being advised of the existence and nature of all the claims involved in the proposed settlement, of the total amount of the settlement, and of the participation of each person in the settlement.

(a) Except with the consent of the practitioner's client after full disclosure, a practitioner shall not:

(1) Accept compensation from one other than the practitioner's client for the practitioner's legal services to or for the client.

(2) Accept from one other than the practitioner's client any thing of value related to the practitioner's representation of or the practitioner's employment by the client.

(b) A practitioner shall not permit a person who recommends, employs, or pays the practitioner to render legal services for another, to direct or regulate the practitioner's professional judgment in rendering such legal services.

(c) A practitioner shall not practice with or in the form of a professional corporation or association authorized to practice law for a profit, if a non-practioner has the right to direct or control the professional judgment of a practitioner.

§§ 10.69-10.75 [reserved]

A practitioner should represent a client competently.

A practitioner shall not:

(a) Handle a legal matter which the practitioner knows or should know that the practitioner is not competent to handle, without associating with the practitioner another practitioner who is competent to handle it.

(b) Handle a legal matter without preparation adequate in the circumstances.

(c) Neglect a legal matter entrusted to the practitioner.

§ 10.78 Limiting liability to client.

A practitioner shall not attempt to exonerate himself or herself from, or limit his or her liability to, a client for his or her personal malpractice.

§§ 10.79-10.82 [reserved]

A practitioner should represent a client zealously within the bounds of the law.

(a) A practitioner shall not intentionally:

(1) Fail to seek the lawful objectives of a client through reasonably available means permitted by law and the Disciplinary Rules, except as provided by paragraph (b) of this section. A practitioner does not violate the provisions of this section, however, by acceding to reasonable requests of opposing counsel which do not prejudice the rights of the client, by being punctual in fulfilling all professional commitments, by avoiding offensive tactics, or by treating with courtesy and consideration all persons involved in the legal process.

(2) Fail to carry out a contract of employment entered into with a client for professional services, but a practitioner may withdraw as permitted under §§ 10.40, 10.63, and 10.66.

(3) Prejudice or damage a client during the course of a professional relationship, except as required under this part.

(b) In representation of a client, a practitioner may:

(1) Where permissible, exercise professional judgment to waive or fail to assert a right or position of the client.

(2) Refuse to aid or participate in conduct that the practitioner believes to be unlawful, even though there is some support for an argument that the conduct is legal.

(a) In representation of a client, a practitioner shall not:

(1) Initiate or defend any proceeding before the Office, assert a position, conduct a defense, delay a trial or proceeding before the Office, or take other action on behalf of the practitioner's client when the practitioner knows or when it is obvious that such action would serve merely to harass or maliciously injure another.

(2) Knowingly advance a claim or defense that is unwarranted under existing law, except that a practitioner may advance such claim or defense if it can be supported by good faith argument for an extension, modification, or reversal of existing law.

(3) Conceal or knowingly fail to disclose that which the practitioner is required by law to reveal.

(4) Knowingly use perjured testimony or false evidence.

(5) Knowingly make a false statement of law or fact.

(6) Participate in the creation or preservation of evidence when the practitioner knows or it is obvious that the evidence is false.

(7) Counsel or assist a client in conduct that the practitioner knows to be illegal or fraudulent.

(8) Knowingly engage in other illegal conduct or conduct contrary to a Disciplinary Rule.

(b) A practitioner who receives information clearly establishing that:

(1) A client has, in the course of the representation, perpetrated a fraud upon a person or tribunal shall promptly call upon the client to rectify the same, and if the client refuses or is unable to do so the practitioner shall reveal the fraud to the affected person or tribunal.

(2) A person other than a client has perpetrated a fraud upon a tribunal shall promptly reveal the fraud to the tribunal.

§ 10.86 [reserved]

During the course of representation of a client, a practitioner shall not:

(a) Communicate or cause another to communicate on the subject of the representation with a party the practitioner knows to be represented by another practitioner in that matter unless the practitioner has the prior consent of the other practitioner representing such other party or is authorized by law to do so. It is not improper, however, for a practitioner to encourage a client to meet with an opposing party for settlement discussions.

(b) Give advice to a person who is not represented by a practitioner other than the advice to secure counsel, if the interests of such person are or have a reasonable possibility of being in conflict with the interests of the practitioner's client.

A practitioner shall not present, participate in presenting, or threaten to present criminal charges solely to obtain an advantage in any prospective or pending proceeding before the Office.

§ 10.89 Conduct in proceedings.

(a) A practitioner shall not disregard or advise a client to disregard any provision of this Subchapter or a decision of the Office made in the course of a proceeding before the Office, but the practitioner may take appropriate steps in good faith to test the validity of such provision or decision.

(b) In presenting a matter to the Office, a practitioner shall disclose:

(1) Controlling legal authority known to the practitioner to be directly adverse to the position of the client and which is not disclosed by opposing counsel or an employee of the Office.

(2) Unless privileged or irrelevant, the identities of the client the practitioner represents and of the persons who employed the practitioner.

(c) In appearing in a professional capacity before a tribunal, a practitioner shall not:

(1) State or allude to any matter that the practitioner has no reasonable basis to believe is relevant to the case or that will not be supported by admissible evidence.

(2) Ask any question that the practitioner has no reasonable basis to believe is relevant to the case and that is intended to degrade a witness or other person.

(3) Assert the practitioner's personal knowledge of the facts in issue, except when testifying as a witness.

(4) Assert the practitioner's personal opinion as to the justness of a cause, as to the credibility of a witness, as to the culpability of a civil litigant, or as to the guilt or innocence of an accused; but the practitioner may argue, on the practitioner's analysis of the evidence, for any position or conclusion with respect to the matters stated herein.

(5) Engage in undignified or discourteous conduct before the Office (see § 1.3 of the Subchapter).

(6) Intentionally or habitually violate any provision of this Subchapter or established rule of evidence.

§ 10.90-10.91 [reserved]

(a) A practitioner shall not suppress any evidence that the practitioner or the practitioner's client has a legal obligation to reveal or produce.

(b) A practitioner shall not advise or cause a person to be secreted or to leave the jurisdiction of a tribunal for the purpose of making the person unavailable as a witness therein.

(c) A practitioner shall not pay, offer to pay, or acquiesce in the payment of compensation to a witness contingent upon the content of the witness' affidavit, testimony or the outcome of the case. But a practitioner may advance, guarantee, or acquiesce in the payment of:

(1) Expenses reasonably incurred by a witness in attending, testifying, or making an affidavit.

(2) Reasonable compensation to a witness for the witness' loss of time in attending, testifying, or making an affidavit.

(3) A reasonable fee for the professional services of an expert witness.

(a) A practitioner shall not give or lend anything of value to a judge, official, or employee of a tribunal under circumstances which might give the appearance that the gift or loan is made to influence official action.

(b) In an adversary proceeding, including any inter partes proceeding before the Office, a practitioner shall not communicate, or cause another to communicate, as to the merits of the cause with a judge, official, or Office employee before whom the proceeding is pending, except:

(1) In the course of official proceedings in the cause.

(2) In writing if the practitioner promptly delivers a copy of the writing to opposing counsel or to the adverse party if the adverse party is not represented by a practitioner.

(3) Orally upon adequate notice to opposing counsel or to the adverse party if the adverse party is not represented by a practitioner.

(4) As otherwise authorized by law.

§§ 10.94-10.99 [reserved]

A practitioner should assist in improving the legal system.

(a) A practitioner who holds public office shall not:

(1) Use the practitioner's public position to obtain, or attempt to obtain, a special advantage in legislative matters for the practitioner or for a client under circumstances where the practitioner knows or it is obvious that such action is not in the public interest.

(2) Use the practitioner's public position to influence, or attempt to influence, a tribunal to act in favor of the practitioner or of a client.

(3) Accept any thing of value from any person when the practitioner knows or it is obvious that the offer is for the purpose of influencing the practitioner's action as a public official.

(b) A practitioner who is an officer or employee of the United States shall not practice before the Office in patent cases except as provided in § 10.6(d).

(a) A practitioner shall not knowingly make false statements of fact concerning the qualifications of a candidate for election or appointment to a judicial office or to a position in the Office.

(b) A practitioner shall not knowingly make false accusations against a judge, other adjudicatory officer, or employee of the Office.

A practitioner who is a candidate for judicial office shall comply with applicable provisions of law.

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

§ 10.104-10.109 [reserved]

A practitioner should avoid even the appearance of professional impropriety.

§ 10.111 Avoiding even the appearance of impropriety.

(a) A practitioner shall not accept private employment in a matter upon the merits of which he or she has acted in a judicial capacity.

(b) A practitioner shall not accept private employment in a matter in which he or she had personal responsibility while a public employee.

(c) A practitioner shall not state or imply that the practitioner is able to influence improperly or upon irrelevant grounds any tribunal, legislative body, or public official.

§ 10.112 Preserving identity of funds and property of client.

(a) All funds of clients paid to a practitioner or a practitioner's firm, other than advances for costs and expenses, shall be deposited in one or more identifiable bank accounts maintained in the United States or, in the case of a practitioner having an office in a foreign country or registered under § 10.6(c), in the United States or the foreign country.

(b) No funds belonging to the practitioner or the practitioner's firm shall be deposited in the bank accounts required by paragraph (a) of this section except as follows:

(1) Funds reasonably sufficient to pay bank charges may be deposited therein.

(2) Funds belonging in part to a client and in part presently or potentially to the practitioner or the practitioner's firm must be deposited therein, but the portion belonging to the practitioner or the practitioner's firm may be withdrawn when due unless the right of the practitioner or the practitioner's firm to receive it is disputed by the client, in which event the disputed portion shall not be withdrawn until the dispute is finally resolved.

(c) A practitioner shall:

(1) Promptly notify a client of the receipt of the client's funds, securities, or other properties.

(2) Identify and label securities and properties of a client promptly upon receipt and place them in a safe deposit box or other place of safekeeping as soon as practicable.

(3) Maintain complete records of all funds, securities, and other properties of a client coming into the possession of the practitioner and render appropriate accounts to the client regarding the funds, securities, or other properties.

(4) Promptly pay or deliver to the client as requested by a client the funds, securities, or other properties in the possession of the practitioner which the client is entitled to receive.

§ 10.113-10.129 [reserved]

Investigations and Disciplinary Proceedings

§ 10.130 Reprimand, suspension or exclusion.

(a) The Commissioner may, after notice and opportunity for a hearing, (a) reprimand or (b) suspend or exclude, either generally or in any particular case, any individual, attorney, or agent shown to be incompetent or disreputable, who is guilty of gross misconduct, or who violates a Disciplinary Rule.

(b) Petitions to disqualify a practitioner in ex parte or inter partes cases in the Office are not governed by §§ 10.130 through 10.170 and will be handled on a case-by-case basis under such conditions as the Commissioner deems appropriate.

(a) The Director is authorized to investigate possible violations of Disciplinary Rules by practitioners. See § 10.2(b) (2).

(b) Practitioners shall report and reveal to the Director any knowledge or evidence required by § 10.24. A practitioner shall cooperate with the Director in connection with any investigation under paragraph (a) of this section and with officials of the Office in connection with any disciplinary proceeding instituted under § 10.132(b).

(c) Any non-practitioner possessing knowledge or information concerning a violation of a Disciplinary Rule by a practitioner may report the violation to the Director. The Director may require that the report be presented in the form of an affidavit.

§ 10.132 Initiating a disciplinary proceeding; reference to an administrative law judge.

(a) If after conducting an investigation under § 10.131(a) the Director is of the opinion that a practitioner has violated a Disciplinary Rule, the Director shall after complying where necessary with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 558(c), call a meeting of the Committee on Discipline. The Committee on Discipline shall then determine as specified in § 10.4(b) whether a disciplinary proceeding shall be instituted under paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) If the Committee on Discipline determines that probable cause exists to believe that a practitioner has violated a Disciplinary Rule, the Director shall institute a disciplinary proceeding by filing a complaint under § 10.134. The complaint shall be filed in the Office of the Director. A disciplinary proceeding may result in:

(1) a reprimand or

(2) suspension or exclusion of a practitioner from practice before the Office.

(c) Upon the filing of a complaint under {g49 10.134, the Commissioner will refer the disciplinary proceeding to an administrative law judge.

§ 10.133 Conference between Director and practitioner; resignation.

(a) General. The Director may confer with a practitioner concerning possible violations by the practitioner of a Disciplinary Rule whether or not a disciplinary proceeding has been instituted.

(b) Resignation. Any practitioner who is the subject of an investigation under § 10.131 or against whom a complaint has been filed under § 10.134 may resign from practice before the Office only by submitting with the Director an affidavit stating his or her desire to resign.

(c) If filed prior to the date set by the administrative law judge for a hearing, the affidavit shall state that:

(1) the resignation is freely and voluntarily proferred;

(2) the practitioner is not acting under duress or coersion from the Office;

(3) the practitioner is fully aware of the implications of filing the resignation;

(4) the practitioner is aware (i) of a pending investigation or (ii) of charges arising from the complaint alleging that he or she is guilty of a violation of the Patent and Trademark Office Code of Professional Responsibility, the nature of which shall be set forth by the practitioner to the satisfaction of the Director;

(5) the practitioner acknowledges that, if and when he or she applies for reinstatement under § 10.160, the Director will conclusively presume, for the limited purpose of determining the application for reinstatement, that:

(i) the facts upon which the complaint is based are true and

(ii) the practitioner could not have successfully defended himself or herself against (A) charges predicated on the violation under investigation or (B) charges set out in the complaint filed against the practitioner.

(d) If filed on or after the date set by the administrative law judge for a hearing, the affidavit shall make the statements required by subparagraphs (1) through (4) of paragraph (b) of this section and shall state that:

(1) the practitioner acknowledges the facts upon which the complaint is based are true; and

(2) the resignation is being submitted because the practitioner could not successfully defend himself or herself against (i) charges predicated on the violation under investigation or (ii) charges set out in the complaint.

(e) When an affidavit under paragraph (b) or (c) of this section is received while an investigation is pending, the Commissioner shall enter an order excluding the practitioner "on consent." When an affidavit under paragraphs (b) or (c) of this section is received after a complaint under § 10.134 has been filed, the Director shall notify the administrative law judge. The administrative law judge shall enter an order transferring the disciplinary proceeding to the Commissioner and the Commissioner shall enter an order excluding the practitioner "on consent."

(f) Any practitioner who resigns from practice before the Office under this section and who intends to reapply for admission to practice before the Office must comply with the provisions of § 10.158.

(g) Settlement. Before or after a complaint is filed under § 10.134, a settlement conference may occur between the Director and a practitioner for the purpose of settling any disciplinary matter. If an offer of settlement is made by the Director or the practitioner and is not accepted by the other, no reference to the offer of settlement or its refusal shall be admissible in evidence in the disciplinary proceeding unless both the Director and the practitioner agree in writing.

(a) A complaint instituting a disciplinary proceeding shall:

(1) Name the practitioner, who may then be referred to as the "respondent."

(2) Give a plain and concise description of the alleged violations of the Disciplinary Rules by the practitioner.

(3) State the place and time for filing an answer by the respondent.

(4) State that a decision by default may be entered against the respondent if an answer is not timely filed.

(5) Be signed by the Director.

(b) A complaint will be deemed sufficient if it fairly informs the respondent of any violation of the Disciplinary Rules which form the basis for the disciplinary proceeding so that the respondent is able to adequately prepare a defense.

(a) A complaint may be served on a respondent in any of the following methods:

(1) By handing a copy of the complaint personally to the respondent, in which case the individual handing the complaint to the respondent shall file an affidavit with the Director indicating the time and place the complaint was handed to the respondent.

(2) By mailing a copy of the complaint by "Express Mail" or first-class mail to:

(i) a registered practitioner at the address for which separate notice was last received by the Director or

(ii) a non-registered practitioner at the last address for the respondent known to the Director.

(3) By any method mutually agreeable to the Director and the respondent.

(b) If a complaint served by mail under paragraph (a) (2) of this section is returned by the U.S. Postal Service, the Director shall mail a second copy of the complaint to the respondent. If the second copy of the complaint is also returned by the U.S. Postal Service, the Director shall serve the respondent by publishing an appropriate notice in the Official Gazette for four consecutive weeks, in which case the time for answer shall be at least thirty days from the fourth publication of the notice.

(c) If a respondent is a registered practitioner, the Director may serve simultaneously with the complaint a letter under § 10.11(b). The Director may require the respondent to answer the § 10.11(b) letter within a period of not less than 15 days. An answer to the § 10.11(b) letter shall constitute proof of service. If the respondent fails to answer the § 10.11(b) letter, his or her name will be removed from the register as provided by § 10.11(b).

(d) If the respondent is represented by an attorney under § 10.140(a), a copy of the complaint shall also be served on the attorney.

(a) Time for answer. An answer to a complaint shall be filed within a time set in the complaint which shall be not less than thirty days.

(b) With whom filed. The answer shall be filed in writing with the administrative law judge. The time for filing an answer may be extended once for a period of no more than thirty days by the administrative law judge upon a showing of good cause provided a motion requesting an extension of time is filed within thirty days after the date the complaint is filed by the Director. A copy of the answer shall be served on the Director.

(c) Content. The respondent shall include in the answer a statement of the facts which constitute the grounds of defense and shall specifically admit or deny each allegation set forth in the complaint. The respondent shall not deny a material allegation in the complaint which the respondent knows to be true or state that respondent is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of an allegation when in fact the respondent possesses that information. The respondent shall also state affirmatively special matters of defense.

(d) Failure to deny allegations in complaint. Every allegation in the complaint which is not denied by a respondent in the answer is deemed to be admitted and may be considered proven. No further evidence in respect of that allegation need be received by the administrative law judge at any hearing. Failure to timely file an answer will constitute an admission of the allegations in the complaint.

(e) Reply by Director. No reply to an answer is required by the Director and any affirmative defense in the answer shall be deemed to be denied. The Director may, however, file a reply if he or she chooses or if ordered by the adminstrative law judge.

False statements in an answer may be made the basis of a supplemental complaint.

§ 10.138 Contested case.

Upon the filing of an answer by the respondent, a disciplinary proceeding shall be regarded as a contested case within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 24. Evidence obtained by a subpoena issued under 35 U.S.C. 24 shall not be admitted into the record or considered unless leave to proceed under 35 U.S.C. 24 was previously authorized by the administrative law judge.

§ 10.139 Administrative law judge; appointment; responsibilities; review of interlocutory orders; stays.

(a) Appointment. An administrative law judge, appointed under 5 U.S.C. 3105, shall conduct disciplinary proceedings as provided by this part.

(b) Responsibilities. The administrative law judge shall have authority to:

(1) Administer oaths and affirmations;

(2) Make rulings upon motions and other requests;

(3) Rule upon offers of proof, receive relevant evidence, and examine witnesses;

(4) Authorize the taking of a deposition of a witness in lieu of personal appearance of the witness before the administrative law judge;

(5) Determine the time and place of any hearing and regulate its course and conduct;

(6) Hold or provide for the holding of conferences to settle or simplify the issues;

(7) Receive and consider oral or written arguments on facts or law;

(8) Adopt procedures and modify procedures from time to time as occasion requires for the orderly disposition of proceedings;

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

(9) Make initial decisions under § 10.154; and
(10) Perform acts and take measures as necessary to promote the efficient and timely conduct of any disciplinary proceeding.

(c) Time for making initial decision. The administrative law judge shall set times and exercise control over a disciplinary proceeding such that an initial decision under § 10.154 is normally issued within six months of the date a complaint is filed. The administrative law judge may, however, issue an initial decision more than six months after a complaint is filed if in his or her opinion there exist unusual circumstances which preclude issuance of an initial decision within six months of the filing of the complaint.

(d) Review of interlocutory orders. An interlocutory order of an administrative law judge will not be reviewed by the Commissioner except:

(1) when the administrative law judge shall be of the opinion (i) that the interlocutory order involves a controlling question of procedure or law as to which there is a substantial ground for a difference of opinion and (ii) that an immediate decision by the Commissioner may materially advance the ultimate termination of the disciplinary proceeding or
(2) in an extraordinary situation where justice requires review.

(e) Stays pending review of interlocutory order. If the Director or a respondent seeks review of an interlocutory order of an administrative law judge under paragraph (b)(2) of this section, any time period set for taking action by the administrative law judge shall not be stayed unless ordered by the Commissioner or the administrative law judge.

§ 10.140 Representative for Director or respondent.

(a) A respondent may be represented before the Office in connection with an investigation or disciplinary proceeding by an attorney. The attorney shall file a written declaration that he or she is an attorney within the meaning of § 10.1(c) and shall state:

(1) the address to which the attorney wants correspondence related to the investigation or disciplinary proceeding sent and
(2) a telephone number where the attorney may be reached during normal business hours.

(b) The Commissioner shall designate at least two associate solicitors in the Office of the Solicitor to act as representatives for the Director in disciplinary proceedings. In prosecuting disciplinary proceedings, the designated associate solicitors shall not involve the Solicitor or the Deputy Solicitor. The Solicitor and the Deputy Solicitor shall remain insulated from the investigation and prosecution of all disciplinary proceedings in order that they shall be available as counsel to the Commissioner in deciding disciplinary proceedings.

(a) The provisions of § 1.8 of this Subchapter do not apply to disciplinary proceedings.
(b) All papers filed after the complaint and prior to entry of an initial decision by the administrative law judge shall be filed with the administrative law judge at an address or place designated by the administrative law judge. All papers filed after entry of an initial decision by the administrative law judge shall be filed with the Director. The Director shall promptly forward to the Commissioner any paper which requires action under this part by the Commissioner.
(c) The administrative law judge or the Director may provide for filing papers and other matter by hand or by "Express Mail."

§ 10.142 Service of papers.

(a) All papers other than a complaint shall be served on a respondent represented by an attorney by:

(1) delivering a copy of the paper to the office of the attorney; or
(2) mailing a copy of the paper by first-class mail or "Express Mail" to the attorney at the address provided by the attorney under § 10.140(a) (1); or
(3) any other method mutually agreeable to the attorney and a representative for the Director.

(b) All papers other than a complaint shall be served on a respondent who is not represented by an attorney by:

(1) delivering a copy of the paper to the respondent; or
(2) mailing a copy of the paper by first-class mail or "Express Mail" to the respondent at the address to which a complaint may be served or such other address as may be designated in writing by the respondent; or
(3) any other method mutually agreeable to the respondent and a representative of the Director.

(c) A respondent shall serve on the representative for the Director one copy of each paper filed with the administrative law judge or the Director. A paper may be served on the representative for the Director by:

(1) delivering a copy of the paper to the representative; or
(2) mailing a copy of the paper by first-class mail or "Express Mail" to an address designated in writing by the representative; or
(3) any other method mutually agreeable to the respondent and the representative.

(d) Each paper filed in a disciplinary proceeding shall contain therein a certificate of service indicating:

(1) the date on which service was made and
(2) the method by which service was made.

(e) The administrative law judge or the Commissioner may require that a paper be served by hand or by "Express Mail."
(f) Service by mail is completed when the paper mailed in the United States is placed into the custody of the U.S. Postal Service.

Motions may be filed with the administrative law judge. The adminstrative law judge will determine on a case-by-case basis the time period for response to a motion and whether replies to responses will be authorized. No motion shall be filed with the administrative law judge unless such motion is supported by a written statement by the moving party that the moving party or attorney for the moving party has conferred with the opposing party or attorney for the opposing party in an effort in good faith to resolve by agreement the issues raised by the motion and has been unable to reach agreement. If issues raised by a motion are resolved by the parties prior to a decision on the motion by the administrative law judge, the parties shall promptly notify the administrative law judge.

(a) The administrative law judge shall preside at hearings in disciplinary proceedings. Hearings will be stenographically recorded and transcribed and the testimony of witnesses will be received under oath or affirmation. The administrative law judge shall conduct hearings in accordance with 5 U.S.C. 556. A copy of the transcript of the hearing shall become part of the record. A copy of the transcript shall be provided to the Director and the respondent at the expense of the Office.
(b) If the respondent to a disciplinary proceeding fails to appear at the hearing after a notice of hearing has been given by the administrative law judge, the administrative law judge may deem the respondent to have waived the right to a hearing and may proceed with the hearing in the absence of the respondent.
(c) A hearing under this section will not be open to the public except that the Director may grant a request by a respondent to open his or her hearing to the public and make the record of the disciplinary proceeding available for public inspection, provided agreement is reached in advance to exclude from public disclosure information which is privileged or confidential under applicable laws or regulations. If a disciplinary proceeding results in disciplinary action against a practitioner, and subject to § 10.159(c), the record of the entire disciplinary proceeding, including any settlement agreement, will be available for public inspection.

In case of a variance between the evidence and the allegations in a complaint, answer, or reply, if any, the administrative law judge may order or authorize amendment of the complaint, answer, or reply to conform to the evidence. Any party who would otherwise be prejudiced by the amendment will be given reasonable opportunity to meet the allegations in the complaint, answer, or reply, as amended, and the administrative law judge shall make findings on any issue presented by the complaint, answer, or reply as amended.

§§ 10.146-10.148 [reserved]

In a disciplinary proceeding, the Director shall have the burden of proving his or her case by clear and convincing evidence and a respondent shall have the burden of providing any affirmative defense by clear and convincing evidence.

§ 10.150 Evidence.

(a) Rules of evidence. The rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law and equity are not controlling in hearings in disciplinary proceedings. However, the administrative law judge shall exclude evidence which is irrelevant, immaterial, or unduly repetitious.
(b) Depositions. Depositions of witnesses taken pursuant to § 10.151 may be admitted as evidence.
(c) Government documents. Official documents, records, and papers of the Office are admissible without extrinsic evidence of authenticity. These documents, records and papers may be evidenced by a copy certified as correct by an employee of the Office.
(d) Exhibits. If any document, record, or other paper is introduced in evidence as an exhibit, the administrative law judge may authorize the withdrawal of the exhibit subject to any conditions the administrative law judge deems appropriate.
(e) Objections. Objections to evidence will be in short form, stating the grounds of objection. Objections and rulings on objections will be a part of the record. No exception to the ruling is necessary to preserve the rights of the parties.

(a) Depositions for use at the hearing in lieu of personal appearance of a witness before the administrative law judge may be taken by respondent or the Director upon a showing of good cause and with the approval of, and under such conditions as may be deemed appropriate by, the administrative law judge. Depositions may be taken upon oral or written questions, upon not less than ten days written notice to the other party, before any officer authorized to administer an oath or affirmation in the place where the deposition is to be taken. The requirement of ten days notice may be waived by the parties and depositions may then be taken of a witness and at a time and place mutually agreed to by the parties. When a deposition is taken upon written questions, copies of the written questions will be served upon the other party with the notice and copies of any written cross-questions will be served by hand or "Express Mail" not less then five days before the date of the taking of the deposition unless the parties mutually agree otherwise. A party on whose behalf a deposition is taken shall file a copy of a transcript of the deposition signed by a court reporter with the administrative law judge and shall serve one copy upon the opposing party. Expenses for a court reporter and preparing, serving, and filing depositions shall be borne by the party at whose instance the deposition is taken.
(b) When the Director and the respondent agree in writing, a deposition of any witness who will appear voluntarily may be taken under such terms and conditions as may be mutually agreeable to the Director and the respondent. The deposition shall not be filed with the administrative law judge and may not be admitted in evidence before the administrative law judge unless he or she orders the deposition admitted in evidence. The admissibility of the deposition shall lie within the discretion of the administrative law judge who may reject the deposition on any reasonable basis including the fact that demeanor is involved and that the witness should have been called to appear personally before the administrative law judge.

Discovery shall not be authorized except as follows:
(a) After an answer is filed under § 10.136 and when a party establishes in a clear and convincing manner that discovery is necessary and relevant, the administrative law judge, under such conditions as he or she deems appropriate, may order an opposing party to:

(1) answer a reasonable number of written requests for admission or interrogatories;
(2) produce for inspection and copying a reasonable number of documents; and
(3) produce for inspection a reasonable number of things other than documents.

(b) Discovery shall not be authorized under paragraph (a) of this section of any matter which:

(1) will be used by another party solely for impeachment or cross-examination;
(2) is not available to the party under 35 U.S.C. § 122;
(3) relates to any disciplinary proceeding commenced in the Patent and Trademark Office prior to Mar. 8, 1985;
(4) relates to experts except as the administrative law judge may require under paragraph (e) of this section.
(5) is privileged; or
(6) relates to mental impressions, conclusions, opinions, or legal theories of any attorney or other representative of a party.

(c) the administrative law judge may deny discovery requested under paragraph (a) of this section if the discovery sought:

(1) will unduly delay the disciplinary proceeding;
(2) will place an undue burden on the party required to produce the discovery sought; or
(3) is available (i) generally to the public, (ii) equally to the parties; or (iii) to the party seeking the discovery through another source.

(d) Prior to authorizing discovery under paragraph (a) of this section, the administrative law judge shall require the party seeking discovery to file a motion (§ 10.143) and explain in detail for each request made how the discovery sought is necessary and relevant to an issue actually raised in the complaint or the answer.
(e) The administrative law judge may require parties to file and serve, prior to any hearing, a pre-hearing statement which contains
(1) A list (together with a copy) of all proposed exhibits to be used in connection with a party's case-in-chief,
(2) a list of proposed witnesses,
(3) as to each proposed expert witness:

(i) an identification of the field in which the individual will be qualified as an expert;
(ii) a statement as to the subject matter on which the expert is expected to testify; and
(iii) a statement of the substance of the facts and opinions to which the expert is expected to tesify,

(4) the identity of government employees who have investigated the case, and
(5) copies of memoranda reflecting respondent's own statements to administrative representatives.

(f) After a witness testifies for a party, if the opposing party requests, the party may be required to produce, prior to cross-examination, any written statement made by the witness.

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

§§ 10.153 Proposed findings and conclusions; post-hearing memorandum.

Except in cases when the respondent has failed to answer the complaint, the administrative law judge, prior to making an initial decision, shall afford the parties a reasonable opportunity to submit proposed findings and conclusions and a post-hearing memorandum in support of the proposed findings and conclusions.

§ 10.154 Initial decision of administrative law judge.

(a) The administrative law judge shall make an initial decision in the case. The decision will include (a) a statement of findings and conclusions, as well as the reasons or basis therefore with appropriate references to the record, upon all the material issues of fact, law, or discretion presented on the record, and (b) an order of suspension or exclusion from practice, an order of reprimand, or an order dismissing the complaint. The administrative law judge shall file the decision with the Director and shall transmit a copy to the representative of the Director and to the respondent. In the absence of an appeal to the Commissioner, the decision of the administrative law judge will, without further proceedings, become the decision of the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks thirty (30) days from the date of the decision of the administrative law judge.

(b) The initial decision of the administrative law judge shall explain the reason for any penalty of reprimand, suspension or exclusion. In determining any penalty, the following should normally be considered:

(1) the public interest;
(2) the seriousness of the violation of the Disciplinary Rule;
(3) the deterrent effects deemed necessary; and
(4) the integrity of the legal profession; and
(5) any extenuating circumstances.

(a) Within thirty (30) days from the date of the initial decision of the administrative law judge under § 10.154, either party may appeal to the Commissioner. An appeal by the respondent will be filed with the Director in duplicate and will include exceptions to the decisions of the administrative law judge and supporting reasons for those exceptions. If the Director files the appeal, the Director shall serve a copy of the appeal. Within thirty (30) days after receipt of an appeal or copy thereof, the other party may file a reply brief in duplicate with the Director. If the Director files the reply brief, the Director shall serve a copy of the reply brief. Upon the filing of an appeal and a reply brief, if any, the Director shall transmit the entire record to the Commissioner.

(b) The appeal will be decided by the Commissioner on the record made before the administrative law judge.

(c) The Commissioner may order reopening of a disciplinary proceeding in accordance with the principles which govern the granting of new trials. Any request to reopen a disciplinary proceeding on the basis of newly discovered evidence must demonstrate that the newly discovered evidence could not have been discovered by due diligence.

(a) An appeal from an initial decision of the administrative law judge shall be decided by the Commissioner. The Commissioner may affirm, reverse, or modify the initial decision or remand the matter to the administrative law judge for such further proceedings as the Commissioner may deem appropriate. Entry of a decision by the Commissioner is a final agency action in a disciplinary proceeding. In making a final decision, the Commissioner shall review the record or those portions of the record as may be cited by the parties in order to limit the issues. The Comissioner shall tranmit a copy of the final decision to the Director and to the respondent.

(b) A final decision of the Commissioner may dismiss a disciplinary proceeding, reprimand a practitioner, or may suspend or exclude the practitioner from practice before the Office.

§ 10.157 Review of Commissioner's final decision.

(a) Review of the Commissioner's final decision in a disciplinary case may be had by a petition filed in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia. See 35 U.S.C. 32 and Local Rule 1-26 of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia.

(b) The Commissioner may stay a final decision pending review of the Commissioner's final decision.

§ 10.158 Suspended or excluded practitioner.

(a) A practitioner who is suspended or excluded from practice before the Office under § 10.156(b) shall not engage in unauthorized practice of patent, trademark and other non-patent law before the Office.

(b) Unless otherwise ordered by the Commissioner, any practitioner who is suspended or excluded from practice before the Office under § 10.156(b) shall:

(1) Within 30 days of entry of the order of suspension or exclusion, notify all bars of which he or she is a member and all clients of the practitioner for whom he or she is handling matters before the Office in separate written communications of the suspension or exclusion and shall file a copy of each written communication with the Director.

(2) Within 30 days of entry of the order of suspension or exclusion, surrender a client's active Office case files to (i) the client or (ii) another practitioner designated by the client.

(3) Not hold himself or herself out as authorized to practice law before the Office.

(4) Promptly take any necessary and appropriate steps to remove from any telephone, legal, or other directory any advertisement, statement, or representation which would reasonably suggest that the practitioner is authorized to practice patent, trademark or other non-patent law before the Office, and within 30 days of taking those steps, file with the Director an affidavit describing the precise nature of the steps taken.

(5) Not advertise the practitioner's availability or ability to perform or render legal services for any person having immediate, prospective, or pending business before the Office.

(6) Not render legal advice or services to any person having immediate, prospective, or pending business before the Office as to that business.

(7) Promptly take steps to change any sign identifying a practitioner's or the practitioner's firm's office and the practitioner's or the practitioner's firm's stationary to delete therefrom any advertisement, statement, or representation which would reasonably suggest that the practitioner is authorized to practice law before the Office.

(8) Within 30 days, return to any client any unearned funds, including any unearned retainer fee, and any securities and property of the client.

(c) A practitioner who is suspended or excluded from practice before the Office and who aides another practitioner in any way in the other practitioner's practice of law before the Office, may, under the direct supervision of the other practitioner, act as a para-legal for the other practitioner or perform other services for the other practitioner which are normally performed by laypersons, provided:

(1) the practitioner who is suspended or excluded is:
(i) a salaried employee of:
(A) the other practitioner;
(B) the other practitioner's law firm; or
(C) a client-employer who employs the other practitioner as a salaried employee;
(2) the other practitioner assumes full professional responsibility to any client and the Office for any work performed by the suspended or excluded practitioner for the other practitioner;
(3) the suspended or excluded practitioner, in connection with any immediate, prospective, or pending business before the Office, does not:

(i) communicate directly in writing, orally, or otherwise with a client of the other practitioner;
(ii) render any legal services to a client of the other practitioner; or
(iii) meet in person or in the presence of the other practitioner with:
(A) any Office official in connection with the prosecution of any patent, trademark, or other case;
(B) any client of the other practitioner, the other practioner's law firm, or the client-employer of the other practitioner;
(C) any witness or potential witness which the other practitioner, the other practitioner's law firm, or the other practitioner's client-employer may or intends to call as a witness in any proceeding before the Office. The term "witness" includes individuals who will testify orally in a proceeding before, or sign an affidavit or any other document to be filed in, the Office.

(d) When a suspended or excluded practitioner acts as a para-legal or performs services under paragraph (c) of this section, the suspended or excluded practitioner shall not thereafter be reinstated to practice before the Office unless:

(1) the suspended or excluded practitioner shall have filed with the Director an affidavit which (i) explains in detail the precise nature of all para-legal or other services performed by the suspended or excluded practitioner and (ii) shows by clear and convincing evidence that the suspended or excluded practitioner has complied with the provisions of this section and all Disciplinary Rules, and
(2) the other practitioner shall have filed with the Director a written statement which (i) shows that the other practitioner has read the affidavit required by subparagraph (d) (1) of this section and that the other practitioner believes every statement in the affidavit to be true and (ii) states why the other practitioner believes that the suspended or excluded practitioner has complied with paragraph (c) of this section.

(a) Upon issuance of a final decision reprimanding a practitioner or suspending or excluding a practitioner from practice before the Office, the Director shall give notice of the final decision to appropriate employees of the Office and to interested departments, agencies, and courts of the United States. The Director shall also give notice to appropriate authorities of any State in which a practitioner is known to be a member of the bar and any appropriate bar association.

(b) The Director shall cause to be published in the Official Gazette the name of any practitioner suspended or excluded from practice. Unless otherwise ordered by the Commissioner, the Director shall publish in the Official Gazette the name of any practitioner reprimanded by the Commissioner.

(c) The Director shall maintain records, which shall be available for public inspection, of every disciplinary proceeding where a practitioner is reprimanded, suspended, or excluded unless the Commissioner orders that the proceeding be kept confidential.

(a) A petition for reinstatement of a practitioner suspended for a period of less than five years will not be considered until the period of suspension has passed.

(b) A petition for reinstatement of a practitioner excluded from practice will not be considered until five years after the effective date of the exclusion.

(c) An individual who has resigned under § 10.133 or who has been suspended or excluded may file a petition for reinstatement. The Director may grant a petition for reinstatement when the individual makes a clear and convincing showing that the individual will conduct himself or herself in accordance with the regulations of this part and that granting a petition for reinstatement is not contrary to the public interest. As a condition to reinstatement, the Director may require the individual to:

(1) meet the requirements of § 10.7, including taking and passing an examination under § 10.7(b) and

(2) pay all or a portion of the costs and expenses, not to exceed $1,500, of the disciplinary proceeding which lead to suspension or exclusion.

(d) Any suspended or excluded practitioner who has violated the provisions of § 10.158 during his or her period of suspension or exclusion shall not be entitled to reinstatement until such time as the Director is satisfied that a period of suspension equal in time to that ordered by the Commissioner or exclusion for five years has passed during which the suspended or excluded practitioner has complied with the provisions of § 10.158.

(e) Proceedings on any petition for reinstatement shall be open to the public. Before reinstating any suspended or excluded practitioner, the Director shall publish in the Official Gazette a notice of the suspended or excluded practitioner's petition for reinstatement and shall permit the public a reasonable opportunity to comment or submit evidence with respect to the petition for reinstatement.

(a) A disciplinary proceeding based on conduct engaged in prior to the effective date of these regulations may be instituted subsequent to such effective date, if such conduct would continue to justify suspension or exclusion under the provisions of this part.

(b) No practitioner shall be subject to a disciplinary proceeding under this part based on conduct engaged in before the effective date hereof if such conduct would not have been subject to disciplinary action before such effective date.

§ 10.162-10.169 [reserved]

§ 10.170 Suspension of rules.

(a) In an extraordinary situation, when justice requires, any requirement of the regulations of this part which is not a requirement of the statutes may be suspended or waived by the Commissioner or the Commissioner's designee, sua sponte, or on petition of any party, including the Director or the Director's representative, subject to such other requirements as may be imposed.

(b) Any petition under this section will not stay a disciplinary proceeding unless ordered by the Commissioner or an administrative law judge.

[Docket No. 80866-9013]

Requests for Reconsideration in Patent and Trademark Office Disciplinary Proceedings

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule
Summary: This final rule sets forth an amendment to 37 CFR 10.156. The purpose of the amendment is to prescribe a date on which the decision of the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks in a Patent and Trademark (PTO) disciplinary proceeding becomes final agency action for purposes of judicial review, and to provide for one request for reconsideration or modification of such decision by a party.
Effective Date: Apr. 1, 1989
For Further Information Contact: Harris A. Pitlick by telephone at (703) 557-4035 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: Present rules do not explicitly provide for requests for reconsideration or modification of Commissioner's decisions in appeals from initial decisions of administrative law judges in PTO disciplinary proceedings. 37 CFR 10.156 presently provides that such a Commissioner's decision is a final agency action.

In a recent case, Klein v. Peterson, 6 USPQ 2d 1556 (D.D.C. 1988), a first decision of the Commissioner was withdrawn and ultimately replaced with a second decision. The respondent sought judicial review of the first decision under 35 U.S.C. 32 after its finality had already been withdrawn and then sought judicial review of the second decision. The authority of the Commissioner to, in effect, reconsider his decision in a disciplinary proceeding was challenged in the cited case. The district court held that since there was no express statutory authority proscribing the Commissioner from reconsidering the first decision, there was implicit authority to do so consistent with long-standing precedent in the area of federal administrative law.

While Klein confirmed that the Commissioner has inherent authority to reconsider a decision, at least before an appeal has been noted, the PTO believes that a rule explicitly providing for a time in which requests for reconsideration may be made by a party and a date certain for when Commissioner's decisions in disciplinary proceedings become final will both promote greater certainty in this area of disciplinary proceeding practice and eliminate the possibility of multiple appeals. The final rule is not intended to preclude the Commissioner from sua sponte reconsidering or modifying a decision in a disciplinary proceeding at any time where conditions warrant and a respondent's due process rights are not violated, consistent with long-standing federal administrative law precedent.
A notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register on Oct. 3, 1988 (53 FR 38740) and the Official Gazette on Oct. 25, 1988 (1095 O.G. 44). Interested parties were requested to submit written comments on or before Dec. 1, 1988. No comments were received.

Other Considerations

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612 and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration that the rule change is not expected to have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354) because in merely codifying the inherent right of the PTO to reconsider its decisions sua sponte, the rule extends the right to each party in a PTO disciplinary proceeding to seek reconsideration.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increases in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The Patent and Trademark Office has also determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

This rule change does not contain a collection of information subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

List of Subject in 37 CFR Part 10

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Inventions and patents, Lawyers, Trademarks.

For the reasons set out in the preamble and under the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6, the Patent and Trademark Office amends 37 CFR Part 10 as follows:

PART 10 - REPRESENTATION OF OTHERS BEFORE THE PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 10 would continue to read as follows:

Authority: 5 U.S.C. 500; 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, 31, 32, 41.

2. Section 10.156 is amended by revising paragraph (a) and adding new paragraph (c) to read as follows:

10.156 Decision of the Commissioner.

(a) An appeal from an initial decision of the administrative law judge shall be decided by the Commissioner. The Commissioner may affirm, reverse or modify the initial decision or remand the matter to the administrative law judge for such further proceedings as the Commissioner may deem appropriate. Subject to paragraph (c) of this section, a decision by the Commissioner does not become a final agency action in a disciplinary proceeding until 20 days after it is entered. In making a final decision, the Commissioner shall review the record of those portions of the record as may be cited by the parties in order to limit the issues. The Commissioner shall transmit a copy of the final decision to the Director and to the respondent.

* * * * *

(c) A single request for reconsideration or modification of the Commissioner's decision may be made by the repondent or the Director if filed within 20 days from the date of entry of the decision. Such a request shall have the effect of staying the effective date of the decision. The decision by the Commissioner on the request is a final agency action in a disciplinary proceeding and is effective on its date of entry.

37 CFR PART 10

[Docket No. 80340-8188]

Practice Before the Patent and Trademark Office; Government Employees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final Rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is amending its rules governing admission of Government employees to practice before the PTO in patent cases, Part 10 of Title 37. Those rules presently permit officers and employees of the Government to be registered only if their official duties include preparation and prosecution of patent applications. A recent decision of the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia has held that these rules are partially invalid. By these amended rules, the PTO has conformed the rules to the court's decision and has eliminated the "inactive" status designation of registered attorneys and agents who became employed by the Government, but do not engage in the preparation and prosecution of patent applications.
Effective Date: Nov. 4, 1988
For Further Information Contact: Nancy C. Slutter by telephone at (703) 557-4035 or by mail marked to her attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: Attorneys and agents must be admitted to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) in patent cases. 35 U.S.C. 31; 37 CFR 10.10(a). Part 10 of Title 37 is being amended to allow Federal employees who fulfill the requirements for registration set forth at 37 CFR 10.7 to have their names placed on the PTO register of attorneys and agents.

In the past, the rules provided that an officer or employee of the Government whose official duties include preparation and prosecution of patent applications may be registered. 37 CFR 10.6(d). Under the rule, all other Government employees were not to be registered. If a registered practitioner became a Government employee, the rule required that the petitioner's name be endorsed as "inactive" if the employee's duties did not involve the preparation and prosecution of patent applications.

In a recent decision by the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, portions of 37 CFR 10.6(d) were held to be invalid. In that case, an attorney presently employed by a Federal agency petitioned the Commissioner, requesting that his name be placed (with an inactive designation) on the register of attorneys and agents entitled to practice before the PTO in patent cases. His petition was denied in view of 37 CFR 10.6(d). In re Athridge, 230 USPQ 470 (Comm'r Pat. 1986). Following the Commissioner's decision, the attorney sought judicial review in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. The court determined that 37 CFR 10.6(d) was invalid to the extent that it precluded registration of an otherwise qualified individual solely on the basis of his status as a Government employee. Based on its determination, the court held that the employee could be registered and designated as "inactive." Athridge v. Quigg, 655 F. Supp. 779, 3 USPQ 2d 1391 (D.D.C. 1987). See also Athridge v. Quigg, 4 USPQ 2d 1656 (Comm'r Pat. 1987).

Amendments to 37 CFR §§ 10.6, 10.10 and 10.23(c) were proposed in a rulemaking notice published in the Federal Register at 53 FR 20871-20872 (June 7, 1988) and at 1091 Official Gazette 38 (June 28, 1988).

Interested parties were requested to submit written comments on or before Aug. 9, 1988. Written comments were submitted by two individuals and one organization.

Section 10.6, as amended, removes § 10.6(d). The effect of removing § 10.6(d) will permit otherwise qualified Government employees to be registered to practice before the PTO in patent cases. Registration, however, will not relieve any Government employee from otherwise complying with conflict of interest requirements, e.g., 18 U.S.C. 203, 205, 207, applicable agency regulations and personnel practices, and applicable codes of professional responsibility.

Section 10.10, as amended, refers to restrictions on practice in patent cases imposed on Government employees, Office employees, and former Office employees.

Section 10.23(c), which sets forth specific forms of misconduct, is amended by revising paragraph 10.23(c)(13) to reflect the redesignation of paragraph 10.6(e) as § 10.10(b), and by adding new paragraphs (c) and (d), which provide that actions contrary to the restrictions on practice in patent cases set forth in amended paragraphs 10.10(c) and (d) will be treated as misconduct by the Office.

One commenter expressed concern that under § 10.10(b) as proposed, a former member of the patent examining corps could be denied registration (or reinstatement) as the result of filing an application that is assigned to his or her former examining group by the Office even though when filing the application, the practitioner sincerely did not believe the application would be assigned to that group. It is noted that § 10.10(b) contains the same provisions with respect to applications filed by former patent examiners as former § 10.6(e). A former member of the patent examining corps would not be denied registration for filing an application assigned to his or her former group if immediate action is taken to withdraw from further prosecution of the case when he or she finds out that the application has been assigned to his or her former group. Actionable misconduct occurs when the individual knowingly acts in violation of the undertaking signed under § 10.10(b). See § 10.23(c)(13).

Two comments were received suggesting an addition to § 10.66 that would correspond to newly proposed § 10.10(d). However, § 10.66 relates to Canon 5 of the Patent and Trademark Office Code of Professional Responsibility (A practitioner should exercise independent judgment on behalf of a client) and is concerned with a practitioner's relationship with clients whereas newly proposed § 10.10(d) is concerned with applicable conflict of interest laws, regulations or codes of professional responsibility as they relate to Government employees. Accordingly, it is felt that the suggested addition to § 10.66 would be inappropriate.

Two commenters suggested the addition of a new section to be designated as § 10.11(c), adapted from a notice in the Official Gazette (1064 O.G. 12) "Reinstatement of Patent Attorneys and Agents to Practice Before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office." Such a change is not adopted in this rule package but is under consideration for a future rule change.

Two comments were received concerning the differences in the language used in proposed §§ 10.10(b) and 10.23(c)(13) and the need to avoid inconsistencies in these two sections. In particular, § 10.10(b) (last paragraph) included "providing assistance," whereas § 10.23(c)(13) did not; and § 10.23(c)(13) recited "knowingly," whereas § 10.10(b) did not. This suggestion is being adopted. Amended § 10.23(c)(13) will include the language "providing assistance" as it appears in § 10.10(b) and § 10.10(b) will be changed to include the word "knowingly."

It was suggested by two commenters that additional explanatory commentary be provided with respect to newly proposed §§ 10.10(c) and (d). It is felt that this is unnecessary in connection with the rule change. Government employees with questions concerning applicable conflict of interest laws, regulations or codes of professional responsibility should address these questions to their respective Offices of General Counsel. With respect to further comment by the Office concerning practice by Government employees before the PTO, the last paragraph under Supplementary Information in the Notice of proposed rulemaking provides sufficient clarity on this issue.

Two comments were received concerning the status of individuals who may be affected by this rule change. These individuals should contact the Office of Enrollment and Discipline (OED). In addition, the Office will publish a notice in the Official Gazette listing all individuals registered as inactive and their last known address.

Two commenters correctly observed that proposed § 10.10(b) does not require a written statement of official duties for an officer or Government employee whose official duties require the preparation and prosecution of applications for patent.

The citation to the Commissioner's decision indicating that Mr. Athridge's name has been entered on the "active" list of registered attorneys and agents entitled to practice before the PTO in patent cases has been added to the discussion under Supplementary Information as suggested.

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JAN 1 1991 UMI

The suggestion that the term "contrary to" be changed to "in violation of" in proposed § 10.23(c)(20) has not been adopted. The term "contrary to" is considered preferable.

Two comments were received concerning the continued effect of an opinion rendered by the Acting United States Attorney General, 41 Op. Att. Gen. 21, 1949 Dec. Comm'r Pat. 1 (1949). In response, the Commissioner advises that the PTO maintains the import of that decision is unchanged with respect to practice before the PTO by Government employees. See In re Athridge, 230 USPQ 470 (Comm'r Pat. 1986).

Other Considerations

This rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resource.

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354). The rule change allowing Government employees who meet the requirements set forth at 37 CFR 10.7 to have their names placed on the Patent and Trademark Office register of attorneys and agents would not be expected to result in an increase of fees charged by attorneys and agents to entities, including small entities.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect to the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, state or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The PTO has also determined that this notice has no federalism implications affecting the relationship between the national government and the state as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The rule change will not impose any additional burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. Office of Management and Budget approval of the registration information reporting requirements contained in the proposed rules was extended until July 31, 1990. [OMB Control No. 0651-0012].

Pursuant to the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6 and 31, Part 10 of Title 37 of the Code of the Federal Regulations is amended as set forth below:

PART 10-REPRESENTATION OF OTHERS BEFORE THE PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 10 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 5 U.S.C. 500; 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, 31, 32, 41.

2. Section 10.6 is amended by removing paragraph (d) and redesignating paragraph (e) as § 10.10(b).

3. Section 10.10 is amended by revising the title, redesignating the text as paragraph (a), revising newly redesignated paragraph (b) and adding new paragraphs (c) and (d) to read as follows:

§ 10.10 Restrictions on practice in patent cases.

(a) Only practitioners who are registered under § 10.6 or individuals given limited recognition under § 10.9 will be permitted to prosecute patent applications of others before the Office.

(b) No individual who has served in the patent examining corps of the Office may practice before the Office after termination of his or her service, unless he or she signs a written undertaking (1) not to prosecute or aid in any manner in the prosecution of any patent application pending in any patent examining group during his or her period of service therein and (2) not to prepare or prosecute or to assist in any manner in the preparation or prosecution of any patent application of another [i] assigned to such group for examination and [ii] filed within two years after the date he or she left such group, without written authorization of the Director. Associated and related classes in other patent examining groups may be required to be included in the undertaking or designated classes may be excluded from the undertaking. When an application for registration is made after resignation from the Office, the applicant will not be registered if he or she has prepared or prosecuted or assisted in the preparation or prosecution of any patent application as indicated in the paragraph. Knowingly preparing or prosecuting or providing assistance in the preparation or prosecution of any patent application contrary to the provisions of this paragraph shall constitute misconduct under § 10.23(c)(13) of this part.

(c) A practitioner who is an employee of the Office cannot prosecute or aid in any manner in the prosecution of any patent application before the Office.

(d) Practice before the Office by Government employees is subject to any applicable conflict of interest laws, regulations or codes of professional responsibility. [Approved by the Office of Management and Budget under control number 0651-0012]

4. Section 10.23 is amended by revising paragraph (c)(13) and by adding new paragraphs (c)(19) and (c)(20) to read as follows:

§ 10.23 MISCONDUCT

* * * * *

(c) * * *

(13) Knowingly preparing or prosecuting or providing assistance in the preparation or prosecution of a patent application in violation of an undertaking signed under § 10.10(b).

* * * * *

(19) Action by an employee of the Office contrary to the provisions set forth in § 10.10(c).

(20) Knowing practice by a Government employee contrary to applicable Federal conflict of interest laws, or regulations of the Department, agency or commission employing said individual.

[Docket No. 80995-8195]

Rights Determinations in Government Employee Inventions

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final rule.
Summary: Executive order 10096 as amended by Executive Order 10930 sets forth the policies and procedures for determining the rights of Government employees and the Government in inventions made by employees. The Delegation of Authority from the Secretary of Commerce, dated Sept. 15, 1988, transferred administration of these provisions from the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks to the Under Secretary for Economic Affairs in the Department of Commerce. This final rule removes 37 CFR Part 100 in its entirety.
Effective date: This rule is effective Nov. 1, 1988.
For Further Information Contact: John H. Raubitschek by telephone at [703] 557-4035 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: Executive Order 10096, as amended by Executive Order 10930, sets forth the policies and procedures for determining the rights of Government employees and the Government is inventions made by the employees. The function of reviewing agency rights determinations assigned to the Secretary of Commerce was delegated by the Secretary to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks. On Sept. 15, 1988, the Secretary changed the delegation to the Under Secretary for Economic Affairs, who is republishing Part 100 as new Part 501 in 37 CFR.

All rights determinations and appeals relating thereto, which are pending before the Commissioner at the time 37 CFR Part 501 becomes effective, will be acted upon by the Commissioner under the procedures in 37 CFR Part 100.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this notice is not a rule within the meaning of section 1(a) of Executive Order 12291. Therefore, no Regulatory Impact Analysis has to or will be prepared. Because a notice of proposed rulemaking and an opportunity for public comment are not required to be given by section 553 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 553), or by any other law, no initial or final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis has to or will be prepared for the purposes of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 603(a) and 604(a)).

This final rule does not contain a policy with Federalism implications sufficient to warrant preparation of a Federalism assessment under Executive Order 12612. Nor does this rule contain a collection of information for purposes of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980.

For reasons set forth in the preamble, 37 CFR Part 100 is amended as follows:

[Docket No. 80627-8127]

Uniform Patent Policy for Domestic Rights in Inventions Made by Government Employees

Agency: Under Secretary for Economic Affairs, Department of Commerce.
Action: Final rule.
Summary: Executive Order 10096, as amended by Executive Order 10930, sets forth the policies and procedures for determining the rights in Federal employee inventions with respect to the Federal employee and the Government employer. The Delegation of Authority from the Secretary of Commerce dated, Sept. 15, 1988 and effective Nov. 1, 1988, transferred administration of the provisions of Executive Order 10096 as amended by Executive Order 10930 from the Commission of Patents and Trademarks to the Under Secretary for Economic Affairs in the Department of Commerce. This final rule establishes 37 CFR Part 501 which sets forth this delegation of authority to the Under Secretary. In addition, each Government agency is authorized to determine whether the results of research, development, or other activity within the agency constitute an invention with the purview of Executive Order 10096, as amended by Executive Order 10930 and to determine initially the rights therein in accordance with the provisions of section 501.6 and 501.7 herein. By separate notice in today's Federal Register the Patent and Trademark Office is deleting 37 CFR Part 100.
Effective Date: Nov. 1, 1988.

However, all rights, determinations, and appeals submitted to the Commissioner prior to the effective date, will be reviewed by the Commissioner under the procedures of 37 CFR Part 100.
Address: Comments may be sent to Mr. Joseph P. Allen, Acting Director, Federal Technology Management Division, Office of the Under Secretary for Economic Affairs, United States Department of Commerce, Room 4839, Herbert C. Hoover Bldg., Washington, D.C. 20230.
For Further Information Contact: Mr. Joseph P. Allen, by telephone at (202) 377-8100 or Robert B. Ellert by telephone at (202) 377-5394.
Supplementary Information: Executive Order 10096, as amended by Executive Order 10930, sets forth the policies and procedures for determining the rights in Federal Employee inventions with respect to the Federal employee and the Government employer. The Under Secretary for Economic Affairs of the Department of Commerce was delegated responsibility for oversight of the Executive Order on Sept. 15, 1988. Functions required by the Executive Order were previously performed by the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks. This final rule is substantially the same as the rule set out in 37 CFR Part 100, except, the Secretary of Commerce is substituted for the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, and advance approval is given to agency heads to make final determinations relating to determinations of rights decisions of Government employee inventions, subject to employee appeal to the Secretary.

President Reagan in Executive Order 12591, on Apr. 10, 1987 directed all Government agencies to facilitate the transfer of technology developed at federal laboratories to the private sector and to promote its commercialization. To accomplish the goals of E.O. 12591 it is necessary that rights to inventions made by government employees be determined as expeditiously as possible. Accordingly, the Secretary has reviewed the existing procedures and policies under 37 CFR Part 100 and concluded that administration of the functions thereunder could be performed on a more efficient basis by confining the role of the Department of Commerce to appeals by employees from disputed agency determinations. Accordingly, under 37 CFR Part 501 each Government agency is given the authority to determine whether the results of research, development of other activities within the agency constitute an invention by an employee, and to determine initially the rights relating to ownership within the provisions of Executive Order 10096 as amended by Executive Order 10930. If no appeal is taken to the Secretary by an employee under section 501.8, the initial determination of the agency will be final.

Notwithstanding the fact that this is a final rule, comments are requested.

Because this rule concerns agency management and personnel, it is not a rule or regulation within the meaning of section 1(a) of Executive Order 12291, and it is not subject to the requirements of the Order. Accordingly, no preliminary or final regulatory impact analysis has to be or will be prepared.

Because a notice of proposed rulemaking and an opportunity for public comments are not required to be given for this rule by section 553 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 553), or by any other law, no regulatory flexibility analysis has to be or will be prepared for purposes of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 603(a) and 604(a)).

This final rule does not contain policies with Federalism implications sufficient to warrant preparation of a Federalism assessment under Executive Order 12612. This rule does not contain collections of information for purposes of the Paperwork Reduction Act.

The changes in the process of determining employee rights to inventions made by this rule do not have takings implications

Uniform patent policy. Domestic Rights in inventions, Inventions made by Government employees.

Oct. 3, 1988

ROBERT ORTNER,
Under Secretary for Economic Affairs.

* * * * *

For the reasons set forth in the preamble 37 CFR is amended by adding Chapter V, consisting of Part 501, to read as follows:

CHAPTER V—UNDER SECRETARY FOR ECONOMIC AFFAIRS, DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

PART 501—UNIFORM PATENT POLICY FOR DOMESTIC RIGHTS IN INVENTIONS MADE BY GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES

Sec.

501.1 Purpose.
501.2 Scope.
501.3 Definitions.
501.4 Determination of Inventions and Rights therein.
501.5 Agency Liaison Officier.
501.6 Criteria for The Determination of Rights in and to Inventions.
501.7 Agency Determination.
501.8 Appeals by employees.
501.9 Patent protection.
501.10 Dissemination of this part and of implementing regulations.

Authority: Sec. 4, E.O. 10096, 3 CFR 1949-1953 Comp., p. 292, as amended by E. O. 10930, 3 CFR 1959-1963 Comp., p. 456; and Delegation of Authority by the Secretary of Commerce, Sept. 15, 1988, DOO 10-9.

The purpose of this part is to provide for the administration of a uniform patent policy for the Government with respect to the domestic rights in inventions made by Government employees and to prescribe rules and regulations for implementing and effectuating such policy.

This part applies to any invention made by a Government employee and to any action taken with respect thereto.

(a) The term "Secretary," as used in this part, means the Under Secretary of Commerce for Economic Affairs.

(b) The term "Government agency" as used in this part, means and Executive department or independent establishment of the Executive branch of the Government (including any independent regulatory commission or board, any corporation wholly owned by the United States, and the Smithsonian Institution), but does not include the Department of Energy for inventions made or conceived under the provisions of 42 U.S.C. 2182.

(c) The term "Government employee," as used in this part, means any officer or employee, civilian or military, of any Government agency, including any part-time consultant or part-time employee except as may otherwise be provided for by agency regulation approved by the Secretary.

(d) The term "invention," as used in this part, means any art, machine, manufacture, design, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, or any variety of plant, which is or may be patentable under the patent laws of the United States.

Each Government agency has the approval of the Secretary to determine whether the results of research, development, or other activity in the agency constitute an invention within the purview of E.O. 10096, as amended by E.O. 10930 and to determine the rights therein in accordance with the provisions of § 501.6 and 501.7 herein.

§ 501.5 Agency Liaison Officer.

Each Government agency shall designate a liaison officer to represent the agency before the Secretary. Provided, however, that the Departments of the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force may each designate a liaison officer.

§ 501.6 Criteria for the Determination of Rights In and To Inventions.

(a) The following rules shall be applied in determining the respective rights of the Government and of the inventor in and to any invention that is subject to the provisions of this part:

(1) The Government shall obtain, except as herein otherwise provided, the entire domestic right, title and interest in and to any invention made by any Government employee:

(i) During working hours, or
(ii) With a contribution by the Government of facilities, equipment, materials, funds or information, or of time or services of other Government employees on official duty, or
(iii) Which bears a direct relation to or is made in consequence of the official duties of the inventor.

Foreign patent rights are governed by the provisions of 37 CFR Part 101.

(2) In any case where the contribution of the Government, as measured by any one or more of the criteria set forth in paragraph (a)(1) of this section, to the invention is insufficient equitably to justify a requirement of assignment to the Government of the entire domestic right, title, and interest in and to such invention, or in any case where the Government has insufficient interest in an invention to obtain the entire domestic right, title, and interest therein (although the Government could obtain same under paragraph (a)(1) of this section), the Government agency concerned shall leave title to such invention in the employee, subject however, to the reservation to the government of a nonexclusive, irrevocable, royalty-free license in the invention with power to grant licenses for all governmental purposes, such reservation, in the terms thereof, to appear, where practicable, in any patent, domestic or foreign, which may issue on such invention. Reference is made to section 15 of the Federal Technology Transfer Act of 1986 (15 U.S.C. 3710d) which requires a Government agency to allow the inventor to retain title to any covered invention when the agency does not intend to file a patent application or otherwise promote commercialization.

(3) In applying the provisions of paragraphs (a)(1) and (2) of this section to the facts and circumstances relating to the making of a particular invention, it shall be presumed that an invention made by an employee who is employed or assigned:

(i) To invent or improve or perfect any art, machine, design, manufacture, or composition of matter,
(ii) To conduct or perform research, development work, or both,
(iii) To supervise, direct, coordinate, or review Government financed or conducted research, development work, or both, or
(iv) To act in a liaison capacity among governmental or non-governmental agencies or individuals engaged in such research or development work, falls within the provisions of paragraph (a)(1) of this section, and it shall be presumed that any invention made by any other employee falls within the provisions of paragraph (a)(2) of this section. Either presumption may be rebutted by a showing of the facts and circumstances in the case and shall not preclude a determination that these facts and circumstances justify leaving the enire right, title and interest in and to the invention in the Government employee, subject to the law.

(4) In any case wherein the Government neither:

(i) Obtains the entire domestic right, title and interest in and to an invention pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a)(1) of this section nor
(ii) Reserves a nonexclusive, irrevocable, royalty-free license in the invention, with power to grant licenses for all governmental purposes, pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a)(2) of this section.

The Government shall leave the entire right, title and interest in and to the invention in the Government employee, subject to law.

(a) If the agency determines that the Government is entitled to obtain title pursuant to § 501.6(a)(1) and the employee does not appeal, no further review is required.

(b) In the event that a Government agency determines, pursuant to paragraph (a)(2) or (a)(4) of § 501.6, that title to an invention will be left with the employee, the agency shall notify the employee of this determination.

(c) In the case of a determination under either paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, the agency shall promptly prepare, and preserve in appropriate files, accessible to the Secretary, a written, signed, and dated statement concerning the invention including the following:

(1) A description of the invention in sufficient detail to identify the invention and show its relationship to the employee's duties and work assignments;
(2) The name of the employee and employment status, including a detailed statement of official duties and responsibilities at the time the invention was made; and
(3) An explanation of the agency determination and reasons therefor. The agency shall, subject to considerations of national security, or public health, safety, or welfare, submit to the Secretary, if an appeal is taken, a copy of this written statement.

§ 501.8 Appeals by employees.

(a) Any Government employee who is aggrieved by a Government agency determination pursuant to {g49 501.6(a)(1) or (a)(2), may obtain a review of any agency determination by filing, within 30 days (or such longer period as the Secretary may, for good cause shown in writing, fix in any case) after receiving notice of such determination, two copies of an appeal with the Secretary. The Secretary then shall forward one copy of the appeal to the Government agency.

(b) On receipt of a copy of an appeal filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, the agency official who made the agency determination being appealed shall, subject to considerations of national security, or public health, safety, or welfare, promptly furnish both the Secretary and the inventor with a copy of a report containing the following information about the invention involved in the appeal:

(1) A copy of a statement by the agency containing the information specified in § 501.7, and
(2) A detailed statement of the points of dispute or controversy, together with copies of any statements or written arguments filed with the agency, and of any other relevant evidence that the agency considered in making its determination of Government interest. Within 25 days (or such longer period as the Secretary may, for good cause shown, fix in any case) after the transmission of a copy of the agency report to the employee, the employee may file a reply thereto with the Secretary and file one copy thereof with the appropriate agency decision maker.

(c) After the time for the inventor's reply to the Government agency's report has expired and if the inventor has so requested in his or her appeal, a date will be set for hearing of oral arguments before the Secretary, by the employee (or by an attorney whom he or she designates by written power of attorney filed before, or at the hearing) and a representative of the Government agency involved. Unless it shall be otherwise ordered before the hearing begins, oral arguments will be limited to thirty minutes for each side. The employee need not retain an attorney or request an oral hearing to secure full consideration of the facts and his or her arguments. The employee may expedite such consideration by notifying the Secretary when he or she does not intend to file a reply to the agency report.

(d) After a hearing on the appeal, if a hearing was requested, or after expiration of the period for the inventor's reply to the agency report if no hearing is set, the Secretary shall issue a decision on the matter within 120 days, which decision shall be final after a thirty day period for requesting reconsideration expires or on the date that a decision on a petition for reconsideration is finally disposed of. Any request for reconsideration or modification of the decision must be filed within 30 days from the date of the original decision (or within such an extension thereof as may be set by the Secretary before the original period expires). The decision of the Secretary shall be made after consideration of the statements of fact in the employee's appeal, the agency's report, and the employee's reply, but the Secretary at his or her discretion and with due respect to the rights and convenience of the inventor and the Government agency, may call for further statements on specific questions of fact or may request additional evidence in the form of affidavits or depositions on specific facts in dispute.

(a) A Government agency, upon determining that an invention coming within the scope of § 501.6(a)(1) or (a)(2) has been made, shall thereupon determine whether patent protection will be sought in the United States by the agency for such invention. A controversy over the respective rights of the Government and of the employee in any case shall not delay the taking of the actions provided for in this section. In cases coming within the scope of § 501.6(a)(2), agency action looking toward such patent protection shall be contingent upon the consent of the employee.

(b) Where there is an appealed dispute as to whether § 501.6(a)(1) or (a)(2) applies in determining the respective rights of the Government and of an employee in and to any invention, the agency will determine whether patent protection will be sought in the United States pending the Secretary's decision on the dispute and, if it decides that an application for patent should be filed, will take such rights as are specified in § 501.6(a)(2), but this shall be without prejudice to acquiring the rights specified in paragraph (a)(1) of that section should the Secretary so decide.

(c) Where an agency has determined to leave title to an invention with an employee under § 501.6(a)(2), the agency will, upon the filing of an application for patent take the rights specified in that paragraph without prejudice to the subsequent acquistion by the Government of the rights specified in paragraph (a)(1) of that section should the Secretary so decide.

§ 501.10 Dissemination of this part and of implementing regulations.

Each Government agency shall disseminate to its employees the provisions of this part, and any appropriate implementing agency regulations and delegations. Copies of any such regulations shall be sent to the Secretary. If the Secretary identifies an inconsistency between this part and the agency regulations or delegations, the agency, upon being informed by the Secretary of the inconsistency, shall take prompt action to correct it.

(175) Practitioner's Responsibility to Avoid Prejudice to the Rights of a Client/Patent Applicant

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

Under 37 CFR Part 10, a practitioner is responsible for taking reasonable steps to avoid foreseeable prejudice to the rights of a client/patent applicant. This responsibility exists in all circumstances including those where the practitioner is operating through a corporate liaison or foreign agent and has no direct contact with the client/patent applicant, who in most cases is the one being represented.

This notice is intended to clarify the appropriate course of action for a practitioner to follow when the practitioner is operating through such a corporate liaison or foreign agent. In such arrangements, the registered practitioner may rely upon the advice of the corporate liaison or the client/patent applicant's foreign agent as to the action to be taken so long as the practitioner is aware that the client/patent applicant has consented after full disclosure to be represented by the liaison or agent. It will be assumed by the Patent and Trademark Office that the client/patent applicant has an agreement with the liaison or agent, arrived at after full disclosure, to be represented by the liaison or agent. Registered practitioners, if they wish, however, may maintain a copy of the agreement in this regard between the client/patent applicant and the liaison or agent in practitioner's file of the application or other proceeding before the Office. If there is, in fact, no such agreement between the client/patent applicant and the liaison or agent, the registered practitioner must communicate to the client/patent applicant.

In circumstances where the practitioner is aware that there is an agreement between the client/patent applicant and the liaison or agent, the practitioner may fully rely upon the advice of the liaison or agent as to the wishes of the client/patent applicant. For example, if the registered practitioner is instructed by the client/patent applicant's liaison or agent to allow an application to go abandoned rather than to respond to an Office action within a set period for response, the practitioner may properly do so without any further notice to the client/patent applicant.

It is assumed that withdrawal from employment by a practitioner will remain a relatively rare occurrence, particularly in view of this clarification. This notice should not be taken to require or encourage withdrawal. If a practitioner should decide to withdraw, however, the practitioner must take reasonable steps to avoid foreseeable prejudice to the rights of the client/patent applicant including allowing time for employment of another practitioner (37 CFR 10.40). Therefore, at least thirty days would be required between the date of approval by the Office of the withdrawal and the later of the expiration date of the response period or the expiration date of the period which can be obtained by a petition for extension of time and fee under 37 CFR 1.136(a). This is necessary so that the client/patent applicant would have sufficient time to obtain other representation or to take other action. If a period has been set for response and the period may be extended without a showing of cause pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) by filing a petition for extension of time and fee, the practitioner will not be required to seek such extension of time for withdrawal to be approved. In such a situation, however, withdrawal will not be approved unless at least thirty days would remain between the date of approval and the last date on which such a petition for extension of time and fee could properly be filed.

Dec. 10, 1987

DONALD J. QUIGG,
Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(176) Responsibilities of Practitioners Representing Clients in Proceedings Before The Patent and Trademark Office

This notice is intended to remind practitioners of certain aspects of their responsibilities in representing clients in proceedings before the Office. The Notice is also intended to supplement the discussion set forth in the Official Gazette Notice published at 1086 Official Gazette 457 (Jan. 12, 1988) entitled "Practitioner's Responsibility to Avoid Prejudice to the Rights of a Client/Patent Applicant" and to amplify and supersede the Helpful Hint published at 1084 Official Gazette 34 (Nov. 24, 1987) titled "Correspondence Address and/or Fee Address of Maintenance Fees."

Part 10 of title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, sets forth the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) Code of Professional Responsibility. Each attorney or agent who practices before the PTO is subject to the rules set forth in Part 10 and should carefully study the rules promulgation originally published at 50 Federal Register 5158 (Feb. 6, 1985) and at 1052 Official Gazette 4 (Mar. 5, 1985) and reproduced as item number 172 in the Consolidated Listing of Official Gazette Notices, published at 1086 Trademark Official Gazette 3 (Jan. 5, 1988).

Practitioner's Client

During the promulgation of Part 10, 37 CFR, several individuals suggested that "it may be difficult to determine the identity of the 'client'. . ., particularly in corporate patent departments." The response to that suggestion was that "[t]he PTO will presume that practitioners know the identities of their clients . . .." 50 Federal Register 5163 (Feb. 6, 1985); 1086 Trademark Official Gazette 356 (Jan. 5, 1988). For example, in a patent application, practitioner's client is ordinarily the inventor who gives practitioner a power of attorney to prosecute the application (37 CFR 1.31). A practitioner may represent only the assignee of the entire interest in a patent application if the assignee has filed a power of attorney and the assignee is conducting the prosecution of the application to the exclusion of the inventor. (37 CFR 1.32).

In the promulgation of Part 10, 37 CFR, a commenter raised a question of who is the client when an application is filed on behalf of an individual, but the individual's assignee pays practitioner's bill. The question was answered in the following manner:

> "Practitioners are expected to know the identities of their clients. If a practitioner is hired by a corporation and wishes to make that fact plain on the record of a patent application, the practitioner may file an assignment and a power of attorney signed by the assignee. If a dispute should then occur between the individual and the assignee, the record would be clear that the assignee is the client." 50 Federal Register 5164 (Feb. 6, 1985); 1086 Trademark Official Gazette 357 (Jan. 5, 1988).

In some instances, practitioners deal with a corporate liaison or foreign agent. Such arrangements do not automatically change the person whom practitioner represents, e.g., the inventor or trademark owner. The fact that a U.S. practitioner receives instructions from the inventor or trademark owner through a foreign attorney or agent does not change the fact that the client is still the inventor or trademark owner rather than the foreign attorney or agent. See Strojirenstvi v. Toyoda, 2 USPQ 2nd 1222 (Comm'r Pat. 1986), which at 1223 cited Yetter Manufacturing Co. v. Hiniker Co., 213 USPQ 119, 120 (D. Minn. 1981) for the principle that "when attorney served as local counsel for a law firm representing Hiniker Co., the attorney represented Hiniker and not the law firm" and also cited Toulmin v. Becker, 105 USPQ 511 (Ohio Ct. App. 1954) for the principle that "foreign patent agents or attorneys were not clients of U.S. patent attorney." The PTO expects practitioners to know the identities of their clients and to take reasonable steps to avoid foreseeable prejudice to the rights of their clients.

Obtaining Instructions Through Persons Other Than The Client

In practice, it is common for instructions relating to the application of an inventor or trademark owner, who is the client of the U.S. practitioner, to be passed to the U.S. practitioner through intermediaries, such as corporate liaisons or foreign agents. Clearly, a client may choose to use a corporate liaison or a foreign agent to convey instructions, etc., to a practitioner. In such an arrangement, the practitioner may rely upon instructions of, and accept compensation from, the corporate liaison or the foreign agent as to the action to be taken in a proceeding before the Office so long as the practitioner is aware that the client has consented to have instructions conveyed through the liaison or agent. See 37 CFR 10.68(a) and (b). An agreement between the client and the liaison or agent establishes an agency relationship between the liaison or agent and the client such that the U.S. practitioner can rely upon the liaison or agent as the representative of the client for the purpose of communicating the client's instructions about the proceeding to the U.S. practitioner. The PTO will assume that the client has an agreement with the liaison or agent to be represented by the liaison or agent. It is the responsibility of the client to notify the practitioner that the agency relationship between the client and the liaison or agent has ceased to exist and that instructions from the liaison or agent should no longer be accepted.

A practitioner could secure evidence that such an agreement exists by having a patent or trademark applicant sign a statement to that effect at the same time that the power of attorney is executed. For example, the following language could be inserted in an oath, declaration, or power of attorney form:

> "The undersigned hereby authorizes the U.S. attorney or agent named herein to accept and follow instructions from as to any action to be taken in the Patent and Trademark Office regarding this application without direct communication between the U.S. attorney or agent and the undersigned. In the event of a change in the persons from whom instructions may be taken, the U.S. attorney or agent named herein will be so notified by the undersigned."

Without an agency relationship between the liaison or agent and the client, a practitioner would be bound by 37 CFR 10.68(b) to "not permit a person who recommends, employs, or pays the practitioner to render legal services for another, to direct or regulate the practitioner's professional judgment in rendering such legal services."

Practitioner's Responsibility to a Client After the Client's Patent Issues or Trademark is Registered

The Office has received inquiries from practitioners as to their responsibilites to a client (patent or trademark applicant) after the client's patent was issued or trademark has been registered. In response thereto, it is pointed out that a power of attorney given during prosecution of a patent or trademark application is considered to be viable after the patent is issued or the trademark is registered. See 50 Federal Register 5164 (Feb. 6, 1985); 1086 Trademark Official Gazette 357 (Jan. 5, 1988). While the Office considers such a power of attorney to be viable for purposes of the practitioner taking actions in proceedings before the Office if practitioner and the client so desire, the existence of the power of attorney to file and/or prosecute the application through issuance of the patent or registration of the trademark does not establish whether practitioner has a responsibility, and a dutaffirmatively in a proceeding before the Office on behalf of the client after the patent issues or the trademark is registered.

Practitioner's responsibility to take affirmative action in a proceeding before the Office after the patent issues or the trademark is registered depends upon whether practitioner still has a practitioner-client relationship with the client which has continued after the patent issued or trademark is registered. The mere existence of the power of attorney to file and/or prosecute the application through issuance of the patent or registration of the trademark would not establish such a practitioner-client relationship in the absence of other facts establishing such a relationship since the purpose for which the power of attorney was originally given has been accomplished.

Practitioner's Responsibility to a Former Client

While practitioner may no longer have a practitioner-client relationship with a client and therefore has no duty to represent the client in a proceeding before the Office, a practitioner nevertheless has certain obligations to a former client. These obligations are placed upon practitioner by the Office rules and are necessary for the proper conduct of proceedings before the Office. Under 37 CFR 10.23(c)(8), practitioners have a duty to inform a client or former client or timely notify the Office of an inability to notify a client or former client of certain correspondence received from the Office and also from the client's or former client's opponent in an inter partes proceeding before the Office. Practitioners have an obligation whether the client is a present client or a former client. Included among the items of correspondence of which practitioners have the obligation to inform clients or former clients are notices regarding maintenance fees, reexamination proceedings, and institution of inter partes patent and trademark proceedings.

Address to Which Correspondence is Sent Regarding Patent Maintenance Fees and Reexamination Proceedings

Under 37 CFR 1.33(d), a "correspondence address" or a change thereto may be filed with the Office during the enforceable life of a patent. This "correspondence address" will be used in any correspondence relating to maintenance fees unless a separate "fee address" has been specified solely for maintenance fee purposes as provided by 37 CFR 1.363. Practitioners who do not wish to receive correspondence relating to maintenance fees must change the correspondence address in the patented file or provide the PTO with a fee address to which the correspondence should be sent. It is not required that a practitioner file a request for permission to withdraw pursuant to 37 CFR 1.36 solely for the purpose of changing the correspondence address in a patent even though a withdrawal of a practitioner would change the correspondence address.

Since 37 CFR 1.33(c) specifies that all notices, official letters and other communications for the patent owner or owners in a reexamination proceeding will be directed to the attorney or agent of record in the patent file, a request for permission to withdraw pursuant to 37 CFR 1.36 must be filed in the patent if the attorney or agent of record does not desire to receive correspondence relating to reexamination. For information on requests to withdraw, see the discussion in the Jan. 12, 1988 Official Gazette Notice cited above.

Contact Points For Information

If a practitioner has questions about the conduct of, or requirements relating to a particular proceeding before the Office, those questions should be directed to the particular area of the Office responsible for the proceeding. If practitioners have questions about their responsibilities to their clients, those questions should be directed to the Office of Enrollment and Discipline. The telephone number of that Office is (703) 557-2012.

Exhaustion of Administrative Remedies in Patent and Trademark Office Disciplinary Proceedings

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule
Summary: This final rule sets forth amendments to 37 CFR §§ 10.155 and 10.157. The purpose of the amendments is to clarify that a respondent dissatisfied with the initial decision by the administrative law judge in a Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) disciplinary proceeding must exhaust available administrative remedies, i.e., appeal to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, before seeking judicial review under 35 U.S.C. 32.
Effective Date: August 1,1989
For Further Information Contact: Harris A. Pitlick by telephone at (703) 557-4035 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: It is possible that present rules may be interpreted not to explicitly require a respondent dissatisfied with the decision of the administrative law judge (initial decision) in a PTO disciplinary proceeding to file an appeal with the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks as a condition precedent to filing a petition for review in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia under 35 U.S.C. 32.

Under 37 CFR § 10.154(a), in the absence of an appeal to the Commissioner, the initial decision, without further proceedings, becomes the decision of the Commissioner thirty (30) days therefrom. Local Rule 213 of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, 37 CFR § 10.157 and 35 U.S.C. 32, together provide for review of the final decision of the Commissioner by a petition in that court within 30 days of the date of that decision. Thus, the rules could be construed to permit a respondent dissatisfied with the initial decision to bypass review by the Commissioner and directly seek judicial review within 60 days of the date of the initial decision.

The purpose of 37 CFR §§ 10.154-10.157 is to outline the steps for seeking review of an initial decision in a disciplinary proceeding. There is no provision for bypassing a determination by the Commissioner unless both parties accept the decision and do not desire any further review of the initial decision. Sections 10.155 and 10.157 have been amended to clarify that a respondent must exhaust available administrative remedies by appeal to the Commissioner before judicial review can be considered ripe.

Subsequent to a notice of proposed rulemaking setting forth the proposed amendments now adopted by this Final Rule, an amendment to 37 CFR § 10.156 was adopted. See 54 FR 6659 (February 14, 1989). Section 10.156 now explicitly permits the respondent or the Director to make a single request for reconsideration or modification of the Commissioner's decision on appeal from an initial decision. Nothing in that rule, or in the rules adopted by this Final Rule, requires a respondent dissatisfied with the Commissioner's decision to seek reconsideration thereof. Thus, a respondent dissatisfied with the Commissioner's decision may directly seek judicial review under 35 U.S.C. 32. In other words, for purposes of 37 CFR Part 10, exhaustion of administrative remedies is complete upon appeal to the Commissioner from the initial decision.

A notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register on December 28, 1988 (53 FR 52438) and the Official Gazette on January 17,1989 (1098 O.G. 527). Interested parties were requested to submit written comments on or before February 27, 1989. Comments from two (2) sources were received. None of the suggestions made in the comments have been adopted. A detailed analysis of the comments follows:

Comment: The proposed rules do not go quite far enough in order to comply with 5 U.S.C. 704, which specifies that > agency action otherwise final is final for purposes of this section whether or not there has been presented or determined an application . . . unless the agency otherwise requires by rule and provides that the action meanwhile is inoperative, for an appeal to superior agency authority.

Since no rule specifies that the initial decision of the administrative law judge shall be inoperative, a sentence should be added to the end of 37 CFR § 10.154(a) stating that pending an appeal to the Commissioner in accordance with § 10.155 the decision of the administrative law judge will be inoperative. This would assure compliance with 5 U.S.C. 704 and remove any concern by practitioners subject to disciplinary proceedings that the initial decision has any binding effect prior to action by the Commissioner.

Response: The suggestion has not been adopted since it is not necessary. The above-quoted language from 5 U.S.C. 704 first appeared as part of section 10(c) of the original Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U.S.C. 1009(c) (Act of June 11, 1946, ch. 324, § 10(c), 60 Stat. 243). The meaning of the language in that section is explained in the Attorney General's Manual on the Administrative Procedure Act (1947) at 101-05. The purpose of the language quoted in the comment was to provide for judicial review at the time when agency action becomes operative, rather than at some later time, such as when further review available in the agency became exhausted. Under the regulatory scheme for review following an initial decision in a PTO disciplinary proceeding, agency action— i.e., imposition of discipline on a practitioner before the Office — cannot become operative before 20 days after the date of entry of the Commissioner's decision under 37 CFR § 10.156(a) or, if a request for reconsideration has been filed within those 20 days, before the date of entry of the decision on reconsideration under 37 CFR § 10.156(c). In other words, the initial decision cannot become operative until such time that judicial review becomes available to the affected practitioner. The suggested change to 37 CFR § 10.154(a) is, hence, unnecessary.

Comment: The evidence upon which the General Counsel has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration that this proposed rule change is not expected to have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities has not been disclosed to the public for review and comment.

Response: No law requires that such evidence, if any, be disclosed to the public for review and comment. See 5 U.S.C. 605(b). The basis for the certification was that the proposed rule changes would merely make explicit what was implicity intended by the rules as originally constituted.

Comment: The proposed rule change will have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities because it prolongs the time for judicial review for a person who has been refused registration to practice before the Office.

Response: Both the proposed rule changes and the rules affected thereby relate solely to practitioners already registered or otherwise permitted to practice before the Office and who have been subject to a PTO disciplinary proceeding. The rules and rule changes have no impact, economic or otherwise, on persons refused registration or permission to practice before the Office.

Other Consideratalons

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612 and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration that this rule change is not expected to have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354) because it merely makes explicit what was implicitly intended by the rules as originally constituted. Additionally, no more than a few small entities in a given year out of over 13,000 registered patent attorneys and agents and an unknown number of trademark attorneys are expected to be subject to an initial decision in a PTO disciplinary proceeding. Whatever the number of small entities, however, there would not be expected to be a significant impact on them because agency action does not take effect until after a final decision is made by the Commissioner.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this proposed rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less that $100 million. There will be no major increases in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The Patent and Trademark Office has also determined that this notice has no federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

This rule change does not contain a collection of information subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

Requests for Identifiable Records

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule.
Summary: This final rule sets forth changes that the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is making to the rules governing requests for records not disclosed to the public as part of the regular informational activity of the PTO. The prior rule sets out the PTO Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) procedures. The final rule updates these procedures and specifies that FOIA requests will be processed in accordance with Department of Commerce regulations contained in Part 4 of 15 CFR (Public Information).
Effective Date: Dec. 30, 1988.
For Further Information Contact: Albin F. Drost by telephone at (703) 557-4035 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: As presently written, 37 CFR 1.15 describes procedures for obtaining documents under the Freedom of Information Act that have been superseded. The purpose of this rule change is to bring the PTO FOIA procedures into conformity with the Department of Commerce FOIA rules. The final rule directly advises requesters that the PTO will follow the Department of Commerce rules for disclosure of information under FOIA.

A notice of proposed rulemaking was published on July 19, 1988 (53 Fed. Reg. 27 177). Interested parties were requested to submit written comments on or before Sept. 20, 1988. No comments were received.

Other Considerations

This rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources. This rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. § 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities {Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354} because no increase in fees or paperwork should result from this rule change.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12991. The annual effect to the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The PTO has also determined that this notice has no federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the states as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. § 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirement within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Freedom of Information, Records.

For the reasons set out in the preamble and under the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. § 6, the Patent and Trademark Office amends Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations as set forth below:

PART 1 - RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 continues to read as follows:

AUTHORITY: 35 U.S.C. § 6 unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.15 is revised as follows:

§ 1.15 Requests for identifiable records.

(a) Requests for records, not disclosed to the public as part of the regular informational activity of the Patent and Trademark Office and which are not otherwise dealt with in the rules in this part, shall be made in writing, with the envelope and the letter clearly marked "Freedom of Information Request." Each such request, so marked, should be submitted by mail addressed to the "Patent and Trademark Office, Freedom of Information Request Control Desk, Box 8, Washington, D.C. 20231," or hand delivered to the Office of the Solicitor, Patent and Trademark Office, Arlington, Virginia. The request will be processed in accordance with the procedures set forth in Part 4 of Title 15, Code of Federal Regulations.

(b) Any person whose request for records has been initially denied in whole or in part, or has not been timely determined, may submit a written appeal as provided in § 4.8 of Title 15, Code of Federal Regulations.

(c) Procedures applicable in the event of service of process or in connection with testimony of employees on official matters and production of official documents of the Patent and Trademark Office in civil legal proceedings not involving the United States shall be those established in parts 15 and 15a of Title 15, Code of Federal Regulations.

Accession by Poland

The United States Patent and Trademark Office has received notification from the World Intellectual Property Organization that Poland deposited its instrument of accession to the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) on 25 September 1990. Poland will become the 45th Contracting States of the PCT on December 25 1990. Consequently, nationals and residents of Poland will be entitled to file internatrional applications on and after 25 December 1990, and from the same date, it will be possible to file international applications designating Poland. The instrument of accession contains a reservation pursuant to PCT Article 64(2)(a)(i)(ii).

(180) Minimum Requirements for Acceptance of Applications Under 35 U.S.C. 371 (the National Stage of PCT)

The Patent and Trademark Office is continuing to receive application papers which do not clearly identify whether the papers (1) are being submitted to enter the national stage of the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) under 35 U.S.C. 371 or (2) are being filed as a regular national application under 35 U.S.C. 111.

Attention is directed to the notice in the Official Gazette at 1070 O.G. 11 titled "Unity of Invention Practice in International Applications and National Phase Applications Entered Under 35 U.S.C. 371" wherein at item eight it is stated

> "(8) Applicants should clearly indicate on all application papers filed for entry under 35 U.S.C. 371 and 37 CFR 1.61 that the filing is being made under 35 U.S.C. 371. Otherwise, the application papers will be treated as having been filed under 35 U.S.C. 111."

To clearly indicate an international application is being filed under 35 U.S.C. 371 the applicant should use the "Transmittal Letter for United States Designated Office" (Form PTO-1390) as the transmittal letter.

Alternatively, one of the following indications may be used:

1) the applicant shall clearly state in the transmittal or cover letter that he or she is filing under 35 U.S.C. 371 or entering the national stage under the PCT; or

2) the applicant clearly identifies in the oath or declaration the specification to which it is directed by referring to a particular international application by PCT Serial Number and International Filing Date and that he or she is executing the declaration as, and seeking a U.S. Patent as, the inventor of the invention described in the identified international application.

Applicants are cautioned that the identification of the international application, in the oath or declaration or otherwise, as a prior filed application for priority purposes is not considered to be an indication of an intention to file under 35 U.S.C. 371.

If there are any conflicting instructions as to which section of the statute (371 or 111) is intended the application will be accepted under 35 U.S.C. 111. It is strongly recommended that applicant use the Form PTO-1390 in all cases where a filing under 35 U.S.C. 371 is intended.

On Oct. 9, 1986, the U.S. Senate gave its advice and consent to withdrawal by the United States of its declaration not to be bound by chapter II of the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT). Public Law 99-616, that amends title 35, United States Code, to implement U.S. adherence to PCT chapter II was enacted on Nov. 6, 1986.

On Apr. 1, 1987, the President notified the Director General of the World Intellectual Property Organization of the withdrawal of the declaration by the United States. As the withdrawal takes effect three months after the date of notification, the United States will be bound by the provisions of PCT chapter II on July 1, 1987.

A notice of proposed rulemaking concerning PCT chapter II was published in the Federal Register on Mar. 4, 1987 (52 Fed. Reg. 6696) and was reprinted in the Official Gazette on Mar. 17, 1987, (1076 OG 29). The text of the President's notification and of Public Law 99-616 are reprinted below.

NOTIFICATION

RONALD REAGAN

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME, GREETING:

CONSIDERING THAT:

The Patent Cooperation Treaty, with Regulations, done at Washington June 19, 1970, was signed by the United States on that date and ratified by the United States on November 27, 1973, subject to three declarations, in pursuance of the advice and consent of the Senate;

The United States deposited its instrument of ratification with the Director General of the World Intellectual Property Organization on November 26, 1975, and the Treaty entered into force for the United States on January 24, 1978;

At the request of the President, the Senate of the United States of America by its resolution of October 9, 1986, two-thirds of the Senators present concurring therein, gave its advice and consent to withdraw one of the declarations made when the United States deposited its instrument of ratification, to wit, under Article 64(1)(a), the United States would not be bound by the provisions of Chapter II of the Treaty;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Ronald Reagan, President of the United States of America, hereby give notice and confirm the withdrawal of the declaration by the United States regarding Chapter II of the said Treaty.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have signed this instrument withdrawing the said declaration and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the city of Washington this twenty-seventh day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred eighty-seven and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred eleventh.

SEC. 7. (a) Section 371(a) of title 35, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"(a) Receipt from the International Bureau of copies of international applications with any amendments to the claims, international search reports, and international preliminary examination reports including any annexes thereto may be required in the case of international applications designating or electing the United States."

(b) Section 371(b) of title 35, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"(b) Subject to subsection (f) of this section, the national stage shall commence with the expiration of the applicable time limit under article 22 (1) or (2), or under article 39(1)(a) of the treaty".

(c) Section 371(c)(4) of title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking the "." and inserting in lieu thereof ";".

(d) Section 371(c) of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph (5):

"(5) a translation into the English language of any annexes to the international preliminary examination report, if such annexes were made in another language.".

(e) Section 371(d) of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following sentence: "The requirement of subsection (c)(5) shall be complied with at such time as may be fixed by the Commissioner and failure to do so shall be regarded as cancellation of the amendments made under article 34(2)(b) of the treaty"

(f) Section 371(e) of title 35, United States Code, is amended by inserting "or article 41" after "28"

SEC. 8.(a) Section 376(a) of title 35, United States Code, is amended by—

(1) inserting "and the handling fee" after the first occurrence of "fee";

(2) striking "amount is" and inserting in lieu thereof "amounts are",

(3) redesignating paragraph (5) as paragraph (6); and

(4) inserting the following new paragraph (5):

"(5) A preliminary examination fee and any additional fees (see section 362(b))."

(b) Section 376(b) of title 35, United States Code, is amended by—

(1) inserting "and the handling fee" after the first occurrence of "fee' in the first sentence; and

(2) inserting "the preliminary examination fee and any additional fees," after "fee," in the third sentence.

SEC. 9. Sections 2 through 8 of this Act shall come into force on the same day as the effective date of entry into force of chapter II of the Patent Cooperation Treaty

Effective date.

(182) Implementation of Chapter II of the Patent Cooperation Treaty

This notice is intended to be a summary of various notices published to implement Chapter II of the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) on July 1, 1987.

1. Withdrawal of reservation and implementing legislation.

A copy of the withdrawal of the reservation as to Chapter II of the PCT under PCT Article 64(6)(b) and a copy of Public Law 99-616 implementing Chapter II of the PCT were published in the Official Gazette of May 12, 1987 at 1078 O.G. 10-13.

The proposed rule change relating to the implementation of Chapter II of the PCT was published on Mar. 4, 1987 in the Federal Register at 52 F.R. 6696-6707 and on Mar. 17, 1987 in the Official Gazette at 1076 O.G. 29-40. The final rules were published on May 28, 1987 in the Federal Register 52 F.R. 20038-20052 and on June 16, 1987 in the Official Gazette at 1076 O.G 32.

A listing of all current member countries of the PCT was published on Mar. 3, 1987 at 1076 O.G. 3. After July 1, 1987 only Denmark, Norway, Liechtenstein, Switzerland and the Republic of Korea (South Korea) retain reservations as to Chapter II of the PCT.

A listing of the level of PCT fees effective July 1, 1987, both because of rulemaking and a change in the exchange rate was published on June 23, 1987 in the Official Gazette at 1079 O.G. 50.

A notice clarifying the requirements for entering the national stage in the United States under 35 U.S.C. 371 was published on Apr. 14, 1987 at 1077 O.G. 13.

2. International Preliminary Examining Authorities

The United States has informed the Director General of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) that the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) will serve as an International Preliminary Examining Authority for any international application filed in the United States Receiving Office and for any international application for which the USPTO has served as the International Searching Authority.

Applicants who have filed their international applications in the USPTO as a Receiving Office may choose to have the European Patent Office (EPO) serve as their International Preliminary Examining Authority if (1) the EPO has served as the International Searching Authority for the international application and (2) the demand filed with the EPO is one of the first 500 demands filed by applicants who have filed their international applications in the United States Receiving Office in one of the 3 years beginning July 1, 1987.

The attention of applicants desiring to use the EPO as an International Preliminary Examining Authority is also directed to the notice titled "Information for PCT applicants concerning the procedure before the EPO as an International Preliminary Examining Authority under Chapter II of the PCT" published in the Official Journal of the European Patent Office in volume 12/1986 at pages 441-445.

A copy of the "Memorandum of Understanding" to monitor the number of demands filed in the EPO by U.S. applicants between the USPTO and EPO appears below.

June 11, 1987. DONALD J. QUIGG, Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks United States Patent and Trademark Office.

Memorandum of Understanding

Procedures for monitoring and processing demands submitted to the European Patent Office by U.S. applicants who filed their international applications with the United States Receiving Office.

Purpose

The purpose of this memorandum is to set forth the procedures to be used to monitor the number of demands for international preliminary examination filed by U.S. applicants in the European Patent Office (EPO) in respect of international applications filed with the United States Receiving Office (hereinafter referred to as "demands filed in the EPO by U.S. applicants"). Such monitoring is important in view of the limit of 500 international preliminary examination reports which the EPO has agreed to establish during each of the first three years that PCT Chapter II is in effect as to the United States of America. The memorandum also sets forth the processing procedures for any demands filed in excess of the agreed to-amount.

Monitoring of Number of Demands

It is essential that U.S. applicants be informed as to the number of demands which have already been filed in the EPO by U.S. applicants, especially where the number of demands filed in the EPO is approaching 500.

In order to provide such numerical information to the U.S. applicants, the EPO will provide to the USPTO, each month during the first three years by telex, the cumulative number of demands filed in the EPO by U.S. applicants during that particular year. The USPTO will then publish a notice which indicates the number of demands filed in the EPO by U.S. applicants as of a particular date, in its Official Gazette. The number of demands filed, based upon the latest known information, will also be supplied by telephone or telex to interested persons by both the EPO and USPTO.

Processing of Demands in Excess of 500

Since the EPO will only accept 500 demands a year from U.S. applicants, the USPTO will accept any demands beyond the 500 limit filed in the EPO by U.S. applicants.

Upon receipt by the EPO of the 501st and subsequent demands from a U.S. applicant, the EPO will promptly notify the applicant that it is not competent under PCT Rule 59.1 to receive the demand. The EPO will also immediately telex or telephone the USPTO and inform it of the international application serial number so that the USPTO may make immediate contact with the applicant.

The EPO will refund any fees paid by the applicant to the EPO and indicate that only the USPTO is competent to receive the demand and establish the international preliminary examination report, and that the demand is being forwarded to the USPTO. The EPO will indicate the date of receipt of the demand on the demand and promptly forward it to the USPTO for further processing. The EPO will be considered to be the agent of the USPTO for purposes of receiving and dating demands. The USPTO will correspond with the applicant concerning the demand and require the payment of fees to the USPTO under PCT Rules 57.4 and 58.2.

For purposes of this procedure, the contact person in the USPTO is Louis O. Maassel (telephone 703-557-3070) and the contact person in the EPO is Mr. Colin Philpott (telephone 2399-2479) for substantive and organizational matters, or Mrs. M. Houyez-Stevens (telephone 2399-2423) for numerical information.

(183) Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) Update

Number of demands received by the IPEA/EP from US applicants and Guidelines for use of the European Patent Office as International Preliminary Examining Authority.

Number of demands for International Preliminary Examination filed by US applicants with the European Patent Office as International Preliminary Examining Authority (IPEA/EP) as of April 29, 1988

As of April 29, 1988, the European Patent Office acting as International Preliminary Examining Authority (IPEA/EP) had received 257 demands for International Preliminary Examination from US applicants who filed their international applications with the United States Receiving Office.

Guidelines for use of the European Patent Office as International Preliminary Examining Authority

The European Patent Office (EPO) has informed the United States Patent and Trademark Office of a number of problems which have arisen with demands originating from US applicants. These problems can cause serious delays in the handling of demands and, in some cases, may result in a loss of rights or in responses being disregarded.

In particular, attention is drawn to the following points:

1. When a demand for International Preliminary Examination has been properly filed after the expiration of 19 months from the earliest priority date (or filing date when no priority is claimed), it is nevertheless validly submitted. However, the consequence of the late filing of the demand is that the applicant has to start the regional/national phase under Article 22 of the Treaty before the expiration of 20 months from the earliest priority date and will not benefit from the extension to 30 months from the earliest priority date for starting the regional/national phase under Article 39.
2. A power of attorney when needed — because of a change in the appointment of an agent or common representative under PCT Rule 90.3 — must be filed with the International Bureau or with the Receiving Office.
   However, it is recommended to file a photocopy thereof with the EPO in Munich for Information.
3. Reply to the first/second opinion (Form PCT/IPEA/408):

   (a) A written reply must contain an original signature (i.e. not a photocopy) by an authorized person (PCT Rule 92.1).

   (b) A reply sent by facsimile/telex/telegram must be confirmed in writing within 14 days from the date of its receipt; otherwise, it shall be considered not to have been submitted (PCT Rule 92.4(a)).

   (c) A reply filed outside the time limit set may be disregarded.
   Computation of the time limit is effected according to PCT Rule 80.
4. When using facsimile or telex as a means of correspondence, the communication should contain the complete appropriate number (i.e. for the facsimile: State, place, facsimile number) to facilitate a possible reply from the EPO.
5. Withdrawal of the demand for international preliminary examination or the election of any State under PCT Article 37 and Rule 75.1 must be effected by signed notice of the applicant to the International Bureau.
   However, it is recommended to file a photocopy thereof with the EPO in Munich for information.
6. Any withdrawal of the international application under PCT Rule 32.1 must be accomplished by signed notice of the applicant to the International Bureau or Receiving Office, not to the EPO in Munich.
   However, it is recommended to file a photocopy thereof with the EPO in Munich for information.
7. A notice providing general information for PCT applicants concerning the procedure before the EPO as an IPEA under PCT Chapter II can be found in the Journal EPO No. 12/1986, pages 441 to 445.

(184) Patent Cooperation Treaty Information

The European Patent Office as an International Preliminary Examining Authority for International Applications filed with the United States Patent and Trademark Office as a Receiving Office

Pursuant to a recent communication from the President of the European Patent Office (EPO) to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, the EPO has confirmed that beginning July 1, 1990, it will continue to act as an International Preliminary Examining Authority (IPEA) for international applications filed with the United States Patent and Trademark Office as the Receiving Office. Furthermore, effective July 1, 1990, there will be no limit on the number of international applications originating in the United States which will be examined by the EPO as the IPEA, provided that the EPO acted as the International Searching Authority for these applications.

(185) Request for Comments on the Desirability of Permitting Acceptance of Unintentionally Delayed Payment of Maintenance Fees and Revival Under 35 USC 111 of Unintentionally Abandoned Applications

The Patent and Trademark Office has received suggestions that it would be desirable for unintentionally delayed payment of maintenance fees to be accepted and for revival of unintentionally abandoned applications to be permitted for applications abandoned for failure to submit the required fee and/or oath within the prescribed period under 35 USC 111. The purpose of this notice is to solicit public comment on draft legislation permitting acceptance of unintentionally delayed payment of maintenance fees and revival of unintentionally abandoned applications under 35 USC 111. The draft legislation follows this notice.

At the present, late payment of a maintenance fee under 35 USC 41(c)(1), and late submission of the filing fee and/or the oath under 35 USC 111 can only be accepted if the delay was unavoidable. The draft amendments provide for reinstatement of a patent to an enforceable status or revival of a patent application to a pending status in the cases of unintentional as well as unavoidable late payment of a maintenance fee and late submission of the filing fee and/or the oath respectively.

The intent of these draft amendments is to be consistent with other sections of Title 35, United States Code, which permit revival of unintentionally or unavoidably abandoned applications. Therefore, these draft amendments would permit the Commissioner to accept a late response under 35 USC 41(c)(1) and 35 USC 111 if the delay in submitting the response is shown to be either unavoidable or unintentional.

Dates: Comments and suggestions should be received by July 1, 1988.

Addresses: Address written comments to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231 to the attention of Jeffrey V. Nase, Petitions Examiner, Crystal Plaza 3-11A09. For further information, contact Jeffrey V. Nase at telephone number (703) 557-4282.

Proposed amendments to sections 41(c)(1) and 111 of Title 35, United States Code (new language is italic).

(1) Amend 35 USC 41 (c)(1) to read as follows:

(c)(1) The Commissioner may accept the payment of any maintenance fee required by subsection (b) of this section filed after the six-month grace period if the delay is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been unavoidable or unintentional. The Commissioner may require the payment of surcharges in different amounts as a condition of accepting an unavoidably or unintentionally delayed payment of any maintenance fee after the six-month grace period. The Commissioner may not accept an unintentionally delayed payment of a maintenance fee filed later than six months after the six-month grace period. If the Commissioner accepts payment of a maintenance fee after the six-month grace period, the patent shall be considered as not having expired at the end of the grace period.

(2) Amend 35 USC 111 to read as follows:

§ 111 Application for Patent

Application for patent shall be made, or authorized to be made, by the inventor, except as otherwise provided in this title, in writing to the Commissioner. Such application shall include (1) a specification as prescribed by section 112 of this title; (2) a drawing as prescribed by section 113 of this title; and (3) an oath by the applicant as prescribed by section 115 of this title. The application must be accompanied by the fee required by law. The fee and oath may be submitted after the specification and any required drawings are submitted, within such period and under such conditions, including the payment of a surcharge, as may be prescribed by the Commissioner. Upon failure to submit the fee and oath within such prescribed period, the application shall be regarded as abandoned, unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the delay in submitting the fee and oath was unavoidable or unintentional. The filing date of an application shall be the date on which the specification and any required drawing are received in the Patent and Trademark Office.

Purpose of the Amendments to Sections 41 and 111:

The amendments being proposed to sections 41 and 111 are intended to provide for an increased opportunity for revival of abandoned applications or reinstatement of expired patents. At the present, under the aforementioned sections of Title 35, late payment of a maintenance fee or filing fee or late filing of an oath can only be accepted by the Commissioner for reasons that the delay was unavoidable while other sections of Title 35 permit revival of applications for unavoidable as well as unintentional reasons. Some members of the public have pointed out that there is no sound policy reason for the inconsistency in the discretion that the Commissioner may exercise in reviving abandoned applications or accepting late payment of a fee in appropriate circumstances. The intent of these draft amendments is to respond to this criticism by providing consistency between the sections of Title 35 regarding the revival of abandoned applications and the reinstatement of expired patents. These draft amendments achieve their objectives by providing for reinstatement of expired patents under 35 USC 41 (c)(1) and revival of abandoned applications under 35 USC 111 for unintentional reasons. By making the reasons regarding revival of abandoned applications and reinstatement of expired patents more consistent throughout Title 35, these draft amendments will provide an increased opportunity for, and make revival of, abandoned applications and reinstatement of expired patents less burdensome and confusing to the public.

Section Analysis:

Section (1) of this bill amends subsection 41(c)(1) of Title 35, United States Code, to give the Commissioner the authority to accept payment of any maintenance fee after the six-month grace period if the delay in payment was unintentional and the payment was made not later than six months after the end of the six-month grace period. It is intended that the Commissioner will issue regulations establishing guidelines for acceptance of late payment of the maintenance fee on the basis of unintentional delay.

The Commissioner would establish surcharges as a precondition to acceptance of a late payment of a maintenance fee. The surcharge established for acceptance of a late payment of a maintenance fee based on unintentional delay would be substantially higher than the surcharge established for acceptance of a late payment of a maintenance fee based on unavoidable delay.

Under this section, a late payment of a maintenance fee would not be accepted where the failure to pay the maintenance fee was intentional as opposed to being unintentional or unavoidable. This subsection would permit the Commissioner to have more discretion than present law to accept late payment of the maintenance fee in appropriate circumstances. The intervening rights provided in subsection 41(c)(2) of Title 35, United States Code, would protect the rights of any person or their successors in business who made, purchased or used anything protected by the patent after the six-month grace period but prior to the acceptance of the maintenance fee based on unintentional delay.

Section (2) of this bill would amend section 111 of Title 35, United States Code, to authorize the Commissioner to revive applications unintentionally abandoned under section 111 in the same manner as the Commissioner presently revives applications unintentionally abandoned under 35 USC 41(a)7. It is intended that the fees for filing a petition for the revival of an unavoidably or unintentionally abandoned application pursuant to section 111 be the same as the fees established by the Commissioner for filing a petition for the revival of unintentionally or unavoidably abandoned application pursuant to subsection 41(a)7 of Title 35, United States Code. This amendment would permit the Commissioner to have more discretion than present law to revive applications abandoned pursuant to section 111 in appropriate circumstances.

(186) Requests for Comments on the Desirability of Permitting More Participation by Non-Patent Owner Requesters During Reexamination

The Patent and Trademark Office has received indications and suggestions that reexamination requesters who are not the patent owner be permitted to participate more fully during reexamination proceedings than is now permitted under the present statute (35 USC 302-307) and rules (37 CFR 1.510-1.570). The purpose of this notice is to solicit public comment on draft legislation permitting more participation by non-patent owner requesters during reexamination proceedings. The draft legislation follows this notice.

The draft amendments to the reexamination statute permit increased requester participation throughout the reexamination proceeding including appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and permit rejection of patent claims in reexamination for lack of compliance of the claims or the specification of the patent with the requirements of 35 USC 112. The amendments being proposed to sections 303, 305, and 306 are intended to increase the value of the reexamination proceeding to the public, and particularly the person requesting reexamination of another's patent, by providing well-defined, but limited, opportunities for the requester to participate in the examination process after it has begun. At present, the person requesting reexamination, if not the patent owner, is not able to participate in, or comment upon, the examination process after it has begun. The intent of these draft amendments is to provide well-defined, but limited, opportunities for the reexamination requester to comment upon, and participate in, each stage of the examination after it has begun, but to do so in such a manner that the requirement of section 305 of this title that reexamination proceedings "be conducted with special dispatch within the Office" is met.

Presently, issues under 35 USC 112 may only be raised during reexamination with respect to new claims or the amendatory subject matter of original claims. The draft amendment provides for the raising of issues under 35 USC 112 with respect to any claim - new, amended, or original.

Although not specifically provided for in the draft amendments to the statute, this increased requester participation contemplates the Commissioner, under appropriate guidelines, permitting the requester to attend, as an observer, interviews between the examiner and the patent owner. For example, the requester might not be permitted to participate in any manner. The requester might, however, be permitted to file into the reexamination record a summary of the interview or comments on the patent owners or examiner's summary.

The amendment provides a person requesting reexamination, who is not the patent owner, with the opportunity, within the times and conditions established by the Commissioner, to effectively respond to the positions taken by the patent owner during the reexamination proceeding. The amendment provides that a fee or fees for increased requester participation may be established. This could be done, for example, by an increase in the initial reexamination filing fee for all reexaminations, by requiring an individual fee for the right to further participation for each paper filed, or by a combination of such fees.

The amendment also provides the requester with the opportunity, under appropriate conditions, to appeal decisions which are favorable to patentability to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences and to the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. The amendment is intended to assist the public, including patent owners and alleged or potential infringers, and the Federal courts, by providing a more expeditious and less costly alternative to patent litigation to determine questions of patentability based on patents and printed publications. These amendments will provide the public and the Federal courts with the opportunity in appropriate cases, to obtain a decision as to the patentability of subject matter which may be given preclusive effect. These amendments therefore will make patent litigation less costly and reexamination more attractive and effective.

Dates: Comments and suggestions should be received by March 1, 1988. A public hearing will be held on March 8, 1988, beginning at 9:30 a.m. in Room 11C10 on the 11th floor of Building 3, located at Crystal Plaza, 2021 Jefferson Davis Highway, Arlington, Va. Requests to make oral presentations at the hearing should be received on or before March 1, 1988.

Addresses: Address written comments and requests to make oral presentation to the Commissioner of Patent and Trademarks, Washington, D.C 20231 to the attention of R. Franklin Burnett, Crystal Plaza 3-11A13. For further information contact R. Franklin Burnett by telephone at (703) 557-3054.

Proposed Amendments to Sections 303, 305, and 306 of title 35, United States Code (New language is italic)

(1) Amend 35 U.S.C. § 303(c) to read as follows:

(c) The Commissioner may refund a portion of the reexamination fee required under section 302 of this title upon a final determination that no substantial new question of patentability has been raised unless an appeal under the provisions of section 306 of this title is filed.

(2) Amend 35 U.S.C. § 305 to read as follows:

§ 305 Conduct of reexamination proceedings

After the times for filing the statement and reply provided for by section 304 of this title have expired, reexamination will be conducted according to the procedures established for initial examination under the provisions of sections 132 and 133 of this title. The examination will include issues under section 112 of this title relating to the patent undergoing reexamination and to proposed amendments to the patent. The person requesting reexamination may file a single set of comments on each notice of examination pursuant to section 132 of this title or the patent owner's response to each notice of examination pursuant to section 132 of this title, within such time and conditions, and upon payment of such fee or fees, as the Commissioner shall establish. The Commissioner may establish the fee or fees as a part of the reexamination fee under section 302 of this title or require the fee or fees to be paid at another time by the requester. In any reexamination proceeding under this chapter, the patent owner will be permitted to propose any amendment to his patent and a new claim or claims thereto, in order to distinguish the invention as claimed from the prior art cited under the provisions of section 301 of this title, or in response to a decision adverse to the patentability of a claim of a patent. No proposed amended or new claim enlarging the scope of a claim of the patent will be permitted in a reexamination proceeding under this chapter. All reexamination proceedings under this section, including any appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences will be conducted with special dispatch within the Office.

(3) Amend 35 U.S.C. § 306 to read as follows:

306 Appeal

The patent owner involved in a reexamination proceeding under this chapter may appeal under the provisions of section 134 of this title, and under the provisions of sections 141 to 144 of this title, with respect to any decision adverse to the patentability of any original or proposed amended or new claim of the patent. Any person requesting reexamination, who is not the patent owner, may appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences within such time and conditions and upon the payment of such fee as the Commissioner shall establish, with respect to any decision favorable to patentability or a final order denying reexamination because no substantial new question of patentability has been raised. Any person requesting reexamination, who is not the patent owner, may appeal, under the provisions of sections 141 to 144 of this title, with respect to any decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences favorable to patentability, or any decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences upholding a final order denying reexamination because no substantial new question of patentability has been raised.

Purpose of the Amendments To Sections 303, 305, and 306

The amendments being proposed to sections 303, 305, and 306 are intended to increase the value of the reexamination proceeding to the public, and particularly to the person requesting reexamination of another's patent, by providing well-defined, but limited, opportunities to participate in the examination process after it has begun. At present, the person requesting reexamination, if not the patent owner, is not able to participate in, or comment upon, the examination process after it has begun. Some members of the public view this total lack of the ability to participate in, or comment upon, the examination process after it has begun as a serious drawback to the effectiveness of reexamination. The intent of these amendments is to respond to this criticism by providing well-defined, but limited, opportunities for the reexamination requester to comment upon, and participate in, each stage of the examination after it has begun, but to do so in such a manner that the requirement of section 305 of this title that reexamination proceedings "be conducted with special dispatch within the Office" is met. This amendment achieves its objectives by providing a person requesting reexamination, who is not the patent owner, with the opportunity, within the times and conditions established by the Commissioner, to effectively respond to the positions taken by the patent owner during the reexamination proceeding. Such a person is also provided with the opportunity, under appropriate conditions, to appeal decisions which are favorable to patentability to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences and to the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. This amendment is intended to assist the public, including patent owners and alleged or potential infringers, and the Federal courts, by providing a more expeditious and less costly alternative to patent litigation to determine questions of patentability based on patents and printed publications. These amendments will provide the public and the Federal courts with the opportunity in appropriate cases, to obtain a decision as to the patentability of subject matter which can be given preclusive effect. These amendments therefore will make patent litigation less costly and reexamination more attractive and effective.

Section Analysis

Section (1) of this bill amends paragraph (c) of section 303 of title 35 to authorize the Commissioner to refund a portion of the reexamination fee required under section 302 of title 35 upon a final determination that no substantial new question of patentability has been raised unless an appeal under the provisions of the amendment to {g49 306 is filed. If an appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences is filed, no refund is proper since the additional expense to the Office makes a refund inappropriate. Further, the refusal to refund a portion of the reexamination fee when an appeal is filed will discourage frivolous appeals.

Section (2) of this bill amends section 305 of title 35, United States Code, by adding to the section a new sentence including examination under section 112 of this title of all claims in a reexamination including those in the patent and those in proposed amendments to the patent. This will allow issues under section 112 with regard to the patent claims to be resolved in the reexamination along with such issues as are now being considered as to new claims or amendments to the claims of the patent under reexamination. It is not intended to extend reexamination to other issues such as whether the invention was on public use or sale or whether there was inequitable conduct in obtaining the patent. Such issues may be decided in the courts in view of the evidence presented after discovery and testimony. A new sentence is also added to the section permitting a person requesting reexamination to file either comments on each notice of examination pursuant to section 132 of this title or a reply to the patent owner's response to each notice of examination pursuant to section 132 of this title, within such time and conditions, and upon payment of such fee or fees, as the Commissioner shall establish. This amendment would permit the person requesting reexamination to have one opportunity to comment upon each notice of examination pursuant to section 132 of this title. If the person requesting reexamination is the patent owner, the patent owner's comments under this section would be expected to be incorporated into the patent owner's response to each notice of examination and the Commissioner could so require. If the person requesting reexamination is not the patent owner, this amendment would permit the requester to file a single set of comments on each notice of examination under section 132, i.e., each of the patent examiner's official actions, or the patent owner's response to each of the examiner's actions. Under this amendment, although a requester could file a set of comments on an official action by the examiner without waiting for the patent owner's response, it is not anticipated that most requesters will do so. A requester would file a set of comments on the examiner's official action, however, in situations where no response is expected by the patent owner.

The amendment authorizes the Commissioner to establish appropriate times and conditions for the filing of the comments or reply such that the requirement of this section that reexamination proceedings "be conducted with special dispatch within the Office" will be met. The Commissioner may limit the content and/or length of the comments or reply, if appropriate, to ensure that the procedure is orderly and conducted with special dispatch. The Commissioner may also, in the Commissioner's discretion, permit the requester to reply to any petitions or other submissions of the patent owner which the Commissioner may authorize to be filed during the reexamination proceeding. It is contemplated that the Commissioner will set strict times for the filing of the comments or reply in order to ensure that the reexamination proceedings are conducted expeditiously. Further, the Commissioner may, in the Commissioner's discretion, return any unauthorized or untimely comments or replies. The requester may be permitted to be present during interviews with the patent owner, subject to guidelines established by the Commissioner.

The amendment authorizes the Commissioner to establish a fee or fees for the increased requester participation. The Commissioner could do so by establishing the fee or fees as part of the reexamination fee under section 302 of this title or requiring the fee or fees to be paid at another time, e.g., upon filing the first or each comment or reply.

Section (3) of this bill amends section 306 of title 35, United States Code, by providing for an appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit by a patent owner from a decision adverse to patentability rather than providing alternative routes of review under both sections 141 and 145. Section (3) also amends section 306 to provide that any person requesting reexamination, who is not the patent owner, may appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences within such time and conditions and upon the payment of such fee as the Commissioner shall establish, with respect to any decision favorable to patentability or a final order denying reexamination because no substantial new question of patentability has been raised. Section (3) also amends section 306 to provide that any person requesting reexamination, who is not the patent owner, may appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit with respect to any decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences favorable to patentability, or any decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences upholding a final order denying reexamination because no substantial new question of patentability has been raised.

The amendments to section 306 to require that appeals by either the patent owner or the requester, who is not the patent owner, be directed to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit are designed to eliminate the limited de novo consideration in the District Court which does not appear necessary and to prevent the anomalous situation which would result if the patent owner and the requester, who is not the patent owner, could appeal or seek review in different courts. These amendments will not adversely affect the rights of either the patent owner or the requester, who is not the patent owner, since reexamination proceedings involve decisions based on patents and printed publications or admissions and previous determinations on any grounds by the courts or the Patent and Trademark Office and are suited for consideration by the Court based on the record before the Patent and Trademark Office.

The amendment to section 306 is intended to permit an appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences of a final order denying reexamination because no substantial new question of patentability has been raised only in those circumstances where the request is found to contain no substantial new question of patentability and an order for reexamination is denied. If the reexamination request is granted on any basis, this amendment would not permit an appeal on other grounds upon which reexamination was not ordered. In such circumstances where reexamination has been ordered, any appeal would be on the basis that the decision of the examiner was favorable to patentability and not on the basis of an order denying reexamination. This amendment to section 306, provides a route of appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit for any person requesting reexamination, who is not the patent owner, of any decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences upholding a final order denying reexamination because no substantial new question of patentability has been raised. If reexamination of the patent is ordered as a result of the request for any reason, this route of appeal does not exist. The amendment does not provide for participation by the patent owner in any appeal of a final order denying reexamination because no substantial new question of patentability has been raised since the patent owner will fully participate if reexamination is ordered as a result of the appeal. In this respect, the amendment is consistent with the reexamination procedures in effect prior to the amendment which do not permit participation by the patent owner prior to the determination on the request for reexamination. The amendment also contemplates that precluding the patent owner from participating in any appeal of a final order denying reexamination will be less expensive to the patent owner and will simplify and expedite the appeal. The patent owner will not lose any rights by not having to participate until reexamination is ordered.

(187) Patentable Subject Matter

Mathematical Algorithms and Computer Programs

The following represents a recent legal analysis done by Associate Solicitor Lee E. Barrett, an attorney in the Office of the Solicitor of the Patent and Trademark Office, on the subject of the patentability of mathematical algorithms and computer programs. The analysis is published for the benefit of the public.

Discussion

I. Statutory Subject Matter - 35 U.S.C. § 101

Inventions may be patented only if they fall within one of the four statutory classes of subject matter of 35 U.S.C. § 101: "process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter." See Kewanee Oil Co. v. Bicron Corp., 416 U.S. 470, 483, 181 USPQ 673, 679 (1974):

> [N]o patent is available for a discovery, however useful, novel, and nonobvious, unless it falls within one of the express categories of patentable subject matter of 35 U.S.C. § 101.

Subject matter that does not fall within one of the statutory classes of 35 U.S.C. § 101 is said to be "nonstatutory" or to be "unpatentable subject matter."

The broad language of § 101 is intended to dilineate a "general industrial boundary" of patentable invention. In re Bergy, 596 F.2d 952, 974 n.11, 201 USPQ 352, 372 n.11 (CCPA 1979), vacated, 444 U.S. 1028, aff'd sub nom., Diamond v. Chakrabarty, 447 U.S. 303, 206 USPQ 193 (1980). The first statutory class, process, is defined in 35 U.S.C. § 100(b) and refers to acts, while the last three classes, machine, manufacture and composition of matter, refer to physical things; therefore, the general field of patentable invention consists of new acts and new things. Id. The classes relevant to this discussion are "process" and "machine." A "process" is equivalent to a "method." Bergy, 596 F.2d at 965, 201 USPQ at 364. The term "machine" is used interchangeably with "apparatus." In re Prater, 415 F.2d 1393, 1395 n.11, 162 USPQ 541, 543 n.11 (CCPA 1969).

The question of whether a claimed invention satisfies the other conditions for patentability is "wholly apart from whether the invention falls into a category of statutory subject matter" (emphasis deleted). Diamond v. Diehr, 450 U.S. 175, 190, 209 USPQ 1, 9 (1981) (citing Bergy, 596 F.2d at 961, 201 USPQ at 361). As stated in Parker v. Flook, 437 U.S. 584, 593, 198 USPQ 193, 198-99 (1978):

> The obligation to determine what type of discovery is sought to be patented must precede the determination of whether that discovery is, in fact, new [i.e., novel under § 102] or obvious [§ 103].

See also In re Sarkar, 588 F.2d 1330, 1333 n.10, 200 USPQ 132, 137 n.10 (CCPA 1978) ("If the subject matter as claimed is subject to patenting, i.e., if it falls within § 101, it must them be examined for compliance with §§ 102 and 103").

Legislative history indicates that Congress contemplated that the subject matter provisions be given a broad construction and were intended to "include anything under the sun that is made by man." Diamond v. Chakrabarty, 447 U.S. at 309, 206 USPQ at 197. Any process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter constitutes statutory subject matter unless it falls within a judicially determined exception to § 101. In re Pardo, 684 F.2d 912, 916, 214 USPQ 673, 677 (CCPA 1982). Exceptions include laws of nature, physical phenomena and abstract ideas. Diehr, 450 U.S. at 185, 209 USPQ at 7, and cases cited therein. This analysis addresses whether mathematical algorithms and computer programs are statutory subject matter.

II. Mathematical Algorithms

A. Mathematical algorithms per se are not a statutory "process" under § 101

A mathematical algorithm is defined as a "procedure for solving a given type of mathematical problem." Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 65, 175 USPQ 673, 674 (1972); Flook, 437 U.S. at 585 n.1, 198 USPQ at 195 n.1; Diehr, 450 U.S. at 186, 209 USPQ at 8. Mathematical algorithms are nonstatutory because they have been determined not to fall within the § 101 statutory class of a "process." Benson. "[A]n algorithm, or mathematical formula, is like a law of nature, which cannot be the subject of a patent." Diehr, 450 U.S. at 186, 209 USPQ at 8. The exception applies only to mathematical algorithms since any process is an "algorithm" in the sense that it is a step-by-step procedure to arrive at a given result. In re Walter, 618 F.2d 758, 764 n.4, 205 USPQ 397, 405 n.4. (CCPA 1980); Pardo, 684 F.2d at 915, 214 USPQ at 676.

Although mathematical algorithms per se are nonstatutory, as stated in Diehr, 450 U.S. at 187-88, 209 USPQ at 8-9:

> [A] claim drawn to subject matter otherwise statutory does not become nonstatutory simply because it uses > a mathematical formula, computer program, or digital computer. . . . [I]n Parker v. Flook we stated that "a process is not unpatentable simply because it contains a law of nature or a mathematical algorithm." 437 U.S. at 590. It is now commonplace that an application of a law of nature or mathematical formula to a known structure or process may well be deserving of patent protection. As Justice Stone explained four decades ago:

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

> > "While a scientific truth, or the mathematical expression of it, is not a patentable invention, a novel and useful structure created with the aid of knowledge of scientific truth may be." Mackay Radio & Telegraph Co. v. Radio Corp. of America, 306 U.S. 86, 94 (1939). [Citations omitted.]

The Supreme Court thus recognizes that mathematical algorithms are "the basic tools of scientific and technological work," Benson, 409 U.S. at 67, 175 USPQ at 675, and should not be the subject of exclusive rights, whereas technological application of scientific principles and mathematical algorithms furthers the constitutional purpose of promoting "the Progress of . . . Useful arts." U.S. Const. art. I, § 8. It is also recognized that mathematical algorithms may be the most precise way to describe the invention.

Where claims involve mathematical algorithms, as stated in In re Abele, 684 F.2d 902, 907, 214 USPQ 682, 687 (CCPA 1982):

> The goal is to answer the question "What did applicants invent?" If the claimed invention is a mathematical algorithm, it is improper subject matter for patent protection, whereas if the claimed invention is an application of the algorithm, § 101 will not bar the grant of a patent.

The tests for determining whether claims containing mathematical algorithms are statutory have gradually evolved in the courts since the Supreme Court's decision in Benson in 1972.

B. Evolution of the two-part test for mathematical algorithm-statutory subject matter

The proper legal analysis of mathematical algorithm-statutory subject matter cases is the two-part test of In re Freeman, 573 F.2d 1237, 197 USPQ 464 (CCPA 1978), as modified by Walter and Abele. See In re Meyer, 688 F.2d 789, 796, 215 USPQ 193, 198 (CCPA 1982) ("A more comprehensive test for cases involving mathematical algorithms is set forth in In re Abele"). A review of the evolution of the analysis provides some useful insights into the application of the test.

In Benson, the Supreme Court concluded that claims directed to a particular algorithm for converting binary coded decimal numbers to binary numbers was not statutory subject matter. The Supreme Court further concluded that any patent issued on those claims "would wholly pre-empt the mathematical formula and in practical effect would be a patent on the algorithm itself." 409 U.S. at 72, 175 USPQ at 676. These two conclusions formed the basis for the two-part analysis of the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals (CCPA) in Freeman, 573 F.2d at 1245, 197 USPQ at 471:

> First, it must be determined whether the claim directly or indirectly recites an "algorithm" in the Benson sense of that term, for a claim which fails even to recite an algorithm clearly cannot wholly preempt an algorithm. Second, the claim must be further analyzed to ascertain whether in its entirety it wholly preempts that algorithm.

In 1978, the Supreme Court held in Flook that a claim need "not . . . cover every conceivable application of the formula" to be nonstatutory. 437 U.S. at 586, 198 USPQ at 196. This decision left undefined what constitutes statutory subject matter. In Walter, the CCPA modified the second step of Freeman to require a more positive approach to determining what is claimed, 618 F.2d at 767, 205 USPQ at 407:

> If it appears that the mathematical algorithm is implemented in a specific manner to define structural relationships between the physical elements of the claim (in apparatus claims) or to refine or limit claim steps (in process claims), the claim being otherwise statutory, the claim passes muster under § 101. If, however, the mathematical algorithm is merely presented and solved by the claimed invention, as was the case in Benson and Flook, and is not applied in any manner to physical elements or process steps, no amount of post-solution activity will render the claim statutory; nor is it saved by a preamble merely reciting the field of use of the mathematical algorithm.

The CCPA noted that while the second step of Freeman was "stated in terms of preemption" it had consistently been applied "in the spirit of the foregoing principles." 618 F.2d at 767, 205 USPQ at 407.

In Abele, the CCPA further modified the second part of the test to provide a more comprehensive test, 684 F.2d at 906-7, 214 USPQ at 686:

> Appellants summarize the Walter test as setting forth two ends of a spectrum: what is now clearly nonstatutory, i.e., claims in which an algorithm is merely presented and solved by the claimed invention (preemption), and what is clearly statutory, i.e., claims in which an algorithm is implemented in a specific manner to define structural relationships between the physical elements of the claim (in an apparatus claim) or to refine or limit steps (in a process). Appellants urge that the statement of the test in Walter fails to provide a useful tool for analyzing claims in the "gray area" which falls between the two ends of that spectrum. We agree that the board's understanding and application of the Walter analysis justifies appellant's position. However, the Walter analysis quoted above does not limit patentable subject matter only to claims in which structural relationships or process steps are defined, limited or refined by the application of the algorithm.
> Rather, Walter should be read as requiring no more than that the algorithm be "applied in any manner to physical elements or process steps," provided that its application is circumscribed by more than a field of use limitation or non-essential post-solution activity. Thus, if the claim would be "otherwise statutory," id., albeit inoperative or less useful without the algorithm, the claim likewise presents statutory subject matter when the algorithm is included. This broad reading of Walter, we conclude, is in accord with the Supreme Court decisions [holding "that a claim drawn to subject matter otherwise statutory does not become nonstatutory simply because it uses a mathematical formula, computer program, or digital computer," Diamond v. Diehr, 450 U.S. at 187, 209 USPQ at 8].

The reason for the modification of the test was because, as noted in Abele, 684 F.2d at 909, 214 USPQ at 688:

> The algorithm [in Abele] does not necessarily refine or limit the earlier steps of production and detection as would be required to achieve the status of patentable subject matter by the board's narrow reading of Walter.

The second test of Abele suggests that the determination of whether the algorithm is "applied in any manner to physical element or process steps" may be made by viewing the claims without the algorithm and determining whether what remains is "otherwise statutory." This analysis focuses on identifying the statutory process in the claim and is consistent with previous cases such as Walter, 618 F.2d at 769, 205 USPQ at 409 ("Examination of each claim demonstrates that each has no substance apart from the calculations involved"). The technique of viewing the claim without the mathematical algorithm is not inconsistent with the requirement that claims must be considered "as a whole" under § 101.

The requirement that claims be considered "as a whole" arose out of the now rejected "point of novelty" approach to statutory subject matter. Under the "point of novelty" approach, if a claim considered without the nonstatutory subject matter was unpatentable over the prior art (i.e., if the algorithm was at the "point of novelty" of the claim), the claims were found to not recite statutory subject matter. This approach was consistently rejected by the CCPA. See In re Chatfield, 545 F.2d 152, 191 USPQ 730 (CCPA 1976), cert. denied, 434 U.S. 875 (1977); In re Deutsch, 553 F.2d 689, 193 USPQ 645 (CCPA 1977); In re de Castelet, 562 F.2d 1236, 195 USPQ 439 (CCPA 1977); Freeman; Sarkar; Walter. The point of novelty approach was finally put to rest in Diehr, 450 U.S. at 188-89, 209 USPQ at 9:

> In determining the eligibility of respondents' claimed process for patent protection under § 101, their claims must be considered as a whole. It is inappropriate to dissect the claims into old and new elements and then to ignore the presence of the old elements in the analysis. . . . The "novelty" of any element or steps in a process, or even of the process itself, is of no relevance in determining whether the subject matter of a claim falls within the § 101 categories of possibly patentable subject matter.

Under the second test of Abele, the claims are considered without the algorithm to determine whether what remains is "otherwise statutory," not to determine whether what remains is novel and nonobvious.

C. Application of the two-part test

1. Step 1 - presence of a mathematical algorithm

a. Mathematical algorithm

A mathematical algorithm is a "procedure for solving a given type of mathematical problem." In this sense, a mathematical algorithm refers "to methods of calculation, mathematical formulas, and mathematical procedures generally." Walter, 618 F.2d at 764-65 n.4, 205 USPQ at 405 n.4. "The type of mathematical computation involved does not determine whether a procedure is statutory or nonstatutory." In re Gelnovatch, 595 F.2d 32, 41, 201 USPQ 136, 145 (CCPA 1979). A "claim for an improved method of calculation, even when tied to a specific end use, is unpatentable subject matter under § 101." Flook, 437 U.S. at 595 n.18, 198 USPQ at 199 n.18.

Mathematical algorithms may represent scientific principles, laws of nature, or ideas or mental processes for solving complex problems. See Meyer, 688 F.2d at 794-95, 215 USPQ at 197:

> Scientific principles, such as the relationship between mass and energy [$E = mc^2$], and laws of nature, such as the acceleration of gravity, namely $a = 32$ ft./sec.^{2}, can be represented in mathematical format. However, some mathematical algorithms and formulae do not represent scientific principles or laws of nature; they represent ideas or mental processes and are simply logical vehicles for communicating possible solutions to complex problems.

See also Safe Flight Instrument Corp. v. Sundstrand Data Control, Inc., 706 F. Supp. 1146, 10 USPQ2d 1733 (D.Del. 1989) (mathematical algorithm representing a natural phenomenon, windshear). No distinction is made between mathematical algorithms invented by man, and mathematical algorithms representing discoveries of scientific principles and laws of nature which reveal a relationship that has always existed.

b. "Process" versus "apparatus" claims

Since mathematical algorithms have been determined not to fall within the § 101 statutory class of a "process," attempts have been made to circumvent the nonstatutory subject matter rejection by drafting mathematical algorithms as "machine" claims. The technique used is to draft the method steps in terms of "means for" language permitted by 35 U.S.C. § 112, sixth paragraph. While such a claim is technically a "machine" or "apparatus" claim, the courts have held that form of the claim does not control whether the subject matter is statutory. See In re Maucorps, 609 F.2d 481, 485, 203 USPQ 812, 815-16 (CCPA 1979):

> Labels are not determinative in § 101 inquiries. "Benson applies equally whether an invention is claimed as an apparatus or process, because the form of the claim is often an exercise in drafting." In re Johnson, 589 F.2d 1070, 1077, 200 USPQ 199, 206 ([CCPA] 1978). "Though a claim expressed in 'means for' (functional) terms [under 35 U.S.C. § 112, sixth paragraph] is said to be an apparatus claim, the subject matter as a whole of that claim may be indistinguishable from that of a method claim drawn to the steps performed by the 'means.'" In re Freeman, 573 F.2d at 1247, 197 USPQ at 472. Moreover, that the claimed computing system may be a "machine" within "the ordinary sense of the word," as appellant argues, is irrelevant. The holding in Benson "forecloses a purely literal reading of § 101."

The test for determining whether "means for" apparatus claims should be treated as method claims is stated in Walter, 618 F.2d at 768, 205 USPQ at 408:

> If the functionally-defined disclosed means and their equivalents are so broad that they encompass any and every means for performing the recited functions, the apparatus claim is an attempt to exalt form over substance since the claim is really to the method or series of functions itself . . . . In such cases the burden must be placed on the applicant to demonstrate that the claims are truly drawn to specific apparatus distinct from other apparatus capable of performing the identical functions.
> If this burden has not been discharged, the apparatus claim will be treated as if it were drawn to the method or process which encompasses all of the claimed "means." See In re Maucorps, 609 F.2d at 485, 203 USPQ at 815-816; In re Johnson, 589 F.2d at 1077, 200 USPQ at 206; In re Freeman, 573 F.2d at 1247, 197 USPQ at 472. The statutory nature of the claim under § 101 will then depend on whether the corresponding method is statutory.

See also Meyer, 688 F.2d at 795 n.3, 215 USPQ at 198 n.3; Abele, 684 F.2d at 909, 214 USPQ at 688; Pardo, 684 F.2d at 916 n.6, 214 USPQ at 677 n.6; Arshal v. United States, 621 F.2d 421, 427-28, 208 USPQ 397, 404 (Ct. Cl. 1980), cert. denied, 449 U.S. 1077 (1981), reh'g denied, 450 U.S. 1050 (1981). In Maucorps, the limitation of various "means" in claim 1 to include certain "electric circuits" did not prevent the claim from being treated as a method. A claim is not presumed to be statutory simply because it is in apparatus form.

c. Form of the mathematical algorithm

The first step of the analysis is to determine whether the claim directly or indirectly recites a mathematical algorithm. A mathematical algorithm can appear in many forms. As stated in Freeman, 573 F.2d at 1246, 197 USPQ at 471:

> The manner in which a claim recites a mathematical algorithm may vary considerably. In some claims, a formula or equation may be expressed in traditional mathematical symbols so as to be immediately recognizable as a mathematical algorithm. See, e.g., In re Richman, 563 F.2d 1026, 195 USPQ 340 ([CCPA] 1977); In re Flook, 559 F.2d 21, 195 USPQ 9 ([CCPA] 1977), cert. granted sub nom., Parker v. Flook, [437 U.S. 584] (1978). Other claims may use prose to express a mathematical computation or to indirectly recite a mathematical equation or formula by means of a prose equivalent therefor. See, e.g., In re de Castelet, supra (claims 6 and 7); In re Waldbaum, 559 F.2d 611, 194 USPQ 465 ([CCPA] 1977). A claim which substitutes, for a mathematical formula in algebraic form, "words which mean the same thing," nonetheless recites an algorithm in the Benson sense. In re Richman, supra 563 F.2d at 1030, 195 USPQ at 344. Indeed, the claims at issue in Benson did not contain a formula or equation expressed in mathematical symbols.

Claims which include mathematical formulas or calculations expressed in mathematical symbols clearly include a mathematical algorithm. Mathematical algorithms in prose form may be expressed as literal translations of the mathematical algorithm (e.g., substituting the expression "division" or "taking the ratio" for a division sign) or may be expressed in words which indicate the mathematical algorithm. See Safe Flight Instrument, 706 F. Supp. at 1148, 10 USPQ2d at 1734 (subtracting); Abele,

684 F.2d at 908 n.8, 214 USPQ at 687 n.8 ("The algorithm, calculating the difference, is defined in the specification as a Gaussian weighting function"); In re Taner, 681 F.2d 787, 790, 214 USPQ 678, 681 (CCPA 1982) (summing); In re Johnson, 589 F.2d 1070, 1079, 200 USPQ 199, 208 (CCPA 1978) ("'computing' connotes the execution of one or a sequence of mathematical operations"); In re Waldbaum, 559 F.2d 611, 194 USPQ 465 (CCPA 1977) (method of claim 1 "to count" the number of busy lines "solves a mathematical problem, to wit, counting a number of busy lines in a telephone system," In re Bradley, 600 F.2d 807, 810 n.4, 202 USPQ 480, 484 n.4 (CCPA 1979), aff'd by an equally divided court sub nom., Diamond v. Bradley, 450 U.S. 381, 209 USPQ 97 (1981)).

It is not always possible to determine by inspection of the claim whether it indirectly recites a mathematical algorithm; in such instances the analysis "requires careful interpretation of each claim in the light of its supporting disclosure." Johnson, 589 F.2d at 1079, 200 USPQ at 208. See also id. at 1078-79, 200 USPQ at 208 ("the flow diagrams which form part of the specification disclose explicit mathematical equations which are to be used in conjunction with each of these [claimed] steps [of 'determining' or 'correlating']"); Waldbaum, 559 F.2d 611, 194 USPQ 465 ("series of steps for manipulating binary numbers within a procedure for calculating the number of binary 1's and 0's present" was considered a mathematical algorithm, Gelnovatch, 595 F.2d at 39, 201 USPQ at 143); In re Sherwood, 613 F.2d 809, 818, 204 USPQ 537, 545 (CCPA 1980), cert. denied, 450 U.S. 994 (1981) ("claims must be said to include the indirect recitation of a mathematical equation"); Meyer, 688 F.2d at 795, 215 USPQ at 198 (claims indirectly "recite a mathematical algorithm, which represents a mental process that a neurologist should follow").

2. Step 2- is the mathematical algorithm "applied in any manner to physical elements or process steps?"

The second test is to determine whether the mathematical algorithm is "applied in any manner to physical elements or process steps." The guideline for the analysis should be the CCPA's suggestion in Abele to view the claim without the mathematical algorithm to determine whether what remains is "otherwise statutory"; if it is, it does not become nonstatutory simply because it uses a mathematical algorithm. It is recognized that "[t]he line between a patentable 'process' and an unpatentable 'principle' is not always clear." Flook, 437 U.S. at 589, 198 USPQ at 197. There are no definitive "tests for determining whether a claim positively recites statutory subject matter." Meyer, 688 F.2d at 796 n.4, 215 USPQ at 198 n.4. Nevertheless, some useful guidelines may be synthesized out of the court decisions.

a. Post-solution activity

If the only limitation aside from the mathematical algorithm is insignificant or non-essential "post-solution activity," the claimed subject matter is nonstatutory. Flook, 437 U.S. at 590, 198 USPQ at 197:

> The notion that post-solution activity . . . can transform an unpatentable principle into a patentable process exalts form over substance. A competent draftsman could attach some form of post-solution activity to almost any mathematical formula; the Pythagorean theorem would not have been patentable, or partially patentable, because a patent application contained a final step indicating that the formula, when solved, could be usefully applied to existing surveying techniques.

Insignificant post-solution activity by itself is insufficient to constitute a statutory process. In Flook, the final step of adjusting an alarm limit was not sufficient. See also Safe Flight (final step of "means for processing said windshear signal to provide an indication representing the magnitude thereof" not sufficient); Abele, 684 F.2d at 909, 214 USPQ at 688 (final step of display: "that the result is displayed as a shade of gray rather than as simply a number provides no greater or better information, considering the broad range of applications encompassed by the claims"); Walter, 618 F.2d at 770, 205 USPQ at 409 (final step in dependent claim of magnetic recording: "If § 101 could be satisfied by the mere recordation of the results of a nonstatutory process on some record medium, even the most unskilled patent draftsman could provide for such a step"); Gelnovatch, 595 F.2d at 41 n.7, 201 USPQ at 145 n.7 (final step of storing outputs: "each of the steps of the claimed process, except perhaps the final step of equating the process outputs to the values of the last set of process inputs, directly or indirectly recites a mathematical computation"); Sarkar, 588 F.2d at 1332 n.6, 200 USPQ at 136 n.6 (final step of constructing an obstruction at a location determined by a mathematical model: "Sarkar no longer relies upon bridge of dam construction as post-solution activity steps effective to bring his process within § 101"); de Castelet, 562 F.2d at 1244, 195 USPQ at 446 (final step of transmitting: "That the computer is instructed to transmit electrical signals, representing the result of its calculations . . . does not transform the claim into one for a process merely using an algorithm").

The absence of post-solution activity or the fact that any post-solution activity may be trivial is only one factor to be considered. On one hand, as stated in Walter, 618 F.2d at 767-68, 205 USPQ at 407:

> if the end-product of a claimed invention is a pure number, as in Benson and Flook, the invention is nonstatutory regardless of any post-solution activity which makes it available for use by a person or machine for other purposes.

On the other hand, as stated in Abele, 684 F.2d at 908 n.9, 214 USPQ at 687 n.9:

> "the fact that [the] equation is the final step is not determinative of the section 101 issue." In re Richman, 563 F.2d at 1030, 195 USPQ at 343. Accord, In re Taner, 681 F.2d 787 ([CCPA] 1982), overruling In re Christensen, 478 F.2d 1392, 178 USPQ 35 ([CCPA] 1973).

The particular order of the steps should not be determinative of the statutory subject matter inquiry.

b. Field of use limitations

A mathematical algorithm is not made statutory by "attempting to limit the use of the formula to a particular technological environment." Diehr, 450 U.S. at 191, 209 USPQ at 10. Thus, "field of use" or "end use" limitations in the claim preamble are insufficient to constitute a statutory process. This is consistent with the usual treatment of preambles as merely setting forth the environment. See Flook (the preamble, while limiting the application of the claimed method to "a process comprising the catalytic chemical conversion of hydrocarbons" did not serve to render the method statutory); Walter, 618 F.2d at 769, 205 USPQ at 409 ("Although the claim preambles relate the claimed invention to the art of seismic prospecting, the claims themselves are not drawn to methods of or apparatus for seismic prospecting"); de Castelet, 562 F.2d at 1244 n.6, 195 USPQ at 446 n.6 ("The potential for misconstruction of preamble language requires that compelling reason exist before that language may be given weight"). Compare Waldbaum, 559 F.2d at 616 n.6, 194 USPQ 469 n.6 (portion of preambles referred to in method portion of claims "are necessary for completeness of the claims and are proper limitations thereto").

c. Data-gathering steps

If the only limitations in the claims in addition to the mathematical algorithm are data-gathering steps which "merely determine values for the variables used in the mathematical formulae used in making the calculations," such antecedent steps are insufficient to change a nonstatutory method of calculation into a statutory process. See In re Richman, 563 F.2d at 1030, 195 USPQ at 343; Sarkar, 588 F.2d at 1335, 200 USPQ at 139 ("If the steps of gathering and substituting values were alone sufficient, every mathematical equation, formula, or algorithm having any practical use would be per se subject to patenting as a 'process' under § 101"); Gelnovatch, 595 F.2d at 41 n.7, 201 USPQ at 145 n.7 ("claimed step of perturbing the values of a set of process inputs (step 3), in addition to being a mathematical operation, appears to be a data-gathering step").

Where the claim "presents data gathering steps not dictated by the algorithm but by other limitations which require certain antecedent steps" the claim may present statutory subject matter. Abele, 684 F.2d at 908, 214 USPQ at 687.

d. Transformation of something physical

In determining whether the claim recites a statutory process or a nonstatutory mathematical algorithm, it is useful to analyze whether there is transformation of something physical into a different form. One distinction is made between transformation of physical "signals" from one physical state to a different physical state, a statutory process in the electrical arts, and mere mathematical manipulation of "data" which, by itself, is not a statutory process. Compare Taner (conversion of "substantially spherical seismic signals" into "a form representing the earth's response to cylindrical or plane waves" was statutory process); Sherwood, 613 F.2d at 819, 204 USPQ at 546 (conversion of amplitude-versus-time seismic traces into amplitude-versus-depth seismic traces was statutory process because it "converts one physical thing into another physical thing just as any other electrical circuitry would do"); and Johnson (technique for removing unwanted noise from a seismic trace was statutory process); with Walter, 618 F.2d at 768, 770, 205 USPQ at 407, 409 (if "the claimed invention produces a physical thing . . . the fact that it is represented in numerical form does not render the claim nonstatutory" but finding that the "signals" claimed "may represent either physical quantities or abstract quantities" and thus were to the algorithm itself and not a particular application); Richman (method of calculating airborne radar boresight correction angle from "a plurality of signal sets" not statutory); Gelnovatch, 595 F.2d at 42, 201 USPQ at 145 (where "the claims solely recite a method whereby a set of numbers is computed from a different set of numbers by merely performing a series of mathematical computations, the claims do not set forth a statutory process"); and Benson (conversion of binary coded decimal numbers into pure binary numbers not statutory). It is manifest that the statutory nature of the subject matter does not depend on the labels "signals" or "data."

e. Structural limitations in process claims

Another issue is the effect of structural limitations in method claims. While structural limitations in method claims are not improper, they are usually not entitled to patentable weight unless they somehow affect or form an essential part of the process. See Benson, 409 U.S. at 73, 175 USPQ at 677 (claim 8 recited use of a "reentrant shift register"); Waldbaum, 559 F.2d at 616, 194 USPQ at 469 (machine limitations in data processor method claims); de Castelet, 562 F.2d at 1244, 195 USPQ at 447 ("Claims to nonstatutory processes do not automatically and invariably become patentable upon incorporation of reference to apparatus"). The related problem of specific structural language in apparatus claims has been treated, supra, in section II.C.1.b.

D. Examples

1. Diamond v. Diehr

The following claim was held to recite statutory subject matter.

> 1. A method of operating a rubber-molding press for precision molded compounds with the aid of a digital computer, comprising: providing said computer with a data base for said press including at least, natural logarithm conversion data (ln), the activation energy constant (C) unique to each batch of said compound being molded, and a constant (x) dependent upon the geometry of the particular mold of the press, initiating an interval timer in said computer upon the closure of the press for monitoring the elapsed time of said closure, constantly determining the termperature (Z) of the mold at a location closely adjacent to the mold cavity in the press during molding, constantly providing the computer with the temperature (Z), repetitively calculating in the computer, at frequent intervals during each cure, the Arrhenius equation for reaction time during the cure, which is $\ln v = CZ + x$ where v is the total required cure time, repetitively comparing in the computer at said frequent intervals during the cure each said calculation of the total required cure time calculated with the Arrhenius equation and said elapsed time, and opening the press automatically when a said comparison indicates equivalence.

Step 1 The claim contains an equation for controlling the in-mold time: $\ln v = CZ + x$.

Step 2 The claimed subject matter is statutory because it recites an "otherwise statutory" process in addition to the mathematical algorithm. As stated in Abele, 684 F.2d at 907, 214 USPQ at 686:

> In Diehr, were the claims to be read without the algorithm, the process would still be a process for curing rubber, although it might not work as well since the in-mold time would not be as accurately controlled.

The steps in the process, 450 U.S. at 187, 209 USPQ at 8:

> include installing rubber in a press, closing the mold, constantly determining the temperature of the mold, constantly recalculating the appropriate cure time through the use of the formula and a digital computer, and automatically opening the press at the proper time.

The statutory nature of the claim is not based on the post-solution activity of opening the press, but on the application of the mathematical algorithm to the whole process.

2. Parker v. Flook

The following claim in Flook was held to recite nonstatutory subject matter.

> 1. A method for updating the value of at least one alarm limit on at least one process variable involved in a process comprising the catalytic chemical conversion of hydrocarbons wherein said alarm limit has a current value of
> Bo + K
> wherein Bo is the current alarm base and K is a predetermined alarm offset which comprises:
> (1) determining the present value of said process variable, said present value being defined as PVL;
> (2) determining a new alarm base B1 using the following equation:
> B1 = Bo(1.0 - F) + PVL(F)
> where F is a predetermined number greater than zero and less than 1.0; > (3) determining an updated alarm limit which is defined as B1 + K; and thereafter
> (4) adjusting said alarm limit to said updated alarm limit value.

Step 1 The claim contains a mathematical algorithm comprising determining a new alarm base in step (2) and computing an "alarm limit" in step (3).

Step 2 When viewed without the steps of the mathematical algorithm, steps (2) and (3), the only limitations remaining are the preamble limitation restricting the field of use to "a process comprising the catalytic chemical conversion of hydrocarbons"; the data-gathering step of step (1); and the post-solution step of step (4). None of these limitations comprises an "otherwise statutory" process. The claim seeks to protect a method for computing an "alarm limit" rather than the application of the computation within an otherwise statutory process.

3. In re Abele

In Abele, claim 5 was held to recite nonstatutory subject matter under § 101 whereas dependent claim 6 was statutory.

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

5. A method of displaying data in a field comprising the steps of calculating the difference between the local value of the data at a data point in the field and the average value of the data in a region of the field which surrounds said point for each point in said field, and displaying the value of said difference as a signed gray scale at a point in a picture which corresponds to said data point.

6. The method of claim 5 wherein said data is X-ray attenuation data produced in a two dimensional field by a computed tomography scanner.

Step 1 Claim 5 contains a mathematical algorithm, "calculating the difference," which is defined in the specification as a Gaussian weighting function.

Step 2 When claim 5 is viewed without the mathematical algorithm, the only remaining limitation is the post-solution activity of displaying the result. The display by itself did not constitute an "otherwise statutory" process. The court held that "the algorithm is neither explicitly nor implicitly applied to any certain process." 684 F.2d at 909, 214 USPQ at 688. However, when dependent claim 6 is added to the limitations of claim 5, 684 F.2d at 908, 214 USPQ at 687-88:

> Were we to view the claim absent the algorithm, the production, detection and display steps would still be present and would result in a conventional CAT-scan process. . . . [W]e view the production, detection, and display steps as manifestly statutory subject matter and are not swayed from this conclusion by the presence of an algorithm in the claimed method.

III. Computer Programs

A. "Computer programs" versus "computer processes"

A "process" or "algorithm" is a step-by-step procedure to arrive at a given result. In the patent area, a "computer process" or "computer algorithm" is a process, i.e., a series of steps, which is performed by a computer. A "[computer] program is a sequence of coded instructions for a digital computer." Benson, 409 U.S. at 65, 175 USPQ at 674. Computer programs are equivalently known as "software."

Unfortunately for discussion in this area, "[b]oth the series of steps performed by a computer, and the software directing those steps, have acquired the name 'computer programs.'" Gelnovatch, 595 F.2d at 45 n.5, 201 USPQ at 148 n.5 (Markey, C.J., dissenting). What is sought to be protected by patent is the underlying process. As stated in Gelnovatch, 595 F.2d at 44, 201 USPQ at 147:

> Confusion may be avoided if it be realized that what is at issue is not the "program," i.e., the software, but the process steps which the software directs the computer to perform.

See, e.g., Maucorps, 609 F.2d at 483, 203 USPQ at 814 ("The [claimed] invention is implemented via a computer program written in FORTRAN IV, either built into the calculating machine, or loaded into a general purpose computer").

B. Statutory nature of computer processes

1. The Supreme Court has not ruled on the patentability of computer programs.

The Supreme Court has not ruled on whether computer processes are per se statutory or nonstatutory. The decisions in Benson, Flook and Diehr all dealt with claims viewed as mathematical algorithms. In Benson and Diehr, the claims contained mathematical algorithms implemented by a computer. In Benson, the Court held that the claims preempted the use of the mathematical algorithm, but did not hold that "any program servicing a computer" would be nonstatutory. In Diehr, the Court held that the claims otherwise defined a statutory process for curing rubber, and that the inclusion of a mathematical algorithm or computer program did not make claim nonstatutory. The claim in Flook did not involve a computer process.

In Dann v. Johnston, 425 U.S. 219, 189 USPQ 257 (1976), rev'g on other grounds, In re Johnston, 502 F.2d 765, 183 USPQ 172 (CCPA 1974), which involved a "machine system for automatic record-keeping of bank checks and deposits," the Court declined to discuss the § 101 issue of the general patentability of computer programs, 425 U.S. at 220, 189 USPQ at 258:

> We find no need to treat that question in this case, however, because we conclude that in any event respondent's system is unpatentable on grounds of obviousness. 35 U.S.C. § 103.

In Diamond v. Bradley, an equally divided Supreme Court affirmed the CCPA's decision in Bradley. The claims were directed to computer "firmware," which refers to microinstructions permanently embodied in hardware elements, and not to a computer application or process. The CCPA found that the claims literally recited a machine and that, in applying the two-part test of Freeman, the claims did not recite a mathematical algorithm.

2. The CCPA has held that computer processes are statutory unless they fall within a judicially deter mined exemption

In Pardo, the most recent CCPA case on computer processes, the CCPA stated that, 684 F.2d at 916, 214 USPQ at 677:

> any process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter constitutes statutory subject matter unless it falls within a judicially determined exception to section 101.

The major (and perhaps only) exception in the area of computer processes is the mathematical algorithm. Although not binding precedent on the Federal Circuit, the district court in Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis, Inc. v. Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, 564 F. Supp. 1358, 1367, 218 USPQ 212, 218 (D. Del. 1983) stated:

> The CCPA [has] . . . held that a computer algorithm, as opposed to a mathematical algorithm, is patentable subject matter.

If a computer process claim does not contain a mathematical algorithm in the Benson sense, the second step of the Freeman-Walter-Abele test is not reached, and the claimed subject matter will usually be statutory.

The traditional approach by the CCPA to the PTO's rejection of computer processes as nonstatutory subject matter has been to apply the two-part test for mathematical algorithms and to find statutory subject matter if the claims do not recite a mathematical algorithm. See Pardo, 684 F.2d at 916, 214 USPQ at 676 (process for converting source program into object program: "we are unable to find any mathematical formula, calculation, or algorithm either directly or indirectly recited in the claimed steps of examining, compiling, storing, and executing"); In re Toma, 575 F.2d 872, 877, 197 USPQ 852, 856 (CCPA 1978) (process for translating a source natural language, e.g., Russian, to a target natural language, e.g., English: "[we] are unable to find any direct or indirect recitation of a procedure for solving a mathematical problem"); In re Phillips, 608 F.2d 879, 883, 203 USPQ 971, 975 (CCPA 1979) (process for preparing architectural specifications: "Our analysis of the claims on appeal reveals no recitation, directly or indirectly, of an algorithm in the Benson and Flook sense"); Freeman, 573 F.2d at 1246, 197 USPQ at 471 ("The method claims here at issue do not recite process steps which are themselves mathematical calculations, formulae, or equations"); Deutsch, 553 F.2d 689, 692, 193 USPQ 645, 648 (CCPA 1977) (method of operating a system of manufacturing plants: "Nothing in the methods claimed by Deutsch preempts a mathematical formula, an algorithm, or any specific computer program"); Chatfield, 545 F.2d at 158, 191 USPQ at 736 (method of reassigning priorities within a computer: "[the] independent claims contain neither a mathematical formula nor a mathematical algorithm").

If the computer process is found to contain a mathematical algorithm, it must then pass the second part of the Freeman-Walter-Abele test for statutory subject matter. See, e.g., Sherwood; Maucorps; Gelnovatch.

Arguably, other exceptions such as "methods ofdoing business" and "mental steps" may be raised if a claim is not a true computer process, but merely recites that an otherwise nonstatutory process is performed on a computer. de Castelet, 562 F.2d at 1244, 195 USPQ at 447 ("Claims to nonstatutory processes do not automatically and invariable become patentable upon incorporation of reference to apparatus"). These would appear to be exceptions with very narrow application to claims which are not limited to implementation by a machine. For example, while a "method of doing business" per se is not statutory subject matter, "a method of operation on a computer to effectuate a business activity" has been held to be statutory subject matter. Paine, Webber v. Merrill Lynch, 564 F. Supp. at 1369, 218 USPQ at 220. See also Deutsch, 553 F.2d at 692 n.5, 193 USPQ at 648 n.5 (claims were not a method of doing business because "[t]hey do not merely facilitate business dealings"); Johnston, rev'd on other grounds, Dann v. Johnston (apparatus claims directed to system for automatic record-keeping of bank checks and deposits did not cover a method of doing business). Similarly, machine or computer implementation of "mental steps" is statutory subject matter. Prater; In re Bernhart, 417 F.2d 1395, 163 USPQ 611 (CCPA 1969); In re Musgrave, 431 F.2d 882, 167 USPQ 280 (CCPA 1970). See also Toma (computer implemented method for translation of natural languages is statutory).

(188) Notice Interpreting In Re Iwahashi (Fed. Cir. 1989)

The Patent and Trademark Office's (PTO's) policy on the patentability of claims reciting matematical algorithms and computer programs, published at 1106 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 5-12 (Sept. 5, 1989), is unaffected by In re Iwahashi, 888 F.2d 1370, 12 USPQ2d 1980 (Fed. Cir. 1989). The following comments are intended as the PTO's interpretation of Iwahashi.

Iwahashi reversed a rejection of appellants' apparatus claim 1 (the sole claim) under 35 U.S.C. §101. The rejection maintained that claim 1 was directed to nonstatutory subject matter in the form of a mathematical algorithm. Appellants developed an approximation to the conventional equation for auto-correlation coefficients for use in pattern recognition which uses a term which is the square of the sum of two variables, instead of the product of the two variables. Appellants' claim to an auto-correlation unit is in "means-plus-function" format except for a recited "read only memory" ("ROM") for implementing the squaring term. PTO argued that the term "read only memory" as used in this claim is as broad as a means-plus-function recitation with the result that the claim is effectively entirely in means-plus-function format and indistinguishable for §101 purposes from a method claim; it was argued that such a corresponding method claim would be nonstatutory. See In re Freeman, 573 F.2d 1237, 1247, 197 USPQ 464, 472 (CCPA 1978); In re Walter, 618 F.2d 758, 768, 205 USPQ 397, 407-08 (CCPA 1980); In re Abele, 684 F.2d 902, 909, 214 USPQ 682, 688 (CCPA 1982); In re Meyer, 688 F.2d 789, 796, 215 USPQ 193, 198-99 (CCPA 1982); and 1106 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office at 8, under "'Process' versus 'apparatus' claims." PTO also argued that appellants' apparatus claim is nonstatutory when directly analyzed according to the two-part Freeman-Walter test because (1) it recites a mathematical algorithm and (2) the algorithm does not "define" a structural relationship between physical elements and is not "applied" in any manner to physical elements.

The Federal Circuit determined that a read only memory is a "term[] well understood by those skilled in the art," 888 F.2d at 1372, 12 USPQ2d at 1909, and that the claimed read only memory element "is not in means-plus-function form," id. at 1373, 12 USPQ2d at 1909, but "is a specific piece of apparatus," id. at 1375, 12 USPQ2d at 1912. The Court states that appellants' apparatus claim does not meet the second part of the Freeman-Walter test, detailing the relationship between the ROM and the other means in the claim. Therefore, the Court concluded, id. at 1375, 12 USPQ2d at 1911:

> The claim as a whole certainly defines apparatus in the form of a combination of interrelated means and we cannot discern any logical reason why it should not be deemed statutory subject matter as either a machine or a manufacture as specified in §101. The fact that the apparatus operates according to an algorithm does not make it nonstatutory. . . . We therefore hold that the claim is directed to statutory subject matter.

Because the Court determined a ROM to be a specific piece of apparatus for implementing a table look-up function, and not as broad as a means-plus-function recitation, appellants carried their burden of demonstarting that the claim is "truly drawn to specific apparatus distinct from other apparatus capable of performing the identical functions," Walter, 618 F.2d at 768, 205 USPQ at 408; as a matter of claim interpretation, the claim cannot be treated as equivalent to a method. The Walter test for whether an apparatus claim is equivalent to a method claim is the same as applying the Freeman-Walter test to an apparatus claim. See In re Maucorps, 609 F.2d 481, 486, 203 USPQ 812, 816 (CCPA 1979) (application of second part of two-part Freeman test to appartus claim in "means for" format considers whether the "claimed invention as a whole comprises each and every means for carrying out a [mathematical algorithm]").

Once it is determined that the claim is truley drawn to specific apparatus, it necessarily follows that the apparatus is statutory subject matter under §101. True apparatus does not invoke the mathematical algorithm exception because the mathematical algorithm remains free for use by anyone not employing the specific apparatus, i.e., there is no preemption, in whole or part, of the mathematical algorithm itself. See In re Bernhart, 417 F.2d 1395, 1399, 163 USPQ 611, 616 (CCPA 1969) ("a member of the public would have to do much more than use the equations to infringe any of these [apparatus] claims"); Freeman, 573 F.2d at 1247 n.11, 197 USPQ at 472 n.11 ("the calculation method [in dependent claim 10] remained free for use by anyone not employing the enire apparatus of claim 9"). Importantly, as the Iwahashi Court notes: [t]he fact that apparatus operates according to an algorithm does not make it nonstatutory," 888 F.2d at 1375, 12 USPQ2d at 1911. See Freeman, 573 F.2d at 1247 n.10, 197 USPQ at 472 n.10 (" A claim to a new, useful, and unobvious computer, describing that computer in truly structural terms, would not be rejectable on the ground that the only known use for that computer is the performance of unpatentable methods of calculation.").

The Court's holding that the claim defines apparatus because of ROM is a specific piece of apparatus for implementing the mathematical algorithm is consistent with precedent and PTO policy as set forth at 1106 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 5-12. Every case, however, must be determined on its facts and, to be consistent with previous decisions, Iwahashi does not "hold that the mere presence of apparatus language in a claim will, of itself, save that claim from rejection as nonstatutory." id. at 1247 n.11, 197 USPQ at 472 n.11. Under Walter, the inquiry with every apparatus claim should be whether the apparatus encompasses any and every means for performing the recited functions and, if this appears to be the case, the burden should be placed on the applicant to show that it does not.

The Court's dicta in footnote 1 (the sole footnote) suggests that §112 ¶6 may require the PTO to construe means-plus-function limitation to the apparatus disclosed in the application and equivalents thereof. Under this suggestion, even a claim which is entirely in means-plus-function format could not be treated as indistinguishable from a corresponding method claim for §101 purposes. Such a result would be directly contrary to precedent, including Freeman, Walter, Abele and Meyer. In the opinion of the PTO, means-plus-function limitations should be not treated differently for §101 purposes than for §102 and §103 purposes for rejections over prior art. Indeed, during prosecution claims should be given their broadest reasonable interpretation. See In re Zletz, ___ F.2d ___, ___, 13 USPQ2d 1320, 1321-22 (Fed. Cir. 1989). The issue of claim scope should be treated as a matter of burden of proof: examiners should give "means for" limitations their broadest reasonable interpretation and then it is applicant's burden to show that the functionally-defined disclosed means do not encompass any and every means for performing the recited functions. See Walter, 618 F. 2d at 768, 205 USPQ at 408 ("the burden must be placed on the applicant to demonstrate that the claims are truly drawn to specific apparatus"); Meyer, 688 F.2d at 796 n.6, 215 USPQ at 199 n.6 and corresponding text; In re Mulder, 716 F.2d 1542, 1549, 219 USPQ 189, 196 (Fed. Cir. 1983) (involving a "means for" limitation in a §103 rejection: "Appellants have neither asserted nor shown that [the reference] structure is not the equivalent of the structure disclosed in their specification [for performing the function, as stated by the board]").

1. APPEALS

a. Appeal Fees in Patent Cases

Appeal fees deficiencies are frequent, causing necessity for extension fees to cover the additional time consumed in making up the appeal fee deficiency. Ensuring proper payment at time of filing the appeal will save money and time.

b. Notices of Appeal to the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit

Notices of appeal to the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit should be sent to the Solicitor at the address below:

Solicitor
Box 8
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
Washington, D.C. 20231

Improperly addressing such communications, e.g. to the examining groups, may delay delivery to the Solicitor.

2. APPLICATION FILES

a. Requests for Allowed Patent Application Files

Applicants or attorneys requesting files from the Publishing Division, Office of Publications, should make their request at least twenty-four hours in advance to ensure file availability. Attention is expecially directed to out-of-town requesters who visit the Office, anticipating same day service. Although the Office is usually able to respond promptly, unexpected inconvenience can be avoided if arrangements are made in advance.

Inquiries and requests should be directed to the Correspondence Section at (703) 557-6397 or (703) 557-6398 between the hours of 8:30 a.m. through 5:00 p.m. on weekdays.

b. Returning Files to the File Information Unit (FIU)

Customers are reminded that file histories obtained through the FIU are official government records which must not be removed from the confines of the Patent Search Room at any time. Such files must be returned to the File Information Unit by 7:45 p.m. on the same day they are obtained.

FIU personnel will continue to periodically monitor this problem. Should individual patterns of abuse be discerned, administrative sanctions up to termination of access privileges may be applied.

3. APPLICATION PAPERS

a. Disclosure Statements

If a disclosure statement is to be filed before an Office action, file it when the application is filed. Some Group Art Units have greatly reduced the pendency to first action. Hence, many examiners are taking up new applications before an information statement is matched with the application.

b. Docket Numbers - Placement

If use of a docket number is desired, the docket number should be placed in the upper right corner of the transmittal letter accompanying newly filed patent applications. This will eliminate a time consuming search of the application papers for the docket number or the likelihood of it being overlooked during processing.

c. Papers Related to Patent Applications

When a document concerns a previously filed application for a patent, it must identify on the top page in a conspicuous location, either the application number (consisting of the series code and the serial number, e.g. 07/123,456), or the serial number and filing date assigned to that application by the Patent and Trademark Office, or the international application number of the international application. No papers related to a new patent application should be filed in the Office prior to receipt of this information. [37 CFR 1.5(a)] Any papers received without this information will not be processed.

Additionally, the word "Patent" should be in the upper right hand corner and the filing date, inventor's names and title of the invention should be included on the paper. Responses to Notices of Incomplete Application and Notices to File Missing Parts must be accompanied by a copy of the Notice form.

d. Papers Related to Trademark Applications

For all papers related to trademark applications, the word "Trademark" and the series code/serial number should be placed in the upper right-hand corner of the document. Also, please set forth the applicant's name, filing date, law office, examining attorney, and mark.

e. Papers With No Particular Time Requirement

Patent and trademark documents which have no particular time or sequence requirements should be filed with materials submitted in response to the statutory or regulatory requirements. Examples are certified copies of foreign documents to support priority in patent applications, changes of Power of Attorney, or changes in Mailing Address following first action.

f. Residence of Applicant

The residence of applicant should be indicated as city and state for United States residents and city and country for residents of foreign countries.

g. Response to Final Rejection In Patent Applications - Expediting Processing

See section under Mail.

h. Separation of Various Application Papers

In patent applications, requests for extensions of time, changes of address, proposed drawing corrections, and petitions are sometimes incorporated in the remarks section or at the beginning of papers entitled "Amendment" or "Response". In trademark applications, change of address and power of attorney are sometimes incorporated in the remarks section or at the beginning of papers entitled "Amendment" or "Response". Please present such items in separate papers, appropriately titled, since they are all handled by different personnel [37 CFR 1.4(c)].

i. Supplemental or Preliminary Amendments

Where a supplemental or preliminary amendment is found necessary in patent or trademark applications, please telephone the examiner and request that the examiner delay action for a certain time in order to avoid crossing in the mails of the amendment and the Office action.

j. Transmittal Letters for Deposit Account Charges

When statutory fees are to be charged to a deposit account, the processing of the application can be facilitated by submitting the applicant's transmittal letter or other correspondence specifying the account to be charged in triplicate. Submission of these documents in triplicate will eliminate the need for the Mail Room to photocopy the document and will thereby reduce the processing time of incoming mail.

4. ASSIGNMENTS

a. Assistance

Customers are encouraged to call the Assignment Branch Quality Control Status Section (703-557-8691) with questions regarding procedure, fees or status of assignments.

b. Delays in Assignments for New Patent Applications

The automated patent assignment system is dependent upon bibliographic information that is keyboarded to produce filing receipts and to create records in the PALM system. When assignments are filed before the filing receipt has been produced, their processing is delayed until the bibliographic information is keyed and verified.

c. Expediting Corrections or Updates

When requesting correction or updating of a previously recorded patent or trademark assignment document, providing the reel and frame number of that document to the Assignment Branch will greatly expedite the recording process.

d. Foreign Assignees

When filing an assignment with a foreign assignee, an appointment of domestic representative is required. If more than one property is included in the assignment, a separate appointment of domestic representative is required for each property. You need only submit one original appointment. Photocopies of the appointment of domestic representative may be filed for the additional properties.

e. Routing of Assignment Documents

Many individuals are submitting assignment documents and requests for assignment services, together with application prosecution papers, directly to the examiner. Often, these requests get placed in the file and are not forwarded to the assignment area for handling. Please send all assignment documents and request through the Mail Room in order that they may be properly routed to the assignment area.

Please separate requests for certified copies of assignments from requests for other services including requests for certified copies of other documents. Certification of assignment documents is not performed by the same individuals as certification of other documents.

f. Submission of Assignment Documents

Only an original document or a certified copy of a document is acceptable for recordation. When signing an original document, ink other than black should be used so that the signature can clearly be identified as an original one.

Do not file extra copies of assignment documents. They may be mistaken as documents intended for recordation.

Be sure to attach a transmittal letter including the firm's name and address on each assignment document to ensure accurate return of the assignment document. Use extra staples to ensure the transmittal letter does not become detached. As a further safeguard, include a return address on the assignment document.

Do check the assignment document to make sure that the name of the assignor and assignee are consistent throughout the document.

g. Trademark Registrations - Ensuring Correct Printing

To ensure the correct printing of ownership information on a Trademark Registration at issue date, provide the trademark examining attorney with the reel and frame number of the appropriate assignment document as soon as you are notified of it.

5. CERTIFICATES OF CORRECTION

a. Accurate Requests

Many requests for "Certificate of Correction" result from a prefunctory comparison of the issued patent with the attorney's application file, without investigating whether the recitation in the issued patent is correct. In many instances, change to the PTO file wrapper has been caused by the examiner prior to printing of the patent in order to make appropriate corrections to the file.

6. CERTIFICATION SERVICES

a. Expedited Service for Patent Applications-As-Filed

If there is a need for special service, for example to meet a priority date within a short period of time, the order must be marked "RUSH" with the date/time needed and reason for the need. The order should be hand-delivered to the Manager, Assignment and Certification Division, CP2-7D13. Orders may also be mailed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, clearly marked to the attention of the Manager, Certification Branch. However, because mail orders must be initially handled by the Mail Room, requesters are cautioned that turnaround time will be several days longer than for hand-delivered orders. Every effort will be made to fill all "RUSH" orders timely, to the extent resources are available.

b. Methods of Ordering

Mail Orders - The address for mail orders is:

Box 10
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Washington, D.C. 20231

Hand-carried Orders - Hand-carried requests for certification service should be taken to the Public Service Window in the North Stacks of the Patent Search Room where they can be placed in the Certification Order Receipt Box or given to the attendant. For security reasons, the public is not permitted access to the Certification Branch itself.

c. Processing Time

The current goal for furnishing certified copies of applications-as-filed is 17 days from receipt in the Mail Room of the Patent and Trademark Office to mailing of the completed order by the Certification Branch. The 17 days includes 4 work days for Mail Room and Finance processing, 9 work days in the Certification Branch and 4 weekend days that accure over the 13 work days.

The 17-day goal applied to those orders for which microfiche of applications-as-filed are available in the Certification Branch. The microfiche for a small percentage of the total orders for certified copies of applications-as-filed must be retrieved from a remote location, or be replaced due to damage or correction. The 17-day goal does not apply to these orders.

d. PTO vs. Public-Supplied Copies for Certification

Requests for all certified copies of applications-as-filed and file wrapper/contents of pending patent and trademark applications will be filed with PTO supplied copies of original source documents. No public supplied copies will be accepted.

The public may submit copies of Registered Trademarks, Registered Trademark Files, Patented Files, and Patents for certification by the Certification Branch.

e. Questions Frequently Asked

Q. What does "certified" mean?
A. Authentication of copies by ribbon and seal of the PTO with the signature of an officer authorized by the Commissioner of Patent and Trademarks.
Q. What does an application consist of?
A. (1) Written Description (2) Claims (3) Oath or Declaration (4) Drawings, when necessary, and (5) Filing Fee.

Q. What does a file wrapper and contents (file history) consist of?
A. The original application papers plus all correspondence between the applicant/attorney of record/assignee and the PTO.

Q. Why are certified copies of applications-as-filed required?
A. Since the rights granted by a U.S. patent extend only throughout the territory of the U.S. and have no effect in a foreign country, an inventor who wishes patent protection in other countries must submit a certified copy of his or her U.S. application when applying for a patent in that country in order to receive the benefit of the U.S. filing date.

Q. What regulations govern the filing of an U.S. application in a foreign country?
A. There is a treaty relating to patents which involves 97 countries and is known as the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property. It provides that each country guarantees to the citizens of other countries the same patent rights that it gives to its own citizens.

Q. Can anyone request a copy of a pending application?
A. No. Pending applications are preserved in secrecy. No information or copies may be obtained without written authority of the applicant, attorney of record, or the assignee, if any. Such written consent must accompany the request for copies.

Q. Can orders for copies by placed by phone?
A. No. All orders must be in writing.

Q. May office copies of my application be sent to the PTO for certification?
A. No. We do not certify copies prepared outside the PTO.

Q. Will the PTO mail certified copies ordered directly to a foreign country?
A. No. With respect to the exportation of technical data, the PTO discontinued the practice of forwarding direct to any foreign country certified copies of U.S. applications ordered by residents of the United States.

Q. Are cited references in a file automatically furnished when a file wrapper and contents are requested?
A. No. Cited references are not included as papers comprising the file history. References cited are furnished only if specifically requested.

Q. Can cited references, when requested, be certified with the file wrapper and contents under one certificate?
A. No. Each reference must be certified separately.

Q. Are there instances when references are included in a file wrapper and contents?
A. Yes. If the references are submitted as attachments to a response from the applicant and if such response is entered and made a part of the file.

Q. Exclusive of applications-as-filed and file wrappers and contents of patented files, what other types of copies may be obtained from the Certification Branch?
A. The following items may be obtained:

a. Certified copies of issued U.S. patents.
b. Certified copies of foreign patents.
c. Certified copies of publications from the Scientific Library.
d. Certified copies of Office letters.
e. Certified duplicate filing receipts.
f. Certified copies of an assignment and application-as-filed, under one certificate.
g. Copies of disclosure documents.
h. Copies of the following files:

- Defensive publication files.
- Reexamination files.
- Interference files.
- Trademark files.
- Opposition files.
- Concurrent use proceedings files.
- Statutory Invention Request.
- Certified copies of assignment documents.
- Abstract of title.

f. Status Requests or Problems

For status inquiries, call the Input and Records Control Unit of the Certification Branch at 557-1587. For problem situations call the Manager of the Certification Branch, at 557-1552.

7. DRAWINGS FOR PATENT APPLICATIONS

a. Proper Identification of Formal or Substitute Drawings

When the Office receives formal or substitute drawings, a cover letter identifying the application by serial number should accompany them. It is extremely difficult to associate the drawings with the files when this information is missing. The application serial number should be placed on the sheet of drawing in accordance with 37 CFR 1.84(1).

According to 37 CFR 1.84(1), identifying indicia (such as the attorney's docket number, inventor's name, number of sheets, etc.) not to exceed 2 3/4 inches may be placed in a centered location between the side edges within three-fourths inch of the top edge. Either this marking technique on the front of the drawing or the placement of this information on the back of the drawing is acceptable. However, for identification of the serial number, the PTO prefers that it be placed on the front.

b. Proper Identification of New Application Drawings

During pre-examination processing, drawings are temporarily separated from the rest of the application papers. To facilitate the matching of drawings with the application, it would be helpful if the applicant's name, docket number, and the title of the invention were put on the back of the drawings. This may be done by writing lightly on the drawings or by using gum labels.

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

c. Submission of Copies of Drawings

DO NOT SUBMIT ORIGINAL DRAWINGS WITH PATENT APPLICATIONS. DO SUBMIT A HIGH QUALITY COPY. If the copy submitted passes the formality review and patent examination, no substitute drawings will be necessary. If corrections are necessary, they should be made to the original drawings. Either one good copy of the corrected drawings or the corrected original can then be submitted after the Notice of Allowability is mailed.

The PTO will not release drawings from patent applications filed after Jan. 1, 1989, to applicants, bonded drafting companies, or others.

d. Timeliness of Submission of Corrected Drawings in Allowed Cases

When drawings need to be corrected in an allowed patent application, the applicant is required to submit acceptable corrected drawings within a three-month shortened statutory period. Within that three-month period, two weeks should be allowed for review of the correction by the Office. If a correction is determined to be unacceptable by the Office, the applicant must arrange to have an acceptable correction re-submitted within the original three-month period to avoid the necessity of obtaining an extension of time and of paying the extension fee. Therefore, the applicant should file corrected drawings as soon as possible following the setting of the three-month shortened statutory period.

Corrected drawings, as well as the issue fee should be addressed to Box Issue Fee. Note that any assignment document should be submitted in a separate envelope, addressed to Box Assignment.

Each piece of correspondence should carry its own certificate of mailing. For example, drawings should have a certificate of mailing and the issue fee should have a certificate of mailing.

8. EXTENSIONS OF TIME IN PATENT CASES

a. Appropriateness

After a final rejection, where applicants' approval is not needed to amend the claims, no extension of time is required. However, if applicants' approval is required and applicants did not file their response within two months of the Final Rejection, the appropriate extension of time must be purchased.

Also, it should be noted that extensions of time may be requested under 37 CFR 1.136(a) for extending the time required to pay for the request for an oral hearing before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. [MPEP §1209(1). The time for a request and fee for an oral hearing is one month from the date of the Examiner's Answer or any supplemental Examiner's Answer.

Extensions of time by fee payment under 37 CFR 1.136(a) are appropriate for filing of the Brief on Appeal in regular applications. No more than four months may be granted under 37 CFR 1.136(a). Beyond those four months, any further request must show sufficient cause under 37 CFR 1.136(b), and no additional extension fee is required.

An extension of time is not required in order to hold an interview with the examiner. However, after the period for response has ended, an extension is required for the purpose of filing a follow-up amendment by applicant and/or for the entry of an Examiner's Amendment requiring approval of the applicant.

Extensions of time are appropriate for the purpose of achieving continuity between parent and continuing applications. A separate paper requesting the extension of time must be filed in the parent application. It would be useful to file a copy of that request or petition with the papers constituting the filing of the continuing application.

b. Extensions of Time Under 37 CFR 1.136(a)

Under 35 U.S.C. 41(a)(8) and 37 CFR 1.136(a), a response filed within a statutory period but outside of the period set for response may be rendered timely if accompanied by (1) a petition for an extension of time and (2) the appropriate extension fee. Experience indicates that there have been differing opinions as to the language necessary to constitute an acceptable extension of time petition. This Helpful Hint is intended to clarify the policy of the Patent and Trademark Office concerning the language required for such a petition.

An extension of time under §1.136(a) requires a petition therefor and payment of the appropriate fee. The §1.136(a) petition should explicity request in writing an extension of time for the specific number of months needed as explained in §710.02(e) of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure. This is the best way to avoid mistakes by the applicant or by the Patent and Trademark Office and assure orderly and efficient processing of the petition.

The following language is an example of a preferred §1.136(a) request:

Applicant petitions the Commissioner of Patent and Trademarks to extend the time for response to the Office action dated for_____month(s) from_____to _____ .

[If paying by check:]

Submitted herewith is a check for _____to cover the cost of the extension. (Optionally, add: Any deficiency or overpayment should be charged or credited to deposit account number_____. A duplicate copy of this sheet is enclosed.)

[If paying by charge to deposit account number:]

Please charge my deposit account number_____in the amount of _____to cover the cost of the extension. Any deficiency or overpayment should be charged or credited to this deposit account.

Applicants are cautioned that, in order to be timely, a response must be accompanied by a specific reference to an extension of time. A general authorization under 37 CFR 1.25(b) to charge necessary fees to a deposit account will not be interpreted as a petition for an extension of time. For example, a response accompanied by the statement "Please charge any fees necessary under 37 CFR 1.17 to my deposit account" would not be acceptable, since the statement does not make specific reference to an extension of time.

As previously indicated, a proper §1.136(a) petition must be in writing. However, when an extension of time is necessary to make an Examiner's Amendment timely, the extension may be obtained by way of a verbal communication. The verbal communication must be transcribed as a written part of the official application file record. For example, during a telephone interview with an examiner, an attorney for the applicant, in order to render an Examiner's Amendment timely, may verbally request an extension of time under 37 CFR 1.136(a) and authorize a charge of the appropriate fee to his or her deposit account. If this verbal request and authorization are transcribed as a written part of the application file record (e.g., via the Examiner's Amendment or an Examiner Interview Summary Record, PTOL-413), the desired extension of time may be obtained. The filing date of the $1.136(a) petition and fee will be considered the date of the verbal request and authorization if this date is reflected in the written file record.

c. Instances Not Permitted

An extension of time under 37 CFR 1.136(a) is not permitted in the following instances:

(1) Where an applicant is so notified in an Office action as, for example, in a Reissue application involving a litigated patent.
(2) Where the application is involved in an interference declared pursuant to 37 CFR 1.611. See 37 CFR 1.645 for provisions governing extensions of time in interference proceedings.
(3) In reexamination proceedings. See 37 CFR 1.550(c) for extensions of time in reexamination proceedings.
(4) In PCT international applications. Under PCT Rule 26.2, extensions are permitted for correction of PCT Article 14 defects in international applications before the Receiving Office.

d. Insufficient Fees

Many requests for extension of time are being filed with insufficient fees. In those instances where there is no authorization to charge an account, additional fees are necessary to cover the additional time consumed in making up the original deficiency. If the maximum, six-month period has expired before the deficiency is noted and corrected, the application is held abandoned.

Please note that effective October 5, 1985, the extension fees in patent cases are as follows:

	Small Entity	Non-Small Entity
One Month Extension	$28	$56
Two Month Extension	85	170
Three Month Extension	195	390
Four Month Extension	305	610

If applicants have a deposit account, it is recommended that applicants file, in an individual application, a general authorization to charge any of the fees set forth in 37 CFR §§ 1.16 to 1.18 to a deposit account for the entire pendency of the application.

3. Policy

Where an extension of time is required to file a response in a timely manner, the response is not considered complete until the response, fee, and request or petition for an extension of time are received. The fee and request or petition must be filed before the expiration of the extended period requested. The fee cannot be paid outside the statutory six-month limit for the period of response.

f. Requirement for Request or Petition for Extension

Submission of the appropriate extension fee under 37 CFR 1.136(a) is to no avail unless a request or petition for extension is filed. Frequently, the request is omitted, which then requires an additional extension fee to cover the period to the date of the request. Occasionally, the application is held abandoned because the six month maximum statutory period has expired before detection of the omission of the request for extension. It is critical that a paper specifically requesting the extension be filed with late responses. It is also wise to use the Certificate of Mailing practice under 37 CFR 1.8 when requesting extensions.

g. Response to Final Rejection - Avoiding Extension Fees

In patent applications wherein a three month Shortened Statutory Period (SSP) is set for response to a Final Rejection, the response would best be filed within two months of the date of the Office Action. If filed within two months, any Advisory Action mailed after the SSP expires will reset the SSP to expire on the date of the Advisory Action for extension fee purposes, but never more than six months from the date of the Final Rejection.

h. Supplemental Amendments

If a timely and complete response has been filed after a Non-Final Office Action, an extension of time is not required to permit filing and/or entry of an additional amendment after expiration of the shortened statutory period.

If a timely response has been filed after a Final Office Action, an extension of time is required to permit filing and/or entry of a Notice of Appeal or filing and/or entry of an additional amendment after expiration of the shortened statutory period unless the timely-filed response placed the application in condition for allowance. Of course, if a Notice of Appeal has been filed within the shortened statutory period, the period has ceased to run.

9. FILES

a. Official Searches

The PTO has had an unusually large number of official search status letters returned by the Postal Service due to insufficient/incomplete addresses. When requesting an official search for a lost patent or trademark file, please ensure that all pertinent information is completely filled out on the PTO Form 1216. In the case of an individual working for a particular firm, the firm's name should be included in block number 5 of the form along with the name of the requester. If you have any questions in this matter please call the Chief, Support Services Branch on (703) 557-3560.

b. Requests for Reconstruction

To request the reconstruction of a file, submit a written request along with a notice from the PTO Official Search unit stating that the file cannot be located.

c. Requests for Trademark Files

To eliminate unnecessary delays when ordering Trademark files, requestors should complete all required information blocks on form PTO-1538 (Order and Charge for Trademark Files). Failure to properly complete the form is the primary reason for requests not being quickly processed. Submitting a completed form will reduce the number of requests that have to be returned and thus reduce the overall time required to fill the request.

10. FILING RECEIPTS FOR PATENT APPLICATIONS

a. Docket Numbers

Docket numbers must be limited to a maximum of 12 characters to prevent truncation. The Patent Application Location and Monitoring (PALM) system data base allows a maximum of 12 characters for the attorney's docket number. Spaces, slashes and hyphens will no longer be included in the entered docket number on the official filing receipt. In an application where CASE or NAVY-CASE appears before the first character in the docket number, only the characters after CASE or NAVY-CASE will be entered on the official filing receipt.

b. License to Foreign File

Each newly filed patent application is routinely reviewed for security interests during pre-examination processing. A code is entered into the data base to indicate the presence or absence of security interests. When no security interest are found, the filing receipt will be generated with the notation "Foreign license granted xx/xx/xx." There is no additional cost for this security screening and license notation.

c. Residence of Applicant

The residence of applicant should be indicated as city and state for United States residents and city and country for residents of foreign countries. The Patent Application Location and Monitoring (PALM) System data base allows a maximum of 15 characters for the city of residence. If the city name is longer than 15 characters, it will be truncated in the data base and appear in the shortened form on the filing receipt. However, the entire city name will be taken from the file and printed on any patent that issues.

Please do not call or write the Office for a corrected filing receipt should the printed city name be cut short due to the 15-character limit.

Often applicants who are residents of foreign countries indicate street address, sections of cities, provinces or other political divisions as part of their cities of residence. This leads to confusion and possible erroneous entries in the data base. Only the foreign city and country should be indicated as the applicant's residence.

11. INTERVIEWS WITH PATENT EXAMINERS

a. Appropriateness

Prior to filing, no interview is permitted; only search assistance may be given to the attorney, searcher or inventor.

Prior to first action, an interview is ordinarily granted only in continuing or substitute applications; a request for an interview is untimely and will not be granted prior to first action in all other applications.

After final rejection, an interview will not be denied merely because final Office action has been rendered. Normally, one interview after a final rejection is permitted if the examiner is convinced that disposal or clarification for appeal may be accomplished with only nominal further consideration. In requesting an interview after final rejection, the intended purpose and content of the interview must be presented briefly, either orally or in writing. Interviews merely to restate arguments of record or to discuss new limitations which would require more than nominal reconsideration or new search will be denied.

After a case is sent to issue, it is technically no longer under the jurisdiction of the primary examiner (37 CFR 1.312). Requests for interviews on cases already passed to issue should be granted only with specific approval of the Group Director upon a showing in writing of extraordinary circumstances.

The ideal time for personal interviews, during which time an interview is clearly available, is the "Conference Period", which is the time between the filing of applicant's thorough first response to the examiner's first action on the merits and a concluding action by the examiner.

In reexamination proceedings, an interview with the owner is permitted after first action. Requests that reexamination requestors be permitted to participate in or attend interviews will be denied.

When an interference has been declared, all questions involved are to be determined inter partes and will not be discussed ex parte.

Following the grant of a United States Patent, an examiner must refuse to express any opinion or view as to the validity of the patent, except on the record in the course of examining a reissue application or a reexamination proceeding. Even in the case of search assistance on an invention, if an examiner is aware that the invention has been patented in the United States, the searcher will be referred to the prosecution file history, and the examiner will make no comment on the appropriateness of the search conducted or the references cited.

Should any examiner fail to comply with the above guidelines, the matter would best be brought to the attention of the examiner's Group Director.

Direct questions to:

Al Lawrence Smith
Director, Group 350
(703) 557-3414

b. Prohititions

No interview will be conducted with an attorney who is not registered or who has been suspended or excluded from practice regarding an application unless the attorney is the applicant in the application.

Protestors are not permitted to participate in interviews in applications where the protest was filed after Dec. 8, 1981, and the examiner will not communicate in any manner with such protestors.

12. MAIL

a. Certificate of Mailing - Separate Certificate for Each Document

Practitioners and others are reminded of the requirement of MPEP 512(D) which state: "In situations wherein the correspondence includes papers for more than one application (e.g., a single envelope containing separate papers responding to Office actions in different applications) or papers for various parts of the Office (e.g., a patent issue fee transmittal form PTO-85 and an assignment), each paper must have its own certification as a part thereof or attached thereto." Although form PTOL-85b, Issue Fee Transmittal, may contain a Certificate of Mailing thereon, a separate Certificate of Mailing is required for all papers included with this form, including formal drawings, since papers are separated and flow to different areas of the Office. Checks submitted with papers do not require a Certificate of Mailing.

b. Certificate of Mailing AND Return Postcard

Use of the Certificate of Mailing Procedure is strongly encouraged.

37 CFR 1.8(a) provides for the use of a Certificate of Mailing on most correspondence with the PTO, whereby the correspondence (and/or fee) will be considered as timely filed if deposited with the U.S. Postal Service within the set time period. Consistent use of this procedure is extremely beneficial to practitioners, whether or not the Postcard Receipt provision of MPEP 503 is used.

In those instances where the PTO never receives the correspondence, no postcard receipt will be available to evidence the filing and/or timeliness of the correspondence. However, in those instances where a Certificate of Mailing is properly used, 37 CFR 1.8(b) provides relief, even if the correspondence is not received in the PTO at all. Under 37 CFR 1.8(b) the party who forwarded the correspondence need only (1) inform the PTO of the previous mailing of the correspondence, (2) supply a copy of the previously mailed correspondence and Certificate, and (3) include a declaration which adequately attests to the previous timely mailing.

c. Correspondence with Certificate of Mailing Delivered by Commercial Carrier

The benefits of 37 CFR 1.8 or 1.10 apply only to documents delivered to the PTO by the U.S. Postal Service.

A number of instances have been uncovered where individuals are certifying that documents were deposited with the U.S. Postal Service when, in fact, the documents were hand-carried or delivered to the PTO via commercial mail service, e.g., "Federal Express," "DHL," "Purolator," " Air Borne," "UPS," etc. In those instances where documents include a certificate of mailing under 37 CFR 1.8 or 1.10, but were delivered to the PTO by other than the U.S. Postal Service, Mail Room personnel are placing a notice indicating that fact on the correspondence involved to alert PTO personnel that the benefits of 37 CFR 1.8 or 1.10 do not apply.

d. Expediting Handling of Trademark Applications

To facilitate processsing of new trademark applications, place them in a separate envelope apart from all other mail. Identify on the outside of the envelope "TRADEMARK APPLICATION ONLY." More than one new trademark application may be placed in the same envelope. Do not place any papers in the envelope other than those related to the new trademark applications.

e. Express Mail

Due to a failure to follow proper procedures, many applicants are losing the advantage of receiving the date a paper or fee was deposited at the Post Office when "Express Mail" is used. According to 37 CFR $ 1.10, any such paper or fee must include a certificate of mailing by "Express Mail," signed by the person mailing the paper or fee.

To ensure papers and fees sent by "Express Mail" are accorded the proper certificate date, the following suggestions and reminders are offered:

(1) Each document must have a certificate of mailing typed on or affixed to the document. The certificate should be placed on the first page of the document or the covering letter to ensure easy accessibility. Often, the certificate is missing, illegible, inaccurate, incomplete, or difficult to locate. As a result, the paper or fee is considered to have been filed on the date of receipt in the PTO.
(2) The certificate should be legible.
(3) The Express Mail number must be placed on the certificate.
(4) Dates on the certificate must correspond to dates on the Express Mail label.
The PTO continues to receive correspondence filed under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.10 in which the certificate of mailing by "Express Mail" certifies that the correspondence is being mailed on one date while the "Express Mail" label shows a "Date-In" on a different date. This usually occurs when the "Express Mail" package is deposited in a remote "Express Mail" receptacle or mailbox after the last pickup, and accordingly is not being picked-up and processed by the Postal Service until the next business day. The question as to the treatment of such a situation was covered in the final rule making published on Jan. 20, 1983, at 48 FR 2696-2714 and on Feb. 10, 1983, at 1027 O.G. 9. The following comments appear therein.
"Comment: One person questions what treatment will be accorded a paper placed in an "Express Mail" box receptacle after the Box has been cleared for the last time on a given day."
"Reply: The paper will be considered to be deposited as of the date of receipt indicated on the "Express Mail" mailing label by the Postal Service clerk."
It is recommended that where the filing date of a paper or fee is critical, e.g., the filing of a patent application, and particularly when the deposit by "Express Mail" is being made late in the business day, the correspondence should be personally delivered to a Post Office. There the date of receipt of the "Express Mail" package can be immediately indicated by the Postal Service clerk.
(5) Each certificate must have an original signature of the person actually mailing the paper or fee; i.e., the person who actually deposits the paper or fee with the U.S. Postal Service.
The PTO has encountered instances in which the certificate of mailing by "Express Mail" was signed by an attorney and the deposit was made by the attorney's secretary or another member of the attorney's staff. This is improper under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.10. This section differs in that regard from 37 CFR 1.8.

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JAN 1 1991 UMI

(6) The preferred wording and information to be included on the certificate is as follows:

"Express Mail" Mailing Label No. (insert B no. from Express Mail label)
Date of Deposit (insert date from Express Mail Label)

I hereby certify that this paper or fee is being deposited with the United States Postal Service "Express Mail Post Office to Addressee" service under 37 CFR 1.10 on the date indicated above and is addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(Typed or printed name of person mailing paper or fee)
(Signature of person mailing paper or fee)

By following these procedures, problems concerning filing dates should be minimized.

f. Response to Final Rejections In Patent Applications - Expediting Processing and Reply by PTO

In order to ensure the quickest reply to an amendment or response after Final Rejection in patent applications, the paper must be marked in the upper right portion:

"RESPONSE UNDER 37 CFR 1.116
EXPEDITED PROCEDURE
EXAMINING GROUP (Insert Group Number)"

The marking on the paper preferably should be written in, highlighted by, or encirculed with, a bright color felt-point marker.

The envelope in which the response is submitted must include only submissions under 37 CFR 1.116. The envelope must be marked "Box AF" in the lower left corner and must be addressed to:

BOX AF
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Washington, D.C. 20231

If the paper is being hand-carried to the Examining Group (instead of mailing to Box AF), the envelope, if any, and the response should both be marked:

"RESPONSE UNDER 37 CFR 1.116
EXPEDITED PROCEDURE
EXAMINING GROUP (Insert Group Number)"

Use of this procedure should avoid the necessity for extensions of time and the filing of unnecessary notices of appeal in many cases.

g. Return Postcard

If a receipt for any paper filed in the Patent and Trademark Office is desired, it may be obtained by enclosing with the paper a self-addressed postcard identifying the paper. The Patent and Trademark Office will stamp the receipt date on the card and place it in the outgoing mail.

The identifying data on the card should be so complete as to clearly identify the paper for which receipt is requested. For example, the card should identify the applicant name(s), serial number, filing date, interference number, etc. Also, the paper(s) should be identified by specifying the type thereof, namely affidavit, amendment, appeal, itemized components of applications, brief, drawings, fees, motions, supplemental oath or declaration, petition, etc.

A postcard receipt which itemizes and properly intentifies the papers which are being filed serves as prima facie evidence of receipt in the PTO of all the items listed thereon on the date stamped thereon by the PTO unless the postcard receipt has been annotated by the PTO to indicate that one or more items were not received. A postcard receipt will not serve as prima facie evidence of receipt in the PTO if the papers are not itemized in a detailed manner, e.g., number of pages of specification and number of sheets of drawings, or if the postcard receipt has been annotated to indicate that one or more items was not received.

When papers for more than one document are filed under a single cover, a return addressed postcard should be attached to the paper for each document for which a receipt is desired.

h. Secrecy—Related Papers (37 CFR 5)

All correspondence in connection with 37 CFR 5 should be addressed to:

Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
(Attention Licinensing and Review)
Washington, D.C. 20231

Improperly addressing such correspondence may delay delivery and could result in violations of 37 CFR 5. See 37 CFR 5.33 regarding correspondence.

i. Special Box—Box AF

Since the establishment of the special box "Box Non Fee Amendment," some questions have been received as to which box should be used for amendments after final rejections. Continue to use Box AF for amendments after final rejections, even if it is a non-fee amendment. Although mail delivery by the Mail Room should be the same in either case, the Patent Examining Group will expedite those labeled Box AF.

j. Special Box—Box Re-exam

Requests for re-examination should be clearly marked "Box Reexam" on the outer envelope, and include only requests for re-examination. The goal for processing request for re-examination is 30 days from receipt in the Mail Room to delivery to the appropriate examining group. Requests for re-examination which are marked on the outside envelope for Box Re-exam are immediately placed in a special box for pick up by re-examination processing clerks twice daily. Properly marked requests for re-examination allow us to meet the 30-day goal and allow the examiner adequate time for considering the request.

If requests for re-examination are included in packages with other mail, the entire package will be placed with the thousands of pieces of mail received on that date to be opened in date order. Reexamination requests are, therefore, delayed for several days making the 30-day goal nearly impossible to meet, and often reducing the time available for the examiner's consideration of the request.

k. Special Designations for Mail

Special PTO mail department numbers should be used to allow forwarding of particular types of mail to the appropriate areas as quickly as possible. Such mail is forwarded directly to the appropriate area without being opened. Only the specified type of document should be placed in an envelope addressed to one of these special departments. If any documents other then the specified type identified for each department are addressed to that department, they will be significantly delayed in reaching the appropriate area for which they were intended.

The following special department should be used only for their specified purpose. Address mail as follows:

Commisssioner of Patents and Trademarks
Box
Washington, DC 20231

Box 3	Mail for the Office of personel for NFC
Box 4	Mail for the Assistant Commissioner for External Affairs and the Office of Legislation and Internal Affairs.
Box 5	"No Fee" mail related to trademarks.
Box 6	Mail for the Office of Procurement
Box 7	Reissue applications for patents involved in litigation and subsequently filed related papers.
Box 8	All papers for the Office of the Solicitor except communications relating to pending litigation.
Box 9	Coupon orders for U.S. patent and trademark copies.
Box 10	Orders for certified copies of patent and trademark applications.
Box 11	Electronic Ordering Service (EOS).
Box 12	Contributions to the Examiner Education Program.
Box 13	Mail for the Employee and Labor Relations Division.
Box 14	Invoices directed to the Office of Finance.
Box 171	Vacancy Announcement Applications.
Box AF	Expedited procedure for processing amendments and other responses after final rejection.
Box Assignment	All assignment documents except those filed with new applications.
Box FWC	Requests for File Wrapper Continuation Applications (under 37 CFR 1.62)
Box Interference	Communications relating to interferences and applications and patents involved in interference.
Box Issue Fee	All Communications following the receipt of a PTOL-85. "Notice of Allowance and Issue Fee Due," and prior to the issuance of a patent should be addressed to Box Issue Fee, unless advised to the contrary. Assignments should be submitted in a separate envelope and not be sent to Box Issue Fee.
Box M. Fee	Correspondence related to a patent that is subject to the payment of a maintenance fee.
Box Non-Fee-Amendment	Non-fee amendments to patent applications. (Use Box AF for responses after final rejection).
Box OED	Mail for the Office of Enrollment and Discipline
Box Patent Application	New patent application and associated papers and fees.
Box Trademark Application	New trademark application and associated papers and fees.
Box Pat. Ext.	Applications for patent term extension.
Box PCT	Mail related to applications filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty.a
Box Reexam	Requests for Reexamination for original request papers only.
Box SN	For fee and petitions under 37 CFR 1.182 to obtain date received and/or serial number for patent applications prior to the Office's standard notification (return postcard or the official "Filing Receipt," "Notice to File Missing Parts," or "Notice of Incomplete Application").

13. MAINTENANCE FEES

a. Address to Which Correspondence is Sent Regarding Patent Maintenance Fees

Under 37 CFR 1.33(d), a "correspondence address" or change thereto may be filed with the Office during the enforceable life of a patent. This "correspondence address" will be used in any correspondence relating to maintenance fees unless a separate "fee address" has been specified solely for maintenance fee purposes as provided by CFR 1.363. Practioners who do not wish to receive correspondence relating to maintenance fees must change the correspondence address in the patented file or provide the PTO with a fee address to which the correspondence should be sent. It is not required that a practitioner file a request for permission to withdraw pursuant to 37 CFR 1.36 solely for the purpose of changing the correspondence address in a patent, even though a withdrawal of a practitioner would change the correspondence address.

b. Correspondence Address and/or Fee Address on Maintenance Fees

Effective Nov. 1, 1984, 37 CFR 1.363 provides for a "fee address" to be entered in the Office patent file records for use in all correspondence relating to maintenance fees. The fee address is in addition to the "correspondence address" under 37 CFR 1.33. The "correspondence address" will continue to be used for all reexamination and interference purposes. If no separate fee address is specifiifed, the correspondence address will also be used for maintenance fee correspondence. A similar reminder appears on the Issue Fee Transmittal Form, PTOL-85(b).

Practitioners should maintain a current "correspondence address" and, if desired, a separate current "fee address" during the enforceable life of the patent in order to ensure receipt of correspondence regarding maintenance fee.

Practitioners are reminded that they are obliged to inform a client for former client (or timely notify the Office of an inability to notify a client or former client) of any maintenance fee correspondence received from the PTO. See 37 CFR 10.23(c)(8). This is similar to the practice with respect to interference and reexamination proceedings.

Practitioners who do not wish to receive correspondence relating to maintenance fees must change the correspondence address in the patented file or provide the PTO with a "fee address" to which such correspondence should be sent.

It is not required that a practitioner file a request for permission to withdraw pursuant to 37 CFR 1.36 solely for the purpose of changing the correspondence address in a patent even though a withdrawal of a practitioner would change the correspondence address. However, a request for permission to withdraw pursuant to 37 CFR 1.36 must be filed in the patent if the attorney or agent of record does not desire to receive correspondence relating to reexamination.

c. Delayed Payment of Maintenance Fees

Payment of any maintenance fee due on a patent after expiration of the patent may be accepted if the conditions set forth in 37 CFR 1.378 are satisfied.

In the past, petitions under 37 CFR 1.378 to accept delayed payment of the maintenance fee in an expired patent have been filed which allege, as a basis for unavoidable delay: (1) lack of knowledge that a maintenance fee was due and/or (2) failure to receive a Maintenance Fee Reminder notice from the PTO.

Practitioners are reminded that a patentee's lack of knowledge of a requirement to pay a maintenance fee does not constitute a showing of unavoidable delay; see 49 F.R. 34716 at page 34720, and 1046 O.G. 28 at page 32.

Maintenance Fee Reminder notices are mailed only as a courtesy after the "grace period" has begun; see 37 CFR 1.362(e). Patentees are expected to maintain their own docket systems to ensure timely payment of maintenance fees, preferably during the "window period"; see 37 CFR 1.362(d). Since patentees are expected to maintain their own docket systems for timely payment of maintenance fees, proof that a Maintenance Fee Reminder notice was not received from the PTO does not constitute a showing of unavoidable delay; see 49 F.R. 34716-34726, and 1046 O.G. 28-37.

Practitioners are cautioned that any petition to accept delayed payment of a maintenance fee under CFR 1.378 must include an enumeration of the steps taken to ensure timely payment of the maintenance fee. In this regard, the petition should include a detailed explanation of the docket system employed to ensure such timely payment. Any petition filed more than six months after the expiration of a patent will also be required to show that the failure to timely pay the maintenance fee was due entirely to circumstances outside the control of the patentee and those acting on behalf of the patentee.

d. Maintenance Fee Transmittal Form Notice

Where maintenance fee payments are to be made by authorization to charge a deposit account, the Maintenance Fee Transmittal Form, should reflect both the Payor's Name and signature in the bottom left corner thereof.

e. Mandatory Indentifiers when Submitting Maintenance Fees

Practitioners are reminded that a patent maintenance fee payment and any surcharge payment submitted must identify the patent to which it relates by at least two mandatory identifiers [see 37 CFR 1.366(c)]:

1. The patent number; and
2. The serial number of the United States application for the patent on which the maintenance fee is being paid.

Reissure patent maintenance fee due dates are based on the issue date of the original, rather than the reissue patent. The payment must identify the reissue patent by reissue patent number and reissue application serial number as the two mandatory identifiers and should also include the original patent number, the original patent issue date and the original United States application filing date. See 37 CFR 1.366(d).

The two mandatory identifiers are required as a minimum to enable a cross-check to be made to avoid errors in crediting payment of maintenance fees.

It is suggested that the payment identify the fee being paid for each patent as to whether it is the 3 1/2, 7 1/2 or 11 1/2 year fee; whether small entity status is being changed or claimed; the amount of the maintenance fee and any surcharge being paid; any assigned payor number; the patent issue date; and the United States application filing date. See 37 CFR 1.366(d).

Failure to provide at least the two above-named mandatory identifiers will likely result in the non-acceptance of the maintenance fee payment. The date the two mandatory identifiers and the required fee are submitted is the date the maintenance fee payment is credited as being made.

f. Payor Number

In order to simplify changes in address by patent owners having several patents, and data input by the Patent and Trademark Office, a "payor number" will be assigned to each fee address when a fee address is presented to the Office in a patent or earlier upon request. A request for a payor number before a maintenance fee is paid or due will permit a patent owner to request that the fee address and payor number be recorded in the Office records of the patents owned on which maintenance fees are due so that all notices relating to maintenance fees will be sent to the fee address.

When a fee address has been specified as provided by 37 CFR 1.363, that address is assigned a "payor number". Processing time can be greatly reduced if practitioners cite that "payor number" when submitting a maintenance fee payment.

The Patent and Trademark Office has established a procedure for assigning a payor number upon request by a patent owner or a party responsible for paying maintenance fees. Such a party may be, for example, the finance office of a corporation or of a separate organization specializing in maintenance fee payments.

Under the procedure, a patent owner or other party may request a payor number for a particular fee address by writing to:

Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Box M. Fee
Washington, DC 20231

Each request for a payor number should include the:

- fee address to be used by the Office, and
- telephone number of the fee addressee to be used to resolve problems.

After receipt of a payor number, it may be used to indicate to the Patent and Trademark Office the fee address to be used in particular patents on which maintenance fees will become due and in applications in which issue fees have been or are being paid. Any request for entry of a payor number or fee address in the Office records of a patent, however, must be signed by the patent owner or his or her attorney or agent of record.

After a payor number has been assigned, it should be used in all future maintenance fee payments and related correspondence. However, where a payor number has not been previously entered in the Office records for a particular patent, the mere indication of a payor number at the time of payment of the maintenance fee, without the signature of the patent owner or the owner's attorney or agent of record, will not serve to make the payor number of record in the Office for that patent.

The problems which most often arise in connection with attempts to establish a fee address in a particular patent or group of patents is that the request is being signed by an attorney who is not of record in each of the patents. This results in the request being entered only in part.

Also, when the request is signed by an owner of the patent, the records of the Assignment Branch do not always reflect such ownership. Where the assignment was recorded prior to Dec. 1980, it would help the Office if the PTO reel and frame number of the assignment recordation were presented in the paper requesting that a fee address be entered, and if the person signing the request would indicate his or her title.

g. Public Availability of Maintenance Fee Petitions/Decisions

Maintenance fee petitions and decisions thereon are public records. Copies thereof can be obtained by submitting a written request to the Certification Branch. The request should state the patent number and serial number. The charge for the copies is currently $.50 per page.

14. NEW PATENT APPLICATIONS

a. Attorney Docket Number on Incomplete/Missing Parts Notices

In response to several requests from patent attorneys, the PTO is now entering the attorney docket number on the Notice of Incomplete Application and Notice to File Missing Parts of Application.

The attorney docket number which will be entered on the Notice will be that which was submitted on the transmittal letter as filed with a new patent application. The number must be clearly identified as an "attorney docket number."

If the Office makes a mistake in recording the attorney docket number on the Notice of Incomplete Application or the Notice to File Missing Parts of Application, such mistake is not to be used by the attorney as cause for delay in response. Nor is the attorney to request that the Office correct the docket number prior to response to the Notice. The attorney can notify the Office in the response, but no change will be made by the Office until the Filing Receipt is issued.

If the attorney wishes to change the attorney docket number from that which was entered on transmittal letter as filed, the request must be submitted through amendment, submitted to the Patent Examining Corp.

b. Continuation or Divisional—Retaining Original Claim

When filing under Rule 1.60, retain at least one original claim from the parent application to assure a complete application. Only amendments reducing the number of claims or adding a reference to the prior application [Rule 1.78(a)] will be entered, upon request, before calculating the filing fee and granting the filing date.

Reminder: Applicant cannot file a CIP (continuation-in-part) under Rule 1.60.

c. Continuation or Divisional—Problems

Applications are often filed incorrectly under 37 CFR 1.60. This causes problems not only for applicants but also for the Patent and Trademark Office. Filing dates are not granted to applications which do not comply with the rules. As a result, petitions with fees are required to be filed in such applications before a filing date will be granted.

Most often, the problems that arise in this area can be characterized as the following:

(1) Applicants continue to fail to comply with the requirements of 37 CFR 1.60 with regard to what must be submitted upon filing under the rule. This is true even after the clarifying amendments (effective Apr. 1, 1984) were made to the rule.
A true copy of the prior application must be filed including the specification (with claims), drawings, oath or declaration showing the applicant's signature or an indication it was signed, and any amendments referred to in the oath or declaration filed to complete the prior application.

(2) Applicants are using transmittal forms which request filings under 37 CFR 1.62 when it was really desired to file a divisional application under 37 CFR 1.60 and not to abandon the parent application.

d. File Wrapper Continuation—Preliminary Amendment

Many continuation applications filed under 37 CFR 1.62 contain no preliminary amendment to the claims which were finally rejected in the parent application. The result is a first action final rejection of these claims. Applicants should file any desired amendments at the time the application if filed under 37 CFR 1.62, since the Office is treating these applications as "Special" and an action on the merits will be rendered quite promptly.

To expedite processing under Rule 1.62, make certain that the parent serial number cited in the transmittal letter is the correct serial number.

e. File Wrapper Continuation—Problems

Applications continue to be filed incorrectly under both 37 CFR 1.60 and 37 CFR 1.62. Filing dates are not granted to applications which do not comply with the rules. As a result, petitions with fees are required to be filed in such applications before a filing date will be granted.

The problems that most frequently arise in this area can be characterized as the following:

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1991 UMI

(1) Applications have been filed with a transmittal form requesting filing under 37 CFR 1.60 when it was intended to file under 37 CFR 1.62. The confusion in the record of such applications must be clarified by a decision on petition before the applications can be processed for examination.

(2) Some applicants fail to realize that the parent application is abandoned by the filing of a continuing application under 37 CFR 1.62. Paragragh (g) of 37 CFR 1.62 states:

> "The filing of a request for a continuing application under this section will be considered to be a request to expressly abandon the prior application as of the filing date granted the continuing application."

Correction after such a mistaken filing under 37 CFR 1.62 usually requires a revival of the parent application under 37 CFR 1.137(a) or (b) which expends resources of both the applicant and the PTO.

(3) Some applicants are attempting to file continuing applications under 37 CFR 1.62 after payment of the issue fee in the patent application. Such applications are improper and are not entitled to a filing date. Additionally, such filings will not affect the prior application; i.e., the parent application may issue as a patent. Paragraph (a) of 37 CFR 1.62 specifies that continuing applications may be filed under 37 CFR 1.62 "before the payment of the issue fee, abandonment of, or termination of proceedings on the prior application".

(4) Some applicants are attempting to file continuation-in-part applications under 37 CFR 1.62 with a new specification rather than with the changes made by amendment to the prior application. As stated in 37 CFR 1.62(a), filings under 37 CFR 1.62 use the specification of the prior application.

Paragraph (c) of 37 CFR 1.62 also states:

> "In the case of a continuation-in-part application which adds and claims additional disclosure by amendment, an oath or declaration as required by $ 1.63 must also be filed..." (emphasis added)

(5) The request for a FWC must contain the original signature of the inventor, assignee, attorney or agent of record, or attorney or agent filing under representative capacity. [1.34(a)]

f. Information Disclosure Citation—Form PTO 1449

The Public is encouraged to use Form PTO 1449, "Information Disclosure Citation," when preparing a statement under 37 CFR 1.97-1.99 (see MPEP $609). This form provides the Office with a uniform way of listing the citations and a vehicle from which the information thereon can be printed on the issued patent.

Some citations are being presented on various forms prepared by the public rather then on Form PTO 1449. As a result, delays are cropping up in the printing process because the printer has difficulty in following the various formats and is having to query the examiner each time a non-PTO 1449 form is used.

Note that listing citations on Form PTO 1449 does not raise an irrebuttable presumption that the citation is prior art. A holding by an examiner that any citation on Form PTO 1449 is prior art to claimed subject matter can be rebutted by procedures commonly used to rebut the prior art status of an examiner's citations on Form PTO 1449, "Notice of References Cited".

Among the information that should be provided on Form PTO 1449 is the date of publication of the citation. In addition, it is helpful if the class and subclass of each citation is provided. It is appreciated that classification information may not be known at the time Form PTO 1449 is prepared. When classification information is not known, draw a line in the boxes under the class and subclass heading adjacent to the citation for which classification information is not known.

g. Petition for License

Rule 5.12 states that "filing of an application for patent for inventions made in the United States will be considered to include a petition for license under 35 USC 184 for the subject of the application. The filing receipt will indicate a license is granted." There is no need to request a corrected filing receipt deleting the words "License Granted." Its intent is to provide the necessary acknowledgement for those filing abroad.

h. Processing and Retention Fees for Abandoned Applications

An application, which has become abandoned pursuant to 37 CFR 1.53(d) for failure to pay the filing fee, will be disposed of unless the processing and retention fee set forth in §1.21(1) is paid within the 1-year period referred to in § 1.53(d). Moreover, the processing and retention fee must be timely paid in order to obtain certified copies of the application (e.g., for convention priority purposes) or to establish in a later filed application the filing date benefit of an earlier copending application under 35 USC 120 and 37 CFR 1.78(a)(3). Therefore, an application which has become abandoned for the reasons set forth above should be immediately reviewed in order to timely determine the advisability of submitting a processing and retention fee payment.

i. Surcharge for Filing a Patent Application

Filing dates are accorded to applications filed without the basic filing fee and without the oath or declaration. In such cases, a notice is mailed by Application Branch requiring at least the basic filing fee and the oath or declaration, accompanied by a surcharge [37 CFR 1.16(e)]. In numerous instances, applicants fail to submit the surcharge causing the application to become abandoned. See 37 CFR 1.53(d) and MPEP §506.

15. PATENT COOPERATION TREATY APPLICATIONS

a. Responses Filed in International Applications

The 18 month publication deadline for international applications filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) is critical. Therefore, it is in applicant's interest to respond timely to an invitation to correct a PCT Article 14 defect. An untimely response can result in the withdrawal of the international application under Article 14 and PCT Rule 26. If an extension to respond is needed, call the person who signed the invitation before the expiration of the time limit. The PTO will strictly comply with PCT Article 14 and Rule 26 in holding international applications withdrawn when responses are untimely or not filed.

b. Early Notification of Receipt of PCT Designated Office Cases

If you would like to have early notification that the PTO has received requirements under 35 U.S.C. 371 to enter the Designated Office phase, you should send two self-addressed, stamped postcards with those requirements. The first postcard will be date stamped and returned to you upon receipt of the requirements by the PCT staff. The second postcard will be sent to you when the case is released to the Mail Room to join the regular flow of national applications. The second postcard will be stamped with the U.S. serial number. If only one postcard is sent, it will be marked with the U.S. serial number but will remain with the application until requirements are completed and the case is released.

When corrections of PCT Rule 91 obvious errors in the description, claims or abstract are submitted together with corrections of defects under PCT Article 14, the transmittal letter should clearly note the Rule 91 corrections. This is necessary because, under PCT Rule 91.1(e), the Receiving Office can authorize the rectification of obvious errors only in the Request (Form PCT/RO/101), while Searching Authority authorization is needed for obvious errors in the description, claims or abstract. When the transmittal letter clearly notes the Rule 91 corrections, Searching Authority authorization of any obvious errors in the description, claims or abstract can be expedited.

Call PCT on 557-2003 if you have questions concerning responses filed during the international stage for international applications under the PCT.

16. PATENT COPIES

a. Coupon Ordering Service

Some problems being experienced in successfully filing coupon orders are:

@ No return address or Box Number
- Incorrect return address or box number
- Missing name of person(s) ordering copies (although the PTO attempts to send such orders, they are frequently returned by the receiving organization).
- Failure to identity whether request is for patent, trademark, or design copy.
- Failure to identity the patent, trademark, or design number being requested. Identification by application serial number is not acceptable.
- Inappropriate use of coupon for ordering a foreign patent (Foreign patents are $10.00 per copy and should be ordered through the Scientific Library).
- Insufficient payment (any coupons valued less that $1.50 must accompany additional payment either by check, money order, or additional coupons).

To ensure coupon orders can be successfully filled, please include a patent/trademark/design number, complete name, return address/box number, and the sufficient fee.

b. Electronic Ordering Service

Copies may be ordered electronically through the PTO's Electronic Ordering Service (EOS) rather than placing orders through the mail. With EOS, orders are received the same day they are placed, thereby reducing the turnaround time by about seven days. Orders can be placed any day, 24 hours a day.

To use EOS you need a standard computer terminal and modem. If you have any questions about equipment or the technical aspects of EOS, call (202) 377-2535.

The copy costs are $1.50 for each patent and trademark, and $6.00 for each plant patent. In addition, there will be a communication cost. This has been averaging 10 cents per copy; could range up to 25 cents on single orders.

Our regulations require that we receive payment for services before they are rendered. For this reason, a PTO deposit account is a prerequisite for becoming an EOS user. There are two types of PTO deposit accounts. One is an unrestricted account which can be used for any service PTO provides. This account requires a minimum balance of $1,000. The second type of account, the restricted deposit account, is available only for EOS and for subscriptions for copies of newly issued patents by subject matter classification. The restricted account requires a minimum balance of $300.

If you would like to become an EOS user or if you have questions, call (703) 557-7261.

c. Subscription Services

When submitting changes to subscription accounts, allow approximately two months from the date mailed to the Patent and Trademark Office for changes to become effective. The reason for the two month delay is to allow for changes to be recorded, data entered, and the automated system to be updated.

17. PETITIONS TO REVIVE

a. Request and Fee for Extension Not Required

Frequently, a petition to revive an abandoned application is accompanied by an unnecessary request and fee for extension of time. Our policy is set forth in MPEP 711.03(c). Specifically, a response does not require a request and fee for extension of time as a condition of revival.

b. Terminal Disclaimer

A petition to revive an abandoned application is often accompanied by an unnecessary terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimed is required only when a grantable petition based on unavoidable delay is not filed within six months of the date of abandonment [37 CFR 1.137(a) and 1.137(c)]. It follows that a terminal disclaimer should not accompany a petition based on unintentional abandonment [37 CFR 1.137(b)]. In these respects, analogous reasoning applies to petitions to accept late payment of the issue fee under 37 CFR 1.155 or 1.316.

When a terminal disclaimer is a necessary component of the petition, the period to be disclaimed must equal the number of months between the date of abandonment and the date a grantable petition is filed. The date of abandonment is the date the period for response has expired [see MPEP 711.04(a)]. This is normally the end of the three month shortened statutory period. Moreover, the terminal disclaimer should employ the format shown in Figure 1.

18. POWER TO INSPECT

a. Power of Attorney

The Office receives letters granting power to inspect patent applications. These may only be granted by the attorney of record or inventor. Sometimes the person signing the power is not authorized to do so, causing delay until proper authorization is received. Copies of completed applications cannot be made during the preexamination process. They can be inspected, but not pulled from the work flow to have copies made.

b. Withdrawal of Attorney

To expedite requests for permission to withdraw as attorney under 37 CFR § 1.36, submit the request in triplicate (original and two copies) and indicate thereon the present mailing addresses of the attorney who is withdrawing and of the applicant. The examining group number should also appear on all such requests. Because the Office does not recognize law firms, each attorney of record must sign the notice of withdrawal, or the notice of withdrawal must contain a clear indication of one attorney signing on behalf of another.

A request to withdraw is effective when approved rather than when received. This is particularly important when such requests are submitted toward the end of the period for response. There should be at least 30 days between approval of withdrawal and the expiration date of a time response period so that the applicant will have time to obtain other representation or take other action. If less than 30 days remains in a running response period, a request to withdraw is normally disapproved.

If a period has been set for response and the period may be extended [without a showing of cause pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a)] by filing a petition for extension of time and fee, it is not necessary to seek such extension of time for withdrawal to be approved. In such a situation, however, withdrawal will not be appproved unless at least 30 days would remain between the date of approval and the last date on which such a petition for extension of time and fee could properly be filed.

19. REISSUES

a. Amendments

To avoid unnecessary delays in the issuance of reissue applications, applicants and their attorneys are reminded to exercise caution and give sufficient attention to 37 CFR 1.121(a) and (e) in presenting reissue amendments. The practices and procedures vary somewhat from regular utility application amendments.

MPEP Sec. 1455 provides guidance for proper entry of amendments and claim numbering. Publication of the reissue application(s) may be needlessly postponed while formal irregularities are corrected.

b. Oaths and/or Declarations

Since standard oath and declaration forms are not used in reissue applications, applicants are commonly neglecting to include averments required by 37 CFR 1.63 per 37 CFR 1.175(a). The most frequent omissions involve the "duty of disclosure" acknowledgment, and the "reviewed and understands" statement. Such omissions usually necessitate additional handling and correspondence, and cause undue time delays, which result in postponement of publication of the reissue patent.

A frequent problem in reissue practice is the failure of applicants to satisfactorily comply with 37 CFR 1.175 regarding the description of all errors of the original patent in the reissue oath or declaration. Applicants are required to specify errors in the original reissue oath or declaration at the time of filing the reissue application. They must also specify, in a supplemental oath or declaration, any errors brought to their attention during the prosecution, as well as the circumstances surrounding the occurrence or discovery of these errors. Every departure from the original patent represents an "error" and must be particularly and distinctly specified and supported in the original, or a supplemental, reissue oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.175. See MPEP Sec. 1414 and 1444. Postponement of publication of the reissue patent may result if these requirements are not met at the time of allowance.

20. SMALL ENTITY STATUS

a. Small Entity Statements

Verified statements claiming small entity status, where appropriate, would best be signed and submitted at the time the application oath or declaration is signed to permit filing of the statement with the application. This would reduce correspondence between attorney and client, reduce paper handling by the PTO support staff and the PTO Finance Branch, and greatly simplify the processing of subsequent papers involving fees. If small entity status is being claimed for the first time at the time of payment of the issue fee, a verified statement claiming small entity status should be submitted with the fee. See MPEP $509.03.

21. TRADEMARKS

a. Application Drawings

To avoid delays in processing new trademark applications, the drawing should have the following information in the upper left hand corner:

- Drawing title.
- Applicant's name and address.
- First use date.
- First use in interstate commerce date.
- Goods, services or both

b. File Histories

When requesting trademark file histories, the "status date" (i.e., date abandoned) must be provided to fill the order if the file is abandoned. If not known, this information can be obtained from TRAM. The request will be returned unfilled if this date is not provided.

c. Post Registration

Section 8 Affidavit or Declaration Held Insufficient During Post Registration Examination — The Trademark Act of 1946, Section 8(a) was amended Aug. 27, 1982, Public Law 97-247 (96 Stat. 317), to clarify that the continued use required to be shown in the sixth year under Section 8(a) be used "in commerce."

Subsequently the Trademark Rules were amended on Jan. 28, 1983 (48 Federal Register 3977), to require that all Section 8(a) affidavits or declarations "state that the registered mark is in use in commerce and specify the nature of such commerce." [37 C.F.R. Section 2.162(e)].

The affidavit or declaration must be filed between the fifth and sixth year following the date of registration and it must contain a statement that the "mark is in use in commerce," with evidence thereof. There may be no extensions of time beyond the sixth year for submission of this statement and evidence of use of the mark in commerce. However, if the timely-filed affidavit or declaration does not set forth the type of commerce, the registrant will be given six months to submit that information even though the sixth year may have expired. The rules do not provide for any further extensions of time beyond the six months.

While the Post Registration Division will allow up to six months to respond to a letter from the office, a supplemental or substitute affidavit or declaration required by Section 8(a) will not be considered unless it is received before the expiration of the six year anniversary of the registration. It is suggested that registrants file Section 8(a) affidavits as early as possible between the fifth and sixth year following registration to allow time to submit an affidavit or declaration which is correct, if required.

Signatures —The corporate title of the affiant/declarant is often missing. Occasionally, the affidavit/declaration is unsigned.

Assignments —It will speed up the processing of Section 8 affidavits and renewal applications if the affiant/declarant will furnish the reel and frame number and the date(s) of recordation with the USPTO Assignment Section of any relevant assignment, merger, change of name, or other transfer.

Fees —Many of the affidavits and applications for renewal contain insufficient fees. The fee schedule for these transactions done in the Post Registration is listed below:

(1)	For filing an application for renewal of a registration, per class	$300.00
(2)	For filing an affidavit under Section 8 of the Act, per class	$100.00
(3)	For filing an affidavit under Section 15 of the Act, per class	$100.00
(4)	For filing a combined affidavit under Sections 8 and 15 of the Act, per class	$200.00

If you have any questions, please call (703) 557-3061.

Department of Commerce
Patent and Trademark Office
37 CFR Parts 1 and 2
[Docket No. 81024-9018]

Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is amending the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases, Parts 1 and 2 of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, to adjust patent fee amounts and to reduce certain trademark fee amounts. The Office will be extending the comment period on the proposed amendments of the rules of practice in patent cases which would clarify requirements in the filing of applications and provide for procedures for applicants to cure certain defects in the filing of applications. After comments are received, the PTO will issue a notice of final rulemaking addressing these proposals.

Establishment and adjustment of patent fees is provided for by sections 6 and 41 of Title 35, United States Code, and section 103(b) of Pub. L. 100-703. Establishment and adjustment of trademark fees is provided for by section 31 of the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113) and section 103(c) of Pub. L. 100-703.

Effective Date: Apr. 17, 1989.

For Further Information Contact :Frances Michalkewicz by telephone at (703) 557-1610 or by mail marked to her attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Supplementary Information : Patent fees were set on Oct. 1, 1982, in accordance with the provisions of Title 35, United States

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JAN 1 1991 UMI

Code (Pub. L. 97-247). Patent fees were adjusted effective Oct. 5, 1985, in accordance with the provisions of Title 35, United States Code. Trademark fees were set on Oct. 1, 1982, in accordance with the provisions of section 31 of the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. section 1113) and adjusted on Oct. 1, 1986, in accordance with the provisions of that Act and Title 35. On Nov. 6, 1986, legislation modifying the way fee adjustments could be made was enacted as Pub. L. 99-607. The fee adjustment provisions of Pub. L. 99-607, sections 3(a) and 3(b) expired on Sept. 30, 1988. On Nov. 19, 1988, legislation extending section 3(a) and section 3(b) of Pub. L. 99-607 was enacted as Pub. L. 100-703. Therefore, patent and trademark fee adjustments will be guided by the provisions of Title 35, United States Code, and the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113), and by Pub. L. 100-703.

The Patent and Trademark Office is amending 37 CFR 2.6 to reduce the fee for filing an application for trademark registration from $200 to $175 per class. The Office also is reducing the fee for recording trademark assignments and agreements or other papers relating to the property in a registration or application from $100 to $8 for each mark in the same document.

Effective Oct. 1, 1982, trademark operations within the Office became 100 percent user-fee funded. Experience to date has demonstrated that the fees first established in Oct. 1982, and as later adjusted in Oct. 1986, are more than adequate to meet total trademark function costs. At the end of fiscal year 1988, total trademark function fees exceeded total trademark function costs by approximately $10 million. Left undisturbed, it is projected that the current trademark fee structure will result in an additional $12.7 million in excess fees over the course of the next three-year fee cycle. Thus, by the end of fiscal year 1991, total trademark fees are projected to exceed total trademark costs by almost $23 million if the current fee structure remains in place.

In this light, the Office is proposing to reduce both the trademark application and assignment fees. Reducing the application fee to $175 would be consistent with the legislative history surrounding passage of Pub. L. 97-247. In its report (H. Rep. No. 97-542, May 17, 1982), the House Committee on the Judiciary stated that, "It is expected that the Commissioner will set the [trademark] fees in a way that the filing fee will be kept as low as possible to foster use of the Federal registration system." The application filing fee from Oct. 1982 to Oct. 1986 was $175. The filing fee was increased in 1986 to $200 in an effort to recover a greater percentage of the actual costs incurred in the processing of trademark applications. While the reduction will increase the discrepancy between the application filing fee and our projected unit cost, the size of the current "surplus," as well as the objective of encouraging filings, supports the action.

Reducing the fee for recording trademark assignments to $8 for each mark makes such fees consistent with those for the recording of patent assignments.

While the fee reductions still will leave a healthy "surplus," prudence suggests that further reductions be held in abeyance pending implementation of "The Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988" (Pub. L. 100-667). The Act, among other things, permits applicants to file applications for Federal trademark registrations based upon a bona fide "intent-to-use" the mark in commerce. Implementation of "intent-to-use" legislation will require the Office to incur additional expenditures, such as increased personnel costs and improved computer capabilities. The Office will review its trademark fee structure approximately 18 months from implementation and propose further fee adjustments if warranted but will not propose to adjust the application and assignment fees.

Even absent "intent-to-use," the Office will probably be required to upgrade its computer capabilities within the near future. Moreover, implementation of an automated trademark assignment system, now scheduled for fiscal year 1990, and other improvements in automated searching, will result in increased demands on trademark resources.

BACKGROUND:

Provisions of Title 35 and Title 15, United States Code, and Pub. L. 100-703 Which Affect This Notice of Final Rulemaking

Patent and Trademark Office fees are authorized by 35 U.S.C. 41 and 35 U.S.C. 376. Section 41(a) of Title 35, United States Code, establishes a number of statutory fees. Among the more significant of these are fees for filing a patent application and issuing a patent. Certain other fees, such as appeal fees, the fee for filing a disclaimer, fees for filing petitions seeking to revive an abandoned application and for extensions of time also are set in 35 U.S.C. 41(a). Section 41(b) of Title 35, United States Code, sets forth the statutory fees for maintaining a patent in force if the application was filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982.

The provisions of Pub. L. 96-517 also establish maintenance fees for patents other than design and plant patents issued on applications filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 and before Aug. 27, 1982. These maintenance fees are to recover 25 percent of the estimated cost to the Office of processing patent applications.

Section 1 of Pub. L. 97-247 authorized the reduction by 50 percent in the fees paid under 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and 35 U.S.C. 41(b) by independent inventors, small business concerns, and nonprofit organizations, who meet the definitions established. Section 1(a)(2) of Pub. L. 99-607 makes this provision permanent in 35 U.S.C. 41(h).

Section 41(f) of Title 35, United States Code, provides that fees established in 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and 35 U.S.C.41(b), "may be adjusted by the Commissioner on Oct. 1, 1985, and every third year thereafter, to reflect any fluctuations occurring during the previous three years in the Consumer Price Index, as determined by the Secretary of Labor." Section 41(f) also provides that changes of less than one percent may be ignored. Pub. L. 100-703 makes no modifications to 35 U.S.C. 41(f).

Section 41(d) of Title 35, United States Code, provides that the "Commissioner will establish fees for all other processing, services, or materials related to patents" which are not covered in 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and 35 U.S.C. 41(b), "to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing, services or materials."

Section 103(b) of Pub. L. 100-703 changes the way fees established under 35 U.S.C. 41(d) can be adjusted. For fiscal years 1989, 1990, and 1991, the Commissioner cannot increase fees established under 41(d) except for the purposes of making adjustments which in the aggregate do not exceed fluctuations during the previous three years in the Consumer Price Index.

Section 103(b) of Pub. L. 100-703 provides that the Commissioner cannot establish additional fees under 35 U.S.C. 41(d) during fiscal years 1989, 1990, and 1991.

Section 376 of Title 35, United States Code, authorizes the Commissioner to set fees for patent applications filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty. The fees under the Patent Cooperation Treaty are keyed to full cost recovery of the processing costs under the Treaty. Pub. L. 100-703 makes no modifications to 35 U.S.C. 376.

Section 31 of the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113) authorizes the Commissioner to establish fees for the filling and processing of an application for the registration of a trademark or other mark, and for all other services and materials relating to trademarks and other marks. No fee for the filing or processing of an application for the registration of a trademark or other mark or for the renewal or assignment of a trademark or other mark will be adjusted more than once every three years. The House Committee on the Judiciary, in a report that accompanied H.R. 6260, which ultimately was enacted as Pub. L. 97-247, recommended a trademark fee schedule to the Commissioner which was established by a rule published in the Federal Register on July 30, 1982 at 47 FR 33086, effective Oct. 1, 1982.

A final rule to increase the trademark application filing fee per class and the fee for copies of trademarks was published in the Federal Register on Aug. 4, 1986 at 51 FR 28052. The increased fees became effective on Oct. 1, 1986.

Section 103(a) of Pub. L. 100-703 changes the way fees established under the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113) can be adjusted. For fiscal years 1989, 1990 and 1991, the Commissioner cannot increase fees established under the Act except for the purposes of making adjustments which in the aggregate do not exceed fluctuations during the previous three years in the Consumer Price Index.

Section 103(a) of Pub. L. 100-703 provides that the Commissioner cannot establish additional fees under the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113) during fiscal years 1989, 1990, and 1991.

However, as described above, the Office is only reducing the fee for filing an application, per class, and the fee for recording trademark assignments and agreements or other papers relating to the property in a registration or application.

Final Rule Changes

General Procedures

Cost Calculations : The Office calculated unit costs for all fees based on OMB Circular A-25, "User Fees," and OMB Circular A-130, "Management of Federal Information Resources." Costs were determined from the best available records (for example, the 1987 end of fiscal year financial statements for the Office) and included direct and indirect costs to the Office of carrying out the activity, as directed by OMB Circular A-25. To estimate costs for the three-year fee cycle Apr. 1989-Mar. 1992, the 1987 actual costs were adjusted by the inflation rates from Oct. 1988 through Mar. 1989, and then by a mid-cycle inflation rate for the period Apr. 1989-Mar. 1992. The total inflation rate was 12.644 percent derived from the Administration's inflation projection.

Workload Projections

Determination of future year workloads varies by fee code. Principal workload projection techniques are as follows:

Patent and trademark application workloads were projected from statistical regression models using recent application trends. Associated application workloads, for example, patent claims and extensions of time, grow relative to patent applications. Patent issues are projected from an in-house patent productivity model and reflect examiner production achievements and goals. Patent maintenance fee workloads utilize patents issued 3.5, 7.5 and 11.5 years prior to payment and assume payment rates of 80 percent, 50 percent and 25 percent, respectively. Trademark affidavits and renewals are based on prior year registrations and renewal trends. Service fee workloads follow linear trends from prior year activities. All workload estimates are approved by the manager responsible for the fee program.

Policy for applying the Consumer Price Index : The Office of Management and Budget has determined that the Patent and Trademark Office should use Consumer Price Index-U (CPI) to adjust patent fees. The Department of Labor's Consumer Price Index is made public approximately twenty-one days after the end of the month being calculated. The time lag between the initiation and the completion of the rulemaking process dictates that the Dec. 1988 through Mar. 1989 inflation rate be projected. The Administration's projected cumulative CPI for the three-year period Apr. 1986-Mar. 1989 is 10.311 percent.

The fee amounts being adopted by this rule package were adjusted by the CPI that was projected in 1988, i.e., 10.303 percent. Since this is less than the amount the Office has determined to be the actual projected rate and that applying the updated projection of 10.311 percent would have a negligible effect on the fee amounts, no changes have been made.

Rounding Procedures : After application of the 10.303 percent projected fluctuation in the CPI to fees, amounts were rounded by applying standard arithmetical rules so that the amounts rounded would be de minimis and convenient to the user. Fees of $100 or more were rounded to the nearest $10. Fees between $10 and $99 were rounded to the nearest even number so that the comparable small entity fee would be a whole number. Fees under $2 were rounded for convenience.

Since the amounts of the patent fees that went into effect on Oct. 5, 1985 were rounded after application of the Consumer Price Index, a first step in calculating new fee amounts was to eliminate any effects of rounding prior years' fee adjustments. For example, 35 U.S.C. 41(a), sets the patent application filing fee at $300.00. Applying the 11.8 percent CPI for the period 1983-1985 resulted in an allowable increase to $335.40. This amount was rounded to $340.00. For purposes of this fee adjustment process, the base used to adjust fees for the next fee cycle was the "unrounded" fee amount; i.e., the $335.40 for patent application filing fees. Similarly, the cost for certifying Office records was $2.70. This amount was rounded to $3.00. For the purposes of this fee adjustment process, the base was unrounded amount of $2.70.

It should be noted that following routine rounding off practices can result in some fee items being adjusted by more or less than CPI. This divergence from the CPI ceiling will only exist in the short term because of the policy of applying the CPI adjustment factor to the unrounded amount from the previous fee cycle.

Proposed Rule Changes Under Title 35 and Title 15, United States Code and Pub. L. 100-703

Statutory patent fees established under 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and 35 U.S.C. 41(b) are adjusted in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 41(f) to reflect any fluctuations occurring during the previous three years in the CPI.

Non-statutory patent fees established under 35 U.S.C. 41(d) are adjusted in accordance with section 103(b) of Pub. L. 100-703 to reflect, in the aggregate, any fluctuations occurring during the previous three years (Apr. 1986-Mar. 1989) in the Consumer Price Index, as determined by the Secretary of Labor.

Fees established under 35 U.S.C. 376 are adjusted to recover the full cost of processing under the Patent Cooperation Treaty. International patent fees under 37 CFR 1.492 are related to patent fees established under 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and are adjusted to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

For fees established under section 31 of the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113), the Office is reducing the fee for filing an application, per class, and the fee for recording trademark assignments and agreements or other papers relating to the property in a registration or application as fully described above.

Fee Adjustment Methodology

1. PROJECTED ACTUAL COSTS.

The projected actual costs for all fee items were calculated by applying the principles of OMB Circulars A-25 and A-130.

a. Statutory patent fees were derived by: (1) identifying those operational units of the Office involved in, or contributing to, the processing of a patent application through all phases of examination; (2) identifying and certifying actual fiscal year 1987 obligations incurred by the operational units in processing an application; (3) projecting those obligations to the period of Apr. 1989 through Mar. 1992 in accordance with approved budgets and future year budget targets; and (4) increasing the obligations projected for the period of Apr. 1989 through Mar. 1992 by the Administration's estimates for federal pay raise adjustments and projected inflation. Projected actual costs for Apr. 1989-Mar. 1992, $729,810,051 less projected budget authority of $265,834,000, are $463,976,051.

b. For non-statutory patent fees, projected costs for each fee item were established by (1) identifying actual costs for 1987, and (2) projecting actual costs for fiscal years 1988 through Mar. 1992 by applying the Administration's inflation projection of 12.644 percent. This projected actual cost was then multiplied by the projected workload for each fee item. The sum of the projected costs for all fee items is the projected actual cost of operation during the three-year fee cycle. Projected actual costs for Apr. 1989-Mar. 1992 are $64,661,341.

c. The same methodologies as described in paragraphs (a) and (b) above were applied to Patent Cooperation Treaty fees. Projected actual costs for Apr. 1989-Mar. 1992 are $16,531,990.

d. The same methodology as described in paragraph (b) above was applied to Trademark fees. Projected actual costs for Apr. 1989-Mar. 1992 are calculated to be $74,329,783.

2. INCOME PROJECTIONS

a. The maximum amount of statutory fee income that the Office is authorized to recover under 35 U.S.C. 41f) was calculated as follows.

For each statutory patent fee, the unrounded base (i.e., the 1986 adjusted fee before rounding) was multiplied by the projected CPI fluctuation of 10.303 percent for the three-year period

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

Apr. 1986-Mar. 1989. This amount was then multiplied by the projected workload for Apr. 1989-Mar. 1992 to project the income from that fee item during the Apr. 1989-Mar. 1992 fee cycle. The sum of the projected incomes from all statutory patent fees is the maximum amount that the Office is authorized by 35 U.S.C. 41(f) to recover during the fee cycle and is equal to $464,676,178.

b. The maximum amount of non-statutory fee income that the Office is authorized to recover under § 103(b) of Pub. L. 100-703 was calculated as follows.

For each non-statutory patent fee, the unrounded base (i.e., the 1986 adjusted fee before rounding) was multiplied by the projected CPI fluctuation of 10.303 percent for the three-year period Apr. 1986-Mar. 1989. This amount was then multiplied by the projected workload for Apr. 1989-Mar. 1992 to project the income from that fee item during the Apr. 1989-Mar. 1992 fee cycle. The sum of the projected incomes from all non-statutory patent fees is the maximum amount that the Office is authorized by section 103(b) of Pub. L. 100-703 to recover during the fee cycle and is equal to $62,101,874.

c. For Patent Cooperation Treaty fees, the Office is authorized by 35 U.S.C. 376 to recover the full cost of processing under the Treaty. Thus, the projected costs identified in paragraph 1(c) for Patent Cooperation Treaty fees of $16,531,990 would be the maximum level of recovery.

d. The maximum amount of trademark fee income that the Office is authorized to recover under section 103(a) of Pub. L. 100-703 was calculated as follows.

For each trademark fee, the unrounded base (i.e., the 1986 adjusted fee before rounding) was multiplied by the projected CPI fluctuation of 10.303 percent for the three-year period Apr. 1986-Mar. 1989. This amount was then multiplied by the projected workload for Apr. 1989-Mar. 1992 to project the income from that fee item during the Apr. 1989-Mar. 1992 fee cycle. The sum of the projected incomes from all trademark fees is the maximum amount that the Office is authorized by section 103(a) of Pub. L. 100-703 to recover during the fee cycle and is equal to $107,704,135.

e. Each statutory patent fee amount identified in paragraph 2(a), and each PCT amount identified in paragraph 2(c) above was rounded according to the de minimis rounding rules described above.

Sections 103(a) and 103(b) of Pub. L. 100-703 allow the Office to set fees "in the aggregate." The fee amounts proposed for non-statutory patent fees and trademark fees will recover the maximum amount of income determined in paragraphs (b) and (d) above.

Each of these fee amounts was multiplied by the projected workload during the fee cycle to project the income from that fee item. The sum of the projected income from all patent fees is $542,281,082, which is the sum of the projected incomes from statutory patent fees, $463,626,421, non-statutory patent fees, $62,047,763, and Patent Cooperation Treaty fees, $16,606,898.

f. The Office reduced two trademark fees, as described above. Each trademark fee amount was multiplied by the projected workload during the fee cycle to project the income from that fee item. The sum of the projected income from all trademark fees is projected to be $72,972,690.

Summary:

Fee Category	Projected Cost April 1989- Mar 1992	Maximun Allowable Recovery	Projected Income April 1989 - Mar 1992
Statutory Patent	$463,976,051	$464,676,178	$463,626,421
Non-Statutory Patent	$64,661,341	$62,101,874	$62,047,763
PCT	$16,531,990	$16,531,990	$16,606,898
Total - Patent	$545,169,382	$543,310,042	$542,281,082
Total - Trademarks	$74,329,783	$107,704,135	$72,972,690
Total - All Fees	$619,499,165	$651,014,177	$615,253,772

The unit costs by fee item are summarized in Appendix A. The Office has detailed cost calculation worksheets for each fee item, which are available for public inspection in Suite 904 of Bldg. 2, Crystal Park at 2121 Crystal Dr., Arlington, Va.

It is intended that the amount of any fee due and payable on or after Apr. 17, 1989 is the amount set in this rulemaking. For purposes of determining the amount of the fee to be paid, the date of mailing indicated on a proper Certificate of Mailing, where authorized under 37 CFR 1.8, will be considered to be the date of receipt in the Office. A "Certificate of Mailing under Section 1.8" is not "proper" for items which are specifically excluded from the provisions of § 1.8. Section 1.8 should be consulted for those items for which a Certificate of Mailing is not "proper." Such items include, inter alia, the filing of national and international applications for patents and the filing of trademark applications. The provisions of 37 CFR 1.10, relating to filing of papers and fees by "Express Mail" with certificate, however, do apply to any paper or fee (including patent and trademark applications) to be filed in the Office. If an application or fee is filed by "Express Mail" with a certificate of express mailing dated on and after the effective date of the rules, the amount of the fee to be paid is the fee established herein if a change is being made in the fee. In order to ensure clarity in the implementation of the fee proposals, a discussion of specific sections is set forth below.

DISCUSSION OF SPECIFIC RULES

37 CFR § 1.12 Assignment records open to public inspection.

Section 1.12, paragraph (a) is amended to refer to the renumbered § 1.19(b)(4). Paragraph (c), is amended to refer to the renumbered § 1.17(i)(1).

37 CFR § 1.14 Patent applications preserved in secrecy.

Section 1.14, paragraph (e) is amended to would refer to the renumbered § 1.17(i)(1).

37 CFR § 1.16 National application filing fee.

Section 1.16 is amended to adjust patent application filing fees established in 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and set forth in 37 CFR 1.16(a)-(b), (d) and (f)-(i) to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

Section 1.16, paragraph (e) is amended as to adjust the patent application surcharge fee authorized by 35 U.S.C. 111 to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

37 CFR §1.17 Patent application processing fees.

Section 1.17 is amended to adjust patent application processing fees established in 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(a)-(g) and (l)-(m) to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

Section 1.17 is amended to adjust the patent application processing fees authorized by 35 U.S.C. 41(d) and set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(h)-(k) to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

Section 1.17 is amended to establish one fee amount for filing a petition to the Commissioner under 37 CFR sections 1.12, 1.14, 1.47, 1.48, 1.55, 1.103, 1.177, 1.182, 1.183, 1.295, 1.312, 1.313, 1.314, 1.334, 1.377, 1378(e), 1.644(e), 1.644(f), 1.666(b), 1.666(c), 5.12, 5.13, 5.14, 5.15, and 5.25. The fee would recover the estimated average cost to the Office of processing all petitions to the Commissioner mentioned above. In addition, the single fee for all petitions is expected to facilitate pre-processing of petition requests.

Section 1.17 is amended to provide in new paragraph (i)(2) and $80 fee for filing a petition to the Commissioner under 37 CFR 1.102 to make an application special.

37 CFR § 1.18 Patent issue fees

Section 1.18 is amended to adjust patent issue fees established in 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and set forth in 37 CFR 1.18(a)-(c) to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

37 CFR § 1.19 Document supply fees.

Section 1.19 is revised to adjust the fees authorized by 35 U.S.C. 41(d) for services and materials as set forth in 37 CFR 1.19 to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

Section 1.19(a)(2) is revised to adjust the fees for copies of plant patents and statutory invention registrations to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

Section 1.19, is revised to renumber paragraph (a)(5) as (a)(3) and provide for a flat fee for a certied copy of an Office document, for each 30 pages or fraction thereof.

Section 1.19 revises paragraphs (a)(4)-(a)(6) and (b)(4) to set the fees for the purchase of color copies of color drawings identified in utility patents and for expedited service for fulfillment of orders for patent copies and orders for copies of patent applications as filed. The provision for color drawings in utility patent applications is in § 1.84(p). Although color drawings may be permitted in a utility patent application by petition, copies of printed patents will only be provided in black and white. If a copy of the printed patent with copies of the drawings in color is desired, it must be separately ordered and accompanied by the fee proposed in paragraph (a)(4). The fees set forth in paragraphs (a)(5), (a)(6) and (b)(4) are for expedited processing of copy orders.

The Public Service Window (PSW) in the Patent Public Search Room referred to in proposed new paragraph 37 CFR 1.19(a)(5) is located on the lobby level of Crystal Plaza Bldg. 3. The Office rents numbered lock boxes (delivery boxes) to members of the public for copy order delivery purposes. Members of the public may place coupon orders at the PSW and request that the copies be delivered to their boxes at the PSW. PSW staff members receive and process the coupon orders and forward them to the copy fulfillment contractor. Upon receipt of the copies, PSW staff members place them in the appropriate delivery box for pickup by the box holder.

Section 1.19, paragraph (a) is revised to remove the charge for a microfiche copy of a microfiche.

Section 1.19 is revised to renumber paragraph (a)(3) as (b)(1) and provide for one fee for a certified copy of a patent application as filed.

Section 1.19 is revised to renumber paragraph (a)(4) as (b)(2) and provide for a flat fee for a certified copy of a patent file wrapper, and contents, with no limitation on the number of pages.

Section 1.19 is revised to renumber paragraph (a)(7) as (b)(3) and provide for one fee for a certified copy of a patent assignment record.

Section 1.19 is revised to renumber paragraph (b)(1) as (b)(5).

Section 1.19 is revised to renumber paragraph (b)(2) as (b)(6) and adjust the fee for a search of assignment records, abstract of title and certification, per patent to reflect fluctuations in CPI.

Section 1.19 is revised to remove paragraph (c) as the requirement for a special fee for providing subscription services has been eliminated. The Office will provide subscription services at no cost to the subscriber.

Section 1.19 is revised to renumber paragraph (d) as paragraph (c).

Section 1.19 is revised to renumber paragraph (e) to paragraph (d) and provide for a list of all United States patents and statutory invention registrations in a subclass, with no limit to the number at the proposed flat fee.

Section 1.19 is revised to remove paragraph (f).

Section 1.19 is revised to renumber paragraphs (g)-(j) as paragraphs (e)-(h) and adjust the fees to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

37 CFR § 1.20 Post-issuance fees.

Section 1.20, paragraphs (a)-(c) are amended to adjust patent post-issuance fees authorized by 35 U.S.C. 41(d) to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

Section 1.20 is amended to clarify the language in paragraph (a) that the fee charged is for a correction of an applicant's mistake.

Section 1.20, paragraphs (d) and (h)-(j) is amended to adjust patent post-issuance fees established in 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and 35 U.S.C. 41(b) to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

Section 1.20, paragraphs (e)-(g) are amended to adjust post-issuance fees authorized by 2 of Publ. L. 96-517, as modified by 404 of Pub. L. 98-622. These fees must be set at a level to eventually recover 25 percent of the estimated cost to the Office of processing patent applications. In order to achieve this level of recovery, these maintenance fees are adjusted to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

Section 1.20, paragraph (k) is amended to adjust the patent application surcharge fee authorized by 2 of Pub. L. 96-517.

Section 1.20, paragraph (l) is amended to adjust the post-issuance fee authorized by 35 U.S.C. 41(b).

Section 1.20, paragraph (m) is amended to adjust the post-issuance fee authorized by 35 U.S.C. 41(c)(1).

Section 1.20, paragraph (n) is amended to adjust the post-issuance fee authorized by Pub. L. 98-417 and 35 U.S.C. 156.

37 CFR § 1.21 Miscellaneous fees and charges.

Section 1.21 is amended to adjust the miscellaneous fees and charges authorized by 35 U.S.C. 41(d) and set forth in 37 CFR 1.21(a)-(b), (d)-(j) and (l)-(m) to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

Section 1.21(f) is further amended to establish a flat fee for conducting an inventor search of Office records for a ten-year period.

The CopiShare Card referred to in 37 CFR 1.21(g) relates to the photocopiers and reader/printers for use by members of the public in the Office's search facilities. Each photocopier and reader/printer is connected to an access device which affords access to the equipment through the use of a magnetic card which has been encoded with an amount pre-paid by the customer. The access devices, encoding equipment, and magnetic cards comprise an equipment access system called the CopiShare system. The magnetic CopiShare Cards are purchased by the public and encoded with an amount of funds paid to the Office. The customer places the encoded card in the device connected to the photocopier or reader/printer, and a pre-set amount is deducted for each copy produced.

The Office is planning to authorize the public to use credit cards for the purchase of CopiShare Cards. This will be a pilot program for accepting credit cards for fees, and if feasible, may be extended to other operations of the Office.

Section 1.21(h) is further amended to establish one fee for recording each property in an assignment, agreement or other paper relating to the property in a patent or application. The fee reflects increased costs to enhance the processing of assignments.

37 CFR § 1.26 Refunds.

Section 1.26 is amended to change pharagraph (c) to provide for a refund of $1,500 if the Commissioner decides not to institute reexamination proceedings. The $1,500 refund would apply to those instances where the proposed reexamination fee of $1,980 under 37 CFR 1.20(c) was paid. The current $1,300 refund will be made in those cases where the current $1,770 reexamination fee was paid.

37 CFR § 1.55 Claim for foreign priority.

Section 1.55 paragraph (a) is amended to refer to the renumbered § 1.17(i)(l).

37 CFR § 1.102 Advancement of examination.

Section 1.102, paragraph (d) is amended to refer to the petition fee set forth in proposed new paragraph 1.17(i)(2).

37 CFR § 1.103 Suspension of action.

Section 1.103, paragraph (a) is amended to refer to the renumbered § 1.17(i)(1).

37 CFR § 1.171 Application for reissue.

Section 1.171 is amended to refer to the renumbered § 1.17(i)(1).

37 CFR § 1.177 Reissue in divisions.

Section 1.177 is amended to refer to the renumbered § 1.17(i)(1).

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

37 CFR § 1.296 Withdrawal of request for publication of statutory invention registration.

Section 1.296 is amended to adjust the handling fee for withdrawal of a statutory invention registration to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

37 CFR § 1.313 Withdrawal from issue.

Section 1.313, paragraph (a) is amended to refer to the renumbered § 1.17(i)(1).

37 CFR § 1.314 Issuance of patent.

Section 1.314 is amended to refer to the renumbered § 1.17(i)(1).

37 CFR § 1.334 Issue of patent to assignee.

Section 1.334, paragraph (c) is amended to refer to the renumbered § 1.17(i)(1).

37 CFR § 1.445 International application filing and processing fees.

Section 1.445 is amended to adjust the fees authorized by 35 U.S.C. 376 for international application processing as set forth in 37 CFR 1.445(a)(2) and (a)(3) to recover the cost to the Office of such processing, as determined by fluctuations in CPI.

37 CFR § 1.451 The priority claim and priority document in an international application.

Section 1.451, paragraph (b) is amended to refer to the renumbered § 1.19(b)(1) and § 1.19(b)(6).

37 CFR § 1.482 International preliminary examination fees.

Section 1.482 is amended to adjust the fees authorized by 35 U.S.C. 376 for international application processing as set forth in 37 CFR 1.482(a) to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing.

37 CFR § 1.492 National stage fees.

Section 1.492 is amended to adjust the fees authorized by 35 U.S.C. 376 for international application processing as set forth in 37 CFR 1.492(a)-(b) and (d)-(f) to recover the estimated average cost to the Office of such processing as determined by fluctuations in the CPI.

37 CFR § 1.666 Filing of interference settlement agreements.

Section 1.666, paragraph (b) is amended to refer to the renumbered § 1.17(i)(1).

37 CFR § 2.6 Trademark fees.

Section 2.6(a) and (q) are amended to adjust trademark fees established pursuant to the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113).

RESPONSE TO COMMENTS ON THE RULES

A notice of proposed rulemaking to adjust patent and trademark fees was published in the Federal Register on Nov. 30, 1988, at 53 FR 48402. Corrections of typographical errors were published in the Federal Register on Dec. 8, 1988, at 53 FR 49637. A notice also was published on Dec. 13, 1988 at volume 1097 of the Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, pages 16 through 29. A public hearing was conducted on Jan. 4, 1989. Six letters submitting written comments were received and oral testimony was presented by one person at the public hearing. All of the written and oral comments were considered in adopting the changes set forth herein. The comments submitted, along with responses, appear below.

Comment :

A major patent law association requested an additional sixty (60) days to comment on proposed changes to the following rules that go beyond fees. Several other respondents also commented on the proposed changes to these rules.

37 CFR 1.53 Serial number, filing date, and completion of application.

37 CFR 1.55 Claim for foreign priority.

37 CFR 1.60 Continuation or divisional application for invention disclosed in a prior application.

37 CFR 1.62 File wrapper continuing procedure.

37 CFR 1.96 Submission of computer program listings.

Response :

The Office is not amending 37 CFR 1.53, 1.60, 1.62 and 1.96 and is extending the comment period until Mar. 3, 1989. The Office also is not adding new rule 37 CFR 1.21(n) which refers to 37 CFR 1.53, 1.60 and 1.62. The Office is amending only that portion of 37 CFR 1.55 which clarifies that the already established fee refers to the amount in the new 37 CFR 1.17(i)(1) and not the old § 1.17(i). After the extended comment period closes, the Office will issue a new notice of final rulemaking addressing these proposals.

Comment :

Two repondents requested that the Office provide for a comment period longer than the 30 days accorded in this rule package.

Response:

Office policy is to provide a 60 day comment period whenever possible. For fee-related rules, the comment period generally is limited to 30 days because the final rule must be in place 60 days before the fees are effective. This gives the public at least 90 days notice of a fee change.

In addition, the Office alerts, as far in advance as possible, major patent and trademark associations and organizations, and its advisory committees, that it will be proposing a fee adjustment. Finally, copies of the Nov. 30, 1988, Federal Register notice were mailed to 140 organizations, associations and the advisory committees only days after their publication in the Federal Register.

Comment :

One respondent asked whether maintenance fees that are paid after the effective date of the fee increase are payable in the increased amount or the amount that was payable when due.

Response :

The amount of any fee payment made on or after the effective date of this rule package is the amount set in the rulemaking.

Comment :

Two respondents, representing major trademark organizations, opposed the proposed reductions to the trademark application and assignment fees. The following major points were made: (1) No reductions should be made until Nov. 1989, when Pub. L. 100-667 (The Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988) is implemented; (2) Leading accounting firms recommend that a one year's operating reserve would be prudent; (3) It was Congressional intent that revenue generated from a $100 assignment fee be used to subsidize the trademark operation.

The respondents also questioned whether the PTO could make more than one adjustment every three years under the present authorization statute, even when such adjustments would result in a reduction of certain fee amounts.

Response :

After careful consideration of the comments received, the PTO has decided to implement the two fee reductions for the following reasons: (1) Careful analysis has confirmed that projected revenues will be sufficient to implement the Intent-to-Use legislation (Pub. L. 100-667) and still maintain an operating reserve within PTO's two percent fee policy. We believe it will take about 18 months experience with intent-to-use to be able to propose other changes to trademark fee amounts, and thus a delay in implementation of the proposed fee reductions to Nov. 1989 would not accomplish any useful purpose. (2) A one-year operating reserve for trademark programs is far too large an amount to address unforeseen expenses, would unfairly penalize users, is politically imprudent, especially given the current Federal deficit, and could be construed to constitute an unfair tax on the general user. (3) In the past, PTO has been critized for charging $100 for a trademark assignment and $7.00 for a patent assignment. For example, refer to public comments on the 1986 trademark fee adjustments published in the Federal Register on Aug. 4, 1986 at 51 FR 28055. While it is true that the trademark assignment fee was originally designed to help subsidize the trademark application fee, which is set at a level that does not recover actual costs, the PTO believes that the proposed reduction in the assignment fee will not result in subsequent increases in the application fee or jeopardize the financial health of trademark operations. Further, the Office wants to assure respondents that in proposing a reduction in the assignment fee, the costs of cleaning up the trademark assignment data base have been taken into account.

As noted above, the planning of fee adjustments has been such that we do not anticipate two adjustments within a fee cycle. The legislative history to Public Law 99-607 indicates that Congress intended the PTO to reduce fees whenever appropriate.

Comment :

One respondent, a representative of a major patent organization, raised the following points (1) The PTO should conduct an analysis of the impact of patent fees on independent inventors and small businesses; (2) the reduction of fees for individual inventors and small business should continue to be subsidized by taxpayer revenues; (3) the PTO should make every effort to increase its efficiency as a way of holding down the level of fees; (4) the PTO and the Administration should attempt to amend the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings Act as it relates to user fees; and (5) the Office should allow 90 days for the public to comment on proposed rules.

Response :

(1) The PTO continually has monitored the level of filings by small businesses and individual inventors, which has averaged 34 percent for the years 1986-1988. The Office will conduct a study to assess the impact of patent fees on individual inventors and small businesses.

(2) For the 1989-91 fee cycle, the reduction of patent fees individual inventors and small businesses will continue to be subsidzed by taxpayer revenues. As the PTO continues to progress to total financing by user fees, two options will be explored: (a) to continue to seek general taxpayer revenue for the subsidy to domestic and foreign users alike; or (b) to establish a two tier fee system for patent statutory fees. While the first option could mean lower overall patent fees, a taxpayer subsidy would be dependent upon Congressional action. If Congress were not to appropriate the necessary funds, the subsidy would not be available, in whole or in part. Full reliance on user fees could provide the PTO with additional flexibilities to meet user needs, especially in responding to growing workloads as the workloads occur.

(3) The PTO continues to scrutinize its operating budgets to identify ways to increase efficiency, to constrain costs, and to continue to provide better services to its users. The current fee package permits patent and patent service fees to be raised only with inflation. Trademark fees are held steady or are reduced. Despite these limited adjustments, user fees in 1989-1991 will allow the PTO to continue to pursue its major goals to improve the quality and timeliness of its goods and services.

(4) The Gramm-Rudman-Hollings sequestration of 1986 did affect PTO user fees. However, the Administration's budgets for 1987, 1988 and 1989 met all deficit reduction targets and did not require automatic sequestrations. We are confident that the Administration will continue to meet all deficit reduction targets prescribed by law and thus will continue to avoid the automatic sequestrations. The PTO is supportive of all efforts to reduce the Federal deficit.

(5) This issue was addressed above.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS :

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. There are no information collection requirements relating to patent fee rules.

The Office has determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354). The principal impact of the major patent fees has already been taken into account in Pub. L. 99-607, which provided small entities with a 50 percent reduction in the major patent fees. The rule change adjust fees to reflect the change in the CPI and cost of processing services as provided by statute (35 U.S.C. 41(d) and 41(f)).

The Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions, because most major fees are being adjusted to reflect changes in the CPI over the past three years. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Part 1 and Part 2

37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Freedom of information, Inventions and patents, Reporting and recordkeeping requirements, Small businesses.

37 CFR Part 2

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Lawyers, Trademarks.

For the reasons set forth in the preamble, the Office is amending Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter 1, as set forth below.

Part 1 Rules of Practice in Patent Cases

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 would continue to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6 unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.12 is amended by revising paragraph (a) and (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.12 Assignment records open to public inspection.

(a) The assignment records, relating to original or reissue patents, including digests and indexes, and assignment records relating to pending or abandoned trademark applications and to trademark registrations, are open to public inspection and copies of any instrument recorded may be obtained upon request and payment of the fee set forth in § 1.19(a)(3).

* * * * *

(c) Any request by a member of the public seeking copies of any assignment records of any pending or abandoned patent application preserved in secrecy under § 1.14, or any information with respect thereto, must

(1) Be in the form of a petition accompanied by the petition fee set forth in § 1.17(i)(1), or

(2) Include written authority granting access to the member of the public to the particular assignment records from the applicant or applicant's assignee or attorney or agent of record.

* * * * *

3. Section 1.14 is amended by revising paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§ 1.14 Patent applications preserved in secrecy.

* * * * *

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JAN 1 1991 UMI

(e) Any request by a member of the public seeking access to, or copies of, any pending or abandoned application preserved in secrecy pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, or any papers relating thereto, must

(1) Be in the form of a petition and be accompanied by the petition fee set forth in § 1.17(i)(1), or

(2) Include written authority granting access to the member of the public in that particular application from the applicant or the applicant's assignee or attorney or agent of record. (Note, see § 1.612(a) for access by an interference party to a pending or abandoned application.)

4. Section 1.16 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)-(b) and (d)-(i) and the note at the end of the section to read as follows:

§ 1.16 National application filing fees.

(a) Basic fee for filing each application for an original patent, except design or plant case:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $185.00
By other than a small entity. $370.00

(b) In addition to the basic filing fee in an original application, for filing or later presentation of each independent claim in excess of 3:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f{sf,1)) $18.00
By other than a small entity $36.00

* * * * *

(d) In addition to the basic filing fee in an original application, if the application contains, or is amended to contain a multiple dependent claim(s) per application:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $60.00
By other than a small entity $120.00

(If the additional fees required by paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) are not paid on filing or on later presentation of the claims for which the additional fees are due, they must be paid or the claims canceled by amendment, prior to the expiration of the time period set for response by the Office in any notice of fee deficiency.)

(e) Surcharge for filing the basic filing fee or oath or declaration on a date later than the filing date of the application:

By a small entity(§ 1.19(f))$60.00
By other than a small entity $120.00

(f) For filing each design application:
By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $75.00
By other than a small entity $150.00

(g) Basic fee for filing each plant application:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $125.00
By other than a small entity $250.00

(h) Basic fee for filing each reissue application:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $185.00
By other than a small entity $370.00

(i) In addition to the basic filing fee in a reissue application, for filing or later presentation of each independent claim which is in excess of the number of independent claims in the original patent:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $18.00
By other than a small entity $36.00

* * * * *

(Note, see § 1.445 for international application filing and processsing fees.

5. Section 1.17 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)-(h) and (j)-(m), by designating existing paragraph (i) as (i)(1) and revising it, and by adding a new paragraph (i)(2), to read as follows:

§ 1.17 Patent application processing fees.

(a) Extension fee for response within first month pursuant to § 1.136(a):
By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $31.00
By other than a small entity $62.00

(b) Extension fee for response within second month pursuant to § 1.136(a):
By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $90.00
By other than a small entity $180.00

(c) Extension fee for response within third month pursuant to § 1.136(a):

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $215.00
By other than a small entity $430.00

(d) Extension fee for response within fourth month pursuant to § 1.136(a):

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $340.00
By other than a small entity $680.00

(e) For filing a notice of appeal from the examiner to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $70.00
By other than a small entity $140.00

(f) In addition to the fee for filing a notice of appeal, for filing a brief in support of an appeal:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $70.00
By other than a small entity $140.00

(g) For filing a request for an oral hearing before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in appeal under 35 U.S.C. 134:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $60.00
By other than a small entity $120.00

(h) For filing a petition to the Commissioner under a section of this part listed below which refers to this paragraph $120.00

§ 1.47 - for filing by other than all the inventors or a person not the inventor.
§ 1.48 - for correction of inventorship
§ 1.182 - for decision on questions not specifically provided for.
§ 1.183 - to suspend rules.
§ 1.295 - for review of refusal to publish a statutory invention registration.
§ 1.377 - for review of decision refusing to accept and record payment of a maintenance fee filed prior to expiration of patent.
§ 1.378(e) - for reconsideration of decision on petition refusing to accept delayed payment of maintenance fee in expired patent.
§ 1.644(e) - for petition in an interference.
§ 1.644(f) - for request for reconsideration of a decision on petition in an interference.
§ 1.666(c) - for late filing of interference settlement agreement.
§§ 5.12, 5.13, & 5.14 - for expedited handling of foreign filing license.
§ 5.15 - for changing the scope of a license.
§ 5.25 - for retroactive license.

(i) (1) For filing a petition to the Commissioner under a section of this part listed below which refers to this paragraph $120.00

§ 1.12 - for access to an assignment record.
§ 1.14 - for access to an application.

§ 1.55 - for entry of late priority papers.
§ 1.103 - to suspend action in application.
§ 1.177 - for divisional reissue to issue separately.
§ 1.312 - for amendment after payment of issue fee.
§ 1.313 - to withdraw an application from issue.
§ 1.314 - to defer issuance of a patent.
§ 1.334 - for patent to issue to assignee, assignment recorded late.
§1.666(b) - for access to interference settlement agreement.

(2) For filing a petition to the Commissioner under § 1.102 of this part to make application special $80.00

(j) For filing a petition to institute a public use proceeding under § 1.292 ..... $1,200.00

(k) For processing an application filed with a specification in a non-English language (§ 1.52(d)) $30.00

(l) For filing a petition

(l) for the revival of an abandoned application under 35 U.S.C. 133, or 371 or
(2) for delayed payment of the issue fee under 35 U.S.C. 151:

By a small entity(§1.9(f)) $31.00
By other than a small entity $62.00

(m) For filing a petition

(l) for revival of an unintentionally abandoned application, or
(2) for the unintentionally delayed payment of the fee for issuing a patent:

By a small entity(§1.9(f)) $310.00
By other than a small entity $620.00

* * * * *

6. Section 1.18 is revised to read as follows:

§1.18 Patent issue fees.

(a) Issue fee for issuing each original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $310.00
By other than a small entity $620.00

(b) Issue fee for issuing a design patent:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $110.00
By other than a small entity $220.00

(c) Issue fee for issuing a plant patent:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $155.00
By other than a small entity $310.00

7. Section 1.19 is revised to read as follows:

§1.19 Document supply fees.

The Patent and Trademark Office will supply copies of the following documents upon payment of the fees indicated:

(a) Uncertified copies of Offices documents:

(1) Printed copy of a patent, including a design patent, statutory invention registration, or defensive publication document, except color plant or color statutory invention registration $1.50

(2) Printed copy of a plant patent or statutory invention registration in color $10.00

(3) Copy of Office documents, except as otherwise provided in this section, for each 30 pages or a fraction thereof $10.00

(4) Copy of a utility patent with drawings in color (see § 1.84(p)) $20.00

(5) Expedited local service for copy of a patent as in paragraph (a)(1) of this section, fulfilled within one work day for orders delivered to the Public Service Window in the Patent Public Search Room $3.00

(6) Expedited service for copy of a patent as in paragraph (a)(1) of this section, ordered by electronic ordering service and delivered to the customer within two work days .. $25.00

(b) Certified copies of Office documents:

(1) Certified copy of patent application as filed. $10.00

(2) Certified copy of patent file wrapper $170.00

(3) Certified copy of patent assignment record $5.00

(4) Expedited service for certified copy of patent application as filed in paragraph (a)(3) of this section, fulfilled within 5 work days, excluding mailing time $20.00

(5) For certifying Office records, per certificate $3.00

(6) For a search of assignment records, abstract of title and certification, per patent $15.00

(c) Library service (35 U.S.C. 13): For providing to libraries copies of all patents issued annually, per annum .. $50.00

(d) For list of all United States patents and statutory invention registrations in a subclass $2.00

(e) Uncertified statement as to status of the payment of maintenance fees due on a patent or expiration of a patent $5.00

(f) Uncertified copy of a non-United States patent document, per document $10.00

(g) To compare and certify copies made from Patent and Trademark Office records but not prepared by the Patent and Trademark Office, per copy of document $10.00

(h) Additional filing receipts: duplicate or corrected due to applicant error $15.00

8. Section 1.20 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)-(n) to read as follows:

§1.20 Post issuance fees.

(a) For providing a certificate of correction for applicant's mistake (§ 1.323) $60.00
(b) Petition for correction of inventorship in patent (§ 1.324) $120.00

(c) For filing a request for reexamination (§ 1.510(a)) $2,000.00

(d) For filing each statutory disclaimer (§1.321):

By a small entity(§1.9(f)) $31.00
By other than a small entity $62.00

(e) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 and before Aug. 27, 1982, in force beyond four years; the fee is due by three years and six months after the original grant $245.00

(f) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 and before Aug. 27, 1982, in force beyond eight years; the fee is due by seven years and six months after the original grant $495.00

(g) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 and before Aug. 27, 1982, in force beyond twelve years; the fee is due by eleven years and six months after the original grant $740.00

(h) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982, in force beyond 4 four years; the fee is due by three years and six months after the original grant:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $245.00
By other than a small entity $490.00

(i) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application, filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982, in force beyond eight years; the fee is due by seven years and six months after the original grant:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $495.00
By other than a small entity $990.00

(j) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982, in force beyond twelve years; the fee is due by eleven years and six months after the original grant:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $740.000
By other than a small entity$1,480.00

(k) Surcharge for paying a maintenance fee during the six-month grace period following the expiration of three years and six months, seven years and six months, and eleven years and six months after the date of the original grant of a patent based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 and before Aug. 27, 1982 ..... $120.00

(l) Surcharge for paying a maintenance fee during the six-month grace period following the expiration of three years and six months, seven years and six months and eleven years and six months after the date of the original grant of a patent based on an application filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $60.00
By other than a small entity $120.00

(m) Surcharge for accepting a maintenance fee after expiration of a patent for non-timely payment of a maintenance fee where the delay is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been unavoidable $550.00

(n) For filing an application for extension of the term of a patent (§ 1.740) $600.00

9. Section 1.21 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (b)(1), (d)-(j), (l)-(m), and the introductory text of the section and paragraph (b) are republished, to read as follows:

§1.21 Miscellaneous fees and charges.

The Patent and Trademark Office has established the following fees for the services indicated:

(a) Registration of attorneys and agents:

(1) For admission to examination for registration to practice, fee payable upon application $270.00

(2) On registration to practice $90.00

(3) For reinstatement to practice $10.00

(4) For certificate of good standing as an attorney or agent $10.00
Suitable for framing $100.00

(5) For review of a decision of the Director of Enrollment and Discipline under § 10.2(c) $100.00

(6) For requesting regrading of an examination under 10.7(c) $100.00

(b) Deposit accounts:

(1) For establishing or reinstating a deposit account $10.00

* * * * *

(d) Delivery box: Local delivery box rental, per annum $50.00

(e) International type search reports: For preparing an international type search report of an international type search made at the time of the first action on the merits in a national patent application $30.00

(f) Search of Office records: For conducting an inventor search of Office records for a ten-year period $10.00

(g) CopiShare card: Cost per copy ..... $.15

(h) For recording each assignment, agreement or other paper relating to the property in a patent or application per property $8.00

(i) Publication in Official Gazette: For publication in the Official Gazette of a notice of the availability of an application or a patent for licensing or sale, each application or patent .. $20.00

(j) For a duplicate or replacement of a permanent Office user pass (There is no charge for the first permanent user pass) $10.00

* * * * *

(l) For processing and retaining any application abandoned pursuant to section 1.53(d) unless the required basic filing fee has been paid $120.00

(m) For processing each check returned "unpaid" by a bank $50.00

10. Section 1.26 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(c) If the Commissioner decides not to institute a reexamination proceeding, a refund of $1,500 will be made to the requestor of the proceeding. Reexamination requesters should indicate whether any refund should be made by check or by credit to a deposit account.

11. Section 1.55 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.55 Claim for foreign priority.

(a) An applicant may claim the benefit of the filing date of a prior foreign application under the conditions specified in 35 U.S.C. 119 and 172. The claim to priority need be in no special form and may be made by the attorney or agent if the foreign application is referred to in the oath or declaration as required by § 1.63. The claim for priority and the certified copy of the foreign application specified in the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 119 must be filed in the case of interference (§ 1.630); when necessary to overcome the date of a reference relied upon by the examiner; or when specifically required by the examiner; and in all other cases they must be filed not later than the date the issue fee is paid. If the papers filed are not in the English language, a translation need not be filed except in the three particular instances specified in the preceding sentence, in which event a sworn translation or a translation certified as accurate by a sworn or official translator must be filed. If the priority papers are submitted after the date the issue fee is paid, they must be accompanied by a petition requesting their entry and the fee set forth in § 1.17(i)(1).

* * * * *

12. Section 1.102 is amended by revising paragraph (d) to read as follows:
§1.102 Advancement of examination.

* * * * *

(d) A petition to make an application special on grounds other than those referred to in paragraph (c) of this section must be accompanied by the petition fee set forth in §1.17(i)(2).

13. Section 1.103, paragraph (a) is amended to read as follows:

§1.103 Suspension of action.

(a) Suspension of action by the Office will be granted for good and sufficient cause and for a reasonable time specified upon petition by the applicant and, if such cause is not the fault of the Office, the payment of the fee set forth in 1.17(i)(1). Action will not be suspended when a response by the applicant to an Office action is required.

* * * * *

14. Section 1.171 is amended to read as follows:

§1.171 Application for reissue.

An application for reissue must contain the same parts required for an application for an original patent, complying with all the rules relating thereto except as otherwise provided, and, in addition, must comply with the requirements of the rules relating to reissue applications. The application must be accompanied by a certified copy of an abstract of title or an order for a title report accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.19(b)(6), to be placed in the file, and by an offer to surrender the original patent (§ 1.178).

15. Section 1.177 is amended to read as follows:

§1.177 Reissue in divisions.

The Commissioner may, in his or her discretion, cause several patents to be issued for distinct and separate parts of the thing patented, upon demand of the applicant, and upon payment of the required fee for each division. Each division of a reissue constitutes the subject of a separate specification descriptive of the part or parts of the invention claimed in such division; and the drawing may represent only such part of parts, subject to the provisions of §§ 1.83 and 1.84. On filing divisional reissue applications, they shall be referred to the Commissioner. Unless otherwise ordered by the Commissioner upon petition and payment of the fee set forth in § 1.17(i)(1) all the divisions of a reissue will issue simultaneously; if there be any controversy as to one division, the others will be withheld from issue until the controversy is ended, unless the Commissioner shall otherwise order.

16. Section 1.296 is amended to read as follows:

A request for a statutory invention registration, which has been filed, may be withdrawn prior to the date of the notice of the intent to publish a statutory invention registration issued pursuant to §1.294(c) by filing a request to withdraw the request for publication of a statutory invention registration. The request to withdraw may also include a request for a refund of any amount paid in excess of the application filing fee and a handling fee of $120.00 which will be retained. Any request to withdraw the request for publication of a statutory invention registration filed on or after the date of the notice of intent to publish issued pursuant to § 1.294(c) must be in the form of a petition pursuant to 1.183 accompanied by the fee set forth in §1.17(h).

17. Section 1.313, paragraph (a), is amended to read as follows:

(a) Applications may be withdrawn from issue for further action at the initiative of the Office or upon petition by the applicant. Any such petition by the applicant must include a showing of good and sufficient reasons why withdrawal of the application is necessary and, if the reason for the withdrawal is not the fault of the Office, must be accompanied by the fee set forth in 1.17(i)(1). If the application is withdrawn from issue, a new notice of allowance will be sent if the application is again allowed. Any amendment accompanying a petition to withdraw an application from issue must comply with the requirement of § 1.312.

* * * * *

18. Section 1.314 is amended to read as follows:

§1.314 Issuance of patent.

If payment of the issue fee is timely made, the patent will issue in regular course unless
(a) the application is withdrawn from issue (§ 1.313)
(b) issuance of the patent is deferred.
Any petition by the applicant requesting deferral of the issuance of a patent must be accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i)(1) and must include a showing of good and sufficient reasons why it is necessary to defer issuance of the patent.

19. Section 1.334 is amended by revising to read as follows:

* * * * *

(c) If the assignment is recorded after the date of payment of the issue fee, the assignee may petition that the patent issue to the assignee as recorded. Any such petition must be accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i)(1).

20. Section 1.445 is amended by revising paragraph (a), (2), (3) and, the introductory text of paragaph (a) is republished, to read as follows:

§1.445 International application filing and processing fees.

(a) The following fees and charges are established by the Patent and Trademark Office under the authority of 35 U.S.C. 376:

(2) A search fee (see 35 U.S.C. 361(d) and PCT Rule 16) where:

(i) No corresponding prior United States national application with basic filing fee has been filed $550.00

(ii) A corresponding prior United States national application with basic filing fee has been filed $380.00

(3) A suppplemental search fee when required per additional invention $150.00

* * * * *

21. Section 1.451 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§1.451 The priority claim and priority document in an international application.

* * * * *

(b) Whenever the priority of an earlier United States national application is claimed in an international application, the applicant may request in a letter of transmittal accompanying the international application upon filing with the United States Receiving Office or in a separate letter filed in the Receiving Office not later than 16 months after the priority date, that the Patent and Trademark Office prepare a certified copy of the national application for transmittal to the International Bureau (PCT Article 8 and PCT Rule 17). The fee for preparing a certified copy is stated in § 1.19 (b)(1)

* * * * *

22. Section 1.482 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.482 International preliminary examination fees.

(a) The following fees and charges for international preliminary examination are established by the Commissioner under the authority of 35 U.S.C. 376:

(1) A preliminary examination fee is due on filing the Demand:

(i) Where an international search fee as set forth in § 1.445(a)(2) has been paid on the international application to the United States Patent and Trademark Office as an International Searching Authority, a preliminary examination fee of $400.00

(ii) Where the International Searching Authority for the international application was an authority other than the United States Patent and Trademark Office, a preliminary examination fee of $600.00

(2) An additional preliminary examination fee when required, per additional invention:

(i) Where a supplemental search fee as set forth in § 1.445(a)(3) has been paid on the international application to the United States Patent and Trademark Office as an international Searching Authority $130.00

(ii) Where the International Searching Authority for the international application was an authority other than the United States Patent and Trademark Office $200.00

* * * * *

23. Section 1.492 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)(1)-(3), (b), and (d)-(f), and the introductory text of the section and paragraph (a) are republished to read as follows:

§ 1.492 National stage fees.

The following fees and charges for international applications entering the national stage under 35 U.S.C. 371 are established by the Commissioner under 35 U.S.C. 376:

(a) The basic national fee:

(1) Where an international preliminary examination fee as set forth in § 1.482 has been paid on the international application to the United States Patent and Trademark Office:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $165.00
By other than a small entity $330.00

(2) Where no international preliminary examination fee as set forth in § 1.482 has been paid to the United States Patent and Trademark Office, but an international search fee as set forth in § 1.445(a)(2) has been paid on the international application to the United States Patent and Trademark Office as in International Searching Authority:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $185.00
By other than a small entity $370.00

(3) Where no international preliminary examination fee as set forth in § 1.482 has been paid and no international search fee as set forth in § 1.445(a)(2) has been paid on the international application to the United States Patent and Trademark Office:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $250.00
By other than a small entity $500.00

* * * * *

(b) In addition to the basic national fee, for filing or later presentation of each independent claim in excess of 3:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $18.00
By other than a small entity 36.00

* * * * *

(d) In addition to the basic national fee, if the application contains, or is amended to contain, a multiple dependent claims(s), per application:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $60.00
By other than a small entity $120.00

(If the additional fees required by paragraphs (b),(c), and (d) are not paid on presentation of the claims for which the additional fees are due, they must be paid or the claims canceled by amendment, prior to the expiration of the time period set for response by the Office in any notice of fee deficiency.)

(e) Surcharge for filing the basic national fee or oath or declaration later than 20 months from the priority date pursuant to § 1.494(c) or later than 30 months from the priority date pursuant to § 1.495(c):

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $60.00
By other than a small entity $120.00

(f) For filing an English translation of an international application later than 20 months after the priority date (§ 1.494(c)) or filing an English translation of the international application or of any annexes to the international preliminary examination report later than 30 months after the priority date (§ 1.495(c) and (e)): $30.00

24. Section 1.666 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(b) If any party filing the agreement or understanding under paragraph (a) of this section so requests, the copy will be kept separate from the file of the interference, and made available only to Government agencies on written request, or to any person upon petition accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i)(1) and on a showing of good cause.

Part 2 Rules of Practice in Trademark Cases

1. The authority citation for Part 2 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 2.6 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (q) and the introductory text of the section is republished to read as follows:

§ 2.6 Trademark fees.

The following fees and charges are established by the Patent and Trademark Office for trademark cases:

* * * * *

(a) For filing an application, per class $175.00

(191) APPEALS TO THE FEDERAL CIRCUIT FROM PTO

This notice was originally prepared by the Solicitor and Associate Solicitor Richard E. Schafer for presentation at the Eighth Annual Judicial Conference of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. The notice discusses litigation philosophy of the Office of the Solicitor of the Patent and Trademark Office and other matters which may be helpful to appellants and others seeking judicial review of PTO decisions in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

October 5, 1990

FRED E. McKELVEY
Solicitor

I. Introduction

This notice discusses the philosophy of the Office of the Solicitor when representing the Commissioner before the Federal Circuit and other courts. The notice is also designed to assist appellants and others seeking judicial review of Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) decisions in the Federal Circuit. Much of what is said in the notice is also applicable to those instances where judicial review is sought of PTO decisions in a district court.

II. Solicitor's litigation philosophy

The Office of the Solicitor and its attorneys start with the proposition that justice is done when the right result is reached. The Solicitor is not an advocate who needs to win to be satisfied. Rather, the public interest is served when:

(1) a patent issues on a patentable invention;
(2) a patent is refused on an unpatentable invention;
(3) a trademark is registered if entitled to registration under Title 15;
(4) a trademark is refused registration if not entitled to registration under Title 15; or
(5) PTO rules are properly applied within PTO and by reviewing courts.

Our litigation philosophy is expressed in Berger v. United States, 295 U.S. 78, 88 (1935):

> The . . . [Government attorney] is the representative not of an ordinary party to a controversy, but of a sovereignty whose obligation to govern impartially is as compelling as its obligation to govern at all; and whose interest . . . is not that it shall win a case, but that justice shall be done. As such, he is in a peculiar and very definite sense the servant of the law, the twofold aim of which is that guilt shall not escape or innocence suffer.

The Office of the Solicitor does more than simply "defend" an appeal. Rather, it will determine whether:

(a) appeals are ripe for judicial consideration;
(b) there are steps a party might take in PTO to obviate the appeal, e.g., amendments which might be made to claims to conform an argument to the subject matter being claimed —we often find that arguments in a brief are based on limitations which do not appear in the claims;
(c) there is material not in the record which might provide a full answer to an argument —particularly a new one — made in a brief; and/or
(d) the deciding official or board should be approached tosee if it wishes to reevaluate its decision in view of a changein the law, a credible argument that the decision may notbe correct, or a matter which may have been overlooked.

Most of the time, it takes more effort to implement this philosophy than it would take simply to brief and argue a matter.

Generally, in a Federal Circuit matter, the Office of the Solicitor — apart from designating an appendix —does not "get deeply into" a case until appellant's brief is filed. Exceptions occur, i.e., inter partes patent and trademark cases where the board opinion is reviewed to see if an amicus brief might be appropriate to assist the Federal Circuit with PTO practice. [1] This is not to say that an appellant should not feel free to discuss an appeal with an attorney in the Solicitor's Office. But, ordinarily in an ex parte case, we do not spend time until we see appellant's brief. The reason is that a large number of appeals are simply dismissed without the need for us to do much, if any, work.

Table 1, below, shows the disposition of appeals from October 1985 through April 1990. About 23%, i.e., 146, of the cases were dismissed with little, if any, work having been done by the Office of the Solicitor on the appeal. If we conducted a review of all appeals when filed, our Federal Circuit "workload" would increase about 23%. We do not have the resources to effectively carry on 23% more work.

We find a lot of cases are not ripe or otherwise ready for judicial review. When we determine that more work needs to be done before the Federal Circuit should consider a case, we generally move to remand. Fed. Cir. R. 27(c) provides that a remand generally should be requested prior to briefing. However, since we generally cannot efficiently take up cases until appellant's brief is filed, we now file motions to remand along with our brief. A merits panel is then in a position to evaluate whether it should hear the case on the merits or order a remand.

There are a variety of reasons why we seek remands.

A.

An appellant may argue that a certain feature of a claim is not shown in the prior art. Such an argument may prompt us to determine whether the feature is known. If we find the feature, we will probably ask for a remand for the purpose of making

[1] See e.g., Fujiie v. Verhagen, Fed. Cir. No. 89-1126; Hahn v. Wong. 13 USPQ2d 1211 (Bd. Pat. App. & Int.), aff'd, 892 F.2d 1028, 13 USPQ2d 1313 (Fed. Cir. 1989); Perkins v. Kwon, 886 F.2d 325, 12 USPQ2d 1308 (Fed. Cir. 1989); and Winkler v. Guglielmino, Fed. Cir. No. 89-1571. See also Copelands' Enterprises. Inc. v. CNV, Inc., 887 F.2d 1065, 12 USPQ2d 1562 (Fed. Cir. 1989) (en banc) and Kellogg Co. v. Pack'em Enterprises, Inc., Fed. Cir. No. 90-1336.[2] Approximately 80% of the remands were ordered based on motions to remand filed by the Office of the Solicitor. See the discussion on remands, infra.

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1991 UMI

an additional rejection.[4] In like manner, based on our respective backgrounds or other cases handled by the Office of the Solicitor, we may know of prior art which strengthens a rejection.[5]

B.

Similarly, an appellant may argue that a certain fact is true. Upon looking into the matter, we have found literature from the appellant's assignee or other evidence which, in our opinion, demonstrates that the argument may not be factually correct.[6] Since the literature or other evidence is not part of the record, we have asked for a remand so that the case may be fully developed before a merits panel is required to consider the case. We have also filed a brief on the merits asking the Federal Circuit to take judicial notice of a fact while concurrently filing a contingent motion to remand in the event the merits panel believes that judicial notice is not appropriate.[7]

C.

We have had cases where the sole issue is whether a Rule 131, 37 CFR § 1.131, affidavit is sufficient to antedate a reference. When the sufficiency of a Rule 131 affidavit is in issue, we search for a foreign or other equivalent statutory bar. When an equivalent statutory bar is found, we move to remand suggesting that the issue on appeal may well be moot.[8]

D.

In re Steele, 305 F.2d 859, 134 USPQ 292 (CCPA 1962), suggests that indefiniteness should be taken care of prior to considering obviousness. There have been cases in which the claims are so indefinite that judicial review of an obviousness issue simply would not make sense. Remands, over appellant's objection, have been ordered.[9]

E.

There have been occasions where the Board, TTAB, or the Commissioner decides to change or reconsider a decision. A change of decision can occur, inter alia, due to:

1. new "law" as announced in a court or administrative decision,[10] or
2. a deciding official or tribunal determines that:
   (a) a decision may not be correct,
   (b) a matter was overlooked,[11] or
   (c) a decision otherwise needs to be reconsidered.[12]

F.

There have been cases where, although not argued by the appellant, it did not make sense to apply existing law in a particular context. We have moved to remand. In one instance, the Board reconsidered its position, established new law, and granted relief.[13]

G.

In its opinion, the Board — without entering a new ground of rejection under Rule 196(b), 37 CFR § 1.196 — may suggest that if there is to be further prosecution, an examiner may wish to look into several possible rejections. Generally in such a case the appellant will abandon or refile under 35 U.S.C. § 120. On occasion, however, an appellant will seek judicial review. Ordinarily, we seek remands in such a case in order to avoid piecemeal judicial review.[14]

H.

We had one case in which an appellant "dropped" an appeal as to all but a dependent claim —only the independent claim had been discussed in appellant's brief to the Board and the Board discussed only the independent claim. We sought a remand — after the appellant's brief had been filed —so that PTO could articulate a rationale as to the sole claim left in the appeal.[15] Alternatively, we could have argued the appeal on the basis of the independent claim. However, in the context of the particular case, that alternative did not make sense.

I.

We had a case where the application on appeal was deemed to be abandoned. We moved to remand to clarify the status of the application.[16] We also had a trademark appeal in which registration in the United States could not occur until registration took place abroad.[17] Obviously, there was no reason to proceed in the Federal Circuit until registration occurred in the foreign country. When an appeal is taken in a trademark case, we always check to be sure that the registration relied upon is "alive." Appellant also should be sure that the registration has not expired. In one trademark appeal, the likelihood of confusion issue became moot on appeal when we discovered that the registration cited against the appellant expired without being renewed.

Most attorneys representing appellants will agree to a remand when approached by an attorney in the Office of the Solicitor — regardless of the time a suggestion to remand is made. A remand saves appellant, the Federal Circuit and our office time and money and in the long run contributes to the effective administration of justice within PTO and the Federal Circuit. In some cases, our motions to remand have been opposed. In one published opinion, an opposed motion was granted notwithstanding appellant has filed its principal brief;[18] in another opinion, relief was denied.[19] It appears the Federal Circuit has adopted, as a general rule, the latter opinion. See Fed. Cir. R. 27(c).

We will not attempt to reconcile Fed. Cir. R. 27(c) with what we regard to be the better policy expressed in In re Gould. We will point out, however, that if an appeal proceeds in the face of a motion to remand,

(a) an appellant will have to spend money to have its attorney appear for oral argument,

(b) the merits panel will have to spend time preparing for oral argument, holding oral argument, and writing an opinion,

(c) PTO will have to expend resources preparing for and presenting oral argument, and

(d) prosecution on the merits may be reopened after a mandate is entered if a viable rejection remains to be considered.

It is possible, of course, that we might prevail on the merits, thereby obviating any need for a remand. However, if we do not prevail, PTO can — and often does — reopen prosecution of the application upon entry of the Federal Circuit's mandate to consider the matter raised by a motion to remand.[20]

Sometimes an appellant will decide to file a second application, i.e., a continuation application or another trademark application, and simultaneously pursue the appeal. We believe appellant has a responsibility to call our attention to the fact that a second application has been filed. Knowledge of the second application is material to steps we might take.

First, perhaps any appeal (or civil action) should be suspended pending outcome of proceedings on the second application or dismissed without prejudice to another appeal in the event a final adverse Board decision is entered in the second application. In effect, by filing a second application, appellant admits that there are available administrative remedies and that those remedies have not been exhausted.

Second, it is in PTO's best interest that the examiner handling the second application be aware of the existence of an appeal. The examiner may ask our office for assistance, as may the Board, during prosecution of the second application.

III. Notice of appeal

Recent amendments have been made to conform PTO practice as much as possible to Fed. R. App. 4. See 54 Fed. Reg. 29548 (July 13, 1989), reprinted in, 1105 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 5 (Aug. 1, 1989).

A. Time for appeal

If an appeal from a PTO decision to the Federal Circuit is authorized by law, the time for filing a notice of appeal in PTO was changed in August 1989 to two (2) months or 60 days, whichever is longer. The time for seeking judicial review by civil action under 35 U.S.C. §§ 145 or 146 is also two (2) months or 60 days, whichever is longer.

The filing of a request for reconsideration in PTO tolls the time for filing a notice of appeal. After a decision on reconsideration is entered in PTO, the two month period begins to run.

The time for appeal to the Federal Circuit is set by the Commissioner. 35 U.S.C. § 142; 15 U.S.C. § 1071(a)(2). The period for appeal must be at least 60 days. A notice of final rule was effective in August 1989 setting the time for appeal to two months or 60 days — whichever is longer. The dichotomy which used to exist between the 60-day period for initial decisions and the 30-day period for decisions on reconsideration[21] no longer exists.

B. Cross appeals

In inter partes cases, a cross-appeal may be filed within fourteen (14) days of service of an appeal or two months after the PTO decision being appealed, whichever is later.

C. Requests to extend time to appeal

A request for an extension of time to file a notice of appeal before the appeal period expires can be granted by the Commissioner upon a showing of good cause.

A request after the appeal period expires must establish excusable neglect. The "excusable neglect" standard applied by PTO is the same as that applied by the courts of appeals.

All requests for an extension of time to appeal should be directed to the attention of the Office of the Solicitor.

D. Where to file a notice of appeal

The original notice must be filed in PTO — filing only in the Federal Circuit does not perfect an appeal. However, a copy must also be filed in the Federal Circuit. Fed. Cir. R. 15. A copy of the decision being appealed, and any decision on reconsideration, should be attached to the copy of the notice of appeal filed in PTO and with the Federal Circuit.

The original notice may be filed in any of the following ways:

1. By hand-delivery to the Office of the Solicitor between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. at:
   Office of the Solicitor
   2121 Crystal Drive
   Suite 918
   Arlington, Virginia

2. By first-class mail addressed to:
   Box 8
   Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
   Washington, D.C. 20231
   Attention: Office of the Solicitor

3. By Express Mail under 37 CFR § 1.10 addressed to:
   Box 8
   Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
   Washington, D.C. 20231
   Attention: Office of the Solicitor

A certificate of mailing under 37 CFR § 1.8 cannot be used to file a notice of appeal. A notice of appeal filed in PTO using a certificate of mailing under 37 CFR § 1.8 is deemed filed when received in PTO. In re Thrifty Corp., 231 USPQ 560 (Comm'r Pat. 1986).

A notice of appeal mailed to the Solicitor's Postal Box in Arlington, Virginia is deemed filed when received in the Office of the Solicitor.

E. Content of notice of appeal

A notice of appeal should identify all parties appealing. Fed. R. App. P. 15(a). See Torres v. Oakland Scavenger Co., 487 U.S. 312, 317 (1988) [construing similar requirement of Fed. R. App. P. 3(c)] .

Thus, in a case where there are joint inventors, the notice of appeal should identify all inventors. The notice of appeal should not identify John Doe et al. as appellants; rather, it should identify as appellants all named inventors, i.e., "John Doe and Richard Roe appeal . . . ."

A notice of appeal need simply state that:

John Doe and Richard Roe appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit from a final decision entered by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences on June 15, 1990, and from a decision on reconsideration entered by the Board on July 15, 1990.

There is no need to give reasons in the notice of appeal. See 37 CFR §§ 1.4 and 1.5 for material which should appear in the "heading" of the notice of appeal.

IV. Transmittal of certified list

After a notice of appeal is received, a determination is made whether the notice was timely filed.

Appellant will be advised if the appeal is untimely. Fed. Cir. R. 15(b)(1) governs proceedings when a notice of appeal is not timely filed:

If the Commissioner notifies the clerk that the notice of appeal was not timely, the clerk shall order the appellant to show cause why the appeal should not be dismissed, and thereupon refer the response to the court.

In order to properly respond to the Federal Circuit, an appellant may wish to file a request for an extension of time, which should be filed in the Office of the Solicitor, and establish that the untimely filing of the notice of appeal was a result of excusable neglect. Any decision on the request will be copied to the Clerk of the Federal Circuit for such action as may be appropriate. A decision by the Commissioner granting a request to extend the time for filing the notice of appeal will discharge the show cause order entered by the Clerk.

A certified list, consisting of the contents of the application, interference, opposition, cancellation, or other proceeding is copied and forwarded to the Federal Circuit with a statement indicating whether the notice of appeal was considered timely filed. In ex parte patent appeals the certified list usually does not include the contents to any "parent" applications unless the application involved in the appeal is a "file wrapper continuation" under 37 CFR § 1.62.

A copy of the certified list is mailed to the appellant or, in the case of an inter partes proceeding, all parties.

In ex parte patent or trademark appeals, an attorney in the Office of the Solicitor is assigned to the appeal at the time the certified list is forwarded to the Federal Circuit. Counsel for appellant should initiate a discussion with the Solicitor's Office attorney assigned to the case to determine the contents of the appendix.

Upon receipt of the certified list, the appeal will be docketed by the Federal Circuit. An appeal number is assigned to each appeal by the Federal Circuit. Appellant's 60-day period for filing a brief runs from the later of the date the appeal is docketed by the Federal Circuit or the certified list is served. Fed. Cir. R. 31(a). Since the appeal is docketed after the certified list is served in the case of PTO appeals, the 60-day period almost always runs from the date the appeal is docketed.

V. Service of court papers on the Solicitor

The mail service address for the Solicitor is:

Office of the Solicitor
P. 0. Box 15667
Arlington, Virginia 22215

Only litigation papers should be mailed to the Post Office box address. Other papers intended for filing in PTO should be addressed as specified in 37 CFR § 1.1. Non-litigation papers will be returned and will not be forwarded to the Mail Room.

Litigation papers not served by hand must be mailed to our Post Office box. Litigation papers mailed or delivered to the Mail Room of PTO, left in PTO's night deposit box, or left with a PTO employee in an office other than the Office of the Solicitor, are deemed served when received in the Office of the Solicitor.

The Office of the Solicitor is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Litigation papers served by hand must be delivered between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. to:

Office of the Solicitor
2121 Crystal Drive
Suite 918
Arlington, Virginia

Unless permitted by court rules or order, delivery does not include facsimile transmission.

VI. Motions

Motions are inevitable in Federal Circuit and other court practice. Before a motion is filed, appellant should contact the Solicitor's Office to see if there is agreement on the requested relief and the proposed order. If there is no opposition to a procedural order, it can be entered by the Clerk, thereby obtaining prompt relief and obviating the need for a judge or motions panel to consider the matter.

VII. Appendix

A. Designation

The Office of the Solicitor typically designates the following items for inclusion in the appendix in addition to the mandatory items specified in Fed. Cir. R. 30.

In ex parte patent cases, we generally designate:

(1) the specification;
(2) any drawings;
(3) the prior art supporting the rejection;
(4) the final rejection and any Office action referenced in the final rejection;
(5) the examiner's answer; and
(6) any evidence submitted to support patentability.

In ex parte trademark cases, we generally designate:

(1) the trademark application, including the drawing;
(2) specimens;
(3) the trademark examining attorney's statement; and
(4) registrations supporting the refusal and any other evidence relied upon by the examining attorney or the TTAB.

It should be noted that Fed. Cir. R. 30(a)(2)(iii) prohibits the inclusion of briefs filed by an applicant in PTO without leave of the court. However, the examiner's answer and examining attorney's statement may be designated and included without leave. Fed. Cir. R. 30(a)(2).

While the items in the appendix differ from case to case, a typical appendix in an ex parte patent appeal contains the following items in the following order:

(1) table of contents;
(2) the initial decision of the Board;
(3) any decision on reconsideration;
(4) a copy of the certified list, which corresponds to the docket entries mentioned in Fed. R. App. P. 29(a)(1)] ;
(5) the specification;
(6) the final rejection;
(7) the examiner's answer;
(8) any prior art relied upon by PTO;
(9) any rebuttal evidence, e.g., affidavits under Rule 131, 37 CFR § 1.131, or Rule 132, 37 CFR § 1.132; and
(10) a copy of the rejected claims.

With respect to the last item, Fed. Cir. R. 30(a)(3) provides:

> In appeals from . . . [PTO] , the appendix shall, unless the parties mutually agree to the contrary, include a copy of all rejected claims in an ex parte patent appeal, a copy of all counts in a patent interference appeal, and both a copy of the trademark sought to be registered or cancelled and a copy of any registration relied upon to refuse or oppose registration or to seek cancellation of a registered mark in an ex parte or an inter partes trademark appeal.

If the material designated as the appendix exceeds 100 pages, a draft copy of the appendix, with page numbers, should be sent to the Office of the Solicitor. Upon receipt, if we see any problem with the appendix, including any failure to comply with Federal Circuit rules, we promptly advise appellant. Preparation of a draft appendix will also insure that all briefs properly refer to pages of the appendix.

B. Page numbering

Fed. Cir. R. 30(c)(2) requires that page numbers be centered in the bottom margin of each page and that other pagination marks be redacted if necessary to avoid confusion. Numbering the appendix pages with a format such as "0001" generally avoids confusion with other page numbers.

If the designated appendix is less than 100 pages (which should be copied on both the front and back), the appendix is bound with appellant's principal brief. If the designated appendix is more than 100 pages, the appendix is filed separately within seven (7) days of the date the last reply brief is filed. Fed. Cir. R. 30(a)(4).

C. Legible materials

An appendix will often contain copies of materials which are illegible. In cases where counsel for an appellant does not have legible copies of materials which are available in PTO, contact the Office of the Solicitor and we will arrange to send a legible copy.

Handwritten notes in the margin of counsel's copy of Office actions should be removed. The proper place to argue a case is in a brief — not in notes in the margin.

VIII. Briefs

A. Statement of the facts

Fed. R. App. P. 28(a)(3) requires that an appellant file a statement of facts relevant to the issues presented for review. Fed. Cir. R. 28(b) provides that the appellee's statement of the case should be limited to the specific areas of disagreement with those of the appellant. Absent disagreement the appellee shall not include a statement of the case in his brief. Id. In our view these rules place the responsibility to provide a complete and neutral statement of facts on the appellant. Appellant should remember that it lost below. Hence, the "facts" are not those the appellant would like them to be; rather, the "facts" are those found by the Board. The statement of the facts in a brief is not the place to argue that the Board was clearly erroneous in making a finding of fact.

In our experience, appellants' statement of the facts invariably include argument; fail to describe all the facts relevant to the issues; state the facts in a light most favorable to appellant despite contrary findings below; or state conclusions — often without citation to the appendix. As a result, we typically find it necessary to include a detailed and, we believe, a complete and neutral statement of facts — with full citations to the appendix.

We particularly note that when "new" counsel is retained to handle the Federal Circuit appeal, the arguments on appeal often bear no resemblance to the arguments made to the Board. As a matter of logic, it would seem that the Board could not possibly have erred below on the basis of an argument made for the first time in the Federal Circuit. See Keebler Co. v. Murray Bakery Products, 866 F.2d 1386, 9 USPQ2d 1736 (Fed. Cir. 1989) (since Keebler failed to tell the TTAB it was interested in Murray's "intent," it could not use intent as a basis for showing "error" by the TTAB; prescience is not a required characteristic of the board and the board need not divine all possible afterthoughts of counsel that might be asserted for the first time on appeal).

B. References in brief to the appendix

All factual assertions made in the brief should be supported with citation to the appendix. How the Federal Circuit is supposed to know that an assertion is correct, when no reference is made to the appendix in support of the assertion, is something we have not been able to figure out. The Federal Circuit has often noted, with apparent disapproval, the absence of a citation to the appendix in support of a party's position.[22] Failure to cite to the appendix may affect an attorney's credibility before the Federal Circuit and diminish the impact of otherwise meritorious arguments. If counsel feels that it is necessary to make factual assertions and cannot point to the specific portion of the appendix supporting the assertion, consideration should be given to refiling the application. Argument which depends on factual assertions not supported by the record cannot have any relevance to any error in the decision under review.

Moreover, to the extent that we have influence within PTO to bring about a favorable result by way of settlement, we need tobe convinced. Allegations, not supported by references to the appendix, are not likely to convince any attorney in the Office of the Solicitor of the merits of an appellant's position.

IX. Oral argument

A. When we appear

An attorney from the Solicitor's Office will appear and present argument in cases in which the appellant intends to present oral argument. We will submit on the briefs only (1) where appellant submits on brief and (2) no reply brief has been filed or we conclude that the reply brief does not require comment at the oral hearing. On the other hand, if a reply brief raises a substantial issue, particularly a "new" issue, we will appear even if appellant waives oral argument.

B. Discussing the [allegged] error

An appellant has a burden of showing that the Board erred in its decision.[23] Factual findings below must be shown to be clearly erroneous,[24] while legal conclusions are reviewed for correctness or error as a matter of law.[25] Having only a short time for oral hearing, typically fifteen minutes, appellants should direct their remarks to the purported errors in the Board's decision. Based upon the 60 to 80 cases we argue annually, we can assure appellants that Federal Circuit merits panels are familiar with the record and the proceedings under review. Counsel may not want to use part of the 15 minutes normally allocated for oral argument by:

(1) explaining that the case is an appeal from the Patent and Trademark Office (the merits panel already knows that because the briefs have been read),

(2) identifying the appellant or assignee (because it is essentially irrelevant),

(3) reviewing the facts of the case, etc.

However, counsel should be thoroughly familiar with the record and be prepared to identify the portions which support their arguments.

We suggest oral argument by an appellant should start by saying "The error below was . . ." and here's why.

C. Visual aides

Fed. Cir. R. 34(c) encourages the use of visual aids. If the visual aid was not used during the administrative proceeding, written notice of the proposed use must be given at least 15 days prior to the hearing. Any written objections must be filed at least 5 days before the hearing. The rule also provides that counsel may agree on the use of visual aids.

Whether or not we will agree depends on the particular facts. We ordinarily do not disagree with enlargements ("blow- ups") of portions of the record. Where the proposed visual aid is not part of the record, we will not agree until we have had an opportunity to see the visual aid.

X. Petitions for rehearing

Petitions for rehearing can be useful if properly used. But, in our experience, petitions for rehearing filed by appellants simply reargue the case. We do not believe this is a proper function of a petition for rehearing.

Generally we will file a petition for rehearing only when (a) we believe the merits panel has made a genuine mistake — not merely a "judgment" call which happens to differ from our judgment, or (b) even where the result is correct, an opinion contains language which we believe will seriously and adversely affect PTO's ability to properly and effectively administer the patent or trademark laws. See Markey, "Semantic Antics in Patent Cases," 88 F.R.D. 103, 108 (1980) (suggesting rehearing should be requested to modify opinion language which confuses the law of patents).

We suggest, and do not believe, that there is such a thing as a "routine" petition for rehearing. A truly extraordinary situation must exist before a petition for rehearing can be deemed proper.[26] The Office of the Solicitor has been relatively successful with petitions for rehearing. In a 20-year period before the CCPA and Federal Circuit, we can recall filing approximately 12 petitions for rehearing. Some form of relief has been granted in nine, i.e., claims found patentable in the original decision were found unpatentable on rehearing,[27] language was changed in the opinion,[28] relief was granted in part,[29] etc.

XI. Issuance of mandates/termination of proceedings

As provided in Fed. R. App. P. 41(a), the Court's mandate usually issues 21 days after the entry of its decision. A request for rehearing stays the mandate until seven days after an order by the merits panel denying rehearing. Unless there are allowable claims or the Court's decision requires further proceedings by the Office, the receipt of the mandate by PTO "terminates the proceedings" for purposes of continuity under 35 U.S.C. § 120. 37 CFR § 1.197(c), 54 Fed. Reg. 29548, 29552 (July 13, 1989) reprinted in, 1105 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 5, 9 (Aug. 1, 1989). If an appellant contemplates filing a "continuing" application, it should be filed prior to the receipt of the mandate by PTO to preserve the benefit of the filing date of the parent application. Proceedings terminate on receipt of the mandate, not upon the expiration of the period for applying for certiorari to the Supreme Court. [30]

XII. Costs

In ex parte patent and trademark appeals from PTO, costs are not awarded for or against the Commissioner. See Fed. Cir. Practice Note to Fed. Cir. R. 39.[31] Hence, we do not file bills of costs in ex parte cases.

(192) Petitions to Revive Patent Applications Waiver of Provisions of 37 CFR § 1.137(b)

Effective immediately, the Commissioner is suspending under 37 CFR § 1.183 that portion of 37 CFR § 1.137(b) which precludes revival of an application unintentionally abandoned for failure to timely submit a filing fee and/or an oath or declaration. 35 U.S.C. § 111; 37 CFR § 1.53(d).

Upon a review of the plain meaning of 35 U.S.C. §§ 41(a)7, 111, 133, and 151, it is concluded that § 41(a)7 does not preclude reviving a patent application unintentionally abandoned for failure to timely submit a filing fee and/or an oath or declaration pursuant to a request by the Patent and Trademark Office (Office) under 35 U.S.C. § 111 and 37 CFR § 1.53(d). Accordingly, the Office will now act on the merits of petitions to revive applications which became abandoned for failure to timely submit an appropriate filing fee and/or an oath or declaration by the applicant.

Appropriate revisions will be made to 37 CFR 1.137(b) and the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure in due course.

(193) Department of Commerce Patent and Trademark Office 37 CFR Part 1 Patent Fees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Interim Rule
Summary: The Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990 imposes a 69% surcharge on fees charged under 35 U.S.C. § 41(a) and (b). The surcharge took effect on November 5, 1990. By this notice, the Patent and Trademark Office (Office) is informing the public of the patent fees affected and the new amounts including the surcharge.
Effective Date: As required by the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act, the fees in this interim rule are effective November 5, 1990. Consideration will be given to comments received on or before January 25, 1991.
Addresses: Address written comments to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, Attention: Frances Michalkewicz, Suite 904, Building 2, Crystal Park. Written comments will be available for public inspection in Suite 904 of Building 2, Crystal Park, at 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia.
For Further Information Contact: Frances Michalkewicz by telephone at (703) 557-1610 or by mail to her attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231

Supplementary Information

The Patent and Trademark Office is required by the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990 to apply a 69% surcharge to patent fees charged under 35 U.S.C. § 41(a) and (b). By this Act, the 69% surcharge is rounded by standard arithmetic rules. The Office has applied standard arithmetic rules so that the amounts rounded would be de minimis and convenient to the user.

For entities other than small entities, amounts of $100 or more were rounded to the nearest $10. Amounts between $10 and $99 were rounded to the nearest even number so that the comparable small entity fee would be a whole number. For small entities, the Office then reduced the fee by 50% as required by 35 U.S.C. § 41(h).

Any fee under 35 U.S.C. § 41(a) and (b) which is paid on or after November 5, 1990, is subject to the surcharge. For purposes of determining the amount of the fee to be paid, the date of mailing indicated on a proper Certificate of Mailing under 37 CFR § 1.8 or a proper Certificate of Express Mail under 37 CFR § 1.10 will be considered to be the date of receipt in the Office.

Since, by law, this surcharge became effective on November 5, 1990, and the law provided no discretion to the Office, this rule is effective as of that date.

Other Considerations

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Fexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act, 44 U.S.C. § 3501 et seq. There are no information collection requirements related to patent fee rules.

The Office has determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting relations between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million because the additional revenue that the surcharge collects will be offset by a reduction in the Office's appropriation from the general revenues of the United States. While there will be an increase in patent fees, they are required by law, and the Office is without discretion to reduce them.

The Office has determined that good cause exists for dispensing with the requirements under 5 U.S.C. § 553 of notice and comment and delayed effective date. These procedures are impracticable because the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990 imposed a surcharge on fees set under 35 U.S.C. § 41(a) and (b) effective November 5, 1990. Therefore, this rule is being issued as an interim final rule effective November 5, 1990. Comments received by January 25, 1991 will be considered in drafting the final rule.

Because a notice of proposed rulemaking is not required by 5 U.S.C. § 553(b)(B) or any other law, a Regulatory Flexibility Analysis is not required and has not been prepared for purposes of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

For the reasons set out in the preamble, 37 CFR is amended as set forth below.

PART 1-RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. § 6 unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.16 is amended by revising the section heading and paragraphs (a)-(d) and (f)-(j) and adding the authority citation to read as follows:

§ 1.16 National application filing fees and surcharge.

(a) Basic fee for filing each application for an original patent, except design or plant cases:
By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)).....$315.00
By other than a small entity.....$630.00

(b) In addition to the basic filing fee in an original application, for filing or later presentation of each independent claim in excess of 3:
By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)).....$30.00
By other than a small entity.....$60.00

(c) In addition to the basic filing fee in an original application, for filing or later presentation of each claim (whether independent or dependent) in excess of 20. (Note that § 1.75(c) indicates how multiple dependent claims are considered for fee calculation purposes):
By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)).....$10.00
By other than a small entity.....$20.00

(d) In addition to the basic filing fee in an original application, if the application contains, or is amended to contain, a multiple dependent claim(s) per application:

By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)).....$100.00
By other than a small entity.....$200.00

(If the additional fees required by paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) are not paid on filing or on later presentation of the claims for which the additional fees are due, they must be paid or the claims cancelled by amendment, prior to the expiration of the time period set for response by the Office in any notice of fee deficiency.)

(f) For filing each design application:
By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $125.00
By other than a small entity $250.00

(g) Basic fee for filing each plant application:
By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $210.00
By other than a small entity $420.00

(h) Basic fee for filing each reissue application:
By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $315.00
By other than a small entity $630.00

(i) In addition to the basic filing fee in a reissue apllication, for filing or later presentation of each independent claim which is in excess of the number of independent claims in the original patent:
By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $30.00
By other than a small entity $60.00

(j) In addition to the basic filing fee in a reissue application, for filing or later presentation of each claim (whether independent or dependent) in excess of 20 and also in excess of the number of claims in the original patent. (Note that § 1.75(c) indicates how multiple dependent claims are considered for fee purposes):
By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $10.00
By other than a small entity $20.00

(Note: See § 1.445 for international application filing and processing fees.)

3. Section 1.17 is amended by revising the section heading, paragraphs (a)-(g), (l), and (m), and the authority citation to read as follows:

§ 1.17 Patent application processing fees and surcharge.

(a) Extension fee for response within first month pursuant to § 1.136(a):
By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $50.00
By other than a small entity $100.00

(b) Extension fee for response within second month pursuant to § 1.136(a):
By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $150.00
By other than a small entity $300.00

(c) Extension fee for response within third month pursuant to § 1.136(a):
By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $365.00
By other than a small entity $730.00

(d) Extension fee for response within fourth month pursuant to § 1.136(a):
By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $575.00
By other than a small entity $1,150.00

(e) For filing a notice of appeal from the examiner to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences:
By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $120.00
By other than a small entity $240.00

(f) In addition to the fee for filing a notice of appeal, for filing a brief in support of an appeal:
By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $120.00
By other than a small entity $240.00

(g) For filing a request for an oral hearing before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in an appeal under 35 U.S.C. 134:
By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $100.00
By other than a small entity $200.00

(i) For filing a petition
(1) For the revivial of an unavodably abandonded application under 35 U.S.C. sections 133 or 371, or
(2) For delayed payment of the issue fee under 35 U.S.C. § 151:
By a small entity(§ 1.9(f)) $50.00
By other than a small entity $100.00

(m) For filing a petition
(1) For revival of an umintentionally abandonded application, or
(2) For the unintentionally delayed payment of the fee for issuing a patent:
By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $525.00
By other than a small entity $1050.00

(Omnibus Budget Rencociliation Act of 1990), § 10101; Pub. TRADEMARK APPLICATION EXAMINATION AND CONTENT

(194) Interviews Involving Trademark Application

Interviews frequently result in a better understanding of the issues involved, shorten the prosecution and facilitate disposal of applications.

Interviews for discussion of registrability of the mark of a pending application will not be had before the first official Office action thereon and ordinarily not before filing the first response. Arrangements for an interview should be made in advance so that the Examiner may review the case and be familiar with the details involved.

Interviews on Friday will no longer be prohibited as a matter of policy but all interviews should be set at a time satisfactory to all parties concerned.

A memorandum summarizing the conclusions reached at the interview should be prepared by the Examiner and placed in the application file. The memorandum will be retained in the application file until the prosecution is completed. Such procedure will not, however, relieve the applicant of the responsibility of complying with the requirements of Trademark Rule 2.62.

HORACE B. FAY, JR.,
Assistant Commissioner of Patents.

This supersedes the notice of Feb. 10, 1958. (728 O.G. TM 1)

[804 O.G. TM 147]

(195) Trademark Examining Procedure for Amended Applications; Reporting Oldest Dates of Amended Trademark Applications

Effective immediately, the order in which amendments to trademark applications are examined is changed. Previously, Examiners have usually acted on amended cases in order of filing date of the application which the amendment concerned, i.e., amended cases with the oldest filing date were examined first. Under the new procedure, amended cases will normally be examined in the order in which the amendment or other response is received, i.e., amendments that are received first will normally be examined first.

Effective with this issue of the Official Gazette (Trademark Section) in order to reflect more accurately the condition of division dockets, the column reporting the date of the oldest amended application in each division has been changed to indicate the date of receipt of the oldest filed amendment. Under this new method of reporting the oldest date of receipt of a filed amendment upon which no action has been taken by an Examiner will be indicated for each division of the Trademark Examining Operation.

Assistant Commissioner.

(196) Trademark Office Actions

Effective immediately Applicants or their attorneys will be provided with only one carbon copy of any office action, and the mailing of an additional carbon copy will be discontinued.

This change is consistent with the current practice in the patent examining operations and should result in greater efficiency in the preparation and mailing of office actions.

Commissioner of Patents.

[895 O.G. TM 238]

(197) Petition to Make Trademark Applications Special

The practice of expediting the prosecution of new trademark applications on request of the applicant (accelerated prosecution) was rescinded, effective Aug. 1, 1971 (36 F.R. 13231, July 16, 1971; 825 O.G. 2). This action was taken after a careful study of the practice, including a recommendation of the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs that the Patent Office terminate accelerated prosecution of trademark applications. The study considered both the effect of the procedure on the workload of the Trademark Operations and the broader interest of examining trademark applications in an order which is equitable to all applicants.

Since the termination of this practice, the Office has experienced some increase in the number of petitions requesting the Commissioner to invoke his supervisory authority pursuant to Rule 2.146 in order to advance the examination of applications out of their regular order. This was to be expected since applicants who might have been able to show special circumstances entitling them to advanced examination could previously achieve this special treatment without resorting to a petition. However, some of the petitions now being received are not considered sufficient to justify the extraordinary relief of invoking the supervisory authority of the Commissioner for the purpose of advancing the applications out of their regular order.

In particular, a number of such petitions have been based on the ground that the applicant is about to embark on an advertising campaign or to commit advertising or promotional expenditures in which the mark applied for is material. Such a ground is not considered to constitute appropriate circumstances justifying the advancement of the application out of its regular turn and the petitions based on such ground have been and will continue to be denied. The principal reason for the denial is that these circumstances are applicable to a substantial portion of the trademark applications filed in the Patent Office. The supervisory authority of the Commissioner should be exercised only where an extraordinary reason for such action has been disclosed. See Anderson & Dyer v. Lewry, 89 O.G. 1861, 1899 C.D. 230, and Wilputte v. Van Ackeren, 103 USPQ 235. Thus, the extraordinary remedy of invoking the supervisory authority of the Commissioner is not considered appropriate under these circumstances.

In the interest of equitable treatment of all applicants, the policy of the Office in granting such petitions will be restricted to those cases in which particular and very special circumstances exist, such as a demonstrable possibility of loss of substantial rights, rather than circumstances which would be equally applicable to a large number of other applicants for trademark registration.

Commissioner of Patents.

(198) Title 37—Patents, Trademarks, and Copyrights

Chapter I—Patent Office, Department of Commerce

Parts 2 and 6—Rules of Practice in Trademark Cases

International Trademark Classification

A proposal was published at 37 F.R. 6404 to revise § 6.1 of the Rules of Practice in Trademark Cases. The Patent Office proposed to establish the "International Classification of Goods and Services to Which Trademarks Are Applied" (the subject of the "Nice Agreement Concerning the International Classification of Goods and Services for the Purposes of the Registration of Marks" of 1957, as revised at Stockholm on July 14, 1967) as the primary classification of goods and services for registration of trademarks and service marks. Pursuant to the Notice, written comments have been received, and a public hearing was held on June 14, 1972. Full consideration has been given to all matter presented, and changes in the text of the original proposal have been made in view thereof. It has been determined that adoption of the international classification system is desirable.

The Patent Office has studied the international classification and, since Mar. 5, 1968, has indicated the appropriate international class in all publications and on all issued registrations and renewals as a subsidiary classification. Based on this experience and the comments received, it is now believed that adoption of the international schedule as the primary classification system is desirable. The international system is easier to administer because of fewer classes of goods and the availability of an alphabetical listing of goods and services.

The Nice Agreement provides for an International Committee of Experts whose objective is to keep the classification current. The classification of specific goods and services is set forth in the Alphabetical List entitled "International Classification of Goods and Services to Which Trademarks Are Applied" (published by the World Intellectual Property Organization). In addition, the International Trademark Classification List contains the names of the classes setting forth the basic contents of each class. The Alphabetical List also comprises explanatory notes which serve as guidelines for determining the appropriate international class for a specific product or service.

The alphabetical listing within the International Trademark Classification Manual is currently used by the Office as a guideline for determining the degree of particularity of identification of goods. See "Identification of Goods and Services in Trademark Applications," 36 F.R. 13232; July 16, 1971.

Applications for registrations filed on or after Sept. 1, 1973, and registrations issuing thereon, will be classified according to the international classification set forth in the new § 6.1. Accordingly, the international classification is adopted under Section 30 of the Trademark Act of all purposes under the statute and rules; and, therefore, will be the criterion for determining, inter alia, fees.

Applications for the registration of marks filed on or before Aug. 31, 1973, appeals or petitions to revive or oppositions filed in connection with said applications, and affidavits, renewals and petitions for cancellation filed in connection with registrations issuing thereon, will continue to be processed under the classification system existing at the time the mark was registered.

All applications which are published and registrations which are issued will carry both the appropriate international classification and existing U.S. classification number.

An insufficient fee, in connection with an appeal or opposition on any application or in connection with an affidavit or renewal filed in connection with any registration, will not render the same unacceptable, if the proper fee is submitted within a time limit set forth in a notification of the defect, providing the proper fee for at least one class has been originally submitted within the applicable time limit. This will be the case even if the full fee is not received within the sixth year in the case of an affidavit filed under Section 8 or before the end of the twentieth year, including the grace period, in the case of renewal applications, or within the six-month statutory response period in the case of an appeal, or within the thirty-day opposition period, or any extension thereof in the case of the filing of an opposition.

The existing classification system will continue to be used for searching registered and pending marks until all documents in the search file are organized on the basis of the international system of classification. Until this changeover is effected, the U.S. class designation will continue to be printed on all published applications and registrations issued under the existing or the international classification system to facilitate searching on the basis of the existing U.S. system of classification.

Until all applications filed on or before Aug. 31, 1973, have been disposed of, the trademark sections of the Official Gazette, which are organized by class, will include two sections: one for applications published or registrations issued on the basis of applications filed on or before Aug. 31, 1973, organized by class according to the U.S. schedule of classes; the other section for applications published or registrations issued on the basis of applications filed on or after Sept. 1, 1973, organized by class according to the new international schedule.

Certification marks and collective membership marks will continue to be classified as set forth in redesignated §§ 6.3 and 6.4.

Efforts will be made to have the International Trademark Classification List printed by the Government Printing Office or otherwise assure the availability of the List from local sources. Notification will appear in the Official Gazette when the List is available from local sources of the Government Printing Office.

The English edition of the "International Classification of Goods and Services to Which Trademarks Are Applied" can presently be ordered from:

Sales Branch, The Patent Office, Block C
Station Square House, St. Mary Cray
Orpington, Kent, England

Certain modifications and additions to the international trademark classification have been published as supplements and are also available from the British Office. In addition, and inasmuch as the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) has issued the List in several languages, it is anticipated that an English version will be published by that organization.

We have been advised by the Patent Office of the United Kingdom that the only acceptable methods of payment for the International Trademark Classification List are by International Postal Money Order or by banker's draft payable in sterling and drawn on a bank in the United Kingdom.

(Note: Rule 2.85 (Classification schedules) was revised and Rule 6.1 (International schedule of classes of goods and services) was established as of September 1, 1973 by this notice; prior U.S. schedule of classes was redesignated as Rule 6.2.)

(199) Wording In Verification or Declaration of Trademark Application

Applicants and attorneys are requested to use the following wording in the part of the verification or declaration of the trademark application which indicates the signer's belief that the mark applied for does not resemble another person's mark:

> —that no other person, firm, corporation, or association, to the best of his knowledge and belief, has the right to use such mark in commerce either in the identical form thereof or in such near resemblance thereto as to be likely, when applied to the goods of such other person, to cause confusion, or cause mistake, or to deceive: —

The wording emphasized conforms to the language of both Sections 1(a)(1) and 2(d) of the Trademark Act of 1946.

Some applicants and attorneys, instead of using the wording emphasized above, are still using the now obsolete wording "as might be calculated to deceive" which was promulgated in the forms under the Trademark Act of 1905 and inadvertently continued by the Act of 1946 up to October 1962 in Section 1(a)(1) and in the forms connected with the Act. Section 1(a)(1) of the 1946 Act was amended by Act of October 9, 1962 (Public Law 772, 87th Congress, 76 Stat. 769) to conform it to the language of Section 2(d) of the 1946 Act, since the language of Section 2(d) reflects the thinking at the time the 1946 Act was written. The wording of the trademark forms for the 1946 Act has also been amended appropriately.

It is desirable that proper wording be used. However, since the differences in wording referred to above are considered to be differences of form rather than of substance. Examiners will not require new verifications or declarations. When the obsolete wording is observed and a letter is to be written for other reasons, Examiners will at that time call attention to the fact that the wording is obsolete and should be modified in applications in the future.

(200) Standardized Disclaimers

Beginning with the Nov. 9, 1982 issue of the Official Gazette, disclaimers in marks published for opposition and in those registered on the Supplemental Register will be printed in a standardized form, regardless of the text submitted. Certificates of registration for marks issued on the Supplemental Register will also contain the standardized disclaimer as of that date. Certificates of registration for marks issued on the Principal Register will contain the uniform statement beginning Feb. 1, 1983. The disclaimed matter will be taken from the disclaimer of record and inserted into a standardized disclaimer for printing and data base purposes. The new disclaimer text will take the following form:

No claim is made to the exclusive right to use apart from the mark as shown.

(201) Trademark "Revivals" and "Reinstatements"

It would be of great assistance to the Office if the heading or caption of "Petitions to Revive" or "Requests for Reinstatement" of abandoned trademark applications carried the following identifying data:

1. Address Paper to the Attention of:
   Office of Director, Trademark Examining Operation
2. Serial Number
3. Mark
4. Applicant's Name
5. A title indicating the nature of the paper

Use of this heading for "Petitions to Revive" or "Requests for Reinstatement" of abandoned trademark applications will help ensure that the papers are promptly routed to the proper Office, which will prevent needless delay in its consideration.

(202) T-Search Printouts as Section 2(d) References

As part of its ongoing automation program, the PTO is pleased to announce that on or about July 1, 1986, Trademark Examining Attorneys will use the automated Trademark search system (T-Search) exclusively for searching word marks. The Examining Attorneys will use computer printouts to advise applicants about Section 2(d) references. The printouts will include computer-generated facsimiles of the drawing where appropriate. The printouts will be used for word marks, whether the word is depicted in a typed drawing or in stylized form. Photocopies of certificates of registration will continue to be used for design marks.

The Patent and Trademark Office, in consultation with the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs, has established accuracy standards for the computerized data. Data elements which are not essential for examiner searching are being systematically checked and corrected. The following data elements which are essential for examiner searching purposes are essentially complete:

1. MARK
2. SERIAL NUMBER
3. REGISTRATION NUMBER
4. FILING DATE
5. REGISTRATION DATE
6. GOODS AND SERVICES
7. INTERNATIONAL CLASS
8. U.S. CLASS

Subject to the above caveat, the printouts will contain all the information that appears on the certificate of registration with one exception. If an application for registration was based on Section 44, 15 U.S.C. 1126, the printout will indicate that the registration or application was filed under the provisions of Section 44 (using the notation "SECT 44"). The printout will also show the priority date if the application was filed under the provisions of Section 44(d). However, it will not indicate the country or certificate number of the foreign registration on which the U.S. registration was based.

The printouts will also contain additional registration information which was not provided under the non-automated system, as follows:

A. Change in registration—This will indicate that a registration was changed after registration, such as by an amendment of the mark or identification of goods/services. The current information will be displayed in the printout.

B. Affidavits—This indicates that a Section 8 affidavit of continued use was accepted, that a Section 15 affidavit of incontestability was acknowledged, or that a mark was republished under the provisions of Section 12(c).

C. Renewals—Applicable renewal information, such as "1st Renewal" or "2nd Renewal" will be shown.

D. Owner—In addition to listing the original registrant, the last known owner, as the change of ownership is acknowledged by the Office by virtue of examining an affidavit or renewal, will be included.

The following provides an explanation of the terms/symbols used in the printout:

1. Goods or services appearing in double parentheses "(( ))" were not included in a Section 15 affidavit.
2. Goods or services appearing in brackets "[ ]" were deleted after registration by amendment, correction, restriction or at the time of renewal.
3. Dates will appear as year, month and day. For example, June 20, 1983 will appear as 1983.06.20.
4. Goods and services will be indicated with the international class (IC), the prior U.S. classification (US), the identification, date of first use and date of first use in commerce.
5. Registrants (OWNER) will be listed showing the owner's name, entity designation (e.g., individual, partnership, corporation), country of citizenship or state or country of incorporation, and address.
6. Pseudo mark—This material is merely a search aid and has no bearing on the registration information.
7. Design search code—This is also merely an aid for computerized searching of design marks, by which a number is assigned to describe a particular design element. It has no bearing on the registration information.
8. Mark drawing code—This indicates the appearance of the mark, and again is not part of the registration data. There are six mark drawing codes.

   1—typed drawing
   2—design only
   3—words, letters and/or numbers and design

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

4—words, letters and/or number in block form (block letters; not typed drawing)
5—words, letters and/or numbers in a stylized form
6—sound marks

An example of a computer printout and a facsimile of a stylized word mark follow.

(203) Trademark Drawings

Effective July 3, 1989, the requirement of Trademark Rule 2.52(c) (37 CFR {g49 2.52(c)) that drawings in trademark applications be limited in size to 4 inches by 4 inches will be strictly enforced for the purpose of assigning a filing date, pursuant to Trademark Rule 2.21(a)(3) (37 CFR {g49 2.21(a)(3)). [This notice rescinds the prior notice concerning this issue in the Official Gazette of June 30, 1987, at 1079 TMOG 12.]

The drawing size limitation is necessary to permit entry of the drawing in the automated trademark search system (T-Search) as soon as possible after receipt of the application by the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO). Oversized or poor quality drawings require additional processing before they can be digitized (copied) and entered in T-Search. If the PTO must reduce a drawing, not only is there often a loss of detail and overall drawing quality, but drawing reduction processing lengthens the time before the mark and information about the application are available to the public. Furthermore, an oversized drawing that is not reduced by the PTO cannot be scanned in its entirety for entry in T-Search, resulting in the possible loss of portions of the mark.

Enforcement of the drawing size limitation rule as a requirement for receipt of a filing date will permit the PTO to expedite application processing and permit the applicant to control the reduction process and, thus, control the quality of the representation of the mark as it will appear in T-Search, in the Official Gazette, and on the registration certificate.

The Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988 [Title 1 of Pub. L. 100-667, 102 Stat. 3935 (15 U.S.C. 1051)] will be implemented on Nov.16, 1989. Two important provisions of the new law are that (1) an application for registration of the Principal Register may be filed based upon a bona fide intention to use a mark in commerce (15 U.S.C. 1051(b), as amended), and (2) for all applications filed on or after Nov. 16, 1989, upon the registration of a mark on the Principal Register, the application filing date becomes a constructive date of first use of the mark (15 U.S.C. 1057(c), as amended). Therefore, expedited processing to permit timely public notification of the filing of an application on the Principal Register will be particularly important.

(204) Examination Guide

The following examination guide concerns the implementation of The Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988, Public Law 100-667, 102 Stat. 3935, and the amended Rules of Practice in Trademark Cases, 37 C.F.R. Part 2, which take effect on November 16, 1989. The guide is to be used in conjuction with Revision 7 to The Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure.

The guide presents a comprehensive statement of the revisions to Office policy and procedure related to the referenced amendments to the Trademark Act and rules. To the extent that the policies stated in the guide conflict with policies set forth in Revision 7, the provisions of the guide are controlling. Those policies set forth in Revision 7 which do not conflict with the guide remain operative.

Preface

On November 16, 1988, the President signed The Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988 into law, Public Law 100-667, 102 Stat. 3935 (the 1988 amendments). The 1988 amendments, which take effect on November 16, 1989, represent the most significant reform in United States trademark law since the enactment of The Trademark Act of 1946, 15 U.S.C. Section 1051 et seq. (the Act). The principal purpose of this examination guide is to provide a comprehensive statement of revisions to Office policy and procedure associated with the 1988 amendments.

The Rules of Practice in Trademark Cases, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.1 et seq., have also been revised effective November 16, 1989, principally to incorporate the provisions of the 1988 amendments. The rules were also revised to update Office policy in other respects. These additional revisions bring the rules into conformity with current Office practice in several areas and reflect changes in practice dictated by decisions such as the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board decision in Crocker National Bank v. Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, 223 USPQ 909 (TTAB 1984). This guide will also set forth these additional revisions to Office policy and procedure reflected in the rules. The revisions discussed here were published in final form on September 11, 1989, with the exception of the revisions to Trademark Rules 2.42 and 2.186, 37 C.F.R. Sections 2.42 and 2.186, which were published in final form on August 22, 1989, in conjunction with other revisions related to proceedings before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board. All revisions published on both dates take effect on November 16, 1989. References in this guide to the rules relate to the rules as amended on November 16, 1989.

The most significant amendment to the Act is a provision permitting the filing of applications to register marks on the Principal Register based on a bona fide intention to use a mark in commerce, before actual use (intent-to-use applications). The examination guide will discuss the administration of this provision in detail. However, intent to use and other provisions of the 1988 amendments required revisions in policies and procedures affecting virtually all applications and all aspects of processing. Please read the entire guide carefully to become familiar with all of the provisions.

The first major section of the guide presents the requirements, policies and procedures related to intent-to-use applications. The second major section addresses provisions affecting all applications. The next two sections address provisions related to other specific types of applications, and the final section addresses multiple bases and changes in the basis for registration.

The policies set forth in this guide apply to all applications, affidavits and renewals filed on or after November 16, 1989, unless specifically indicated otherwise. The stated policies also apply to any action taken on or after November 16, 1989, with respect to applications filed before that date, unless specifically indicated otherwise. To the extent that the policies and procedures set forth in this examination guide conflict with policies or procedures set forth in the Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure (TMEP) or other statements of Office policy, the provisions of this examination guide are controlling. Note especially the discussion below concerning the application of the rule restricting amendments to the identification of goods and services to pending applications.

A. INTENT-TO-USE APPLICATIONS

1. General Overview

a. Summary of Application Flow

The 1988 amendments revise Section 1 of the Act to permit filing of an application to register a mark on the Principal Register based on a statement of a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. Trademark Act Section 1(b), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(b). The Act, as amended, further requires that such an applicant use the mark in commerce before issuance of the registration. The Act thus requires that the applicant file either an amendment to allege use or a statement of use before, and as a precondition to, the issuance of the registration. Trademark Act Sections 1(c) and 1(d), 15 U.S.C. Sections 1051(c) and (d).

The principal difference between the amendment to allege use and the statement of use is the time of filing. The amendment to allege use may be filed during initial examination, that is, after filing of the application but before either approval of the mark for publication or the expiration of the response period after issuance of a final action. Trademark Rule 2.76 (a), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.76(a). If the ammendment to allege use is acceptable and the application is otherwise in condition for publication, the mark will be published for opposition. After publication, the application will be processed in the same manner as an application based on use. If the application is not opposed, or if the applicant prevails in all oppositions filed, the application will proceed to registration.

If the applicant does not file an acceptable amendment to allege use during initial examination or if it is withdrawn, and the application is otherwise in condition for publication, the mark will be published for opposition. If the application is not opposed, or if the applicant prevails in all oppositions filed, the Office will issue a notice of allowance under Trademark Act Section 13 (b)(2), 15 U.S.C. Section 1063 (b)(2). The applicant must file a statement of use within six months of the issuance of the notice of allowance or within an extension of time granted for filing of the statement of use. Trademark Act Section 1(d), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(d). The applicant may not file the statement of use before issuance of the notice of allowance. Trademark Rule 2.88(a), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.88(a). This period after approval for publication and before issuance of the notice of allowance during which the statement of use may not be filed is referred to as the blackout period. The statement of use will be examined as discussed below.

The applicant may request extensions of time for filing the statement of use under Trademark Act Section 1(d), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(d). The applicant may request one six-month extension without a showing of good cause and four additional six-month extensions with a showing of good cause. Trademark Rule 2.89, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.89. Extensions of time are discussed below in detail (A.7.).

Please note that any reference to "initial examination" refers to examination of an intent-to-use application before approval for publication. The examination after filing of the statement of use will be referred to as "examination of the statement of use." Also, please note that the "notice of allowance" refers to a new document required under the 1988 amendments. To avoid confusion, the term "allowance" will be used only in reference to this document and this phase of processing intent-to- use applications. Therefore, this guide will use the term "approval for publication" rather than "allowance for publication" to avoid any confusion with the notice of allowance.

As discussed in more detail below, the examining attorney must raise and dispose of all possible issues in the application during the initial examination. During examination of the statement of use, the examining attorney may not issue requirements or refusals which could or should have been presented in the initial examination unless the failure to do so initially was a clear error as defined below (A.9.b.).

The Office has established a special intent-to-use unit (ITU Unit) to process certain papers. Paralegals in the ITU Unit will review all statements of use to determine whether they meet the minimum requirements to be forwarded for examination on the merits, in the same way that the Application Section reviews the initial application for compliance with filing requirements. If the statement of use meets the minimum requirements, it will be referred to the examining attorney in the law office for examination on the merits. The paralegals in the ITU Unit will also review and act on all requests for extensions of time to file statements of use.

b. Constructive Use Priority

Trademark Act Section 7 has also been amended to provide that the filing of any application for registration on the Principal Register, including an intent-to-use application, constitutes constructive use of the mark, provided the application matures into a registration. Trademark Act Section 7(c), 15 U.S.C. Section 1057(c). Upon registration, filing thus affords the applicant nationwide priority over others except parties who had used the mark before the applicant's filing date, parties who had filed in the Office before the applicant or parties who are entitled to an earlier priority filing date based on the filing of a foreign application under Trademark Act Section 44(d), 15 U.S.C. Section 1126(d).

The Office will not amend the filing date of any application filed before November 16, 1989, to a date on or after November 16, 1989, for the purpose of affording the applicant whatever benefit the constructive use date may provide.

c. Application Requirements

Intent-to-use applications must comply with all of the requirements of the Act and relevant regulations in all respects except as specifically noted in this guide. For example, the provisions of Sections 2(e)(1), 2(e)(2) and 2(e)(3) apply to intent-to-use applications as well as to other applications. This section of the guide will focus on those requirements, policies and procedures related to intent-to-use applications which differ from those related to the filing and processing of other applications.

d. Applications Not Accepted Until Effective Date

The Office will not accept any intent-to-use applications filed before November 16, 1989. If any such application is received before that date, the Office will return the application. If an intent-to-use application filed before the effective date reaches the examining attorney in error, the examining attorney should return the case to the Application Section for appropriate action. However, if the examining attorney has already issued an action, the examining attorney should issue a new action refusing registration because the application was void as filed.

Intent-to-use applications executed before the effective date, but filed on or after the effective date, will be accepted. However, the examining attorney will determine whether the time between execution and filing is within Office guidelines for all applications. See TMEP section 803.04. The applicant may reexecute the declaration verifying its statement of a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce if the examining attorney determines that the delay between execution and filing was unreasonable.

All intent-to-use and Section 44 applicants must file the application within a reasonable time after execution to ensure the statement of intent is valid at the time of filing. The guidelines governing the reasonableness of the lapse of time are the same as those which apply to use applicants.

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

e. Good Faith

The Act specifies that an applicant may file an application based on a bona fide intention to use a mark in commerce "...under circumstances showing the good faith of such person." Trademark Act Section 1(b), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(b). The Office will not evaluate the good faith of an applicant in the ex parte examina- tion of applications. The applicant's sworn statement of a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce will always be sufficient evidence of good faith in the ex parte context. Consideration of issues related to good faith is appropriate in an inter partes proceeding.

2. Filing-Date Requirements

Trademark Rule 2.21, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.21, sets forth the minimum requirements for receiving a filing date for an intent-to- use application as well as other types of applications. These minimum formal requirements do not include all of the requirements which may ultimately apply for registration of the mark, but merely those requirements which must be met to receive a filing date. Please note the discussion below of those requirements for receiving a filing date which apply to all applications, in particular, the requirement that the application include a declaration or verification signed by the applicant to receive a filing date (B.1.).

With specific reference to intent-to-use applications, the application must include the following elements to receive a filing date: the name of the applicant; the name and address to which communications can be directed; a drawing of the mark substantially meeting all of the requirements of Trademark Rule 2.52, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.52; an identification of goods or services; a claim of a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce; a verification or declaration under Trademark Rule 2.33(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.33(b), signed by the applicant; and the required filing fee for at least one class of goods or services.

In the case of an intent-to-use application, as in the case of all applications, if the application lacks any of the elements specified as necessary to receive a filing date, the application will be denied a filing date and all papers returned to the applicant with an explanation as to the deficiency. TMEP section 704. If an application which lacks one or more of the elements required for receiving a filing date is referred to the law office for examination in error, the examining attorney should return the case to the Application Section for appropriate handling. If the examining attorney discovers that an element was lacking after taking an action in the case, the examining attorney should issue a refusal on the ground that the application was not eligible to receive a filing date. TMEP section 705.02.

The fee for filing an intent-to-use application is the same as the filing fee for any other application, $175.00 per class.

3. Application Requirements - Initial Examination

In an intent-to-use application, the examining attorney will potentially examine both the application and a statement of use. After receipt of the application, the Office will perform the initial examination of the application to determine whether the mark is eligible for registration, but for the lack of use. If it is found to be eligible, the mark will be approved for publication and published for opposition. If the applicant has not submitted an amendment to allege use before publication, and the application is not opposed or survives all oppositions filed, the Office will issue a notice of allowance. Trademark Act Section 13(b), 15 U.S.C. Section 1063(b); Trademark Rule 2.81, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.81. In such a case, the applicant must submit a statement of use. Trademark Act Section 1(d)(1), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(d)(1); Trademark Rule 2.88, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.88. If an amendment to allege use is filed and accepted, the application will be processed in the same manner as a use application from that point forward.

This section addresses examination before publication only; a later section will discuss the filing and examination of the statement of use after issuance of the notice of allowance.

The examining attorney must examine and act on all possible issues in the initial examination of the application. The intent-to-use application is subject to the same requirements and examination procedures as all other applications, except as specifically noted.

a. Drawings

The examination of the drawing in initial examination, before submission of any amendment to allege use and specimens, will focus primarily on the form of the drawing and compliance with Trademark Rule 2.52, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.52. The examination of the drawing after submission of an amendment to allege use is discussed below (A.4.d.iv.). As in any other application, the applicant may not amend the mark in a drawing if the amendment constitutes a material alteration of the mark. In re The Wine Society of America, Inc., Serial No. 662,515 (TTAB, April 6, 1989). The applicant may not add or delete matter if the amendment would alter the character of the mark.

Please note the discussion below concerning the requirement in all applications that special-form drawings not exceed four inches by four inches to receive a filing date (B.1.b.).

b. Statutory Averments and the Identification of Goods and Services

The application must include a statement that the applicant has a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce with respect to specific goods and services as well as the other averments specified in Trademark Act Section 1(b), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(b). Trademark Rule 2.33(b)(2), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.33(b)(2). If the application does not include the averments, the examining attorney must require a new verification including all necessary averments.

The general requirements related to identification of goods and services discussed below apply to intent-to-use applications as well as to all other applications. Under Trademark Rule 2.71(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.71(b), "the identification of goods or services may be amended to clarify or limit the identification, but additions will not be permitted." The policies governing the application of this revised rule are discussed in detail below (B.6.) with examples and merit special attention.

Furthermore, under long-standing Office policy, the identification of goods and services must be specific and definite. Cf. In re Societe Generale des Eaux Minerales de Vittel S.A., 1 USPQ2d 1296 (TTAB 1986), rev'd on other grounds, 824 F.2d 957, 3 USPQ2d 1450 (Fed. Cir. 1987).

As noted above, the Office will not examine the applicant's good faith in relation to the identification of goods or services or otherwise. Consideration of this issue is more appropriate in an inter partes proceeding.

In suggesting identifications, examining attorneys should not be overly restrictive. See In re Sentry Chemical Company, 230 USPQ 556 (TTAB 1986).

Because applicants may only limit or clarify the goods and services, the examining attorney should provide appropriate cautions to the applicant in requiring amendment to the identification of goods and services. When appropriate, the examining attorney should advise the applicant that goods or services explicitly deleted by amendment may not be reinserted at a later point in prosecution. Examining attorneys should take particular attention in the case of pro se applicants to ensure that they are aware of the restrictions related to amendments to the identification of goods and services.

c. Examination for Use as a Trademark or Service Mark

The Office will not examine the issue of use as a trademark or service mark in the initial examination of an intent-to-use application unless the applicant has submitted specimens of use in conjunction with an amendment to allege use under Section 1(c). However, as noted below (A.4.d.), if the applicant withdraws an amendment to allege use, the specimens remain of record, but the examining attorney may not consider or act on any such specimens in relation to the issue of use.

d. Examination under Sections 1, 2(a), 2(b), 2(c) and 2(e)

To the fullest extent possible, the examining attorney will examine the intent-to-use application for registrability under Trademark Act Sections 1, 2(a), 2(b), 2(c) and 2(e), 15 U.S.C. Sections 1051, 1052(a), (b), (c) and (e), according to the same procedures and standards which apply to any other application. The examining attorney should investigate all possible issues regarding registrability under these sections through all available sources. If appropriate, the examining attorney should request that the applicant provide literature or explanation concerning these issues under Trademark Rule 2.61(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.61(b). The examining attorney should request such information relevant to the types of goods or services or the trade, in general, or similar general information. The examining attorney should not request information regarding use of the specific mark in relation to the goods or services.

First and foremost, the examining attorney must develop evidence during the initial examination from sources other than the applicant. The examining attorney may not make any inquiry or request any information premised on use of the mark before the applicant files an amendment to allege use. If the applicant submits an amendment to allege use during the initial examination, the examining attorney may then obtain relevant information from the applicant in the same manner as would apply in any application based on use unless the amendment to allege use is withdrawn.

The examining attorney must raise all possible issues under these sections in the initial examination of the application. As discussed more fully below (A.9.), Office policy precludes the issuance of a requirement or refusal during examination of the statement of use if the issue could or should have been treated in the initial examination, unless the failure to do so in initial examination constitutes a clear error. "Clear error" means an error which, if not corrected, would result in issuance of a registration in violation of the Act. The meaning and application of this standard are discussed in detail below (A.9.b.).

e. Examination under Section 2(d)

The examining attorney will perform a search and will issue refusals, as appropriate, under Trademark Act Section 2(d), 15 U.S.C. Section 1052(d), in the case of an intent-to-use application. The determination of likelihood of confusion under Section 2(d) in an intent-to-use application does not differ from the determination in any other type of application. The examining attorney should consider questions concerning the scope of the goods and services and related goods and services in determining likelihood of confusion under the standards which have historically governed in applications based on use or based on a foreign application or registration.

For the purpose of determining priority among pending applications, the intent-to-use application will be treated in the same manner as any other application. For purposes of publication for opposition, an intent-to-use application will receive priority over any application which has an effective filing date later than the intent-to-use application.

For the purpose of determining priority between two applications which have the same filing date, the application with the earlier date of execution will be accorded priority for purposes of publication for opposition. Trademark Rule 2.83(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.83(b). This would apply whether one or both of the applications are intent-to-use applications.

Also, an intent-to-use application, like any other application, cannot serve as the basis for a formal refusal under Section 2(d) until the application has matured into a registration.

f. Claims of Acquired Distinctiveness under Section 2(f)

An intent-to-use applicant may not assert that a nondistinctive designation has acquired distinctiveness under Trademark Act Section 2(f), 15 U.S.C. Section 1052(f), until the applicant has submitted an amendment to allege use or a statement of use. A claim of acquired distinctiveness, by definition, requires prior use. Section 2(f) is limited by its terms to "a mark used by the applicant." Therefore, the examining attorney should reject any claim of acquired distinctiveness filed before submission of an acceptable amendment to allege use or statement of use. The examining attorney should consider and act on any claim of acquired distinctiveness filed after such time in the same manner and according to the same standards which would apply to any other application.

Please note the discussion below of the revision regarding five-year claims of acquired distinctiveness (B.7.).

g. Intent-to-Use Applications and the Supplemental Register

An intent-to-use applicant may not seek registration on the Supplemental Register until the applicant has submitted either an acceptable amendment to allege use or statement of use. Trademark Rule 2.75(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.75(b). Only applications under Trademark Act Section 44, 15 U.S.C. Section 1126, are excepted from the use requirement in seeking registration on the Supplemental Register. Trademark Act Section 44(e), 15 U.S.C. Section 1126(e).

If an applicant submits an application for the Supplemental Register based on intent to use, the Office will reject the application because it was void as filed and will return all papers to the applicant with any fees submitted. If any such application reaches an examining attorney in error, the examining attorney should return the papers to the Application Section for appropriate action.

If an intent-to-use applicant does file an acceptable amendment to allege use or statement of use and an acceptable amendment to the Supplemental Register, the Office will change the effective filing date of the application to the date of the filing of the amendment to allege use or the statement of use. Trademark Rule 2.75(b), 37 C.F.R Section 2.75(b). The examining attorney must ensure that the effective filing date has been changed.

The amendment to allege use or statement of use should be examined before any action is taken on an amendment to the Supplemental Register.

4. Amendments to Allege Use under Section 1(c) of the Act

As stated earlier, an intent-to-use applicant must file either an amendment to allege use under Trademark Act Section 1(c), 15 U.S.C. 1051(c), or a statement of use under Trademark Act Section 1(d), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(d), as a precondition to issuance of the registration. This section will discuss amendments to allege use only; the statement of use will be discussed below (A.8. and 9.).

a. Form and Permissible Time Period for Filing an Amendment to Allege Use under Section 1(c) of the Act

Any paper which includes an amendment to allege use under Section 1(c) of the Act should be entitled "Amendment to Allege Use" whether or not it includes other amendments. This title should appear at the top of the first page. Trademark Rule 2.76(d), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.76(d). This practice is recommended, not required. It will assist in the prompt and orderly processing of papers. The Office will not take any action to require a proper title.

An applicant may file an amendment to allege use under Section 1(c) of the Act at any time after filing the application and before the date the examining attorney approves the mark for publication or before the expiration of the six-month response period after issuance of a final action. Trademark Rule 2.76(a), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.76(a). If the applicant files an amendment to allege use after the time indicated, and before the permissible period for filing a statement of use, the review and amendment clerk will return the amendment to allege use and any fees to the applicant. The applicant may resubmit the amendment to allege use as a statement of use after issuance of the notice of allowance.

If the applicant submits a late amendment to allege use on the same paper with other amendments, the review and amendment clerk will retain the papers for appropriate processing of the other amendments and will advise the applicant that the amendment to allege use is late and must be resubmitted as a statement of use after issuance of the notice of allowance. The review and amendment clerk will arrange a refund of any fees in conjunction with this notification.

If the amendment to allege use is filed within the time permitted and complies with the minimum requirements to be referred for examination on the merits, but the application was approved for publication before the amendment to allege use was associated with the file, the examining attorney should withdraw the application from publication and examine the amendment to allege use.

If the applicant files the amendment to allege use in conjunction with a notice of appeal, the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board will institute the appeal, suspend action on the appeal and remand the case to the examining attorney to examine the amendment to allege use. The examining attorney should continue examination according to standard examining procedures until final resolution of all new issues arising in the examination of the amendment to allege use.

If the application becomes abandoned in the course of the examination of the amendment to allege use, the examining attorney will advise the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board. If the application is not abandoned in the course of the examination of the amendment to allege use, that is all issues are resolved or made the subject of a final action, the examining attorney should return the application to the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board for resumption of the appeal or other action, as appropriate. Trademark Rule 2.142(f)(3), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.142(f)(3).

The Office will not accept an amendment to allege use during the pendency of an ex parte appeal unless the amendment to allege use was filed within the six-month response period after issuance of the final action from which the appeal was taken.

The applicant may file the amendment to allege use only after the applicant has made use of the mark on or in connection with all goods or services for which the applicant will ultimately seek registration in the application, unless the applicant specifically requests that the application be divided. Trademark Rule 2.76(c), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.76(c). Trademark Rule 2.87, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.87, permits an applicant to divide the application into two or more separate applications. While an applicant can request division for any reason, the purpose of dividing the application in this case would be to effect publication or issuance of a registration for goods or services on or in connection with which the applicant had already made use while maintaining an active application for the remaining goods or services. The requirements attendant to submission of a request to divide an application are discussed more fully below (B.15.).

The filing of an amendment to allege use does not relieve the applicant of the duty to file a response to an outstanding Office action or to take any other action required in the case, including the filing of a notice of appeal. As noted, in the case of an appeal, the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board will remand the case for examination of the amendment to allege use.

b. Necessary Elements in a Complete Amendment to Allege Use under Section 1(c) of the Act

The amendment to allege use must include the following elements:

i. a verified statement that the applicant is believed to be the owner of the mark and that the mark is in use in commerce, specifying the date of the applicant's first use of the mark and first use of the mark in commerce, the type of commerce, those goods or services specified in the application on or in connection with which the mark is in use in commerce and the mode or manner in which the mark is used;
ii. three specimens or facsimiles of the mark as used in commerce conforming to the requirements of Trademark Rules 2.56, 2.57 and 2.58, 37 C.F.R. Sections 2.56, 2.57 and 2.58; and
iii. the prescribed fee.

Trademark Rule 2.76(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.76(b).

The fee for filing an amendment to allege use is $100.00 per class.

c. Minimum Requirements for an Amendment to Allege Use under Section 1(c) of the Act

The amendment to allege use must include the following minimum elements to be referred to the examining attorney for examination on the merits:

i. the prescribed fee;
ii. at least one specimen or facsimile of the mark as used in commerce; and
iii. a verification or declaration signed by the applicant stating that the mark is in use in commerce.

Trademark Rule 2.76(e), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.76(e).

The review and amendment clerk will conduct a preliminary review of the amendment to allege use to determine whether it is timely and complies with the minimum requirements. This preliminary review is similar to the review in the Application Section for filing-date requirements in a new application. If the amendment to allege use is timely and does comply with those requirements, the review and amendment clerk will refer the application to the responsible examining attorney for examination of the amendment to allege use on the merits.

If the amendment to allege use is untimely, the review and amendment clerk will return it to the applicant. If the applicant has submitted other amendments on the same paper with an untimely amendment to allege use, the review and amendment clerk will notify the applicant that the amendment to allege use is untimely and will not be considered and will process the other amendments, as appropriate, without consideration of the amendment to allege use. If a fee has been submitted, the review and amendment clerk will process the refund of the fee. The applicant may resubmit the amendment to allege use as a statement of use after issuance of the notice of allowance. Trademark Rule 2.76(f), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.76(f).

If the amendment to allege use is timely, but does not comply with the minimum requirements specified above, the review and amendment clerk will advise the applicant of the deficiency. The applicant may correct the deficiencies, provided the applicant does so before the mark has been approved for publication or the expiration of the response period after issuance of a final refusal. Trademark Rule 2.76(a), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.76(a). The review and amendment clerk should place the informal amendment to allege use in the file with copies of the relevant action advising the applicant of the deficiencies. If the applicant does not correct the deficiencies before approval of the mark for publication or before the expiration of the response period for a final refusal, the amendment to allege use will not be examined. In such a case, if the applicant has submitted the fee, the fee will not be refunded. If the mark is published for opposition, the applicant may file a statement of use after issuance of the notice of allowance.

If the amendment to allege use is not signed, the review and amendment clerk will hold it not in compliance with the minimum requirements and will require that the applicant submit a properly signed amendment to allege use. The review and amendment clerk will not inquire into the authority of the person who signed. The examining attorney will examine this issue if and when the amendment to allege use is referred for examination on the merits.

After the review and amendment clerk has taken appropriate action with respect to any deficient amendment to allege use, the review and amendment clerk will process any other amendments filed with the amendment to allege use and will refer the case to the responsible examining attorney for appropriate action on those other amendments.

As noted previously, the filing of an amendment to allege use does not constitute a response to any outstanding Office action in the case. The applicant must respond to any such action within the time provided to avoid abandonment of the application. Trademark Rule 2.76(g), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.76(g).

If the review and amendment clerk has issued an action holding the proposed amendment to allege use not in compliance with the minimum requirements, the examining attorney will act on any other amendments in the case without consideration of the amendment to allege use. The examining attorney should issue requirements or refusals in nonfinal or final form according to standard examination procedure without consideration of the amendment to allege use. Any specimens submitted, as in the case of specimens related to an amendment to allege use which is withdrawn, become part of the record and may be relied on in relation to issues unrelated to use.

If the examining attorney determines that the review and amendment clerk erred in holding that the amendment to allege use did not meet the minimum requirements to be referred for examination on the merits, the examing attorney should telephone to advise the applicant the the amendment to allege use will be examined on the merits and to disregard the review and amendment clerk's action citing deficiencies.

d. Examination of the Amendment to Allege Use by the Examining Attorney

The examing attorney must examine the amendment to allege use for compliance with all relevant sections of the Act. If the examination of the amendment to allege use raises any issues necessitating the issuance of requirements or refusals, the examining attorney must take appropriate action, as discussed below. The following sections present examples of issues which should be examined in relation to the amendment to allege use. These sections do not exhaust all possibilities, but present a general framework governing the areas for examination.

i. Ownership and Proper Execution

The examing attorney must confirm that the proper party has executed the amendment to allege use. The party submitting the amendment to allege use must be the same as the applicant or a valid assignee under Trademark Act Section 10, 15 U.S.C. Section 1060.

The person who executes the amendment to allege use must be entitled to do so on behalf of the applicant. The same persons identified as possessing the authority to sign the original application under Trademark Act Section 1, 15 U.S.S. Section 1051,are the only persons possessing the authority to sign the amendment to allege use. That is, only the individual owoner can sign for a partnership for an individual applicant, only a general partner can sign and only an officer can sign for a corporation or association. If the amendment to allege use is not signed by one of these persons, the examining attorney must require that the applicant submit a substitute amendment to allege use signed by a proper person, or that a proper person execute an affidavit or declaration verifying the facts as set forth in the amendment to allege use.

The color of authority provision of Trademark Rule 2.71 (c), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.71 (c), does not apply to amendments to allege use.However, the applicant need not demonstrate that the person who signed originally had color of authority because the applicant may submit a substitute declaration within the response period set in the examining attorney's action, whether or not the person who signed originally had color of authority. The specific date on which the applicant submits the amendment to allege use does not have the same importsance as the filing date for the application or the statement of use, since the amendment to allege use can be submitted up to the expiration of the six-month response period following a final action, including a final action requiring execution by a proper person.

ii. The Verified Statement and the Identification of Goods and Services

The examining attorney must examine the verified statement to ensure that the statement includes the necessary averments, that the dates are properly stated, that the type of commerce is indicated and that the mode of use is set forth. If the statement is defective, the examining attorney must require appropriate amendment.

The examining attorney must also examine the identification of goods and services to ensure that it conforms to the goods and services specified in the application. The applicant may limit or clarify the goods and services, but the applicant cannot add to or otherwise expand the identification of goods or services specified in the application.

If goods or services identified in the application are omitted from the amendment to allege use, but the applicant has not specifically indicated an intention to delete those goods or services from the application, the examining attorney should confirm that the applicant intends to delete the omitted goods or services. The applicant may amend the application to reinsert goods or services which have been omitted from the amendment to allege use, provided the applicant did not expressly delete the goods or services by amendment and provided the applicant verifies that it has used the mark in commerce on or in connection with the goods or services in an affidavit or declaration under Trademark Rule 2.20, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.20. Omission of goods or services in an amendment to allege use or statement of use is the only instance in which an applicant may reinsert goods or services. The general rule is that goods and services once deleted by express amendment or omitted from the identification of goods and services in a request for an extension of time to file a statement of use may not be reinserted in a later amendment.

iii. The Specimens

The examining attorney must review the specimens for compliance with all relevant requirements. The examining attorney must confirm that the designation is used as a mark on the specimens. The examining attorney must determine whether the specimens indicate descriptive or generic use of the mark. The examining attorney must examine the specimens to determine whether any issue concerning ownership of the mark is presented.

The clear-error standard which limits the issues that may be raised in examination of the statement of use does not apply to the examination of the amendment to allege use. However, the examining attorney must raise all possible issues, such as descriptiveness issues, in the initial examination without regard to whether the applicant will file an amendment to allege use or a statement of use. The applicant may do either, and the examining attorney may be precluded from raising an issue under the clear-error standard if the applicant files a statement of use.

If the applicant submits substitute specimens in conjunction with an amendment to allege use, the applicant need not verify that the substitute specimens were in use as of any specific date, but merely that the substitute specimens were used in connection with the goods or services.

iv. The Drawing

Trademark Rule 2.51, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.51, specifies that the drawing in an intent-to-use application must be a substantially exact representation of the mark as intended to be used and as actually used upon filing of the amendment to allege use before publication or the statement of use after issuance of the notice of allowance. Trademark Rule 2.88(j), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.88(j). An applicant may not amend the mark in a drawing if the amendment constitutes a material alteration of the mark. Also, the mark in the drawing must agree with the mark as used on the specimens. The same standards which apply to use applications in determining whether specimens support use of the mark and in determining whether amendments can be permitted apply in the examination of the amendment to allege use.

Therefore, in an intent-to-use application, the examining attorney must require amendment to the mark or the submission of new specimens if the mark in the drawing is not a substantially exact representation of the mark as used on the specimens. Trademark Rule 2.72(c), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.72(c). However, if amendment of the mark would constitute a material alteration of the mark, the examining attorney must require substitute specimens only. The same standards applied in use applications in determining whether the specimens support use of the applied-for mark apply to specimens in intent-to-use applications. See Examination Guide 2-89. Cf. United Rum Merchants Ltd. v. Distillers Corp. (S.A.) Ltd., 9 USPQ2d 1481 (TTAB 1988).

e. Issuance of Actions by the Examining Attorney Related to the Amendment to Allege Use

If, upon examination, the examining attorney determines that the amendment to allege use is not acceptable, or that it raises new issues in the case, the examining attorney will issue an action stating all refusals and requirements arising in the examination of the amendment to allege use and incorporating all unresolved issues from any outstanding Office action in the case. The action related to the amendment to allege use thus supersedes any outstanding Office action, and the applicant's response on all issues is due six months from the date of the new action. The new action will be a nonfinal action since at least those issues arising from the examination of the amendment to allege use will have been raised for the first time.

If the amendment to allege use is received before any examination of the application, the review and amendment clerk will review the amendment to allege use to determine whether it complies with the minimum requirements and will take appropriate action. The review and amendment clerk will return the case to the new case docket after taking appropriate action. When the case is reached for examination, the examining attorney will examine the application as a whole, including the amendment to allege use, and will issue a first action addressing all issues in the case.

If the review and amendment clerk reviews the amendment to allege use and refers it to the examining attorney for examination on the merits, the examining attorney should examine the amendment to allege use regardless of the status of the application. If the application is in suspended status, the examining attorney should examine the amendment to allege use, and if any action is required, the examining attorney should remove the application from suspension and take appropriate action.

If the amendment to allege use is submitted at the same time as a response and it is referred for examination on the merits, the examining attorney should consider both the response and the amendment to allege use. If the examining attorney must take any action with respect to the amendment to allege use, the examining attorney should issue a nonfinal action incorporating any refusals or requirements which remain outstanding after the applicant's response. If the amendment to allege use is acceptable in all respects, the examining attorney should act on the response independent of the amendment to allege use. The examining attorney should proceed in the same manner if the amendment to allege use reaches the examining attorney when the case is in the examining attorney's amended docket after receipt of a response.

f. Amendment and Withdrawal of the Amendment to Allege Use

The applicant may amend the amendment to allege use to correct deficiencies, to overcome a refusal, to comply with a requirement or for any other purpose. Cf. Trademark Act Section 1(d)(3), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(d)(3).

The applicant may withdraw the amendment to allege use. The applicant or the applicant's attorney may authorize withdrawal in an examiner's amendment. The applicant may do so at any time after submission of the amendment to allege use and before approval of the application for publication. The Office will not refund the fee for filing the amendment to allege use if it is withdrawn by the applicant.

If the applicant withdraws the amendment to allege use, the application will be processed as an intent-to-use application subject to publication, issuance of a notice of allowance and submission of a statement of use after issuance of the notice of allowance.

If the applicant wishes to request withdrawal of an amendment to allege use during an ex parte appeal, the applicant should direct the request to the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board for a determination by the Board on the request.

If the applicant withdraws the amendment to allege use, the examining attorney will withdraw any requirements or refusals specifically related to use of the mark, such as objections related to the form of the verified statement itself, objections related to the agreement of the mark as used with the drawing or objections related to use of the applied-for designation as a trademark or service mark on the specimens. The examining attorney should also withdraw any requirement or refusal related to the execution of the amendment to allege use. The examining attorney should maintain any requirement or refusal arising from the amendment to allege use not specifically related to the dates of use or use of the mark, such as ownership questions or refusals or requirements related to Sections 2(e)(1), 2(e)(2) or 2(e)(3) of the Act. The specimens or any other submission related to the amendment to allege use will remain part of the record for the purpose of determinations under these sections. Issues related to use include functionality, ornamentation and configuration issues.

If the applicant withdraws the amendment to allege use after issuance of the notice of final acceptance of the amendment to allege use, the examining attorney must withdraw the acceptance on the TRAM system.

g. Final Acceptance of the Amendment to Allege Use After Examination

If the amendment to allege use is acceptable in all respects, the Office will notify the applicant of its acceptance. The examining attorney will ensure that the computer-generated notice is issued. The examining attorney must also sign the file to indicate acceptance of the amendment to allege use. As noted above, after an amendment to allege use is accepted, the intent-to-use application will be processed in the same manner as a use application under Trademark Act Section 1(a), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(a). The notification must be sent regardless of the status of the case, whether there is an outstanding Office action or not. Examination should continue on other issues in the case after the acceptance of the amendment to allege use.

5. Publication for Opposition and Issuance of the Notice of Allowance

In the case of an intent-to-use application, if the examining attorney determines that the mark is entitled to registration, but for the submission of a statement of use, that is, no amendment to allege use has been accepted, the examining attorney will approve the mark for publication and the mark will be published for opposition. In the case of an intent-to-use application where an amendment to allege use has been submitted and accepted, the application will be processed thereafter in the same manner as a use application. If the application is not opposed or survives all oppositions filed, the mark will proceed to registration.

In the case of an intent-to-use application where no amendment to allege use has been filed or where the applicant has withdrawn the amendment to allege use, the Office will issue a notice of allowance, provided the mark clears the opposition period or survives all oppositions. Trademark Act Section 13(b)(2), 15 U.S.C. Section 1063(b)(2); Trademark Rule 2.81(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.81(b).

The notice of allowance in an intent-to-use application will issue on the same date that a registration would issue in a use application. The Office will not publish any notice that a notice of allowance has been issued in the Official Gazette.

The notice of allowance will state the serial number of the application, the name of the applicant, the correspondence address, the mark, the identification of goods or services, and the date of issuance of the notice of allowance. The notice of allowance is a key document because the issuance date establishes the due date for submission of the statement of use required prior to registration. The information stated on the notice of allowance is also important. If the notice of allowance includes any errors, the applicant should notify the Office immediately.

6. Amendments between Issuance of the Notice of Allowance and Submission of the Statement of Use

The only amendment permitted between the issuance of the notice of allowance and the submission of the statement of use is an amendment to delete goods or services. Trademark Rule 2.77, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.77. "Deletion" means the elimination of an existing item in an identification of goods and services in its entirety. Deletion is distinct from other types of amendments to limit, such as amendments to limit the goods as to types, channels of trade or class of purchasers or to restrict an existing item in scope by the introduction of some qualifying language or the substitution of specific for more general terms. The Office will not consider any other amendment to the application during this period. If the applicant submits any other amendments during this period, the Office will place the amendments in the file for consideration at the time of examination of the statement of use. The ITU paralegal will advise the applicant of receipt of any such amendment and that the amendment will not be considered until the examination of the statement of use.

The Office will process any change of address or change of attorney at any time during the prosecution of an application, even during the period between issuance of the notice of allowance and the filing of the statement of use.

7. Requests for Extensions of Time to File the Statement of Use

Trademark Act Section 1(d)(2), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(d)(2), permits the Office to extend the time for filing a statement of use upon a written request from the applicant. Trademark Rule 2.89, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.89, sets forth Office policy and procedure governing the filing and processing of such requests. Essentially, an applicant may request one six-month extension without a showing of good cause and up to four additional six-month extensions with a showing of good cause. Thus, the time available for filing the statement of use may not be extended beyond thirty-six months from the issuance of the notice of allowance.

The six-month period following issuance of the notice of allowance will not be cut short by the grant of an extension. The extension will begin to run from the expiration of the six-month period following the notice of allowance. Likewise, an applicant will receive the full benefit of each extension before a subsequent extension will begin to run. No extension will be granted for more than six months. Trademark Rule 2.89(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.89(b).

The only amendment which is permitted in connection with the filing of a request for an extension of time is an amendment to delete goods or services. If any other amendment is submitted in conjunction with a request for an extension of time, the Office will place the amendment in the application file for consideration at the time of examination of the statement of use. The Office will process any change of address or change of attorney at any time during the prosecution of an application, even if filed in conjunction with a request for an extension of time.

Any request for an extension of time must be filed by the entity which owns the mark at the time the request is filed and must be executed by an individual possessing statutory authority to do so on behalf of the specific type of applicant entity. The individual must sign for an individual applicant, a general partner must sign for a partnership and an officer must sign for a corporation or association. If the party filing is different from the owner of record, the request should include the reel and frame number of any relevant assignment recorded in the Assignment Branch of the Office or other evidence that the party filing is the owner of the application in accordance with Trademark Rule 2.186, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.186. If the request does not include such evidence the ITU Unit will deny the request. The applicant may establish ownership within the time provided in the action advising the applicant of the denial, even if the time permitted for filing the statement of use has expired. However, the applicant must file another request for an extension of time before the time period related to the request which is under consideration expires to avoid abandonment.

As noted above (A.7.), only those individuals who possess statutory authority to sign the original application are permitted to sign the request for an extension of time. If the request is signed by any other person, the request for an extension of time will be denied. Because the request must include a statement of a continued bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce, only the applicant can execute the request under the Act. In the case of a request for an extension of time, the request cannot be reexecuted by one with proper authority after the expiration of the time permitted for filing the statement of use. The "color of authority" provision of Trademark Rule 2.71(c), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.71(c), does not apply to the filing of requests for extensions of time.

a. Requirements Related to the First Six-Month Extension

The applicant may request an initial six-month extension of time to file the statement of use by filing a request for such an extension before the expiration of the six-month period following the issuance of the notice of allowance. The request must include the prescribed fee of $100.00 per class and a verified statement signed by the applicant that the applicant has a continued bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. The statement must specify those goods or services specified in the notice of allowance on or in connection with which the applicant has a continued bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. Trademark Rule 2.89(a), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.89(a). The applicant may incorporate the goods and services specified in the notice of allowance by reference.

b. Requirements Related to Extensions Beyond the First Six-Month Extension - Good Cause Extensions

The applicant may request up to a maximum of four six-month extensions to file the statement of use in addition to the first six-month extension. Each request for such an extension must be filed before the expiration of the previously granted extension. The request must include the prescribed fee of $100.00 and a verified statement signed by the applicant that the applicant has a continued bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. The statement must specify those goods or services specified in the notice of allowance on or in connection with which the applicant has a continued bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. In addition, each such request must include a showing of good cause. Trademark Rule 2.89(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.89(b).

The showing of good cause must include an allegation that the applicant has not yet made use of the mark in commerce on or in connection with all of the goods or services specified in the notice of allowance for which the applicant has a continued bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. The showing must also include a statement of applicant's ongoing efforts to use the mark in commerce on or in connection with the goods or services specified as those for which the applicant has a continued bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. Trademark Rule 2.89(d), 15 U.S.C. Section 2.89(d).

Efforts to use the mark in commerce may include "...without limitation, product or service research or development, market research, manufacturing activities, promotional activities, steps to acquire distributors, steps to obtain required governmental approval, or other similar activities." Trademark Rule 2.89(d)(2), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.89(d)(2). In the alternative, the applicant must submit a satisfactory explanation for the failure to make such efforts. The applicant's statement concerning good cause need only refer to the appropriate types of activities listed in the rule or similar types of activities. The applicant need not provide an explanation or evidence providing details as to specific activities related to the types delineated. For instance, the applicant may simply state that it is engaged in manufacturing activities and promotional activities.

Any request for an extension of time, including the showing of good cause, will become a part of the permanent Office record and open to the public as such. As noted, the showing of good cause need only provide general statements identifying the types of efforts the applicant has undertaken as stated in the rule. The showing need not state specific facts which would disclose confidential business information or other proprietary information. The Office will not require any evidence or explanation in a showing of good cause.

c. Identifying the Goods and Services in the Request for an Extension of Time

The goods and services identified in the request for an extension of time must conform to the goods and services identified in the notice of allowance. If appropriate, the applicant may incorporate the specification of goods and services in the notice of allowance by reference. If goods or services are to be deleted, the applicant should clearly specify those goods and services to be deleted.

If the applicant lists the goods and services specifically in the request for an extension of time, and omits any goods or services which were listed in the notice of allowance, the Office will delete those goods or services from the application and will not grant the request as to the omitted items. Likewise, if the applicant lists the goods and services specifically, and the wording in the listing of the goods and services in the request does not conform to the wording of the specification of goods and services in the notice of allowance, the Office will delete from the application any wording not expressly included in the request in conforming language and will not grant the request as to the deleted items. The applicant cannot amend the application later to reinsert the deleted goods or services once they have been so deleted. Trademark Rule 2.89(f), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.89(f).

The paralegal in the ITU Unit will examine the identification of goods and services specified in the extension request to determine whether the goods and services specified conform to the goods and services specified in the notice of allowance. The paralegal will delete any items from the identification of goods and services in the application which are not either incorporated by reference or specified in the extension request in conforming language.

As noted above, applicants may incorporate goods and services by reference in the request for an extension of time. It is advisable to do so, if appropriate, to avoid the possibility that goods or services will be deleted unintentionally. Thus, the applicant may specify the goods or services by stating "those goods or services identified in the notice of allowance" or "those goods or services identified in the notice of allowance except..." followed by an identification of goods or services to be deleted.

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

The only amendment permitted between issuance of the notice of allowance and filing of the statement of use is an amendment to delete goods or services. Trademark Rule 2.77, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.77. "Deletion" means the elimination of an item from the identification of goods and services in its entirety as distinct from other types of amendments to limit, such as amendments to limit the goods as to types, channels of trade or class of purchasers or to restrict an existing item in scope by the introduction of some qualifying language or the substitution of specific for more general terms. The ITU paralegal will not process any proposed amendments filed with the request for an extension of time, other than deletions, and will place other amendments in the file for consideration at the time of examination of the statement of use. The paralegal will act on the extension request, apart from any such proposed amendment, as specified above.

d. Filing a Request for an Extension of Time in Conjunction with a Statement of Use

An applicant may file one final request for an extension of time at the time of filing the statement of use or during any time remaining in the existing six-month period in which a statement of use is filed. However, such a request is not permitted if the grant of such an extension would extend the time for filing more than thirty-six months beyond the issuance of the notice of allowance. Trademark Rule 2.89(e), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.89(e). The applicant may not request any further extensions of time after this request.

The purpose of such a request would be to secure additional time to correct any deficiency in the statement of use which is of a type which must be corrected before the expiration of the time permitted for filing the statement of use. Because the statement of use may not be withdrawn, the applicant must correct any such deficiency within the time provided to file the statement of use or the application will become abandoned.

The request must conform to all relevant requirements including payment of the applicable fee. If the request is not the first request for an extension of time, and thus a showing of good cause is required with the request for an extension of time filed with or after the statement of use, the applicant may satisfy the requirement for a showing of good cause by asserting that applicant believes that it has made valid use of the mark in commerce, as evidenced by the submitted statement of use, but that if the statement of use is found to be fatally defective, the applicant will need additional time to file a statement of use. Trademark Rule 2.89(e)(2), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.89(e)(2).

If the applicant files a final request for an extension of time in conjunction with a statement of use, and the applicant submits fees sufficient for one, but not both, the Office will apply the fees to the extension of time to avoid abandonment of the application.

e. Processing of the Request for an Extension of Time

The Office will notify the applicant of the grant or denial of the request for an extension of time. Trademark Rule 2.89(g), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.89(g). Any denial will specify the reasons for the denial. The Office's failure to notify the applicant of the grant or denial of the extension before the expiration of the existing period to file the statement of use or before the expiration of the period requested does not relieve the applicant of the responsibility to file the statement of use or a request for an extension of time within the relevant period. If the applicant fails to file the statement of use or a request for an extension of time within the time permitted, the application will become abandoned. Trademark Act Section 1(d)(4), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(d)(4).

If the Office denies the request for an extension of time but time remains in the applicant's existing period for filing the statement of use, the applicant may file the statement of use or another request for an extension of time to file the statement of use. Otherwise, the applicant's only recourse after denial of the request for an extension of time is a petition to the Commissioner. A petition from the denial of a request for an extension must be filed within one month from the mailing date of the denial of the extension of time. Trademark Rule 2.89(g), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.89(g). The ITU Unit will not accept any request to reconsider a denial of a request for an extension of time. The ITU Unit will be responsible for processing all requests for extensions of time to file statements of use.

8. Submission of the Statement of Use under Section 1(d) of the Act

As noted earlier (A.1.a.), an intent-to-use applicant must file either an amendment to allege use under Trademark Act Section 1(c), 15 U.S.C. 1051(c), or a statement of use under Trademark Act Section 1(d), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(d), as a precondition to issuance of the registration. This section will discuss statements of use only; the amendment to allege use is discussed above (A.4.).

a. Form and Permissible Time Period for Filing a Statement of Use under Section 1(d) of the Act

The statement of use should be entitled, "Statement of Use under Section 2.88." Trademark Rule 2.88(d), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.88(d). The title should be placed at the top of the first page. The mailing address should specify "Box ITU" also. Proper identification of the statement of use will expedite handling, but the Office will not take any action for failure to comply with these recommendations. The applicant may submit other amendments related to the application with the statement of use.

The statement of use must be filed within six months of the issuance date of the notice of allowance or within an extension of time for filing the statement of use granted under Trademark Rule 2.89, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.89. For purposes of establishing a date of receipt, the statement of use is not subject to the certificate-of-mailing procedure under Rule 1.8, 37 C.F.R. Section 1.8. The statement of use will be considered received on the date it is actually received or on the Express-Mail date under Rule 1.10, 37 C.F.R. Section 1.10.

Any statement of use filed before mailing of the notice of allowance is premature and will not be considered. In such a case, the ITU Unit will return the statement of use and refund the fee to the applicant. Trademark Rule 2.88(a), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.88(a). If the statement of use is not filed or is filed later than required, the application will be considered abandoned. Trademark Act Section 1(d)(4), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(d)(4); Trademark Rule 2.88(h), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.88(h). A late statement of use will not be considered. The ITU Unit will return the late statement of use to the applicant with any fees paid.

The applicant may file the statement of use only after the applicant has made use of the mark on or in connection with all goods or services for which the applicant will ultimately seek registration in the application, unless the applicant specifically requests that the application be divided. Trademark Rule 2.88(c), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.88(c). Trademark Rule 2.87, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.87, permits an applicant to divide the application as filed into two or more separate applications. The purpose of filing a request to divide an application in conjunction with the filing of a statement of use would be to effect issuance of a registration for goods or services on or in connection with which the applicant has already made use while maintaining an active application for the remaining goods or services. After the division all applications retain the original filing date. The requirements attendant to submission of a request to divide an application are discussed below (B.15.).

b. Necessary Elements in a Complete Statement of Use under Section 1(d) of the Act

The statement of use must include the following elements:

i. a verified statement that the applicant is believed to be the owner of the mark and that the mark is in use in commerce, specifying the date of the applicant,s first use of the mark and first use of the mark in commerce, the type of commerce, those goods or services specified in the notice of allowance on or in connection witn which the mark is in use in commerce and the mode or manner in which the mark is used;
ii. three specimens or facsimiles of the mark as used in commerce; and
iii. the prescribed fee.

Trademark Rule 2.88(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.88(b).

The filing fee for a statement of use is $100.00 per class.

c. Minimum Requirements for a Statement of Use under Section 1(d) of the Act

The statement of use must include the following minimum elements to be referred to the examining attorney for examination on the merits:
i. the prescribed fee;
ii. at least one specimen or facsimile of the mark as used in commerce; and
iii. a verification or declaration signed by the applicant stating that the mark is in use in commerce.

Trademark Rule 2.88(e), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.88(e).

The ITU Unit will review the statement of use to determine whether it is timely and whether it complies with the minimum requirements. As noted above (A.8.a.), if the statement of use is untimely, either because it is premature or late, the ITU Unit will return the statement of use with any fees to the applicant.

If the statement of use is timely, but does not comply with one or more of the minimum requirements, the ITU Unit will advise the applicant of the deficiency. The applicant may correct the deficiency provided the time permitted for filing the statement of use has not expired. Trademark Rule 2.88(g), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.88(g). If the applicant does not correct the deficiency before the expiration of the relevant time period, the statement of use will not be examined and the application will be declared abandoned. In such a case, if the applicant has submitted the fee, the ITU Unit will not refund the fee.

The applicant may not withdraw the statement of use and return to the previous status of awaiting filing of the statement of use, even if the statement of use as filed fails to meet the minimum requirements. Trademark Rule 2.88(g), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.88(g). The applicant may request extensions of time to file the statement of use in accordance with Trademark Rule 2.89, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.89, as discussed above (A.7.e.), including a final request for an extension filed with a statement of use or during the time remaining in the existing period in which the statement of use is filed.

The Office will not issue a filing receipt to acknowledge receipt of a statement of use.

If an applicant files a statement of use and a request to divide the application at the same time, and the fees submitted are insufficient for both, the fees will be applied to the statement of use first and the applicant will be notified of the deficiency.

9. Examination of the Statement of Use

If the statement of use is timely and complies with the minimum requirements, the ITU Unit will refer the entire application with the statement of use to the responsible examining attorney for examination on the merits. The same examining attorney who examined the application initially will examine the statement of use unless the examining attorney has left the Office or assumed other duties.

a. Procedures Governing Examination of the Statement of Use

Examination of the statement of use follows the same procedural course as the initial examination of the application under Trademark Rule 2.61 et seq., 37 C.F.R. Section 2.61 et seq. The examining attorney should issue actions, as appropriate, stating requirements and refusals and culminating in final action or acceptance of the statement of use. The examining attorney may issue examiners amendments or priority actions, as appropriate. The applicant must respond to actions within six months under routine Office procedure. If the examining attorney ultimately finds the statement of use acceptable in all respects, the Office will notify the applicant of its acceptance. The Office will then publish notice of the registration of the mark and will issue the registration to the applicant. The application is not once again subject to opposition. Trademark Rule 2.151, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.151.

If the examining attorney issues any requirements or refusals, the applicant may respond under standard examination procedure. The applicant may appeal or petition matters in the same manner and subject to the same procedures which would apply in the initial examination of the application.

The applicant may amend or otherwise correct the statement of use during examination, provided the applicant had complied with the minimum requirements attendant to the statement of use before the expiration of the time permitted to file the statement of use.

i. Complying with Minimum Requirements within the Time Permitted

The applicant must make valid use of the mark in commerce and must file a statement of use meeting the minimum requirements, including at least one specimen, before the expiration of the time permitted to file the statement of use. Trademark Rule 2.71(d)(3), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.71(d)(3). The applicant can provide substitute specimens, during examination, after the expiration of the time permitted to file the statement of use. However, the applicant must verify that the specimens were in use before the expiration of the time permitted for filing the statement of use. If the applicant attempts to amend the dates of use to state a date of first use in commerce which is later than the time permitted for filing the statement of use, the examining attorney must refuse registration because the applicant failed to make use within the time permitted and, as a result, the application is abandoned. The examining attorney must refuse registration on the same grounds if the applicant cannot provide an acceptable specimen which was in use in commerce before the expiration of the time permitted for filing the statement of use.

Likewise, the party filing the statement of use must be the owner of the mark at the time of filing. However, even after the expiration of the time permitted for filing the statement of use, the applicant can provide information to establish that the party who filed was the owner at the time the statement of use was filed through a chain of title. Trademark Rule 2.186, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.186. The applicant must do so within the specified response period. However, if the party which did file was not the owner at the time of filing the statement of use, the applicant cannot provide a substitute statement of use or the equivalent to correct this error after the expiration of the time permitted for filing the statement of use. If the time permitted for filing the statement of use has not yet expired, the applicant may file a substitute statement of use in the name of the true owner.

Therefore, if the party filing the statement of use is not the owner of the mark at the time of filing the statement of use, the examining attorney must reject the statement of use. If no time remains within the time permitted for filing the statement of use, the examining attorney must refuse registration because the application is abandoned for failure to file the statement of use within the time permitted.

Also, the person who signs the statement of use must have the authority to do so under the Act. Only those persons who are authorized to sign the original application have authority to sign the statement of use: the individual for an individual applicant, a general partner for a partnership and an officer for a corporation or association. As in the case of the original application, the person who signs must have at least color of authority to sign in order for the statement of use to be considered received in the Office.

If the person who signed the statement of use lacked even color of authority to do so, the applicant cannot provide a statement of use or the equivalent, signed by a proper person, after the expiration of the time permitted to file the statement of use. If the person who signed the statement of use possessed at least color of authority, as discussed below (B.1.a.), the applicant can provide a substitute statement of use or an affidavit or declaration signed by the proper person verifying the facts as set forth in the statement of use after the expiration of the time permitted for filing the statement of use. Trademark Rule 2.71(c), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.71(c). The principles which govern the determination as to whether a person possesses color of authority are discussed below (B.1.a.) in relation to the signature requirements attendant to the filing of the original application.

If the person who signed the statement of use lacked even color of authority to so do, and the time permitted for filing the statement of use has expired, the examining attorney must refuse registration because the application is, therefore, abandoned for failure to file the statement of use within the time permitted.

ii. Correcting Defects

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JAN 1 1991 UMI

The applicant may correct defects in the statement of use after the expiration of the time permitted for filing the statement of use when compliance within the time permitted for filing the statement of use is not required by the Act. However, the applicant must respond to requirements related to these defects within the response periods established under standard examination procedure to avoid abandonment of the application.

As noted above (A.9.a.i.), the applicant may provide substitute specimens after the expiration of the time permitted for filing the statement of use. However, the applicant must verify that the substitute specimens were in use in commerce before the expiration of the time permitted for filing the statement of use.

As noted above (A.9.a.i.), the applicant may establish chain of title during examination, after the expiration of the time permitted for filing the statement of use. The applicant may establish color of authority of the person who signed the statement of use and provide a substitute statement of use signed by a proper person during examination after the expiration of the time for filing the statement of use. The applicant may correct the dates of use, subject to the limitations provided in Trademark Rule 2.71(d), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.71(d), or the method of use clause after the expiration of the time permitted for filing the statement of use. The applicant may amend the identification of goods and services, subject to the general restrictions governing such amendments under Trademark Rules 2.71(b) and 2.88(i)(1), 37 C.F.R. Sections 2.71(b) and 2.88(i)(1), after the expiration of the time permitted for filing the statement of use. The applicant may amend the drawing, subject to the restrictions generally governing amendments to drawings under Trademark Rule 2.72, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.72, during examination after the expiration of the time permitted for filing the statement of use.

iii. Withdrawal of the Statement of Use Prohibited

Once the applicant has filed the statement of use, the applicant may not withdraw the statement of use and return to the previous status of awaiting submission of the statement of use. Trademark Rule 2.88(g), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.88(g). The applicant may not do so, even if the Office determines that the statement of use does not comply with the minimum requirements. However, the applicant may amend the statement of use or file a substitute statement of use to correct even fatal defects within the time permitted for filing the statement of use.

b. The "Clear-Error" Standard in Examination of the Statement of Use

For the purpose of examination of the statement of use, the Office will issue requirements or refusals concerning matters specifically related to the statement of use only. The Office will not issue any requirements or refusals concerning matters which could have or should have been raised during initial examination, unless the failure to do so in initial examination constitutes a clear error. "Clear error" refers to an error which, if not corrected, would result in issuance of a registration in violation of the Act. Cf. Century 21 Real Estate Corp. v. Century Life of America, 10 USPQ2d 2034 (TTAB 1989); Granny's Submarine Sandwiches, Inc. v. Granny's Kitchen, Inc., 199 USPQ 564 (TTAB 1978).

The examining attorney must act on all new issues in the examination of the statement of use. Examples of such issues are presented below (A.9.b.) in the discussion of various areas of examination related to the statement of use. For example, the examining attorney must issue an appropriate refusal if the specimens fail to show use of the designation as a mark. However, the examining attorney may not issue a refusal under Trademark Act Section 2(e)(1), 15 U.S.C. Section 1052(e)(1), unless the refusal is dictated by changed circumstances from the time of initial examination or the failure to issue such a refusal would constitute clear error.

If a significant length of time has elapsed since the initial examination, in some unusual circumstances, the mark may have become descriptive or even generic as applied to the goods or services. In such a case, the evidence of the descriptive or generic use would not have been available during initial examination.

However, if evidence that the mark is merely descriptive was available during initial examination, and thus the refusal could or should have been issued in initial examination, the examining attorney cannot issue the refusal unless clear error is present. That is, the evidence of descriptiveness must be substantial and unequivocal. The examining attorney should not issue such a refusal on the basis of information that was available during the initial examination unless clear error exists.

Likewise, the examining attorney must not issue requirements or refusals related to informalities which could or should have been addressed during the initial examination. For example, if the examining attorney determines that the initial declaration in support of the application was defective, the examining attorney should not issue a requirement for a new declaration.

If the goods or services were classified incorrectly and published for opposition in the wrong class, the examining attorney should require correction of the classification. In the case of any change of class after issuance of the notice of allowance, the mark must be republished for opposition unless the Petitions and Classification Attorney determines that republication is not necessary.

If a disclaimer could or should have been required during the initial examination, the examining attorney should not require a disclaimer during the examination of the statement of use unless there is clear error. For example, a disclaimer of all of the wording in a mark may be required under the clear-error standard where the mark consists of merely descriptive wording and distinctive design elements. Issuance of a registration without such a disclaimer would violate the Act by affording the applicant rights beyond those to which the applicant is entitled. In other cases where the requirement for a disclaimer is subject to greater discretion, the clear-error standard would not permit a disclaimer requirement when it could or should have been stated in initial examination. The determination that a term is descriptive or generic related to the requirement for a disclaimer is subject to the substantial-and-unequivocal-evidence standard stated above.

Generally, the Office will not conduct any search for conflicting marks, or issue any refusals on that basis, in the examination of the statement of use. However, if the examining attorney determines that a second search is necessary, due to an amendment of the mark or an amendment of the goods or services, the examining attorney will conduct a second search and take action, as appropriate. Likewise, the Office may discover a clear error under Trademark Act Section 2(d), 15 U.S.C. Section 1052(d), in the course of internal Office quality review or through a letter of protest. The Office will not issue any refusal under Section 2(d) in the examination of the statement of use unless the failure to do so constitutes a clear error. For the purposes of Section 2(d), the conflict between the application and registration at issue must be such that reasonable minds could not differ as to the necessity for the refusal, that is, failure to issue the refusal would result in issuance of a registration in violation of the Act.

In the case of an intent-to-use application, as in all applications, the Office will deny as untimely letters of protest which are filed more than thirty days after publication of a mark. In re Pohn, 3 USPQ2d 1700 (Comm'r Pats. 1987).

c. Examination of the Verified Statement of Use

The examining attorney should review the statement of use itself to confirm that the statement conforms to the requirements of the Act and the rules. As noted above (A.8.a.), the statement must include an averment that the applicant is the owner of the mark, the dates of use, an identification of the goods and services and the method of use. The statement must be verified. Trademark Act Section 1(d), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(d); Trademark Rule 2.88(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.88(b).

The averment of ownership and use in commerce are essential elements of the statement. If the averment of ownership is omitted, the examining attorney must require the applicant to submit a verified statement including this averment.

If the statement of use was executed before the stated dates of use, the examining attorney must require that the statement be re-executed. The dates of use may not be amended to a date later than the expiration of the time permitted for filing of the statement of use. The applicant must verify amendments to the dates of use in the statement of use as in the application itself. Trademark Rule 2.71(d), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.71(d).

The date of first use in commerce must be no earlier than the date of first use anywhere. Office policies governing the correction of dates which do not conform to this requirement in use applications apply to statements of use also. TMEP section 806.03. The applicant must state dates of use for each class. The dates of first use for each class must apply to at least one item in the class but need not apply to more than one item. However, the applicant must have used the mark on all items covered by the statement of use before execution of the statement unless the applicant requests to divide the application under Trademark Rule 2.87, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.87.

The applicant must identify the type of commerce according to the same standards which govern use applications. TMEP section 806.05.

The applicant must indicate the method of use. Office policies governing this requirement relative to use applications apply to the statement of use as well. TMEP section 808.09. If the method of use indicated in the statement of use is inconsistent with the intended method of use stated in the initial application, the examining attorney should assume that the later statement is controlling and should not raise this inconsistency as an issue in examination.

d. The Identification of Goods and Services in the Examination of the Statement of Use

"The goods or services specified in a statement of use must conform to those goods or services identified in the notice of allowance." Trademark Rule 2.88(i)(1), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.88(i)(1). The referenced rule further recommends that, in appropriate cases, applicants specify the goods or services by stating "those goods or services identified in the notice of allowance" or "those goods or services identified in the notice of allowance except. . ." followed by an identification of the goods or services to be deleted.

The rules preclude additions to the identification of goods or services in all applications, as noted below. Trademark Rule 2.71(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.71(b). If the applicant proposes to add to the identification of goods or services in conjuncion with the statement of use, the examining attorney must reject the amendment.

If the applicant omits any goods or services specified in the notice of allowance from the identification of goods or services in the statement of use, and the applicant has not expressed a clear intention to delete those goods or services, the examining attorney must inquire as to the discrepancy. The examining attorney will permit the applicant to amend the statement of use to reinsert any omitted goods or services, provided the applicant did not delete the goods or services expressly in an amendment and provided the applicant verifies that the mark was in use in commerce with those goods or services before the expiration of the time permitted to file the statement of use. Trademark Rule 2.88(i)(2), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.88(i)(2).

The applicant may amend to delete items or to limit the identification of goods and services. For example, the applicant may amend to limit the goods as to types, channels of trade or class of purchasers or to restrict an existing item in scope by the introduction of some qualifying language or the substitution of specific for more general terms. The applicant may clarify the identification of goods or services, provided the amendment does not exceed the scope of goods or services specified in the notice of allowance. The principles which govern amendments to delete, limit or clarify in general also apply in the examination of the statement of use. If, due to any amendment to the identification of goods and services, the international class must be amended, the application must be republished for opposition unless the Petitions and Classification Attorney determines that republication is not necessary.

e. Examination of the Statement of Use Related to the Drawing

Trademark Rule 2.51, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.51, specifies that the drawing in an intent-to-use application must be a substantially exact representation of the mark as intended to be used and as actually used upon filing of the amendment to allege use before publication or the statement of use after issuance of the notice of allowance. Trademark Rule 2.88(j), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.88(j). An applicant may not amend the mark in a drawing if the amendment constitutes a material alteration of the mark. Also, the mark in the drawing must agree with the mark as used on the specimens. The same standards which apply to use applications in determining whether specimens support use of the mark and in determining whether amendments can be permitted apply in the examination of the statement of use.

Therefore, in an intent-to-use application, the examining attorney must require amendment to the mark or the submission of new specimens if the mark in the drawing is not a substantially exact representation of the mark as used on the specimens. Trademark Rule 2.72(c), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.72(c). However, if amendment of the mark would constitute a material alteration of the mark in such a case, the examining attorney must require substitute specimens only. The same standards applied in use applications in determining whether the specimens support use of the applied-for mark apply to specimens in intent-to-use applications. See Examination Guide 2-89. Cf. United Rum Merchants Ltd. v. Distillers Corp. (S.A.) Ltd., 9 USPQ2d 1481 (TTAB 1988).

If the applicant submits substitute specimens in conjunction with a statement of use, the applicant must verify that the substitute specimens were in use in commerce before the expiration of the time permitted to file the statement of use. Trademark Rule 2.59(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.59(b). If the dates of first use change as a result of the submission of new specimens, the applicant must also amend the dates of first use in the statement of use with a supporting affidavit or declaration.

f. Consideration of the Specimens of Use in the Examination of the Statement of Use

Apart from the statement of use itself, the primary focus of examination of the statement of use is the specimens of use. The examining attorney must evaluate the specimens to confirm that the specimens exhibit appropriate use. Trademark Act Section 45, 15 U.S.C. Section 1127. The examining attorney must also examine the specimens to confirm that the specimens show use of the subject matter as a trademark or service mark on or in connection with the goods or services identified in the statement of use. The examining attorney will also consider any questions regarding ownership or control of the mark arising in the examination of the specimens. These issues are typical of those which are appropriate for action in examination of the statement of use. The examining attorney should issue requirements and refusals, as appropriate, based on the examination of the specimens, subject to the same standards which govern the examination of specimens in any other phase of examination. TMEP section 808.

10. Revival of Abandoned Intent-to-Use Applications

As noted below (B.13.), petitions to revive all abandoned applications must be filed promptly. Trademark Rule 2.66(d), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.66(d). Generally, a petition to revive should be filed within two months of abandonment. In any petition to revive an abandoned application, the applicant must show that the delay in responding was unavoidable. Delays due to circumstances which could have been avoided with the exercise of a modicum of care and attention will not be considered unavoidable delays.

In addition to the requirements which apply to all petitions to revive, a petition to revive an intent-to-use application, abandoned due to the failure to file the statement of use within the time allowed, is subject to additional requirements. The petition must include a fee equal to the required fees for the number of requests for extensions of time to file the statement of use which should have been filed if the application had not been abandoned and either a statement of use or a request for an extension of time. Trademark Rule 2.66(c), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.66(c).

The referenced fees are in addition to the standard petition and any statement of use fees. If an applicant has already filed a statement of use, the applicant need not file another statement of use with the petition. If a response to an outstanding Office action is due, the applicant must include that response with the petition.

However, the Office will not grant a petition to revive an intent-to-use application if the grant of the petition would extend the period for filing the statement of use beyond thirty-six months after issuance of the notice of allowance. Trademark Rule 2.66(d), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.66(d).

11. Assignment of Intent-to-Use Applications

The 1988 amendments to the Act provide as follows:

However, no application to register a mark under section 1(b) shall be assignable prior to the filing of the verified statement of use under section 1(d), except to a successor to the business of the applicant, or portion thereof, to which the mark pertains, if that business is ongoing and existing.

Trademark Act Section 10, 15 U.S.C. Section 1060.

The Office will not examine proposed assignments to determine compliance with this provision as a general rule. However, the examining attorney will inquire to determine whether an assignment conforms to the requirements of this provision if the question is raised by the information of record. If the examining attorney issues an inquiry as to compliance, the applicant's response that the assignment was in compliance with the law is sufficient to resolve the issue.

As discussed in detail below (B.11.b.), the applicant bears the burden of recording and notifying appropriate Office personnel of assignments or changes of name to ensure that the registration issues in the name of a new owner. Trademark Rule 2.187, 37 C. F. R. Section 2.187.

12. Mailing Procedures and Fees Related to Intent-to-Use Applications

a. Use of the "Box ITU" designation

Applicants are encouraged to include "Box ITU" in the address when submitting the following:

i. statements of use under Section 1(d) of the Act, Trademark Rule 2.88, 37 C. F. R. Section 2.88, and

ii. requests for extensions of time to file statements of use under Trademark Rule 2.89, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.89.

Rule 1.1(h), 37 C. F. R. Section 1.1(h). Applicants should not use the "Box ITU" designation when filing the intent-to-use application itself, amendments to allege use or when filing routine responses to Offfice actions in intent-to-use applications because it may delay processing.

b. The Certificate-of-Mailing Procedure

The following intent-to-use papers are specifically excepted from the certificate-of-mailing procedure:

i. statements of use under Section 1(d) of the Act, ii. requests for extensions of time to file statements of use under Trademark Rule 2.89, 37 C. F. R. Section 2.89, and

iii. amendments to allege use under Section 1(c) of the Act.

Rule 1.8(a), 37 C. F. R. Section 1.8(a). Also, the initial filing of all trademark applications, including intent-to-use applications, is excepted from this procedure. Thus, any of these papers will be considered filed on the date actually received or on the date specified under Rule 1.10, 37 C. F. R. Section 1.10, concerning the use of "Express Mail."

c. Fees Related to Intent-to-Use Applications

The filing fee for an intent-to-use application itself is $175.00 per class. The fee for filing an amendment to alleged use, statement of use or a request for an extension of time is $100.00 per class. Trademark Rule 2.6, 37 C. F. R. Section 2.6

B. PROVISIONS AFFECTING ALL APPLICATIONS

Certain changes in Office policy and procedure associated with the 1988 amendments and revisions to the rules affect all applications, that is, use applications under Tradfemark Act Section 1(a), 15 U. S. C. Section 1051(a), intent-to-use applications under Trademark Act Section 1(b), 15 U. S. C. Section 1051(b), as well as applications filed under Trademark Act Section 44, 15 U. S. C. Section 1126. Those changes will be set forth in this section.

1. Filing Date Requirements

Trademark Rule 2.21, 37 C. F. R. Section 2.21, sets forth the minimum requirements for receiving a filing date for all types of applications. These minimum requirements do not include all of the requirements which may ultimately apply for registration of the mark, but merely those formal requirements which must be met to receive a filing date.

a. Applicant's Signature

Under the rule, as revised, all applicants are required to provide a declaration or verification signed by the applicant to receive a filing date. Because the filing of an application for the Principal Register now establishes a constructive date of use, contingent on issuance of a registration, under Trademark Act Section 7(c), 15 U.S.C. Section 1057(c), the rule now imposes this requirement.

If an application is submitted unsigned, the Application Section will not grant a filing date and will return the papers to the applicant. If an unsigned application reaches the examining attorney in error, the examining attorney should return the application to the Application Section for appropriate action.

Under Trademark Act Section 1, 15 U.S.C. Section 1051, only the following persons have statutory authority to sign: the individual in an application filed by an individual, a general partner in a partnership application or an officer in an application filed by a corporation or association.

If the applicant submits a signed declaration or verification, the examining attorney will determine whether the person who signed had authority to sign for the applicant under the Act. If the person did not, the applicant may submit a substitute declaration and retain the filing date, provided the person who signed initially possessed color of authority to sign. Persons having color of authority are those who have firsthand knowledge of the truth of the statements in the application and who also have actual or implied authority to act on behalf of the applicant. Trademark Rule 2.71(c), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.71(c).

For example, in the case of a corporate applicant, a nonofficer, such as a manager, who had the requisite knowledge of the facts relevant to the application and actual or implied authority to act on behalf of the applicant, would possess color of authority, though not proper authority under the Act. In such a case, a substitute declaration could be submitted during prosecution of the application to correct this defect. An attorney who is an employee of a corporation might also satisfy the criteria.

On the other hand, the applicant's private attorney would not ordinarily be regarded as possessing color of authority to sign on behalf of an applicant. Private attorneys do not usually have firsthand knowledge of a client's business or the authority to act on behalf of a client, other than as legal representative. Here, the defect could not be corrected by filing a substitute verification or declaration, confirming the facts in tha application, signed by an appropriate person. If the person who signed the application lacked even color of authority to sign on behalf of the applicant, the examining attorney must refuse registration because the application did not meet the requirements of Trademark Rule 2.21, 37 C.F.R Section 2.21, for receiving a filing date.

If the examining attorney determines that the person who signed for the applicant lacked the requisite authority, but the person possessed at least color of authority, the examining attorney will require a substitute declaration or verification.

The Office will accept copies of signed applications for the purpose of granting a filing date. Applicants cannot send copies of applications by fax directly to the Office, but the Office will accept copies which have been produced by fax in the same manner as any other copy. However, if a copy is filed, the applicant must provide the signed original copy of the application during prosecution. If the applicant has not done so earlier, the examining attorney will require that the applicant do so in the first action in the case. In no case will anything other than a certificate or certified copy of a foreign registration be accepted for purposes of granting a filing date in an application based on Trademark Act Section 44(e), 15 U.S.C. Section 1126(e).

b. Drawing Size

Effective July 3, 1989, the Office requires that drawings conform to the size requirements specified in Trademark Rule 2.52(c), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.52(c), to receive a filing date. If the mark in a special-form drawing is displayed in an area larger than four inches by four inches, it will be regarded as not being in substantial conformity with the rule and the application will be denied a filing date and returned to the applicant. If an examining attorney discovers an application with a drawing which does not conform to this requirement, the examining attorney should return the application to the Trademark Services Division for appropriate handling. It should not be examined.

Other changes relating to the minimum requirements for receiving a filing date which relate to specific types of applications are noted under the discussion of those specific types of applications.

2. Identifying the Applicant and Applicant's Address

Trademark Rule 2.33(a)(1)(ii), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.33(a)(1)(ii), has been revised to state the requirements related to identifying a partnership. The rule now specifies that the application must identify "the state or nation under the laws of which the partnership is organized." This revision merely reflects long-standing Office practice. The applicant must also provide the names of all general partners and their state or nation of incorporation or their citizenship, as appropriate.

Also, an individual applicant may provide either a business or residence address. Both addresses are no longer required.

3. Drawings

Trademark Rule 2.51(d), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.51(d), has been added to provide guidance concerning the nature of drawings in the case of certain unusual types of marks. The rule provides as follows:

(d) Broken lines should be used in the drawing of a mark to show placement of the mark on the goods, or on the packaging, or to show matter not claimed as part of the mark, or both, as appropriate. In an application to register a mark with three-dimensional features, the drawing shall depict the mark in perspective in a single rendition.

This provision is intended to provide guidance to applicants wishing to register certain types of marks, such as configurations of goods or configurations of packaging for goods and similar marks. The provision brings the rules into conformity with current practice. The drawing should clearly define the matter the applicant claims as its mark. See In re Famous Foods, Inc., 217 USPQ 177 (TTAB 1983). If the mark is three-dimensional, the drawing should present the mark in three dimensions. In re Schaefer Marine, Inc., 223 USPQ 170 (TTAB 1984).

Trademark Rule 2.52(e), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.52(e), has been revised to simplify the color linings used to identify the colors orange and yellow or gold in drawings of marks. If an applicant employs the color linings formerly designated for these colors, the examining attorney should not require a new drawing. The revised rule has been adopted for the convenience of applicants, and the Office will allow a reasonable time for applicants to adjust to the new coding.

Trademark Rule 2.52(d), 37 CF.R. Section 2.52(d), has been amended to modify the content of the drawing heading. Specifically, it now requires that an applicant claiming the benefit of a foreign application under Trademark Act Section 44(d), 15 U.S.C. Section 1126(d), specify the priority date in the drawing heading. It also recommends that applicants provide, as a part of the heading, a description of the essential elements of the mark in the case of a special-form drawing.

4. Specimens - Requirements

Trademark Rules 2.56 and 2.57, 37 C.F.R. Sections 2.56 and 2.57, have been revised to reduce the number of specimens or facsimiles required in an application from five to three. In view of this rule, the public may remove only two surplus copies of specimens from the file permanently. At least one original of each type of specimen submitted must be retained in the file to ensure a complete record of the case. In the case of applications filed before November 16, 1989, the Office will not require more than three specimens per class in any action taken on or after that date.

The referenced rules have also been revised to reflect the provisions of the 1988 amendments revising Trademark Act Section 45, 15 U.S.C. Section 1127. Specifically, the definition of "use in commerce" has been revised to provide that when the nature of the goods makes placement of the mark on the goods, containers, tags, labels or displays associated with the goods impracticable, then placement of the mark on documents associated with the goods or their sale constitutes use in commerce. The referenced rules have been amended to reflect this change. See In re E.A. Miller & Sons Packing Co., 225 USPQ 592 (TTAB 1985). Therefore, the examining attorney should accept documents associated with the goods or their sale, in the case of goods sold in bulk or in similar cases, where placement of the mark on the goods themselves is impracticable.

The referenced rules regarding specimens or facsimiles have also been revised to establish 8.5 by 11 inches as the maximum size permitted for such items. This revision brings the rule into conformity with the preferred size indicated for all filings and standards prevailing in federal practice in general.

5. Specimens - Examination

The 1988 amendments also revise the definition of "use in commerce" to adopt a stricter standard. The Act now states, "The term `use in commerce' means the bona fide use of a mark in the ordinary course of trade, and not merely to reserve a right in a mark." Trademark Act Section 45, 15 U.S.C. Section 1127. This stricter definition of "use in commerce" applies to all applications, affidavits of use and renewals filed on or after November 16, 1989. Cf. Ralston Purina Company v. On-Cor Frozen Foods Inc., 746 F.2d 801, 223 USPQ 979 (Fed. Cir. 1984).

The Office will not inquire into the sufficiency of an applicant's or registrant's use in the examination of applications, amendments to allege use, statements of use, affidavits of use or renewals unless the specimens or other evidence of record clearly raise a question concerning the applicant's or registrant's use. The consideration of whether a particular use satisfies the statutory definition is more appropriate in an inter partes proceeding. The examining attorney should require new specimens generally under the same circumstances where the examining attorney would have required new specimens prior to the 1988 amendments. If the specimens appear to be temporary in nature, the examining attorney may require specimens of a more permanent nature.

Example —If an applicant seeks to register a mark suggesting a Christmas theme for greeting cards and submits as specimens birthday cards with an additional pasted label displaying the mark, the specimens could not be regarded as exhibiting "use in commerce." The examining attorney should refuse registration and require substitute specimens exhibiting use in commerce or an explanation to establish use in commerce.

When action is necessary, in appropriate cases, the examining attorney should require additional product or sales literature concerning the use of the mark to permit full consideration of the issue. Trademark Rule 2.61(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.61(b).

6. Identifications of Goods and Services

Trademark Rule 2.71, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.71, restricts amendments to the identification of goods or services as follows, "The identification of goods or services may be amended to clarify or limit the identification, but additions will not be permitted." Trademark Rule 2.71(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.71(b).

This rule applies to applications filed on or after November 16, 1989. The rule also applies to applications filed before November 16, 1989, for the purposes of any action taken on or after that date. However, if the Office issued a requirement or suggested an amendment in an action prior to that date, and the applicant submits an amendment substantially complying with the requirement or suggestion on or after the effective date, the examining attorney should accept the amendment, even though it does not comply with the new rule, if it is otherwise proper.

As noted previously, Trademark Act Section 7(c), 15 U.S.C. Section 1057(c), provides that the filing of any application for registration on the Principal Register establishes constructive use and nationwide priority contingent on issuance of the registration. The identification of goods and services in an application, therefore, defines the scope of those rights established by the filing of an application for the Principle Register. The following sections discuss identification of goods and services in general; additional information relevant to the identification of goods and services in an intent-to-use application is presented above with the specific discussion of such applications.

a. Limiting the Identification of Goods and Services

As indicated above, the rules permit amendments to limit the identification of goods and services. The rules also refer to "deletion" in relation to the identification of goods and services. See, e.g., Trademark Rule 2.74, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.74."Deletion" means the elimination of an existing item in an identification of goods and servbices in its entirety. Deletion is distinct from other types of amendments to limit, such as amendments to limit the goods as to types, channels of trade or class of purchasers or to restrict an existing item in scope by the introduction of some qualifying language or the substitution of specific for more general terms.

Deletions from the identification of goods and services are permitted. If the applicant wishes to amend the identification of goods and services to delete one or more items, the examing attorney should accept the amendment, provided it is timely and otherwise proper. However, once the applicant has expressly amended the identification of goods and services to delete an item it may not be reinserted in a later amendment.

If an applicant wishes to amend the identification of goods and services to insert an item which is equivalent to or logically encompassed by an item already included in the identification of goods and services, the examining attorney should permit the amendment, provided it is timely and otherwise proper.

If the applicant wishes to amend the identification of goods and services to restrict one or more of the items by inserting qualifying language or substituting more specific language, the examining attorney should accept the amendment, provided it is timely and otherwise proper.

Example —If the applicant initially identifies the goods as "publications," the applicant may amend to substitute one or more terms which fall under the definition of publications. Likewise, if an applicant identifies its goods as "pamphlets," the applicant may amend to indicate brochures or both because these terms are generally equivalent and interchangeable. In either case, the applicant must specify the subject matter.

Example — If the Applicant initially identifies the goods as "football uniforms," the applicant may amend to indicate football uniforms in Class 25 and football helmets and shoulder pads in Class 28. These goods are logically included within the initial identification. Footballs, however, could not be added; this would add an item not logically included within the original identification.

Example — If the applicant initially identifies the services as "prepaid medical services" and wishes to amend to underwriting prepaid medical plans and health care services in the nature of a health maintenance organization, the amendment should be permitted. Both specific services are logically included under prepaid medical services.

On the other hand, an applicant may not amend an identification of goods or services to add or substitute a term which is not logically included within the scope of the terms originally stated or which is otherwise qualitatively different from the goods and services as originally stated.

Example —If the applicant identifies the goods as "computer programs," the applicant may not add or substitute computers or other types of computer hardware to the listing.

Example — If the applicant initially identifies the goods as "hats," the applicant may not add or substitute scarfs in the identification of goods. Likewise, the applicant may not add or substitute shirts for slacks.

Example — If the applicant identifies its services as "ophthalmologist's services" and proposes to amend the identification to medical services, the amendment should not be permitted. The amendment would expand the identification to include services beyond the scope of those identified initially.

The scope of the goods and services, as originally identified or as amended by an express amendment, establishes the outer limit for any later amendments.

Because the rule precludes additions to the identification of goods and services, examining attorneys should not require or suggest unduly restrictive identifications of goods and services. See In re Sentry Chemical Company, 230 USPQ 556 (TTAB 1986). Once the identification has been limited, it cannot be expanded later. Also, in requiring amendments to the identification of goods and services, examining attorneys should generally advise applicants that additions to the identification of goods and services are not permitted. This subject is discussed in greater detail above in conjunction with intent-to-use applications.

b. Clarifying the Identification of Goods and Services

Under the rule, an applicant may amend "to clarify" the identification of goods and services. The applicant may clarify an identification of goods and services which is indefinite or overly broad to identify goods or services which are within the scope of the goods and services as identified initially. As noted, the filing of an application for registration on the Principal Register establishes a constructive date of first use in commerce, contingent on issuance of the registration. Trademark Act Section 7, 15 U.S.C. Section 1057. Accordingly, the applicant may not expand those rights through amendment of the identification of goods and services.

Thus the applicant may amend from the more general to the specific, but the applicant may not amend the specific to the more general. The scope of the goods and services identified initially, or as limited by an express amendment, establishes the outer limit for permissible amendments. Classification may provide some guidance in determining whether an amendment exceeds the scope of the goods and services identified initially, but it is not controlling. The examining attorney may suggest and may permit amendments to the identification of goods and services resulting in a change of class, provided the amended identification does not exceed the scope of the original identification.

Example — If an applicant has erroneously identified its goods and services as "menus," but in fact, the applicant intends to register the mark for restaurant services, the applicant may not amend the identification of goods to "restaurant services." In such a case, the original identification, which is specific and narrow in scope, may not be expanded to services beyond the scope of that identification.

Example — If an applicant has erroneously identified its goods and services as "packaging and labels," but in fact, the applicant intends to register the mark for toys, the applicant may not amend to correct the identification. The initial identification failed to indicate the nature of the applicant's goods and services in any form, and therefore, the examining attorney must reject the amendment to insert an identification of goods and services beyond the scope of those stated initially.

Example — If an applicant has identified its goods and services as "advertising and business" the appplicant may not amend to specific goods or to services other than those within the scope of these terms, generally those services included in International Class 35.

7. Claims of Acquired Distinctiveness

The 1988 amendments revise Trademark Act Section 2(f), 15 U.S.C. Section 1052(f), to permit the filing of a prima facie showing of acquired distinctiveness based on five years use running up to the date the claim is made. The Act now states:

The Commissioner may accept as prima facie evidence that the mark has become distinctive, as used on or in connection with the applicant's goods in commerce, proof of substantially exclusive and continuous use thereof as a mark by the applicant in commerce for the five years before the date on which the claim of distinctiveness is made.

Trademark Act Section 2(f), 15 U.S.C. Section 1052(f).

The Act previously required that the relevant five-year period precede the filing date of the application. Under the new provision, therefore, any five-year claim submitted on or after November 16, 1989, is subject to the new time period. This will apply even if the application was filed before November 16, 1989. See Trademark Rule 2.41(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.41(b). Note the discussion above concerning claims of acquired distinctiveness in intent-to-use applications (A.3.f.).

8. Supplemental Register

The 1988 amendments eliminate the one-year- lawful-use requirement for eligibility for the Supplemental Register. Therefore, on or after November 16, 1989, an applicant may apply for registration on the Supplemental Register at any time after commencing use of the mark. Likewise, on or after November 16, 1989, an applicant may amend a pending application to seek registration on the Supplemental Register at any time after use of the mark has commenced. The applicant may do so even if the original application for the Principal Register was filed before November 16, 1989. See Trademark Rule 2.47, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.47. However, if the application was filed before November 16, 1989, and the applicant had not used the mark in commerce for one year before the filing date, and the applicant amends to the Supplemental Register on or after November 16, 1989, the date of the amendment to the Supplemental Register becomes the effective filing date of the application.

As noted above (A.3.g.), an intent-to-use applicant may file an amendment to the Supplemental Register only after use has commenced and after the filing of an acceptable amendment to allege use or a statement of use. In such a case, the effective filing date of the application will be changed to the date on which the applicant filed the amendment to allege use under Section 1(c) of the Act or the statement of use under Section 1(d) of the Act.

In requesting registration on the Supplemental Register in either the original application or in an amendment to the Supplemental Register, the applicant need not include an additional statement as to lawful use. Although Section 23 still includes an explicit reference to lawful use, any use which is the basis for an application on either the Principal or the Supplemental Register must be lawful. It need not be stated explicitly.

In an application under Section 44 of the Act, the applicant may seek registration on the Supplemental Register without alleging lawful use in commerce and without alleging use anywhere in the world. Trademark Rule 2.47(b), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.47(b).

The 1988 amendments also add the following language to Trademark Act Section 27, 15 U.S.C. Section 1095, "Registration of a mark on the Supplemental Register shall not constitute an admission that the mark has not acquired distinctiveness." Examining attorneys, therefore, should note this provision in presenting any refusals or requirements related to the nondistinctive character of a mark previously registered on the Supplemental Register.

9. Affidavits of Use under Section 8

The 1988 amendments modify the requirements for the content of an affidavit of use which must be filed between the fifth and sixth anniversaries of registration. Trademark Act Section 8, 15 U.S.C. Section 1058. Under the new provision, the registrant must identify the specific goods or services on or in connection with which the mark is in use in commerce. Similarly, if the registrant elects to present an explanation of excusable nonuse, this explanation must also relate to specific goods or services.

Formerly, the allegation of use in commerce related to one or more classes with no requirement to specify the goods or services within a class on or in connection with which the mark was in use. If the registrant fails to provide an allegation of use or a satisfactory explanation as to nonuse as to any goods or services in the registration, those goods or services will be cancelled from the registration. If the original affidavit of use fails to specify the goods and services, the registrant may not amend the affidavit to correct this omission after the expiration of the period during which the affidavit is due. The registrant may incorporate the goods and services by reference. For example, the registrant may state, "those goods and services specified in the registration" or "those goods and services specified in the registration except. . ." specifying any goods or services to be deleted.

The new provision also explicitly requires specimens of use to support the affidavit. Formerly, the Act required a "showing" and the Trademark Rules of Practice required as follows, "The statement must be supported by evidence which shows that the mark is in use, and normally such evidence consists of a specimen or a facsimile specimen which is currently in use, or a statement of facts concerning use." In view of the 1988 amendments, the rules have been revised to specify that specimens or facsimiles are required. Trademark Rules 2.161 and 2.162, 37 C.F.R. Sections 2.161 and 2.162.

Specimens of use must be provided before the expiration of the sixth year following registration. If the registrant fails to do so, the registration will be cancelled. If the registrant does provide specimens, but the Office determines that those specimens are unacceptable, the Office will require substitute specimens. In such a case, the registrant must provide specimens of use within the time provided. Substitute specimens may be filed after the expiration of the sixth year. If the registrant fails to do so, the registration will be cancelled. The registrant must also verify in an affidavit or a declaration under Trademark Rule 2.20, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.20, that the substitute specimens were in use in commerce before the expiration of the sixth year following registration.

Registrants filing affidavits under Section 8 should also note the revised rule concerning the establishment of ownership. Trademark Rule 2.186, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.186, permits a registrant to establish ownership either by recording an assignment in the Assignment Branch of the Office or by submitting proof of the assignment without recording.

10. Term and Renewal

The 1988 amendments reduce the registration and renewal term from twenty to ten years. Trademark Act Sections 8(a) and 9, 15 U.S.C. Sections 1058(a) and 1059. Accordingly, registrations issued on or after November 16, 1989, will be issued for ten-year periods and subject to renewal for ten-year periods. Registrations issued prior to that date remain in force for their existing term of twenty years, but are subject to renewal for ten-year periods. Trademark Rule 2.181, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.181. For the purpose of determining the relevant renewal period, the Office will adhere to the following policy during the transition.

i. If the registration expires on or after November 16, 1989, the registration will be renewed for ten years. The Office will not take final action to grant any such renewal until November 16, 1989.
ii. If the registration expires before November 16, 1989, and the Office takes final action to grant the renewal before that date, the registration will be renewed for twenty years.
iii. If the registration expires before November 16, 1989, and the Office takes final action to grant the renewal on or after November 16, 1989, the registration will be renewed for ten years.

All renewal terms run from the expiration date of the previous term.

Note Trademark Rule 2.186, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.186, regarding requirements related to the establishment of ownership of the registration for the purpose of renewals which permits a registrant to establish ownership either by recording an assignment in the Assignments Branch of the Office or by submitting proof of the assignment without recording.

11. Assignments

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

a. Content of Assignment Documents

Office policy governing trademark assignments provides that an assignment relating to an application or registration will be recorded, even if the assignment document itself does not identify the relevant application or registration numbers, provided certain conditions are met. Specifically, the policy requires as follows with respect to the identification of the properties assigned in such a case:

(i) The mark and the goods and services are identified in the assignment document (or the assignment is of all registrations and/or applications owned by the assignor), and the application or registration is identified by number and date in a transmittal letter or attachment to the assignment document, in which case, such letter or attachment shall become part of the record of the assignment; or

(ii) An assignment is executed concurrently with or subsequent to the filing of an application but before its serial number and filing date are ascertained, and the application is identified by its date of execution, name of the applicant, mark and goods or services.

b. Issuance of Registration in Current Owner's Name

Trademark Rule 2.187, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.187, has also been revised to clarify Office policy concerning issuance of registrations in the name of assignees or in a new name of the applicant. The rule provides as follows:

The certificate of registration may be issued to the assignee of the applicant, or in a new name of applicant, provided that the party makes a written request in the application record, by the time the application is being prepared for issuance of the certificate of registration, and an appropriate document is of record in the Assignment Search Room of the Patent and Trademark Office. If the assignment or name change document is not of record in the Assignment Search Room, then the written request must state that the document has been filed for recordation. The address of the assignee must be made of record in the application file and in the recorded document.

Trademark Rule 2.187, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.187.

Any application where such a request has been submitted should be forwarded to the assigned examining attorney. The assigned examining attorney will ensure that the assignment or change of name is entered in the file after recording and will then return the application to processing.

If a party other than the applicant of record attempts to take any action in a case, the examining attorney must confirm that the new party is the owner in accordance with Trademark Rule 2.186, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.186. That is, the applicant must provide the reel and frame number of an assignment, or the applicant must submit other evidence of ownership.

c. Assignment Fees

Applicants should note that, effective April 17, 1989, the fee for recording assignments of trademarks is $8.00 per application or registration assigned. Trademark Rule 2.6, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.6.

12. Establishing Ownership of Applications or Registrations

Trademark Rule 2.186, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.186, as amended, provides:

Any action with respect to an assigned application or registration which may or must be taken by an applicant or registrant may be taken by the assignee provided that the assignment has been recorded or that proof of the assignment has been submitted.

The previous rule required recording of an assignment in a case where the applicant/assignee or registrant/assignee was required to take an action, such as filing a response to an Office action, filing an affidavit of use under Trademark Act Section 8 or filing a renewal. While it may be advisable for an applicant or registrant to record an assignment of an application or registration in view of the provisions of Trademark Act Section 10, 15 U.S.C. Section 1060, concerning subsequent purchasers, neither the Act nor the rules require recordation.

However, if the party taking the relevant action with respect to the application or registration is different from the applicant or registrant of record and the filing party has not recorded an assignment, the party taking the action must establish that it is the owner of the application or registration through appropriate evidence. This evidence may consist of a copy of a document transferring ownership from one party to another or an explanation in an affidavit or supported by a declaration under Trademark Rule 2.20, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.20, that a valid transfer of legal title has occurred.

13. Revival of Abandoned Applications

Trademark Rule 2.66, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.66, concerning petitions to revive abandoned applications, requires that all such petitions be filed "promptly." The Office will continue to consider each petition on the merits according to the circumstances of the case, but, as a general rule, all such petitions should be filed within two months of the abandonment date. The standard for granting a petition to revive continues to be "unavoidable delay." Please note the discussion above (A.10.) with specific reference to petitions to revive intent-to-use applications.

14. Concurrent Use

The 1988 amendments insert the following language in Trademark Act Section 2(d), 15 U.S.C. Section 1052(d), governing concurrent use applications which are subject to concurrent use proceedings in the Patent and Trademark Office:

Use prior to the filing date of any pending application or a registration shall not be required when the owner of such application or registration consents to the grant of a concurrent registration to the applicant.

The statute now provides greater flexibility to applicants seeking concurrent use registrations. Therefore, if the applicant is not entitled to a concurrent use registration on the basis of the jurisdictional requirement of use of its mark prior to the earliest filing date of any relevant pending application or registration, but the relevant prior applicant or registrant has consented to the applicant's concurrent use application, the examining attorney should approve the mark for publication, subject to a concurrent use proceeding, provided it is otherwise eligible.

Also, Trademark Rule 2.42, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.42, no longer requires that the stated exceptions in a concurrent use application be inserted in the verification or declaration. The exceptions need only be provided in the statement portion of the application.

15.Requests to Divide an Application

Trademark Rule 2.87, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.87, establishes procedures for dividing one application into two separate applications. The rule provides as follows:

(a) An application may be physically divided into two or more separate applications upon submission by the applicant of a request therefor, in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section. In the case of a request to divide out some, but not all, of the goods or services in a class, a fee for each new separate application to be created by the division must be submitted. Any outstanding time period for action by the applicant in the original application at the time of the division will be applicable to each new separate application created by the division.

(b) A request to divide an application may be filed at any time between the filing of the application and the date the Trademark Examining Attorney approves the mark for publication or the date of expiration of the six-month response period after issuance of a final action; or during an opposition, upon motion granted by the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board. Additionally, a request to divide an application under section 1(b) of the Act may be filed with a statement of use under section 2.88 or at any time between the filing of a statement of use and the date the Trademark Examining Attorney approves the mark for registration or the date of expiration of the six-month response period after issuance of a final action.

(c) A request to divide an application should be made in a separate paper from any other amendment or response in the application. The title "Request to divide application." should appear at the top of the first page of the paper.

By dividing the application, the applicant preserves the filing date, and thus the potential constructive use date, as to all of the goods and services covered by the application.

Under the rule, the applicant may request that certain goods or services in a single class be divided, that is, that a separate application with the same filing date be created to cover those goods or services. The applicant may also request that an entire class or several classes be divided, that is, that one or more separate applications with the same filing date be created to cover certain classes.

An applicant may request division of an application for any reason. For example, in an intent-to-use application, the applicant may wish to proceed to publication or registration with certain goods and services on or in connection with which it has used the mark in commerce and retain an active application for any remaining goods or services. The applicant can do so by requesting division of the application.

If the applicant requests that the goods or services in a single class be divided into one or more separate applications, the applicant must submit an application fee for each new application to be created. The fee is the same as the fee for the filing of a new single-class application, $175.00. If an entire class is to be divided out from a multiple class application, there is no fee. Trademark Rule 2.87(a), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.87(a). There is no fee for the request to divide itself.

a. Processing Requests to Divide

Specially designated personnel in the ITU Unit will process all requests to divide. All requests to divide will be given priority in processing over any other paper in the case. All requests to divide should be forwarded to the ITU Unit immediately for processing. However, if the application is the subject of a proceeding before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, the request should first be forwarded to the Board for appropriate action. The ITU Unit will process the request as promptly as possible and will return the application or applications to regular processing after completing action on the request to divide.

If the request to divide does not include a necessary fee or is otherwise deficient, the ITU Unit will notify the applicant of the deficiency. The applicant must correct any such deficiency within thirty days or, if the division is a necessary component of a statement of use, within the time permitted for filing the statement of use, whichever is shorter. If the applicant fails to correct the deficiency within the time provided, the request will be considered abandoned and the application will be processed without regard to the request. The ITU Unit will advise the applicant of any such action and will refund any fees paid in conjunction with the request to divide.

If the applicant submits a request to divide along with a statement of use and a request for an extension of time, and the fees are insufficient to cover all three, the fees will be applied first to the request for an extension of time, second to the statement of use and lastly to the request to divide.

If the applicant submits a request to divide along with a statement of use, and the fees are sufficient for the statement of use only, and no time remains for filing additional fees, the applicant will be given the opportunity to amend the statement of use to include all goods or services in the application. The applicant must establish that the applicant used the mark in commerce on or in connection with all such goods or services within the time permitted for filing the statement of use. If time does remain in the existing period for filing the statement of use, the applicant will be permitted to submit the additional fees within that time period.

Filing a request to divide an application does not relieve an applicant of the duty to respond to any outstanding Office action or to take any other required action.

Likewise, the applicant should note that any outstanding time period for action by the applicant in effect at the time the application is divided applies not only to the original application, but also to each new application created in the division of the application. Therefore, if a response to an Office action is due in a case, the response is due likewise in each new application created through the division of the application.

Similarly, if a statement of use is due, the period for filing the statement of use relevant to the original application is likewise relevant to each new application created through the division.

If a request to divide an application is received at any time other than those specified, it will be returned to the applicant with any fees submitted for that purpose and the application will not be divided.

The Office will not consider a request to merge two separate applications into a single application once again after a proper request to divide has been granted.

b. Division of Registration Not Permitted

A registration cannot be divided into one or more separate registrations.

16. Correspondence with Applicants Not Domiciled in the United States

Trademark Rule 2.18, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.18, has been revised to clarify Office policy with respect to correspondence with applicants not domiciled in the United States. In such a case, the Office will send correspondence to the applicant's domestic representative unless the applicant has authorized an attorney or another qualified person to prosecute the application. If the applicant has authorized an attorney or other qualified person to prosecute the application, the Office will send correspondence to that authorized person.

17. Preferred Size for Application Papers

Trademark Rule 2.31, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.31, now specifies that the preferred size for application papers is letter size. This policy applies to all submissions related to all applications.

C. PROVISIONS AFFECTING APPLICATIONS UNDER SECTION 44 OF THE ACT

The 1988 amendments introduce relatively few changes affecting applications filed under Trademark Act Section 44, 15 U.S.C. Section 1126. The amended Rules of Practice incorporate changes dictated by decisions in the area and clarify Office policy related to the administration of Section 44 in other respects. The provisions are summarized in this section.

1. Filing-Date Requirements

As noted above (A.1.a.), the amended Rules of Practice institute a number of changes related to receipt of a filing date which affect all applications. This section addresses only those changes which relate specifically to applications under Section 44. Trademark Rule 2.21, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.21, sets forth the minimum formal requirements to receive a filing date for the various types of applications. These minimum requirements do not include all of the requirements which may apply to qualify for registration.

a. Statement of a Bona Fide Intention to Use the Mark in Commerce

The 1988 amendments require all applicants under Section 44 of the Act to allege a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce, although use in commerce is not required as a condition to registration. Any application under either Section 44(d) or 44(e) of the Act must include such a statement to receive a filing date. Trademark Rule 2.21(a)(5)(ii) and (iii), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.21(a)(5)(ii) and (iii).

The Office will not presume that an application under Section 44 is also based on intent to use under Trademark Act Section 1(b), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(b). If the applicant wishes to assert both bases, the applicant must indicate so specifically. If the applicant indicates that Section 44 is the basis, and nothing more, and the applicant fails to comply with the relevant Section 44 filing-date requirements, the applicant will be denied a filing date, even if the application includes a statement of a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce.

b. Priority Claim or Certified Copy of a Foreign Registration

In the case of an application claiming the benefits of Section 44(d), the application must be filed in the U.S. within six months of the relevant foreign filing and must include a claim of the benefit of a prior foreign application to receive a filing date. Trademark Rule 2.21(a)(5)(iii), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.21(a)(5)(iii). Trademark Rule 2.39, 37 C.F.R. Section 2.39, sets forth the required content of such a claim, essentially, the filing date and country of the first regularly filed foreign application. The applicant should also indicate the serial number of that application, if it is available. The serial number is not required to receive a filing date, however.

In the case of an application under Section 44(e), the application must include a certification or certified copy of the foreign registration on which the United States application is based to receive a filing date. Trademark Rule 2.21(a)(5)(ii), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.21(a)(5)(ii). If the applicant submits any type of copy other than an original of a certified copy, the Office will not grant a filing date.

2. Statement of Dates of Use and Method of Use and Specimens Not Required

In any application under Section 44, the applicant need not state a date of first use anywhere, nor a date of first use in commerce, nor the method of use. Also, the applicant need not provide specimens of use. Crocker National Bank v. Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, 223 USPQ 909 (TTAB 1984). Trademark Rules 2.21 and 2.33, 37 C.F.R. Sections 2.21 and 2.33, have been amended to reflect this change. In such a case, the mark need not be in use anywhere for the purposes of the U.S. application.

3. The Basis for Registration in Applications Claiming the Benefits of Section 44(d)

In In re Daiwa Seiko, Inc., 230 USPQ 794 (Comm'r Pats. 1983), the Commissioner clarified the distinction between Sections 44(d) and (e) of the Act. The Commissioner held that Section 44(d) only provides a basis for receiving a priority filing date but does not provide a basis for registration. Therefore, an application claiming the benefit of a foreign application under Section 44(d) must include a basis for registration also. In most cases, the basis for registration will be the foreign registration which will issue from the foreign application relied upon for priority. The Office will presume that this is the basis for registration in any application under Section 44(d) unless the applicant indicates otherwise.

Furthermore, the assertion of a different basis for registration more than six months after the filing of the foreign application, including reliance on a different foreign registration under Section 44(e), will result in the loss of the priority filing date under Section 44(d) of the Act. In such a case, the Office will change the filing date in the United States to the date on which the applicant perfects the new basis for registration by providing either a proper statement of dates of use in commerce, a proper assertion of an intent to use in commerce under Section 1(b) of the Act or a certificate or certified copy of a foreign registration. See TMEP section 706 and Chapter 1000.

In an application filed under Section 44 before November 16, 1989, the applicant may amend to add Section 1(b) as a basis for registration on or after that date. However, if the applicant has claimed priority under Section 44(d) in such a case, and the applicant drops the original basis for registration to rely on Section 1(b) only, the applicant may not retain the priority date unless the amendment asserting Section 1(b) as a basis for registration was made within six months of the filing of the foreign application relied on for priority. If the amendment was made later and the applicant drops the original basis for registration, the effective filing date of the application is the date of the amendment to assert Section 1(b) as a basis for registration.

D. PROVISIONS AFFECTING APPLICATIONS BASED ON USE IN COMMERCE ONLY

The 1988 amendments and the amended Rules of Practice do not provide any changes, as such, related specifically to applications based on use in commerce under Trademark Act Section 1(a), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(a), other than those noted above (Section B) affecting all applications. In one instance, noted here, the amended Rules of Practice merely set forth long-standing Office policy in the rules for the first time.

Trademark Rule 2.59(a), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.59(a), provides as follows:

In an application under section 1(a) of the Act, the applicant may submit substitute specimens of the mark as used on or in connection with the goods, or in the sale or advertising of the services, provided that any substitute specimens submitted are supported by applicant's affidavit or declaration in accordance with Section 2.20 (37 C.F.R. Section 2.20) verifying that the substitute specimens were in use in commerce at least as early as the filing date of the application. The verification requirement shall not apply if the specimens are duplicates or facsimiles, such as photographs, of specimens already of record in the application.

As noted, this provision merely states long-standing policy in the regulations for the first time.

E. FILING ON MORE THAN ONE BASIS AND CHANGING THE BASIS OF THE APPLICATION

Trademark Rule 2.33(d), 37 C.F.R. Section 2.33(d), precludes the filing of an application based on both use in commerce under Trademark Act Section 1(a), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(a), and a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce under Trademark Act Section 1(b), 15 U.S.C. Section 1051(b). This prohibition precludes applications in a single class alleging both use in commerce and intent to use as to either the same goods and services or different goods or services. Likewise, the prohibition precludes applications in more than one class alleging both use in commerce and intent to use. If an applicant submits an application asserting both Section 1(a) and 1(b) bases for registration, the Office will not grant a filing date and will return the papers to the applicant.

The rule also precludes amendments in applications initially based on use in commerce under Section 1(a) to change the basis to intent to use under Section 1(b). In an application under Section 1(b) of the Act, an applicant may assert dates of first use which are earlier than the filing date of the application in an amendment to allege use or a statement of use.

Applicants may allege Section 44 as an additional basis for registration in conjunction with either use in commerce under Section 1(a) or intent to use under Section 1(b). In such a case, an applicant may also allege different bases for the application as to specific goods or services within a class. If an applicant asserts more than one basis for registration, the applicant must satisfy all of the requirements for registration which apply to each basis asserted. The applicant must indicate clearly that it asserts two bases for registration.

If an applicant asserts both intent to use and Section 44(e) as the bases for registration, the Office will not approve the mark for publication until the applicant submits a certificate or certified copy of the foreign registration.

In an application filed under Section 44 before November 16, 1989, the applicant may amend to add Section 1(b) as a basis for registration on or after that date. However, if the applicant has claimed priority under Section 44(d) in such a case, and the applicant drops the original basis for registration to rely on Section 1(b) only, the applicant may not retain the priority date unless the amendment asserting Section 1(b) as a basis for registration was made within six months of the filing of the foreign application relied on for priority. If the amendment was made later and the applicant drops the original basis for registration, the effective filing date of the application is the date of the amendment to assert Section 1(b) as a basis for registration.

(205) Questions and Answers

I. New Trademark Application Filing Requirements

The Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988, which was implemented on Nov. 16, 1989, contains the most significant amendments to the Lanham Act since its enactment in 1947. The Patent and Trademark Office has significantly revised the Trademark Rules of Practice to reflect the changes in the law. Additionally, the PTO has issued a supplement to Revision 7 of the Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure that reflects the changes in the law, rules, and Office policy and is available from the Government Printing Office.

The PTO's Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks has prepared a series of "Questions and Answers" about Office practice under the new law and rules. This first in the series concerns the requirements for the initial filing of an application. Subsequent "Questions and Answers" will address various examination issues, the statement of use, requests for extension of time to file the statement of use, the amendment to allege use and notice of allowance.

Q. What is an intent-to-use application?

A. The Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988 became effective on Nov. 16, 1989. It amended the Trademark Act to add a new basis for filing an application for Federal trademark registration on the Principal Register. A party with a bona fide intention to use a specific mark in commerce in relation to specific goods or services may now file an application. However, before the mark will be registered, the applicant must use the mark in commerce in connection with the specified goods or services and submit specimens evidencing use and a verified allegation concerning that use.

First, an intent-to-use application will be examined in relation to all substantive and procedural requirements, except use-related issues, and, if acceptable, published for opposition. If there is no opposition, or any opposition is resolved in the applicant's favor, the applicant will receive a notice of allowance.

The applicant must submit a statement of use within six months of that date, or request a six-month extension of time. The applicant may then request up to four additional six-month extensions of time in which to file the statement of use. The grant of such extensions is predicated, in part, upon the applicant's showing of "good cause" as to why the mark has not yet been used. Thus, an applicant may have up to 36 months from the mailing of the notice of allowance within which to file a statement of use. (See Trademark Rules 2.88 and 2.89 concerning the requirements for a statement of use and extension requests.) Upon filing, the statement of use will be examined and, if accepted, the mark will register.

Q. How does an intent-to-use application differ from an application based upon use in commerce?

A. The primary difference between the two types of applications is the basis for filing. Because of that difference, the filing requirements and processing of the two types of applications differ.

A party may not file an application based upon use of a mark in commerce until after that use has occured. Instead of asserting a bona fide intent to use the mark in commerce, the use-based application must include allegations concerning dates of use and specimens evidencing use as a filing requirement. The use-based application will be examined and, if acceptable, published for opposition. If the mark is not opposed, or any opposition is resolved in the applicant's favor, the mark will register. This procedure differs from the application procedure for an intent-to-use application, as noted above.

However, in all other respects the legal reasons for refusing registration (such as descriptiveness, likelihood of confusion, etc.) and the procedural requirements (such as specificity of identifications of goods, signature by applicant, etc.) are exactly the same for the two types of applications. Additionally, upon registration, the filing date of any application on the Principal Register is a constructive date of first use of the mark.

Q. What are the requirements for filing an intent-to-use application?

A. A complete intent-to-use application consists of a written application, a drawing of the mark, and the required filing fee for each class of goods. The requirements for a written intent-to-use application are set forth in Trademark Rule 2.33. The application must be made to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, must include a request for registration, and must be signed and verified (sworn to) by the applicant.

The application must specify: the name and address of the applicant; information about the applicant's legal entity; a claim that the applicant has a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce; the particular goods or services on or in connection with which the applicant has a bona fide intention to use the mark; the class of goods or services according to the official classification, if known to the applicant; and the intended mode, manner or method of applying, affixing or otherwise using the mark on or in connection with the goods or services specified.

The applicant must sign a verfication of the application which includes, in part, averments that the applicant is believed to be entitled to use the mark sought to be registered; that to the best of the declarant's knowledge and belief no other entity has the right to use the mark in commerce, either in the identical form or in such near resemblance as to be likely, when applied to the goods or services of such other entity, to cause confusion, or to cause mistake, or to deceive; and that the facts set forth in the application are true.

Please note that Rule 2.33 differs form section 1(b) of the Act because the rule requires the above verification to include a statement that "the applicant is the owner of the mark" rather than that "the applicant believes it is entitled to use the mark." This specific requirement of the rule should be disregarded to the extent that it differs from the statute. The rule will be amended in due course.

Q. What are the minimum requirements for receipt of a filing date for an intent-to-use application?

A. Trademark Rule 2.21 sets forth the minimum requirements for receipt of a filing date for intent-to-use applications, as well as other types of applications. These minimum formal requirements do not include all of the requirements which may ultimately be necessary to obtain registration, but merely those which must be satisified to receive a filing date.

An intent-to-use application must include the following elements in order to receive a filing date: the name of the applicant, the name and address to which communications can be directed, a drawing of the mark substantially meeting all of the requirements of Trademark Rule 2.52, an identification of goods or services, a claim of a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce, a verification or declaration under Trademark Rule 2.33(b) signed by the applicant, and the required filing fee for at least one class of goods or services. If an application lacks any one of these elements, it will be denied a filing date and all papers will be returned to the applicant as informal.

Q. Is there any change in the requirements for applications based upon either use in commerce or Section 44 of the Trademark Act?

A. Yes. Effective Nov. 16, 1989, an application must be signed in order to receive a filing date. Trademark Rule 2.21 has been amended to require that an application include a verification or declaration in accordance with Trademark Rule 2.33(b), signed by the applicant, to receive a filing date. This requirement applies to all applications filed after Nov. 16, 1989, regardless of the basis for filing. Unsigned applications will be returned to the applicant as informal. A verified assertion, signed by the applicant, of the basis for filing, is believed to be essential because of the importance of the filing date as a constructive date of first use of the mark for registration of the Principal Register.

All other filing requirements for use-based applications remain unchanged.

Concerning Section 44 which permits, under certain circumstances, the filing of an application in the United States based upon an application or registration in another country, there are two additional changes. Effective Nov. 16, 1989, an application filed under Section 44(d) or Section 44(e) of the Trademark Act must include an allegation that the applicant has a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. However, Section 44 applicants will still be exempt from any use requirement as a condition to registration. In other words, Section 44 applicants are not required to file specimens evidencing use of the mark or an allegation of use in order to obtain registration.

As a requirement for obtaining a filing date, an application filed pursuant to Section 44(d) must include in the heading of the drawing the date of the foreign filing which forms the basis of its priority claim.

Q. Who can sign an application?

A. There are two issues that may arise with respect to the signature on an application: (1) whether the signature is sufficient for receipt of a filing date, and (2) whether the signature is that of the applicant.

The following persons can properly sign an application for an applicant: an individual applicant, a general partner of a partnership, or an officer of a corporation or association.

If an application is signed by an improper party, but the improper party had "color of authority" to act for applicant, the Office will require re-execution of the application, but will not invalidate the filing date. (See Trademark Rule 2.71(c) concerning "color of authority.") The Examining Attorney will determine whether the signatory had color of authority to sign the application for the applicant. A person has such color of authority if he or she has firsthand knowledge of the relevant facts and implied or actual authority to act on behalf of the applicant. A general manager may qualify under this standard. The applicant's attorney will not ordinarily be regarded as possessing color of authority to sign on behalf of a client. Attorneys, who are not employees of a corporate applicant, do not usually have firsthand knowledge of a client's business or the authority to act on behalf of a client, other than as legal representative.

If the signature is acceptable for the purpose of receiving a filing date (i.e., if the signatory had color of authority), but is not the signature of the applicant, a substitute verification by the applicant of the facts in the application will be required. If the person who signed did not have even color of authority, the Examining Attorney will refuse registration because the applicant did not meet the minimum requirements of Rule 2.21 for receipt of a filing date. An application signed by a party without color of authority is void ab initio and cannot be corrected by submission of a substitute declaration.

Q. Are "fax" copies of signatures acceptable?

A. The Trademark Operation does not have the equipment to accept documents transmitted by "fax" for purposes of receiving a filing date. However, the signature on a properly filed application may be a photocopy or "fax" copy of the original signature. The subsequent submission of the original document will be required by the Examining Attorney.

Q. What is the significance of the filing date?

A. Section 7 of the Trademark Act has been amended to provide that the filing date of an application of the Principal Register is a constructive date of first use of the mark in commerce, provided the application matures into a registration. Thus, filing affords the applicant nationwide priority over others, with the exception of parties who had used the mark before the applicant's filing date, parties who had filed before the applicant, or parties who are entitled to an earlier priority filing date based upon the filing of a foreign application under Section 44(d) of the Trademark Act.

Q. Can an application be based upon both use and intent-to-use?

A. No. Section 1(a) of the Trademark provides for the filing of applications based upon actual use in commerce, while Section 1(b) provides for the filing of applications based upon intent-to-use. Trademark Rule 2.33(d) states that an applicant may not file under both Sections 1(a) and 1(b) of the Act in a single application, nor may an applicant in an application under Section 1(a) of the Act amend to seek registration under Section 1(b). Any application filed under both Sections 1(a) and 1(b) of the Trademark Act will be denied a filing date and returned to the applicant.

Q. Can an applicant assert both a Section 44 claim and an intent-to-use or use claim in the same application?

A. Yes. Section 44(d) provides for applications based upon an application for registration filed in an applicant's country of origin, and section 44(e) provides for applications based upon a registration in applicant's country of origin. An application may be based upon both a foreign application or registration under Section 44 and either use in commerce under Section 1(a) or intent-to-use under Section 1(b).

Q. Since a Section 44 application contains a statement of a bona fide intent to use the mark in commerce, isn't this also an intent-to-use application?

A. No. The statement of a bona fide intent to use a mark is one of the statutory requirements for a Section 44 filing and the PTO will not consider the mere inclusion of such a statement to constitute the assertion of a basis for filing under Section 1(b) of the Act. In other words, once the requirements for Section 44 are met and the application successfully completes the opposition period, the mark will register (rather than a notice of allowance issuing in the application).

A Section 44 applicant may also assert an intent-to-use basis by explicitly stating, after its statement of a bona fide intent to use the mark in commerce, that it is also asserting a Section 1(b) basis for filing.

Q. Can an intent-to-use application be filed on the Supplemental Register?

A. No. An intent-to-use application initially filed on the Supplemental Register will be denied a filing date and returned to the applicant. No amendment of an intent-to-use application to the Supplemental Register will be accepted until after use has commenced and after the filing and acceptance of an amendment to allege use or a statement of use. In such a case, the effective filing date of the application will be changed to the date on which the applicant filed the amendment to allege use under Section 1(c) of the Trademark Act or the statement of use under Section 1(d) of the Act.

Q. Must an intent-to-use applicant begin using the mark before a registration will issue?

A. Yes. An intent-to-use application may not mature into a registration until use of the mark has begun. After use begins, the applicant must verify such use in either (1) an amendment to allege use or (2) a statement of use. In addition, applicant must submit specimens evidencing use and a fee of $100 per class of goods or services in the application.

Q. What is the difference between an amendment to allege use and a statement of use?

A. The primary difference between the amendment to allege use and the statement of use is the time of filing. The amendment to allege use may be filed during initial examination of the application, i.e., after the filing date of the application and before the date on which the Examining Attorney approves the mark for publication. If the amendment to allege use is accepted, the application will then be processed for publication and issuance in the same manner as a use-based application.

If no amendment to allege use is filed before the Examining Attorney approves the mark for publication, the mark will be published for opposition. After the successful completion of the opposition period, the PTO will issue a notice of allowance. The applicant will then have six months from the date of the notice of allowance in which it must file a statement of use, or file a written request for an extension of time in which to file the statement of use. Successive extensions of time, aggregating no more than 36 months from the notice of allowance, may be obtained pursuant to Trademark Rule 2.89.

(206) Reminders Concerning the Revised Rules of Practice in Trademark Cases

The Office offers the following reminders concerning certain requirements under the revised Rules of Practice in Trademark Cases to ensure proper and efficient processing of trademark papers.

1. Statement of A Bona Fide Intention to Use in Commerce

The Office has received a number of applications filed based on Trademark Act Section 44 which contain no claim of bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. Sections 44(d)(2) and 44(e), and revised Trademark Rule 2.21 state the requirements for filing a trademark application based on a foreign application or registration. These sections require, among other things, that all applications filed pursuant to Section 44 state a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. Therefore if the application is filed based only on Section 44, and applicant has not recited a claim of bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce, the application will not be accorded a filing date and will be returned to the applicant.

This statement must include the words "in commerce." The statement should be set forth in its entirety prominently in the opening statement of the application to ensure that the application is accorded a filing date. The applicant may repeat the statement in the application declaration, if desired.

2. Assertion of Two Bases

If the applicant wishes to file based on both a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce under Trademark Act Section 1(b) and a foreign application or registration under Trademark Act Section 44, the applicant must clearly indicate its intention to do so. In a Section 44 filing the Office will not presume Trademark Act Section 1(b) as an additional basis for filing by the mere statement of a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. If the applicant wishes to claim an additional basis under Section 1(b) of the Act it should indicate its intention with a separate statement claiming a basis under Section 1(b).

3. Filing Papers Before Notification of Serial Number

The Office recommends that applicants wait until they have received the filing fee receipt before filing any papers related to a trademark application. The filing fee receipt includes the assigned application serial number. The applicant should refer to the serial number in filing any paper to ensure that the paper is associated with the correct application file. For example, if applicant has filed a photocopy of its application in order to receive a filing date and follows up the photocopy with an original document, the applicant should wait for the filing fee receipt in order to have a serial number with which to reference the second document. Without the reference number, the papers may be returned to the applicant or the papers may be identified as a new filing, and accorded a new serial number.

In the same manner, it is preferable that amendments to allege use under Trademark Act Section 1(c) should not be filed until a filing fee receipt has issued and applicant can reference the serial number of the appropriate application when it submits its amendment to allege use.

The filing of an amendment to allege use has important ramifications in the publication of the mark and production of the Official Gazette. Therefore it is especially important that the Office be able to identify and process those papers promptly.

If the applicant files an amendment to allege use along with other amendments, it would be helpful if the applicant provides some indication that the filing is both an amendment to allege use and other amendments.

4. Section 8 Affidavit Requirements

Trademark Act Section 8, as amended, and revised Trademark Rule 2.162 requires, among other things, that registrants set forth the "goods or services recited in the registration on or in connection with which the mark is in use in commerce." The goods and services must also be set forth in any affidavit asserting excusable nonuse. Formerly, applicants were not required to set forth the specific goods and services. Applicant may meet the requirement to specify the goods or services either by listing the goods or services or by incorporating the goods and services by reference, e.g., "The registered mark is in use in commerce with all the goods and services listed in the registration." The list of goods and services or applicant's incorporation of the goods and services by reference should appear somewhere in the body of the affidavit.

Applicants should also take note of the revised requirement for a specimen or facsimile for each class of goods or services in the registration. The specimen or facsimile for each class must be filed prior to the end of the sixth year. Failure to meet these revised requirements may result in cancellation of all or part of a registration.

5. Filing of Miscellaneous Papers

Every paper filed with the Office which relates to an application or registration should include the serial number of the application or the registration number of the registration. The best practice would be to have the application number or registration number appear on every single sheet of paper which an applicant or registrant files with the Office, including any substitute specimens which applicant may file. Those papers filed with the Office which do not have the application serial number or the registration number reference on them must be identified by Office personnel using alternative means such as looking up the mark or owner in the automated search system. However, if papers become detached, the information which the Office needs to join a particular piece of correspondence to the correct file may not be available.

6. Time for Filing Corrections to Amendments to Allege Use

Applicants should note that Rule 2.76(a) provides that filing an amendment to allege use of a mark in commerce under section 1(c) is only permitted between the time of filing the application and the time the examiner approves the mark for publication. If applicant's amendment to allege use fails to meet the minumum requirements for an amendment to allege use as set out in Rule 2.76(e)(3), applicant must correct those defects prior to approval of the mark for publication or the application will be published without any consideration of the amendment to allege use. If the file is approved for publication before applicant can correct its amendment to allege use, applicant will be required to wait until a notice of allowance issues before it can file its affidavit of use. In these circumstances the fee applicant submitted for its original amendment to allege use will not be refunded or applied to the later filed statement of use.

TRADEMARK POST REGISTRATION

(207) Trademark Rule 2.165 Requirement Where A Section 8 Affidavit Or Declaration Is Held Insufficient

Several recent Petitions to the Commissioner have indicated a failure on the part of registrants and their attorneys to follow the requirements of Trademark Rule 2.165. Therefore, reviewing certain basic elements of this rule is considered timely so as to alert registrants and attorneys to technical errors which might lead to the cancellation of a valuable trademark registration.

Part (a) of Rule 2.165 indicates that the examiner will notify the registrant when an affidavit or declaration of use under Section 8 of the Statute is insufficient and the reasons therefor. When the registrant wishes the examiner to reconsider the affidavit or declaration, or when the registrant has taken additional steps to rectify the deficiencies and desires to have the examiner reconsider the affidavit or declaration in light of those steps, the request for reconsideration must be submitted within 6 months of the date of mailing of the notice of insufficiency.

Note, however, that a supplemental or substitute affidavit or declaration required by Section 8 cannot be considered unless it is received before the expiration of the six year anniversary of the registration. Consequently, registrants should file their affidavits as early as possible during the sixth year following registration.

There are situations where correcting the deficiency in the affidavit or declaration requires recording an assignment with the Assignment Division of this Office. If the recording cannot be completed within 6 months, the registrant must at least respond to the examiner's notice of insufficiency within that period. The response must indicate the steps being taken to correct the deficiency. The examiner can then allow the registrant additional time or suspend action depending on the circumstances. Registrants must always observe the "six month response" period whenever responding to the examiner from an adverse action.

Part (b) of Rule 2.165 permits a registrant to request the Commissioner to review the action of the examiner when he is dissatisfied with that action. Review by the Commissioner should be sought only where it is believed that the examiner has erred in his action. In other words, the Commissioner's role is to review the correctness of the examiner's action and not to serve as an alter ego of the examiner before whom the registrant may seek to correct deficiencies.

When review by the Commissioner has been sought, the decision on that request constitutes the final action of the Patent and Trademark Office. If no review by the Commissioner is sought and if no request for reconsideration of an examiner's action is timely filed, the Commissioner will notify the registrant of the deficiency in the affidavit or declaration after the sixth year has expired. Such notice is never mailed prior to the expiration of the sixth year following registration nor until a reasonable time has elapsed following a six month period from the last action mailed by this Office. This notice constitutes the final action of the Patent and Trademark Office in those cases where the Commissioner's review has not been sought. Once this notice has been mailed, it is too late (under the Rules of Practice) to request the Commissioner to review the action of the examiner. Review would only be proper if an affiant could show circumstances sufficient to suspend the finality element of Rule 2.165(b) pursuant to Rule 2.148.

Registrants will be held to strict compliance with Rule 2.165 as it has been briefed above. Therefore, parties are urged to respond fully as soon as possible after an action is received from the examiner.

Dec. 12, 1977. BERNARD A. MEANY,
Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks.

(208) Late-Filed Renewal Fees

Sections 9 and 31 of the Lanham Act (15 U.S.C. §§ 1095 and 1113) require that an additional five dollar ($5.00) fee be submitted by a registrant who files a renewal application during the three-month period following expiration of its registration. The language of the statute requires that this additional fee be submitted within the three-month grace period. A number of registrants who have failed to submit the additional fee within the prescribed period have petitioned the Commissioner to allow their renewal applications. The Commissioner has granted petitions of this kind where the registrant or its attorney maintained a Patent and Trademark Office deposit account which contained, on the date the renewal application was filed, sufficient funds to cover the additional fee. Specifically, the Commissioner has exercised discretion under Trademark Rules 2.146(a)(3) and 2.147 to deem the authorizations to charge the deposit accounts to have taken place at the time the registrants filed their renewal applications, even though the authorizations were not confirmed until a later date. This Office policy was established by the Commissioner's decision in In re Ralston Purina Co., 191 USPQ 154 (Comr. Pats. 1976).

The policy established by the Ralston Purina decision is being changed. Henceforth, the Commissioner will no longer exercise discretion to charge deposit accounts nunc pro tunc for trademark renewal application fees. To allow an authorization to charge a deposit account to relate back to a date on which no actual authorization existed is, in effect, to allow late payment. It is inequitable to permit those registrants who have deposit accounts (or those whose attorneys have such accounts) to make late payment of renewal fees, while those without deposit accounts may not.

Petitions relying on Ralston Purina will, after the date of this notice, be denied, unless the events that gave rise to those petitions occurred before publication of this notice.

Feb. 20, 1981. MARGARET M. LAURENCE,
Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks.

[1004 O.G. 29]

(209) Renewal Applications and Section 8 Affidavits

There has been a noticeable increase in the number of petitions requesting provisional acceptance of defectively executed Section 8 Affidavits and Renewal Applications under 35 U.S.C. § 26, the most common problem being a lack of notarization or a Rule 2.20 declaration. Often, such petitions are necessitated by the failure of registration owners to file the documents early enough to leave time in which to correct should they prove defective.

Section 8 Affidavits may be filed beginning with the fifth anniversary of the registration. The period for filing expires on the sixth anniversary of the registration. The period for filing Renewal Applications begins six months before the twentieth anniversary of the registration and extends three months beyond the expiration of the twenty year term. While the Post Registration Division may allow up to six months to respond to a notice of defect, it may not allow corrective action beyond the period for filing established by the Trademark Act. It is therefore in the registrant's best interest to file such documents as close to the opening date as possible to allow time for correction, if necessary. Provisional acceptance under 35 U.S.C. § 26 has been, and will continue to be, given narrow application. Registrants should not rely on 35 U.S.C. § 26 as a means of acquiring an extension of time.

We have also become aware of many delays caused by defects in the chain of title. Registrants are encouraged to keep Patent and Trademark Office assignment records current with regard to ownership of registrations.

The filing of Post Registration documents at the earliest date and maintenance of assignment records will help to avoid the cancellation or expiration of registrations of trademarks currently in use, and will result in a savings of time and expense for both the registrant and the Patent and Trademark Office.

(211) Expedited Service for Certified Copies of Trademark Registrations

On Oct. 4, 1986, expedited service for obtaining certified copies of trademark registrations will be available to the public. The cost of obtaining a certified copy showing title and/or status will be $10.00 plus $25.00 for the expedited service for a total of $35.00 per copy; a certified copy of the registered mark, not showing title or status, will be $5.00 plus $25.00 for expedited service for a total of $30.00. Requests received in the Post-Registration Section of the Trademark Services Division, Crystal Plz. 2-4C24, before 12:00 noon on U.S. Patent and Trademark Office scheduled work days will be filled within three work days.

Requests for expedited service which are hand carried to the Post-Registration Section located in Crystal Plz. 2-4C24 will be available for pickup at the same location after 12:00 noon three work days later. Requests for expedited service which are mailed to the Patent and Trademark Office will be processed and mailed back to the requester three work days after they are received in the Post-Registration Section from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office mail room. All requests for expedited service will be machine stamped when received in the Post-Registration Section and machine stamped upon completion by the Post-Registration Section.

Anyone requesting expedited service will be limited to five registration numbers per day. Limits on the number of registrations being certified are needed in order to ensure that service is not disrupted for routine requests for certified copies. The guarantee of service in three work days is based on the ability of the Post-Registration Section to process up to 1,000 expedited copies out of an average of 16,000 copies processed each year.

Inquiries about the service should be addressed to:

(212) Helpful Hints

- Trademark Post Registration - Failure to Specify Type of Commerce in Section 8 Affidavits or Declarations — Section 8(a) of the Trademark Act requires that before the end of the sixth year following registration, an affidavit must be filed showing that the "mark is in use in commerce." [15 U.S.C. 1058a].

  The Trademark Rules require that all Section 8(a) affidavits or declarations "state that the registered mark is in use in commerce and specify the nature of such commerce." [37 C.F.R. Section 2.162(e)].

  The affidavit or declaration must be filed between the fifth and sixth year following the date of registration and it must contain a statement that the "mark is in use in commerce," with evidence thereof. There may be no extensions of time beyond the sixth year for submission of this statement and evidence of use of the mark in commerce. However, if the timely-filed affidavit or declaration does not set forth the type of commerce, the registrant will be given six months to submit that information even though the sixth year may have expired. The rules do not provide for any further extensions of time beyond the six months. (Carlisle Walters, 703-557-3061)

- Backlogs in Trademark Renewals and Section 8 Affidavits and Declarations — Registrants are advised that a backlog currently exists in the processing of Trademark Renewals and Section 8 affidavits and declarations. While the Patent and Trademark Office conducts a preliminary review of critical elements in order to notify registrants of statutory deficiencies prior to the expiration of the statutory period for the submission of required documents, the ultimate responsibility for complying with the requirements of the statute and the rules rests with the registrant. (213) Section 8 Requirements For Trademark Registrations

Any registrant who files in the Patent and Trademark Office, on or after November 16, 1989, an affidavit or declaration under Section 8 of the Trademark Act will be required to comply with the requirements of the Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988 [Title 1 of Pub. L. 100-667, 102 Stat. 3935 (15 U. S. C. 1051)], which takes effect on November 16, 1989. The Trademark Law Revision Act amends 15 U. S. C. 1058(a) by adding the requirement that a registrant submit an affidavit "setting forth those goods or services recited in the registration on or in connection with which the mark is in use in commerce and attaching to the affidavit a specimen or facsimile showing current use of the mark....."

For Section 8 affidavits or declarations filed on or after November 16, 1989, the Patent and Trademark Office will require registrants to specify the goods and services to which the Section 8 affidavit or declaration pertains. The registrant may comply with the requirement for specification of its goods and services by listing each of the goods and services to which the Section 8 affidavit or declaration pertains or by making an all-encompassing reference to the goods and services recited in the registration (e. g., "The mark is in use in connection with all the goods and services recited in the registration." or "The mark is in use in connection with all the goods and services recited in the registration, with the exception of ...". The Patent and Trademark Office prefers that the registrant use an all-encompassing reference to its goods and services as the method of specification, especiallly where the mark is registered for numerous goods and services.

If the registrant fails to file, before the end of the sixth year following registration, a Section 8 affidavit or declaration that sets forth goods and services in connection with which the mark is in use, the registration will be cancelled. Similarly, those goods or services recited in the registration but not specified in a Section 8 affidavit or declaration filed before the end of the sixth year following registration will be deleted from the registration. After the end of the sixth year following registration, the Patent and Trademark Office will not accept a substitute Section 8 affidavit or declaration filed to correct registrant's failure to specify, or to specify completely, the goods and services on or in connection with which the mark is in use.

A Section 8 affidavit or declaration filed on or after November 16, 1989 must include a specimen or facsimile showing current use of the registered mark. The registrant will be required to file one specimen or facsimile for each class of goods or services to which the registration pertains. For a single-class registration covering multiple goods or services, only one specimen or facsimile showing current use of the mark on one of the goods or services in that class will be required. Similarly, for a mulitiple-class registration, the registrant will be required to file, for each class of goods or services covered by the multiple-class registration, one specimen or facsimile showing current use of the mark on one of the goods or services in that class.

If the registrant fails to file, before the end of the sixth year following registration, an affidavit or declaration that includes a proper specimen or facsimile for each class of goods or services to which the registration pertains, the registration will be cancelled as to that class of goods or services. After the end of the sixth year following registration, the Patent and Trademark Office will not accept a substitute Section 8 affidavit or declaration filed to correct the omission of a proper specimen or facsimile.

(214) Renewal of Trademark Registrations (Revised)

This supersedes the notice that appeared in the Official Gazette on May 2, 1989; (1102 TMOG 5):

The Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988 [Title 1 of Pub. L. 100-667, 102 Stat. 3935 (15 U.S.C. 1051)], which takes effect on November 16, 1989, amends 15 U.S.C. 1059(a) to reduce the renewal term of a registration from twenty years to ten years from the end of the expiring period of the registration.

Any registration whose expiration date is prior to November 16, 1989, shall be renewed, upon proper application, from the end of the expiring period for:

(a) twenty years if the renewal is granted prior to November 16, 1989, or
(b) ten years if the renewal is granted on or after November 16, 1989, regardless of the renewal application filing date.

Any registration whose expiration date is on or after November 16, 1989, shall be renewed, upon proper application, for ten years from the end of the expiring period, regardless of the renewal application filing date.

The present practice of notification of renewal will continue. However, the updated renewal certificate issued by the PTO will be modified to specifically indicate the length of the renewal period. The notice of renewal appearing in the Trademark Official Gazette will be modified to indicate the date of the acceptance of renewal.

(215) Powers of Attorney in Registered Trademark Files

On and after Feb. 1, 1967, communications advising of changes in the powers of attorney for registered trademarks will be placed in the registration files, but will not be acknowledged by the Patent Office. (216) Initial Processing of Application

On Feb. 1, 1972, the operations of the Trademark Application Section of the Patent Office will be reorganized. The purpose of the reorganization is to provide the public and applicants with more current information concerning newly filed applications.

The prompt initial processing of trademark applications is necessary in order to fulfill one of the main Patent Office functions, that of producing a record, accessible to the public, of new trademark activity to facilitate the clearance of new marks for use, determine the registrability of proposed marks, and avoid conflicts with the rights of others. In order to maintain a record of marks applied for which reflects the most current information available to the Office concerning them, the early processing of drawings in order to have them placed in the search room is considered as a first priority. The processing of these drawings includes the assignment of serial numbers, initial classification, duplication of the drawing and the forwarding of copies of the drawing to the search room. Other functions which are necessary in the processing of applications, such as the processing and mailing of filing receipts, are secondary to the processing of drawings.

In past years, there have been delays in processing applications and forwarding application drawings to the search room. These delays have varied from several weeks to several months. In view of the importance, both to applicants and the public, of recording essential information concerning newly filed applications as quickly as possible, a reorganization of the workflow in the Application Section is being effected.

There is no change in the processing of applications through the mail room and finance branch to the Application Section. However, under the new plan, upon receipt in the Trademark Application Section, all applications will be stamped with a serial number, and the drawing of the mark will be reproduced immediately and placed in the search file. This processing will occur as soon as the application files reach the Application Section. Such procedures as determining whether or not an application will receive a filing date, preparation of the file jackets, and mailing of the filing receipt will take place at a later time.

Applicants who wish to be notified promptly of the date their papers were received in the office and their serial number, may send two self-addressed postcards with their application papers. The mail room will stamp both postcards with the date of receipt and return one to the applicant; the second postcard will be stamped with the serial number and forwarded to the applicant from the Application Section. The postcards should contain the applicant's name and the trademark which is the subject of the application. When more than one set of application papers are forwarded under one cover, posteards should be attached to each set of papers for which a receipt is desired.

Under the new system of processing application papers, your particular attention is directed to the following changes as compared to the present procedure.

1. Application drawings will be placed in the public search file prior to the mailing of the filing receipt.

2. By using the postcard system described above, applicants will be notified sooner of the date of receipt of their papers and the serial number of their application. Applicants are encouraged to use the postcard system.

3. Additional papers sent in by the applicant or attorney should be identified by serial number, thereby enabling the office to process these papers quickly.

4. When an application is accompanied by a petition to the Commissioner under § 2.146, the petition will not be considered until processing by the Application Section is complete.

Effective date. The procedure outlined in this notice will become effective Feb. 1, 1972.

(218) Requests for Information on Status of Trademark Registrations

The purpose of this notice is to explain the circumstances in which the Trademark Examining Operation can respond to written and telephone requests for information about the status of trademark registrations. Only limited information can be provided by telephone.

I. Orders for "Status" Copies

The most reliable means of obtaining status information concerning a registration is a written order for a "status" copy of the registration. Status copies show whether affidavits have been filed under Sections 8 and 15, whether the registration has been renewed or cancelled, and whether certain other actions have been taken with respect to the registration. The charge for copies of registrations showing status and/or title, if not certified, is $6.50, effective Oct. 1, 1982. The charge for a certified copy showing status and/or title is $10.00 effective the same date.

II. Telephone Information Available from the Search Library

If the caller has the registration number, he or she may leave a request for status information on an automatic answering machine in the Trademark Search Library (Search Room) at 703-557-3282. The Search Library staff will call back with the information requested within one working day. Callers are asked to limit their requests to two registration numbers per day.

The Search Library staff is not permitted to make "searches" to determine if particular marks are in the Office's search files. Neither is the staff able to supply information as to the ownership or assignment of registrations, or to read over the telephone lengthy passages of a registration, such as the identification of goods or services.

III. Telephone Information on Receipt of Section 8 and 15 Affidavits and Renewal Applications

The Post Registration Section can be reached by calling 703-557-2923. The staff of this section can advise only on whether an affidavit or a renewal application has or has not been received. Inquiries as to whether affidavits and renewals have been accepted should be directed to the Search Library.

(219) Availability of Trademark Status Line

Beginning on Feb. 20, 1990, the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office provided access, via push button telephone, to current status and status date information for all federal trademark application and registration records maintained in the automated Trademark Reporting and Monitoring (TRAM) System. The Trademark Status Line will be available on (703)557-8747 from 6:30 a.m. until midnight, Eastern Time, Monday through Friday.

The Trademark Status Line may be used from any push button telephone by entering a seven-digit registration number and the "#" symbol or an eight-digit serial number and the "#" symbol after the welcoming message and the tone. All calls will be answered in the order received. Callers may request information for up to five serial number or registration number records per call.

When requesting information for registration numbers under one million, add sufficient leading zeros to the registration number so that a total of seven digits are entered. For example, to get status information for Reg. No. 88,725 enter 0088725#.

When requesting information for applications, enter an eight-digit serial number that consists of the two-digit series code followed by the six-digit serial number PTO. The series code is determined by the filing date of the application. All applications filed before Mar. 31, 1905 are series code 70. Applications filed between Apr. 1, 1905 and Dec. 31, 1955 are series code 71. Applications filed between Jan. 1, 1956 and Aug. 31, 1973 are series code 72. Applications filed between Sept. 1, 1973 and Nov. 15, 1989 are series code 73. All applications filed on or after November 16, 1989 are series code 74.

When requesting information for serial numbers under 100,000 in any series code, add sufficient leading zeros to the serial number so that a total of six digits are entered after the series code. For example, to get status information for serial number 92,132 in series code 73, enter 73092132#.

The TRAM System contains records for all active federal trademark registration and pending applications. The TRAM System also contains records for all federal trademark registrations and applications which became inactive after Mar. 31, 1982. Some earlier inactive records are also available.

The Trademark Status Line will provide current status information for all federal trademark application and registration records included in the TRAM System. The date that the record entered the current status is provided also. If additional information regarding the status of a trademark application or registration is required, call the Trademark Services division at (703)557-5249 and request a status check.

(220) Transmittals for Use of Deposit Accounts

When statutory fees are to be charged to a deposit account, the processing of the application can be facilitated by submitting the applicant's transmittal letter or other correspondence specifying the account to be charged in triplicate. Submission of these documents in triplicate will eliminate the need for the Mail Room to photocopy the document and thereby reduce the processing time of incoming mail.

(221) Availability of Deposit Account Status Line

Beginning on February 20, 1990, the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office will provide access, via push button telephone, to the current account balance information, and last deposit for the current month, if any. The Deposit Account status line will be available on (703)557-8735 or (703)557-8746 from 6:30 A.M. until midnight, Eastern time, Monday thru Friday.

The Deposit Account status line may be used from any push button telephone by entering your six digit account number and the pound sign after being told to do so by the greeting message that you receive whenever you dial in. All six digits and the pound sign must be entered.

Questions that may arise pertaining to the information received thru use of the status line must be referred to the Deposits Account Division at (703)557-3227 during the hours 8 A.M. until 5 P.M. Eastern time, Monday thru Friday, except for Federal holidays.

(222) Helpful Hints From The PTO

- Data To Be Included on Patent and Trademark Papers Filed In The PTO In Response To Office Actions—Perhaps the greatest cause of delay and wasted time in the support sections of the PTO is in trying to match papers bearing incorrect or incomplete data with applications. Because some Trademark Papers are not clearly identified as pertaining to Trademark applications, they are frequently misrouted to the Patent Examining Groups.

On all papers related to Patent applications, type the word "PATENT" in the upper right-hand corner of the document. Also, please include the correct serial number, filing date, inventor's name, and title of the invention. Additionally, include the examiner's name, and group art unit number or other identifying data found on the most recent letter from the PTO. (37 CFR 1.1(a)).

However, please note that an organizational restructuring of the Patent Examining Corps has resulted in many applications being reassigned to new Groups and Art Units. Your attention is directed to the NOTICE OF CHANGES IN THE PATENT EXAMINING CORPS that appeared in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE on June 26, 1984, (1043 OG 23), which identifies the Group Art Unit of each examiner (1043 OG 40 through 1043 OG 67). Letters mailed from the Groups after Apr. 15, 1984, should reflect the current identifying data.

For all papers related to Trademark {ro applications, type the word "TRADEMARK" in the upper right-hand corner of the document. Also, please set forth the applicatant's name, correct serial number (including the series number which currently is "73"), filing date, law office, examining attorney and mark.

Documents for which no fee is required at the time of filing (e.g., amendments to applications and requests for extensions of time to file an opposition) continue to be addressed:

Box 5
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Washington, D.C. 20231

Mail directed to the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board should have mark "Attention: TTAB" on the envelope in additon to "Box 5."

- Mailing Responses To The PTO—In general, it would eliminate or greatly reduce processing steps by the PTO support staff, and will avoid interruption of the examiner's work, if a few simple, general rules were followed in regard to mailing of the responses to the PTO:

1. After a Patent or Trademark application is filed, please avoid filing additional papers (other than those requesting a filing receipt or those required by the Office) until the filing receipt or return post card identifying the Serial Number and Patent Examining Group Art Unit or Trademark Law Office has been received.
2. In Patent applications, requests for extensions of time, changes of address, proposed drawing corrections, and petitions are sometimes incorporated in the remarks section or at the beginning of papers entitled "Amendment" or "Response." In Trademark applications, change of address and powers of attorney are sometimes incorporated in the remarks section or at the beginning of papers entitled "Amendment" or "Response". Please present such items in separate papers, appropriately titled, since they are all handled by different personnel (37 CFR 1.4(c)). However, please include a statement in the amendment/response describing the paper being filed.
3. Where a supplemental or preliminary amendment is found necessary in Patent or Trademark applications, please telephone the examiner and request that the examiner delay action for a certain time in order to avoid crossing in the mails of the amendment and the Office action.
4. File Patent and Trademark documents which have no particular time or sequence requirement, with materials submitted in response to the statutory or regulatory requirements. Examples are certified copies of foreign documents to support priority and formal drawings in Patent applications or changes in Power of Attorney or Mailing Address following first action.
5. If a disclosure statement is to be filed before an Office action, file it when the application is filed. Some Group Art Units have greatly reduced the pendency to first action. Hence, many examiners are taking up new applications before an information statement is matched with the application.

(223) Published Trademark Applications

Papers which are filed in the Patent and Trademark Office in connection with published trademark application files should be captioned to the attention of the Trademark Quality Review Clerk and addressed as follows:

Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Attention Box 5, Trademark Quality Review Clerk
Washington, D.C. 20231

This mailing should be used only for papers filed after publication but before issuance of the registration. This could include corrections to information which appears to have been inadvertently or incorrectly published in the Trademark Official Gazette, as well as changes of attorney or address papers or notification of filing an assignment. Corrections to information published in the TMOG must be received in the Office before the registration is issued.

Use of this mailing address for corrections will help ensure that such papers are properly routed within the Office. Telephone inquiries concerning corrections or other matters in relation to published trademark applications should be directed to (703) 557-4249.

(224) Notices of Abandonment

The Trademark Operation has begun notifying trademark applicants when their pending applications have been abandoned by the Office. Under this new procedure, a computer-generated post card bearing the notice, serial number, applicant name and abandonment date will be sent to the correspondence address designated by the applicant. The post cards will be mailed within 2 to 4 weeks after the application is declared abandoned.

[1063 TMOG 4]

(225) Change of Correspondence Address in Trademark Applications

Applicants are reminded that when an application is filed and a correspondence address is entered in the Official record, correspondence will continue to be sent to such address until the applicant or party, or the attorney-at-law or other authorized representative of the applicant or party, indicates in writing that correspondence is to be sent to another address. 37 CFR Section 2.18. The filing of a response to an Office action on letterhead stationery that indicates a different address from the correspondence address of record is insufficient notice that correspondence is to be sent to another address. Specific language is needed which can reasonably be interpreted to be a request to change the address. See TMEP Section 603.

If a power of attorney has been filed in an application, a subsequently filed power of attorney will be regarded as a written request to change the correspondence address, even if there is no specific language changing the address or revoking the prior power of attorney. See TMEP Section 603.

(226) Use of Restricted Deposit Account for Electronic Ordering of Patent and Trademark Copies

Effective July 1, 1986, the restricted deposit account will be made available to those members of the public who wish to use it for electronic ordering of patent and trademark copies. The restricted deposit account requires maintenance of a minimum balance of $300.00 at the end of each month, as compared to the unrestricted account which requires a minimum balance of $1,000.00

In FY 1986, the Office established the restricted deposit account for use in charging subscriptions for copies of newly issued patents by subject matter classification. Establishment of a PTO deposit account is a prerequisite for subscription service.

Recently, the Office established an electronic ordering service (EOS), a method of ordering copies of patents and trademarks through the use of a computer terminal and modem. EOS is available only to PTO deposit account holders.

Many people who are interested in using EOS to order copies of patents and trademarks and who do not have PTO deposit accounts find the $1,000.00 balance required for the unrestricted account prohibitive. Therefore, the use of restricted account is being expanded to incorporate EOS ordering. Subscriptions and EOS ordering are the only two services for which restricted accounts may be used. If you have any questions on subscriptions or EOS, please call Mary Brown on (703) 557-3236. If you have questions on deposit accounts, please call Delores Riley on (703) 557-3227.

(227) Filing of a Notice of Appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit in the Patent And Trademark Office

This notice supersedes a notice entitled Filing of a Notice of Appeal to the Federal Circuit and Service of Court Papers on the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks published at 1079 Off. Gaz. Office 72 (June 30, 1987).

A notice of appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit may be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office in any one of the following ways:

A. By first-class mail addressed as follows, in which case the notice of appeal must actually reach the Patent and Trademark Office by the due date:
Box 8
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Washington, D.C. 20231
Attention: Office of the Solicitor

B. By "Express Mail" (U.S. Postal Service only) under 37 CFR § 1.10 addressed as follows, in which case the notice of appeal is deemed filed on the date of the Express Mail certificate:
Box 8
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Washington, D.C. 20231
Attention: Office of the Solicitor

C. By hand (on or before the due date) to the Office of the Solicitor. The Office of the Solicitor is located at:
Crystal Park II
Suite 918
2121 Crystal Drive
Arlington, Va.

D. By facsimile transmission to the Office of the Solicitor. The telephone number for accessing the Office of the Solicitor facsimile machine is (703) 557-9373. A notice of appeal will be deemed timely filed on the date the facsimile transmission is received by the Office of the Solicitor, provided an original notice of appeal is subsequently received in either of the following ways:

(1) An original, signed copy of the notice of appeal is actually received in the Office of the Solicitor within five calendar days of the facsimile transmission; or,

(2) An original, signed copy of the notice of appeal is mailed by "Express Mail" (U.S. Postal Service only) under 37 CFR § 1.10 on the day of the facsimile transmission.

The facsimile machine for receiving a notice of appeal is located in the Office of the Solicitor and is staffed during the business hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, excluding holidays. Due to possible equipment failure or maintenance requirements, precautions must be taken when relying on the availability of this service near the end of the time for filing a notice of appeal.

(228) Service of Court Papers on the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks

Court papers other than a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit may be served on the Commissioner in either of the following ways:

A. By hand between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. at the Office of the Solicitor, located in Crystal Park II, Suite 918, 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va.

B. By mail in an envelope addressed as follows:
Office of the Solicitor
P.O. Box 15667
Arlington, Va. 22215

While the above mail service address may be supplemetned to include the name of the particular attorney assigned to the court case, it must not be supplemented to refer to either the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks or the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (PTO).

Court papers mailed to an address other than the above mail service address and court papers delivered by hand are deemed to have been served on the Commissioner when actually received in the Office of the Solicitor.

Papers which are not court papers and are intended to be filed in the PTO in connection with an application or other proceeding pending in the Office shall not be mailed to the Solicitor's mail service address. Any such papers which are mailed to the Solicitor's mail service address will not be considered to have been filed in the PTO. Instead, all such papers will be returned. No exceptions will be made to this policy.

(229) APPEALS TO THE FEDERAL CIRCUIT FROM PTO

This notice was originally prepared by the Solicitor and Associate Solicitor Richard E. Schafer for presentation at the Eighth Annual Judicial Conference of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. The notice discusses litigation philosophy of the Office of the Solicitor of the Patent and Trademark Office and other matters which may be helpful to appellants and others seeking judicial review of PTO decisions in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

October 5, 1990 FRED E. McKELVEY
Solicitor

I. Introduction

This notice discusses the philosophy of the Office of the Solicitor when representing the Commissioner before the Federal Circuit and other courts. The notice is also designed to assist appellants and others seeking judicial review of Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) decisions in the Federal Circuit. Much of what is said in the notice is also applicable to those instances where judicial review is sought of PTO decisions in a district court.

II. Solicitor's litigation philosophy

The Office of the Solicitor and its attorneys start with the proposition that justice is done when the right result is reached. The Solicitor is not an advocate who needs to win to be satisfied. Rather, the public interest is served when:

(1) a patent issues on a patentable invention;
(2) a patent is refused on an unpatentable invention;
(3) a trademark is registered if entitled to registration under Title 15;
(4) a trademark is refused registration if not entitled to registration under Title 15; or
(5) PTO rules are properly applied within PTO and by reviewing courts.

Our litigation philosophy is expressed in Berger v. United States, 295 U.S. 78, 88 (1935):

> The . . . [Government attorney] is the representative not of an ordinary party to a controversy, but of a sovereignty whose obligation to govern impartially is as compelling as its obligation to govern at all; and whose interest . . . is not that it shall win a case, but that justice shall be done. As such, he is in a peculiar and very definite sense the servant of the law, the twofold aim of which is that guilt shall not escape or innocence suffer.

The Office of the Solicitor does more than simply "defend" an appeal. Rather, it will determine whether:

(a) appeals are ripe for judicial consideration;
(b) there are steps a party might take in PTO to obviate the appeal, e.g., amendments which might be made to claims to conform an argument to the subject matter being claimed —we often find that arguments in a brief are based on limitations which do not appear in the claims;
(c) there is material not in the record which might provide a full answer to an argument —particularly a new one — made in a brief; and/or
(d) the deciding official or board should be approached to see if it wishes to reevaluate its decision in view of a change in the law, a credible argument that the decision may not be correct, or a matter which may have been overlooked.

Most of the time, it takes more effort to implement this philosophy than it would take simply to brief and argue a matter.

Generally, in a Federal Circuit matter, the Office of the Solicitor — apart from designating an appendix —does not "get deeply into" a case until appellant's brief is filed. Exceptions occur, i.e., inter partes patent and trademark cases where the board opinion is reviewed to see if an amicus brief might be appropriate to assist the Federal Circuit with PTO practice.[1] This is not to say that an appellant should not feel free to discuss an appeal with an attorney in the Solicitor's Office. But, ordinarily in an ex parte case, we do not spend time until we see appellant's brief. The reason is that a large number of appeals are simply dismissed without the need for us to do much, if any, work.

Table 1, below, shows the disposition of appeals from October 1985 through April 1990. About 23%, i.e., 146, of the cases were dismissed with little, if any, work having been done by the Office of the Solicitor on the appeal. If we conducted a review of all appeals when filed, our Federal Circuit "workload" would increase about 23%. We do not have the resources to effectively carry on 23% more work.

We find a lot of cases are not ripe or otherwise ready for judicial review. When we determine that more work needs to be done before the Federal Circuit should consider a case, we generally move to remand. Fed. Cir. R. 27(c) provides that a remand generally should be requested prior to briefing. However, since we generally cannot efficiently take up cases until appellant's brief is filed, we now file motions to remand along with our brief. A merits panel is then in a position to evaluate whether it should hear the case on the merits or order a remand.

There are a variety of reasons why we seek remands.

A.

An appellant may argue that a certain feature of a claim is not shown in the prior art. Such an argument may prompt us to determine whether the feature is known. If we find the feature, we will probably ask for a remand for the purpose of making an additional rejection.[4] In like manner, based on our respective backgrounds or other cases handled by the Office of the Solicitor, we may know of prior art which strengthens a rejection.[5]

B.

Similarly, an appellant may argue that a certain fact is true. Upon looking into the matter, we have found literature from the appellant's assignee or other evidence which, in our opinion, demonstrates that the argument may not be factually correct.[6] Since the literature or other evidence is not part of the record, we have asked for a remand so that the case may be fully developed before a merits panel is required to consider the case. We have also filed a brief on the merits asking the Federal Circuit to take judicial notice of a fact while concurrently filing a contingent motion to remand in the event the merits panel believes that judicial notice is not appropriate.[7]

C.

We have had cases where the sole issue is whether a Rule 131, 37 CFR § 1.131, affidavit is sufficient to antedate a reference. When the sufficiency of a Rule 131 affidavit is in issue, we search for a foreign or other equivalent statutory bar. When an equivalent statutory bar is found, we move to remand suggesting that the issue on appeal may well be moot.[8]

D.

In re Steele, 305 F.2d 859, 134 USPQ 292 (CCPA 1962), suggests that indefiniteness should be taken care of prior to considering obviousness. There have been cases in which the claims are so indefinite that judicial review of an obviousness issue simply would not make sense. Remands, over appellant's objection, have been ordered.[9]

E.

There have been occasions where the Board, TTAB, or the Commissioner decides to change or reconsider a decision. A change of decision can occur, inter alia, due to:

1. new "law" as announced in a court or administrative decision,[10] or
2. a deciding official or tribunal determines that:
   (a) a decision may not be correct,
   (b) a matter was overlooked,[11] or
   (c) a decision otherwise needs to be reconsidered.[12]

F.

There have been cases where, although not argued by the appellant, it did not make sense to apply existing law in a particular context. We have moved to remand. In one instance, the Board reconsidered its position, established new law, and granted relief.[13]

G.

In its opinion, the Board — without entering a new ground of rejection under Rule 196(b), 37 CFR § 1.196 — may suggest that if there is to be further prosecution, an examiner may wish to look into several possible rejections. Generally in such a case the appellant will abandon or refile under 35 U.S.C. § 120. On occasion, however, an appellant will seek judicial review. Ordinarily, we seek remands in such a case in order to avoid piecemeal judicial review.[14]

H.

We had one case in which an appellant "dropped" an appeal as to all but a dependent claim —only the independent claim had been discussed in appellant's brief to the Board and the Board discussed only the independent claim. We sought a remand — after the appellant's brief had been filed —so that PTO could articulate a rationale as to the sole claim left in appeal.[15] Alternatively, we could have argued the appeal on the basis of the independent claim. However, in the context of the particular case, that alternative did not make sense.

I.

We had a case where the application on appeal was deemed to be abandoned. We moved to remand to clarify the status of the application.[16] We also had a trademark appeal in which registration in the United States could not occur until registration took place abroad.[17] Obviously, there was no reason to proceed in the Federal Circuit until registration occurred in the foreign country. When an appeal is taken in a trademark case, we always check to be sure that the registration relied upon is "alive." Appellant also should be sure that the registration has not expired. In one trademark appeal, the likelihood of confusion issue became moot on appeal when we discovered that the registration cited against the appellant expired without being renewed.

Most attorneys representing appellants will agree to a remand when approached by an attorney in the Office of the Solicitor — regardless of the time a suggestion to remand is made. A remand saves appellant, the Federal Circuit and our office time and money and in the long run contributes to the effective administration of justice within PTO and the Federal Circuit. In some cases, our motions to remand have been opposed. In one published opinion, an opposed motion was granted notwithstanding appellant has filed its principal brief;[18] in another opinion, relief was denied.[19] It appears the Federal Circuit has adopted, as a general rule, the latter opinion. See Fed. Cir. R. 27(c).

We will not attempt to reconcile Fed. Cir. R. 27(c) with what we regard to be the better policy expressed in In re Gould. We will point out, however, that if an appeal proceeds in the face of a motion to remand,

(a) an appellant will have to spend money to have its attorney appear for oral argument,

(b) the merits panel will have to spend time preparing for oral argument, holding oral argument, and writing an opinion,

(c) PTO will have to expend resources preparing for and presenting oral argument, and

(d) prosecution on the merits may be reopened after a mandate is entered if a viable rejection remains to be considered.

It is possible, of course, that we might prevail on the merits, thereby obviating any need for a remand. However, if we do not prevail, PTO can — and often does — reopen prosecution of the application upon entry of the Federal Circuit's mandate to consider the matter raised by a motion to remand.[20]

Sometimes an appellant will decide to file a second application, i.e., a continuation application or another trademark application, and simultaneously pursue the appeal. We believe appellant has a responsibility to call our attention to the fact that a second application has been filed. Knowledge of the second application is material to steps we might take.

First, perhaps any appeal (or civil action) should be suspended pending outcome of proceedings on the second application or dismissed without prejudice to another appeal in the event a final adverse Board decision is entered in the second application. In effect, by filing a second application, appellant admits that there are available administrative remedies and that those remedies have not been exhausted.

Second, it is in PTO's best interest that the examiner handling the second application be aware of the existence of an appeal. The examiner may ask our office for assistance, as may the Board, during prosecution of the second application.

III. Notice of appeal

Recent amendments have been made to conform PTO practice as much as possible to Fed. R. App. 4. See 54 Fed. Reg. 29548 (July 13, 1989), reprinted in, 1105 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 5 (Aug. 1, 1989).

A. Time for appeal

If an appeal from a PTO decision to the Federal Circuit is authorized by law, the time for filing a notice of appeal in PTO was changed in August 1989 to two (2) months or 60 days, whichever is longer. The time for seeking judicial review by civil action under 35 U.S.C. §§ 145 or 146 is also two (2) months or 60 days, whichever is longer.

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

The filing of a request for reconsideration in PTO tolls the time for filing a notice of appeal. After a decision on reconsideration is entered in PTO, the two month period begins to run.

The time for appeal to the Federal Circuit is set by the Commissioner. 35 U.S.C. § 142; 15 U.S.C. § 1071(a)(2). The period for appeal must be at least 60 days. A notice of final rule was effective in August 1989 setting the time for appeal to two months or 60 days — whichever is longer. The dichotomy which used to exist between the 60-day period for initial decisions and the 30-day period for decisions on reconsideration[21] no longer exists.

B. Cross appeals

In inter partes cases, a cross-appeal may be filed within fourteen (14) days of service of an appeal or two months after the PTO decision being appealed, whichever is later.

C. Requests to extend time to appeal

A request for an extension of time to file a notice of appeal before the appeal period expires can be granted by the Commissioner upon a showing of good cause.

A request after the appeal period expires must establish excusable neglect. The "excusable neglect" standard applied by PTO is the same as that applied by the courts of appeals.

All requests for an extension of time to appeal should be directed to the attention of the Office of the Solicitor.

D. Where to file a notice of appeal

The original notice must be filed in PTO — filing only in the Federal Circuit does not perfect an appeal. However, a copy must also be filed in the Federal Circuit. Fed. Cir. R. 15. A copy of the decision being appealed, and any decision on reconsideration, should be attached to the copy of the notice of appeal filed in PTO and with the Federal Circuit.

The original notice may be filed in any of the following ways:

1. By hand-delivery to the Office of the Solicitor between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. at:
   Office of the Solicitor
   2121 Crystal Drive
   Suite 918
   Arlington, Virginia

2. By first-class mail addressed to:
   Box 8
   Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
   Washington, D.C. 20231
   Attention: Office of the Solicitor

3. By Express Mail under 37 CFR § 1.10 addressed to:
   Box 8
   Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
   Washington, D.C. 20231
   Attention: Office of the Solicitor

A certificate of mailing under 37 CFR § 1.8 cannot be used to file a notice of appeal. A notice of appeal filed in PTO using a certificate of mailing under 37 CFR § 1.8 is deemed filed when received in PTO. In re Thrifty Corp., 231 USPQ 560 (Comm'r Pat. 1986).

A notice of appeal mailed to the Solicitor's Postal Box in Arlington, Virginia is deemed filed when received in the Office of the Solicitor.

E. Content of notice of appeal

A notice of appeal should identify all parties appealing. Fed. R. App. P. 15(a). See Torres v. Oakland Scavenger Co., 487 U.S. 312, 317 (1988) [construing similar requirement of Fed. R. App. P. 3(c)] .

Thus, in a case where there are joint inventors, the notice of appeal should identify all inventors. The notice of appeal should not identify John Doe et al. as appellants; rather, it should identify as appellants all named inventors, i.e., "John Doe and Richard Roe appeal . . . ."

A notice of appeal need simply state that:

John Doe and Richard Roe appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit from a final decision entered by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences on June 15, 1990, and from a decision on reconsideration entered by the Board on July 15, 1990.

There is no need to give reasons in the notice of appeal. See 37 CFR §§ 1.4 and 1.5 for material which should appear in the "heading" of the notice of appeal.

IV. Transmittal of certified list

After a notice of appeal is received, a determination is made whether the notice was timely filed.

Appellant will be advised if the appeal is untimely. Fed. Cir. R. 15(b)(1) governs proceedings when a notice of appeal is not timely filed:

If the Commissioner notifies the clerk that the notice of appeal was not timely, the clerk shall order the appellant to show cause why the appeal should not be dismissed, and thereupon refer the response to the court.

In order to properly respond to the Federal Circuit, an appellant may wish to file a request for an extension of time, which should be filed in the Office of the Solicitor, and establish that the untimely filing of the notice of appeal was a result of excusable neglect. Any decision on the request will be copied to the Clerk of the Federal Circuit for such action as may be appropriate. A decision by the Commissioner granting a request to extend the time for filing the notice of appeal will discharge the show cause order entered by the Clerk.

A certified list, consisting of the contents of the application, interference, opposition, cancellation, or other proceeding is copied and forwarded to the Federal Circuit with a statement indicating whether the notice of appeal was considered timely filed. In ex parte patent appeals the certified list usually does not include the contents to any "parent" applications unless the application involved in the appeal is a "file wrapper continuation" under 37 CFR § 1.62.

A copy of the certified list is mailed to the appellant or, in the case of an inter partes proceeding, all parties.

In ex parte patent or trademark appeals, an attorney in the Office of the Solicitor is assigned to the appeal at the time the certified list is forwarded to the Federal Circuit. Counsel for appellant should initiate a discussion with the Solicitor's Office attorney assigned to the case to determine the contents of the appendix.

Upon receipt of the certified list, the appeal will be docketed by the Federal Circuit. An appeal number is assigned to each appeal by the Federal Circuit. Appellant's 60-day period for filing a brief runs from the later of the date the appeal is docketed by the Federal Circuit or the certified list is served. Fed. Cir. R. 31(a). Since the appeal is docketed after the certified list is served in the case of PTO appeals, the 60-day period almost always runs from the date the appeal is docketed.

V. Service of court papers on the Solicitor

The mail service address for the Solicitor is:
Office of the Solicitor
P. 0. Box 15667
Arlington, Virginia 22215

Only litigation papers should be mailed to the Post Office box address. Other papers intended for filing in PTO should be addressed as specified in 37 CFR § 1.1. Non-litigation papers will be returned and will not be forwarded to the Mail Room.

Litigation papers not served by hand must be mailed to our Post Office box. Litigation papers mailed or delivered to the Mail Room of PTO, left in PTO's night deposit box, or left with a PTO employee in an office other than the Office of the Solicitor, are deemed served when received in the Office of the Solicitor.

The Office of the Solicitor is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Litigation papers served by hand must be delivered between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. to:
Office of the Solicitor
2121 Crystal Drive
Suite 918
Arlington, Virginia

Unless permitted by court rules or order, delivery does not include facsimile transmission.

VI. Motions

Motions are inevitable in Federal Circuit and other court practice. Before a motion is filed, appellant should contact the Solicitor's Office to see if there is agreement on the requested relief and the proposed order. If there is no opposition to a procedural order, it can be entered by the Clerk, thereby obtaining prompt relief and obviating the need for a judge or motions panel to consider the matter.

VII. Appendix

A. Designation

The Office of the Solicitor typically designates the following items for inclusion in the appendix in addition to the mandatory items specified in Fed. Cir. R. 30.

In ex parte patent cases, we generally designate:
(1) the specification;
(2) any drawings;
(3) the prior art supporting the rejection;
(4) the final rejection and any Office action referenced in the final rejection;
(5) the examiner's answer; and
(6) any evidence submitted to support patentability.

In ex parte trademark cases, we generally designate:
(1) the trademark application, including the drawing;
(2) specimens;
(3) the trademark examining attorney's statement; and
(4) registrations supporting the refusal and any other evidence relied upon by the examining attorney or the TTAB.

It should be noted that Fed. Cir. R. 30(a)(2)(iii) prohibits the inclusion of briefs filed by an applicant in PTO without leave of the court. However, the examiner's answer and examining attorney's statement may be designated and included without leave. Fed. Cir. R. 30(a)(2).

While the items in the appendix differ from case to case, a typical appendix in an ex parte patent appeal contains the following items in the following order:
(1) table of contents;
(2) the initial decision of the Board;
(3) any decision on reconsideration;
(4) a copy of the certified list, which corresponds to the docket entries mentioned in Fed. R. App. P. 29(a)(1)] ;
(5) the specification;
(6) the final rejection;
(7) the examiner's answer;
(8) any prior art relied upon by PTO;
(9) any rebuttal evidence, e.g., affidavits under Rule 131, 37 CFR § 1.131, or Rule 132, 37 CFR § 1.132; and
(10) a copy of the rejected claims.

With respect to the last item, Fed. Cir. R. 30(a)(3) provides:

> In appeals from . . . [PTO] , the appendix shall, unless the parties mutually agree to the contrary, include a copy of all rejected claims in an ex parte patent appeal, a copy of all counts in a patent interference appeal, and both a copy of the trademark sought to be registered or cancelled and a copy of any registration relied upon to refuse or oppose registration or to seek cancellation of a registered mark in an ex parte or an inter partes trademark appeal.

If the material designated as the appendix exceeds 100 pages, a draft copy of the appendix, with page numbers, should be sent to the Office of the Solicitor. Upon receipt, if we see any problem with the appendix, including any failure to comply with Federal Circuit rules, we promptly advise appellant. Preparation of a draft appendix will also insure that all briefs properly refer to pages of the appendix.

B. Page numbering

Fed. Cir. R. 30(c)(2) requires that page numbers be centered in the bottom margin of each page and that other pagination marks be redacted if necessary to avoid confusion. Numbering the appendix pages with a format such as "0001" generally avoids confusion with other page numbers.

If the designated appendix is less than 100 pages (which should be copied on both the front and back), the appendix is bound with appellant's principal brief. If the designated appendix is more than 100 pages, the appendix is filed separately within seven (7) days of the date the last reply brief is filed. Fed. Cir. R. 30(a)(4).

C. Legible materials

An appendix will often contain copies of materials which are illegible. In cases where counsel for an appellant does not have legible copies of materials which are available in PTO, contact the Office of the Solicitor and we will arrange to send a legible copy.

Handwritten notes in the margin of counsel's copy of Office actions should be removed. The proper place to argue a case is in a brief — not in notes in the margin.

VIII. Briefs

A. Statement of the facts

Fed. R. App. P. 28(a)(3) requires that an appellant file a statement of facts relevant to the issues presented for review. Fed. Cir. R. 28(b) provides that the appellee's statement of the case should be limited to the specific areas of disagreement with those of the appellant. Absent disagreement the appellee shall not include a statement of the case in his brief. Id. In our view these rules place the responsibility to provide a complete and neutral statement of facts on the appellant. Appellant should remember that it last below. Hence, the "facts" are not those the appellant would like them to be; rather, the "facts" are those found by the Board. The statement of the facts in a brief is not the place to argue that the Board was clearly erroneous in making a finding of fact.

In our experience, appellants' statement of the facts invariably include argument; fail to describe all the facts relevant to the issues; state the facts in a light most favorable to appellant despite contrary findings below; or state conclusions — often without citation to the appendix. As a result, we typically find it necessary to include a detailed and, we believe, a complete and neutral statement of facts — with full citations to the appendix.

We particularly note that when "new" counsel is retained to handle the Federal Circuit appeal, the arguments on appeal often bear no resemblance to the arguments made to the Board. As a matter of logic, it would seem that the Board could not possibly have erred below on the basis of an argument made for the first time in the Federal Circuit. See Keebler Co. v. Murray Bakery Products, 866 F.2d 1386, 9 USPQ2d 1736 (Fed. Cir. 1989) (since Keebler failed to tell the TTAB it was interested in Murray's "intent," it could not use intent as a basis for showing "error" by the TTAB; prescience is not a required characteristic of the board and the board need not divine all possible afterthoughts of counsel that might be asserted for the first time on appeal).

B. References in brief to the appendix

All factual assertions made in the brief should be supported with citation to the appendix. How the Federal Circuit is supposed to know that an assertion is correct, when no reference is made to the appendix in support of the assertion, is something we have not been able to figure out. The Federal Circuit has often noted, with apparent disapproval, the absence of a citation to the appendix in support of a party's position.[22] Failure to cite to the appendix may affect an attorney's credibility before the Federal Circuit and diminish the impact of otherwise meritorious arguments. If counsel feels that it is necessary to make factual assertions and cannot point to the specific portion of the appendix supporting the assertion, consideration should be given to refiling the application. Argument which depends on factual assertions not supported by the record cannot have any relevance to any error in the decision under review.

Moreover, to the extent that we have influence within PTO to bring about a favorable result by way of settlement, we need to be convinced. Allegations, not supported by references to the appendix, are not likely to convince any attorney in the Office of the Solicitor of the merits of an appellant's position.

IX. Oral argument

A. When we appear

An attorney from the Solicitor's Office will appear and present argument in cases in which the appellant intends to present oral argument. We will submit on the briefs only (1) where appellant submits on brief and (2) no reply brief has been filed or we conclude that the reply brief does not require comment at the oral hearing. On the other hand, if a reply brief raises a substantial issue, particularly a "new" issue, we will appear even if appellant waives oral argument.

[22] See e.g., Datascope Corp. v. SMEC. Inc., 879 F.2d 820, 827, 11 USPQ2d 1321, 1325 (Fed. Cir. 1989), cert. denied, 110 S.Ct. 729 (1990).

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

B. Discussinq the [allegged] error

An appellant has a burden of showing that the Board erred in its decision.[23] Factual findings below must be shown to be clearly erroneous,[24] while legal conclusions are reviewed for correctness of error as a matter of law.[25] Having only a short time for oral hearing, typically fifteen minutes, appellants should direct their remarks to the purported errors in the Board's decision. Based upon the 60 to 80 cases we argue annually, we can assure appellants that Federal Circuit merits panels are familiar with the record and the proceedings under review. Counsel may not want to use part of the 15 minutes normally allocated for oral argument by:

(1) explaining that the case is an appeal from the Patent and Trademark Office (the merits panel already knows that because the briefs have been read),

(2) identifying the appellant or assignee (because it is essentially irrelevant),

(3) reviewing the facts of the case, etc.

However, counsel should be thoroughly familiar with the record and be prepared to identify the portions which support their arguments.

We suggest oral argument by an appellant should start by saying "The error below was . . ." and here's why.

C. Visual aides

Fed. Cir. R. 34(c) encourages the use of visual aids. If the visual aid was not used during the administrative proceeding, written notice of the proposed use must be given at least 15 days prior to the hearing. Any written objections must be filed at least 5 days before the hearing. The rule also provides that counsel may agree on the use of visual aids.

Whether or not we will agree depends on the particular facts. We ordinarily do not disagree with enlargements ("blow- ups") of portions of the record. Where the proposed visual aid is not part of the record, we will not agree until we have had an opportunity to see the visual aid.

X. Petitions for rehearing

Petitions for rehearing can be useful if properly used. But, in our experience, petitions for rehearing filed by appellants simply reargue the case. We do not believe this is a proper function of a petition for rehearing.

Generally we will file a petition for rehearing only when (a) we believe the merits panel has made a genuine mistake — not merely a "judgment" call which happens to differ from our judgment, or (b) even where the result is correct, an opinion contains language which we believe will seriously and adversely affect PTO's ability to properly and effectively administer the patent or trademark laws. See Markey, "Semantic Antics in Patent Cases," 88 F.R.D. 103, 108 (1980) (suggesting rehearing should be requested to modify opinion language which confuses the law of patents).

We suggest, and do not believe, that there is such a thing as a "routine" petition for rehearing. A truly extraordinary situation must exist before a petition for rehearing can be deemed proper.[26] The Office of the Solicitor has been relatively successful with petitions for rehearing. In a 20-year period before the CCPA and Federal Circuit, we can recall filing approximately 12 petitions for rehearing. Some form of relief has been granted in nine, i.e., claims found patentable in the original decision were found unpatentable on rehearing,[27] language was changed in the opinion,[28] relief was granted in part,[29] etc.

XI. Issuance of mandates/termination of proceedings

As provided in Fed. R. App. P. 41(a), the Court's mandate usually issues 21 days after the entry of its decision. A request for rehearing stays the mandate until seven days after an order by the merits panel denying rehearing. Unless there are allowable claims or the Court's decision requires further proceedings by the Office, the receipt of the mandate by PTO "terminates the proceedings" for purposes of continuity under 35 U.S.C. § 120. 37 CFR § 1.197(c), 54 Fed. Reg. 29548, 29552 (July 13, 1989) reprinted in, 1105 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 5, 9 (Aug. 1, 1989). If an appellant contemplates filing a "continuing" application, it should be filed prior to the receipt of the mandate by PTO to preserve the benefit of the filing date of the parent application. Proceedings terminate on receipt of the mandate, not upon the expiration of the period for applying for certiorari to the Supreme Court. [30]

XII. Costs

In ex parte patent and trademark appeals from PTO, costs are not awarded for or against the Commissioner. See Fed. Cir. Practice Note to Fed. Cir. R. 39.[31] Hence, we do not file bills of costs in ex parte cases.

(230) HELPFUL HINTS

• Correspondence with Certificate of Mailing Delivered by Commerical Carrier — The benefits of 37 CFR 1.8 or 1.10 apply only to documents delivered to the PTO by the U.S. Postal Service.

A number of instances have been uncovered where individuals are certifying that documents were deposited with the U.S. Postal Service when, in fact, the documents were hand carried or delivered to the PTO via commerical mail service, e.g., "Federal Express," "DHL," "Purolator," "Air Borne," "UPS'," etc. In those instances where documents include a certificate of mailing under 37 CFR 1.8 or 1.10, but were delivered to the PTO by other than U.S. Postal Service, Mail Room personnel are placing a notice indicating that fact on the correspondence involved to alert PTO personnel that the benefits of 37 CFR 1.8 or 1.10 do not apply.

[1080 TMOG 6]

(231) HELPFUL HINTS

• Certificate of Mailing AND Return Post Card — Use of the Certificate of Mailing Procedure is strongly encouraged.

37 CFR 1.8(a) provides for the use of a Certificate of Mailing on most correspondence with the PTO, whereby the correspondence (and/or fee) will be considered as timely filed if deposited with the U.S. Postal Service within the set time period. Consistent use of this procedure is extremely beneficial to practitioners, whether or not the Post Card Receipt provision of MPEP 503 is used.

In those instances where the PTO never receives the correspondence, no post card receipt will be available to evidence the filing and/or timeliness of the correspondence. However, in those instances where a Certificate of Mailing is properly used, 37 CFR 1.8(b) provides relief, even if the correspondence is not received in the PTO at all. Under 37 CFR 1.8(b) the party who forwarded the correspondence need only (1) inform the PTO of the previous mailing of the correspondence, (2) supply a copy of the previously mailed correspondence and Certificate, and (3) include a declaration which adequately attests to the previous timely mailing.

[1082 TMOG 8]

(232) Unpaid Fee Checks

Beginning Dec. 1, 1987, the Office will change the procedure for handling fee checks of attorneys and agents that are returned to the Office unpaid. Presently, when a check submitted as payment for an application, a processing, an issue or any other fee is returned to the Office unpaid, the Office of Finance sends a letter to the attorney or agent who represents the applicant, or to the applicant if unrepresented by an attorney or agent, enclosing the check and calling attention to the fact that the check was returned unpaid. Beginning Dec. 1, 1987, the Office of Finance will send a copy of its letter to the applicant if the letter is addressed to an attorney or agent. The prohibition of 37 CFR §§ 1.33 and 2.18 against double correspondence is waived in view of the submission of a check that is returned unpaid to the Office.

A registered patent attorney or agent who repeatedly submits checks that are returned unpaid through no fault of the bank may expect to have the matter referred to the Office of Enrollment and Discipline.

(233) HELPFUL HINTS

- Expediting Processing Trademark Assignments — As noted in our statistics we are currently running behind in processing trademark assignment documents. We are working to eliminate the backlog in this area. We have recently eliminated a backlog in patent assignment processing. The following helpful hints are offered to aid us in eliminating backlogs and to allow us toprovide better service for all assignment processing:

  Many individuals are submitting assignment documents and requests for assignment services, together with application prosecution papers, directly to the examiner. Often, these requests get placed in the file and are not forwarded to the assignment area for handling. Please send all assignment documents and requests through the mailroom in order that they may be properly routed to the assignment area.

  Please separate requests for certified copies of assignments from requests for other services including requests for certified copies of other documents. Certification of assignment documents is not performed by the same individuals as certification of other documents.

- Expediting Handling of Trademark Applications — To facilitate processing of new trademark applications, place them in a separate envelope apart from all other mail. Identify on the outside of the envelope "TRADEMARK APPLICATION ONLY." More than one new trademark application may be placed in the same envelope. Do not place any papers in the envelope other than those related to the new trademark applications.

(234) Weekly Summaries of Trademark Trial and Appeal Board Final Decisions

The Patent and Trademark Office will begin publishing, in each issue of the Trademark Official Gazette, a weekly summary of final decisions issued by the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board. Publication of the summary is being undertaken on a discretionary basis, as a courtesy to interested members of the public.

(235) Filing Receipt for Trademark Applications

Effective immediately, the Trademark Examining Operation will replace its existing "FILING RECEIPT FOR TRADEMARK APPLICATIONS," PTO Form 100 (Rev. 8/78), with a filing receipt using a new format. The revised filing receipt will be printed on a single sheet of 8 1/2" x 11" paper and will contain information regarding the mark, applicant, International and U.S. classes, goods and/or services, and dates of use. If all of the information relating to a new application cannot be printed on the 8 1/2" x 11" filing receipt, it will be noted that additional information was contained in the application but was not printed. The addressee's name and address will be printed on the back of the filing receipt.

(236) Service of Process and Testimony of Employees of the Patent and Trademark Office and Production of Documents in Legal Proceedings

The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is adding Parts 15 and 15a to Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations. Part 15 concerns service of process on the Commsssioner, the Patent and Trademark Office, and employees of the Patent and Trademark Office in their official capacity. Part 15a concerns the testimony of PTO employees regarding official matters and the production of official documents in legal proceedings. Parts 15 and 15a were effective upon publication in the Federal Register. 54 FR 3976-8 (Jan. 26, 1989).

In addition, §§ 1701 and 1701.01 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure and §§ 1801 and 1801.01 of ju the Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure are amended, as indicated below, effective immediately.

Parts 15 and 15a, §§ 1701 and 1701.01 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure and §§ 1801 and 1801.01 of the Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure are published in this notice as a convenience to the public. In addition to these materials, the Patent and Trademark Office alerts the public to its position with respect to Standard Packaging Corp. v. Curwood, Inc ., 365 F. Supp. 134, 180 USPQ 234 (N.D. Ill. 1973). In the past, parties have attempted, based on Standard Packaging, to obtain answers to questions which the Patent and Trademark Office has regarded to be improper. While the Patent and Trademark Office believes Standard Packaging accurately states the law, the Office believes that the court misapplied the law to the precise questions in issue. Accordingly, the Office agrees with the Federal Circuit's observation in Western Electric Co. v. Piezo Technology, Inc. v. Quigg , 860 F.2d 428, 432, 8 USPQ 2d 1853, 1857 (Fed. Cir. 1988), that there is considerable doubt whether Standard Packaging was correctly decided. The Patent and Trademark Office will not permit examiners to answer questions similar to those which the Standard Packaging court found acceptable.

37 CFR Parts 15 and 15a

[Docket No. 9106-9006

Service of Process and Testimony of Employees of the Patent and Trademark Office and Production of Documents in Legal Proceedings

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office.
Action: Final rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is adding 37 CFR Parts 15 and 15a to supplement 15 CFR Parts 15 and 15a. These new parts prescribe policies and procedures to be followed with respect to service of process on the Patent and Trademark Office, the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, and employees of the Office, the testimony of Office employees regarding official matters, and the production of official documents in legal proceedings. These regulations serve as a statement of Office policy and provide comprehensive guidelines for the Office and its employees, outside agencies, and other persons regarding the appropriate procedures for service of process, testimony, and production of documents.
Effective date: Jan. 26, 1989.
For Further Information Contact: Associate Solicitor John W. Dewhirst by mail at Box 8, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231 and by phone at (703) 557-4035.
Supplementary Information: These regulations are designed to supplement, and be construed consistent with, 15 CFR Parts 15 and 15a. The regulations in Part 15a state the views of the Office with respect to the permissible scope of testimony which may be given by Office employees in connection with their performance of quasi-judicial patent and trademark matters. These Office views are consistent with United States v. Morgan , 313 U.S. 409, 422 (1941); Western Electric Co., Inc. v. Piezo Technology, Inc. v. Quigg, No. 88-1216, 860 F.2d 428, 8 USPQ 2d 1853 (Fed. Cir. Nov. 1, 1988); In re Mayewsky, 162 USPQ 86, 89 (E.D. Va. 1969), and Shaffer Tool Works v. Joy Mfg. Co., 167 USPQ 170 (S.D. Tex. 1970).

Because these regulations concern agency management and personnel, they are not rules or regulations within the meaning of section 1(a) of Executive Order 12291, and they are not subject to the requirements of that Order. Accordingly, no preliminary or final regulatory impact analysis has to be or will be prepared.

These regulations, relating to agency management and personnel, are exempt from all requirements of section 553 of the Administrative Procedure Act [5 USC 553] [including a delayed effective date and therefore will be effective immediately upon publication in the Federal Register.

Because a notice of proposed rule making and an opportunity for public comments are not required to be given for these regulations by section 553 of the APA, or by any other law, no regulatory flexibility analysis has to be or will be prepared for purposes of the Regulatory Flexibility Act [5 U.S.C. 603(a) and 604(a)] .

This final rule does not contain policies with Federalism implications sufficient to warrant preparation of a Federalism assessment under Executive Order 12612.

This rule does not contain collections of information for purposes of the Paperwork Reduction Act.

List of subjects in 37 CFR Parts 15 and 15a: Attorneys, Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Government employees.

For the reasons set forth in the preamble, 37 CFR is amended as follows:

1. Part 15 is added to read as follows:

Part 15
Service of Process

Sec.
15.1 Scope and purpose
15.2 Definitions
15.3 Acceptance of service of process
Authority: 5 U.S.C. 301; 15 U.S.C. 1501, 1512, 1513, 1515, and 1518; Reorganization Plan No. 5 of 1950; 44 U.S.C. 3101; 15 CFR 15.2(a).

§ 15.1 Scope and Purpose.

(a) This part supplements 15 CFR Part 15 and sets forth the procedures to be followed when a summons or complaint is served on the Office or the Commissioner or an employee of the Office in his or her official capacity. This part is to be construed consistent with 15 CFR Part 15.

(b) This part is intended to ensure the orderly execution of the affairs of the Office and not to impede any legal proceeding.

(c) This part does not apply to subpoenas. The procedures to be followed with respect to subpoenas are set out in Part 15a of this Title.

(d) This part does not apply to service of process made on an Office employee personally on matters not related to official business of the Office or to the official responsibilities of the Office employee.

For the purpose of this part:

(a) "Commissioner" means Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(b) "Legal proceeding" means a proceeding before a tribunal constituted by law, including a court, an administrative body or commission, or an administrative law judge or hearing officer.

(c) "Office" means Patent and Trademark Office.

(d) "Office employee" means any officer or employee of the Office.

(e) "Official business" means the authorized business of the Office.

(f) "Solicitor" means the chief legal officer of the Office or other Office employee to whom the Solicitor has delegated authority to act under this part.

§ 15.3 Acceptance of service of process

(a) Any summons or complaint to be served in person or by registered or certified mail or as otherwise authorized by law on the Office or the Commissioner or an Office employee in his or her official capacity, shall be served on the Solicitor or an Office employee designated by the Solicitor.

(b) Any summons or complaint to be served by mail may be addressed to Solicitor, P.O. Box 15667, Arlington, Va. 22215. Any summons or complaint to be served by hand may be delivered to the Office of the Solicitor.

(c) Any Office employee served with a summons or complaint shall immediately notify and deliver the summons or complaint to the Office of the Solicitor.

(d) Any Office employee receiving a summons or complaint shall note on the summons or complaint the date, hour, and place of service and whether service was by personal delivery or by mail.

(e) When a legal proceeding is brought to hold an Office employee personally liable in connection with an action taken in the conduct of official business, rather than liable in an official capacity, the Office employee by law is to be served personally with process. Service of process in this case is inadequate when made upon the Solicitor or the Solicitor's designee. Any Office employee sued personally for an action taken in the conduct of official business shall immediately notify and deliver a copy of the summons or complaint to the Office of the Solicitor.

(f) An Office employee sued personally in connection with official business may be represented by the Department of Justice at its discretion. See 28 CFR 50.15 and 50.16 (1987).

(g) The Solicitor or Office employee designated by the Solicitor, when accepting service of process for an Office employee in an official capacity, shall endorse on the Marshal's or server's return of service form or receipt for registered or certified mail the following statement: "Service accepted in official capacity only." The statement may be placed on the form or receipt with a rubber stamp.

(h) Upon acceptance of service or receiving notification of service, as provided in this section, the Solicitor shall take appropriate steps to protect the rights of the Commissioner or Office employee involved.

2. Part 15a is added to read as follows:

Part 15a
Testimony by Employees and the Production of Documents in Legal Proceedings

Sec.
15a.1 Scope
15a.2 Definitions
15a.3 Office policy
15a.4 Testimony or production of documents; general rule
15a.5 Testimony of Office employees in proceedings involving the United States
15a.6 Legal proceedings between private litigants
15a.7 Procedures when an Office employee receives a subpoena
Authority: 5 U.S.C. 301; 15 U.S.C. 1501, 1512, 1513, 1515, and 1518; Reorganization Plan No. 5 of 1950; 44 U.S.C. 3101; 15 CFR 15a.1(e) and 15a.2(f).

§ 15a.1 Scope

(a) This part supplements 15 CFR Part 15a and prescribes the policies and procedures of the Office with respect to the testimony of Office employees as witnesses in legal proceedings and the production of documents of the Office for use in legal proceedings pursuant to a request, order, or subpoena. This part is issued pursuant to 15 CFR 15a.1(e) and is to be construed consistent with 15 CFR Part 15a.

(b) This part does not apply to any legal proceeding in which an Office employee is to testify, while on leave status, as to facts or events that are in no way related to the official business of the Office.

(c) This part is intended to ensure the orderly execution of the affairs of the Office and not to impede any legal proceeding and in no way affects the rights and procedures governing public access to records pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act or the Privacy Act. See 15 CFR 15a.4 and 37 CFR 1.15.

§ 15a.2 Definitions.

For the purpose of this part:

(a) "Commissioner" means Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(b) "Demand" means a request, order, or subpoena for testimony or documents for use in a legal proceeding.

(c) "Document" means any record, paper, and other property held by the Office, including without limitation official patent and trademark files, official letters, telegrams, memoranda, reports, studies, calendar and dairy entries, maps, graphs, pamphlets, notes, charts, tabulations, analyses, statistical or informational accumulations, any kind of summaries of meetings and conversations, film impressions, magnetic tapes, and sound or mechanical reproductions.

(d) "Legal proceeding" means a proceeding before a tribunal constituted by law, including a court, an administrative body or commission, an administrative law judge or hearing officer or any discovery proceeding in support thereof.

(e) "Office" means Patent and Trademark Office.

(f) "Office employee" means any officer or employee of the Office.

(g) "Official business" means the authorized business of the Office.

(h) "Solicitor" means the chief legal officer of the Office or other Office employee to whom the Solicitor has delegated authority to act under this part.

(i) "Testimony" means a statement given in person before a tribunal or by deposition for use before the tribunal or any other statement given for use before a tribunal in a legal proceeding, including an affidavit, declaration under 35 U.S.C. 25, or declaration under 28 U.S.C. 1746.

(j) "United States" means the Federal Government, its departments and agencies, and individuals acting on behalf of the Federal Government.

§ 15a.3 Office policy.

The Office policy is that its documents will not be voluntarily produced and Office employees will not voluntarily appear as witnesses or give testimony in a legal proceeding. The reasons for this policy include:

(a) To conserve the time of Office employees for conducting official business.

(b) To minimize the possibility of involving the Office in controversial or other issues which are not related to the mission of the Office.

(c) To prevent the possibility that the public will misconstrue variances between personal opinions of Office employees and Office policy.

(d) To avoid spending the time and money of the United States for private purposes.

(e) To preserve the integrity of the administrative process, minimize disruption of the decision-making process, and prevent interference with the Office's administrative functions.

§ 15a.4 Testimony or production of documents; general rule

(a) No Office employee shall give testimony concerning the official business of the Office or produce any document in any legal proceeding without the prior authorization of the Solicitor. Where appropriate, an Office employee may be instructed in writing by the Commissioner, Solicitor, or other appropriate Office employee not to give testimony or produce a document. Without prior approval, no Office employee shall answer inquiries from a person not employed by the Department of Commerce regarding testimony or documents subject to a demand or a potential demand under the provisions of this Part. All inquiries involving a demand or potential demand on an Office employee shall be referred to the Solicitor.

(b) A certified copy of a document, not otherwise available under Chapter I of this Title, will be provided for use in a legal proceeding upon written request and payment of applicable fees required by law.

(c)(1) Request for testimony or document. A request for testimony of an Office employee or document shall be mailed or hand-delivered to the Office of the Solicitor. The mailing address of the Office of the Solicitor is Box 8, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(2) Subpoenas. A subpoena for testimony by an Office employee or a document shall be served in accordance with the Federal Rules of Civil or Criminal Procedure as appropriate, or applicable state procedure, and a copy of the subpoena shall be sent to the Solicitor.

(3) Affidavit. Every request and subpoena shall be accompanied by an affidavit or declaration under 28 U.S.C. 1746 or, if an affidavit or declaration is not feasible, a written statement setting forth the title of the legal proceeding, the forum, the requesting party's interest in the legal proceeding, the reasons for the request or subpoena, a showing that the desired testimony or document is not reasonably available from any other source, and if testimony is requested, the intended use of the testimony, a general summary of the testimony desired, and a showing that no document could be provided and used in lieu of testimony. The purpose of this requirement is to permit the Solicitor to make an informed decision as to whether testimony or production of a document should be authorized.

(d) Any Office employee who is served with a demand shall immediately notify the Office of the Solicitor.

(e) The Solicitor may consult or negotiate with an attorney for a party or the party, if not represented by an attorney, to refine or limit a demand so that compliance is less burdensome or obtain information necessary to make the determination required by paragraph (c) of this section. Failure of the attorney or party to cooperate in good faith to enable an informed determination to be made under this part may serve as the basis for a determination not to comply with the demand.

VOL 1122 ISS 1 JA 1 1991 UMI

(f) A determination under this part to comply or not to comply with a demand is not an assertion or waiver of privilege, lack of relevance, technical deficiencies or any other ground for non-compliance. The Commissioner reserves the right to oppose any demand on any legal ground independent of any determination under this part.

§ 15a.5 Testimony of Office employees in proceedings involving the United States.

(a) An Office employee may not testify as an expert or opinion witness for any party other than the United States.

(b) When appropriate, the Solicitor may authorize an Office employee to give testimony as an expert or opinion witness on behalf of the United States. Expert or opinion testimony on behalf of the United States will not be authorized in any legal proceeding involving the validity or enforceability of a patent or registered trademark.

(c) Whenever, in any legal proceeding involving the United States, a request is made by an attorney representing or acting under the authority of the United States, the Solicitor will make all necessary arrangements for the Office employee to give testimony on behalf of the United States. Where appropriate, the Solicitor may require reimbursement to the Office of the expenses associated with an Office employee giving testimony on behalf of the United States.

§ 15a.6 Legal proceedings between private litigants

(a) Testimony by an Office employee and production of documents in a legal proceeding not involving the United States shall be governed by § 15a.4.

(b) If an Office employee is authorized to give testimony in a legal proceeding, the testimony, if otherwise proper, shall be limited to facts within the personal knowledge of the Office employee. An Office employee is prohibited from giving expert or opinion testimony, answering hypothetical or speculative questions, or giving testimony with respect to subject matter which is privileged. If an Office employee is authorized to testify in connection with the employee's involvement or assistance in a quasi-judicial proceeding which took place before the Office, that employee is further prohibited from giving testimony in response to questions which seek:

(1) Information about that employee's:

(i) Background.
(ii) Expertise.
(iii) Qualifications to examine or otherwise consider a particular patent or trademark application.
(iv) Usual practice or whether the employee followed a procedure set out in any Office manual of practice in a particular case.
(v) Consultation with another Office employee.
(vi) Understanding of:
(A) A patented invention, an invention sought to be patented, or patent application, patent, reexamination or interference file.
(B) Prior art.
(C) Registered subject matter, subject matter sought to be registered, or atrademark application, registration, opposition, cancellation, interference or concurrent use file.
(D) Any Office manual of practice.
(E) Office regulations.
(F) Patent, trademark, or other law.
(G) The responsibilities of another Office employee.
(vii) Reliance on particular facts or arguments.

(2) To inquire into the manner in and extent to which the employee considered or studied material in performing the quasi-judicial function.
(3) To inquire into the bases, reasons, mental processes, analyses, or conclusions of that Office employee in performing the quasi-judicial function.

§ 15a.7 Procedures when an Office employee receives a subpoena.

(a) Any Office employee who receives a subpoena shall immediately forward the subpoena to the Office of the Solicitor. The Solicitor will determine the extent to which an Office employee will comply with the subpoena.

(b) If the Office employee is not authorized to comply with the subpoena, the Office employee shall appear at the time and place stated in the subpoena, produce a copy of Part 15a of Title 15 and a copy of this part, and respectfully refuse to provide any testimony or produce any document. United States ex rel. Touhy v. Ragen . 340 U.S. 462 (1951).

(c) When necessary or appropriate, the Solicitor will request assistance from the Department of Justice or a U.S. Attorney or otherwise assure the presence of an attorney to represent the interests of the Office or an Office employee.

Dec. 23, 1988.

DONALD J. QUIGG,
Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

Revisions to §§ 1701 and 1701.01 of MPEP

§ 1701 Office personnel not to express opinion on validity or patentability of patent

Every patent is presumed to be valid. 35 U.S.C. § 282, first sentence. Public policy demands that every employee of the Patent and Trademark Office refuse to express to any person any opinion as to the validity or invalidity of, or the patentability or unpatentability of any claim in any U.S. Patent, except to the extent necessary to carry out (a) examination of an application seeking to reissue the patent, (b) a reexamination proceeding to reexamine the patent, or (c) an interference involving the patent.

The question of validity or invalidity is otherwise exclusively a matter to be determined by a court. Members of the patent examining corps are cautioned to be especially wary of any inquiry from any person outside the Patent and Trademark Office, including an employee of another Government agency, the answer to which might indicate that a particular patent should not have issued.

When a field of search for an invention is requested, examiners should routinely inquire whether the invention has been patented in the United States. If the invention has been patented, no field of search should be suggested.

Employees of the Patent and Trademark Office, particularly patent examiners who examined an application which matured into a patent or a reissued patent or who conducted a reexamination proceeding, should not discuss or answer inquiries from any person outside the Patent and Trademark Office as to whether or not a certain reference or other particular evidence was considered during the examination or proceeding and whether or not a claim would have been allowed over that reference or other evidence had it been considered during the examination or proceeding. Likewise, employees are cautioned against answering any inquiry concerning any entry in the patent or reexamination file, including the extent of the field of search and any entry relating thereto. The record of the file of a patent or reexamination proceeding must speak for itself.

Practitioners can be of material assistance in this regard by refraining from making improper inquiries of members of the patent examining corps. Inquiries from members of the public relating to the matters discussed above must of necessity be refused and such refusal should not be considered discourteous or an expression of opinion as to validity or patentability.

§ 1701.01 Office personnel not to testify

[Reprint: 37 CFR 15a.1
37 CFR 15a.2
37 CFR 15a.3
37 CFR 15a.4
37 CFR 15a.5
37 CFR 15a.6
37 CFR 15a.7]

It is the policy of the Patent and Trademark Office that its employees, including patent examiners, will not appear as witnesses or give testimony in legal proceedings, except under the conditions specified in 37 CFR Part 15a. Any employee who testifies contrary to this policy will be dismissed or removed. The reasons for this policy are set out in 37 CFR 15a.3.

Whenever an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office, including a patent examiner, is asked to testify or receives a subpoena, the employee shall immediately notify the Office of the Solicitor. Inquiries requesting testimony shall be also referred immediately to the Office of the Solicitor.

Patent examiners and other Patent and Trademark Office employees performing or assisting in the performance of quasi-judicial functions, are forbidden to testify as experts or to express opinions as to the validity of any patent.

Any individual desiring the testimony of an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office, including the testimony of a patent examiner or other quasi-judicial employee, must comply with the provisions of 37 CFR Part 15a.

A request for testimony of an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office should be made to the Office of the + Solicitor at least ten working days prior to the date of the expected testimony.

If an employee is authorized to testify, the employee will be limited to testifying about facts within the employee's personal knowledge. Employees are prohibited from giving expert or opinion testimony. Fischer & Porter Co. v. Corning Glass Works. 61 F.R.D. 321, 181 USPQ 329 (E.D. Pa. 1974). Likewise, employees are prohibited from answering hypothetical or speculative questions. In re Mayewsky, 162 USPQ 86, 89 (E.D. Va. 1969) (deposition of an examiner must be restricted to relevant matters of fact and must avoid any hypothetical or speculative questions or conclusions based thereon); Shaffer Tool Works v. Joy Mfg. Co., 167 USPQ 170 (S.D. Tex. 1970) (deposition of examiner should be limited to matters of fact and must not go into hypothetical or speculative areas or the bases, reasons, mental processes, analyses, or conclusions of the examiner in acting upon a patent application). Employees will not be permitted to give testimony with respect to subject matter which is privileged. Several court decisions limit testimony with respect to quasi-judicial functions performed by employees. Those decisions include United States v. Morgan, 313 U.S. 409, 422 (1941) (improper to inquire into mental processes of quasi-judicial officer or to examine the manner and extent to which the officer considered an administrative record); Western Electric Co. v. Piezo Technology, Inc. v. Quigg, 860 F.2d 428, 8 USPQ 2d 1853 (Fed. Cir. 1988) (patent examiner may not be compelled to answer questions which probe the examiner's technical knowledge of the subject matter of a patent); McCulloch Gas Processing Co. v. Department of Energy, 650 F.2d 1216, 1229 (Temp. Emer. Ct. App. 1981) (discovery of degree of expertise of individuals performing governmental functions not permitted); In re Nilssen, 851 F.2d 1401, 7 USPQ 2d 1500 (Fed. Cir. 1988) (technical or scientific qualifications of examiners-in-chief are not legally relevant in appeal under 35 U.S.C. § 134 since board members need not be skilled in the art to render obviousness decision); Lange v. Commissioner, 352 F. Supp. 166, 176 USPQ 162 (D.D.C. 1972) (technical qualifications of examiners-in-chief not relevant in § 145 action).

In view of the discussion above, if an employee is authorized to testify in connection with the employee's involvement or assistance in a quasi-judicial proceeding which took place before the Patent and Trademark Office, the employee will not be permitted to give testimony in response to questions which seek:

(1) Information about that employee's:
(A) Background.
(B) Expertise.
(C) Qualifications to examine or otherwise consider a particular patent or trademark application.
(D) Usual practice or whether the employee followed a procedure set out in any Office manual of practice (including the MPEP or TMEP) in a particular case.
(E) Consultation with another Office employee.
(F) Understanding of:
(i) A patented invention, an invention sought to be patented, or patent application, patent, reexamination or interference file.
(ii) Prior art.
(iii) Registered subject matter, subject matter sought to be registered, or a trademark application, registration, opposition, cancellation, interference or concurrent use file.
(iv) Any Office manual of practice.
(v) Office regulations.
(vi) Patent, trademark, or other law.
(vii) The responsibilities of another Office employee.
(G) reliance on particular facts or arguments.
(2) To inquire into the manner in and extent to which the employee considered or studied material in performing a quasi-judicial function.
(3) To inquire into the bases, reasons, mental processes, analyses, or conclusions of that Office employee in performing the quasi-judicial function.

Any request for testimony addressed or delivered to the Office of the Solicitor shall comply with 37 CFR 15a.4(c). All requests must be in writing . The need for a subpoena may be obviated where the request complies with 37 CFR 15a.4(c) if the party requesting the testimony further meets the following conditions:

(1) {dn The party requesting the testimony identifies the civil action or other legal proceeding for which the testimony is being taken. The identification shall include:

(a) the style of the case,
(b) the civil action number,
(c) the district in which the civil action is pending,
(d) the judge assigned to the case, and
(e) the name, address, and telephone number of counsel for all parties in the civil action.

(2) The party agrees not to ask questions seeking information which is precluded by 37 CFR 15a.6(b).
(3) The party shall comply with applicable provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, including Rule 30, and give ten working days notice to the Office of the Solicitor prior to the date a deposition is desired. Fifteen working days notice is required for any deposition which is desired to be taken between Nov. 15 and Jan. 15.
(4) The party agrees to notice the deposition at a place convenient to the Patent and Trademark Office. The Conference Room in the Office of the Solicitor is deemed to be a place convenient to the Office.
(5) The party agrees to supply a copy of the transcript of the deposition to the Patent and Trademark Office for its records.

Absent a written agreement meeting the conditions specified in paragraphs (1) through (5), a party must comply with the precise terms of 37 CFR 15a.4(c) and the Patent and Trademark Office will not permit a deposition without issuance of a subpoena.

Revisions to §§ 1801 and 1801.01 of TMEP

§ 1801 Office personnel not to express opinion on validity of registered trademark

A certificate of registration of a trademark on the Principal Register is prima facie evidence of the validity of the registration. 15 U.S.C. § 1057(b). Public policy demands that every employee of the Patent and Trademark Office refuse to express to any person any opinion as to the validity of any registered trademark, except to the extent necessary to carry out inter partes proceedings at the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board in cancellation and similar proceedings authorized by law.

The question of validity of a registered trademark is otherwise exclusively a matter to be determined by a court. Members of the trademark examining operation are cautioned to be especially wary of any inquiry from any person outside the Patent and Trademark Office, including an employee of another Government agency, the answer to which might indicate that a particular registration should not have been published or issued.

Employees of the Patent and Trademark Office, particularly trademark examining attorneys who examined an application should not discuss or answer inquiries from any person outside the Patent and Trademark Office as to whether or not a certain registration or other particular evidence was considered during the examination of the application or whether a trademark would have been published or registered if the registration or other evidence had been considered during the examination. Likewise, employees are cautioned against answering any inquiry concerning any entry in the trademark registration file, including the extent of the field of search and any entry relating thereto. The record of the file of a trademark registration or inter partes proceedings before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board must speak for itself.

Practitioners can be of material assistance in this regard by refraining from making improper inquiries of members of the trademark examining operation. Inquiries from members of the public relating to the matters discussed above must of necessity be refused and such refusal should not be considered discourteous or an expression of opinion as to validity of any registration.

37 CFR 15a.6
37 CFR 15a.7]

It is the policy of the Patent and Trademark Office that its employees, including trademark examining attorneys, will not appear as witnesses or give testimony in legal proceedings, except under the conditions specified in 37 CFR Part 15a. Any employee who testifies contrary to this policy will be dismissed or removed . The reasons for this policy are set out in 37 CFR 15a.3.

Whenever an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office, including a trademark examining attorney, is asked to testify or receives a subpoena, the employee shall immediately notify the Office of the Solicitor. Inquiries requesting testimony shall be also referred immediately to the Office of the Solicitor.

Trademark examining attorneys and other Patent and Trademark Office employees performing or assisting in the performance of quasi-judicial functions, are forbidden to testify as experts or to express opinions as to the validity of any registration.

Any individual desiring the testimony of an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office, including the testimony of a trademark examining attorney or other quasi-judicial employee, must comply with the provisions of 37 CFR Part 15a.

A request for testimony of an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office should be made to the Office of the Solicitor at least ten working days prior to the date of the expected testimony.

If an employee is authorized to testify, the employee will be limited to testifying about facts within the employee's personal knowledge. Employees are prohibited from giving expert or opinion testimony. Fischer & Porter Co. v. Corning Glass Works , 61 F.R.D. 321, 181 USPQ 329 (E.D. Pa. 1974). Likewise, employees are prohibited from answering hypothetical or speculative questions. In re Mayewsky , 162 USPQ 86, 89 (E.D. Va. 1969) (deposition of an examiner must be restricted to relevant matters of fact and must avoid any hypothetical or speculative questions or conclusions based thereon); Shaffer Tool Works v. Joy Mfg. Co. , 167 USPQ 170 (S.D. Tex. 1970) (deposition of examiner should be limited to matters of fact and must not go into hypothetical or speculative areas or the bases, reasons, mental processes, analyses, or conclusions of the examiner in acting upon an application). Employees will not be permitted to give testimony with respect to subject matter which is privileged. Several court decisions limit testimony with respect to quasi-judicial functions performed by employees. Those decisions include United States v. Morgan , 313 U.S. 409, 422 (1941) (improper to inquire into mental processes of quasi-judicial officer or to examine the manner and extent to which the officer considered an administrative record); Western Electric Co. v. Piezo Technology, Inc. v. Quigg , 860 F.2d 428, 8 USPQ 2d 1583 (Fed. Cir. 1988) (patent examiner may not be compelled to answer questions which probe the examiner's technical knowledge of the subject matter of a patent); McCulloch Gas Processing Co. v. Department of Energy , 650 F.2d 1216, 1229 (Temp. Emer. Ct. App. 1981) (discovery of degree of expertise of individuals performing governmental functions not permitted); In re Nilssen , 851 F.2d 1401, 7 USPQ 2d 1500 (Fed. Cir. 1988) (technical or scientific qualifications of examiners-in-chief are not legally relevant in appeal under 35 U.S.C. [g49 134 since board members need not be skilled in the art to render obviousness decision); Lance v. Commissioner , 352 F. Supp. 166, 176 USPQ 162 (D.D.C. 1972) (technical qualifications of examiners-in-chief not relevant in Sec. 145 action).

In view of the discussion above, if an employee is authorized to testify in connection with the employee's involvement or assistance in a quasi-judicial proceeding which took place before the Patent and Trademark Office, the employee will not be permitted to give testimony in response to questions which seek:

(1) Information about that employee's:
(A) Background.
(B) Expertise.
(C) Qualifications to examine or otherwise consider a particular patent or trademark application.
(D) Usual practice or whether the employee followed a procedure set out in any Office manual of practice (including the MPEP or TMEP) in a particular case.
(E) Consultation with another Office employee.
(F) Understanding of:
(i) A patented invention, an invention sought to be patented, or patent application, patent, reexamination or interference file.
(ii) Prior art.
(iii) Registered subject matter, subject matter sought to be registered, or a trademark application, registration, opposition, cancellation, interference or concurrent use file.
(iv) Any Office manual of practice.
(v) Office regulations
(vi) Patent, trademark, or other law.
(vii) The responsibilities of another Office employee.
(G) Reliance on particular facts or arguments.
(2) To inquire into the manner in and extent to which the employee considered or studied material in performing a quasi-judicial function.
(3) To inquire into the bases, reasons, mental processes, analyses, or conclusions of that Office employee in performing the quasi-judicial function.

Any request for testimony addressed or delivered to the Office of the Solicitor shall comply with 37 CFR 15a.4(c). All requests must be in writing . The need for a subpoena may be obviated where the request complies with 37 CFR 15a.4(c) only if the party requesting the testimony further meets the following conditions:

(1) The party requesting the testimony identifies the civil action or other legal proceeding for which the testimony is being taken. The identification shall include:
(a) the style of the case,
(b) the civil action number,
(c) the district in which the civil action is pending,
(d) the judge assigned to the case, and
(e) the name, address, and telephone number of counsel for all parties in the civil action.

(2) The party agrees not to ask questions seeking information which is precluded by 37 CFR 15a.6(b).
(3) The party shall comply with applicable provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, including Rule 30, and give ten working days notice to the Office of the Solicitor prior to the date a deposition is desired. Fifteen working days notice is required for any deposition which is desired to be taken between Nov. 15 and Jan. 15.
(4) The party agrees to notice the deposition at a place convenient to the Patent and Trademark Office. The Conference Room in the Office of the Solicitor is deemed to be a place convenient to the Office.

(5) The party agrees to supply a copy of the transcript of the deposition to the Patent and Trademark Office for its records.

Absent a written agreement meeting the conditions specified in paragraphs (1) through (5), a party must comply with the precise terms of 37 CFR 15a.4(c) and the Patent and Trademark Office will not permit a deposition without issuance of a subpoena.

Patent and Trademark Automated Search System Fees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (Office) is amending the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases, Parts 1 and 2 of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, to set forth fees for public access to the text data bases resident on the Automated Patent System (APS) and the automated trademark search system (T-Search). Pub. L. 100-703, enacted on November 19, 1988, allows the Commissioner to establish reasonable fees for on-line access to the automated search systems.

The Office will provide on-line access to its USPAT data base (full text of U.S. patents issued after 1974), the U.S. classification data from 1790 to the present, and to English abstracts of Japanese and Chinese patents (to the extent they are available), hereinafter referred to as APS-Text, in its Patent Search Room and to T-Search in its Trademark Search Library, located in Arlington, Virginia. Except for a series of pilot experiments which may occur over the next one or two years, the Office does not plan to provide routine remote on-line access to these data bases at any other facilities at the present time. A separate rulemaking process will be followed when the Office determines to provide such remote on-line access.

Both search systems have been made available to the public free of charge since April 3, 1989, for the purposes of education and training (familiarization).

The paper and/or microfilm collections of U.S. patents, foreign patents documents and U.S. trademark registrations continue to be available to the public free of charge, as provided by section 104(b) of Pub. L. 100-703. The Office reaffirms its commitment to hold a public hearing prior to making any decision concerning the elimination of the paper files.

This final rule establishes fees for use of the on-line automated search systems. In addition, procedures for public use of the automated search systems, including training and charging of fees, are presented.

In response to the notice of proposed rulemaking published in the Federal Register on May 3, 1989 (54 FR 18907), and at a public hearing held on June 30, 1989, the Office received many comments regarding problems encountered by the public in the use of T-Search. The Office believes that T-Search has proven effective for searches performed by Trademark examining attorneys in connection with their examination of applications for the registration of marks. Although the Office is establishing a fee for accessing the T-Search system, the Commissioner is immediately suspending collection of that fee to provide additional time for the public to familiarize themselves with T-Search. The Office will provide the public with sixty days notice before starting to collect the fee.
Effective Date: February 12, 1990. Rule 2.6(w) will take effect February 12, 1990 but immediately be suspended by the Commissioner. The Office will provide written notice in the Federal Register sixty days before starting to collect fees for accessing T-Search.

Supplementary Information : The purpose of this final rule is to establish new fees for the on-line use by the public of APS-Text, and T-Search that are to be provided in the Office's facilities in Arlington, Virginia. This final rule is consistent with the Office's Electronic Data Dissemination Policies and Guidelines, which were published in final form in the Federal Register on May 3, 1989, at 54 FR 18920. Establishment and adjustment of patent fees is provided for by section 6 and section 41 of Title 35, United States Code, and section 103(b) of Pub. L. 100-703. Establishment and adjustment of trademark fees is authorized by section 31 of the Trademark (Lanham) Act 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113), and section 103(a) of Pub. L. 100-703. Information on the procedures for public use of the automated systems, including training, waivers, and the charging of fees, also is presented.

Background : In response to Pub. L. 96-517, the 1980 legislation which amended patent and trademark laws, the Office prepared and submitted a plan for the automation of its operations to Congress on December 13, 1982. The plan centered on two basic concepts: the creation of electronic data bases that (1) would eventually replace the Office's all-paper patent and trademark files, and thereby improve the integrity and quality of Office records; and (2) would support searches, examinations, Office actions and other Office functions through electronic workstations which would provide text and image retrieval capabilities and perform other automation functions.

Over 700,000 active Federal trademark registations have been converted to an electronic data base of textual and digital image data. A computer system has been installed to enable trademark examining attorneys to search the data base for registered and pending trademarks and associated textual data, including marks containing designs, and to retrieve, display and print all information as a substitute for paper file searches. Trademark examining attorneys have been using T-Search exclusively since January 1988 via a network of approximately 40 terminals. After a six-month experimental T-Search evaluation program conducted between June and December 1988, the capability was deployed for public use in the Trademark Search Library on April 3, 1989.

The T-Search "dead data base", trademarks cancelled, expired or abandoned since March 1984, also is available to the public, but approximately 17,000 images are missing and an additional 184,000 registrations and applications have not been quality checked. Trademark examining attorneys do not search this data base in connection with examining activities.

An Automated Patent System (APS) was installed for test and evaluation purposes, using one patent examining group as an operational testbed. Major operational components of APS, that is, large scale computers with conventional magnetic storage devices, a high-speed local data communications network, and electronic workstations equipped with two high resolution graphic displays and laser printers were interconnected on July 1, 1986, to enable system test and evaluation to begin in the testbed group.

On-line access to the full-text of all U.S. patents granted after 1974 and then to English language abstracts of Japanese patents was deployed to the patent examining staff beginning in 1986. On-line access to APS-Text permits examiners to search the text of approximately one million U.S. patents containing more than five billion words. Today, all examiners have been trained in the use of the full-text searching tool, and it has become a routine part of the patent examination process for many examiners. Searches are conducted from approximately 71 single screen text terminals located throughout the Office. The APS-Text capability was deployed to the public in the Patent Search Room on April 3, 1989.

The Office intends to enter the text of virtually all U.S. patents issued after 1970. In addition, selected tubular data and chemical and mathematical equations will be added to the current full text file. Ultimately, approximately 1.2 million U.S. patents will be available to both patent examiners and the public for search in full text form.

Public evaluation of the APS full-text search capability was conducted between January 11 and April 15, 1988. Forty-two (42) public users were trained an APS-Text during January 1988, and allowed first-come/first-serve access to several terminals. Reactions of public users to APS-Text were positive. Public users found APS-Text useful for pre-application and state-of-the-art searches.

A total of 38 public users were trained on T-Search during a public evaluation period conducted between June and December 1988. Preliminary review indicated that public users considered T-Search to be useful both as a source for registrability searching and for verifying paper searches. In addition, T-Search was found to facilitate searches by class and ownership.

Pub. L. 100-703, enacted on November 19, 1988, allows the Commissioner to establish reasonable fees for public access to the automated search systems while it continues the requirements that no more than 30 percent of automation resources may be from user fees and that the Office may not enter into exchange agreements relating to automatic data processing resources.

Section 104(c) of Pub. L. 100-703 allows the Commissioner to waive the payment by an individual of fees for accessing the automated search systems upon a showing of need or hardship, and if such waiver is in the public interest.

The information contained in the automated data bases, which will be available to the public at the Patent and Trademark Office in Arlington, Virginia, is available free of charge at that location in paper form, and is substantially available through commercial vendors. The Office believes it to be in the public interest to waive the fee for public access to its text data bases in situations where access to the data base is needed for a personal, educational purpose by an individual or member of an educational or non-profit organization, or where payment of the fee would pose a genuine financial hardship to the user.

A personal, educational purpose is one in which the person using the data base is attempting to satisfy a personal need, and is not conducting a search or otherwise using the data base for compensation in any form. Examples of appropriate waiver situations would include students or teachers doing a term paper, a university professor collecting background information for the preparation of an application for a research grant. An example of a situation where a waiver would not be appropriate would include an individual doing work for renumeration — e.g., a law student doing a pre-examination or infringement search for a law firm.

The Commissioner will further consider a fee waiver based on a genuine financial hardship. The person requesting a waiver will be required to provide information that would demonstrate a clear inability to pay the fee.

A waiver for the payment of fees is intended to be granted sparingly, and generally only when terminals are available. It is not anticipated that fees will be waived for any one individual more than once or twice each year. The Commissioner reserves the authority to control access to the data bases and deny a waiver to any individual.

The waiver policy would apply only to use of the automated system, and not to the printing or sale of copies. Any abuse of the waiver policy could lead to a ban on the use of any public search facility for that individual.

Cost Calculations : The Office calculated unit costs for all fees based on OMB Circular A-25 "User Fees", and OMB Circular A-130, "Management of Federal Information Resources." Costs were determined from the best available records (for example, financial statements for the Office) and included direct and indirect costs to the Office of carrying out the activity, as directed by OMB Circular A-25. User charges for both APS-Text and T-Search were based on the marginal costs of providing these services to the public.

In calculating the costs of providing access to T-Search and APS- Text to the public, the Office followed Congressional direction that fees be resonable by reflecting the marginal cost for providing the new service and not include the costs of designing or installing the automated system for use by Office examiners, or the development of the new systems.

Prior to preparation of this final rule, all of the cost assumptions and cost calculations were reviewed and modified to ensure that they included the Office's best estimates and projections.

APS-Text

The Office is establishing the $40.00 fee for each hour of terminal session time on APS-Text. The marginal costs for one hour terminal session time on APS-Text include a portion of the lease cost of a new computer mainframe which originally was to be acquired in fiscal year 1990 for use by Office patent examiners. To meet public search requirements, the mainframe is being leased earlier than originally planned. That portion of lease costs for the three (3) month period March 1990 through May 1990 over and above the lease costs for a mainframe sized to meet only examiner needs is being passed on to the user. After May 1990, the mainframe was intended to be procured and installed to support APS. Therefore, no costs are being passed on to the public user after that time. When public usage reaches the level where a mainframe dedicated for public use is required, fee adjustments will be proposed to pass all of the costs of that mainframe on to the public.

The level of public use will affect the amount of main memory needed to support the additional search sessions. It is projected than an additional increment of main memory will be required in fiscal years 1991 and 1992. This increment would not be required to support the examiner workload alone.

The fee calculations for public access also include the costs for equipment: network interface units, text terminals, printer noise dampeners and text terminal printers.

Other costs include a portion of the license fees that must be paid to Chemical Abstracts Service for its proprietary text and structure search software; additional personnel for the Patent Search Room, and the Office of Information Systems; computer installation costs; supplies and equipment dedicated to public use; and general and administrative overhead.

The Office is providing free access time during training on the automated search systems in accordance with ? 104(c) of Public Law 100-703 which reads. "...a limited amount of free access shall be made available to all users of the systems for purposes of education and training."

The usage rate estimates are based on the three-month public user study performed from January through March 1988. For this study, 42 frequent Patent Search Room users were selected to be trained in the use of APS-Text. Three text terminals were made available to the trained public users at no charge. During the three-month study period, use of the three terminals averaged approximately 50 percent. While it is impossible to accurately predict future use by a more diverse group of public users, the cost calculations attempted to take into account the following factors and assumptions:

1. Future public users, on averge, would use APS-Text less frequently than the 42 frequent users selected for the 1988 study, many of whom routinely used commercially available automated text search tools.

2. Collection of a fee for use (as opposed to the absence of any charge during the study) would reduce demand for text search services when compared with usage data obtained during the study period.

3. The potential universe of public users is expected to average no more than 300 per day.

4. The average length of a public user search session is projected to be approximately 22 minutes — the average length of a search session during the 1988 test of public use.

5. Based on the preceding assumptions, if all 300 potential public users conducted a single search session during a workday, a total of 110 hours of access would be required. Twenty-five text terminals available five days a week, twelve hours a day, would provide a maximum potential of 300 hours of available text search time. Under these assumptions, the number of text terminals appeared to be adequate for the foreseeable future.

6. For purposes of actual use of available text terminals, the following estimates were used:

(a) In fiscal year 1990, between four (4) and six (6) terminals would be available during the first quarter. An estimate of 45 percent utilization of available text terminal time was projected. By increasing the number of text terminals to 10 in January 1990 and 20 in April 1990, an estimate of 40 percent utilization of available text terminal time was projected. By increasing the number of text terminals to 25 in July 1990, an estimate of 35 percent utilization of available text terminal time was projected.

(b) During fiscal year 1991 and beyond, stable levels of usage were projected to be achieved, yielding an estimated 35 percent average utilization of the 25 available terminals. This utilization rate equates to 105 session hours per day, or an average of 4.2 session hours per terminal per day. At an average of 22 minutes per session, a total of 286 search sessions per day.

Although usage rates since the system was made available to the public in April 1989 have been higher than projected, the Office believes these projections are valid for the three-year fee cycle.

A summary of the fee calculations is as follows:

T-Search

The marginal cost for one hour of terminal session time on T-Search includes the costs of personnel in the Trademark Search Library, maintenance of the T-Search terminals, routine site preparation, supplies and forms, and general and administrative overhead. The Office is establishing the $40.00 fee for each hour of terminal session time on T-Search, but is immediately suspending collection of that fee in order to provide public users additional time to familiarize themselves with the system.

The comments submitted in response to the proposed rulemaking indicate that the public users have not adequately adjusted to the T-Search system. During the period collection of the fee is suspended, the public will have an opportunity to better learn the system so as to perform more effective searches than they may be experiencing now. The Office will publish a notice in the Federal Register sixty days before it begins collecting a fee for public access to T-Search.

Usage rates for T-Search during fiscal years 1990-1992 were projected to be 28 percent of the hours the system would be available to the public. This rate was extrapolated from actual usage rates during the T-Search public user pilot program which was conducted from June through December 1988. A total of 38 members of the public were trained on T-Search, and about 24 to 28 public users were active on T-Search each month. The overall usage rate of these active users was 14 percent of the hours the system was available to the public. In projecting usage rates on which to base a fee amount, it was anticipated that the overall number of users and the usage rate would double once T-Search was made available in the Trademark Search Library to all users of that search facility and training was provided on a routine basis. Although usage rates since the system was made available to the public in April 1989 have been higher projected, the Office believes these projections are valid for the three-year fee cycle.

A summary of the fee calculations are as follows:

T-Search

The proposed fee of $25.00 for each hour of Office staff search assistance to conduct a search using T-Search has been withdrawn. The T-Search system can be used by the public with routine assistance provided by the regular staff of the Trademark Search Library. This is similar to assistance on how to use the paper files now provided free of charge by the Trademark Search Library staff. Office employees will neither work one-on-one with members of the public in conducting searches, nor conducted searches for members of the public.

Rounding Procedures: Fee amounts were rounded so that the amount rounded would be de minimis and convenient to the user. This procedure is consistent with section 103(b) of Pub. L. 100-703 which allows the Office to adjust patent fees in the aggregate, and with section 103(a) of Pub. L. 100-703 which allows the Office to adjust trademark fees in the aggregate.

The Office has detailed cost calculation worksheets for each fee item, which are available for public inspection in Suite 904 of Building 2, Crystal Park at 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia.

PROCEDURES FOR PUBLIC USE OF APS-TEXT AND T-SEARCH

Patent Search Room Configuration

Initially four (4) text search terminals will be installed and available for public use in the Patent Search Room. A printer will be associated with each text search terminal. An additional terminal will be located in Patent Search Room employee office space for control and adminstrative activities. Up to twenty-one (21) more terminals and printers are planned to be added for public use during fiscal year 1990, if necessary.

Trademark Search Library Configuration

Initially three (3) T-Search terminals with associated printers all be installed and available for public use in the Trademark Search Library. The terminals will be clustered in one area of the Trademark Search Library. An additional terminal will be located in Trademark Search Library employee office space for control and administration activities. Additional terminals and printers will be added as demand warrants and space permits.

Training

To enable prospective public users to become effective on APS-Text, approximately fourteen (14) hours of free basic training is being offered. For those familiar with automated search systems, a shorter course of six (6) hours is provided. Ten (10) members of the public can be trained during each class. Training is being held at the Office's Arlington, Va. complex during normal work hours.

Four (4) hours of basic training is being offered on the use of T-Search. For those familiar with automated search systems, a shorter course of one (1) hour is available. T-Search training is being held in the Office's Arlington, Va. complex during morning, evening and weekend hours.

Enrollment in all training classes initially was on a lottery basis. Public users who wished to be trained on APS-Text or T-Search were required to submit an application form. The Office is now accepting requests for training and adding the names to the list. As of August 31, 1989, 696 people or 70 percent of all those requesting training have been trained.

System Use and Fee Procedures

To ensure equity of public access to the automated systems, as well an efficient operations, rules for use will be posted at the terminals. Users of the systems will be expected to comply with the rules and with all other regulations regarding the use of facilities.

Users are strongly encouraged to register in advance for system use. Each week, the next week's schedule will be available in the Patent Search room and the Trademark Search Library. Should requests for blocks of terminal time exceed the availability of terminals, limits on the amount of reserved time may be instituted. Up to three (3) of the initial four (4) terminals in the Patent Search Room and up to two (2) of the initial three (3) terminals in the Trademark Search Library will be allocated to public users with advance reserved times. The remaining terminal in the Patent Search Room will be available for walk-up users and for assisted searches for infrequent users. The remaining terminal in the Trademark Search Library will be available for walk-up users. The terminal time reservation system and the number of terminals available for walk-up public use and for assisted searches (in the Patent Search Room) is subject to change based upon operational experience.

All public use of APS-Text and T-Search, with the exception of scheduled training classes, is on a pre-payment basis. In prepaying for use of the systems, the public may use a blank signed check, major credit card or charge to a deposit account. At the end of the search or the pre-paid amount of time, users will receive an accounting from Patent Search Room or Trademark Search Library staff for terminal time used and prints produced. The user must then finalized payment.

Discussion of Specific Rules

37 CFR 1.21 Miscellaneous fees and charges.

Section 1.21 is amended to add new paragraph (o) to set the fees for access to the Automated Patent System full-text search capability (APS-Text) and to provide for the waiver of fees under certain circumstances.

Section 1.21 is amended to add new paragraph (p) to set the fees for APS-Text search assistance by Office staff.

Section 1.21 is amended to add new paragraph (q) to set the fee for a printed copy from APS-Text.

37 CFR 2.6 Trademark fees

Section 2.6 is amended to add new paragraph (w) to set the fees for access to the automated trademark search system (T-Search) and to provide for the waiver of fees under certain circumstances.

Section 2.6 is amended to add new paragraph (x) to set the fee for a printed copy from T-Search.

A final rule package establishing two new fees under the provisions of Pub. L. 100-667, the Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988, has been published which added paragraphs (u) and (v) to section 2.6. Therefore, the rule has been modified from the proposal to add paragraphs (w) and (x) instead of paragraphs (u), (v) and (w).

Response to Comments on the Rules

A notice of proposed rulemaking to establish a basis for the charges for use of the on-line automated search systems in the Patent Search Room and Trademark Search Library located at the Patent and Trademark Office in Arlington, Virginia was published in the Federal Register on May 3, 1989, at 54 FR 18907. Corrections were published in the Federal Register on May 12, 1989, at 54 FR 20670. A notice also was published on May 30, 1989, in volume 1102 of the Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, pages 94 through 98 for patents, and pages 96 through 100 for trademarks.

A public hearing was conducted on June 30, 1989. A total of 25 comments were received: 24 respondents submitted written comments and five people presented oral testimony (four of whom also submitted written comments) at the public hearing. On the 25 comments, twelve (12) were from individuals, seven (7) from libraries, five (5) from organizations and one (1) from business. All of the written and oral comments were considered in adopting the rules set forth herein.

Many of the comments from the representatives of the Patent Depository Libraries raised questions or commented on the proposed rules from the perspective of their impact on Patent Depository Libraries. The proposed rules and policies set forth in the Federal Register Notice of May 3, 1989 are applicable only to the automated search systems provided in PTO's facilities located in Arlington, Virginia. When the Office is prepared to offer the automated search systems at the Patent Depository Libraries, a proposed notice will be published for public comment. Therefore, any comments relating to procedures for accessing the automated search systems in the Patent Depository Libraries will not be addressed at this time.

Comment: Overall, nine respondents acknowledged the usefulness of the automated search systems, particularly APS-Text. Although seven respondents alleged that T-Search is not adequate to meet the needs of the public, that its response time is too slow, and that it is not sufficiently accurate to meet the specific needs of the commentor, most of these respondents acknowledged that T-Search had the potential for being a useful tool. Documentaton of specific problems, for example, those associated with conducting a phonetic search, were provided. Two respondents said that T-Search is flawed and the decision to require examiners to use the system on an exclusive basis was ill-advised and regrettable.

Response: Trademark examining attorneys have been using T-Search for word mark searches since August 1987, and for word mark and design searches since January 1988. The public has been using the system since Apri 3, 1989.

The minutes to the September 27, 1988, meeting of the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs, express the view that: "...T-Search searches are more thorough than manual searches." The transcript to that meeting contains the following comments: "I don't think there is any question, but a T-Search [sic] properly done gives an excellent result" and "...from the corporate point of view, ... I am pleased to say that I like what I see. I like the very fast action we're getting on the first action." From the transcript to the February 23, 1988 meeting: "I'd like to start with a glowing report. I think that the registration process is working very well. From my own personal experience in terms of what the examiners are doing, they get an A plus. They're really doing a good job."

The concensus of the management of the Trademark Examining Operation is that the T-Search system meets the needs of the Office at this time. There is no indication in any records or activities in the PTO which would indicate that the use of T-Search has caused a deterioration in the quality of searches conducted by Trademark examining attorneys.

The difference between the perceptions of the Trademark examining attorneys and the public may be attributed to several factors; Trademark examining attorneys use the system on a daily basis; they know what the system can do and what it cannot do and avoid the latter; and they know how to utilize the system's functionalities to perform the best search possible. Further, Trademark examining attorneys do different types of searches, and have different needs, than the public. T-Search use statistics for the period April 1989 through August 1989 demonstrate that the public is making extensive use of the system. Following is a summary of those statistics:

Month	Available Hours	Hours Used By Public	Rate of Usage	Average Session Time
April	513	108	21%	13.02 min.
May	513	126	24%	12.25 min.
June	627	183	29%	10.84 min.
July	570	186	33%	12.51 min.
August	656	217	33%	9.66 min.

This usage rate compares favorably to the projected usage rate of 28 percent.

Comment: Seven respondents claimed that the paper Trademark files have been allowed to deteriorate and, therefore, are not reliable for use by the public.

Response: The Office contracts for file maintenance sevices in both the Trademark Search Library and the Patent Search Room. Among the tasks performed by the contractor in the Trademark Search Library are maintaining the pending files, filing newly registered Trademarks, pulling erroneous registrations from the file, etc. The contract for the Trademark Search Library includes a monitoring system based on MIL-STD 105, which is a sampling plan that provides a 97 percent accuracy level. Once the contractor completes a task, Office staff check the required sample levels to ensure that filing was performed accurately. The Office is constantly monitoring the status of the paper files, but notes that maintenance of paper file integrity is subject to inherent limitations.

Comment: In view of the above comments about the inadequacy of the Trademark paper search files and T-Search, six respondents advocated the need for T-Search, at no charge to the user, as an adjunct or back-up to the paper files. One respondent suggested a similar arrangement in the Patent Search Room.

Response: The Office has adopted the $40.00 fee amount for one hour of terminal session time on both APS-Text and T-Search. In order to give the public more time to become familiar with the T-Search system, the Commissioner is immediately suspending collection of that fee. This will enable users to learn the system so as to perform more effective searches. The Office will publish a notice in the Federal Register announcing its decision regarding the imposition of the fee at least 60 days before starting to collect the fee amount. At that time, the Office also will publish validated cost estimates based on usage rates and actual costs documented from the present time to the time the decision to collect a fee is made.

Comment: Two respondents claimed that the objective of automation necessarily comtemplated a free search system to give meaning to the constructive notice provisions of the Trademark Act.

Response: Registration of a trademark constitutes constructuve notice and records of all active trademark registrations and pending applications are available for searching free of charge in the paper file and on TRAM (Trademark Reporting and Monitoring System) data base.

Comment: One respondent claimed that PTO is required to provide access to disclosed patent information as the information is made public; four respondents were opposed to the Office charging fees for accessing the automated search systms; two other respondents commented that the Office should not charge fees for using systems designed to be the sole searching source of the public records which the Office is charged by law to provide; and one respondent commented that the proposal to limit access to the automated data bases only to those who can pay a fee is deplorable policy at a time when there is concern about industrial competitiveness with Japan.

Response: The Office will continue to make the paper and/or microfilm collections of U.S. patents, foreign patent documents and U.S. trademark registrations available for pubic access free of charge. The Office also has adopted a policy whereby the hourly terminal session fee for access to the data base can be waived when it is needed for a personal, educational purpose by an individual or member of an educational or nonprofit organization, or where payment of the fee would pose a genuine financial hardship to the user. In this way, the Office will continue to provide public access to all available information free of charge.

Comment: One respondent commented that user fees for electronic data is a form of dual taxation when information was gathered, organized and produced at taxpayers expense; and two respondents claimed that users of information have contributed up to 30 percent of the $120 milllion for development of the APS system to date — in other words, the public already has paid for APS.

Response: In calculating the proposed fees, the Office is consistent with the Office of Management and Budget's proposed policy on user charges for Government information products, as clarified in the June 15, 1989 Federal Register notice entitled "Second Advance Notice of Further Policy Development on Dissemination of Information." In that notice, OMB's stated policy is that user charges for Government Information products should be no higher than a level sufficient to recover the costs of disseminating, not collecting, the information.

The costs associated with the fees for accessing APS-Text and T-Search are directly related to the public's use of the systems; for example, the costs associated with the acquisition of the APS-Text terminals that are being used by the public. No costs associated with designing or installing the automated system for use by Office examiners, or the development of the new systems have been included. Neither have costs been included for gathering, organizing or producing information.

The Federal Register notice of June 15, 1989 (54 FR 25554, 25558) dealing with policy development on dissemination of information states that: "As to double taxation, OMB notes that user charges policy has a basis in statute (31 U.S.C. 9701), and the Congress has not viewed user charges as double taxation because they are applied when the recipient receives special benefits."

Comment: Two respondents stated that Government information is the same, whether it is provided in printed or electronic form.

Response: Charging fees for access to the automated search systems is consistent with PTO's fee policy. For example, fees are charged for manual search services (e.g., for a search of Office records or for a search of assignment records), and for printed copies of patents and trademarks and for copies of Office documents.

Comment: The Japanese system is available at four locations at no cost, and includes U.S. information made available at U.S. taxpayer expense.

Response: The Japanese automated search system, like the automated search systems in the PTO's search facilities, is being made available free of charge at the present time. The costs of such use, however, are being paid from general fee revenues collected by the Japanese Patent Office. Additionally, the APS-Text system currently includes Japanese English language abstracts and the Office is in the process of acquiring Japanese patent information in digital facsimile form.

Comment: One respondent commented that PTO has no responsibility to provide an expensive, complex, internal Government on-line value-added computer service, that this is far beyond the requirements of public access to patent files; and another respondent commented that it is in the public interest to have the same system that is being used by the examiners also available to the public.

Response: The Office agrees that it is in the public interest to provide the same search system capability to the public that is being used by the examiners.

Comment: One respondent stated that providing free access is not competing with the private sector, and that there always is a place for the private sector to provide value-added information.

Response: The user charges adopted for public access to the APS-Test and T-Search systems are consistent with OMB Circulars A-25 "User Charges" and A-130 "Management of Federal Information Resources", and with the PTO's Electronic Data Dissemination Policies and Guidelines. The PTO's user's fees are designed to recover the marginal costs associated with providing access to the automated search systems to the public.

Comment: Five respondents stated that the proposed fees are not "reasonable" and the Office does not have documented cost estimates and usage rates to support the proposed fee amounts.

Response: The Office is meeting Congressional direction to establish "reasonable" fees by recovering only the marginal costs associated with providing public access to the automated search systems. Costs and projected usage rates were determined from the best available records, for example, financial statements for the Office and the results of the public evaluations of the APS-Text and T-Search systems. A summary of the costs used in the fee calculations is included above under "Cost Calculations." Full details of these cost calculations are available for public inspection at the Patent and Trademark Office in Suite 904 of Building 2, Crystal Park, at 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia.

Comment: Two respondents questioned the proposed fees for search assistance. If the search assistance is similar to that which is provided free now, there should be no fee. If the search assistance entails doing searches, the Office should not be getting into that business.

Response: The PTO is withdrawing the proposed fee for staff search assistance to conduct a search using T-Search capabilities. The fee for staff search assistance to conduct a search using APS-Text capabilities is being adopted, because an untrained user cannot conduct a search without significant help from Office staff. Users of course, have the option of obtaining free training on the system.

Comment: One respondent commented that user fees cannot be justified under the theory that electronic search provides a new service or offers an enhancement to the public's ability to search the patent data base, and that the public has an option of paying the fee or using the paper files. Another respondent commented that APS-Text and T-Search represent enhancements to services already provided.

Response: The fees are specifically authorized under $ 104 (c) of Pub. L. 100-703 and are calculated to allow recovery of only the marginal cost for providing the system to the public.

Comment: Two respondents claimed that the Office should ask Congress for funding to offer free access here and at the PDLs.

Response: It continues to be PTO policy, consistent with OMB Circular A-130, that costs for access to the automated search systems be borne by those who actually use the automated search systems.

Comment: One respondent claimed that the accuracy of the trademark data base is suspect.

Response: All of the backfile data base elements (registrations issued prior to September 9, 1980) have been corrected except owner information. As originally planned, the owner field will be cleaned up the active registrations issued prior to September 9, 1980. It is projected that this owner field will be cleaned up by the third quarter of fiscal year 1991.

Comment: Three respondents claimed that the public requires access to the dead data base.

Response: The Office will consider this proposal further. The dead data base is now available in electronic format for all applications and registrations that were active on January 1, 1983 and are now inactive. However, many of these records are of poor quality. Costs for cleaning up these records would be significant, and those costs would likely be reflected in the T-Search user fee.

Comment: Four respondents addressed the fee waiver policy. The proposal to waive fee appears inconsistent wih PTO's position that the free paper search files provide an equal and viable resource to anyone not wanting to pay for the automated files. If paper records are inferior, then anyone seeking access to T-Search should be able to qualify for the fee waiver. If the paper records are adequate, then there should be no need to waive the access fee for anyone.

Response: The waiver policy authorized by Pub. L. 100-703 is designed for those individuals who, for some reason in the public interest, such as an educational purpose, need the capabilities of the automated system, for example, to manipulate the data.

Comment: One respondent commented that the procedure to enroll people in training classes by the use of a lottery was unfair and that everyone who wants to be trained should be enrolled.

Response: The lottery was a method for establishing the initial schedules to provide training. Everyone who requests training will be trained. As of August 31, 1989, 449 out of 623 people requesting training on APS-Text, and 247 out of 376 people requesting training on T-Search have been trained.

Comment: One respondent commented that advance registration is an unrealistic approach for many searchers.

Response: At least one terminal in the Patent Search Room and one in the Trademark Search Library will be available for walk-up users. The other terminals will be available first for users with a reservation and then, if needed, for walk-up users. The system is designed to ensure equity of public access to the automated systems.

Comment: Two respondents asked for information justifying that this is not a "Major Rule" as defined by Executive Order 12291, and that the rule will not have a significant adverse impact on small entities.

Response: The no "major rule" determination and no significant adverse impact on small entities was based on the fact that the automated systems are being offered only at the Patent and Trademark Office's public search facilities located in Arlington, Virginia. The total number of users of these facilities averages less than 400 a day, and many of these users are members of law firms or commercial search services. The annual effect on the economy is expected to be about $1 million, far less than the $100 million annual threshold specified in the Executive Order. The fees for accessing the automated search systems are reasonable and should not burden small entities and, at the same time, the Office is continuing to maintain the paper search files which are available to the public free of charge. Finally, there should be no significant adverse effects on competition, because the systems are being offered only at one location, the Patent and Trademark Office in Arlington, Virginia, and the public may continue to use paper files without payment of any fee.

Comment: Five respondent commented that user fees burden small entities and run counter to a fundamental objective of the patent system which is to advance technology through dissemination of the technical information contained in patents.

Response: The Office does not believe that the fee amounts adopted will burden small entities or negatively impact the dissemination of technical information. The Office also will continue to maintain the paper search files using taxpayer funds, and provide access to the public free of charge. Further, the Office has adopted a fee waiver policy whereby the fee amount can be waived where access to the data base is needed for a personal, educational purpose by an individual or member of an educational or non-profit organization, or where payment of the fee would pose a genuine financial hardship to the user. Full details are included above under "Background".

Comment: One respondent commented that the Office needs a policy to ensure that no user of the patent and trademark information is disenfranchised due to an inability to pay for the services necessary to its access.

Response: The Commissioner will consider a fee waiver for users with a genuine financial hardship.

Other Considerations:

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501, et seq. There are no information collection requirements relating to patent and trademark fee rules.

The Office has determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354). The rules make the Office's on-line, automated patent full-text search and trademark search systems available to the public at rates significantly less than commercial systems.

The Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Parts 1 and 2

37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Inventions and patents, Lawyers, Reporting and record keeping requirements, Small businesses.

37 CFR Part 2

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Lawyers, Trademarks.

For the reasons set forth in the permeable, the Office is proposing to amend Title 37 of the code of Federal Regulations, Chapter 1, as set forth below.

PART 1-RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES.

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.21 is amended by adding new paragraphs (o)-(q).

§1.21 Miscellaneous fees and charges.

* * * * *

(o) Marginal cost, paid in advance, for each hour of terminal session time, including print time, using Automated Patent System full-text search capabilities, prorated for the actual time used. The Commissioner may waiver the payment by an individual for access to the Automated Patent System full-text search capability (APS-Text) upon a showing of need or hardship, and if such waiver is in the public interest $40.00

(p) Marginal cost, paid advance, for each hour of Office staff search assistance to conduct a search using Automated Patent System full-text search capabilities (APS-Text), prorated for the actual time used $25.00

(q) Marginal cost, for each printed page generated from the Automated Patent System text terminal $0.10

PART 2- RULES OF PRACTICE IN TRADEMARK CASES

1. The authority citation for Part 2 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 2.6 is amended by adding new paragraphs (w)-(x).

§2.6 Trademark fees

* * * * *

(w) Marginal cost, paid in advance, for each hour of terminal session time, including print time, using T-Search capabilities, prorated for the actual time used. The Commissioner may waive the payment by an individual for access to T-Search upon a showing of need or hardship, and if such waiver is in the public interest $40.00

(x) Marginal cost, for each printed page generated from the T-Search terminal $0.10

37 CFR Part 2
Patent and Trademark Automated Search System Fees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Listing of suspension of final rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (Office), on December 11, 1989, amended the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases, Parts 1 and 2 of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, setting forth the fees for public access to the Office's text data bases: the Automated Patent System (APS) and the automated trademark search system (T-Search). 54 FR 50942. That final rule became effective on February 12, 1990. On that date, 37 CFR 2.6(w), dealing with T-Search fees, took effect, but was immediately suspended by the Commissioner.

The collection of the fee was initially suspended to permit users to become familiar with the T-Search system. The T-Search system has been available to the public since April 1989, a sufficient time for users to become familiar with the system. Therefore, as provided in the final rule, the Office now gives notice that the suspension is lifted. The Office will begin to collect the fees set forth in 37 CFR 2.6(w) sixty (60) days from the date of this notice. Cost estimates based on usage and actual costs are available for inspection in the Office of Long-Range Planning and Evaluation, Room 507, Crystal Park 1, Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia.
Dates: The suspension of 37 CFR 2.6(w) is lifted as of Nov. 13, 1990. The collection of fees under 37 CFR 2.6(w) will begin on November 13, 1990

Electronic Data Dissemination Policies and Guidelines

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Electronic Data Dissmenination Policies and Guidelines - Final Notice.

VOL 1122 ISS 1 1991 JA UMI

Summary: The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) has undertaken a program to automate its operations. As a result, electronic patent and trademark data are being created and new techniques are being implemented to expand the use of the PTO's collection of electronic information, which will contain all U.S. patents and registered trademarks and selected foreign patents. These data bases comprise one of the largest information resources of the Nation.

Date: May 3, 1989.

Address: Comments should be addressed to: Donald J. Quigg, Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231.

For Further Information Contact: Bradford R. Huther at 703-557-1572.

Supplementary Information:

In response to Public Law 96-517, the 1980 legislation which amended patent and trademark laws, the PTO prepared and submitted a plan for the automation of its operations to Congress on December 13, 1982. The plan centered on two basis concepts: the creation of electronic data bases that (1) would eventually replace the PTO's all-paper patent and trademark files, and thereby improve their intregrity and quality; and (2) would support searches, examinations, Office actions and other Office functions through electronic workstations which would provide text and image retrieval capabilities and perform other automation functions.

Over 700,000 active Federal trademark registrations have been converted to an electronic data base of textual and digital image data. An IBM-based computer system has been installed to enable examiners to search the data base for textual data and codes describing designs, and to retrieve and display all information as a substitute for paper file searches. Trademark examiners have been using T-Search exclusively since January 1988, and the capability is ready to be deployed for public use in the Trademark Search Library.

An Automated Patent System (APS) was installed for test and evaluation purposes, using one patent examining group as an operational testbed. Major operational components of APS — large scale computers with conventional magnetic storage devices, a high-speed local area data communications network, and electronic workstations equipped with two high resolution graphic displays and laser printers — were interconnected on July 1, 1986 to enable system test and evaluation to begin in the testbed group. Optical disk storage units were subsequently installed to house the test data base of digital images of U.S. and foreign patents. In December 1987, the testbed patent examiners began using the APS image search and retrieval capability (APS-Image) in a live production environment. Based on recommendations of an Industry Review Panel appointed by the Deputy Secretary of Commerce to review the Office's patent automation program, changes were made and the testbed examiners are using a stable, reliable system suited to their need. The digital image retrieval capability of APS has been stabilized in the testbed, which now is being used as an operational testbed for deployment to other patent examining groups. A decision on the next incremental deployment of the digital image retrieval and other electronic searching capabilities is planned to be made in mid-1989. Additional system capabilities for office automation and other administrative support will be added to those already installed in the testbed over the next several months to supplement the search and retrieval capabilities. Examiners will be provided access to commercial data bases, such as industry-specific data bases, from the electronic workstations.

PTO continues to digitize the entire backfile of almost five million U.S. patents. The source for the digital image scanning operation is the archival set of patent documents which is believed to contain the best available copy of each patent. First, images of all U.S. patents in the testbed group's search files were converted to digital form and placed on optical disks for use in electronic classification and combined text classification searches. Subsequently, the remaining patents were captured. These patents will be written to optical disk and loaded on APS before APS-Image can be deployed to the remaining patent examining groups and the public. Through exchange agreements with the European and Japanese Patent Offices, European patents issued since 1920 and all Japanese patents have been or will be converted to a common facsimile standard and key patents will be entered for on-line retrieval.

On-line access to the full-text of all U.S. patents granted after 1974 and the English language abstracts of Japanese and Chinese patents — a data base of more than two million records representing about 52 gigabytes of data — was deployed to the patent examining staff beginning in June 1986. Access to this full-text data base (APS-Text) permits examiner to search the text of more than one million U.S. patents containing more than five billion words. Today, all examiners have been trained in the use of the full-text searching tool, and it has become a routine part of the patent examination process. Searches are conducted from single screen text terminals located throughout the Office, supported by a NAS-9080 dual processor. The APS-Text capability is ready for deployment to the public in the Patent Public Search Room.

The PTO intends to enter the text of U.S. patents issued after 1970.

To fulfill its mission to disseminate information and to guide the management of its electronic information resources, on June 8, 1984, the PTO issued guidelines and policies for dissemination and distribution of electronic patent data. These were published in 49 Federal Register 2485 (June 14, 1984). Subsequently, the Office of Management and Budget issued revised policies and expanded guidelines for electronic data dissmemination in OMB Circular A-130 dated December 1985 and entitled "Management of Federal Information Resources."

On August 20, 1987, PTO published in 52 Federal Register 31442 a notice (1) to inform the public of the PTO's intention to amend its pricing policy for data base products, and to expand the scope of its dissemination policies and guidelines to encompass patent and trademark electronic data; (2) to explain the current situation with regard to public access to automated patent and trademark search rooms and libraries; and (3) to solicit public comments on the intended proposals.

On December 10, 1987, PTO published in 52 Federal Register 46815 a notice amending the pricing policy for data base products and expanding the scope of the policies and guidelines to encompass patent and trademark data. That notice also extended the period to December 31, 1987, for receiving public comments on alternatives for funding public access to patent or trademark search rooms or libraries.

On June 23, 1988, PTO published in 53 Federal Register 23677 a notice informing the public of its intention to publish a comprehensive edition of the policies and guidelines to replace the versions published in the June 14, 1984 and December 10, 1987 notices.

In that notice, the PTO also published a summary of the comments received on the three alternatives for financing public access to the automated search systems in PTO's public search rooms and libraries. Subsequently, Public Law 100-703 was enacted on November 19, 1988. The law allows the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks to establish reasonable fees for access by the public to the automated search systems.

Response to Comments

Comment: If user fees are established for public access to the automated patent and trademark systems, will those fees also be charged by the Patent Depository Libraries (PDLs)?

Response: Arrangements will be worked out between the PTO and individual libraries for providing access to the automated search system. Arrangements will depend on each library's authority to collect user fees for the service on their own or the PTO's behalf. Fees for access in PDLs would be adjusted to account for any different equipment costs, maintentance and added telecommunications costs.

Comment: How would PDLs administer the free access provision of Public Law 100-703?

Response: Based on PTO's policy for administering this provision, arrangements would be worked out with individual libraries.

Comment: One respondent asked if PTO conducted a study to determine the potential demand in PDLs for trademark information and patent information.

Response: Several surveys on the demand for patent and trademark information have been conducted which provide unofficial indications to the PTO for the need for patent and trademark information. Reports to the PTO indicate that the demand for trademark information is increasing.

Comment: One respondent wanted clarification of what will ultimately be available to the PDLs — paper, microfilm, electronic data.

Response: The form of the patent and trademark information in each PDL ultimately will depend on decisions made between the PTO and individual PDLs and the technology and economics of remote access for providing access to the automated search systems.

Comment: If PTO contracts for the provision of public access, who owns the PTO data base?

Response: The PTO will continue to own the PTO data base.
